Christmas Truce Is Broken Already By The Viet Cong

U. S. Marine Company Is Shot At By Enemy During Cease-Fire

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — A U. S. Marine company came under heavy small arms and mortar fire today, almost eight hours after the start of a 48-hour Christmas truce. A military spokesman said the Marines replied with artillery fire.

The clash was the most significant reported so far during the truce period.

Four Arrested In Bomb Scare At Lock Haven

LOCK HAVEN — Investigation of a recent bomb scare in Jersey Shore and Lock Haven (when the high schools were called and a warning given in a woman's voice that the bombs had been planted in the schools) led to the arrest of four persons.

Hearings for these persons were held before Alderman Samuel Walker.

Mrs. Bonnie Linn Marshall, 20, of Jersey Shore, pleaded guilty to making the phone call to the Lock Haven High School and to corrupting the morals of a minor. She was placed in the Clinton County Jail in lieu of $3,000 bail.

James A. Whittle, 21, of Lock Haven, pleaded guilty to corrupting the morals of a minor and is in jail in lieu of $1,000 bail. He will have another hearing next week on a charge of F & B.

Also involved are a 15 year old boy and a 17 year old married woman who have been turned over to the juvenile authorities.

Pope Is Caught In A Strenuous Yule Schedule

Will Travel On To Florence To Comfort Recent Flood Victims

By DAVID MAZZARELLA VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI was caught up today in perhaps the most strenuous Christmas schedule of any Pope in more than a century.

An historic but grueling motor trip to Florence to comfort flood victims and celebrate midnight Mass lay before the 69-year-old Roman Catholic leader this Christmas Eve.

Pope Paul prepared to leave the Vatican about an hour after sundown for the three-hour drive north to Florence, the hardest-hit community in the November floods that swept one-third of Italy.

It was the first trip to the Tuscan capital by a Pope since Pius IX went there in 1857.

Workmen made final preparation in Florence's flood-damaged Renaissance cathedral for the Pope's midnight Mass. A crowd of 20,000 was expected.

Vatican sources said it was the first time in at least a century that any Pope had decided to leave the Vatican to officiate at a Christmas Eve Mass.

After the Mass Pope Paul was to drive back to the Vatican to celebrate Christmas Mass in St. Peter's Basilica Sunday.

The Pope said he decided to break tradition and travel to Florence because he wanted to share the sorrow of the Florentines and bring them the comforts of Christmas.

Although the Pope ruled out protocol, the journey entailed more than the six-hour round trip and the Mass in the cathedral.

He also was to visit the Santa Croce Basilica, in one of the poorest Florentine neighborhoods, and address flood victims from the steps of the building. Flood waters rose nine feet high inside the Basilica Nov. 4.

Merrie England

The queen, incidentally, under an obscure regulation of the General Post Office, can send an address — Christmas card — or petition without postage.

But — not the queen's husband, Prince Philip.

Even with stamps the well-meaning sender of Christmas greetings must not send any missive "likely to cause strain to the eyes of officers of the post office."

Even a Christmas tree can be hazardous.

Should Christmas tree lights confuse passing motorists "by flashing or altering constantly either in intensity or color," the fine could be $14.

So, God rest ye merry gentlemen, let nothing you dismay — except those Scroogey olde English laws.

See Need For More Wheat Production

Shortage Caused By Shipments To Pakistan, India

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate Agriculture specialist says the United States may now have to increase its 1967 wheat production in the wake of major grain shipments announced for India and Pakistan.

Sen. Jack R. Miller, R-Iowa, spoke Friday at almost the same time the government was announcing it will send 500,000 tons of grain to Pakistan. A day earlier, India was promised 900,000 tons.

Thursday the Agriculture Department released figures showing winter wheat plantings up 25 per cent from last year. They pointed to a record wheat crop in 1967. But Miller said at a news conference that U.S. wheat production probably will have to be further increased to offset the additional shipments.

Miller, a member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, returned recently from a congressional investigation of the food situation in hunger-plagued India. He said the U.S. delay in announcing its January-February shipments to India probably helped get other nations to contribute grain.

The Soviet Union said Thursday it was sending India 200,000 tons of grain. Canada and Australia also are participating.

President Johnson had delayed U.S. action while studying India's own efforts to solve its food problems.

Miller said nations unable to contribute grain should send fertilizer to India. If India continues development of its irrigation, fertilizer and improved seed programs, he said, it should become self-sufficient in food production in four or five years.

But for the immediate future, he said, India will need at least 900,000 tons of imported food products monthly. India has been averaging a million tons of imports a month.

Shipments to India and Pakistan are designed to tide the countries over until their own March-April harvests of winter wheat. Pakistan also will receive 30,000 tons of tallow.

The Texas White House said Friday that any long-term agreement to help India would be submitted to Congress. Officials said any such agreement would have to keep the U.S. grain reserve situation in mind, though they said the newest shipments can be made without jeopardy to reserves.

It was feared the boy would have to spend Christmas in jail because no family could be found to take custody of him. Finally, grandparents were located in Miami, Fla.

In Wilkes-Barre, a man presented a tree to Wilkes-Barre Hospital because his son's life was saved there 25 years ago. Each year, Robert Warner, has given a tree, since the boy, Jimmy, recovered from a critical shooting wound.

Christmas was also symbolized by Nate Simon, a Jewish aid to dealer in the anthracite region of Northeastern Pennsylvania. Simon this week brought a group of 70 needy children into Wilkes-Barre, gave each a pair of shoes and a dinner at a restaurant.

Simon said simply he was motivated by the spirit of Christmas.

In the Pennsylvania Dutch Country of Lancaster, Reading, and Lebanon, simplicity was the key to the holiday aura.

Traditionally, the Pennsylvania Dutch farmers place mounds of bales of hay outside the barn on Christmas Eve, believing that the animals that eat this dew-moistened fodder will escape harm in the new year.

The Amish, Mennonites and Dunkards keep the holiday in a low key. No gifts are exchanged, the time is strictly for religious celebration, and there are no brightly-colored trees or mistletoe. However, the children sometimes get cookies by their plates on Christmas morning.

Midnight services are planned in most churches throughout Pennsylvania tonight.

The enchantment of the holiday comes Sunday morning when thousands of children, their eyes twinkling, open their presents around the tree.

Then comes the traditional Christmas dinner — Turkey, 30000 or duck with stuffing, cranberry sauce and giblet gravy.

Bells Of St. Marys Held Yule Party

The Bells of St. Marys square dance club held their first Christmas party on Tuesday evening in the Rainbow Room of the K. of C.

Sixty-seven persons attended the affair and several square dance numbers, with appropriate holiday music, was called by the club caller, Don Curtin from Bradford.

J. G. Montgomery of Oil City "Shindiggers" square dance club, presented each of the ladies attending with an anklet jingle bell, as they entered the dance.

During the evening, various couples were awarded special gifts, and, as a climax to the evening, Santa Claus himself arrived, and distributed gifts to everyone attending.

Announcements were made concerning the New Year's Eve dance, and party, and everyone that is planning on attending is asked to confirm this with Mrs. William Olson at 834-1872, as soon as possible. Also, reservations for guests should be telephoned to her as soon as possible.

Luncheon and a social hour followed the dance.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Traffic accident deaths during the nation's Christmas holiday weekend fell sharply lower than last year's yuletide record and broke a chain of nine successive holiday records.

The toll was 561 as the 78-hour period ended at midnight.

Last year, the three-day Christmas weekend brought 720 traffic deaths.

The count for the weekend just ended is subject to upward revision from delayed reports of fatalities, but it was clearly under the 650 to 750 deaths estimated by the National Safety Council before the holiday.

A safety council spokesman said a weekend snowstorm which covered a broad swath of the nation from Oklahoma to New England kept perhaps a million motorists at home, cutting travel and accidents.

Nevertheless, fatalities far outstripped those of a non-holiday period of similar length. The Associated Press surveyed traffic accident death from 5 p.m. (local time), Friday, Dec. 9, to midnight Monday, Dec. 12. The count of deaths then was 391.

The safety council issued an estimate for next weekend's three-day New Year observance when, it said, accidents probably would kill 10 to 90 more persons than on a nonholiday winter weekend.

The New Year traffic toll estimate by the council was 460 to 540 for the period from 6 p.m. (local time) Friday, Dec. 30 to midnight Monday, Jan. 2.

The relatively low count for the holiday just ended broke the chain of holiday records. Each holiday death toll since that of Memorial Day 1965 has set a record.

Thanksgiving weekend, a four-day, or 102-hour period, brought 748 traffic deaths, a record for any holiday.

Earlier holiday tolls this year, all for three-day periods, were New Years 546, Memorial Day 542, July 4, 576, and Labor Day 636.

The total compact snow on the ground this morning at 7 a. m. was seven inches.

We had light snows over the Christmas weekend, with recordings of four inches Monday morning and four inches this morning. The lightness of the snow reduced the amount on the ground when it became compact.

Driving conditions in the borough and township were hazardous over the holiday, but the cinderling and plowing crews of the borough, township and Dept. of Highways, were on the job just about around the clock.

There were no accidents reported in the borough.

Rep. Rosenthal Will Introduce New Bill On Pollution Program

NEW YORK (AP) — Rep. Benjamin S. Rosenthal, D-N.Y., said today he would introduce a bill in Congress to establish a nationally coordinated program of air pollution control.

He said in a statement that the bill would transfer from local and state agencies to the federal government final responsibility for enforcement of pollution-control standards.

Rosenthal said his bill would empower the secretary of health, education and welfare to establish an interstate system of health, education and welfare to establish an interstate system of regions on which to base improved air pollution control, set appropriate emission standards for the regions, and enforce through the courts and enforce with these standards by the appropriate local, state or interstate air pollution agencies.

Geo. Kreckel Died Sunday At Hospital

Mass Tomorrow For Resident Of Brussels Street

George J. Kreckel, 86, of Brussels Street, passed away Sunday morning at 3 a. m. at the Andrew Kaul Memorial Hospital. He has been in ill health for the past 16 months.

Mr. Kreckel was born in St. Marys on August 17, 1880, a son of the late John and Elizabeth Bauer Kreckel.

He was employed as an engineer for the Pittsburgh, Shawmut and Northern Railroad Co. He is a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers.

Mr. Kreckel is survived by his wife, the former Mary Jane Lupro, who he married on October 9, 1905 in Punksutawney.

Also surviving are three sisters. They are: Mary, Mrs. Charles Fox of St. Marys; Anne, Mrs. W. C. Mowrey of Force; and Margaret, Mrs. Floyd Larson of Illinois.

He was preceded in death by a daughter, Bernadine, on June 5, 1959. Three brothers and one sister also preceded him in death. Edward and Frank in 1918 during the flu epidemic, Louis on February 22, 1960, Lawrence on April 19, 1963 and Clara in infancy.

Requiem mass will be celebrated tomorrow morning at ten o'clock in the Sacred Heart Church with burial to take place in the MorningSide Cemetery in DuBois.

Friends will be received at the Joseph W. Lynch Funeral Home on Center Street today from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9.

Bombing Raids Near Hanoi Have Killed Several

American Attacks Have Obliterated Villages, Hamlets

NEW YORK (AP) — U. S. bombing raids along rail and highway supply routes near Hanoi have killed civilians and severely damaged residential areas, Harrison E. Salisbury, an assistant managing editor of the New York Times, has reported from Hanoi.

Some villages and hamlets have been "almost obliterated" by the American attacks "but the effect on transportation has been minimal," Salisbury said in a dispatch in the Times today.

In another dispatch, Salisbury said he visited Nam Dinh, 50 miles southeast of the North Vietnamese capital, on Christmas Day and found block after block of "utter desolation."

He said 89 people have been killed and 405 wounded by raids there. He also reported that raids Oct. 1, 2 and 9 killed or wounded 40 persons and destroyed every house and building in Phu Ly, a town of 10,000 about 35 miles south of Hanoi. Nearly all the population had been evacuated.

He reported earlier that his personal inspection indicates U. S. bombing has been causing "considerable civilian casualties in Hanoi and its environs for some time past."

The Defense Department in Washington, asked for comment on Salisbury's reports, acknowledged that civilian areas have been damaged by the U. S. bombing of North Vietnam but said "all possible care is taken to avoid civilian casualties."

Reiterating that U. S. policy is to strike at "North Vietnamese military targets only," a Pentagon statement said: "It is impossible to avoid all damage to civilian areas." Officials said both Nam Dinh and Phu Ly were "loaded" with anti-aircraft batteries and missile-firing positions.

Shock Troops Are On Move Now In Cuba

They Make Sure Farm Workers Are Good Communists

By THEODORE A. EDIGER
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Recently created shock troops described by exiles as similar to China's Red Guards are reported on the move in Cuba.

The units, officially called Youth Technical Brigades, reportedly have the dual role of serving as technicians in industries and on farms and making certain the workers are good producers and good Communists.

The official Havana newspaper Granma, which reaches some exiles, quoted Cuban Labor Confederation Secretary General Miguel Martin as describing the brigades as "shock troops against indifference, disorganization and lack of discipline."

Mario Fontela, secretary general of the Miami-based Democratic Revolutionary Labor Front, an anti-Castro labor organization, said brigade members wear blue shirts, work trousers and a holster with a revolver.

"Fidel (Castro) imitated the Chinese in forming the same type of groups as the Red Guards," Fontela said. "The functions are the same — overcome the rebellion of the workers."

Castro said in a speech monitored here Dec. 18 that young farm technicians receive military training. He told a graduating class in Havana: "This is a young group that has received military instruction, that constitutes units for defense of the country." Castro did not mention the brigades by name.

A Havana radio broadcast monitored Nov. 14 quoted Martin as listing 761 brigades in Cuba, with more being formed. The membership was placed at 8,103. Brigades were reported functioning at industrial, farm and other centers.

Soviet Premier Is On His Way Home As Visit Is Completed

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin flew home today after a precedent-breaking official visit and an agreement to continue to improve Turkish-Soviet relations.

Kosygin was the first Soviet premier to visit Turkey. The highest security guard seen here in recent years protected him.

Talks during the visit centered mainly around economic and cultural projects. At a state banquet Monday night, both the Soviet leader and Turkish Premier Suleyman Demirel expressed satisfaction with the exchanges.

It was Kosygin's fourth trip outside the Eastern Communist bloc this year. Unlike his trips to Egypt, Finland and France, the American presence in Turkey was obvious throughout his stay.

The Turkish air force transport that carried him around Turkey was American-made, and the nattily uniformed honor guards which greeted him wherever he went were American-trained.

American officials said they were not perturbed by the thaw in Soviet-Turkish relations, which began in 1964. They pointed out that Turkey was merely emulating the detente which is taking place between Western and Eastern Europe.

7,000 New Yorkers Complained Of No Heat Over Christmas

NEW YORK (AP) — Seven thousand New Yorkers complained to the city of a lack of heat over the Christmas weekend and Buildings Commissioner Charles G. Moerdler said he was "sick" about it.

Some landlords "ought to be condemned to live in their own buildings," he said today.

Landlords are required by law to maintain certain temperatures in their buildings. But when the temperatures drop, some landlords disappear, Moerdler said.

"If I could take this small hard core of parasites and put them out of business, because they don't deserve to be in it, then I will have achieved something," he said.

A new city law requires landlords to list telephone numbers where they or their agents can be reached at all times. Moerdler said it would be about a month before the law can be implemented.

Former Local Sailor Died Last Evening

Mass Here On Friday For Late Richard Schreiber

Richard G. Schreiber, 33, formerly of St. Marys, passed away at 8:20 last evening in the Altoona Veterans Hospital. He had been in ill health for the past year.

Mr. Schreiber was born on February 14, 1933 in St. Marys, son of Leonard and Irene Young Schreiber.

Mr. Schreiber was retired from the U. S. Navy just four months ago. Previous to his retirement, he was stationed at Virginia Beach, Va. He had served as a Chief Electrician Mate.

He was married to the former Jean Rettger of St. Marys, on January 5, 1957 in the St. Mary's Church.

Besides his wife, Mr. Schreiber is survived by two daughters, Anna and Karen; two sons, Douglas and Bruce; a sister, Mrs. Sylvia Carlson of Warren, and three brothers, David Schreiber of Ridgway, and Frederick and Anthony Schreiber of St. Marys.

Also surviving is his maternal grandmother, Mrs. George Young Sr.

Full military rites will be accorded to Mr. Schreiber in connection with the nine o'clock mass on Friday morning in the St. Mary's Church. Interment will follow in the parish cemetery.

Relatives and friends will be received at the Joseph W. Lynch Funeral Home on Center Street from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9.

Writer Says Viet War Has Led To Stripping Of Some Navy Vessels

Holiday Death Toll Reaches 17 In Pennsylvania

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The Vietnam war, says a military writer, has led to the stripping of some Navy ships to the point where it would be impossible -- if a crisis developed suddenly -- to man them quickly with a wartime complement.

The Navy's personnel shortage is most acute in the Atlantic Fleet's antisubmarine forces, says Jack Kesner of the Norfolk Ledger-Star.

In an article Monday, he pointed out there are three personnel levels aboard fighting ships—their complement, or the number with which they go to war; their allowance, the normal peacetime allotment; and their manning level, the minimum required to keep them operational.

"Many ships of the Atlantic Fleet, particularly those in the antisubmarine warfare force, are now operating at this minimum," Kesner wrote.

The Atlantic Fleet's antisubmarine warfare commander, Vice Adm. Charles E. Weakly, is "well aware of this, but decisions that have resulted in his force's current status were made at a much higher level," the writer said.

The Navy in Washington declined comment.

Brother Of Local People Passed Away

Mass At Lock Haven Tomorrow For Herb Hasselman

Herbert P. Hasselman, 54, of 663 East Walnut Street, Lock Haven, passed away Saturday afternoon at 2:40 in WilliamSPORT Hospital where he had been a patient for the past month. Death was due to acute hepatitis.

Mr. Hasselman has several sisters and brothers living in St. Marys.

He was born in St. Marys, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hasselman, and graduated from St. Marys High School.

He was an employee of Sylvania for 37 years, having worked at the Mill Hill plant until its termination and then commuted to the Emporium plant where he was a mechanics foreman at the time of his death.

He was married to the former Helen C. Proske, who survives as do two children, Joseph at home and Mrs. Elizabeth Dary of Austin, Utah.

Also surviving are five grand children and the following sisters and brothers:
Gertrude, Mrs. Leander Wittman; Martha, Mrs. Alvin Lenz; Joseph, Ambrose and Edward Hasselman, all of St. Marys; Martin Hasselman of Emporium; John Hasselman of Williamsport; and Mary, Mrs. Alphonse Goetz of Warren.

He was preceded in death by a sister, Mrs. John (Sabena) Wolfe of Kersey, on August 12, 1965.

Requiem high mass will be celebrated tomorrow morning at 9:30 in St. Agnes Church, with interment to follow in St. Mary's Cemetery, Lock Haven. Friends are being received at the Mortuary Funeral Home in Lock Haven.

Jet Airliner With 128 Aboard Lands Safely In Georgia

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A jet airliner with 128 passengers aboard made a safe landing on a foam-covered runway after circling for nearly two hours when a signal light indicated the landing gear had malfunctioned.

The plane had a normal landing Monday and all passengers and seven crewmen aboard the Delta Air Lines jet escaped injury. The DC8 jet was en route from Detroit, Mich., to Tampa, Fla., with a stop in Atlanta.

A Delta spokesman said the landing gear light indicated the gear was not down and locked. He said the pilot, Capt. Jack McMaugh of Atlanta, flew by the tower to have the gear checked visually, then made a brief touchdown to make certain the gear was solidly locked.

The fire department spread foam on the 4,000-foot runway while the plane circled again. The landing was normal.

Postmaster Cites Amount Of Fines And Imprisonments

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — The bodies of three teenage boys — two brothers and their friend — have been found. Police have charged a neighbor of the youths with three counts of murder.

Vaughn Murphy, 15, his brother, Steve, 13, and Will Binzel, 14, all of nearby Homewood, were last seen Christmas Night as they went to purchase supplies for a holiday camping trip. Their bodies were found Monday.

Shelby County Sheriff C.P. Walker said David McCarter Jr., 25, also of Homewood, had been charged with three counts of murder in connection with the deaths.

Authorities, who had said earlier the boys apparently were slain by a sex deviate, were non-communicative about the arrest.

"It's too early to release anything concerning the findings as they will have to be studied closely and at length before we can be sure of anything," Asst. State Toxicologist Robert Johnson said following his post-mortem examination.

Witnesses said the youths had severe head injuries.

Sheriff Walker said it appeared the three were killed at another location and their bodies dumped from a vehicle.

Investigators said McCarter was arrested at the home of his parents in Homewood a few blocks from where the three boys lived. He was convicted recently in Jefferson County Court on morals charge and fined $250, authorities said.

"Pranksters—and especially children who do not know any better—should be made to realize the seriousness of their actions," the Postmaster said. "A $1,000 fine or a term in jail is enough to take the humor out of any prank." Often the mailbox damage is the work of youths, who do it for "kicks." And the courts have shown little sympathy for this youthful means of expression. In Michigan, a justice sentenced two 18-year olds to 10 days in jail, including two on a diet of baby food. The diet specification, explained the judge, was because the youths "acted like babies." They were also fined $25 each plus $15 costs.

In New York state, five youths were fined $25 each plus restitution or restoration, plus no driving for an indefinite period, plus an 8 p. m. curfew, plus a written assignment by each of a magazine article entitled "A Judge Gets Tough on Hoodlums."

Two Iowa youths who damaged 39 mailboxes were required to personally apologize to each boxholder in addition to making repairs or providing a new box.

In Missouri, three 17-year olds lost their driving privileges, were given a 9 p. m. curfew. Continued on page 6

17th FATALITY
WARREN — Lawrence P. Sowles, 54, of Warren, the superintendent of construction at the Seneca Power Plant project at Kinzua Dam, died Saturday at Warren General Hospital of injuries received in a two-car collision Friday on Route 59 about five miles from Warren.

According to Warren-based State Police, a car operated by Mr. Sowles was westbound when it collided with an eastbound auto operated by William R. Parke, 36, of Pearlake. According to police, the collision occurred while Mr. Sowles was attempting to overtake another vehicle on the highway. Mr. Parke was reported in a serious condition but improving in Warren General Hospital, where he was admitted suffering from head, chest and hip injuries, as well as lacerations. This marks the 17th road fatality recorded in Warren County since the beginning of the year.

16th TRAFFIC DEATH
BRADFORD — Mrs. Parmenia Gosky, 35, died Saturday at Bradford Hospital and became McKean County's 16th traffic victim of the year. Coroner Gale Hollenbeck, who is planning to hold an inquest, said the woman died of severe head and chest injuries suffered in a two-car crash Friday evening in W. Washington St. Bradford Township Police reported the woman was a passenger in a vehicle owned by City Taxi Co. which was eastbound and driven by Edmund H. Thornton, 42, when it was involved in a collision with a vehicle operated by David Clyne, 24, of W. Washington St. Clyne was taken to the same hospital with mouth and chest abrasions.

COMMUNITY LIGHTS
DUBOIS — The Community Christmas Lighting Fund campaign for DuBois had received pledges and donations amounting to $1,738. Conducted by the Federated Women's clubs, the drive covers a five-year period with an overall goal of $15,000 to be raised. Contributions can be made now for one year, or for five years. For those who have not received a letter requesting a contribution there are containers in various stores throughout town for the purpose of voluntary giving. The order for the proposed improvement of Christmas lighting decorations in the city's business section will be placed soon. The women are hopeful their efforts will not be in vain come next Yuletide season.

TWO INJURED
KANE — Two people were admitted to Kane Community Hospital Sunday after the car in which they were riding skidded off icy Route 6 near Warren, and struck a tree. Under observation for possible injuries are Florence Hoff, 77, of Kane, and Jean Hoff, 45, of Cleveland, O. The driver, George Hoff, 53, also of Kane was not admitted to the hospital.

54,000 DAMAGE
BRADFORD — Fire Sunday night caused an estimated $4,000 damage to the home of Ira Wyant at 460 Hedgehog Lane, according to Chief Melvin Snyder of the Bradford Township Fire Department. He said the blaze originated from defective wiring in the kitchen area and spread into a bathroom and bedroom on the second level. Considerable water loss was reported inside the dwelling.

Eisenhower Will Leave Hospital This Afternoon
WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is scheduled to leave the hospital this afternoon following his Dec. 12 gall bladder operation. There has been no report from Walter Reed Army Hospital on his condition since Thursday, when he was said to be recuperating rapidly. Hal Boyle AP Columnist Says...

By EDDY GILMORE
MANCHESTER, England (AP) — "Just watch," said John Ridley, "and you'll see why it's called the coroner's half hour."

The time was 10:25 in the evening. The place was a pleasant Manchester pub, one of more than 72,000 pubs in Britain. "Time, gentlemen, please," sang out the pubkeeper. "If you please, gentlemen, time."

Five men standing in a group in front of the bar ordered another round of drinks, and while the barman was making them, they gulped the contents of the glasses before them. "Still time for another," sang out one of the five men. "The same as before, Bert, and this one's on me."

Behind the bar, bartender Bert handed out another round, and these five glasses of straight whisky — like those before them — were downed almost instantly. Then, as the clock hands showed 10:30 p.m., the five men, and all the other customers, filed out into the night.

By British law the pub had to close and they had to leave. Separating outside the pub, the five men drove off in three different cars. "The coroner's half hour," explained Ridley, "is the 30 minutes from the moment those men began downing their drinks, to the moment, God willing, they reach their homes."

He looked grim. "All over the country some men won't reach their homes," he said. "Some will be hauled from their wrecked cars and taken to hospitals, broken and bleeding. Others will end up on a cold slab down at the morgue. Customers for the coroner."

Ridley, who owns a hotel and a pub in two different parts of the country, is trying to get the law changed so those five men would not feel forced to drink two or three hurried rounds of drinks. "If those men were allowed to take their time they probably would not have ordered those last two rounds of drinks. I think they would have quietly finished the drink that was before them when the publican had to call time."

"The volume of going-home traffic would be spread over a greater period of time. This is the main point of our campaign. We want to eliminate that last wild 10 minutes or so of wild drinking. "I'm sure it'll bring down the accident rate. Discuss this question with any policeman who knows anything about traffic and he'll tell you the coroner's half hour is the worst time of the day for the police."

An inn keeper, and one who likes to drink, Ridley added: "Drunken driving is a terrible crime, and let me say this, I'm convinced the punishment isn't as tough as it should be. Eliminate the coroner's half hour and tighten up the punishment. That's what I say."

Ridley and his friends are trying to get one million signatures of British subjects on a petition to change the nation's drinking laws. "The ridiculous restrictions on drinking in this country came to be a law," he explained, "during the Crimean War. A lot of people being killed on our roads today are, in reality, victims of the Crimean War."

Crimean War? "Yes," said Ridley. "The authorities felt that the munition workers were spending too much time in the pubs. So, they passed laws restricting the time in which the people could drink. "Time, gentlemen, please" was introduced in 1865 to help win the war."

Hal Boyle is on vacation. from Walter Reed Army Hospital on his condition since Thursday, when he was said to be recuperating rapidly. Eisenhower, 76, plans to go to Palm Desert, Calif., early in January from his Gettysburg, Pa., home.

JIM BISHOP: Reporter Expresses His Views...

The late sun stood in the sky behind the great temple of Jerusalem. The young man leading the donkey glanced at it, and knew that he would have light for one more hour. He wiped the alkali dust from his mouth and, without turning, asked his wife to be patient.

Bethlehem was five miles this, and Joseph led the animal and the young girl down the slopes of the Valley of the Cedron, past the hill at Haceldama, and up the narrow rocky road that climbed the side of the green valley. As he strode, with the rope bridle in hand, leaning forward, the carpenter could see the shepherds below and could hear the faint echoes of the whistle that summoned the sheep.

Across the valley one could see the far hill and the flat blue of the Dead Sea. Beyond it stood the dry bones of old mountains, where Moses died bringing the law to the Twelve Tribes of Israel. Joseph had seen one of these before. At 14, he had been apprenticed to a carpenter of Nazareth.

He had completed his five years. At the age of 19, he had all the responsibilities of a man. He had his own shop and living quarters in a limestone cave on a hill in Nazareth; his wife, called Miriam in Aramaic, was 15. There was a baby to be born, and it was not his. The Roman procurator had ordered all Jews to the town of their family to be counted.

Joseph, of the family of David, had to leave Nazareth in the Winter Solstice of the year 2790 and walk south a hundred miles to Bethlehem. The road along the tawny Jordan was laden with families in transit to other towns. They understood why they had to be counted. Neither the Romans nor King Herod felt that the Jews were paying their taxes.

Ordering them to the settlements of their forefathers was a stroke of genius. In his way, all the heads could be counted accurately. Would Joseph of Nazareth be counted as two, or three? He did not know. The baby was about to be born. An angel had told Miriam that this was to be a special and sacred child. The carpenter had thought of denouncing his betrothed until, in a dream, another angel told him her story was true; the young girl, with her King of Kings.

Bethlehem is like a ship's bows, coming to a point over a valley. Night blotted the last golden rays as he young man led the donkey to the inn. It was small and square, a cube overlooking the countryside. It was full of Jews of the House of David, waiting to be counted. They slept on the floor and against the walls of the common room. Joseph explained his problem, but the proprietor said that there was no room anywhere.

The only privacy in Bethlehem would be in the animal cave carved below the inn. There were two paths: one on each side of the hill, leading to this place. There, the animals and donkeys of merchants dozed on tethers. The carpenter led his bride down the hill. She did not complain. Nor was it seemly to explain to her husband the lightning creases of pain that brought fear to her face. The night was deep when Joseph gathered wood and built a small fire outside the entrance to the cave. A jug of water was placed near it. Inside, he found a slatted feed trough and lined it with clean straw.

He laid a gentle hand on Miriam's shoulder and withdrew. In this hour he was helpless and she was alone. Outside, he crouched beside the fire, moving the burning branches toward the center. The silence inside worried him, and he knew that this was his hour too. It was late when he heard the first small wail. At once he hurried inside with the jug and the warm water, wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and placed him in the slatted manger. The young man stared down at the infant, red and scurrying, the features contorted in sleep. With wonderment, he looked at then he went outside into the night.

He was surprised to find that a great blue-white star, a gem of radiance, was emerging from behind the Mountains of Moab. Far below, the dozing shepherds awakened in fear when they heard the voice of an angel crying: "I bring you good news of great joy which is in store for the whole nation. They trembled. So did Joseph, crouching beside the dying fire. "A saviour," the angel said, "who is the Lord Messiah, was born to you today in David's town. And this will serve you as a token: you will find an infant wrapped in swaddling clothes and cradled in a manger."

Suddenly a heaven's chorus sang: "Glory to God in the heavens above, and on earth peace to men of good will." The great star traced a narrow band of light into the cave.

The World Today

By JOHN BECKLER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell's pride appears to be in greater danger than his seat in Congress from the challenge being readied to bar him from the House when Congress convenes Jan. 10.

Even if he is denied the right to be sworn in with his 434 colleagues — as seems most likely — there is almost no chance he will actually be excluded from membership at that time and his Harlem district declared vacant.

Not since the Civil War, when three border state representatives were expelled for treason, has a member been kicked out of Congress. In 1900 a polygamous member-elect from Utah was denied a seat and in 1919 a member charged with favoring Germany in World War I was excluded, but eventually seated when his district twice re-elected him. And that is about the extent to which Congress has used its power to judge the fitness of its members.

What is expected to happen Jan. 10 is that Powell will be asked to stand aside until a special committee investigates the case against him and makes a recommendation. That's what was done in the case of the much-married Mormon, and Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-Calif., who plans to make the Jan. 10 challenge, says he is thinking of following the same course.

It could take six months or a year for such a committee to complete its work. Meantime Powell would be legally a member of the 90th Congress, entitled to his $30,000-a-year salary, his office staff and his free-mailing privileges. All he would lose is his right to vote.

If the committee should recommend that Powell be barred, approval by the House would cut off his salary and vacate his seat. But by that time Powell may have purged himself of the contempt of court in New York that is largely responsible for his current difficulties.

Because history, tradition and precedent all tend to blunt the effectiveness of the challenge to Powell's seat, some of his opponents also plan to try to take away his chairmanship of the Education and Labor Committee. This could be accomplished by a majority of the Democratic members at their caucus Jan. 9.

Rep. Sam Gibbons, D-Fla., who posing committee chairman, led the fight to reduce Powell's and the success of this effort, as powers as chairman last session as well as that of the seating challenge, is planning the strategy for long, lies almost entirely with Speaker John W. McCormack.

A major weapon in the move out of the fight up until now, his past record of kindness and compassion toward erring members and his love of the House and its traditions would indicate he will seek the softest possible solution for the Powell problem. James Marlow is on vacation.

Powell's preference for lolling in the sun in the Bahamas instead of facing the subcommittee's questioning will be used to support the charge that he is unfit to continue as chairman. Precedent is also against de-

Oil City Man Is Installed Again Head Of Masons

PHILADELPHIA — Robert E. Deyoe, of Oil City, a retired florist, was installed today as Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons in Pennsylvania to serve a second year. The ancient installation ceremony was held at the Annual Grand Communication of the Grand Lodge in Masonic Temple, Philadelphia. As Grand Master of Masons in Pennsylvania, Mr. Deyoe heads approximately 253,000 Masons in 611 Masonic Lodges. Other Grand Lodge Officers installed today include: John K. Young, a Philadelphia attorney, Deputy Grand Master; Hiram P. Ball, a Pittsburgh industrial, Senior Grand Warden; W. Orville Kimmel, a Harrisburg furniture director, Junior Grand Warden; Louis Bacharach, a Philadelphia businessman, Grand Treasurer; and Ashby B. Paul, of Harrisburg, Grand Secretary. Members of the Grand Lodge also re-elected the following men to serve on the Committee on Masonic Homes: Scott C. Rea, of Sunbury; Robert E. Woodside, Esq., of Millersburg; Dr. C. Howard Wilmer, of Lancaster; William E. Yeager, Past Grand Master, of Warren; Ellis E. Stern, of Coatsville; Willis R. Michael, of York, and Judge Walter P. Wells, of Coudersport.

Losing Respect

We are beginning to lose the high respect we had for Jacqueline Kennedy, widow of the late President John F. Kennedy. When we see pictures of her with mini-skirts we just can't help wonder about her. Mrs. Kennedy is a national figure and being in the public eye should remember that the public demands certain obligations from her. There may be a time and a place for mini-skirts, but certainly not on a former First Lady of the land.

We have always imagined that the wearers of mini-skirts were out boy or husband hunting and some that we have seen would be doing a better job if their splendid legs were covered a little more. A woman of Mrs. Kennedy's position, with wealth and beauty need not do any other advertising if she is man hunting.

Such sights remind us of a joke we read not too long ago. A little boy was lost and the policeman asked him "Why didn't you hang on to your mother's skirt?" The boy replied, "I couldn't reach it."

We also were not too pleased with all the publicity over the publication of the book and magazine serial on "Death of A President". We had assumed that the author, William Manchester, had secured much of the information for the book from Mrs. Kennedy. She had complained about parts of the book being too intimately personal for publication. If the author did not get this information from her, where did it come from? She must have talked too much, and if not, then the information she is trying to withhold is public knowledge.

Mr. Manchester is a former newsman who probably took notes as Mrs. Kennedy talked, much as a reporter would covering a public function. Their notes as a rule are reliable. We sometimes attend political affairs for both parties and we forget to report what we feel might be harmful in one way or another to the particular party or its opponents. We feel that is our privilege. Writing a book is something different, especially if it is to be historical truth and not fiction.

The insinuation by some newsmen that the parts the Kennedys want eliminated from the book will be published in another book form in Formosa gives one the idea that the wishes of the late President's family will backfire. It is only natural that if such a book is published in Formosa it will out-sell the regular publication in American, regardless of historical value. The general public is inquisitive and will want to know firsthand what had been eliminated from the original script.

We have always been told that "money talks", but we also know that sometimes it talks in the wrong direction which appears to be happening to the Kennedys' efforts to stop publication of certain parts of the book.

Mrs. John F. Kennedy would be better off with longer skirts and less talking in our opinion.

TV and RADIO DAY by DAY

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Once network television gets past the New Year parades and football games, it will present viewers with almost a dozen new shows to sample and a lot of schedule changes. The so-called "second season" starts around Jan. 9.

But for those network executives who decide what we shall see and when we shall see it, the 1966-67 television season is already history, and not very happy history at that. They are now concentrating on the programs and schedules for next September.

CBS hopes to have its entire 1967-68 schedule "locked in" by Washington's Birthday, and NBC and ABC cannot afford to be far behind. For competitive and sales reasons, all three are trying to keep their plans and programs a secret.

Already, we know a few shows that will be arriving nine months hence — NBC's new Danny Thomas series and CBS' Carol Burnett comedy programs. There will be about 25 more when fall rolls around — fewer than usual because those two-hour movie reruns take up a lot of time. The one thing that makes television programming an expensive gamble is that a few men must try to guess now what viewers will be interested in watching months ahead — and viewers are notoriously fickle. In this high stakes game, with millions of dollars in development money invested, the Nielsen ratings are more helpful than a crystal ball. Currently the Nielsen numbers indicate that we want more situation comedy and outdoor adventure. A couple of seasons ago, situation comedy was as out of fashion as Congress gaiters. There has been a marked lack of interest in the most recent switch of the Western theme. Several shows that tried to get away from the classic type of show failed to make much of a splash — "Shane," "The Road West" and "The Monroes." Although outdoor programs like "Rat Patrol," "Tarzan" and "Daktari" seem to be at-

BIBLICAL STORIES A SELLOUT IN RUSSIA
A new book on the Bible is a best-seller in Russia. The volume, a collection of Old Testament stories retold by a Polish author in simple prose, created a sensation from the day it was placed on sale. Long lines formed outside bookstores. The entire first edition of 100,000 copies was sold within hours. The author and translators made it clear that they are atheists and regard the Bible only as "a monument of world literature. But they made no effort to change the text or sense of the stories for use as atheistic propaganda. Russians who have had to rely on pre-Revolution Bibles, showed that they are eager to obtain Scripture, even though edited by atheists. The Bible never loses its dynamic appeal, regardless of how much men may forget, disregard or even oppose the revealed word of God. Rackey Returns To Penn State As V. President

Giving Up $30,000 A Year Cabinet Post To Get Old Job Back

By WILLIAM E. DEIBLER HARRISBURG (AP) — When Dr. J. Ralph Rackey steps down as State Superintendent of Public Instruction early next year, he will be leaving behind a revamped department that he believes will be "more responsive" to the state's educational needs.

Rackey, who is resigning his $30,000-a-year Cabinet post to return to Pennsylvania State University as vice president for resident instruction, said the department's old administrative structure couldn't meet the demands placed upon it "three years ago when the State Board of Education was established."

The board, made up of 17 appointed members who serve without pay, is divided into a Council of Basic Education and a Council of Higher Education. The two councils recommend policies, standards and regulations to the full board, which then adopts or rejects them. "For the past three years," Rackey said, "there has been a great deal of criticism that the two councils were not adequately supported by staff. When the councils were established, the idea was that the staff was to come from DPI. But there was no way that this could be done under the administrative setup."

The reorganization plan, he said, has solved this problem by creating personnel and staff services bureaus under the direction of an administrative services director. The bureaus will help staff two councils, as well as all other agencies operated by the department.

But Rackey's reorganization plan does much more than merely provide staff services for the councils. It also creates two new top-level supervisory posts to coordinate basic and higher education activities. The supervisors are to be known as deputy superintendents and commissioners. Rackey said the deputy superintendent designation was tacked on to the title to conform with the State School Code. He would prefer to have the title simply that of commissioner.

Rackey said the commissioners are to function as "high-level persons with visibility, not just somebody's lackey." The commissioner for basic education would be responsible for coordinating such activities as curriculum services for public schools, special education programs, vocational and technical education and training and guidance programs. Moreover, he would advise local school administrators in such areas as school business administration, financing building programs and personnel selection.

The commissioner for higher education would coordinate the development and support of community colleges, operation of the 13 state-owned colleges and one state-owned university, and the processing of budgets for state-owned, state-related and state-aided colleges and universities.

He also would develop teacher education programs and conduct studies of programs and services for colleges and universities.

Neither post has yet been filled, nor has a salary been announced. However, some sources say it has been proposed that the commissioners be paid $25,000 a year — the same as other department heads receive.

Rackey said he hasn't any in mind for either post. And he added that he "can't see anyone now in the department" as a potential candidate.

When Rackey's decision to resign as superintendent was made public several weeks ago, Gov. elect Raymond P. Shafer said Rackey had agreed to remain on the job until the proposed reorganization plan was put into effect.

Although neither Shafer nor Rackey elaborated on this point, presumably a major step in implementing the plan would be the selection of the commissioners.

Rackey has also declined to speculate on who might succeed him as superintendent. He did say, however, that he believes the most important quality Shafer should look for in a potential successor is "the ability to get the job done." Gov. Seranton appointed Rackey to a four-year term in September, 1965. But Rackey had accepted the appointment with the understanding that he would serve only as an interim superintendent. He has been on leave from Penn State while serving with the DPI.

Two Pennsylvania Churchmen Protest Bombing Of Hanoi

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Pennsylvanians are among 12 church leaders who have protested to President Johnson the U. S. bombings "in or near Hanoi."

Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg of Chester, Pa., former president of the National Council of Churches, and Episcopal Bishop William Crittenden of the Erie, Pa., diocese, were the Pennsylvanians who signed a letter along with 10 other church leaders. The letter to Johnson Monday stated that the bombings "in or near Hanoi" may have sabotaged chances for a longer cease fire to get peace negotiations started.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Catching The Public Eye

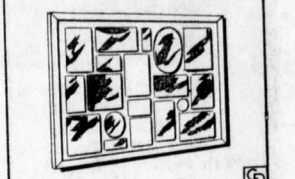

Seven attractive sisters, each with long and luxuriant hair, opened a shop for the sale of hair tonic. Every day they took turns sitting in the show window, combing and brushing their tresses. The performance was such a sensational success that the sidewalk was jammed all day long. . . . But when a neighboring merchant complained in the judge ordered the show halted. He said it was improper to drum up business in a way that shut off the public sidewalk and blocked access to adjacent stores.

Of course, catching the public eye is a lawful and proper activity. But the methods used must not infringe unduly on other legitimate interests in the community. . . . Thus, just as a too-sensational window display may be curbed, so may a too-insistent sound. For example. . . . A music shop placed a phonograph in the doorway, played it relentlessly from morning to night. The volume was so loud that clerks in a nearby store developed headaches, grew jittery, and lost interest in their work. . . . A court held that this too was an abuse of the right to advertise—and ordered the volume turned down. . . . Safety, also, may justify limits on the ways and means of advertising. A court held unlawful a sign in front of a barber shop, so low-hung that it menaced the heads of passing pedestrians. . . . On the other hand, regulation must be reasonable. An arbitrary ban on a particular type of advertising, not reasonably related to a valid community purpose, may be held unconstitutional. . . . Dispute Over Kennedy Book Goes To Court

Attorney Favors Postponement Of Blocking Script

By JOHN VINOCUR

NEW YORK (AP) — The dispute over "The Death of a President" goes into a judge's chambers today with Mrs. John F. Kennedy's attorney favoring a postponement of hearings on her move to block publication of the book.

Author William Manchester, hospitalized with pneumonia, and Harper & Row, publishers of his 300,000-word manuscript on the assassination of the president, have been ordered to show cause in state Supreme Court why they should not be barred from bringing out the account.

Lawyers for the two sides were to discuss the situation informally in Justice Saul Streit's chambers.

"I have no grave objections to putting the matter over as long as necessary," said Simon H. Rifkind, attorney for Mrs. Kennedy. "I'll make that very clear. Counsel for Mr. Manchester needs the views of his client and that's not possible now."

Streit, who issued the show cause order Dec. 16, suggested previously he would agree to postpone the hearings if negotiations on removing disputed passages from the text were not completed by today.

Negotiations on trimming passages that Mrs. Kennedy considers intimate beyond the interest of history continued Monday. More talks — a Kennedy spokesman said they "are going along well" — were scheduled for today.

Mrs. Kennedy has already reached a settlement on deleting sections of a 60,000-word extract of the manuscript that LOOK magazine plans to serialize beginning in Jan. 10. The book is scheduled for publication in April.

The literary and legal maneuvering came against a background of Manchester's illness, a White House statement denying comments attributed to the President by Newsweek magazine relating to the assassination, and Mrs. Kennedy's departure with her children for a holiday on the British West Indies island of Antigua.

Manchester was ordered to remain in the hospital for at least a week after his admission early Monday morning with what his physician called "a slight touch of pneumonia."

The 44-year-old writer remained on the critical list in Middlesex Memorial Hospital, Middletown, Conn., although he was reported responding well to antibiotic treatment. A complete diagnosis would take at least three days and until then he would be considered in critical condition, Dr. F. Erwin Tracy said.

Tracy barred telephone calls of "an emotional or controversial nature" to Manchester. The doctor said he has been "confused and depressed" for the past few weeks.

Manchester, picked by Mrs. Kennedy to write a definitive account of the assassination, was accused in the lawsuit filed by the president's widow of breaking their contract by offering his manuscript for publication without her approval. Some passages in the text, she said, contained material constituting an invasion of her privacy.

President Johnson, meanwhile, asked that his staff not discuss the book or the controversy around it following a Newsweek report that the President's recollections of his succession varied sharply with those said to appear in the still unpublished text.

White House press secretary George Christian said the statements attributed to Johnson in the article "inaccurate and untrue" and "said the President has granted no interviews to anyone, including Mr. Manchester, and has asked his staff to refrain from discussing the subject."

Newsweek reported that Manchester's manuscript contained a description of Mrs. Kennedy's shock at finding Johnson already on board Air Force One when she entered the jet in Dallas after the assassination. It also said she found grating that Johnson would address her as "Honey."

Johnson told intimates, according to the magazine, that he ordered, against the suggestion of the Secret Service, that President Kennedy's coffin be placed in Air Force One instead of the vice presidential plane.

"I wasn't going to let Mrs. Kennedy fly back alone with his body," he was quoted as saying.

On the "Honey" issue, Johnson reportedly explained that "it's just a world that comes easy to me as a Texan."

Mansfield Wants Re-Examination Of Great Society

Gives Recommendations For Second Look At All Major Programs

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield set wheels in motion today for a suggested "major re-examination" by the Senate of "Great Society" program and older controversial laws such as the draft, income tax and foreign aid.

Mansfield issued his recommendations for a "thoroughgoing, second look" at major programs from Medicare and civil rights to farm subsidies in a letter to the Senate's 17 committee chairmen.

Such studies, the Montanan said, could find rough edges, overextensions and gaps in newer programs, and update and check equity of administration handling of older laws such as Selective Service.

Mansfield said his recommendations were not in response to Democratic election losses or complaints by Democratic governors about administration of some programs. He noted that he had been saying for more than a year that it was time for Congress to "stop, look and listen."

Nor, he said, were Vietnam war costs the reason for Congress to pause and re-examine. "With or without Vietnam, in my judgment, the Senate of the United States, through its committees, would have a responsibility for beginning the kind of top-to-bottom oversight which is suggested herein," he said.

Mansfield said the 90th Congress, opening Jan. 10, would have a unique opportunity to fill the needs for "dispassionate restudy" because he didn't expect it to receive a heavy load of new legislation.

The Democratic leader left it up to the committees to determine what laws most needed restudy.

But he called attention to all the new programs "designed to correspond to the nation's changing needs." He mentioned Medicare, civil rights, curbs on air and water pollution, and those dealing with education, urban and rural problems.

Citing legislation passed in the last two busy Congresses, Mansfield said "considering the vast scope of this work and the unprecedented nature of much of it, it is to be expected that there exists a number of rough edges, overextensions and overlaps and, perhaps, even significant gaps."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The average school district is spending $435 to educate each elementary student and $566 for each high school student, a survey shows.

The report in School Management, a magazine for school administrators, said the corresponding costs a year ago were $402 for elementary students and $523 for high schoolers.

The figures do not include construction, debt or school transportation costs. Over-all expenditures for elementary and secondary public schools will be a record $25.2 billion this year, the survey said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Businessmen have become more optimistic in the last three months about the 1967 economy reports a business magazine. Forty-one per cent of executives answering a poll by Nation's Business now predict improved conditions next year. Three months ago 30 per cent saw improvement.

How can your call for negotiations and a peaceful settlement be taken seriously when the U.S. forces in Vietnam escalate their actions at a time like this?

The churchmen, representing various faiths, urged that the United States "on its own initiative act for peace without requiring any prior commitment or act by its adversaries and thus prove our sincerity beyond a doubt."

UCLA Holds First Place In Cage Poll

Michigan State Slipped From Fifth To Tenth

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
St. John's of New York took up the Associated Press college basketball poll by knocking off Kansas last week and now Northwestern has shaken up St. John's.

The Redmen dropped the Jayhawks right out of the poll with a 62-44 licking a week ago and earned themselves eighth place in this week's ranking.

But in the opening round of New York's Holiday Basketball Festival Monday, Northwestern nipped St. John's 62-60 and that means the Redmen's stay among the Top Ten could be as short as Kansas' was.

The panel of sports writers and broadcasters left the top four rankings unchanged. UCLA remained No. 1, Louisville second, North Carolina third and Texas Western fourth. Three of those teams play in tournaments this week.

Texas Western hosts the four-team Sun Carnival opening at El Paso Thursday. North Carolina is not entered in any tourney but will stay busy, playing Furman tonight and Ohio State Friday.

Michigan State, also entered in the Quaker City tournament, slipped five notches from fifth to 10th after losing to New Orleans Loyola last week.

The Spartans No. 5 slot went to New Mexico, who moved up one notch from No. 6. New Mexico hosts the Lobo Invitational with three other teams entered. It opens Thursday.

Houston moved up two spots to No. 6 and is entered in the Arkansas State Invitational beginning Wednesday. Cincinnati, No. 7, plays St. Joseph's of Indiana Wednesday and Iowa Friday. Vanderbilt, which moved up to ninth, is off this week.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, and points on a 100 etc. basis:

1. UCLA (31) 219
2. Louisville 272
3. North Carolina (1) 236
4. Texas Western 128
5. New Mexico 114
6. Houston 126
7. Cincinnati 79
8. St. John's, N.Y. 65
9. Vanderbilt 53
10. Michigan State 53

Dallas Could Beat Green Bay

Meredith Thinks Cowboys Have Good Chance To Win

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — "We have a very good chance of beating Green Bay and winning the National Football League championship," said Don Meredith Tuesday.

The Cowboys quarterback who has become a Dallas institution—has played football here for 11 years—wasn't speaking in a tone of braggadocio.

"There are a lot of reasons why Dallas can beat Green Bay," he said. "First we have a good team—good enough to win. Green Bay has the type team for us to play — they execute very well, rely on coordination, and we are the same. So it is a matter of execution and if we do it properly—which I believe we will—we will win."

It couldn't come sooner either, Meredith mused.

"I never have played on a championship team and I started in the sixth grade," he declared.

Meredith said he guessed this was the biggest test he ever faced.

"There couldn't be any greater—this one means the most, it has the highest stakes, not necessarily in money but in prestige. I welcome it and I know my teammates welcome it. We feel we are prepared to meet this challenge."

"This kind of opportunity doesn't come for many people. I tisthe chance of a lifetime. We don't intend to let it pass. The two weeks off has done me a world of good. I am at full strength as are the other members of this team—and we are going to win it."

Flying Dutch Host Powerful Punxsy Here Tonight At 8

Visitors Were Class A Champs. JVs Play At 6:30

One of the hottest basketball attractions to hit St. Marys in some time will be at Kelly Gym tonight when the St. Marys Flying Dutch, Pennsylvania District IX Class "B" Champions, will play host to the powerful Punxsutawney Chucks, Pennsylvania District IX Class "A" Champions, of last year.

Both teams grabbed off a lot of publicity State-wide last year in State playoff competition before eventually bowing out to the team in their respective division that went on to win the State title.

In the Flying Dutch case, the St. Marys lads rolled hot before running into the Mercer Mustangs at Westminster College in New Wilmington and even then the lads of Coach Neil Kemp put on a game exhibition before the eventual Mustang power succumbed to them.

The Punxsutawney course saw the Chucks go one better for after sweeping the District IX tigua the Chucks then went into regional play and elbowed the powerful Meadville Bulldogs of District X coached by ex-St. Marys Coach Norm Sundstrom in a stunning upset.

From there the lads of Coach Ken Williams then met the Schenley Spartans of the Pittsburgh City League at the Pitt Field House in the Smoky City and there the Chucks met their Waterloo. The Schenley team then coasted to the Pennsylvania State Class "A" title crushing everything in its path.

The magnetism of tonight's game where two champions are matched are enough to stir the blood of any basketball enthusiasts, but much more importance is attached as the victor tonight is sure to be heard from come State playoff competition in March.

The Dutch look if they are beginning to jell into a solid unit having a 5-3 record to date with the last three victories coming in a row. Punxsy is also 5-3 with two of its losses being understandable. One was a 2-2 point verdict at Marion Center where even the Boston Celtics would have trouble, then another defeat was tagged on the Chucks by the classy Johnstown Trojans who are now participating in the Johnstown War Memorial Tournament that has four of the best high school basketball teams on the Eastern Coast of U. S.

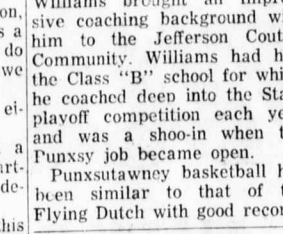

Enthusiasm is running high in the Dutch camp for a big win over Punxsy tonight could be a tremendous springboard for the Kempen who open A.M.L. action January 3 at Sheffield. One thing is sure a tremendous effort will be needed tonight for a victory because the Punxsy team is a team of class dating back to when ex-coach Chuck Dailey had the reins and then left Punxsy to be an assistant at Duke University under head coach Vic Buback. Dailey, who built the Chuck Empire is now reported to be first in line for several coaching "olums" in the Southeastern Conference. Dailey was replaced by Coach Ken Williams at Punxsy and Williams brought an impressive coaching background with him to the Jefferson County Community. Williams had had the Class "B" school for which he coached deep into the State playoff competition each year and was a shoe-in when the Punxsy job became open.

Punxsutawney basketball has been similar to that of the Flying Dutch with good records regardless whether they clinched Championships or not. Punxsy has not been under the 500 mark for some 12 years, while the last time St. Marys slipped under the 50 per cent mark was in 1953.

The game itself shapes up as a natural with two basketball strongholds meeting head-on and a fine crowd is anticipated with college students home for the holidays and many Dutch alumni home visiting for the holidays.

Varsity tip-off is set for 8:00 p. m. with the Junior Varsity game getting under way at 6:30 p. m.

Philadelphia Won 134-118 Over Royals

76ers Have Won 30 Straight Home Games

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Not counting games against the Boston Celtics, the Philadelphia 76ers are 41-1 against the rest of the National Basketball Association since last March.

But then again, who's perfect? Led by Wilt Chamberlain ("Mr. Inside") and Hal Greer ("Mr. Outside") the fabulous Philadelphia whipped the Cincinnati Royals 134-118 Monday night to establish a new NBA home-court consecutive victory string.

The 76ers, who lead the Eastern Division with a phenomenal 33-3 record, have won 30 straight regular home games — 14 last year and 16 this season. The new mark breaks the old standard set by Minneapolis in the 1949-50 season.

The last time Philadelphia lost at home was a 126-120 defeat by the Los Angeles Lakers Jan. 7, 1965.

Monday night the astounding 7-foot-1 Chamberlain poured in 38 points, handed out 10 assists and took down 32 rebounds.

Greer, the "Mr. Outside" of the 76ers' offense, scored 35 points from where he does it best—the outside.

In other games, Boston ripped Los Angeles 121-106, New York dropped Detroit 114-109, St. Louis downed San Francisco 120-111 and Chicago defeated Baltimore 108-96.

Yankee Stars Northwestern Rolled To 27-14 Won 62-60 Over Win Over Rebels St. John's, N. Y.

Eugene Trosch Of Miami University Named MVP Of Game
Will Play Providence In Semifinals Of Holiday Tournament
By MURRAY CHASS

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A team of Yankee stars, eager to impress a flock of pro scouts in the stands, rolled to a 27-14 victory over the Rebels Monday night in the North-South college football game.

Eugene Trosch, 6-foot-6, 247-pound defensive tackle from the University of Miami, was voted the most valuable player for the South, and another defensive tackle, Pete Duranko, 6-2, 235-pounder from Notre Dame, was picked for the North.

The North team, winning only for the seventh time in the 18-year series, powered to a 20-9 halftime lead, then coasted home behind a rugged defense.

Donald Cockroft, the nation's leading punter from Adams State College in Colorado, boosted the Yanks into a 6-0 first quarter lead with field goals of 31 and 38 yards.

Then, in one minute, 12 seconds of the second period, the Yanks scored twice on a nine-yard pass from Colorado's Bernie McCall to Tulsa's Neal Sweeney and a 20-yard dash with an intercepted pass by Duranko.

Houston's Bo Burris finally found the range for the South in the last quarter with scoring shots of 15 and 11 yards to Gary Rowe of North Carolina State.

But the South never got in close shooting distance as the North also scored in the fourth on a nine-yard run by Bo Rein of Ohio State.

The post-season bowl activity hits its peak this weekend with the Rose, Sugar, Orange, Cotton and Gator Bowls, the East-West Shrine Game and the NFL and AFL championship games.

Packers Hold Work Outs In The Snow

Skelly Stadium In Tulsa Is Where Team Practices

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Green Bay Packer Coach Vince Lombardi could hardly be blamed if he declined the next time somebody suggests Tulsa's Skelly Stadium as a December training site.

It wasn't even certain the Packers would finish their final week of drills here for their Jan. 1 encounter with the Dallas Cowboys for the National Football League championship.

Lombardi was perturbed when the Packers arrived Monday to find Skelly Stadium's turf still covered with a thin layer of snow which fell last Thursday.

The Packers worked out in the snow and scheduled another drill for today after obtaining assurance the snow would be scraped off and the field covered.

Workers cleared the field and put down a plastic cover, but the weather bureau forecast heavy snow today, possibly extending into Wednesday.

Lombardi said the Packers would stay as planned if the field condition did not get worse.

Most embarrassed by the awkward chain of events was the Skelly Stadium Corp., which lured the Packers to Tulsa in hopes they would like conditions well enough to play an exhibition game next summer.

Chiefs Begin Final Week Of Drills Today

Preparing For Big Game New Year's Day Against Buffalo

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Chiefs ended a three-day holiday and began their final week of drills today for the American Football League championship game at Buffalo New Year's Day.

Snow was forecast, but Coach Hank Stram has said that unless the weather gets unreasonable the Chiefs will continue their practice in Kansas City.

The Bills left Buffalo for five days of practice in Winston-Salem, N.C., where the climate is warmer.

The Chiefs are looking for cold weather with possibly snow and a slippery field when the division titlists play for the league championship.

But Stram is undaunted by the weather predictions.

"Contrary to what most football fans think," Stram said, "a slippery field favors the passing game."

"Look at it this way: The offensive players know where they are going, the defensive players have to react. It's tougher to get traction for the pass rush and the defensive backs have to be cautious because they are afraid they will slip."

The Chiefs, with the most potent offense in the AFL this season, will go into the game as slight favorites although they will have to contend with the heralded Buffalo defense.

The Chiefs began their regular season last September by whacking the defending champion Bills 42-20. Then Buffalo came back to spoil Kansas City's home opener in October by beating the Chiefs 29-14.

Amateur Tennis Player Ralston Has Turned Pro

Reports Are That He Signed 3-Year Pact For $100,000

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) — America's top amateur tennis player, Dennis Ralston, made official today what had long been rumored. He has turned professional.

"Professional tennis offers me a future while amateur tennis in the United States offers a player nothing," Ralston told The Associated Press.

This ends the amateur career after seven years of the still at 24 bc,ish, strawberry blond Californian who has played all over the world and won everything in sight except for the two big ones.

"Any regrets?" he was asked. "Yes," said Denny, as his intimates know him, and he named the two big ones — Wimbledon and the U.S. National at Forest Hills.

Ralston said he preferred not to divulge the financial terms of his pro contract but he reportedly signed for three years for $100,000.

The contract was signed with Wallace M. Dill of the International Professional Tennis Association. Dill announced the contract Monday.

Ralston said he has thought about turning pro for over a year.

"I've got a family and I do have to start looking toward the future," he said.

Ralston's pro career will get under way next month in Australia, followed by competition in the U.S., Europe and South Africa.

The opposition will include veteran Pancho Gonzales of the U.S. and Australians Rod Laver, Ken Rosewall and Lew Hoad.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Firemen suspect arson in the blaze that destroyed the $10,000 sports car of former Republican presidential candidate Barry Goldwater.

When the firefighters arrived at Goldwater's home Monday, they found the short wave radio-equipped car in flames.

WAVERLY, Minn. (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has been using a snowmobile — a small, tread-operated vehicle — during his Christmas vacation in Minnesota.

He said Monday he had rented a snowmobile for his three sons and one daughter and their families.

"We've been snowmobiling right across the lake," he said, referring to frozen Lake Waverly in front of the Humphrey home.

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Industrialist Cyrus S. Eaton, 83 today, said in a pre-birthday interview that he is working on a number of projects "of the first magnitude," but they are still of a confidential nature.

He is chairman of the board of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway and also exerts other control or an important influence over industrial projects estimated to be worth $3 billion.

Eaton said in the interview Monday at his farm at Northfield, Ohio, that he still has "all the zest I ever had and I am still experiencing the full joy of living."

FT. GORDON, GA. (AHTNC) — Army Private Gary A. Clinger, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack V. Clinger, 9 Wood St. Emporium, Pa., completed nine weeks of advanced individual training Dec. 2 at Ft. Gordon, Ga. His last week of training was spent in guerrilla warfare exercises.

During his guerrilla training, he lived under simulated Vietnam conditions for five days, fighting off night attacks and conducting raids on "enemy" villages. He was taught methods of removing booby traps, setting ambushes, and avoiding enemy ambushes.

Other specialized training included small unit tactics, map reading, land mine warfare, communications, and firing the M-14 rifle, M-60 machinegun and 3.5-inch rocket launcher.

Father Shoots At Daughter Believing Gun Was Not Loaded

GRIFFIN, Ga. (AP) — Denise Marie Sanders, 7, ran up to her father and said teasingly, "Shoot me, Daddy."

A few hours later she was dead. The gun her father had held was not a weapon loaded with blanks, as he had believed, but a similar gun, loaded with live ammunition.

Sheriff Dwayne Gilbert said the coroner ruled that the slaying was an accident and no charges will be filed.

The holiday tragedy occurred Monday at the home of Chester Wright, where Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Sanders of Griffin, and their daughter, Denise, were visiting.

Spalding County Deputy Sheriff Gray Pinson said Wright had two 22-caliber pistols, one loaded with cartridges and the other with blanks.

Sanders picked up the live ammunition weapon, thinking it was the one with blanks, the deputy said. The girl ran to her father and said, "Shoot me, Daddy," Pinson related.

Wright, realizing that Sanders had the wrong gun, shouted and attempted to grab Sanders' arm, said Pinson. But the gun discharged, the bullet hitting Denise in the chest.

The girl was taken to a hospital but efforts to save her were futile. She died a few hours after the shooting.

The Chevalier-class destroyer will be supporting aircraft carrier operations, conducting search and rescue procedures for downed pilots, performing coastal surveillance and anti-submarine warfare exercises, and will also provide gunfire support to U. S. and Allied ground forces.

The Benner, homeported in Long Beach, Calif., is expected to be on patrol in Southeast Asia for six months.

Bombing Raids

Continued from page 1 Salisbury said his Christmas Day tour of Nam Dinh was interrupted by a 21-minute air raid alert, and that Tran Thi Doan, the city's 40-year-old woman mayor, told him there had been 51 raids on her city up to Dec. 23.

He reported the old French Highway 1 between Saigon and Hanoi runs almost parallel to the main railroad over flat land and would appear to be a bombardier's dream target but is not.

"The railroad and highway have been bombed again and again and again, but it is doubtful that rail traffic has ever been held up more than a few hours, and the highway seems capable of operating almost continuously regardless of how many bombs are dropped," Salisbury wrote.

He said the railroad can be repaired quickly because it uses small, light equipment and enough repair materials "probably sufficient to construct two or three additional railroads are kept on hand, seldom more than a few hundred yards from any possible break."

He said the highway was even more easily repairable.

He arrived in Hanoi Friday from Phnom Penh, the Cambodian capital, after the State Department validated his passport for travel to North Vietnam and the North Vietnamese granted him a visa.

Completes Training

CAMP LEJEUNE, N. C. (FH-TNC) Dec. 8 — Marine Private David Gillen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gillen of Kersey, Pa., has completed four weeks of individual combat training at this Marine Corps Base.

During his more than 200 hours of training, he learned about weapons and combat techniques from combat veterans to conduct combat patrols, detect and remove mines and booby traps and use the standard Marine Corps infantry weapons.

He will now receive at least four weeks of specialist training before being assigned to his first permanent unit. Marines going to combat units will get detailed training in the particular combat skill they are designated for. Those who are going into technical fields will receive their advanced training at one of a variety of technical schools throughout the country.

Francis Cardinal Spellman Stands By His Statement

Vatican Is Upset Over His Call For A Victory By U. S.

By BOB GASSAWAY

SAIGON (AP) — Francis Cardinal Spellman stood firm today on his call for nothing less than U. S. victory in Vietnam despite reports that the Vatican was upset by his remarks.

"Whatever I said, I stand by it," the 77-year-old Roman Catholic archbishop of New York told a newsmen before ending his Christmas visit with U. S. servicemen in Vietnam and flying to the Philippines.

Although the Vatican would make no official comment, unofficial sources there said the cardinal's statement that Vietnam "is inconceivable" caused concern and perplexity. These sources said such declarations seemed to be out of keeping with the efforts of Pope Paul VI to encourage a negotiated end to the war.

The Soviet government paper Izvestia charged the cardinal's "militant sermons" were "in sharp dissonance with recent statements of Pope Paul who appealed for an end to the bloody killing." North Vietnam denounced the cardinal as a "reactionary under a priest's cloak" and charged he had "loudly clamored for the intensification of the U. S. aggressive war."

The cardinal's statement, made during a Christmas Eve sermon, also referred to the Vietnam fighting as a "war for civilization."

En route to Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Airport today, he told patients at the U. S. Army's 3rd Field Hospital: "All America should be grateful to you. The men in the armed forces have saved our civilization in past years. You are preserving it."

Cardinal Spellman, who is Roman Catholic military vicar of the U. S. armed forces, was accompanied by U. S. Army physicians throughout his six-day visit. He declared several times this was his last trip abroad to visit U. S. servicemen at Christmas. It was his 16th consecutive Christmas visit to the forces overseas.

Former Local Woman Makes Costumes For Mummies Parade

The Mummies Parade in Philadelphia on New Year's Day, which is celebrated January 2, will have Hegeman's Black Diamond String Band with Al Fink as its leader.

The band was costumed by Mr. and Mrs. William Hurley of Pensacoken, N. J. Mrs. Hurley was the former Bernette Steich of St. Marys. She and her husband designed and made the costumes in their entirety for the 30 men.

The costumes are white sat with black imitation jewels and capes lined of red satin.

Barry Goldwater's Mother Passes Away

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Josephine Goldwater, 91, matriarch of a pioneer merchant family that produced a Republican candidate for president, died at her home Tuesday.

She outlived her husband, Baron, by 37 years.

Her three children included Barry Goldwater, who was twice elected to the U. S. Senate before losing the 1964 presidential election to Lyndon B. Johnson.

Another son is board chairman and chief executive officer of Goldwater Department Stores, a chain in central Arizona.

Still alert but in failing health since she broke her hip in a fall Aug. 24, she died in the North-east Phoenix home where Barry and Robert Goldwater, her sons, and Carolyn Erskine, her daughter, grew up.

When his mother died, Barry Goldwater and his wife were flying to Hawaii for a tour of the Far East. A turn-around flight was arranged to return them to Arizona.

Firemen Use Their Bare Hands To Aid In Rescue Attempt

By WILLIAM F. NICHOLSON

EVERETT, Mass. (AP) — A Boston & Maine one-car diesel passenger train smashed into a fuel oil truck stalled with frozen brakes on a street crossing early today. Twelve persons died as flames engulfed the train and the truck.

Officials said there may have been up to 35 persons aboard the train. No definite check was available on the number aboard the local run.

Chelsea Fire Chief Herbert Fothergill said most of the victims were trapped in the train for 20 minutes until the fire was put out. He said firemen used their bare hands to extricate the passengers.

A fireman said one door was blocked "because there was a body lying on the other side."

Policeman Ralph DeVito said he tried breaking the windows with our night sticks but that wouldn't work. We couldn't open the door because there was this guy trying to get out the door with his head stuck through the window.

"We pushed him away but then there was so much smoke we couldn't see."

Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston said it received nine dead from burns and four injured. Whidden Hospital in Everett said it received two dead and 10 injured.

Chelsea Naval Hospital received one dead and two injured. One injured was taken to Chelsea Memorial Hospital.

Everett is an industrial community on the outskirts of Boston.

Police said the driver of the fuel truck, Raymond Bouley, 29, of Billerica told them his brakes froze as he reached the crossing on Second Street and the vehicle stalled.

He said while he was trying to restart the truck, the gates came down on both sides of the crossing and he heard the train approaching. He said he ran down the tracks and tried to flag down the train with his jacket.

Bouley was treated for shock at Whidden and released.

The train, a local, left Boston's North Station at 12:01 a. m. bound for Rockport, Mass.

Police said the force of the collision carried the train and truck 100 feet down the tracks.

The truck ruptured, spilling most of its 7,000 gallons of stove oil in a fiery wave.

The train tilted off the tracks and the truck overturned.

Police said the engineer of the train, Thomas Bagley, was killed.

A passenger, Martin F. Marink, 18, of Lynn said the engineer came into the car just before the crash "and he yelled, Lean forward. We're going to hit. And then I was thrown forward."

Marink said he followed a man out of the train through the rear platform after the collision.

Fire Lt. Frederick Scott said the flames shot 20 feet into the air and thick black smoke engulfed the train and truck. "All I could hear was people screaming," he said. "We had to take them out through windows."

Two Killed And Six Injured In Car Crash

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP) — An automobile swung across the medial barrier of the north-east extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Tuesday night, killing two Northampton County women and seriously injuring six other persons. Five of the injured were members of a Philadelphia family.

Killed were Mrs. Mary Gatto, 40, of Palmer Township near Easton, Pa., and Mrs. Carolyn Cash, 32, of Easton.

Joseph Cash, 22, of Easton, reported to be Mrs. Cash's brother-in-law, was in serious condition with multiple injuries. Police said the car carrying the Easton people crossed the barrier.

Draft Seminar Opens Today In Detroit Church

Will Tell Youths How They Can Avoid Fighting In Vietnam

DETROIT (AP) — An interfaith seminar on how youth can avoid the fighting in Vietnam opens at Detroit's Central Methodist church today.

Sponsored by a group calling itself the Committee of Citizens for Peace in Vietnam, the day-long meeting includes workshops for draft-age youth on various aspects of the Selective Service System.

A rally protesting U. S. involvement in the Vietnam war will climax the meeting.

"We expect 7 to 15 people at each of the seven workshops," said the Rev. George Colman, a member of the committee and a Presbyterian minister.

The Rev. Mr. Colman said he had received calls from people who said they planned to attend the rally and "find out just what these kids are doing with their draft protests."

"This should provide some opposition comment," he said. The Rev. David M. Gracie, rector of Detroit's St. Joseph Episcopal church and a committee member, said last week that the sponsors "are not advocating draft dodging."

The Rev. Mr. Gracie said that the meeting was a public forum designed to let draft-eligible youth know where they stand with the law if they plan to oppose the draft with other than conscientious objector status.

Men opposed to war and killing have little difficulty forming a stand gaining conscientious objector status, he said, but "the guy who believes this particular war—but not all wars—is unjust, is going to be faced with a complex problem."

The workshops feature attorneys who have handled Selective Service cases, clergy members who have counseled conscientious objectors, and students who have been involved in peace protests.

Other Detroit clergy on the sponsoring committee are the Rev. Maurice Geary, a Roman Catholic; the Rev. James Laird, retiring pastor of Central Methodist Church; the Rev. James Bristol, of the Methodist Church's Social Action Division; and the Rev. Eugene Ransom, a Methodist minister in nearby Ann Arbor.

Catholic Office Of Motion Pictures Has Condemned New Film

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Catholic Office for Motion Pictures has issued a condemnation rating for the film "Blow-Up," the first English-language motion picture of Italian director, Michelangelo Antonioni.

The effect of the condemnation by the office, formerly known as the National League of Decency, was to forbid Roman Catholics from seeing the film.

The office said in a statement Tuesday: "Brilliance of camera technique and beauty of image composition do not justify a sexual treatment, which, in certain sequences, will impress viewers as going beyond reasonable limits of moral acceptability for a public entertainment medium."

"Blow-Up," filmed in England, opened here last week and has played to capacity audiences. Critics gave it generally excellent reviews.

Former Local Girl Passed Away At Troy

Miss Jane Vollmer To Be Buried Here On Friday

Miss Jane Vollmer, 32, of Troy, (Bradford County), Pa., native of St. Marys, passed away at Troy yesterday afternoon. She had been in failing health for a number of years.

Miss Vollmer was born in St. Marys on April 2, 1934, daughter of Jay L. and Ann Van Noy Vollmer. Her father passed away on January 5, 1946.

The deceased graduated from St. Marys Public High School with the Class of 1952, and attended Penn State University. She was also employed for a number of years at Pure Carbon Company.

The family lived on North St. Marys Street until moving to Troy, Pa., in 1959. Mrs. Vollmer operates a hotel there.

Miss Vollmer is survived by her mother, a brother, Girard, and her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Ann Van Noy, all of Troy.

Friends are being received at the Gerald Vickers Funeral Home in Troy.

Requiem mass will be celebrated Friday morning at 10 o'clock in St. John's Catholic Church in Troy. Interment will follow in St. Mary's Cemetery here on Friday afternoon.

Heart Association Warns Of Danger In Shoveling Of Snow

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Heart Association of Southeastern Pennsylvania warned today of the dangers of snow shoveling, especially in middle aged or older men.

Each season a heavy snowfall is followed by a rash of heart attacks caused by exertion among people shoveling snow. The middle-aged, sedentary American householder especially is susceptible to this peril, the association says.

For men in this group, the association has some sage and well-timed advice:

"If you have heart disease, don't shovel snow without your doctor's approval."

"If you are over 40 years of age and healthy, you may shovel, but take it easy. Snow shoveling is strenuous and can hurt someone unaccustomed to regular physical activity. Cold weather intensifies the strain."

"It is better to shovel before eating, as with any regular working. Tobacco causes constriction of the heart vessels, just as does cold air."

"Never shovel to the point of exhaustion; and don't be fooled by a warming shot of whiskey or the invigorating air."

"Dress warmly in loose, comfortable clothes, keeping hands and feet dry."

"When you shovel, lift with your entire body; let your back and leg muscles take some of the strain off your arms."

"If you become breathless, wait until breathing is easy. If you feel a tightness in the chest, quit."

"Last, and probably best: hire the neighbor's boy to do the job for you."

Soap Box Derby On TV Program

"Sam and the Soap Box Derby" will be the title of Thursday night's episode on the highly rated "Bewitched" television show. The show is scheduled for 9 p. m.

The show will be seen on Pittsburgh, Channel 4, in this area.

It is hoped that the show will increase the interest in the annual Soap Box Derby held here in June and the 30th All-American Derby at Akron, Ohio, in August.

South Vietnam Troops Report Killing Enemies

Search And Destroy Mission Is Launched By The Ground Forces

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Thousands of South Vietnamese troops fanned out across canal-laced rice fields deep in the Mekong Delta today and reported killing 89 Viet Cong in two days.

The large-scale search-and-destroy operation was launched Tuesday by ground troops, helicopter-borne units and the Vietnam war's first combat parachute jump in at least two years.

The multiregiment force of Vietnamese infantrymen, paratroopers, armored cavalrymen and Popular Force units descended on a Viet Cong stronghold in Chuong Thien Province 126 miles west-southwest of Saigon. American troops reported they will be deployed in parts of the delta in the near future.

The paratroopers jumped from 33 planes — 13 U. S. Air Force transports and C-47s of the South Vietnamese air force. The paratroopers ran into no opposition when they jumped. Spokesmen declined to say if any of the jumpers were injured. In a previous large-scale jump in April 1964, 40 per cent of the paratroopers were injured in jumping.

A Vietnamese spokesman said government forces killed 29 Viet Cong in the opening phases of the operation and by late today the enemy dead had risen to 89, with two prisoners taken and 48 weapons seized. Vietnamese casualties were termed "very light."

The spokesman said a government infantry battalion reported contact this afternoon with a Viet Cong force of unknown size. The outcome of the contact was not known at last reports.

The government sweep in the delta was the largest operation reported by the Vietnamese and American military commands.

U. S. headquarters listed only small, scattered skirmishes.

In the air war, long-range B-52 bombers made two raids on targets in South Vietnam Tuesday. One formation of the heavy bombers struck at a Communist base camp and suspected troop concentration 15 miles west-northwest of the northern city of Hue. Another wave hammered an enemy supply and training area 24 miles southwest of the central coastal city of Tuy Hoa.

U. S. air strikes against North Vietnam were hampered again Tuesday by bad weather. U. S. spokesmen said, and American jet pilots flew only 54 strike missions, or about 150 individual sorties.

Most of the strikes hit at highways in the Dien Bien Phu area, in the western part of North Vietnam, and at storage areas, and rail yards in the southern section of the country, the spokesmen said.

American fliers also pounded the demilitarized zone Tuesday with five raids, hitting at North Vietnamese bunkers and troop areas in the once-neutral buffer area separating North and South Vietnam.

Twelve U. S. Army advisers made the big parachute jump in the delta with the Vietnamese paratroopers. Brig. Gen. William G. Moore Jr., 46, of Waco, Tex., was in charge of the airlift and flew in the lead C-130 Hercules. Also flying during the operation was Lt. Gen. William W. Momyer, commander of the U. S. 7th Air Force.

Harper & Row called the situation "hopeful" and indicated that an amicable settlement was thought possible soon.

The publisher also agreed in the statement not to bring out the book until April 1. Lock magazine reached a settlement with Mrs. Kennedy on deletions in its 60,000-word extract of the text, the first installment of which reaches newstands Jan. 10.

Kennedy Book Dispute May End Quietly

Attorneys Agree To Put Off Court Hearing For Now

By JOHN VINOCCUR

NEW YORK (AP) — The Kennedy book dispute could end quietly now after Mrs. John F. Kennedy's decision to withhold temporarily her suit to stop its publication, a family spokesman indicated today.

"I'm not going to guarantee it," he said, "but much points to a resolution. There has been progress and I think things could well be resolved noiselessly and soon."

Attorneys for Mrs. Kennedy and Harper & Row, publishers of William Manchester's "The Death of a President," an account of the Kennedy assassination, agreed Tuesday to put off hearings on her request for an injunction against the book until mid-January in expectation of a reasonably quick settlement.

The parties, ordered to appear at a State Supreme Court show cause hearing, said the arrangement would give them sufficient time for more discussion on passages to be trimmed from the 300,000-word text. Both sides characterized progress as "steady."

"That's great," said Manchester's wife, Julia, learning of the decision. Manchester, recovering from a mild case of pneumonia, was not available for comment.

Mrs. Kennedy and Harper & Row said in a statement that Manchester's hospitalization Monday made it necessary to continue talks "over a longer period than was anticipated."

Respiratory Center Patients Attend College

Learn Ways They Can Keep Improving Their Own Condition

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Patients suffering from respiratory diseases are attending classes at the Medical College of Georgia to learn ways of improving their conditions.

"An experiment in education," said Dr. Frank P. Anderson, head of the project and director of the college's respiratory center.

"It is critical that ways be found to better educate emphysema victims about their conditions."

Nonhospital patients with respiratory diseases attend the special classes once a week at the Richmond County Health Department, which is cooperating in the project with the college and the Augusta area tuberculosis association.

The program, financed by the U. S. Public Health Service, is the first major rehabilitation and education project in the United States for nonhospital patients suffering from emphysema, chronic bronchitis and asthma — all lumped under a heading of emphysema.

About 100 persons have attended classes. Wives or other members of the family are urged to accompany the patients. In addition to lectures, project staff members used closed circuit television demonstrations and junior high school level science films.

Classes are held at noon. "This time of day, emphysema sufferers are generally better able to cope with shortness of breath and fatigue, the most prominent symptoms of this disease," said Alma Meinrath, health educator for the project.

After graduation, each patient is given a personal plan for rehabilitation. Those who need to improve breathing patterns are instructed by a staff member. If a special breathing device might be helpful, one is provided for trial use.

Emphysema and other respiratory diseases are becoming a serious national problem. About 10 million Americans are afflicted with some form of chronic obstructive pulmonary disease, Anderson said.

Emphysema itself is incurable. It affects about one million Americans. Its chief characteristic is damaged air sacs in the smallest structures of the lungs.

The 100,000 Pennsylvanians Job Development Program, a relatively new program, offers "out-of-State" the opportunity of returning or relocating in Pennsylvania. Under this program, the St. Marys Office recently placed one automobile mechanic in one of the local garages.

This applicant was born in Kansas and was recently separated from service with the U. S. Army. The St. Marys Office has a number of this type application which are pending at the present time.

Airlines Strike Last Summer Had Helped Railroads

WASHINGTON (AP) — Last summer's airline strike resulted in a temporary economic boom for the railroads, according to figures from the Association of American Railroads.

The Association said Tuesday additional passengers on railroads while five major airlines were on strike from July 8 through Aug. 20 helped raise passenger revenues $15 million.

The association said, however, that the upsurge was only temporary and did not stem the long-term downturn in travel by train. Once the air strike was over, passengers apparently went back to planes said the association.

The Association said passenger revenues for the year amounted to about $545 million, compared with $553 million last year. For the third quarter, which included the period of the airline strike, passenger revenues for all railroads were $165 million, compared with $156 million of the previous year. Although the difference is only $9 million, the association estimated that the normal decline would have been about $6 million.

Soldier Who Didn't Want To Kill Ended Up Dying In Vietnam

DETROIT (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Carvel J. Mounce got a letter from Vietnam Tuesday from their son, Spec. 4 Barry M. Mounce.

His son said he was in combat, but he hadn't killed anyone and he was glad.

He didn't want to kill, he said. Less than two hours earlier the Defense Department had notified the Mounces that their son had been killed in action.

Job Seekers Had Good Year In 1966

More Housing Appears Answer For Coming Year

The year 1966 proved to be a "bright one" as far as job seekers were concerned. According to figures released today by A. F. Williams, Manager of the Pennsylvania State Employment Service, Erie Avenue, 1,930 persons found gainful employment in industry and business in the Elk-Cameron County area. This represents a 37% increase over the 1,412 placed in jobs in 1965. This placement figure includes 25 handicapped of which 13 were veterans and 217 were job developments by the local office staff.

The main function of the St. Marys Employment Office is to find jobs for workers and workers for jobs. To accomplish this, the office depends on the cooperation of area industry and business.

One of the many services offered by the Bureau is the "counseling service" which offers guidance in choosing the type of work for which the applicant is best suited. This service also includes aiding the handicapped. Aptitude testing and proficiency tests were administered to 1,056 applicants, including seniors, who were either new entrants in the labor market or persons seeking a change in jobs. JIM BISHOP: Reporter Expresses His Views...

Time magazine phoned. The question was as innocent as a lattlesnake in a bassinet. "Know what the Manchester book is anti-Johnson, has the President asked you to write a book presenting his side of the story?" The answer is no. Still, it's an insulting question on several levels.

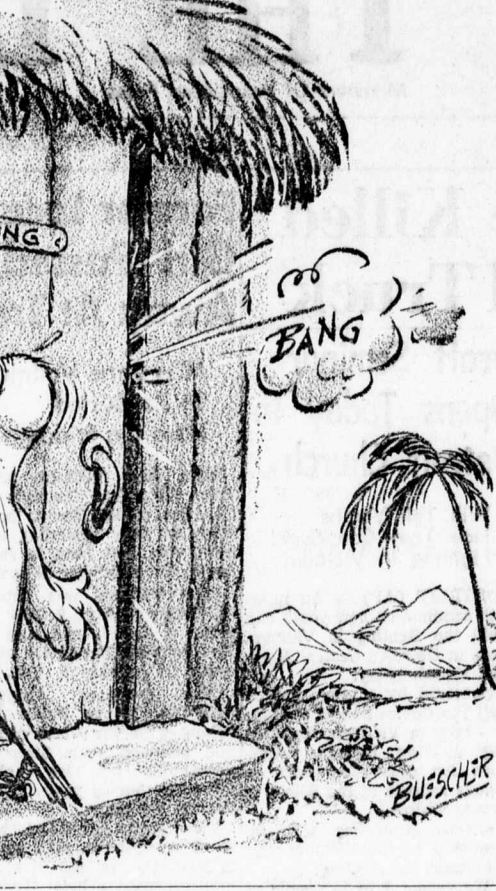

In the first place, I do not know that the William Manchester book, The Death of a President, is anti-Johnson. He is a professional writer and, to a professional with his words as a lumberjack is with his feet, crossing a log jam at night. One mistep and he is immersed in raging critics. Few writers survive.

The second misstatement is "Has the President asked you to write a book...?" Presidents do not have to ask. Writers, unbidden and unaided, continue to write about our Chief Executives. No President has found a way of stopping them. To my knowledge, only one - John F. Kennedy - asked that a book be written.

On October 26, 1963, I was sitting with him in his office and had completed research for a Good Housekeeping magazine article. He requested that I expand it into a book. I showed him the notebook. "It will be a slender one," I said. He smiled at Mrs. Bishop. "He can do it," he said. The work was completed ten days before the assassination.

Almost two years ago I was on the phone with President Johnson's confidant, Jack Valenti. We weren't talking about books, but I said: "How about me writing A Day in the Life of President Johnson?" He said he'd speak to the President about it. Some time later, a note came from Valenti saying that the idea was under consideration.

Inside WASHINGTON MARCH OF EVENTS

VIET LONG-RANGE IMPACT ON PROSPECTS FOR PEACE
MOSCOW-PEKING DIVISION TO BECOME IRREPARABLE

By HENRY CATHCART
Central Press Washington Writer

WASHINGTON—Vietnam is exerting a long-range impact on the prospects for peace in a manner not generally realized, even by those who follow the day-to-day developments in the fighting there.

Ultimately, the Vietnam issue may force a division between Russia and Red China that will be irreparable. That division already has become so pronounced that the two Red powers may be more concerned in defending themselves from each other's possible military attacks than either of them is from war with the capitalist powers.

The ultimate degree of treachery of which a Communist dictatorship is capable probably is known only to the rulers of such dictatorships. To the outside world, their ruthlessness—in the past in Russia, and presently in Red China—is appalling, but far from fully realized.

Their complete control over the spoon-fed information to their rank and file makes possible a degree of ruthlessness that is incomprehensible in an open society.

With this in mind, the capitals of the Western World have been fascinated by the denunciations that each Red power has made public concerning what is supposed to be its principal partner in remaking the world to the Communist image.

Obviously, neither Russia nor China can be in a position to embark on a major war undertaken against the capitalist nations as long as each fears a stab in the back by the other. This may sound extreme, but there is reliable intelligence that each is preparing to "defend" itself from attack by the other.

NEW BLOOD—President Johnson was criticized recently from an unusual quarter and on an unusual situation. The critic was J. Edward Day, former Postmaster General, and the situation concerned the Johnson practice of promoting career Civil Service workers to top level jobs in federal agencies.

The President has made more such promotions than has any other chief executive in modern times. Further, he has been praised often for doing so because it has increased the morale and the zeal of top echelon civil service employees and broadened the opportunities for thousands of government workers.

Day, in his present capacity as president of the National Civil Service League, took the opposite view. He said: "While it is often commendable to appoint a career man to a top policy or regulatory position in the federal government, I think the current very heavy reliance on career men as the source of top federal appointees is regrettable."

Day argues that some of these appointments have not been able to attract high caliber men from private life. In his mind at least, it is important and to the benefit of the nation that private business leaders move in and out of government to infuse new ideas—new blood if you will—into the federal bureaucracy.

County Exceeds Its Bond Quota
Harrison C. Stackpole Is The New Chairman

Cash sales of United States Savings Bonds in Pennsylvania during November were $35,685,449, approximately the same as last year, reports Charles S. Krumping, chairman of the state's Bond organization.

Total sales for the eleven-month period, January through November, were $406,288,406, a gain of 4 per cent over the same period a year ago. This represents 93.4 per cent of the state's quota for 1966.

Forty-two counties have achieved their assigned goals for the year. Sales of Series E and H Bonds in Elk County were $276,737 in November and $2,391,582 for the January-November period. The county has reached 104 per cent of its quota for the year. Harrison C. Stackpole is the new chairman of the county's committee for United States Savings Bonds.

For the Nation, dollar sales of E and H Bonds during November were $368 million — the highest for any November in 11 years — a gain of nine per cent over 1965. Series E Bonds accounted for $345 million, the highest for any November since 1945.

During the January-November period 90,100,000 individual Bonds were issued — the highest since 1946. At the end of November public holdings of E and H Bonds were $50,100 million — over $50 billion.

U.S. Must Bomb Almost Every Vietnam To Save Crop In State American Troops Hurt By Drought

Top Officials See No Point In Changing Its Bombing Policies

WASHINGTON (AP) - Top level U.S. sources say there is no point in changing U.S. bombing policies in North Vietnam despite controversy surrounding a Pentagon admission that some civilians have been hit.

The officials said it is necessary to bomb military targets in order to raise the price to North Vietnam of aggression against South Vietnam and to save lives of Americans and others fighting the Communists.

The Pentagon acknowledged Monday night that attacks on military targets have inflicted civilian casualties but said "it is impossible to avoid all damage" to residential areas dotted with military targets.

The Pentagon response was to a story by Harrison E. Salisbury, an assistant managing editor of the New York Times, who reported from North Vietnam that he saw "block after block of utter desolation" on one town and learned of 89 civilian deaths in another.

The implicit declaration by the U.S. officials that there is no review of bombing policy pending appeared certain to be challenged soon after Congress convenes Jan. 10.

Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and critic of U.S. policy in the war, plans hearings on the subject. Fulbright aides said Tuesday they have no doubt he will call on Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Secretary of State Dean Rusk for detailed reports on the bombings.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, however, supported the Pentagon contention that any civilian casualties were unintentional.

"Is there anyone in the world where there are no civilians?" Eisenhower asked newsmen as he left a hospital. "I know U.S. operations are aimed exclusively at military targets but unfortunately there are some civilians around these targets."

10-Year Record Set By CARE

$1 Million More Than Previous Year

NEW YORK - Public contributions to CARE in fiscal 1966 set a 10-year record of $12,173,345, or $1 million more than the previous year, according to the just-published 20th Annual Report of the nonprofit overseas aid agency.

Printed in the shape of a CARE package, the report shows that these donations by the people of the United States and Canada were multiplied in to nearly $93 million in food, self-help and medical aid delivered to needy people in 40 countries of Africa, Asia, Europe, Latin America and the Middle East. The total included U. S. Food for Peace donations and health government support toward internal expenses.

Cumulative value of distributions since 1946 is $552 million. Refugees and other civilian war victims in South Vietnam drew CARE's attention in the past year, the report points out.

"Deeply involved as we were in this task, our other commitments around the world were not neglected," Frank Goffio, executive director, summarized. "Our fight on hunger was intensified and expanded, helping to feed 40 million persons in 32 countries, including 28 million children in school feeding programs; our Self-Help projects increased in number and variety; our MEDICO service made new advances in spreading the benefits of modern medicine to deprived areas."

"This record of achievement fittingly marks our Twentieth Anniversary. It is also a tribute to the millions of donors who chose to express their humane concern through CARE."

Snow Warnings Are Up For Parts Of Northeastern States

By The Associated Press

A storm which dumped heavy snow in the central Plains spread northeastward into sections of the Midwest today. Gusty winds caused much drifting in some areas and highway travel was disrupted.

A foot of snow was reported in parts of Kansas but the Weather Bureau said snow had ended in southwestern Kansas and Oklahoma and was expected to end today in eastern Kansas and western Missouri and taper off in Nebraska. Up to 10 inches of snow blanketed parts of Nebraska and 8 inches covered areas in western Missouri.

Heavy snow warnings were in effect from north-central Kansas through eastern Nebraska, much of Iowa, southeastern Minnesota, extreme southern Wisconsin, northern sections of Illinois and Indiana and southern and central Lower Michigan. Heavy snow warnings were lifted for northwestern Texas, Oklahoma and much of Kansas.

Driving was hazardous in the snow belt and in some areas hit by sleet. Highways in western Kansas were clogged with snow. Only one lane east and west of Salina, Kan., was open on Interstate 79 Highways in northern Missouri were snow-covered.

Showers and thunderstorms hit areas of the Tennessee and lower Mississippi valleys. Dangerous driving conditions were reported from central Missouri to central and southern Indiana.

Cold weather was reported in much of the nation but subzero readings were confined mostly to parts of the Dakotas and northern Minnesota and in upstate New York.

Government Admits Another Case Of Its Eavesdropping

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department has admitted another case of electronic eavesdropping by the government. It is the eighth admission since last spring.

In papers filed Tuesday night in the 1st U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Boston, the department said the FBI had monitored conversations of Louis J. Taglianetti, who later was convicted of income tax evasion.

The department denied any evidence used in Taglianetti's case was obtained from the FBI bugging, but requested a lower court review of the conviction to determine whether circumstances warranted a new trial.

A Justice Department spokesman said the FBI reported it installed a microphone in 1962 at the business establishment of a close associate of Taglianetti and overheard some of his conversations.

Taglianetti of Warwick, R.I., was found guilty last April of evading taxes for the years 1956, 1957 and 1958. He was sentenced to three years in prison and fined $3,000.

The voluntary announcement of the latest bugging incident followed a Justice Department order last month to examine all cases to determine whether electronic eavesdropping was used to gather evidence illegally.

The department's first voluntary announcement of electronic eavesdropping resulted in a Supreme Court order of a new trial for Fred Black, a Washington public relations man also convicted of income tax evasion.

Newton Falls Man Kills Girl Friend, Then Shoots Himself

WARREN, OHIO (AP) — A ruling of murder — suicide was expected today in the deaths of 37-year-old Newton Falls man and his girl friend.

The body of Miss Marlene Bunce, 26, also of Newton Falls was found in a shallow grave near that community Tuesday morning. Trumbull County Coroner Joseph Sudimak Jr., said she had a bullet wound in her head.

The man, William A. Janus, was found Tuesday also shot in the head in a motel on U.S. 30 near Chester, W.Va.

Dr. R.E. Flood, Hancock County, W.Va., coroner, said it appeared Janus had committed suicide.

West Virginia state police said Janus left a note saying he had done something to Miss Bunce, but they did not disclose the contents of the note.

Authorities said tests were to be made on the bullets to see if Miss Bunce was killed by the same weapon that killed Janus. Blood stains in the trunk of Janus' car were being examined to see if they matched the blood of the dead woman.

Miss Bunce's bloodstained car was found by two policemen Christmas morning about six miles from where her body was discovered. She was reported missing Dec. 23.

AP Special Report

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — In just 29 days, the State of Alabama will have two governors or take a dollar.

Gov.-elect Lurleen Wallace insists on it. On Jan. 16, she succeeds husband George in the $25,000-a-year job as the state's chief executive.

But from then on, he'll be at her right hand, her No. 1 adviser, a promise she made to the voters in her whirlwind campaigning.

"I'm going to be at the capitol fulltime," Mrs. Wallace said, relaxing behind a desk piled high with mail from well-wishers. "I'm going to be active, but the governor (that's the way she expects her husband to be addressed when he leaves office) will be there with me. We'll be there together."

So far there's no provision for payment of a gubernatorial adviser, but she has half-jokingly called him "a dollar-a-year man," and if the state doesn't pay it, perhaps she will.

A 40-year-old mother of four, Mrs. Wallace has never been a stickler for formality or protocol. But she is dealing with the fact that she will be working with a former governor, and he is her husband. That presents some problems.

How do you address her? "It is the Honorable Gov. Lurleen B. Wallace, if you want to be real strict and stick to protocol," the governor-elect volunteered. "During my administration, however, everything official will be Lurleen B. Wallace."

If you want to get her dander up, try referring to them as "Gov. and Mr. George Wallace."

"As long as they live, every other ex-governor in Alabama carries the title of 'governor' as a courtesy," Mrs. Wallace said firmly. "I will insist on 'Gov. Wallace' not being called 'minister.'"

Passerby Saves Gun For Cop Who Was Jumped By Robber

DETROIT (AP) — An unidentified man saved patrolman Gerald Pastula's pistol for him Tuesday.

Pastula and his partner were setting an ambush for two men outside a vacant building when one of the men jumped from a window, lunged at Pastula and grabbed his pistol.

At that moment a passerby ran up, knocked Pastula's assailant to the ground and handed the pistol back to the policeman.

He walked away, leaving the officers to pick up the two men, who were held for investigation of burglary.

Flying Dutch Crush Punxsy In A Lopsided 75-42 Game

Sharpshooting Kempmen Drilled Home Solid 45%

Meet Sheffield Tuesday For Their Opening AML Game

Behind a dazzling exhibition of basketball, the St. Marys Flying Dutch crushed the Class "A" District IX champion Punxsutawney Chucks by a lopsided 75 to 42 score at Kelly Gym last evening.

Wheeling and dealing like they did in last year's State playoff competition, the Neil-Kemp-coached team never looked better as they loosened their lightning and thunder on the kingly of the Class "A" League and at the end of four periods of rip-roaring action, the annihilation of the Chucks was complete.

The complete destruction of Punxsy actually came in three different stages. First, the Dutch wove an amazing man-to-man defense that permitted the strong Chucks but 3 baskets in the first half, then only 9 for three quarters before the St. Marys subs swung into action.

Next, the Men-of-Kemp showed a disciplined offense that worked the ball through the Punxsy defense only looking for the good shots with some fine pass-offs wowing the big crowd present.

Then, mainly the sharpshooting of the Dutch hoopsters was at its best as the St. Marys lads drilled home a solid 45 per cent for the evening giving the Dutch their top shooting night of the year.

The outstanding performance of the Dutch was demoralizing for the lads from Jefferson County for after being hit with the first big salvo from the Good Ship "Flying Dutch" the lads of Coach Ken Williams never recovered. Being a little dazed, the Chucks made numerous errors giving the ball away to St. Marys and their shooting which had been sharp all season was blanketed by the tenacious Dutch defense.

Punxsutawney Coach Ken Williams summed up the contest in a post-game discussion in a few short words: "St. Marys overwhelmed us. We thought we could give the fans a real good show, but they seemed paralyzed after the opening quarter. How did St. Marys lose three games this season? That was a fall, talented team performing out there in white uniforms tonight."

St. Marys opened in fine fashion skipping on to a 15 to 5 first-period lead on some sharp shooting by Don Wilhelm and Dave DePrator. Both lads who were going to end the night's action with 20 points apiece flipped in three baskets each in this session as the gears began to mesh for the Dutch in this period.

What led to 3 baskets in this period when guard Rog Hanes came up with 3 scintillating steals of Punxsy passes. Bud Brennan and Larry Kunes also showed some strong rebounding in the quarter showing up on a what was to be the pattern of the night.

The second period pattern didn't change much from the first except that Dave DePrator and the old "Mongoose" Wilhelm just became a little better. The "Mongoose" spun and gyrated himself into position for 8 points this period while DePrator whistled in 10 big ones for this period.

Taking the big 28-point lead to the locker room at half time they were leading 39 to 11, the Dutch still would not let up in the third quarter. With Bud Brennan stuffing home several rebounds and Larry (K.O.) Kunes finding the range on short jumpers, the St. Marys lead continued to grow.

The third quarter ended and the St. Marys lead had mushroomed to 57 to 20 with the Dutch up by some 37 points. St. Marys shock troops were now making their appearance on the scene but the onslaught continued. At one time, the Dutch actually led by 42 points and fans present were wondering if it were not the Boston Celtics masquerading in St. Marys uniforms against the Punxsy team.

The final whistle brought a merciful ending to the slaughter and with it the fourth straight victory for the Dutch giving them a 6-3 record for the season, while the Chucks slipped to 5-3 for the season.

Bill Depp was high for the losers with 17 points on 6 field goals and 5 for 8 fouls. Behind Wilhelm's and DePrator's 20-point efforts was Larry Kunes netting 10 vital points.

J.V.'s Lose
Unable to untrack themselves, the Little Dutch trailed Punxsy throughout the contest, then finally fell by a 58 to 50 score to the crack Little Chucks.

SPORTS

By Walter L. Johns, Central Press Sports Editor

IT'S BEEN a rough year on the football front, as the ruffians, those unruly fans, let themselves go—too far.

In the old days, the cry of "Kill the Ump!" in baseball was common and many times umpires had to run for their life as some of the nasties hurled bottles and garbage after a decision they didn't like.

Players, too, came in for some of the rough stuff, and more than one baseball figure has had to go to court to fight an assault suit.

The rough stuff has been kept at a minimum in football, except for the usual hanging in effigy of a coach, the brawls in the stands and the tearing down of goal posts at season's end.

But recently, troubles have piled up. Coach Harry Gilmer was pelted with snowballs in Detroit and over a recent weekend a head linesman in San Francisco was hit on the head with a sack of whisky bottles, another fan stole the flag from the pocket of an official and in St. Louis one fan leaped onto the field and punched Erich Barnes, a Cleveland Brown defensive back.

POLICING is a tough job for despite the announcements about staying off the field a certain number of smart-alecks will head that way and many will follow. The bottle babies in the stands will always be there, even though beer sales now in most sports parks are in paper cups, not bottles.

It seems to us that baseball has done a pretty darn good job at keeping field trouble with fans at a minimum. Excepting, of course, when a season ends or a pennant or World Series is won.

One of the problems with football, at game's end, is that ALL the players still are on the field and have to get off, some with handshakes with their opponents first. In baseball, only a few are on the field and they run off in a hurry without any fraternizing.

Continual announcements about severe penalties may help some, as it has in baseball. Anyway you look at it, the problem probably always will be there. Most of the fans are good sports and they depart in an orderly manner. But the leagues might consider a closer look before some official, or player, or coach, suffers severe injuries.

Mickey Certo paced the winners with 12 points while "Butch" Howell paced St. Marys with 14 points. Dutch scoring: Lanzel 6; Green 9; Mills 8; Coppola 5; Wensel 7; and Milligan 1.

The Dutch were never smoother than last night and one would be safe to say that not many more contests would be lost this season if last night's action could be duplicated. Sticky defense, fine passes threading the needle for buckets, then rebounding very, very good. Those rebounding 10 blocked shots by St. Marys defense. A great way to end 1966. Let's hope 1967 can be just as good.

Bobby Schutz continuing to look better each game as the Dutch first relief man. Bobby looked particularly strong in sweeping the boards on several rebounds. We understand that Bobby and Dave DePrator were pretty valuable performers for St. Vincent Prep a few years back.

The Dutch picked two good games. Kane and Punxsy, to give visiting coaches something for their scouting reports. Johnsonburg, Ridgway, Brockway, Sheffield, E.C.H.S. and other future opponents have all been seen at the last two Dutch games.

January 3 could be considered D-day for the Dutch when they invade the Sheffield "Band-box" for their opening A.M.L. game. The Wolverines have now won 5 straight games after losing their first two.

St. Marys' Social Studies teacher, Tom Newman, will have to go down as one of the top Dutch fans this year. Mr. Newman invested in a long distance phone call from home last evening to find out how the Dutch fared against the Chucks last night.

Jerry Lusteg, Kicker For Bills, Losing Distance

Used His Brothers Name In Order To Get His Present Job

By MIKE RATHET WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — In the last couple of weeks, Booth Lusteg, Buffalo's pickup place kicker, has lost his distance and his identity.

But the first problem may be only the result of the second, since Lusteg has turned out to be his brother.

And his brother never could kick. Lusteg, it develops, is not Wallace Lusteg, the 25-year-old graduate of Boston College, as he claimed when he wrote the Bills for a tryout after Pete Gogolak played out his option and signed with the New York Giants.

Lusteg, it develops, is really Jerry Lusteg, a 27-year-old graduate of the University of Connecticut.

Why the deception? "I feel bad about this and I never expected to keep it a secret forever," Lusteg said by way of explaining. "I did it to play football and hoped I could keep it quiet until I was established."

"People will think my integrity isn't too valuable, but I've never lied about anything else. I only did this because I was afraid the Bills wouldn't give me a chance if they knew I was a 27-year-old rookie."

So everything else remains the same — his unorthodox training methods, his background as an honor student, bit-part actor, writer and place-kicker. Except that when he lost his identity a couple of weeks ago, he also seemed to lose his distance.

In the last two games against Boston and Denver, Lusteg had made only two of five field goal attempts — the longest from 16 yards out.

And that concerns Coach Joe Collier much more than Lusteg's identity as he prepares the Bills for Sunday's American Football League championship game against the Kansas City Chiefs.

"I would think the problem would probably be the length of the season," Collier said. "He hasn't been kicking that many years. He's still in the learning process as far as training methods are concerned, and he worked so darn hard throughout the season — why any athlete who does well get stale."

So Collier has made Lusteg taper off and will watch him carefully as he warms up before game time Sunday.

Westminster Won 94 To 79

Defeated Salem In Basketball Tourney

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Only Westminster College came up a winner among Western Pennsylvania teams in the opening rounds of holiday basketball tournaments.

The Titans' 5-foot-11 John Fontanela fired in 31 points Tuesday night in a 94-79 triumph over Salem of Ohio in the New Castle Optimists Tournament.

But Clarion State missed the finals by losing to Maryland State 88-79 in the second game. Larry Kubochick paced the losers with 21 points, while Jake Ford had 21 and Mike Childress and Levi Fontaine 20 for Maryland State.

Duquesne bowed out of the Holiday Festival Tournament in New York with a 91-60 drubbing by St. John's of New York in the consolation semifinal. Larry Abraham had 16 points for the Ducks, while John Warren tallied 20 for St. John's.

Edinboro State suffered an even worse 102-70 shellacking at the hands of Baldwin — Wallace in the Baldwin-Wallace Christmas Tourney in Cleveland, Ohio.

Georgia Tech Preparing For Orange Bowl

Heisman Trophy Winner Spurrier Rusty After Timeoff

By BEN FUNK MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Since Steve Spurrier, fired his last pass under pressure more than a month ago, he has become the nation's most honored football player.

Along with days of final examinations, the Florida quarterback has been called upon to make numerous speeches and to television appearances and to grant countless interviews.

After the month of such pressures, can the Heisman Trophy winner be at his best when the Gators meet Georgia Tech in the Orange Bowl game?

This question probably was foremost in the mind of Coach Ray Graves as he took his team into a secret Miami workout Tuesday and said the field would be off limits to public and press until Thursday.

In five days of practice at Gainesville after the players waded through exams, Spurrier showed the effects of the illness and the many distractions. He was rusty.

And after Tuesday's workouts Graves said the timing of the team on pass plays "so important in our type of offense" was off.

But Graves is confident that the 21-year-old Spurrier, the greatest clutch quarterback who ever came his way, will shake off the effects of the weeks in the limelight and come through as usual.

The Georgia Tech team, "has got one of the best clubs I've seen in a long time," Coach Bobby Dodd said all the Yellow Jacket workouts here would be open to the general public.

Snow Predicted For Championship Game On Sunday

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Green Bay Packer quarterback Bart Starr, whose accomplishments on the gridiron are well known, unveiled a new talent Tuesday: weather forecasting.

"I believe it's going to blow out," Starr said after peering into the gloomy skies, which according to the Weather Bureau, were preparing to dump four inches or more of snow and further hamper Green Bay's preparations for their National Football League championship encounter Sunday with the Dal-

Maloney Thinks His Team Beaten By Best In Nation

By RON RAPOPORT Associated Press Sports Writer

Niagara may never face UCLA on the basketball court, but its coach, Jim Maloney, thinks his team may have been beaten by the best team in the nation.

"Louisville," said Maloney, "has got one of the best clubs I've seen in a long time."

West Unseed, the 6-8 junior who is making a serious bid for All-America recognition, scored 20 points and hauled in 26 rebounds for Louisville, No. 2 in the Associated Press poll.

In other games in the tournament, Villanova upset 10th-ranked Michigan State, 69-62, behind a tough zone defense, Princeton beat Bowling Green 87-73 and Syracuse took LaSalle 88-84.

UCLA was idle during the first night of competition in the Los Angeles Basketball Classic but Illinois beat Arizona 93-77 behind 22 points by Dave Scholtz and Southern California took Arkansas 70-67 with Bill Hewitt scoring 25 points for the Trojans.

In first-round games at the Motor City Classic at Detroit, Michigan to a record low for the event of 45 points and won a 41-45 decision Fred Foster had 24 points for Miami. Tulane beat host Detroit, 98-94 after coming back from a 12-point deficit at halftime.

In the Hurricane Classic at Miami Beach, Fla., Western Kentucky moved past Holy Cross 90-84 with Clem Haskins and Dwight Smith each scoring 23 points. Ed Sidut of Holy Cross had 37 points. Miami upset Pennsylvania 82-78 with Mike Wittman scoring 32 points.

New Mexico State had a surprisingly easy time with Rutgers in the Evansville, Ind. tournament at Evansville, Ind. The Aggies outran Rutgers 88-58, with John Gambill scoring 22 points. William and Mary beat Evansville 74-72 on a jump shot from 10 feet out by Ben Pomerooy with two seconds left in the game.

Stanford beat DePaul 88-75 in the All-College Basketball Tournament at Oklahoma City. Ceezezz sophomore Don Griffin scoring 28 points. Oklahoma City took Massachusetts 89-82 with Gary Grey's 29 points leading the way.

Iowa State won a first-round game at the Big Eight tournament in Kansas City, beating Oklahoma State 64-56. John McGingie scored 24 points. Kansas State beat Nebraska 98-81 behind 29 points for Dennis Berg-holtz and 26 for Earl Seyfert.

Oregon State, champion of the Far West Classic for 10 years, lost an opening-round game to Indiana 71-60 at the Portland, Ore., tournament. Washington surprised St. Louis University 91-82 behind 23 points for Dave Carr.

In non-tournament action, third-ranked North Carolina pounded Furman 101-56.

Dallas Beat Packers In Exhibition

Played Game Aug. 20 With Cowboy's Winning 21 To 3

By JACK HAND DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Dallas 21, Green Bay 3. Bob Hayes beats Herb Adderley twice on TD passes from D-n Meredith. Bart Starr completes only six of 21 passes and is intercepted twice. Hayes runs 85 yards with a punt return but the touchdown is wiped out by a penalty.

No, this is no prediction. This is what happened Aug. 20 before a sellout crowd of 75,504 in the Cotton Bowl. It was only an exhibition game but it gave the Cowboys the idea they can handle the Packers Sunday in the National Football League title game.

"I'm sure they put a lot of emphasis on the game," said Coach Vince Lombardi of the Packers after the contest. "But that's no alibi. We certainly didn't come down here to lose. They looked great."

Defenses controlled that summer game just as they probably will dominate Sunday's big one at the Cotton Bowl. The Cowboys dropped Starr and his backup man, Zeke Bratkowski, intercepted three passes and recovered two fumbles.

Cowboy fans take heart in the memory of that game when Packer backers sound off about climbing all over the Dallas team from the Eastern Conference.

Dallas residents also recall another exhibition game in 1965 when the Cowboys held the Packers without a touchdown and won 21-12. Green Bay had to settle for three field goals by Don Chandler and one by Paul Horning that August evening.

The Packers never have lost a regular season game to the Cowboys in four meetings since Dallas joined the NFL. In fact, they hold an 8-2 edge in all games, including the exhibitions.

Dallas must be planning some surprises for Lombardi's men because they are holding closed workouts this week with even the press barred from the field.

Coach Tom Landry meets newsmen twice a day and makes his players available for interviews but the rest is a dark secret even deep in the Heart of Texas.

Royals Scored 131-123 Victory Over Detroit

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Nine in and nine out — that was the story of the Cincinnati Royals' latest success in the National Basketball Association.

The Royals made nine straight field goals at the start of the second period, while Detroit missed its first nine, and rolled to 131-123 victory.

In the only other game, Len Wilkens tipped in a rebound with two seconds left to give the St. Louis Hawks a 113-111 victory over the Baltimore Bullets.

Don Ohl of Baltimore had tied the game by sinking a free throw and a basket with 10 seconds remaining.

AP Special Report

By ISAAC M. FLORES
HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro begins his ninth year in power more firmly in command of this island nation than ever before.

His personal popularity may have dipped a bit since Jan. 1, 1959, when the bearded mountain rebel emerged victorious over dictator Fulgencio Batista, but he has more than compensated for it with an iron-grip control over what he calls the "proletariat masses."

Castro's Communist dictatorship has already survived longer than Batista's rule. Barring any violent incident, political observers here see no alternative to Castro communism in this restless Caribbean island's immediate future. They see little basis for persistent speculation outside the country that the 40-year-old "maximum leader's" regime is teetering on the edge of disaster.

There appears to be little chance for internal subversion. Attack from the outside looks unfeasible in this age of push-button global warfare.

And, helping to solidify Castro's position, the country's economy seems on the verge of better days despite a commercial shipping blockade, low sugar prices and the creeping pace of industrialization.

While there is discontent with the regime, no organized militant resistance against it is evident.

Castro's security system maintains a vise-like control over the country's eight million inhabitants. It includes nearly two million neighborhood informants, hundreds of thousands of militia men and women, young Communist and Communist party members, militant women's groups, state employees, students, secret police and the toughest military organization in Latin America.

This apparatus is reason enough for Castro communism's expected long life here, but there are others.

Perhaps the key lies in the slow but significant forward movement of the economy.

Cuba's chaotic status over the past eight years has given Castro foes reason to believe that it would be the cause of his downfall. Though still alive, those expectations are fading with the regime's tottery climb out of the economic gutter.

Much of the credit is due to the huge injections of money, equipment and technical aid from the Soviet Union. But Castro's determination can't be discounted. His powers of persuasion are the country's main driving force.

Tight Money Is Easing Rapidly

Home Buyer Faces High Interest Rates
By JOSEPH R. COYNE
WASHINGTON (AP)—Tight money, a major weakness in a generally strong economy this year, is easing rapidly but the potential home buyer still faces the highest interest rates on record.

But the home loan peak may be near, with more normal costs and greater availability of loans possibly just around the corner. Indications of the easing, and a prediction of further easing next year, came at a fast clip Tuesday, capped by an announcement from the Federal Reserve Board of an end to a policy begun last September aimed at restricting bank lending to business.

The board said current credit conditions made its September policy "inoperative."

Interest rates on mortgages generally lag behind the rest of the money market, but one economist said today he expected a leveling off now and a possible downturn within the next few months.

The Federal Home Loan Bank Board reported Tuesday that interest rates on conventional home loans increased again during November but the slower over-all pace and a greater availability of funds indicated the peak may be near.

There were these other developments:

Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor, in his annual economic outlook, predicted a "somewhat easier credit situation" during 1967 with an advance in home building from its lowest level since the end of World War II.

The Federal National Mortgage Association reduced sharply the interest rates on its short-term discount notes, the second drop this month after an upward trend which began in September 1965.

The government's short-term borrowing costs, usually the first to reflect easing in money markets, have already dropped below 5 per cent since reaching their peak Sept. 19.

Deaths Of Noted People

PHOENI, Ariz. (AP)—Mrs. Josephine Goldwater, 91, mother of Barry Goldwater, Republican presidential candidate in 1964 and former U.S. senator from Arizona, died Tuesday.

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Bela Fabian, 77, former member of the Hungarian Parliament who became one of the loudest refugee voices against communism in Eastern Europe, died Friday while vacationing with his wife, Edna, in San Juan, Puerto Rico.

CLAREMONT, Calif. (AP)—Charles Telford Ericson, 99, who helped Albania form its first independent government in 1912, died Monday.

CHICAGO (AP)—William McLean Thompson, 62, editor of Publishers Newspaper Syndicate, a division of Field Enterprises, died Tuesday.

CHICAGO (AP)—Ernest W. Burgess, 80, professor emeritus of sociology at the University of Chicago and former president of the American Sociological Society, died Tuesday.

Grove City Couple Killed When Car Hit Railroad Engine

GROVE CITY, Pa. (AP)—A Bessemer Railroad switch engine struck a car at a grade crossing in Grove City Tuesday, killing a Grove City man and his wife and injuring their daughter-in-law.

The driver, Homer Glenn, 79, and his wife, Edna, 72, were killed. Hospitalized was Mrs. John Glenn, 49, of Columbus, Ohio, wife of the pastor of Columbus' First Presbyterian Church.

The book and magazine publishers worked on removing passages Mrs. Kennedy considers of personal rather than historical interest since she moved to block publication Dec. 16. Manchester, she charged in her suit, had invaded her privacy and broken a contract stipulating he must submit the manuscript for her approval before turning it over to Harper & Row.

Mrs. Kennedy, vacationing with her children on the British West Indian island of Antigua, could not be reached for comment on the developments.
A vacation was recommended for Manchester, too, by his physician. Dr. F. Erwin Tracy said the 44-year-old writer was responding well to treatment at Middlesex Hospital in Middletown, Conn. and was no longer in critical condition.

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—Celist Pablo Casals celebrates his 90th birthday Thursday and hundreds of congratulatory messages from around the world, including one from President Johnson, are arriving in San Juan.

About 800 persons jammed the tiny Tapia Theater in old San Juan to honor Casals Tuesday night. They heard a musical program made up mostly of works composed by the Spanish-born master.

SUN VALLEY, Idaho (AP)—Joseph Kennedy, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's 14-year-old son, is out of a hospital and in good spirits today. He broke his leg last Friday while skiing.

The family plans to stay on at this ski resort until Jan. 1.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Singer Michael Love of the Beach Boys is a father. His wife Suzanne, 20, gave birth Tuesday to a 6-pound, 7-ounce girl in California Hospital.

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—A 19-year-old television actor who formerly played the role of comedian Danny Thomas' son, is recovering from an accidental gunshot wound, authorities said.

Police said Russell C. (Rusty) Hamer was shot in the abdomen Tuesday when a revolver slid from his shoulder holster, fell to the ground and discharged. He had just returned from an overnight hunting trip, police said, and underwent surgery at Santa Monica Emergency Hospital.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham says he has talked with a survivor of a Christmas Day ambush by the Viet Cong.

Arriving in Los Angeles Tuesday after a 10-day visit to Vietnam, Graham told a news conference that he talked with a soldier who was among five ambushed while they ate Christmas dinner.

Three were killed and two were injured during the attack, which occurred during the truce, Graham said. Graham said he is pessimistic about an early end to the war. But, he said he does not think the morals of U.S. servicemen are "any worse than at colleges back home."

He said, "I don't think Vietnam and Saigon have become one vast brothel."

President And Mrs. Johnson Invite 13 Teen-Agers To Ranch

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—President and Mrs. Johnson invited 13 teen-agers to their ranch home to emphasize youth's work in sprucing up America.

The occasion is an 11:30 a.m. EST ceremony for the President to designate 1967 as Youth for Natural Beauty and Conservation Year.

Young people who have been working on hometown natural beauty and conservation projects were invited. Their expenses were paid by organizations they represent such as 4-H Clubs and Boy Scouts.

The six girls and seven boys were selected from 11 youth organizations that participated in a youth conference on natural beauty and conservation last June in Washington.

For the President, working in his office at the LBJ Ranch 85 miles west of here, it was a change from the subjects of budget, taxes and other government programs that other visitors have brought.

Flying in for conferences Tuesday were five Washington officials, including Budget Director Charles L. Schultz.

Thief Robbed Tavern And Gets Loaf Of Bread And Cigars

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A loaf of bread and a box of cheap cigars is all a thief got for his efforts in robbing a Pittsburgh tavern owner.

A thief approached Constantine Fekaris, 70, as he was closing his tavern Tuesday and said, "Give me the money or I'll kill you."

Fekaris said he didn't have any money. The thief grabbed a paper bag Fekaris was carrying. Fekaris said the bag contained a loaf of bread and some inexpensive cigars.

Survey Reports Huge Earthquake In Chile

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey reported a large earthquake early today in northern Chile and a spokesman said the survey's observatory at Honolulu had issued a seismic seawave warning.

The survey said the quake registered 7.75 on the Richter scale and occurred at 3:30 a.m. EST. Its exact location was not determined immediately.

There is no top on that scale, which goes by logarithmic progression, but the 1906 San Francisco quake registered at 8.25.

Professor Writes Of Soviet Flights Over U.S. Two Years Ago

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP)—A Lehigh University professor, in a recently published book, says a nuclear-powered Soviet bomber may have made three undetected flights over U. S. territory two years ago.

In Washington, the Defense Department said, however, that it had "no knowledge of any such penetration nor of any such aircraft." A spokesman said the story "just doesn't make sense."

And a spokesman for the North American Defense Command at Colorado Springs, Colorado, said the allegations made in the book "have no basis in fact. To our knowledge, there have been no known or unknown overflights of our territory during or since 1964."

The story was told by John Carroll in the book, "Secret Electronic Espionage." It says the alleged flights may have been made over San Francisco, Calif., New York and Hawaii in 1964 with a payload equivalent to a 30-megaton bomb and a "phantom instrument box" to ward off radar detection.

Carroll, an industrial engineering instructor, said he was informed of the possible flights by a Korean expatriate in California who claims to be privy to the details of a 1964 meeting in Peking of the Red Chinese Ministry of Defense.

This meeting was supposedly attended by attaches of the North Korean Embassy and conducted by four officers of the Soviet Ministry of Defense.

The Soviets claimed their new airplane had evaded their own radar detection in 23 of 25 penetration missions over 10 major Soviet cities, Carroll states.

"This plane was, they explained, a nuclear-powered bomber with average speeds of 2,500 miles per hour and a top speed of 3,500 miles per hour.

"It had a ceiling of 85,000 feet and the capability of remaining aloft without refueling" for as long as 21 days.

Strike By Some 400 Welfare Workers Moves Into 7th Day

CLEVELAND OHIO (AP)—The seven-day-old strike by 400 of Cuyahoga County's 1,500 welfare workers continued today after the strikers rejected a proposal that they return to work while negotiations continued.

Negotiations resume today between representatives of the county commissioners and the striking Local 1746, State, County and Municipal Employees Union, AFL-CIO.

The welfare workers voted to continue the strike Tuesday after hearing a report on negotiations. The county's negotiating team, headed by Welfare Director Eugene F. Burns, proposed that the workers return to their jobs while bargaining sessions continue for the next 15 days. The same proposal was made to the union a day before the strike began.

The three major issues are increases in pay, a signed grievance procedure and a pledge of nondiscrimination against employees who join the union.

Grizzly bears take pains to make their dens cozy for winter. They dig them into slopes, minimizing accumulation of water during winter thaws, and line the burrows with evergreen boughs for warmth. The dens face north to assure a deep insulation of snow.

Retired Sharon Minister Died

SHARON, Pa. (AP)—Retired Methodist minister the Rev. Samuel L. Maxwell, 78, died Tuesday night in a Sharon hospital.

Until his retirement 10 years ago, the Rev. Maxwell served pastorates in New Castle, Oil City, Fredonia, N.Y. and Parkers Landing, W.Va.

He graduated from Allegheny College in 1910 and served as director of religious activities at the school for four years after World War II.

He was president of Welker and Maxwell Department Store in Oil City at the time of his death.

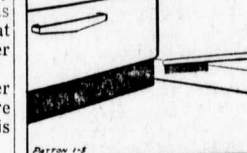

He is survived by his widow, Mary.

The World Today

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP) — Liberal critics of the Supreme Court — and there are some — may be a little premature in writing off the 1966-67 term as one in which the justices swung toward conservatism or backed off big issues.

True, the justices were unwilling this year to plunge into a squabble over the traditional exemption of church property from taxation, to say whether the right to counsel applies in minor criminal cases or even to deal with organized baseball's hallowed immunity from anti-trust law.

And decisions approving convictions of Negro civil rights demonstrators, the use of a paid government informer to help convict Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa of jury tampering and selection of Georgia's next governor by a legislature held malapportioned did not ring bells in liberal circles.

But the term is not even half over and three cases the justices already have decided to hear have within them the seeds of activist rulings that have made the Warren court anathema to conservatives.

Two are at the very nerve center of civil rights emotions: housing discrimination and bans in some states on racially mixed marriages. The third, electronic eavesdropping, is critically important to civil libertarians — and prosecutors.

California raters will be attacking a California Supreme Court decision that voided a voters-approved ban on open housing laws.

If the California court is upheld, the justices may lay down a broad finding that the 14th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution either bars housing discrimination or at least requires states to act to bar legislative discrimination.

The same amendment's guarantee of equal protection under the law may serve to strike down Virginia's ban on interracial marriage and, by extension, similar laws in 17 other states.

Two years ago, when the justices had a chance to throw out the Florida interracial marriage ban, they ducked, although they invalidated a state law which prohibited cohabitation between persons of different races.

An appeal from the Virginia antimiscegenation law, filed on behalf of a mixed couple by the American Civil Liberties Union, appears broad enough to provide a basis for junking such laws in the 18 states — if the justices are of a mind to.

The eavesdropping appeal before the court also may be broad enough for the justices to expand the area covered by the search-and-seizure provisions of the Fourth Amendment.

But they could confine their ruling to narrower grounds: In this case whether New York City prosecutors made an adequate showing of "probable

5 States Report No Deaths Over Long Holiday

Credited It To Driver Education And Christmas Spirit

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Death bypassed the highways in five states during the Christmas holiday weekend, and traffic safety officials credited the achievement to intense driver education, increased police patrols, bad weather and the spirit of Christmas.

Fatalities dropped substantially in several other states, some of them with large populations. There were no traffic deaths reported in Idaho, Alaska, Nebraska, Delaware or Rhode Island.

Latest figures show that 581 persons lost their lives in the three-day Christmas weekend last year. 720 persons were killed during Christmas observance. The 1966 Thanksgiving four-day holiday set an all-time record for any holiday period when 748 persons died.

A.E. Perkins, head of the Idaho State Police, gave credit to a pre-Christmas campaign which urged parents to have their children take more time reaching home for the holidays and asked partygoers to do their drinking after their driving.

"We had some inclement weather and that slowed people down," he said. "And I think the spirit of Christmas prevailed a little. People are getting to be a little better drivers, a little more courteous."

Several populous states recorded sharply reduced death tolls for the weekend. Last year 50 persons were killed in Ohio. This year's toll was 34. Twenty-four persons died in New York State compared to 35 in 1965.

The toll increased in two states. Sixty-one persons died in California this Christmas weekend compared to 54 last year. In Texas 48 persons died in 1965 Christmas accidents and 52 were killed this year.

Although the 1966 yule death toll was far under last year's total, it was well above the 391 deaths counted in an Associated Press survey for a nonholiday weekend, Dec. 9-12. The National Safety Council had estimated 850 to 750 persons would be killed.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cuba reportedly has agreed to let 2,700 U.S. citizens leave that country. The first arrivals could fly to New Orleans today, sources indicate.

The State Department is making no immediate comment but is known to have been negotiating the matter for weeks with the Castro government through the Swiss Embassy in Havana.

There are an estimated 880 U.S. families in Cuba, many headed by persons of Cuban descent born in the United States.

There have been, however, past reports that repatriation might be under way and it has not developed.

Snipers And Booby Traps Part Of War

U. S. Soldiers Face Struggles Daily In Vietnam

By JOHN LENGEL

DA NANG, South Vietnam (AP)—Snipers, a coconut booby-trapped with explosive, the a.m. mortar attack—it is all part of the daily struggle, along with the battles, pacification and logistics.

Da Nang is on the fertile coast of the 1st Corps Area, the five northernmost provinces of South Vietnam which has cool highlands wrinkling into Laos.

A senior Air Force officer who flies from the Da Nang base talked about the day-to-day struggle.

"One day there are 20 fuel trucks 20 miles north of the demilitarized zone, but we can't find them from the air," he said.

"A couple of days later the same trucks are 20 miles south of the zone in Laos. We know they're the same trucks because we have people out there counting them."

"We bomb their convoys, the bridges, and we hurt them. 'Little things add up, too. 'For instance, the North Vietnamese have to drive at night without lights. That means in the north that the supplies and reinforcements move at 20 miles an hour instead of 50, and not as much before we started bombing."

"There are 61,000 U.S. Marines throughout the corps area. Their swarming enclaves now include 2,700 of the area's 10,000 square miles. Navy Seabees have added permanence, building barracks, roads, warehouses and piers.

The Marines run an average 300 patrols a day, setting up about 150 ambushes in the process. In 20 months, the Leathernecks officially claim 11,500 enemy dead.

Combined enemy strength—

North Vietnamese regulars, main-force Viet Cong and local guerrillas—is estimated at 43,000. The government has 34,000 regulars in the area 32,000 militiamen who guard bridges and villages.

Giant Air Force B52s, acting on intelligence and infrared detection devices, bomb suspected enemy concentrations regularly. The Marines' new A6 intruder can detect and destroy moving trucks or boats at night.

In an area 30 miles southwest of Da Nang, 60 per cent of all Marine casualties are attributed to booby traps, compared with less than 5 per cent near the contested demilitarized zone.

The booby traps may be grenades tied to trip wires, followed out coconuts, or American beer cans chocked with TNT or chemical explosive drained from dud U.S. bombs.

Leukemia Victim Met Little Pigs In Disneyland Tuesday

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — A blonde girl with sparkling eyes romped in the land of make-believe and personally met the Three Little Pigs.

Susan Dewey, 6, a leukemia victim from Grand Rapids, Mich., was given VIP treatment Tuesday at Disneyland.

She was met at the gate by the Three Little Pigs and a human-sized cartoon character named Goofy, who—in the fantasy land of children—is a talking dog.

She viewed most of the sprawling land of fantasy from a wheelchair. Susan doesn't have much strength. Doctors say she may die from the blood disease within a year.

"There were doubts she would be here to celebrate Christmas," said her father, George Dewey, a used car salesman.

Susan arrived Monday night with her parents and sister, Kathie, 4, after spending Christmas at home.

The trip was financed by a Los Angeles businessman, who asked to remain anonymous.

"She had a wonderful time," said Mrs. Dewey.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, December 28, the 362nd day of 1966. There are three days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1908, the Sicilian city of Messina was totally destroyed by an earthquake. About 84,000 persons lost their lives.

On this date: In 1836, Spain recognized the independence of Mexico. In 1846, the State of Iowa was admitted to the Union.

In 1856, Woodrow Wilson, the 33rd U.S. president, was born. In 1869, the U.S. Patent Office issued the first patent for chewing gum.

In 1917, the government took possession and assumed control of the nation's railroads at noon by proclamation of President Woodrow Wilson.

Ten years ago—the State Department announced its decision to revoke the passports of three American journalists for entering Communist China in defiance of a State Department ban on travel in Red China. The three were William Worthy of the Baltimore Afro-American, and Edmund Stevens and Philip Harrington of Look magazine.

Five years ago—The newly independent country of Kuwait informed the U.N. Security Council that Iraq was threatening Kuwait. This, one day after British naval reinforcements were rushed to the Persian Gulf because of British fears that Iraq might try to forcibly take over Kuwait.

One year ago—The Communist Viet Cong in South Vietnam called for a four-day cease-fire in January in observance of the Oriental new year. The West, meanwhile, looked anxiously to Hanoi for signs that the Communist North Vietnamese were ready to talk peace in an effort to end the Vietnamese war.

Three Minutes A Day

TEEN DRIVERS WRITE OWN OBITUARIES

Teen driving offenders write their own obituaries for one Gary, Indiana, municipal judge. He also orders those convicted of traffic violations to interview undertakers and to view bodies of accident victims in funeral homes.

The judge's dramatic approach has greatly reduced the accident rate. Before the program began 300 teen-age offenders were brought to court each week. Later it averaged around 25.

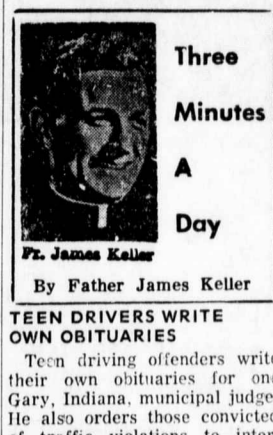

Commented the judge about the young lawbreakers: "When they bring in their obits and reports, they are very chastened, indeed. It is a terribly sobering experience they have been through."

Young people need and usually want a reasonable amount of discipline. Surveys show that they are somewhat "let down" when parents or teachers allow them more freedom than they are able to cope with.

TV and RADIO DAY by DAY

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—In the television world there are two categories of successful shows. There is the genuine hit, the kind the public samples, likes and will follow to a new time period and a new night in the schedule.

"Gomer Pyle" is an example. Last season it had high Nielsen ratings on a Friday evening. This season it is doing even better on Wednesday nights.

There are also the shows, counted as successful, that beat their competition on the other networks. Some pretty dreadful shows are his merely because the opposition was even worse.

"Gilligan's Island" was a hit last season when it was on a Thursday night opposite "Gidget." This season it was moved to Monday nights, found real competition in "The Monkees" and "The Iron Horse," and dropped like a stone in the ratings.

Programs with weak competition are in what the trade calls "a soft spot." The happiest position for a fledgling show used to be opposite CBS' Tuesday night news hour, which while excellent, almost always has small audiences.

NBC's movie reruns have become so popular that "The Fugitive," a Nielsen front-runner for several seasons, has slipped to a point where it is doubtful Dr. Kimble will still be on the air next season.

Sometimes the success of a program is pegged on other circumstances that have little to do with dramatic or entertain-

Despite smaller expenditures and a much smaller working space, research into the inner area of the consumer mind is as economically important today as the explorations of the heavens.

For years, consumer buying intentions have been treated with great solemnity. Now we're finding that the consumer isn't a simple automaton that responds to stimuli as a light bulb responds to electric current. He is more complex.

The consumer's intentions cannot, it seems, be placed in the same category as business intentions. Business plans are made formally, often in a board room. Consumer plans are made informally, over the kitchen table. There's nothing definite about them.

What the consumer tells the researcher he intends to do, studies show, isn't always what he actually does. Thus we constantly find the word "unexpected" associated with consumer purchases.

NEW YORK (AP)—Despite smaller expenditures and a much smaller working space, research into the inner area of the consumer mind is as economically important today as the explorations of the heavens.

For years, consumer buying intentions have been treated with great solemnity. Now we're finding that the consumer isn't a simple automaton that responds to stimuli as a light bulb responds to electric current. He is more complex.

The consumer's intentions cannot, it seems, be placed in the same category as business intentions. Business plans are made formally, often in a board room. Consumer plans are made informally, over the kitchen table. There's nothing definite about them.

What the consumer tells the researcher he intends to do, studies show, isn't always what he actually does. Thus we constantly find the word "unexpected" associated with consumer purchases.

In recent weeks, automobile

sales are unexpectedly low. Christmas sales were not as great as merchants had hoped, and some retail food prices fell, partly because of consumer resistance.

In just the automotive area consumer resistance already is costing manufacturers and suppliers tens of millions of dollars in delayed or canceled sales—sales that surveys had indicated would occur.

Does the consumer ever admit to himself that he won't buy the car he had intended to? Does he admit it to a researcher? Does he ever make a clear-cut decision? Or does he just let the matter drift?

Recognizing this uncertainty, the National Bureau of Economic Research, a reputable private group, has borrowed a term from weather forecasting: Probabilities.

Instead of referring to consumer intentions, the bureau attempts to determine the probability that the consumer will follow through on the stated intention.

One of the first findings was that most purchases in the group of households studied were made by those that had told researchers they had no intention to buy.

Another finding: Consumers who said the chances are greater that they would buy an object in the distant rather than the very near future often made the actual purchase in the near period.

Other studies also are under way now to more precisely determine consumer motivations. It's easy enough to say he will spend when economic prospects are good and that he won't spend when the economy turns down.

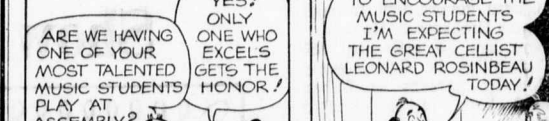

But what does he do when the outlook is uncertain? That's the question, and its one of today's biggest economic problems too.

HOLLYWOOD HAPPENINGS

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The year's end has brought a brace of super-specials for moviegoers — "The Sand Pebbles" and "Grand Prix," filmed for a total cost of $22 million. Both seem to be winners.

Epics seem to arrive in pairs nowadays. One week in autumn brought premieres of two films with religious themes, "Hawaii" and "The Bible." Despite poor reviews, both seem to be faring well at the box office, especially "Hawaii."

Now we have a couple of high-powered adventures, and they have been made by expert and loving hands. Robert Wise, who created the most popular movie of all time, "The Sound of Music," deals with different matters in "The Sand Pebbles." This time he depicts war and revolution, as if in answer to critics who assailed "The Sound of Music" as saccharine.

The setting is 1926 China. The figures in the foreground are the crew members of an American gunboat, the San Pablo, which attempts to protect the lives of missionaries and other Americans caught in the internal strife.

Wise makes full use of the Chinese landscapes — actually Taipei and Hong Kong. But he is also an actor's director, and he draws from Steve McQueen a beautifully sustained and naturalistic performance. The rest of the cast performs with skill, and Candice Bergen in her first big role proves she has star quality.

"The Sand Pebbles" suffers the malady of all film epics, over-length. The message, which has something to do with the dangers of nationalism and the futility of war, is sometimes clouded. But it doesn't interfere with enjoyment of the film as a rattlingly good adventure.

"Grand Prix" covers the more contemporary scene of the speed-car world as definitely as it can possible be done. The audience is placed in low-slung racers and whirled around Europe's classic tracks at 180 miles an hour so that you get the thrill, the danger — and almost the smell — of the race.

Director John Frankenheimer, whose love of racing is obvious in every scene, has used the Cinerama screen for a degree of participation far beyond the roller coaster ride of the original Cinerama movie. The result is exciting, hypnotic and sometimes vertigo-inducing. Frankenheimer wisely varies the racing shots with split screens and sometimes a fragmented one, hurling a dozen or more separate scenes on the screen.

Says...

By EDDY GILMORE
LONDON, (AP) — Milady's bare bosom is likely to remain popular — but it's unlikely to become fashionable.

Now who's putting on that front?
A man, of course. He's John Taylor, editor of the British magazine of male fashion, Tailor & Cutter, the voice of Saville Row.

In a book entitled "It's a Small, Medium and Outsize World," Taylor says that he has done a lot of research into his subject.

He says the topless dresses of the mid-1960s were really nothing new. He reports that in the year 1796, the Champs Elysees in Paris came to an interesting halt one afternoon as two interestingly unclad young ladies strolled beneath the leafy trees.

One girl wore only a length of gauze, but tastefully draped. Girl No. 2 strolled beside her friend with her bosom entirely uncovered.

Those who witnessed the public reaction to the topless dresses in 1964 will be less than surprised at the repercussions in the Champs 168 years before.

Here's what the author says happened:

"Furious to see public convention so lightly disregarded, the surrounding populace caught its breath only deep enough to voice plain hostility."

"It then advanced upon the pioneers in phalanxes of phallic dudgeon—or perhaps to obtain a clearer view—until the two ladies went in fear of their safety."

Taylor says the two girls were acting under the leadership of a pair of Parisienne fashion queens — Mesdames Recamier and Tallien, who had been, for the best part of a decade, encouraging the use of less and less, and more and more transparent clothing.

On this subject he says:

"Gossamer silks, muslins and a variety of other see-through materials, were quite unsupported by the proprieties of underwear, and diamond bracelets were shifted from the traditional of the wrists and arms to encircle thighs and breasts and gleam seductively through the transparent materials which covered them."

But this had faded.

A student of manners as well as fashion, Taylor says that the reason why the bare bosom will never become fashionable is because of middle-aged women.

"The establishment reigns as supremely in female circles as it does in the male," he claims, "and as the age levels roughly correspond. Middle-aged women who establish feminine mores are bound to obstruct implacably a style which can offer them nothing but disadvantage."

Emphasizing that women are extraordinary persons, the author says they will "accept a fashion for its own sake—even when they basically disapprove of it."

He cites the modesty boards that appeared like sprouting forests in British offices during the mid-1960s.

The boards—thin strips of wood nailed across the open spaces of the desks where female workers type—were to prevent male colleagues from being able to see female legs.

"It was a typical piece of female illogic," writes Taylor. "The modesty board had about as much sense or reason as those little strips of linen women fasten across their chests in order to hide from male sight the cleavage their décolletage was designed expressly to reveal."

Slippery Road Is Cause Of Accident Here

Edward Dreier In Hospital, Another Treated, Released

A two-car head-on collision on North St. Marys Road last night hospitalized one person and another was treated and released. The accident which occurred at nine o'clock near the Woodland Road intersection, was investigated by the Benzing Township Police who reported the following:

A 1965 Oldsmobile driven by Robert Fehrenbach of 175 Maurus Street, was traveling north when Fehrenbach observed a car in the ditch. He pulled his car off on the left berm to see if he could render assistance. There was no one in the ditched auto so he proceeded to leave the scene when he observed an auto traveling south, just coming over the hill. Fehrenbach tried backing his car further off the road to give room for the oncoming car to pass. At the same time, the driver of the oncoming car, Frank J. Ferris of Brussels Street, applied his brakes and in doing so, skidded on the slippery highway and plowed head-on into the Fehrenbach car.

Edward Dreier, 18, of Maurus Street, passenger in the Ferris car, and Ferris were taken to the Kul Memorial Hospital where Dreier was admitted with a large laceration of the forehead which required several stitches. Ferris suffered contusion of the face and was treated and released. Also passengers in the Ferris auto were John Bauer of Million Dollar Highway and Blake Haberberger of Houston Road. They were not injured. Neither was Mr. Fehrenbach. Damage to the Fehrenbach car was estimated at $300. Ferris' 1967 Chevrolet was completely demolished with an estimate of $500.

Navy Task Force One Is In Action In Gulf Of Tonkin

Senate Will Investigate Pilot Shortage

May Hold Special Hearing On Problems Facing Armed Forces

By SEYMOUR M. HERSH
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Preparedness subcommittee will launch a detailed investigation next year into pilot shortages in the armed services, sources revealed today.

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., is reportedly to be in the process now of deciding whether to hold a special hearing on the pilot problem or incorporate the investigation into its annual probe of readiness.

"I think we're in a very bad situation," one subcommittee source said. "We've got a very severe shortage of pilots and it's going to become worse at our rate of loss."

About 300 planes have been shot down over North Vietnam as of Dec. 14; more than 150 were lost there in 1965.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, in a move to ward off even greater shortages, has approved sharp increases in pilot training for the Navy, Air Force and Army.

The boosts have not been officially spelled out yet, but Pentagon sources said they should produce an extra 8,000 pilots next fiscal year — most of them for Army helicopters. McNamara also granted the Air Force and Army an additional $100 million for pilot training base and provided funds for the Navy to expand its present facilities.

Subcommittee officials acknowledge that the increased training rates should help, but described them as too little, too late.

The Navy now orders its men to serve two six-month tours in Southeast Asia; in 1968 it will either have to extend the length of duty tours, call for a third tour or call up the Reserves.

The Air Force and Army both are trying to limit their men to one Southeast Asia tour of duty. In the Army's case, many men have been sent back for a second time. The Air Force has avoided this thus far by cutting back on the number of pilots permitted to attend graduate or military schools and plucking fliers from staff jobs around the world.

The Navy and Army have eased their problems temporarily by involuntarily freezing some pilots on duty for an additional year.

Is Made Up Of 3 Nuclear-Powered Surface Ships Now

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — The U.S. Navy announced today that its power-packed Task Force One — made up of all three of the Navy's nuclear-powered surface ships — is in action in the Gulf of Tonkin off North Vietnam.

The latest to arrive was the frigate Bainbridge, which joined the aircraft carrier Enterprise and the cruiser Long Beach at "Yankee Station" 100 miles off the North Vietnamese coast.

The three ships operated previously as Task Force One with the U.S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean and sailed together in a history-making round-the-world voyage without refueling in 1964.

The 85,000-ton Enterprise, the world's biggest warship, arrived Dec. 17 for her second tour of duty with the 7th Fleet off Vietnam. The Long Beach preceded her by two weeks.

The Navy's disclosure came as ground fighting slackened again in South Vietnam and the 48-hour New Year's truce approached. Only one ground clash of any significance was reported.

Troops of the U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile Division battled a North Vietnamese force of unknown size in mountain-surfaced rice fields 280 miles northeast of Saigon. Fragmentary reports said they were still fighting this afternoon.

U.S. casualties so far were reported light and enemy losses were not known. No contact was reported in the big Mekong Delta sweep launched Tuesday by several regiments of South Vietnamese troops, including 1,000 or more paratroopers who jumped unopposed into canal-lined paddies 126 miles southwest of Saigon.

A Vietnamese military spokesman said Viet Cong casualties remained at 89 killed, the number announced Wednesday for the initial two days. All were attributed to air strikes and infantrymen. The spokesman said the paratroopers had failed to engage enemy units so far.

The U.S. military command reported an American troop strength in South Vietnam reached 376,000 last Saturday, an increase of 5,000 men over the previous week.

The command also announced U.S. casualties last week were 169 killed and 571 wounded, compared with 88 killed and 433 wounded the week before.

Vietnamese headquarters reported 203 government soldiers killed last week compared with 190 in the previous week. Communist casualties last week were placed at 1,083 killed and 198 captured, the week before 860 enemy killed and 98 captured were reported.

Rain and generally poor weather again curtailed U.S. bombing of North Vietnam Wednesday. American pilots flew 70 strike missions, most of them in the southern part of North Vietnam. Pilots reported setting afire the Nam Dinh rail yards 37 miles southwest of Hanoi and, in strikes elsewhere, damaging or destroying three anti-aircraft sites, five barges and four storage areas.

The U.S. command reported two Army helicopters shot down by Communist ground fire Wednesday. U.S. spokesmen said five men were injured.

U.S. gunship helicopters continued their campaign against supply-laden Viet Cong sampans close to Saigon, and chopper crews reported sinking 22 more 18 miles south of the capital. This raised to 196 the number of sampans sunk in the last three days in the helicopter drive to intercept movement of rice and other supplies.

Boy Hurt In Car Crash In August Died

Child Suffered Much Pain Over His 133-Day Ordeal

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)

Seven-year-old Randy Hurst's long ordeal of pain is over. The child died Wednesday at a hospital where nurses said he seemed to have lived solely to enjoy Christmas. He did, too, despite auto accident burns and amputations that tormented him for 133 days.

The boy was injured in an Aug. 17 wreck that killed his father, sister and two brothers. Through months of skin grafts, transfusions and surgery he brightened at any mention of Christmas.

A story about him in the Florida Times-Union brought many Christmas gifts, including television sets, money and the cowboy suit he wanted most.

Hanover Man Now Facing A Murder Charge

Woman, Who He Shot On November 16, Died On Sunday

HANOVER, Pa. (AP) — A Hanover man faces a murder charge in the Nov. 16 shooting of a Hanover woman who died Sunday.

Hanover police filed a murder charge Monday against Clifford R. Birch, 28, who has been detained in the York County Jail in lieu of bail on assault and battery charges and assault with intent to kill.

The victim, Mrs. Alice V. Gamble, 38, was shot in the neck at her home and had been in the Hanover General Hospital since.

Dr. Verne M. Busler Jr., a deputy county coroner, said death was due to "complications of the wound."

The murder charge was lodged before Justice of the Peace Dayne E. Garrett and the warrant charging murder was served by a local constable Tuesday.

Mrs. Gamble was the daughter of John and Hilda Glennenden Regan of Tarentum, Allegheny County. She is survived by her husband, four sons and a stepson.

Astronomer Has Predicted Men On Moon Soon

Said They Will Get Drinking Water From Lunar Rocks

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Harvard astronomer today forecast good-sized expeditions of earthmen to the moon in 10 to 15 years — with the adventurers tapping their drinking water from the lunar rocks and planting the first lunar gardens.

But he said they'll have to be equipped to do their daytime gardening amid temperatures ranging up to that of boiling water. And he said if they venture from their shelters at night to check on their moon-plants, they'll have to have "pretty heavy red flannel underwear" to withstand temperatures some 240 degrees below zero.

That's the word from Dr. Donald Menzel of the Harvard Observatory who also told reporters at the 133rd meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science: When the explorers run out of food they might bring from the earth, they'll conceivably be able to diet not only on their cultivated moon-plants but on such delicacies as "a form of sand flea that reportedly tastes like shrimp when ground up."

He said the Army Quartermaster Corps is experimenting with various forms of vegetable and animal life — such as molds, bacteria and the sand flea — which theoretically might be cultivated in the virtually airless, near-vacuum conditions of the moon's surface.

Menzel said recent evidence, such as the pictures taken by the American Orbiter satellites, erases any doubt that the lunar surface "has the strength to support vehicles, manned landings and explorations."

The Harvard astronomer, one of a panel of space scientists discussing the latest knowledge of the moon's surface and interior at the big science meeting, told a news conference: "I think it's possible that some of the rocks on the moon contain what we call 'water of crystallization.' And if so, there's a real possibility for man — about 10 to 15 years from now — to have self-supporting expeditions on the moon."

Jackie's Letter To Nikita Will Be In Look Magazine

Many Details Will Be Brought Out By Book Publication

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy wrote Premier Nikita Khrushchev before she left the White House that he and President Kennedy, although adversaries, were allied in a determination that the world would not be blown up.

Mrs. Kennedy said she was certain that President Johnson would continue her husband's policy which she termed one of control and restraint.

A spokesman for the Kennedy family confirmed today that the letter will be in the Look magazine serialization of William Manchester's book, "The Death of a President." The spokesman was asked about the letter after a person who had read the manuscript related details of it to The Associated Press.

Manchester also says in the serialization, according to a person who has read it: He agrees with the theory of the Warren commission, which investigated the assassination that Gov. John Connally of Texas, who was riding with Kennedy in the Dallas motorcade Nov. 22, 1963, was hit by the same bullet that went through Kennedy's body. Connally has expressed the opinion that he and Kennedy were hit by different bullets.

Newsman Charles Bartlett told Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara he had heard from President Kennedy that he was to be secretary of state in the second term. Bartlett said today he did not care to comment.

(Arthur M. Schlesinger, Jr., a former adviser to President W. 37th St., New York City, Kennedy, wrote recently that Kennedy had decided in 1963 to replace Dean Rusk as secretary of state after the 1964 election.)

Pennsylvania Drivers Warned About Drinking

If You Drink Let Someone Else Drive You Home New Year's

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania motorists were warned by the Bureau of Traffic Safety Wednesday against the hazards of drinking and driving over the New Year's holiday weekend.

"If you do drink, allow someone who does not drink to drive you home," suggested Harry H. Brainerd, state traffic safety commissioner. "If this is not possible, take a taxi as your best assurance of preventing a needless tragedy."

Brainerd said New Year's is a doubly hazardous holiday for motorists because of the drinking usually associated with New Year's parties and the icy road conditions.

Last year, 21 persons were killed in traffic accidents during the 78-hour holiday period.

Benezette Men Injured In Accident

Ray Ellenberger In Hospital. Donald Losey Treated

State Police from the Ridgway barracks investigated a two-car accident yesterday afternoon at approximately 4:05 on Route 555 near Benezette. A vehicle driven by Donald D. Losey of Benezette, was traveling east when another vehicle driven by Raymond L. Ellenberger, also of Benezette, came around a curve on the wrong side of the highway and struck the Losey vehicle.

Damage to the two cars totaled $1,000.

Both drivers were taken to the Andrew Kaul Memorial Hospital.

Mr. Ellenberger is suffering from possible rib fractures and Mr. Losey from lacerations of the chin and contusion of the elbow. Mr. Losey was treated and released and Ellenberger was held for x-rays.

Another minor accident occurred on the Million Dollar Highway about 7:55 last night. Miss Sandra Grimone of Emporium, was taken to the local hospital and treated for multiple lacerations of the face, and then released.

Full details of this accident were not available as the state police had no report on it as of this morning.

Jailers Are Warned They May Be Fired If Escapes Continue

LONDON (AP) — British embarrassed government warned its jailers today they may be fired unless they stop the rash of prison breaks that has become a national scandal.

Sir James Mackay, on his first day as head of the home office's prisons department, sent letters to governors of 50 prisons demanding an end to security slacks.

The total number of escapes this year is 693 and officials said 122 convicts are still at large.

Mackay, 59, a Scot known as a tough administrator, was appointed last week to draw up a crash program for tightening prison security. He started work after a long conference with Home Secretary Roy Jenkins in which they reportedly discussed plans to spend large sums on strengthening prison perimeter walls, building watch towers and installing searchlights.

Most of the country's ancient prisons lack such security aids. Escapes have increased since Earl Mountbatten's report just before Christmas of his investigation of prison security. He said Britain has no "really secure" prison, and several experts contended that amounted to an invitation to escape.

York's Garbagemen On Strike For 2nd Time In Two Months

YORK, Pa. (AP) — York's Municipal garbagemen continued their second strike in two months today, while a representative from their union attempted to set up a meeting with Mayor John L. Snyder to reach a final wage agreement.

The 43 workers walked off their jobs Wednesday, saying they would not return to work until a recently negotiated pay raise was put into effect.

They struck in October for higher wages, but returned to work after agreeing on a $9.20 weekly increase. They now earn about $14 a day for a six-day week.

The York City Council approved the increase, but Mayor Snyder never signed it into law.

P. J. Ciampa, a representative from the American Federation of State County and City Employees, said he planned to contact Mayor Snyder today to see if negotiations could be resumed.

Family Food Bill

How much is spent in Elk County per month for food? For the average local family, to what extent have food prices gone up in the last two years? Rising food bills, locally and in other parts of the country, have captured the headlines. They have led to consumer revolts and in many areas, to boycotts.

In Elk County, according to the latest figures the annual food bill has climbed an estimated $108 per family in a period of two years. The same increase has taken place in Erie County.

Elsewhere in the Middle Atlantic States, there has been an average rise of $106 per family and, in the State of Pennsylvania, $107.

The findings are based on the average price changes, as reported by the Department of Agriculture and others, for the nation as a whole. The two-year rise in the cost of food was approximately 8.5 percent.

Elk County's total food bill last year, according to the annual survey by the Standard Rate and Data Service, came to $14,695,000.

Apportioned equally among the local population, this was equivalent to $116 per month per family. The same amount of food, of like quality, would have cost only $107 per month two years previously.

As examples of the average price changes that have taken place in the last two years, the Department of Labor lists bread at 23 cents for a one-pound loaf, as compared with 20.8 cents formerly, hamburger meat at 54.7 cents a pound instead of 50.6 cents and milk at 51.4 cents per half gallon as against 47.7 cents in 1964.

And, as for the near future, more price rises may be expected, according to the Department of Agriculture. It forecasts, however, that next year's increase will not be as great as this year's.

Despite the higher prices, people seem to be consuming food at a great rate.

The Agriculture Department conducted a study recently to determine who are the big eaters within the typical American family.

It finds that the teen-age boy burns up more groceries than anyone else in the family. To provide a boy in the 15-to-20 age bracket with a liberal diet takes about 30 percent of the family food. A girl in the same age bracket consumes 24 percent of the total. So does father. Mother gets by with a mere 22 percent.

Gov. George Romney Holds A Conference With Top Associates

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. George Romney of Michigan held an all-day meeting here Wednesday with eight top associates and friends to discuss the possibility of his seeking the 1968 Republican presidential nomination.

One of those at the seven-hour session, J. Willard Marriott, a close friend and confidant of Romney, said afterward: "All of us think he is going to be a candidate."

Marriott, of Washington, D.C., head of a national motor hotel chain, said the consensus at the meeting was that Romney has "a better chance than anybody else."

But he noted that the governor had not made any commitment to seek the nomination. Others at the meeting said no decision had been made.

Romney left the meeting at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel without speaking with newsmen, and flew to Chicago.

Robert McIntosh, a former Romney aide who was at the meeting, hinted that the governor may have requested the meeting and that it may have been on short notice. The meeting was not announced in advance.

One of those at the meeting, Max Fisher, a Detroit businessman who is head of the United Jewish Appeal, said those present continued their efforts to get Romney to seek the nomination.

SET MOVING DATE COUDERSPORT — The new $4 million Charles Cole Memorial Hospital has been scheduled for occupancy in June by the board of directors, according to Henry W. Lush publicity chairman.

Mr. Lush stated that the directors also discussed tentative plans for dedication ceremonies at a date in June to be decided later.

Reports reviewed on construction progress revealed that boilers had been fired during the month and that plastering of the walls in the main building had been started.

INJURED IN CRASH DUBOIS — City police are continuing their investigation of a one-car mishap occurring on E. DuBois Ave. early yesterday that sent the driver to the Maple Avenue Hospital.

Samuel R. Wilson, 18, is being treated for contusions of the chest, left leg and knee. His condition was reported as "fairly good."

Wilson's 1958 coupe ran off the road and struck two trees, police said.

HELD FOR THEFTS RIDGWAY — Two area men are being held in the Elk County Jail in lieu of $4,000 bond on charges arising from various thefts from parked autos on the night of Dec. 23.

Arrested were Charles E. Murphy, 24, Brookville and Dale E. Feasel, 27, Baxter.

The two men were arrested by State troopers.

Police reported approximately $308.50 merchandise was taken from various autos in Ridgway, Belvedere and Brockport.

SERIES OF ACCIDENTS CLEARFIELD — Two women were injured, neither seriously, in a traffic accident at Philipsburg yesterday morning. It was one of seven investigated by police in the Clearfield County Moshannon Valley area since yesterday morning.

No one was injured in any of the four traffic accidents reported yesterday in the Clearfield area.

Two cars collided at an intersection in Philipsburg resulting in injuries to two women.

Mrs. Violet Osewalt, 27, West Decatur R. D., is listed in fair condition. She was taken to the Philipsburg State General Hospital by a passing motorist.

She suffered a possible concussion, laceration of the forehead above the right eye, and lacerations of the nose.

She was a passenger in an automobile operated by Carol Phillips, 21, of West Decatur.

Donna Rae Fry, 25, of Philipsburg, was treated at the hospital for a bruised left side and bruised arm, hip, and leg and released.

Dixon and Herbert Peterson, a recently discharged Army engineer stationed in Thailand, have become the first beneficiaries of a new computer placement system.

Peterson was also recommended to Eastman Kodak, which has been communicating with the computer.

The system, called GRAD, is operated by the College placement Council, Inc. here and has stored thousands of college graduates' resumes on its magnetic memory discs since last summer.

"The big advantage of computer hiring," Peterson said on Wednesday "is that it puts your qualifications in front of an amazing number of variety of employers."

"In traditional job hunting, only employers in which you are interested see your resume."

You're bound to overlook companies that may be ideally suited to your background."

Robert Herrick, director of placement council, says a prospective employer uses it by dialing the computer's number by telephone and advising it by teletype what sort of men it has in mind.

Within three minutes, according to Herrick, the computer scans its memory bank and selects 22 persons closely fitting the company's specifications.

Small companies without teletypewriters can use mail-in forms, Herrick said.

Press Secretary For Lyndon Johnson To Undergo Surgery

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson's new press secretary, George Christian, is to undergo back surgery today.

Christian, 40, said he was having the surgery for a longtime ailment while Bill D. Moyers, his predecessor, is available to fill in as press secretary for about three weeks.

Christian became press secretary earlier this month after Moyers announced he was leaving the White House staff Feb. 1 to become publisher of Newsday, a Long Island, N.Y., newspaper.

The World Today

By WALTER R. MEARS WASHINGTON (AP)

There's a slowdown sentiment among Democrats and it could help create a season of caution and reflection on Capitol Hill.

Still in congressional command despite a stinging election setback, the Democrats themselves seem worried about the shape of the "Great Society" programs they produced for President Johnson.

Its most explosive expression came Dec. 15, when 18 Democratic governors talked until midnight at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., and agreed that the Great Society is moving too fast for the voters' taste.

They blamed anti-administration sentiment for the election returns which gave Republicans 47 new seats in the House, 3 in the Senate and 8 governorships.

"I think the programs are coming too fast, without proper crystallization and organization," said Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois.

And complaints about the administration of Johnson launched programs apparently dominated the President's 4 1/2-hour talk with nine of the party's governors at the LBJ Ranch a week ago.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield has harshly criticized the governors' political assault on Johnson. But Mansfield, too, is a member of the slowdown school.

He said his words of caution—in a letter to Senate committee chairmen—were not prompted by election day setbacks or by the governors' grumbling.

Mansfield said he had been urging for more than a year that Congress slow down and assess what it has done.

On Jan. 7, just before the last session convened, Mansfield said Congress probably would face only a limited agenda of presidential requests, "because we passed so much legislation last session."

"It's time to stop, look and listen now," he said then. It didn't turn out that way.

Now Mansfield has offered the same message on the eve of the 90th Congress. He told the committee chairmen it should be a session of "dispassionate restudy" and a thorough, second-look at major domestic programs.

It is against this backdrop, and with a 90th Congress in which Republicans will have the House voting power to influence more significantly the shape and pace of legislation, that President Johnson is working now on his budget and his plans for the year ahead.

TODAY'S BUSINESS MIRROR

By JOHN T. CUNNIFF AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The Federal Reserve now has begun to lift the pressure on banks to conserve rather than lend, thus making for historical purposes a neat one-year package with a beginning and an ending.

In between were some of the most controversial, tumultuous months in the Fed's 53-year history.

It was just one year ago this month that the Fed raised the discount rate to 4 1/2 percent to slow what it felt was a growing tendency to inflation. As the year wore on, the clamp drew tighter.

This week the Fed said credit conditions had changed. While maintaining a general attitude of restraint, it revoked a Sept. 1 directive ordering banks to cut sharply their loans to business.

The Fed had been relaxing the restraints in its daily operations. This, however, was the first public acknowledgement of a change in attitude.

It is still too early to say that the Fed was right or wrong on its controversial moves of the past year. Historians must review events in relation to the decade, for the Fed's moves will have effects for years to come.

There is growing sentiment, however, that the Reserve's action to dampen demand through restricting money and credit had a lot of wisdom behind it.

The Fed first began to express concern about economic trends in 1965. William McChesney Martin, chairman, made comparisons between 1929 and 1965 and was widely criticized for doing so.

He persisted, suggesting a tax increase might be needed. None came.

When the Fed raised the discount rate which affects all loans in the economy, its own house was divided. The vote was 4 to 3. Even Martin must have doubted his analysis.

Therafter the Fed displayed imagination, innovation and possibly error, for some bankers claim it subsequently came down too hard, forcing up interest rates and almost precipitating a money panic.

NEW CONGRESS SESSION SEEN EXTRA INTERESTING ACTIONS, REACTIONS HIGHLY UNPREDICTABLE

By HENRY CATHCART Central Press Washington Writer

WASHINGTON—This national capital, not unlike other cities, has an air of calm, peacefulness and good will now. But unlike some other population centers, everyone in Washington knows that the atmosphere is deceptive and will dissipate in loud noises, charges, declamations and general confusion in a few short days.

Congress is coming back. The arrival of legislators for a new session always is an occasion. It is even more so this year, considering its changed complexion and the changed situation President Johnson and his administration find themselves in.

In some respects the situation in the immediate future is unique. The President is apprehensive of the extent to which his leadership will be challenged by the newly-invigorated legislative branch. He is resigned to some curtailment of his non-defense programs, but the degree to which that curtailment will be imposed is uncertain, and its effects on the President's declining popularity unpredictable.

Even beyond his own personal and political stake in the events of the months immediately ahead, there is the matter of his conduct of international affairs, particularly the war in Vietnam. Johnson happens to be convinced that his policy in Vietnam is the only practical course his administration can pursue, given all the conditions that exist. He is concerned that the desire of Congress to flex its muscles will force a change in policy that will be detrimental to the best interests of the United States, to world peace, and to his own re-election prospects.

Until attitudes are known by the passage of time, look for unpredictable congressional actions, and unpredictable presidential reactions.

YOU CAN'T BEAT BUREAUCRACY—Probably because it is so new, the Office of Economic Opportunity is, perhaps, the least bureaucratic of government agencies. But that doesn't mean it is not a bureaucracy.

The chief of the OEO's federal community action program was trying to correct payroll errors that kept appearing. He decided to write an unbureaucratic memorandum, titling it "Confession of Failure."

In the memo, the chief pointed out he had done all he could to reduce errors and see that his people were promptly and properly paid. He pointed out that even he had been the victim of three errors in his most recent paycheck, he listed the names, room numbers and phone numbers of four top OEO officials who are directly responsible for payroll operations and who should be contacted for adjustment of errors.

Asked about the results of his unusual effort, the chief sadly shook his head and pointed out that the next check he received contained five, instead of three, errors.

THIEVES STEAL WHILE MAN PHONES

A bound and gagged service station owner tried vainly to catch the attention of a customer while two robbers made a getaway.

The customer had driven his car into the station moments earlier, leaving it at the gas pump with two "attendants" as he made a phone call.

Then he felt someone nudge him. "Don't bother me," he snapped, "I'm on long distance."

Finally, he turned to find that the man who had nudged him was the proprietor. He had been tied up and robbed of $85 by the men who serviced the car. By the time the surprised customer freed him, the robbers had fled.

Most of us tend to be so preoccupied with our private concerns that the needs of others—even those close to us—often pass unnoticed.

The Lord does not expect us to dash around anxiously trying to solve everybody else's problems. But we should keep our horizons wide enough that we can take effective action when necessary.

U. S. Should Flatten Hanoi Says Rivers

Superior Force Only Way To Get Reds To Talk Peace

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman L. Mendel Rivers, of the House Armed Services Committee, says the United States should "flatten Hanoi if necessary (and) let world opinion fly a kite."

His Senate counterpart, Chairman Richard B. Russell of the Armed Services Committee, says "the use of superior force is the only means by which they (the Communists) can be forced to the conference table."
Rivers, a South Carolina Democrat, said in a telephone interview Wednesday night from Charleston, S.C., "We should use to the fullest the potential of our great air power" upon North Vietnam.

He said the lack of full use of such power "is why these people think we're kidding."
He derided reports of civilian casualties in North Vietnam and asked "what about these (American) fliers that have been shot down on these missions of indecision? Nobody seems to be worried about these fellows."
Rivers referred to bombings of cities in World War II and said "we were determined to win. Now we're worrying much more about public opinion than about victory."

Russell told an Atlanta dinner audience Wednesday night "you can't fly airplanes three times the size of a house and drop bombs and not kill some civilians. The remarkable thing to me is that more civilians haven't been killed."
He said peace appeals "have failed as yet to elicit the slightest meaningful response from Hanoi."

"Neither has Hanoi evinced the slightest interest in entering into negotiations with us for an honorable settlement."
"In my view, this continued intransigence leaves us no choice but to inflict greater punishment on the Communists until they halt their aggression."

He said that at present, it appears the war "could drag on for years with neither side gaining victory." Russell said he originally opposed U.S. intervention but that now the U.S. commitment should be supported.
An opponent of U.S. Vietnam policy, Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., said in a statement that civilian casualties have united North Vietnam in its "determination to resist American military power."

Morse said a series of New York Times stories from Hanoi on civilian casualties "have widened the credibility gap into a worldwide chasm between the United States and the rest of the world on the subject of our air attacks."
The State Department said Wednesday it has granted 57 Americans permission to go to North Vietnam, an increase of four over the last announced figure. Most are newsmen.

North Vietnam has admitted few persons on the State Department list, but has granted visas to some Americans who did not have U.S. permission to visit that country.
North Vietnam has granted entry permits to Harrison E. Salisbury of the New York Times and Louis Lomax, a West Coast television commentator, whom the State Department okayed.

Salisbury's stories of civilian casualties have stirred the latest round of controversy.
A U.S. flier who has bombed the town of Nam Dinh disagreed with some of Salisbury's reports from that town 50 miles southeast of Hanoi.

Cmdr. Robert C. Mandeville, commander of Navy Attack Squadron 65, told the Norfolk, Va., Ledger-Star that targets in Nam Dinh were mainly "a large trans-shipment area on the banks of the river, a fuel area on the delta east of town and rail yards to the west."
Salisbury had quoted the town's mayor as saying it was "essentially a cotton-and-silk textile town containing nothing of military significance."

He reported that 89 persons have been killed, 405 wounded and homes of 12,464 destroyed.
Mandeville said his fliers regarded the town as one of the most dangerous objectives in North Vietnam because of heavy defenses.

Hollywood Happenings

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie and TV Writer

ranked from the view of this reporter:

1. The death of Walt Disney. The passing of the movie wizard was a shock to the entire world, his influence having been felt as much as any man's during this century.

2. Ronald Reagan's election as governor of California. Although the candidate soft-pedaled his movie background, the issue of an actor's qualifications for public office was stressed throughout the campaign by his opposition, eventually to no avail.

3. The George Hamilton-Lynda Bird Johnson romance. The dating of a president's daughter and a movie actor provided reams of copy for newspapers and magazines.

4. Corporate changes. The shift of power was demonstrated by Gulf and Western's purchase of Paramount, United Artists' merger with Transamerica, Jack L. Warner's sellout to Seven Arts. Two other major companies faced problems: Columbia with the purchase of a bloc of stock by the Banque de Paris; MGM with a threatened proxy fight.

5. Frank Sinatra's marriage. The 50-year-old swinger and Mia Farrow, 21-year-old star of the soap operetta "Peyton Place," provided the wedding of the year.
6. New film czar. The motion picture producers finally found a man to succeed the late Eric Johnston as head of their association. Jack Valenti, former White House aide, took over his new post with vigorous leadership.

7. The Oscars. There was general approval of the Academy Awards to Lee Marvin ("Cat Ballou") and Julie Christie ("Darling") as best starring performers and "The Sound of Music" as best film.

8. The deaths of Buster Keaton and Hedda Hopper. Coming within a few hours of each other, their deaths seemed to signal the passing of the old Hollywood generation. Other notable deaths: Ed Wyn, Herbert J. Yates, Clifton Webb, Francis X. Bushman.
9. The murder of Mrs. Mickey Rooney. Her death at the hands of an obscure Yugoslavian actor and his subsequent suicide provided a shocking news story.
10. Shoplifting charge against Hedy Lamarr. The onetime "Ecstasy" girl was accused of taking $86 worth of merchandise from a local department store. A jury acquitted her.

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission said Wednesday that free coffee is going to be offered to turnpike drivers from 10 p.m. on New Year's Eve until 7 a.m. on New Year's Day.

The commission said the free coffee would be provided by the Howard Johnson restaurant chain at its 26 restaurants along the 470-mile turnpike and its Northeast Extension.

Alvah J. Potts, vice president of the company, said the restaurants would not only provide free coffee for motorists who stop, but would also fill thermos jugs with coffee for those who wish to carry it in their cars or trucks.

CENTENNIAL SCRAPBOOK: Westward Ho Year: 1866

83-B U.S.S. Constitution ("Old Ironsides") and the revered U.S.S. Coastwarrant, have outlived their sister-ship, United States, a century. The three were authorized together by Congress in 1794, designed by Joshua Humphreys of Philadelphia, and built under contract simultaneously at Boston, Baltimore and Philadelphia.

There were let-ups in construction, however, because of congressional loggardeness in appropriations, and none was launched until 1797, when war with red-revolutionary France was imminent, and the United States, 44-guns, became the first vessel commissioned in the newly reconstituted Navy.

After a lay-up, the frigate was active again in the War of 1812-15. With her, Capt. Stephen Decatur Jr. captured Britain's 38-gun Macedonian. She lasted, with aid of rebuilding, until the Civil War, and was one of the ships scuttled when the Federals abandoned Norfolk Navy Yard in April 1861. The frigate was raised when Norfolk was retaken, and used as a receiving ship for recruits. In 1866, she was finally broken up.

By HAL COOPER
NEW YORK (AP) — For all too many years now the phrase "Après moi, le déluge" has been attributed to careless historians to King Louis XV of France. It is time to set the record straight.

These famous words, meaning "After me, the inundation," were in fact first uttered by none other than Santa Claus, and he wasn't just whistling "Dixie."

It's the middle of the week following Christmas. The scene, duplicated in millions of homes all over America, is the lounge of a middle-class menage with two young children.

The lounge is in a state of devastation, littered with pine needles, boxes, greeting cards, candy lumps and the shards of shattered plastic toys. Wafting through the air is the pungent odor from a spilled bottle of gift perfume.

Nosing his way through the debris like the shocked survivor of a major disaster is one of the new pet guinea pigs, unaccountably escaped from his cage.

Over all rises the wailing of a 7-year-old who has just learned one of life's inescapable truths. If you drop a glass ant farm on a parquet floor it will break into hundreds of pieces. And that's not counting the grains of sand, let alone the ants.

In another corner of the room his 10-year-old brother is trying to restart an electric clock knocked over by a toy hovercraft. Brother's face is dark with a premonition of failure.

Slumped on a couch plucking listlessly at a covertly is mother. Seated in a chair feebly pelting his unshaven jowls is father. They are barely alive.

"Well, it comes but once a year," says mother. "True," says father. "And it snowed," says mother. "at least it was a white Christmas."

"It was that," says father. "Do you suppose the maid will show up today?" asks mother. "Not if she has a lick of sense," says father. "At this point the guinea pig starts to clump up on the base of the Christmas tree. To the tree, of dubious stability from the start, the little animal's weight is the last straw. The tree begins to topple.

Father leaps from his chair. Too late. With a crash of light bulbs and ornaments and a deafening cry of "Timber!" from the 9-year-old — who has decided his ants can fend for themselves — the 10-foot tree collapses.

The 10-year-old, a tidy-minded type who abhors disorder, especially if there is a chance he will have to help clean it up, asks: "Is it okay if we take our sleds out to the park?"

"Indeed yes," says father. "In fact, I recommend it." The children depart. There is a knock on the door. It is the mail man. He hands father a single, bulky envelope.

"What's the mail?" asks mother. "Just my bank statement," says father, tossing it into a drawer. "You aren't going to look at it?" asks mother. "I'm afraid to," says father. "Oh, cheer up," says mother. "At least we've survived."

"That's the worst of it," says father. "To quote a phrase wrongly credited to Charles de Gaulle, but actually coined by your husband, 'Après le déluge, moi!'"

Food Review

By DAVE SMITH
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — There's plenty of everything this week, but pork chops or poultry may be your best food buy as the new year opens.

Beef and pork are available in good quantity and variety in most parts of the country, with round and chuck roasts being good buys this week.

But pork products are probably the best bargains. A major supermarket chain in the East cut prices on pork chops by 30 cents a pound in the post-Christmas lull. Bacon, pork roasts and hams are in plentiful supply and on special in many stores.

If the family isn't sick of Christmas turkey, poultry is still a good buy. The same Eastern chain trimmed fryer prices by 4 cents a pound. Egg prices also were lower.

Vegetables in good supply around the country include cabbage, carrots, celery, lettuce, onions, potatoes and tomatoes. Abundant fruits are apples, grapefruit, oranges and pears.

Wholesale food prices that dropped this past week included flour, wheat, corn, oats, ham, lard, butter, cheese, tea and potatoes.

In the Northeast, lamb and veal are available at attractive prices over the New Year's weekend.

Fresh fruit and vegetable values are noticeably limited in the Midwest, but shoppers should continue to find a wide choice of red meats.

Fresh vegetables are the big buy in the Southwest and lower Rocky Mountain markets as large supplies moved in from the West and Florida.

In the Far West, chickens, fruits and vegetables are in best supply.

SAFEGUARD YOUR HEALTH

Christmas followed by resolutions, followed by broken resolutions and remorse. Sound familiar? A philosopher says, "You may be whatever you resolve to be," but the biggest problem is keeping resolutions.

In the trash can where last year's resolutions were discarded, we find those that were made to please someone else, and those that were unrealistic, and those that we really didn't believe in when we made them.

Your family doctor suggests that a periodic personal inventory is a good idea, and that every such inventory should be followed by action to correct habits and attitudes that are unpleasant and even harmful.

Any time is a good time to make resolutions but the best time may not be the emotionally charged atmosphere that surrounds the Christmas and New Year's holidays. At such times, we are prone to be unrealistic in our resolves.

The biggest single category of resolutions is concerned with the intake of food or drink. The most common resolve is one to lose weight, followed closely by resolutions to cut out alcoholic beverages or to stop smoking.

Virtually all resolutions are concerned with some aspect of physical or emotional health.

To the extent that such resolutions will result in actual improvements in our physical or mental health, they are seconded by physicians. However, with their approval come words of caution. Don't try to make so many resolutions as to change the whole direction of your life at once, because the remorse over an inability to keep such a series of drastic resolutions can have an adverse effect on our physical and emotional well-being.

Be realistic in your resolutions by choosing something you're capable of attaining and don't make too many such resolutions at one time. Habits of a lifetime are difficult to break and if you try to change too many habits at once, you are doomed to failure.

Don't be afraid to ask for help. For example, your physician can aid in establishing realistic goals and methods for losing weight and can help you keep such resolutions as one to stop drinking. If you have a trigger temper and you resolve never to lose your temper, don't be dismayed if you slip occasionally. The results are dependent upon the effort expended. If you slip once, don't discard the resolution as a broken one. Keep it around and try, try again. We know a person who always keeps his New Year's resolution. Each year, he resolves not to make resolutions.

A widow's mite was a mighty help, indeed.

In the 1930's, an educational organization in western New York was saved by an elderly widow's five dollars. The news of her gift, one she could ill afford, spurred a philanthropic fellow-townsmen to say, "I'm not sure I've done my share." He then increased his already generous gift by $35,000.

Few of us can save a college. But almost everyone of us, by doing his share, can help keep one going.

Give to the college of your choice.

Income Tax, Helpful Hints To The Payers

This column of questions and answers on Federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q—I was injured in a car accident which was compensated by insurance. Is that money taxable?

A—Damages received for personal injuries are tax free.

Q—I rent a car for business use. Can I use the mileage rate for expenses instead of the rental fees?

A—Use the rental expenses plus what you pay for tolls, parking fees, and gasoline and oil as the expense figure. These costs when incurred for business purposes, are deductible to the extent they are not reimbursed by your employer. If the rental car is also used for personal purposes, the costs must be allocated between business and personal use and only the business portion of the expenses may be deducted.

Q—I understand that farmers can now take tax refunds as a credit against income tax. Can this credit be taken only on gas used in 1966?

A—No. In the typical case of a calendar year taxpayer, a credit for gasoline tax refund will first be taken on the income tax return filed for the year 1966 and will cover the period from June 30, 1965 through December 31, 1966. Be sure to file your tax return on time because the credit is lost if the return is late.

Q—Must you support a person all year to be able to claim a dependency exemption? My mother moved in with us several months ago and I have provided her full support since that time.

A—The length of time you supported a person is not material. The support test is based on whether you provided more than half the support required by the person for the calendar year. If you provided your mother's chief support and the other tests are met, you may claim her as a dependent.

Q—My wife is taking a part-time job for the holidays. If she files her own return to have her withheld taxes refunded can I still claim her exemption?

A—No. A wife is not considered her husband's dependent. If a husband or wife files a separate return the other must file separately too and neither is permitted to claim exemptions, expenses, or deductions of the other. If your wife's income from her job is small in amount, it will probably be to your advantage to file a joint return. Compute your tax both ways to see which method results in tax saving.

Q—How do I handle a year-end taxable dividend on stock. Do I report it in the year declared or in the year received?

A—Report it in the year it is constructively received. This means that if you received the dividend or had it credited to your account in 1966, it must be reported on your 1966 return.

Q—I'm considering a job being offered me in Europe. If I take it will my salary be subject to U. S. Tax?

A—Your salary is taxable if you take a job with the U. S. government overseas. You may be entitled to exclude all or part of your income from U. S. tax if you work for a private concern overseas.

The IRS booklet, "Tax Guide For U. S. Citizens Abroad," explains this subject in detail. A free copy can be obtained at any IRS office.

PANMUNJON, Korea (AP)—The U. N. Command charged today that North Koreans fired about 40 rounds of automatic weapons at a U. S. guard post 1.2 miles south of the demilitarized zone about midnight Tuesday. No casualties were reported.

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—About 50 disabled Korean War veterans invaded the offices of the paper Donga Ilbo today and baited staff members with their artificial arms and legs. The raid apparently was in reaction to an article in the paper Wednesday on the arrest of two officials of the Wounded Veterans Association on swindling charges.

TOKYO (AP)—A U. S. military helicopter from Okinawa has rescued 10 shipwrecked Japanese fishermen from a reef in the Pacific, the Maritime Safety Agency reported today.

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—An Israeli army patrol uncovered an antivehicle mine close to the Syrian border early today, the second mine found in the area within 24 hours, an Israeli military spokesman said.

MILAN, Italy (AP)—The first 12 weekly installments of "The Works of the Marquis de Sade" have been ordered seized all over Italy by judicial authorities to keep them away from young readers.

Navy Divers Will Try To Inspect The Hulk Of Daniel J. Morrell

CLEVELAND, OHIO (AP)—Navy divers will try to locate and inspect the hulk of the Daniel J. Morrell for the Coast Guard in an investigation into the sinking of the 600-foot ore carrier in a Lake Huron storm Nov. 29.

Rear Adm. Charles Tighe, commander of the Ninth Coast Guard District and chairman of the marine board investigating the sinking, said the Coast Guard commandant had approved his request to find and explore the wreck.

The wreck, or part of it, is believed to lie in 200 feet of water about 26 miles north of Harbor Beach, Mich.

Divers will inspect the wreckage and try to bring up material which might help the board of inquiry, which is in recess at present, determine the cause of the sinking.

Only one member of the 29-man crew of the Morrell survived the disaster.

PEOPLE IN THE NEWS

LONDON (AP)—Queen Mother Elizabeth returned to her Clarence House home today, recovering from an abdominal operation Dec. 10 at London's King Edward VII Hospital.

A bulletin signed by four doctors said the queen mother, 66, had made "an uninterrupted recovery" from surgery to relieve a partial abdominal obstruction.

NEW YORK (AP)—John Berryman, a Pulitzer Prize-winning poet, has been awarded a fellowship and $5,000 for American verse by the Academy of American Poets.

The announcement was made in New York Wednesday. Berryman, 52, is in Dublin, on leave from his teaching post at the University of Minnesota.

Berryman, who is also known as a writer of criticism, fiction and biography, has received numerous awards in the past, including the Pulitzer Prize for poetry in 1965 for his book verse, "77 Dream Songs."

NEW YORK (AP)—Actor Hal Holbrook, probably best known for his portrayal of the American humorist in "Mark Twain Tonight," and actress Carol Rossen, were married in New York Wednesday by a Manhattan Supreme Court justice.

Miss Rossen, daughter of the late Robert Rossen, movie producer, director and writer, and Holbrook appeared together last year in the Broadway revival of "The Glass Menagerie."

Mill Worker Is In Custody In Slaying Of Pittsburgh Girl

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A mill worker was in custody today in connection with the murder of a teenage girl.

Robert Brucker, 28, of suburban Baldwin Borough was questioned in the slaying of Patricia Schreiner, 19, of Pittsburgh's South Side and lodged in the Allegheny County jail. No charge was filed immediately.

Detectives said Brucker went to police on his own Wednesday when he learned they were seeking him for questioning in the killing.

The gagged and battered body of the girl was found Wednesday along a railroad track in Baldwin Borough. Police said she was strangled with a belt.

Family Gets A Christmas Card From Dead Man

Police Believe Household Buried The Wrong Person

TRENTON (AP)—City detectives were in Pennsylvania today trying to determine if a man identified and buried by his family was actually still alive.

A man was shot to death just after Thanksgiving Day about three blocks from the Rescue Mission here. Detectives, unable to establish his identity, found that one man was listed as missing from the mission.

From a slip of paper in the man's belongings, police reached two sisters and a brother who identified the victim as 58-year-old Ferdinand Kirchner. They buried him in Lancaster, Pa.

Last week they got a Christmas card from him. And Allentown, Pa., police said that the family also talked to him over the telephone sometime over the Christmas weekend, although the nature of the conversation was not disclosed.

Kirchner reportedly told his family he was working for a rescue mission in Allentown. Police there talked to the man, calling himself Kirchner, photographing and fingerprinting him.

Lancaster and Trenton police also said they wanted to speak with him, but he disappeared. "Yes," said Detective Capt. Albert Mestragli of Trenton, "there is a possibility that the man is still alive."

He said he sent two detectives to Pennsylvania to attempt to find Kirchner.

According to police, Kirchner's brother had not seen him for 10 years — and one sister had not seen him for five years — when the identification was made.

Although family photographs show a mole under Kirchner's eye, the dead man had a scar there. Also, Kirchner's nose appeared longer than the victim's. Detectives said, however, that

TV & Radio DAY by DAY

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—ABC Wednesday night turned its annual, on-camera get-together of too news correspondents into a graceful occasion.

They were summoned, not to the usual stiff studio set, but to dinner at the home of commentator Howard K. Smith outside of Washington. Clad in dinner jackets, sipping brandy and smoking cigars, the newsmen discussed and disagreed in gentlemanly style on a variety of subjects.

The talk was spiced by articulate and informed varieties of opinion while covering the predictable ground. They took up with enthusiasm the Vietnam conflict, Sino-Soviet relations, the credibility gap, probable presidential candidates in 1968, the enigma of De Gaulle, the future of Britain, the new nationalism of Germany and a number of other subjects besides.

NBC's yearend wrap-up—using the communications satellites to bring its correspondents together—will be along tonight—9:30-10 EST—and CBS' is set for Sunday afternoon—2:30-3:30.

Earlier in the evening, NBC's Bob Hope Theatre launched what may be the new trend in spy stories. It was the first of a two-part drama by Alvin Sapsisley called "Code Name: Herodotus."

Sapsisley, apparently, is as bored with superspies having superadventures as some television viewers. So he has created a surly, doof fellow without memory of his past, without conscience and with a passion for gum chewing. He does his spying with the help of nothing more interesting than an old-fashioned pistol.

Hugh Downs, since the departure of Jack Paar from the "Tonight Show" has had plenty of daylight exposure as host of the "Today Show" and "concentration" but he has been a rare sight after dark.

This will be changed on Jan. 8 when NBC will pull together an assortment of taped interviews and guided tours made during a recent week's visit to England by the "Today Show" crew. It will be used to fill that 6:30-7:30 p.m. EST hour on Sunday night which is turned over to the news department when it is not filled by the Telephone Hour.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Thursday, Dec. 29, the 363rd day of 1966. There are two days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1845, Texas was admitted to the Union as the 28th state.

On this date: In 1808, Andrew Johnson, the 17th President of the United States, was born.

In 1941, Japanese troops were closing in on the Philippine capital, Manila.

In 1944, the Nazis in the Belgian "bulge" were being squeezed by Allied armies hitting the Germans on three sides.

Ten years ago — United Nations salvage crews began the task of clearing the Suez Canal of sunken vessels and other obstacles blocking the waterway. The canal had been made impassable at the height of the Suez crisis.

Five years ago—French President Charles de Gaulle said the bulk of the French army in Algeria would be withdrawn in the coming year. In De Gaulle's 1961 year-end message, he held out qualified hopes for agreement on Algerian independence in the near future.

One year ago — The United States kept North Vietnam off limits to its fighter-bombers for the seventh straight day and continued its diplomatic offensive for peace negotiations.

Peking Leaders Have Ordered An All-Out Soviet Hate Campaign

By FRED W. COLEMAN

MOSCOW (AP) - Peking's leaders have ordered an all-out hate-Soviet campaign in the Chinese army, the Soviet defense ministry charged today.

The defense ministry newspaper Red Star said "everything has been placed at the service of anti-Soviet propaganda." The article, spread across the bottom of two pages, was clearly aimed at warning Soviet military personnel of possible danger from China.

"To cultivate hatred for the Soviet Union among servicemen," the article said, "Chinese propaganda is trying in every way to persuade army soldiers and commanders that the Soviet Union and American imperialism are 'one and the same thing.'"

Red China and the Soviet Union share a 4,150-mile border, much of it disputed territory. Chinese Communist party Chairman Mao Tse-tung has claimed 580,000 square miles of Soviet territory belongs to China.

In recent weeks the Soviets have disclosed they are strengthening civilian defense units along the border, obviously to meet any Chinese threat.

The article appeared the day after China's fifth nuclear test, and although the two were not necessarily related, the Soviets have been clearly alarmed by the prospect of a hostile China with nuclear arms on their border.

South Korea's Donghwa news agency reported today that a Red Chinese field army has been concentrated just north of the Yalu River along the border between North Korea and China.

Quoting South Korean defense ministry officials, the agency said the army's deployment was the first along the border since North Korea declared independence from Peking's policies last August. Donghwa said the troop deployment may be aimed at intimidating North Korea from swerving toward the Soviet Union.

AP Special Report

By MIKE COCHRAN

GRAPEVINE, Tex. (AP) - The year is 1972, and the jumbo jet sweeps low across the metropolitan maze and drops onto a runway 2½-miles long.

Some 500 people pour from the airplane as it rolls to a halt at one of 100 gate positions along the two-mile terminal complex.

A "people mover" sweeps them through the terminal to a luggage counter, where almost instantly they claim 1,000 pieces of luggage.

Some linger in fine restaurants, shops and lounges but most climb into 300 or 400 cars and taxis, then speed away on the top level of a three-level roadway system.

Twenty minutes to the east is Dallas and 20 minutes to the west is Fort Worth. It is difficult to determine where one city stops and the other begins.

This is the proposed North Texas Regional Airport, six years and $250 million from now, billed as the largest and safest airport in the world. It could become a prototype for future airports around the world.

The scene mentioned above would be repeated frequently, even simultaneously, as 100,000 people shuffled in and out of the airport each day.

Between 16,000 and 25,000 employees would report to work at the huge air center daily, and millions of dollars would exchange hands each year.

As envisioned, the airport would pay for itself. The $216.7 million required for construction would come in revenue bonds, paid off by the year 2000.

Leaders of Dallas and Fort Worth retained Walter Prokosh, a New York consultant to guide them toward their aerial dream.

"The noise can be controlled really in only one way," Prokosh said, "and that's by having a lot of room around the airport."

He said this is particularly important in the lanes that the aircraft use for landing and take off. Traffic forecasts indicate an initial requirement of four runways, and ultimate need of six.

"These runways," Prokosh said, "are intended to be 11,000 feet long to begin with in the primary north-south direction, but ultimate expansion of capability to 14,000 feet."

This new concept in airport design, it was noted, is necessary to meet the demands of the supersonic aircraft which will, in the near future, roll off the production lines.

New Storm Sweeps Into Pennsylvania Leaving Much Ice

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A new storm, sweeping up from the southwest, brought new precipitation to Pennsylvania today increasing hazardous driving conditions in northern and central portions while leaving the southeast with some flooding problems.

For a few hours Wednesday night, streets and highways in the Philadelphia area were hazardous because of a glaze of frozen rain.

But the temperatures rose and the rain continued, the glaze washed away. At 5 a.m., the weather Bureau reported that the temperature was 47 in Philadelphia. The downpour, coupled with slush and snow from last Saturday's storm, caused some minor flooding on streets. The Weather Bureau's early morning state summary said there was snow across northern portions and freezing rain in the central and south central portions.

At 5:30 the state police said there was scattered rain and snow along the Pennsylvania Turnpike and on its northeast extension. Salting, cinderling and some plowing operations were in progress.

The slippery conditions Wednesday night forced the closing of the airport at Bradford, Pa. And the weather bureau in Harrisburg urged all drivers to stay off the roads.

ALL-OUT FOR SUPER BOWL DATE—The American Football League showdown for the top title and a place in the Super Bowl game is set for Buffalo's War Memorial stadium Jan. 1 with Kansas City, the Western division winner with a 11-2-1 mark, meeting defending champ Buffalo, Eastern division champ, which had a 9-4-1 record. The Chiefs led the AFL in rushing and total offense while the Bills topped the league in rushing defense. Buffalo is coached by Joe Collier, in his first season, and Kansas City by Hank Stram. Kansas City's offense is led by quarterback Len Dawson, who completed 159 passes in 284 attempts for 2,527 yards and 26 touchdowns. Jackie Kemp is the Buffalo pitcher and he completed 166 out of 389 for 2,451 yards and 11 touchdowns. Buffalo was champ in '64 and '65.

Title Fight Proposed By Clay For June

Named Half Dozen Possible Opponents For Big Bout

WASHINGTON (AP)—Heavy-weight boxing champion Cassius Clay proposed Wednesday night a title fight in Washington next June, naming half a dozen possible opponents including Sonny Liston and Floyd Patterson.

Clay's ideas for 1967, reported by Bob Addie in the Washington Post, also include a proposal for three 15-round bouts in a single evening and — at the other end of the scale — a suggestion that he might just retire.

Addie said Clay, guest of honor at a party in the apartment of Washington promoter Goldie Ahearn, pointed out he would have to get past Ernie Terrell in Houston on Feb. 6, but figured he would "give him the Ali Shuffle and win because I'm the greatest."

Clay has adopted the Moslem name Muhammad Ali.

Naming possible challengers for a June bout, Clay ticked off Tnad Spencer, Joe Fraser, Zora Folley, Buster Mathis and Patterson, adding Liston when he was asked which of his previous opponents had most impressed him.

"Liston and Patterson should fight," Clay said, "and I'll fight the winner in Washington."

Clay said that after the proposed June fight he might retire.

As for the three-fight marathon, Clay said, "I want to fight a 15-round bout with Patterson, maybe. After I'm through with him, I'll take on another one, maybe Folley, for 15 more rounds."

"Then I'll wind up the evening with 15 rounds against Spencer."

Syracuse Gets Ready For Big Gator Bowl Game

Coach Of Orangemen Has Had Police Guard The Practice Field

By F. T. MACFEELEY JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A veil of secrecy has been enforced by uniformed policemen around the practice field where Syracuse prepares for Saturday's Gator Bowl game against Tennessee.

In contrast, the Tennessee practice field several miles away has been ringed with spectators.

Coaches Ben Schwartzwalder of Syracuse and Doug Dickey of Tennessee explained their contrasting philosophies.

"You're darn right it could make a difference if a Tennessee scout saw us practice," Schwartzwalder said. "We are putting in some new things, and I'm sure they are, too. We'd like to get a look at some pictures of them working."

Dickey agreed that "we are putting in some new wrinkles." But, he said, he didn't think if a Syracuse scout watched the Vols practice he would learn much to affect the game.

Any visitor who approached the St. Augustine field where Syracuse has been working since Dec. 18 was stopped by an officer in uniform.

Prior clearance for reporters was enough to permit entrance "as long as you don't write anything about what we are working on."

UCLA Whipped Badgers 100-56

Low Alcindor Leads Bruins To Sixth Win

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Top-ranked UCLA demolished the Wisconsin Badgers 100-56 Wednesday night in the Los Angeles Basketball Classic as the Bruins' Low Alcindor scored 24 points.

With Alcindor blocking shots and intimidating the Badger offense, the Bruins raced to their sixth consecutive victory. The 7-foot-1 sophomore, who also grabbed 16 rebounds, left the game with 10 minutes remaining.

Wisconsin played the Bruins close through the opening nine minutes, using a zone defense with two men on Alcindor. But from a 13-13 tie, UCLA pulled to a 44-27 intermission lead and was never in trouble again.

SMU Coach Has Called For Tough Workout Today

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Coach Hayden Fry of Southern Methodist scheduled "the toughest Thursday workout ever" today as he tried frantically to get his team's timing and execution to match its mental and physical preparation for Saturday's Cotton Bowl game with Georgia.

Bitter cold and a long layoff, forced by the academic schedule of the university caused the Mustangs to falter with their passing and ball handling as Fry worked them long and hard Wednesday afternoon.

"There was no question of desire or effort, and I think my boys are ready to go all out to win, but unless I can get better timing and execution we won't have much chance to beat a fine Georgia team," said Fry grimly.

"Today offers a last chance. We're really going to try, and I may be unduly alarmed when I find we just had one of those days and had to work out the rough spots before we could start to function properly."

Fry said he hadn't been able to have a full-scale workout since Dec. 10.

Dan Reeves Is Georgia Farm Boy

But He Has Desire To Lead Cowboys To NFL Title

By JACK HAND DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Dan Reeves is a farm boy from Georgia with flat feet, 16 touchdowns and a burning desire to help the Dallas Cowboys win their first National Football League title.

Reeves, a halfback with an active sense of humor, claims he developed the flat feet plowing behind the mules on his father's hog and peanut farm back home.

When Dallas meets Green Bay Sunday for the NFL title at the Cotton Bowl, much will depend on Reeves' ability to move those flat feet as a clutch runner and pass receiver.

Reeves, who played his college ball as a quarterback at South Carolina and was overlooked by both pro leagues in the draft, has carried the ball for 757 yards. Just for the purpose of comparison, the Packers' famous Jim Taylor ran for only 705 yards this year.

Don Meredith uses Reeves as a prime pass catching threat in his efforts to isolate the fleet Bob Hayes in a man-to-man coverage situation. Reeves has caught 41 passes, more than any Cowboy except Hayes, and rates among the most valuable players on the club.

Reeves does not fit into the list of big bonus boys. He got about $500 to sign and definitely did not get any no-cut contract.

"I roomed with Gert Logan in my rookie year (1965) at Thousand Oaks, Calif.," said Reeves. "We got $7 per diem during camp and we were sorry to see the training season end. It meant we took a cut in pay."

Reeves doesn't have to worry about the money any more. He is due a healthy raise in 1967 after his fine season. With the rest of the Cowboys he will be playing for a winning share of about $8,600 Sunday and a shot at the $15,000 winning slice in the Jan. 15 Super Bowl with the American League champions.

J. Stockton Award To Be Shared By Two Baseball Players

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — The J. Roy Stockton Award for special achievement in baseball will be shared by outfielders Frank Robinson of Baltimore and Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh.

The award, named for a former St. Louis Post-Dispatch sports editor, is presented annually by the St. Louis Branch of the Baseball Writers Association.

Robinson and Clemente will receive the award at a dinner Jan. 26 in St. Louis.

Robinson was the most valuable player in the American League last year. Clemente was the most valuable in the National League.

Captains of the Cleveland Browns are tackle Dick Schafrath on offense and linebacker Galen Fiss on defense.

SPUTTERINGS

By Walter L. Johns, Central Press Sports Editor

THAT SHOULD BE a "L" of a battle for the NFL title between the Green Bay Packers and the Dallas Cowboys. Lombardi was with the New York Giants. Vince Lombardi moved into the pro ranks as an offensive coach and Tom Landry as a defensive coach.

So, this playoff battle will be one of offense versus defense, but the shoe is on the other foot now.

The Packers, under Lombardi, the offensive coach, have become a defensive team, and the Cowboys, under Landry, the defensive coach, are the offensive team.

The Cowboys scored 110 more points than the Packers this year, while giving up 76 more.

ALL THE odds are with the Packers, starting with pro football's recognized No. 1 coach, Lombardi, the best to come down the pike since Paul Brown. The Packers are old pros, win the big ones and have been in four of the last six championship playoffs, winning three of them with much of the same personnel.

Dallas, winning its first divisional title, never has beaten the Packers, although the series has gone only three games, one in 1960, another in 1964 and the third last year.

LOMBARDI, who is 53, was born in Brooklyn, N.Y. Landry, who is 42, was born at Mission, Tex. Lombardi won three letters as an outstanding lineman at Fordham, then coached at St. Cecilia High in Englewood, N.J., where he ran up a string of 36 straight victories while featuring the T-formation.

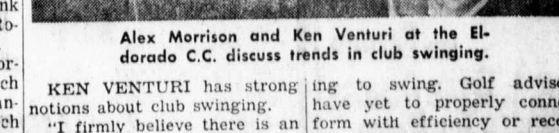

Landry interrupted his football at the University of Texas to go into the Army Air Corps where he flew 30 combat missions with the Eighth Air Force. He returned and played halfback for three seasons.

Lombardi moved from the high school coaching ranks to Fordham and then on to Army as an assistant. He joined the Giants in 1954 as an offensive coach and began his career at Green Bay in 1959.

Landry joined the old New York Yankees of the All-America Conference as a halfback in 1949 and when the two leagues merged he played with the Giants. He was a player-coach in 1954-55 and full-time defensive coach in 1956. When Dallas was admitted to the National Football League in 1960, Landry became the head coach.

Golfing

With ALEX MORRISON

Alex Morrison and Ken Venturi at the Eldorado C.C. discuss trends in club swinging.

KEN VENTURI has strong notions about club swinging. "I firmly believe there is an esthetic side to the golf swing and every outstanding player has a responsibility about swinging with good form." Ken was thinking about the bad impression given by hackers and scramblers.

I was reminded of the player's obligation to himself. Countless pros and amateurs have handicapped themselves by not recognizing the true value of form when first learning.

76ers Rallied To Beat Boston Celtics 113-108

Philadelphia Also Extended Home Win Streak To 31 Games

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Coach Alex Hannum of the Philadelphia 76ers admits his team needed every advantage to beat Boston for its 31st straight home court victory Wednesday night in the National Basketball Association.

The 76ers rallied and beat the Celtics 113-108. It was also victory No. 34 against only three losses for the 76ers and gave them a seven-game edge over second-place Boston in the Eastern Division.

In other games Wednesday night San Francisco beat Baltimore 138-115 and New York beat Los Angeles 121-115.

Hannum said after the 76ers' victory, "I was a little disturbed in the first period when we were down by 13 points, and I didn't think we'd get untracked. But in the second quarter Billy Cunningham started running and everybody started running and it got us going, and we finally started shooting them in."

Hannum said "the home court certainly was an advantage for us. The Celtics played by five at Boston under the same conditions."

The Celtics have beaten Philadelphia twice in Boston and the 76ers have won all three meetings here.

Wilt Chamberlain stood out on offense and defense, collecting 24 points, nine assists and grabbing 32 rebounds. Cunningham scored 23 points.

Paul Neumann scored 30 points, making up for San Francisco's Rick Barry, out with a sprained ankle. Baltimore was missing Gus Johnson who had a knee injury and Don Ohl led the Bullet scorers with 24 points.

Emmette Bryant and Howie Komives combined to hold Jerry West scores from the floor in the second half in the Knicks victory over the Lakers. West who had 25 points in the first half, was high for the game with 31. Willis Reed led New York with 29 points.

Coach Bryant Prepares Team For Sugar Bowl

Despite Rumors, He Has No Intention Of Leaving Sport World

By WILL GRIMSLEY NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — It's bad news for Alabama's football rivals — Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant isn't thinking about giving up his post and going into something else.

"I was closer to getting out of the profession two or three years ago," the favorite son of Fordyce, Ark., said today as he prepared for his 13th bowl assignment, a game against Nebraska in the Sugar Bowl next Monday.

"I don't know what else I would do. I've got to work and make a living. This is the thing I know. So I figure I'll stick around."

There have been reported rumors in recent months that Bryant, 53, and a grandfatherly probably would answer the call of a political career or at least get off the firing line and relax in an easy athletic director's chair.

"Not now," the Bear said. "If I'd planned to enter politics, I would have made the move a couple of years ago. The same with anything else. No, I'm afraid I'm stuck here for a while — or they're stuck with me."

Bryant's 21-year head coaching career started at Maryland in 1945 and led him through Kentucky and Texas A&M before winding up at his alma mater in 1958.

Despite protests that he needs to work for a livelihood, Bryant is said to be independently wealthy as a result of wise investments.

As head coach, his teams have won 170 games, lost 51 and tied 11 — one of the best records in modern football. His bowl teams have won seven, lost four and tied one. This is his eighth straight bowl appearance.

Three of his Alabama teams won national championships, the last two in a row before the present team, which is the only major unbeaten and untied eleven in the country.

"Football kinda gets in your blood," Bryant said.

Terrell Says He's Going To Knock Clay Out

Ernie And Cassius Had Disagreement In Press Room

By MURRAY ROSE NEW YORK (AP) — "Oh, he needs to be beaten real good. I'm going to knock him out," Ernie Terrell, his eyes still smoldering, meant the words for Cassius Clay, following a hot tiff between the two heavyweights that almost broke into a free fight Wednesday.

After calling Terrell "an Uncle Tom" because the towering fighter wouldn't call him Muhammad Ali, the Muslim name Clay prefers, Clay slapped Terrell's right arm and challenged him to "fight it out right now" at a Madison Square Garden press conference.

The 6-foot-3 Clay doffed his sports coat and tried to get at Terrell while the 6-foot-6 Terrell lunged at Clay. They were about six feet apart in a jam-packed small room in the Garden when the action started.

Various handlers and others collaborated to keep them apart.

Boxing veterans were dumbfounded at the unprofessional-like behavior of the two heavy-weight champions, who are scheduled to fight for prices ranging to a $100 top at the Houston Astrodome, Feb. 6.

Terrell is the World Boxing Association's champion while Clay is regarded as champion in most parts of the world.

If this was a publicity stunt, then the acting was magnificent. Both Clay and Terrell would have received top grades from the Actors' Studio.

The nasty accusations made by Clay may have hurt Ernie's feelings but the fracas certainly helped attract attention to the upcoming fight.

By a strange coincidence, the whole bit took place while a television camera was grinding and both were being interviewed by Howard Cosell, the ABC sports commentator, in the boxing publicity office in the Garden.

The occasion was a Garden press conference to announce that the big arena will show the telecast of the fight.

Wildcats Lost 92-77 Shocker To Cornell

Kentucky Lost All Four Of Its Games On Their Home Floor

By HAL BOCK Associated Press Sports Writer UCL A continues to give opponents the shakes, and in Kentucky, Adolph Rupp just sits and shudders.

The top-ranked Uclans, led by towering Lew Alcindor, battered Wisconsin 100-56 in the Los Angeles Classic Monday night as college basketball's tournament turmoil reached its peak.

But at Lexington, Ky., Rupp's Wildcats, who seemed to have snapped their slump by winning their invitational tourney last week, stumbled again, dropping a 92-77 shocker to lightly-regarded Cornell.

That left Rupp's club — much the same team that reached the NCA championships finals last March — with a mediocre 4-4 record. And all four losses have come at home, where the Wildcats are usually at their best.

Meanwhile, UCLA gave an awesome display in its LA Classic debut.

Alcindor, the 7-foot-1½ sophomore, scored 24 points and grabbed 16 rebounds as UCLA demolished Wisconsin. He also blocked shot after shot, frustrating the Badger offense.

In the first game of the LA Classic opening round double-header, Georgia Tech upset Michigan 101-70 with Pres Judy scoring 21 points.

Western Kentucky whipped host Miami 94-89 for the Hurricane Classic title.

Providence and St. Joseph's advanced to the finals of New York's Holiday Festival, both on the strength of strong individual performances.

The Friars got 38 points from Jimmy Walker and whipped Northwestern 91-79 while Cliff Anderson hit 39 for the Hawks, who dropped Rhode Island 91-79.

Michigan State, ranked 10th in the country going into the Quaker City tournament this week, dropped its second straight there. The Spartans, who were beaten by Villanova in their opener, lost to Bowling Green 75-67 in the consolation round.

Houston, No. 8, got 22 points each from Elvin Hayes and Dor Charney and won their eighth straight, beating Kent State 85-73 in the opening round of the Arkansas State tournament.

Seventh-ranked Cincinnati, not playing in any tourney, kept busy with a 94-66 romp over St. Joseph's of Indiana as six players reached double figures. It was the Bearcats' eighth straight victory.

Strike By Welfare Workers Moves Into Eighth Day Today

CLEVELAND, OHIO (AP) — Tentative agreement on union recognition and grievance procedures has been reached in the strike by Cuyahoga County welfare workers, but negotiations remained deadlocked on the main issue of wages.

Negotiations resume today as the strike by 400 of the county's 1,500 welfare workers entered its eighth day.

County Welfare Director Eugene F. Burns placed a $1.1 million price tag on the wage demands of Local 1746, State, County and Municipal Employees Union which represents the strikers.

Al Bilik, assistant to the international union president, countered that the welfare workers were poorly paid and that they had a lot of catching up to do to reach a decent standard of living.

New York State Faces Problem Of Lotteries

People Voted To Allow Such Things To Be Conducted

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY

WASHINGTON (AP) — If and when New York State's proposed lottery gets into operation, it is unlikely to become a national institution like the great Louisiana lottery of the 19th century.

Or, if it does, it will be the result of sub rosa activity.

The reason: Federal law is now tough on the interstate promotion of lotteries. It places strict curbs on the dissemination of lottery news by radio, television or newspapers.

In the Nov. 8 election, New York State voters gave overwhelming approval to a proposal that the state operate a lottery to help finance education.

The 1967 Legislature will face the question of just how to carry out the idea.

Lotteries span many hundreds of years of history, from the drawing of prizes by lot during festivals put on by Roman emperors, down to the Irish Sweepstakes of today. The latter is legal only in Ireland but residents of 147 countries buy more than $40 million worth of tickets annually.

In this country, the Louisiana lottery created a stir in the post-Civil War era. Promoters engaged famous names to act as front men. For a while, the Confederate ex-general, Pierre Gustave Toutant Beauregard, held the post of manager.

As one federal authority on gambling puts it: "This lottery became a frankenstein monster, the real power in the state of Louisiana, with very undesirable results." The lottery closed down in 1894.

Seventy years elapsed before another state, New Hampshire, tried a lottery. This one, based on horse races and with the profits earmarked for education, has been operating since 1964, with diminishing returns.

The take thus far: 1964, $5.73 million; 1965, $3.9 million; 1966, $3.86 million. In the second year

Arguments Stand In Way Of Lie Detector Test For Jack Ruby

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Legal and medical arguments stand in the way of cancer-stricken Jack Ruby's attempts to take a lie detector test to convince the world that he killed Lee Harvey Oswald on an impulse, and not as part of a conspiracy.

A bulletin from Parkland Hospital here says Ruby's condition remains "stable," at serious.

Ruby, 55, has lost some 20 to 30 pounds since entering the hospital Dec. 9.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, asked Ruby's physicians Wednesday to decide if a valid lie detector test could be obtained from Ruby.

A hospital spokesman said any medical decision would have to be made after all legal parties—the Dallas district attorney's office, Ruby's attorneys and the courts—have completed consultations.

Ruby shot Oswald Nov. 24, 1963. He has sought the lie detector test to try to dispel any lingering doubts that he was part of a conspiracy when he killed Oswald, identified by the Warren Commission as President John F. Kennedy's assassin.

of the lottery an additional $617,000 was provided by a federal gambling tax refund.

The amount distributed to the schools was: 1964, $2.7 million; 1965, $2.5 million (including the tax refund); 1966, $1.85 million.

However, the lottery seemingly remains popular with New Hampshire voters. At the November 1966 election, 83.6 percent of them favored sales of the tickets in their communities.

Head Of Blue Cross Says Rate Increase Will Be Gradual One

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The president of Blue Cross of Western Pennsylvania says a 2.34 rate increase will be gradual, and the association will not reap the full benefits of the hike for about a year.

"It will be at least a year before we begin to be back in any kind of financially sound position," said William Ford in an interview Wednesday. "But the losses will not continue indefinitely. Now we have a plug in the bottom of the drain."

He said Blue Cross will lose another $1 million this year. Plans call for one-twelfth of the subscribers to receive higher rates on Feb. 1, with the others rising monthly by rotation. Then will begin an annual review of group rates and those having a higher usage rate will be assessed relatively higher rates.

In approving the rate changes Tuesday, state Insurance Commissioner Audrey Kelly ordered that Blue Cross rate adjustments be reviewed annually by the commission.

Van Deerlin To Ask For Investigation Of Adam C. Powell

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin now says he will ask for a congressional investigation of whether Rep. Adam Clayton Powell should be seated in the new Congress rather than seeking immediately to bar Powell.

During such a delay in his seating pending a probe, Powell, a New York Democrat, would be entitled to salary and other congressional privileges but not his vote.

Van Deerlin said he would ask the House speaker to appoint a nine-member committee for an investigation he said might take four to six months.

The California Democrat said Wednesday night in a telephone interview that the investigation would give Powell "a chance to purge himself — to relieve his status as a fugitive from justice."

China Has Exploded Nuclear Bomb

Atomic Weaponry Weakened Soviet, Chinese Friendship

By WILLIAM L. RYAN AP Special Correspondent

China has exploded another nuclear device and thrown yet another bomb into the rubble of Soviet-Chinese relations.

As much as any other one factor, atomic weaponry has contributed liberally to worsening relations between the two Communist giants and may yet be the element which makes the break complete and final.

With the latest explosion — Red China's fifth and its third this year — Peking issued a propaganda blast which said the success of these tests "is a heavy blow to U.S. imperialism and Soviet modern revisionism, which have been collaborating in a vain attempt to enforce their nuclear monopoly and sabotage the revolutionary struggles of all oppressed people and oppressed nations."

With each Red Chinese explosion Soviet nervousness has increased. This explosion, could be enough to push the Kremlin into a more active role in seeking peace in Vietnam, despite avowals from Moscow that the Soviet leaders will take no such initiative unless specifically asked by the North Vietnamese.

Moscow appears now to see in China's nuclear club membership a real threat of nuclear weapons spreading to other countries and of a world situation developing beyond the control of the two major nuclear powers.

Peking has vowed again and again to "break the nuclear monopoly" of the Soviets and the Americans, and has given the impression that it believes the more nations that get the bomb, the better. The official Peking People's Daily said recently that Red China "will never be party to the so-called nuclear nonproliferation treaty to deprive non-nuclear countries of their rights and injure the interests of the world's people."

As China grows more confident, Moscow grows more jittery. The danger is far closer to the U.S.S.R. than to the Western Hemisphere. And China, denied Soviet help since 1958 in the nuclear weapons field, grows more belligerent toward the Soviet leaders with each successful test.

Crews Ahead Of Snow In Local Area

Borough And Highway Men Doing A Marvelous Job

The steady accumulation of snow in the St. Marys area for the past week has been taken in stride by the St. Marys Borough Crew and the crews of the Penna. Dept. of Highways.

A check-up this morning revealed that the Highway Crews have been putting in more overtime this year than last, but they have not met with any major problems in keeping the roads in Elk and Cameron Counties open.

Highway men were out all night last night fighting the drifting, but they managed to keep the roads open to traffic at all times.

In St. Marys the Borough Crew was required to work on both Christmas Day and Monday, the legal observance of the holiday. They, too, have been required to work overtime in keeping the streets plowed.

The Borough Crew has been maintained and although it required the hauling of some snow it did not interfere with movement of traffic. The Borough Crew started a little earlier today and cleaned some of the main streets in the downtown area.

New and better equipment has been one of the major reasons that both the Borough and Highway crews have been able to keep ahead of the snow. The foresight of those in charge of these operations is beginning to pay off now.

Let's hope that the snow tapers off so that the Borough and Highway crews might have the opportunity to spend the two New Year's holiday days at their homes.

Navy Ordered Shrikes Worth $6.1 Million

Sources Say Missile Hasn't Worked Too Well in Vietnam War

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy has just ordered $6.1-million worth of Shrikes, the air-to-ground missile which, according to some reports, haven't worked too well in Vietnam.

Whether they work as intended, a Navy source said Thursday night, the fact remains that the demand for Shrikes in Vietnam exceeds the available supply.

A $4.4-million contract for Shrikes was let Wednesday to the Sperry Rand Corp., of Bristol, Tenn., along with a $1.7-million contract to Texas Instruments, Inc., of Dallas, Tex.

So far unofficial figures indicate $84.5 million has been spent on the 1,500-mile an hour Shrike. Official figures were not immediately available.

While the Navy is still buying Shrikes, reports are circulating in the Pentagon that contracts are being drawn for production of a Shrike replacement. The figure generally used is $90 million to $100 million.

The Shrike, which came into the combat inventory in 1965, is known as an antiradiation missile.

It is designed to home on the electronic beams emitted by the enemy's radar. This radar is used by the North Vietnamese to detect approaching aircraft and for controlling the aim of guns and missiles.

There have been reports that the Shrike, which is quite similar in design and appearance to the Sparrow II air-to-air missile, is confused when the enemy flicks his radar sets at multiple sites on and off.

To counter this tactic, the improved Shrike supposedly will have a memory built into it, one which will select a radar beam, plot its location and continue on course even though the target ceases transmissions. It will ignore beams from other sites.

The Shrike has a range of eight to 10 miles. The new antiradiation missile reportedly will have a range four to five times the Shrike's.

Still shrouded in secrecy is a follow-on missile known as HOGS — Homing Optical Guidance System. This will use a terrain map-matching technique.

The homing device on this missile will have terrain features built into its memory. When the missile matches the map with what it sees, it will plunge onto target.

Magician To Make Elephant Vanish On TV

Milbourne Hopes That Large Animal Can Get On Stage

By HENRIETTA LEITH
NEW YORK (AP) — A seven-foot-high elephant is going to vanish in a puff of smoke before the eyes of television viewers Sunday night.

This may sound impossible, but Milbourne Christopher, master magician, is not at all worried about whether he can "pull off this unprecedented illusion."

His only worried about whether he can get the elephant on the stage before he makes it vanish.

Christopher, who has mystified audiences around the world with somewhat less formidable feats of legerdemain, is co-producer as well as performer in an hour-long show of magic on a Garry Moore special on CBS.

If he can get the elephant on the stage — it took hours to figure out a way during rehearsals — he swears he will stand 14 feet away, fire a pistol and make the elephant — plainly seen behind slatted gates — vanish in a puff of smoke.

If he does, it will be the first time anyone ever did it on a brightly lit stage, and with a full-grown elephant in view.

Houdini did it in 1918 on the stage of the old Hippodrome Theater, but there were important differences.

"He did it on a dimly lit stage with a small elephant," explains Christopher, "and he put the elephant into a big box before he made it disappear."

Chen Yi Gives A Talk On Cultural Purges In China

Repeatedly Praised Mao-Tse-tung Who Had Turned Guards Loose

By ROBERT LIU
TOKYO (AP) — One day after his ouster was demanded by the Red Guards, Red Chinese Foreign Minister Chen Yi delivered a fiery speech Thursday praising the "cultural revolution" purge.

"The situation in the great proletarian cultural revolution in China is excellent," Chen told a Peking rally of 100,000 persons including Red Guards, the official New China News Agency reported.

Chen repeatedly praised Communist Chairman Mao Tse-tung, who with Defense Minister Lin Biao turned loose the young Red Guards last August to drive anti-Mao thinkers from public life.

Neither Mao nor Lin attended the rally. Premier Chou En-lai did but did not speak.

Red Guards attacked Chen, 65, Wednesday in posters criticizing him for unspecified "personal remarks" and demanding: "Kick Old Chen out."

The wife of the foreign minister, Chang Chien, a work committee deputy chief at a printing plant, was accused of restricting plant workers' campaigns and his son, Chen Shaolu, was accused of mistakes while serving as a member of a crop inspection team.

In his speech Chen said the main target of the purge "is the handful of people within the party who are in authority and are taking the capitalist road. They are as time bombs placed within our party."

He said the purge "has broken through the obstructions"

Many Workers Up For Wage Hikes In 1967

James R. Hoffa's Teamsters Union Leads Off Parade

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Some 7 million workers will be up for wage hikes in 1967 in new labor talks or previously negotiated contracts, and James R. Hoffa's Teamsters Union leads off the parade.

The Labor Department reports the round of major labor negotiations will be the biggest in recent years, covering airline pilots, auto workers, food processors, railroad employees and workers in textile, rubber, paper, telephone and many other industries.

The government's figures cover only contracts involving 1,000 or more workers and smaller cases will bring the total number of workers involved considerably higher.

Of the 7 million workers listed, more than 3 million will be involved in new contract talks and nearly 4 million will get wage increases negotiated earlier in long-term contracts.

Hoffa, starting negotiations next month for some 450,000 Teamsters under his union's national trucking contract, opens the first of the major new contract negotiations.

Reportedly planning to demand a 7 per cent hike in wages and fringe benefits, but possibly settling for 5 per cent, the Teamsters will set the tone for the size of expected 1967 labor demands.

Although wage settlements averaged 3.7 per cent in 1966, the pattern moved toward 5 per cent in the latter part of the year in major agreements covering airlines, mechanics and electrical industry workers.

The airlines suffered a six-week strike before that settlement, and the critical nature of many of next year's affected industries is expected to renew demands for antitrust legislation sounded by some during the airlines walkout.

The Labor Department reported that, with the past year's big hike in consumer prices, cost-of-living escalator demands have again become a prime labor goal.

Will Install New Bishop On March 7

Bishop Whealon Sixth Head Of Erie Diocese

The sixth Roman Catholic Bishop of Erie, The Most Reverend John F. Whealon, will be formally installed as head of the diocese in ceremonies Tuesday afternoon, March 7, and will take up residence in the Bishop's suite in St. Mary's Seminary.

He will maintain offices at the chancery in downtown Erie, but the recently retired Archbishop John Mark Gannon will remain undisturbed in his present quarters.

Bishop Whealon will be installed by Archbishop John J. Krol of Philadelphia, who, like Bishop Whealon, is a former Auxiliary Bishop of Cleveland. The ceremonies will begin at 3:30 p. m.

Archbishop Krol, long a friend of Bishop Whealon, was his former teacher when the Philadelphia prelate was on the faculty of the Cleveland Theological Seminary.

He will be the installing prelate, as the metropolitan of Pennsylvania, which is a province of the church embracing all eight dioceses of the Commonwealth.

Americans Look Forward To A Big New Year's Eve

People Will Pay From $50 To $100 To Dine And Dance

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
All signs point to a revelry boom New Year's Eve that could be the biggest in fun and money since World War II. You could pay anywhere from a buck to a hundred dollars for the night out.

Apparently ready to put aside serious thoughts of the war in Vietnam and other world and domestic tensions, many Americans seemed determined to make a big night of it. They want to celebrate and do their worrying Jan. 3," said Phil Miles, vice president of New York's Brody Corporation, which manages the Rainbow Room and the Rainbow Grill among other establishments.

Generally, prices will run about the same as last year, and in some instances slightly lower, an Associated Press sampling of night clubs, hotels and restaurants across the country showed.

Peter Redfearn, resident manager of the Hotel Clarendon in Berkeley, Calif., explaining why the hotel's Churchill Room cocktail party had been reduced from $10 a couple to $7.50, said: "You might call it tight money. We're trying to get them to loosen it up."

A spokesman at San Francisco's Hotel Fairmont, explaining why it is sticking to last year's price of $25 per person in the Venetian Room for dinner-dancing and $15 per person in the Tonga Room, said: "We could have raised prices and still filled the rooms. But many of the celebrants are those who come every year. So we're going to stick to the old price."

In Chicago, the top is $100 a couple, including tax and tip, at Maxim's de Paris in the Astor Tower Hotel. The price, the same as last year, includes a gourmet dinner with Russian a la carte, dancing, imported French favors and a luxury suite in which a champagne breakfast is served in bed.

"Or you can skip the suite and bubble in bed and pay only $50 a couple, or after 2 a. m. can have a special breakfast with dancing for $10 a couple plus tax and tip."

In New Orleans, prices will range from $25 per person at the Blue Room in the Roosevelt Hotel, where singer Nancy Ames is appearing, to $1 per person at Preservation Hall in the French Quarter where Negro bands play traditional Dixieland jazz. No drinks are sold at Preservation Hall and patrons must sit on benches.

Many big-name entertainers, including Juliet Prowse, Xavier Cugat, Mort Sahl, Jimmy Durante, Debbie Reynolds and Steve Lawrence and Eydie Gorme, are appearing in gambling casinos on Las Vegas Strip. You can get a look at them for $25 a head.

In some spots, dinner and dancing runs $10 and $15 a head, including favors and gifts for the ladies.

The Ambassador Hotel's Coconut Grove in Los Angeles is sold out. Singer Ella Fitzgerald is appearing there, and it will cost $29.50 a head for dinner, tax and gratuities, the same as last year. Drinks are extra.

For the first time in several years, many of the major hotel spots in Los Angeles are reported sold out. The average drink will cost from $1.25 to $1.50 in the better places.

Seeking Ways To Extend The Head Start Program

Johnson Would Like To Get It Beyond Preschool Days

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson is seeking ways to extend the Head Start program beyond preschool days.

This was disclosed Thursday night by the Texas White House in reporting that Sargent Shriver, director of the antipoverty program, had met with the President at the LBJ Ranch.

The Head Start program provides summer training for children. One of the criticisms of the program has been that it drops the educationally disadvantaged too soon.

Johnson and Shriver, the announcement said, reviewed the antipoverty program in general, with particular stress on the Head Start program.

Johnson and Llewellyn E. Thompson, another ranch visitor Thursday, reviewed U. S. Soviet relations. Thompson is due to reach Moscow Jan. 11 for his second tour as U. S. ambassador. He is replacing Roy D. Kohler, now deputy undersecretary of state for political affairs.

Military Funeral This Morning For Richard Schreiber

Full Military Rites Were Accorded

Full military rites were accorded Richard G. Schreiber, former local resident, this morning in conjunction with nine o'clock requiem mass in St. Mary's Church.

The retired Navy man passed away Monday night at the Altoona Veterans Hospital. Interment followed in the parish cemetery.

Rev. Father Charles Hatcher was mass celebrant. Father Pascal was deacon.

Members of the St. Marys Burial Detail were in charge of the military funeral.

Palbearers were Jack Dailey, George Eckert, Carl Dippold, Donald Lundy, Richard Bucheit and Jerome Cavalline.

Honor Guards were Francis Gettner and Fred Hillebrand, James Troha, Thomas Price and James Caruso made up the color bearers.

Taking part in the firing squad were Harold Seelye, Ted Kopp, Donald Fleming, Robert Laird, James Meredith and Richard Straub.

The marching detail was made up by Lee Stauffer, Walter Krieg, Herbert Straub, Martin Grunthner, Gene Kronenwetter.

William Herbst, Gerald Lenze, Kenneth Nesbitt, Harold Feldbauer, George Finfinger, Thomas Horvatin and Robert Pesce were also in the marching detail.

William Yost was in charge of the detail. Anthony Herbst was bugler.

The flag was presented to the next of kin by Martin Grunthner and Jack Dailey.

Relatives and friends were in attendance from Warren, O.; Mt. Jewett, Ridgway, Erie and Kersey.

American Legion To Conduct Program To Respect Law

HARRISBURG, Pa. — Joseph I. Harshman of Fredericktown, Commander of The American Legion of Pennsylvania, today announced the appointment of a five-member committee to direct the Legion's program of support for law and order within the state in cooperation with a nationwide project proclaimed by American Legion National Commander John E. Davis of Bismarck, N. D.

Members of the committee are: Dr. Willard Stevens, Chairman, Mt. Pleasant; Martin Fountain, Philadelphia; Rev. Joseph Witkowski, Charleroi; Donald McPherson, Hellertown; and Fred Werthenbach, Pittsburgh.

Commander Harshman said he would call upon every one of the state's 926 Legion Posts to actively participate in the program aimed at rejuvenating a proper respect for law enforcement agencies and officials and for our established system of government by law.

The American Legion, Commander Harshman said, has become increasingly concerned over a spiraling increase in crime rates, of massive outbreaks of civil disobedience and disorder, and a growing lack of respect for duly constituted authority.

VIETNAM

President Johnson's administration may be dominated by Vietnam war hawks in 1967. The U. S. Navy orders $6.1-million worth of Shrikes, the air-to-ground missile which, according to some reports, hasn't worked too well in Vietnam.

A general strike by Vietnamese flops, no major ground fighting is reported, bad weather curtails air attacks against North Vietnam.

Student leaders from 100 colleges and universities sign an open letter to President Johnson saying that the United States will find some of her most loyal young people choosing jail rather than fighting in Vietnam.

Firemen Appreciate No Alarms During Holiday Season

Fire Chief Gil A. Siecker stated today that he and members of Crystal Fire Department appreciate the fact that there were no fire alarms over the Christmas holidays.

"People," he said, "Apparently used pre-caution in setting up Christmas trees and other decorations and were careful with the burning of wrappings. This made a real Christmas present for the firemen."

He further stated, "Firemen are hopeful the same conditions will prevail over the New Year's holidays."

HELP NEEDED

JIM BISHOP: Reporter Expresses His Views...

WASHINGTON (AP) — The start of the new Congress will once again find the Senate caught up in a tussle over its antifilibuster rule.

As usual, the battle will stir up a lot of parliamentary dust likely to obscure what fundamental issues it also may put Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey — on a politically sticky spot.

The dispute is over Senate Rule 22 under which a two-thirds majority of senators voting is required to cut off debate. Once the rule is put into effect, each senator's speaking time is limited to one hour.

In its present form this closure (debate-closing) rule was adopted in 1959. It was largely the handiwork of Lyndon B. Johnson, then the Senate's Democratic leader, and represented a slight modification of an earlier rule requiring a two-thirds majority of the Senate membership to shut off a filibuster.

With the beginning of each new Congress since then, a bipartisan group of liberals has led a fight for a change that would permit cloture to be imposed by three-fifths or a majority of the Senate.

For years they have argued that the two-thirds rule blocked the passage of meaningful civil rights legislation, forced the watering-down of other controversial measures and encouraged paralyzing filibusters.

Southern senators led by Democratic Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia have been in the forefront of those opposing any further weakening of freedom of debate. For this reason the issue has taken on a civil rights coloration.

But Russell and other senators from outside the South have contended what is at stake is whether the Senate will be subjected to "gag rule."

Much of the steam was taken out of the fight for a change in Rule 22 two years ago by the passage in 1964 of the most comprehensive civil rights bill in the nation's history. A Southern filibuster against the measure was cut off by a 71-29 vote.

The argument that the two-thirds rule blocked enactment of meaningful civil rights measures was further weakened with the passage of the 1965 voting rights bill after a Dixie filibuster was halted by a 70-30 vote.

These were the first instances in which Rule 22 had been successfully invoked against civil rights measures, but it was a different story this year on the administration's open housing bill.

After the House passed the bill, the Senate killed it by twice refusing to put its antifilibuster rule into effect. The first vote was 54 for cloture and 42 against; the second, 52 for and 41 against.

This has fueled fresh demands for a change in the two-thirds rule, along with the inability at the last session to break a filibuster against a bill to repeal a section of the Taft-Hartley Act which permits states to ban the union shop.

Proponents of a change contend that at the start of a Congress a change in rules can be made by majority vote without having to muster a two-thirds majority to halt a filibuster. Opponents maintain the rules carry over.

In the new Congress convening Jan. 10 the issue may be put up to Humphrey as a senator was in the forefront of those battling to permit filibusters to be choked off by majority vote.

Inside WASHINGTON MARCH OF EVENTS
BOBBY BAKER TRIAL AN EXTRA HEADACHE
JANUARY LOOMS ORDEAL FOR PRESIDENT JOHNSON

By HENRY CATICART
Central Press Washington Writer
WASHINGTON — The potentially most embarrassing event of President Johnson's tenure in office will soon begin hitting the headlines. Robert G. Baker, the former secretary of the Senate majority, goes on trial in Washington on charges of fraud, theft and income tax evasion.

Bobby Baker was known as an intimate and a protégé of Johnson when he was the Senate Democratic leader. Baker was a stalwart ever-present aide when Johnson campaigned for the vice presidency in 1960.

Until Baker's activities became common knowledge, Johnson looked upon him almost as a son, although since that time the White House has tried to minimize the relationship and keep the President's name disconnected from that of the young man about to go on trial.

President Johnson is an extremely sensitive man. January is a difficult month for any president, what with congressional messages, official chores, and the usual press of White House work. This January will be a new high, or new low depending on how you gauge such things, for the White House staff members who work most intimately with the President.

Some of these staffers are looking ahead to that time with deep apprehension and concern, not only for themselves and their co-workers, but for the lasting damage that might occur to their chief.

Johnson already views much of the Washington press corps as being unduly critical of himself and his administration. January should do much to magnify his opinions. He could well emerge as a man who, like President Hoover, felt finally that he had nothing but enemies in the press.

MOYERS' POLITICAL FUTURE — Most people who know Bill Moyers believe that the day will come when he will reappear on the Washington official scene.

Moyers quit as the White House press secretary to become publisher of Newsday on Long Island, one of the nation's most promising newspaper properties.

Moyers has made no secret of his ambition to hold public office. In fact, there are reports that he would have stayed on in the administration if Johnson had offered him a high Cabinet post—the job of secretary of State was suggested to Johnson by one individual who had tied directly to President Johnson, he nevertheless is known to be an excellent terms with New York Sen. Robert F. Kennedy. As Kennedy moves ahead to solidify his leadership in the New York state Democratic Party, the presence of Moyers in his constituency will be a constant factor in the selection of likely candidates for federal elective offices.

There is a great likelihood that circumstances may combine to bring Moyers back into the political arena, and back to Washington as a congressman, or senator, from New York.

An Inspiration To All People
The resignation of Archbishop John Mark Gannon as Bishop of the Erie Catholic Diocese prompts mixed feelings, not only among members of the diocese itself, but among persons of all faiths.
For although the lessening of his duties and responsibilities must be considered richly earned — with 65 years as a priest and 48 of those years as a Bishop — we must also express profound regret at the stepping aside of a man who has won so great a measure of love and respect through so many decades.
Archbishop Gannon has carved a vast record of accomplishment in more than the spiritual boundaries of his diocese—for the effects of his good work and his good life have been distinctly felt in the secular geographical area encompassed by the diocese. And far beyond, we might add.

It would be impossible to list completely his good deeds, his concrete achievements, and his spiritual leadership. He has excelled in all of these.

If two specific factors were to be selected as keystones of Archbishop Gannon's distinguished career, we would select these: the founding and development of Gannon College, and the fostering of an ecumenical approach.

In relatively few years, Gannon College has registered consistent growth and improvement, to the point where it is not only a fine educational institution but an integral element in community life.

The ecumenical thinking of Archbishop Gannon, furthermore, has provided significant impetus toward unprecedented amity and cooperation among citizens of many faiths—a movement which cannot help but improve the world in which we live.

Erie and its surrounding areas have been far, far better places because of the tenure of Archbishop Gannon. He had been more than a leader—he has been a kind, devoted, Godly man.

One of his perceptive observations, during the course of his leadership, concerned success: "Real success, be it remembered, consists primarily in rounding out one's life according to the purposes and plans of the Infinite Creator. Success in this life will ultimately be measured by the achievement of eternal life in the next world. Any other end for man is folly."

Archbishop John Mark Gannon is a supremely successful man. —Erie Morning News.

TODAY'S BUSINESS MIRROR

By JOHN T. CUNIFF
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The new York's patent laws, devised in an earlier age and badly outdated in the era of technology, are in for a change.

In the United States, the patent system has remained essentially unchanged since 1836.

It now takes more than two years to obtain a patent, a period in which the presumably new information contained in the application may be hidden from the world.

The issuance of the patent may be only the beginning of problems. Applications must be filed in other countries too. And then costly court litigation might ensue.

The possibility also exists that after the patent is obtained it may lay idle and unnoticed, for searching patent files can be a tedious and unrewarding job. About 650,000 applications are filed throughout the world each year.

Such conditions are wearing raw the nerves of scientists, corporations, lawyers and even diplomats and has prompted a presidential report, now being studied by the Commerce Department, that would make basic changes in our law.

One is a suggestion to simplify protection by use of a single document recognized throughout the world. In some countries, even today, no provision is made for patent filing. In others, restrictions are prohibitive.

Another recommendation would lengthen the life of a patent from the present 17 years to 20 years from the date of filing. And another would simplify the preliminary application so an inventor rather than a lawyer could file it.

The biggest patent problems today, however, may be in the exchange of information within and among countries. Modern technology has made the means available through electronics, satellites and computers. But laws and procedures do not exist.

As matters now stand, separate filings are necessary in different countries to protect the same idea. The presidential panel urged more reciprocity.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Don Adams, the flat-voiced sleuth of "Get Smart," is the kind of a comedian who draws laughs from his wife even when he's deadly serious.

Recently he telephoned his wife from a hospital and told her: "Darling, there's been an accident. I've broken my nose." Mrs. Adams burst out laughing. When her husband grew indignant she explained that her alarm over his mention of an "accident" was so relieved by news of the broken nose that she felt impelled to laugh.

The accident to Adams was no joke to NBC and Talent Associates, which has an investment of millions riding on the comedian. Like only a few other stars—Lucille Ball, Andy Griffith, Jim Nabors—Adams is virtually irreplaceable in his television series, since his personality is so firmly imprinted on it.

Fortunately for all concerned, Adams is recovering from the accident, with no apparent damage to his face or to his inimitable voice.

How did it happen? "We were rehearsing a fight scene on a building that was under construction," he said. "I had gone through my scene a couple of times, then I stepped back while a couple of actors rehearsed their fight."

"I wanted to figure out where I would stand, and I turned around to see the position of a girder. I walked right into a punch. All at once the stars and rockets started going off and I couldn't feel a thing on my nose because it was so shattered. The pain was in my eye, and I was convinced that was where he hit me."

The comic was taken from the studio to a nearby hospital and a plastic surgeon was summoned. A one-hour operation put the nose back together, and Adams remained hospitalized for eight days. Production on the series was suspended indefinitely. His nose is still bandaged, but he expects to be back in his J. Maxwell Smart form by the time the series resumes filming next week.

Celebrate New Year's By Leaving Your Car At Home

Takes 1 Hr. To Work 1 Oz. Alcohol Out Of One's Blood Stream

One thought to keep tucked in the brain tissue while celebrating the New Year is that alcohol reaches the grey matter long before it affects the body.

And nothing save time will make a person less drunk—one hour for one ounce of alcohol to be exact. Coffee and alkalizers will ease the symptoms, but car do nothing chemically to counteract the amount of alcohol in the blood stream.

All this becomes more meaningful when studied in direct relation with traffic, accidents many of them fatal, during the New Year season of merriment, according to the Pennsylvania Bureau of Traffic Safety.

It indicates that the "drinking" driver, seemingly sober in all respects is just as likely to have an accident as the drunken driver. . . more likely some believe, because the degree of sobriety reduces concern.

Its all a matter of facts and when poured out for consumption by the public, evaporate to one concrete nugget — don't drive when you drink.

According to J. Stanley Smith, M. D., of the Pennsylvania Health Department, studies involve "boose"—whiskey blends, expensive Scotch, fancy brandy or rot-gut—all of which effect the human body in much the same way . . . too much, and you're smashed.

That is because alcohol consumed under any other name is ethyl alcohol (ethanol) and is absorbed into the blood stream directly. Because it is a simple chemical substance it does not go through the slow process of digestion, but moves directly from the stomach and small intestines into the blood in all its purity.

It's somewhat like taking an injection. Once in the blood stream, ethyl alcohol is metabolized (Oxygenated) at a constant rate, one ounce per hour, regardless of the concentration.

In bent-elbow jargon, that means it takes the body three hours to counteract three shots of whiskey whether they're needed in 15 minutes or three hours.

That explains the social drinker who can imbibe all night without becoming intoxicated. Drinking even one martini (about two ounces of ethyl alcohol) in one hour for eight hours would never allow an intoxicating amount of ethyl alcohol into the blood stream at any given time. Imagine what downing eight martinis in one hour would do.

But there are other factors. For example, a 240 pound man has a lot more blood than a 100 pound woman and can therefore drink more before his blood stream absorbs the same percentage of ethyl alcohol. That means the little woman can drink only one highball with one ounce of ethyl alcohol to remain in the non-intoxicating category (below .05 per cent) while her burly husband can have three.

The second highball consumed within the hour will put the woman into the danger stage (.05 to .15 per cent), and the fourth in one hour would result in serious intoxication (over .15 per cent). The 240 pounder could have up to eight one ounce drinks to remain in the danger stage. Reduce the number of drinks by half for martinis.

But everyone knows when he's drunk. And in case they don't Pennsylvania state law clarifies the situation by establishing .15 per cent ethyl alcohol in the blood stream as an unlawfully intoxicating amount.

It's the middle group that poses a real threat. The danger stage, that which releases .05 to .15 per cent ethyl alcohol into the blood stream, places the driver in a rosy dream world of "shatsamatta withya Ikin Grive."

Without giving the external symptoms of drunkenness ethyl alcohol consumed to .05-15 per cent of the blood stream affects the driver by 1) decreasing visual and auditory acuity, 2) retarding thought processes, and 3) increasing chance for error.

Tuck that into the cravices this New Year along with this knowledge: Caffeine and alkalizers bring about relief to symptoms, but in no way reduce or change the amount of alcohol in the blood stream.

The cup of coffee can help a driver by making him more alert because caffeine is a stimulant, but it does not make him sober. An alkalizer reduces the amount of stomach acids, and in no way affects the amount of ethyl alcohol in the blood stream.

The Pennsylvania Bureau of Traffic Safety emphasizes: No matter how you tilt it, you get drunk when you drink. Celebrate the New Year by leaving your car at home.

Titusville Makes Bids To Expand

Redevelopment Of Central City Being Planned

Much has been written about the migration of people from rural areas to large cities. At the same time considerable attention has been focused on the problems of large cities concerning congestion, air pollution, blight and crime.

Perhaps a more dramatic story is the putting small city—fighting to keep abreast of the times and meeting the keen competition for people, industry and other resources among the towering giant urban centers.

Titusville, Pennsylvania, the birthplace of the oil industry, is on the threshold of a new era. A clean, small and friendly city, it is looking forward to the rebuilding of an important part of the central core of the downtown business district.

For a city with a population of under ten thousand people, Titusville, has had some significant events in the last several years—the establishment of the University of Pittsburgh at Titusville, a twenty-five million dollar expansion and modernization program at Universal Cyclops Steel Corporation, one of the city's principal employers and the expansion of the Titusville Airport which is expected to be the forerunner of scheduled commercial flights. Things like this simply do not happen.

They are the result of the leadership in the community and the faith of the people that a small city has an important role to play in the 21st Century and at the same time offers many amenities of living that are difficult to find or duplicate in large metropolitan centers.

Major Industry Employs 6,035 In St. Marys

Employment in the Elk and Cameron County area increased during the month of November, announced A. F. Williams, Manager of the St. Marys Office of the Bureau of Employment Security.

In November 1966, there were 10,482 persons employed in major market industries in the two-county area. (Over 50 employees is considered a major market industry). Of this November 1966 figure, there were 8,257 employed in Elk County with 6,035 in St. Marys, 764 in Ridgway and 71,458 in Johnsonburg. A total of 2,225 were employed in major industries in Cameron County.

November 1965 showed a total of 9,564 persons employed in Elk and Cameron Counties. Of this amount 5,562 were employed in St. Marys, 757 in Ridgway and 1,411 in Johnsonburg. The Cameron County total was 1834.

In November the St. Marys Office processed 147 new applications for work, administered 11 counseling interviews, 2 proficiency tests and contacted 102 employers.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Today is Friday, Dec. 30 the 364th day of 1966. There is one day left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1903, the Iroquois Theater in Chicago was destroyed by fire. Some 583 persons lost their lives in that blaze.

On this date: In 1853, the Gadsden Purchase was made by a treaty with Mexico. The United States acquired what is now the southern part of New Mexico and Arizona for $15 million.

In 1865, the English author Rudyard Kipling was born. In 1943, U.S. Marines captured the airfield at Cape Gloucester, New Britain.

In 1945, military authorities in Berlin made public copies of Adolf Hitler's last will and his marriage contract with Eva Braun. Ten years ago—the Hungarian Communist government, in response to an Indian government statement that 25,000 Hungarians and 7,000 Russians were killed in Budapest during the November uprising against communism, said that no more than 2,000 Hungarians lost their lives in the revolution.

Five years ago—Administration sources said President John F. Kennedy believes the year 1967 produced few Communist gains and some encouraging signs for the West. But, the sources added, in the President's view there was no significant easing of East-West tensions.

One year ago—Gemini 7 astronauts Frank Borman and James A. Lovell Jr., who stayed in space a record 14 days earlier in the month, told newsmen they feel there is no limit on how long man can exist in space.

TWINS III—Mr. and Mrs. John McMaster of Portage, Ind., don't look too steamed up about their new twins in a hospital in Valparaiso, Ind., and that's understandable because Timmy and Tammy are their third set, making nine children in the family.

13-STEEL RECORDS

NEW YORK (AP) — The editor of a leading steel industry publication says industry production records set in 1966 will not be matched in 1967.

14-NEW RECORDS

Gene Beaudet, editor of Iron Age magazine, made the prediction Thursday.

"There has been nothing like this year's surprising production record in all history," Beaudet said. The 1966 records were generated by booming consumer demand and increased steel needs for the Vietnam war, he added.

Beaudet predicted production would slump from the more than 134 million tons estimated for 1966 to around 128 tons in 1967. He said however that even at that rate "1967 will still be a good steel production year by any standard."

Hal Boyle Says...

AP Columnist

By JOY MILLER AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — New Year's Eve is the best time of year for brooding and self-pity, says one of the world's foremost masochists.

"An annual orgy of self-flagellation," Dan Greenburg calls the holiday in somber appreciation.

Greenburg, a lantern-jawed young man of 30 with the most mournful face this side of a dyspeptic bloodhound, is the author — with Marcia Jacobs — of the training manual "How To Make Yourself Miserable."

One of the good things about New Year's Eve, Greenburg points out, is that you can start dreading it just as soon as Thanksgiving is over, giving you more than a month of unalloyed misery.

He ticks off what you can look forward to: "1. The inevitable impossibility of obtaining reservations at any good restaurant or show."

"2. The prospect of being repeatedly jostled by drunken revelers or maimed by drunken drivers."

"3. The humiliation of paying $15 to $30 per person for a glass of cheap champagne, an imitation TV dinner and two dime-store party favors."

If you're single, as Greenburg is, you are permitted the additional anxiety that you'll end up with a date you'll be embarrassed to be seen with. Or maybe you won't be able to get one at all.

Last New Year's Eve, Marcia fixed Dan up with a blind date who spent the entire evening saying how accident-prone she was.

"I was afraid to get close to her," he recalls. "Then we went to a party with wall-to-wall people, who kept telling each other what a great time they were having. It was awful."

Naturally he is suffering immeasurably as this year's great night draws near.

But he has the same alternatives as everyone else: "1. Deliberately ostracize yourself from your friends and be miserable alone, or"

"2. Put on a funny hat and drink too much with the rest of the group, postponing your brooding till the following day, when you will have ample opportunity to regret your behavior and be sick."

Greenburg finds New Year's Day an especially rewarding time for brooding if unrealistic goals are incorporated in New Year's resolutions, such as finding the perfect mate, the perfect job, writing the great American novel, and getting even

By CYNTHIA LOWRY AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — NBC has been televising the annual Tournament of Roses parade for the past 15 years. CBS got into the act about a decade ago, and next Monday, ABC will have its own color cameras, too, on the scene. This kind of three-network coverage is the sort of thing usually reserved for space shots.

The logical question would seem to be why all this concentration on one parade sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce of a city which is a Los Angeles suburb.

A valid answer is hard to come by. But it seems to be the one used to explain why men try to climb Mount Everest. Because it is there — and it is also there on a day when most families are at home taking life easy. Betty White, who will once again preside over NBC's broadcast, describing the floats, identifying the bands and admiring the horseflesh for the 14th year in a row, thinks the Rose Parade gets so much attention "because it is unique in its field — more like a huge extravaganza than a parade."

Paul Levitan, CBS special events director in charge of parade coverage, says it is because "everybody loves a parade — the bands, the excitement." In fact, he envisions a time when, with the help of satellites, parade-hungry Americans can see live coverage of Bastille Day celebrations in Paris, the fiesta of flowers in Barcelona, even Chinese New Year in Hong Kong.

The parade involves a lot of work for the on-camera people, Betty White says. On Saturday she and some 100 NBC people will attend a four-hour production meeting to receive their instructions. On Sunday there is a long rehearsal for the commercials and to get acquainted with the descriptions of the floats printed on large cardboard cue cards.

NBC's "Projection, 67" Thursday night was a short year-end wrap-up that seemed more of a stunt to use both the Atlantic and Pacific that sparked the previous communications satellites than a meaningful look behind and ahead. The half hour show taped earlier in the day had Frank McGee in New York with two newsmen in Tokyo and one in London engaged in monologues on the state of the Far East and Europe. In spite of the satellite gimmick, it was a rather dull program, completely lacking the lively exchanges that spark the previous night's ABC year-end show.

Crusaders Will Play In Ridgway Tonight At Eight

Elk Christian May Even Out Record For Year

By JEFF and JESS
Hoping to even up their record tonight and spark a new winning streak, the Crusaders of Elk Christian travel to the home of the Elkers this evening to do battle on the hardwood. To date the Crusaders possess a 2-3 record, losing to Venango, Erie Prep and Johnsonburg, while defeating Kane and Clearfield. The Elkers holding a 2-5 record are hoping to come back after a humiliating 83-36 defeat at the hands of the Emporium Raiders. Losing to Kane and Emporium (twice), the Elkers have also split with Smethport and Otto Township.

Decision In Case Of Boy Suspended From Athletics Is Delayed
CLARION, Pa. (AP)—A Clarion County judge has delayed a decision in the case of a high school junior suspended from scholastic athletics by the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association.

The PIAA asked for the delay Thursday after Judge Lloyd E. Weaver heard arguments in the case. The association said it needs more time to prepare a brief. The PIAA suspended Chet Ekard of Clarion High School after classifying him as a professional for playing in a basketball tournament in which members of the winning team received a $25 U.S. savings bond. Ekard received no money. Weaver has issued a temporary injunction setting aside the association's ruling.

West Winner Koufax To Do Last 3 Shrine Bowl Games For A Living

NEW YORK (AP)—Sandy Koufax has found a job that will be less of a strain on his poor left arm than his former position was, but now he'll have to worry about laryngitis.

The retired Los Angeles Dodger pitching star Thursday signed a 10-year contract with the National Broadcasting Co., calling for him to do broadcasting and other work for the network.

Koufax quit his $125,000 job with the Dodgers in November after winning 27 games, the winningest season in his 11-year career, because of arthritis in his left elbow.

Salary terms of his new job were not revealed, but it is thought the job will pay him something less than the Dodgers did last year. One report had him receiving $100,000 a year.

In Los Angeles, Koufax said, "It sounds great. I'm all excited at the chance to stay close to baseball. It's a fresh start, and I just hope it continues."

NBC said Koufax, 31 years old today, will be involved in both radio and television work and besides doing color commentary on sports events, he will be involved in initiating program ideas, developing talent for the network and working on special projects.

Koufax, the National League's Most Valuable Player once and three times the Cy Young Award winner, set a record with 382 strikeouts in 1965. He pitched four no-hit games and led the Dodgers to three pennants and two World Series victories.

Steelers Signed End And Punter Jerry Marion

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League say they have signed end and punter Jerry Marion of the University of Wyoming.

The Steelers drafted Marion No. 10 as a junior. He was also drafted by the Boston Patriots of the American Football League and turned down an offer from the Houston Astros baseball team, the Steelers said.

Marion was named to the All-Western Conference team this year after catching 36 passes for more than 700 yards and scoring eight touchdowns.

Alabama, third-ranked nationally and with the only major perfect record in the country, runs a 7 1/2 to 9 1/2 favorite over the massive, hard-running Midwesterners who swept to nine straight victories before losing 10-9 to Oklahoma in the last game of the season.

OFFENSE VERSUS DEFENSE—National Football League title playoff game Jan. 1, between the defending champs, the Green Bay Packers, and the Dallas Cowboys, pits the stingiest team, Green Bay, against the highest scoring team, Dallas. The Packers gave up only 163 points while the Cowboys led the league in scoring with 441 points in 14 games. Only individual league leader is Bart Starr, the Packer quarterback, who gained 8.99 yards per pass. The Packer rushing star is fullback Jim Taylor, who piled up 705 yards, while Dallas is led by Dan Reeves who had 757.

Eight Football Games On TV Over Weekend

Saturday And Monday
It's College Teams, On Sunday It's The Pros
By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

First television invented the National Drivers Test and then it followed up with the National Health Test. National Citizenship Test and a bunch of others.

This weekend the network moguls have come up with what is surely the most awe-inspiring test of all — the National Television Football Watching Test.

From noon Saturday until almost midnight Monday, (Eastern Standard Time) the American football fan will be able to discover his true feelings toward the little box in the living room. He will be able to watch, almost entirely without channel switching, eight "count 'em eight — football games."

Saturday, there is the Gator Bowl (Tennessee-Syracuse) on ABC at noon, the Cotton Bowl (Georgia-Southern Methodist) on CBS at 2:30 p.m. and the Shrine Game (East-West) on NBC at 4:30 p.m.

Sunday, the pros take over with the AFL Championship game (Buffalo-Kansas City) at 1 p.m. on NBC and the NFL title game (Green Bay-Dallas) on CBS at 4:30 p.m.

Monday, it's back to the colleges. First the Sugar Bowl (Alabama-Nebraska) on NBC at 2 p.m. Then the Rose Bowl (Purdue-Southern California) on NBC at 5 p.m. and finally the Orange Bowl (Georgia Tech-Florida) at 8 p.m. on NBC.

At the Gator Bowl in Jacksonville, Fla., it was the passing of Tennessee's Dewey Warren against the running of Syracuse's Floyd Little and Larry Csonka.

During the regular season, Tennessee was 7-3 and Syracuse 8-2.

Chiefs Bring Pass-Catching Act To Buffalo

AFL Championship Game Will Be Played There On Sunday
By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP)—The Bumper and the Dodger will be out to steal the show when Kansas City's Otis Taylor and Chris Burford bring the No. 1 pass-catching act in the American Football League into Buffalo for Sunday's championship game.

That's the way Butch (the Bumper) Byrd and Tom (the Dodger) Janik sized up the play within the playing that might very well determine the outcome of the test of strength that will send either the Chiefs or the defending champion Bills into the Super Bowl game.

Byrd likely will draw the assignment of covering Taylor, the fleet flanker who grabbed 58 passes for 1,297 yards during the regular season, while Janik probably will be matched against Burford, the experienced split end who also grabbed 58 passes and gained 758 yards.

"Taylor has size, speed, good hands and good moves," said Byrd.

"So what I'll be trying to do is pick him up as he comes off the line. We'll probably collide and bump a couple of times but I've got to play him real aggressively — and that might offset some of his ability."

Byrd, at an even 6-feet, weighs about 215 pounds compared to Taylor, who goes 6-foot-2 and is also 215. But while they figure to be bumping, Janik, 6-feet-3 and only 185 pounds, figures to be using different tactics against the 6-foot-3 210-pound Burford.

"I'm always giving away weight so this won't be any different," said Janik. "Burford really fights for the ball — he'll kill you fighting for the ball."

"I'll have to be a Dodger and dodge him if I can. I'll have to use more finesse."

Lakers Scored 125-114 Win Over Cincinnati

Baylor Poured In 40 Points While West Collected 35
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Elgin Baylor and Jerry West are on the move, and that could mean an unhappy new year for the Western Division teams in the National Basketball Association that are counting on a continuation of the surprisingly poor showing thus far by the Los Angeles Lakers.

In Cincinnati Thursday night, Baylor poured in 40 points and West came up with 35 for the biggest combined total the Lakers' 1-2 punch has had this season. Los Angeles won 125-114.

Los Angeles is still in fifth place in the West, 10 games behind the division-leading San Francisco Warriors, but the Lakers are closing in on the rest of the division for that fourth playoff spot. They are just three games behind second-place St. Louis, two in back of Detroit and half a game behind Chicago.

Bob Ward Returns To His Alma Mater To Be Named As Head Coach

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Bob Ward, the University of Maryland's first All-America football player, was expected to return as a big man on campus today and be named head coach of his alma mater.

The naming of Ward had been expected since it was confirmed earlier in the week that he had been the only candidate for the post interviewed twice by a screening committee.

Pennsylvania Boy Leading Orange Bowl Golf Tourney
MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Jim Simons, Pennsylvania high school champ, held a one-stroke lead today going into the second round in the Orange Bowl Junior Golf Tournament.

Simons, 16-year-old from Butler who won the PGA junior championship Wednesday, fired five birdies Thursday for a two-under-par 69 on the Biltmore course to lead a field of 174.

Mike Quackenbush of Fort Lauderdale was second with a 70, and Terry Diehl of Rochester, N.Y., followed with a 71.

Tied at 72 were J.C. Hoehl Jr. of Miami and Tony Haderer of Miami.
Simons, who won the 14-15 year division in this tournament last year, bogeyed three holes.

AP State Spotlight

By WILLIAM E. DEIBLER HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Liquor Control Board didn't wait until New Year's Day to make a resolution—last March, it resolved to declare open warfare on teen-age drinkers in Pennsylvania's licensed taverns.

Ten months later, board officials say they believe they have won the war.

"For all practical purposes, we have driven the teen-age drinkers out of Pennsylvania's licensed taverns," Abraham D. Cohn, board chairman, reported recently to Gov. Scranton.

The board's chief weapon in the war against minors has been teams of enforcement officers assigned to night patrol duty to check licensed places in each of the board's nine enforcement districts.

Since March, the patrols have operated every night except Sunday. They have checked more than 2,500 taverns every week—more than 100,000 checks in all—and arrested 183 minors for drinking. Moreover, 80 license holders or their employees were fined for serving minors.

Although the "night patrol" designation might connote secrecy, enforcement officers assigned to patrol duty don't function as undercover sleuths. They operate openly and identify themselves as board officials as soon as they enter a tavern.

Patrol duty is unglamorous, unexciting and, hopefully, uneventful. Officers assigned to patrol duty need a hardy constitution, sturdy legs and a sense of humor—and sometimes a warm pair of boots.

On a recent patrol in the Harrisburg area, two officers trudged through alternating rain, sleet and snow to check 36 taverns and restaurants in six hours. They failed to find a single minor.

"That shows that our patrols are paying off," one officer said. "Several months ago, you would have found teen-agers in several of these bars. We still find a few, but in general, the teen-agers are gone."

Most tavern owners reacted coolly to the program at first, the officers said, but now many of them support it enthusiastically.

"Many of them tell us that this is the best enforcement program the board has ever come up with," an officer said. "The honest businessman has a lot of money invested in his license, and he realizes that this program is protecting him."

When the officers enter a tavern, one immediately shows his credentials to the bartender and asks to see the establishment's license. The second officer makes a quick inspection of the interior, stopping to ask any patron who looks under age for his identification.

They frequently take the time to tell youthful looking patrons that they can avoid potentially embarrassing situations in the future by obtaining an AID card—Adult Identification Card—from the board. Such cards are the only legal identification a tavern owner is compelled to accept, they explain.

AID applications are available in any licensed establishment. Although the officers are looking primarily for violations of the law by persons under the age of 21, they also check for other violations of the state's liquor laws.

One of his customers has had enough to drink, point out that the lighting fails to meet board specifications, or that the establishment doesn't have the minimum number of seats—30—required by law.

While the officers usually receive a cordial welcome from tavern owners and bartenders, customer reaction ranges from good-natured insults to sullen silence.

"Cops," an elderly man in a plaid lumberjacket says loudly to no one in particular. "It takes two of 'em to carry one clipboard." He takes another sip of beer and mumbles something under his breathe.

"Hey, you guys look like a couple of Al Capone's boys," a young man in a turtleneck sweater says. "Why don't you wear a hat with a narrower brim? That one makes you look like a hood."

"It keeps you dry on a night like this," the officer replies with a grim.

"How's come you come out on a night like this?" the young man asks.

"I like my job," the officer replies.

In other bars, the customers sit in silence and stare at the officers as they go about their inspection tour. They make little effort to mask their animosity.

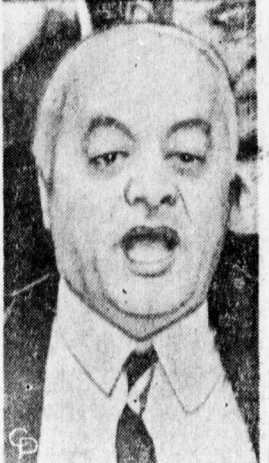

But the officers point out that they aren't out to win any popularity contests, only do their job.

"You get used to the insults," one said. "Most of them are good-natured. When everybody's in a good humor, there's nothing to be concerned about. You can sense when you're in for a rough time. On a hot, sultry night when some of the patrons are in an ugly mood... well, that's a different story."

Patrol duty isn't a full-time job for most of the officers. The two who made the Harrisburg check had worked a full eight-hour shift at board headquarters before starting the patrol, and they were scheduled for another shift in the office the next day.

Most officers, regardless of their other duties, are assigned to patrol work two evenings a week. Others are assigned to full-time patrol work for two weeks at a time.

But as some political veterans here note with a wry smile, this is at least the third new order of Indonesia. Every new government that comes along under Sukarno calls itself the new order.

Sukarno, who has seen a host of new cabinets during his stormy reign, has grandly ignored all this. He is, as he recently proclaimed, the original order.

The talk of order—and disorder—points up the strange power struggle.

Indonesia is led by two men who smile fondly at each other in public but are privately fighting desperately to gain firm control.

On one side, President Sukarno is fighting for his own political life.

On the other side is army strong man, Gen. Suharto, leader of the group seeking to remove Sukarno's influence and even Sukarno himself if possible.

Removing Sukarno, who is still revered by millions of Indonesians as their great revolutionary leader, is not easily done.

Some diplomatic and Indonesian sources believe Suharto might have removed Sukarno seven months ago without too much difficulty.

Now they believe Sukarno has managed to marshal more support. More importantly, he is playing one force against the other with enough success to keep his opposition off balance.

Many men in influential positions owe their jobs to Sukarno and he doesn't let them forget it. Many more are sitting on the fence to see which way the ball bounces.

But the campaign against Sukarno, which slackened noticeably during the past two months, is gaining momentum again.

State May Produce Biggest Wheat Crop Since Year 1958

HARRISBURG (AP)—Farmers in Pennsylvania planted 497,000 acres of winter wheat this fall, an increase of 20 per cent over last year. And, based on Dec. 1 conditions, wheat production is forecast at 16,898,000 bushels, which would be the state's biggest wheat crop since 1958.

The figures were contained in a report issued Thursday by the State Crop Reporting Service.

The service added that nationwide winter wheat planting is up 26 per cent over last year, and production is forecast at 1.3 billion bushels, the largest in U. S. history.

By T. JEFF WILLIAMS

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—President Sukarno recently grumbled to a palace guest: "What is all this talk of new order and old order? There is no order in Indonesia."

Even Sukarno's sharpest critics tend to agree with the 65-year-old president's summation of the confused political scene.

The question of order in this huge Southeast Asian nation is constantly voiced by political leaders and emphasized in headlines.

But few can say what it really means. Sukarno is judged by the government now in power to be the supreme representative of the old order, meaning the previous Communist-influenced government.

The new order is meant to be the anti-Sukarno students and those in step with the present leadership.

But as some political veterans here note with a wry smile, this is at least the third new order of Indonesia. Every new government that comes along under Sukarno calls itself the new order.

Sukarno, who has seen a host of new cabinets during his stormy reign, has grandly ignored all this. He is, as he recently proclaimed, the original order.

Scotty Kenton Plans To Shoot Off Fireworks

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Scotty Kenton plans to shoot off fireworks atop snow-capped Pike's Peak New Year's Eve, then dive into the icy waters of a Colorado Springs lake within 12 hours.

Kenton, 41, a Boy Scout executive, is a new member of the AdAmAn Club which annually climbs the mountain to celebrate the new year with fireworks. The climb starts today.

He has arranged for an automobile to drive him back to Colorado Springs to join fellow members of the Colorado Gypsy Diving Club in their traditional new year festivities—breaking the ice on Prospect Lake and diving to the bottom.

Woman Killed And 6 Others Hurt In Three Car Pileup

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A woman was killed and six others persons were injured Thursday night in a collision involving three cars in suburban Sewickley.

Police said a car operated by Melvin Smith, 40, of New Brighton, Beaver County, ran a red light on the Ohio River Boulevard near the Sewickley bridge and hit two other cars.

Mrs. Harry Beightley, 33, of Baden R. D. 1, Beaver County, died in the emergency room of Sewickley Valley Hospital.

She was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, the second car hit by Smith's car, police said.

Beightley, 35, and his two children, April, 5, and Harry, 2, were among four persons admitted to the hospital. None was in serious condition. Two others were treated and released.

Three Teen-agers Stranded On Island Flown To Safety

LIVERPOOL, Pa. (AP)—Three teen-agers, stranded on an island on the Susquehanna River near this Perry County community after ice floes damaged their rowboat, were flown to safety Thursday by a helicopter from Olmsted Air Force Base.

Civil Defense officials said the youths, Allen Smith, 17, David Sheaffer, 17, and his brother William, 15, all of Liverpool, rowed out to the island Wednesday and spent the night in a wooden cabin.

Officials said when the boys began the trip home, heavy ice floes began to break up their boat, and they were forced to turn back.

The helicopter lowered a basket hoist to lift the boys into the craft one by one.

Winter White Wedding This Morning

Miss Doreen Meyer Became Bride Of Robert McCartan

St. Mary's Church was the scene of a beautiful winter wedding this morning when Miss Doreen A. Meyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold J. Meyer of Monroe Road, and Robert K. McCartan exchanged vows.

The triple-ring ceremony was performed during 10 o'clock nuptial mass by Fr. Kieran O. S.B. The altar was beautifully decorated with poinsettias. Miss Marilyn Kronenwetter was organist.

The bride, in a floor-length white velvet gown with detachable white tulle train, was given in marriage by her father. The neckline, waist and sleeves were detailed with re-embroidered roses. She wore a matching velvet bridal hat with bouffant veil and carried a bouquet of white roses centered with a red poinsettia.

Wearing floor-length flame-colored velvet gowns with satin detail and matching fur and velvet hats were the bride's attendants, Miss Carol Meyer as maid of honor and Catherine McCartan, Kathleen and Marilyn Meyer as bridesmaids. They each carried a white fur sash with a single red poinsettia.

Little Florie Gerber was flower girl and was dressed in a white velvet gown with a red velvet bow in her hair. She carried a basket of red poinsettias.

James Vonarx was best man. Paul Meyer, Gary Kraus and Thomas Coppola were ushers. Rusty Meyer was ring bearer.

During the mass, the bride presented a bouquet of red roses to the Blessed Virgin Mary.

Mrs. Meyer chose an off-white three-piece knit suit with wedding accessories for her daughter's wedding, while the groom's mother wore a green three-piece wool suit with white accessories.

Each completed her ensemble with a corsage consisting of two beige cymbidium orchids.

Breakfast was served at the C.M.F. with reception this afternoon at the K. of C. of 250 guests from Scotch Plains, N. J.; Newark, Ohio; St. Petersburg, Fla.; Westport and Bridgeport, Conn.; Tonawanda, N. Y.; Erie, Murrayville, Ridgway, Kersey and St. Marys.

The bride is a graduate of Central Catholic High School and prior to the wedding, was employed as an office clerk at Keweston Carbon Company.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Blair Seaman of 318 Jackson Avenue Ridgway, is a graduate of Ridgway Area High School and is attending Arkansas State University.

Following a tour of southwestern states, Mr. and Mrs. McCartan will make their home in Beebe, Ark.

For traveling, the bride chose a white outfit with light green accessories and a beige cymbidium orchid corsage.

Howie Hanes Died Today At The Hospital

N. St. Marys Road Man Had Been Ill For Some Time

Howard A. Hanes, 55, of North St. Marys Road, passed away this morning at 9:15 in Kaul Memorial Hospital. He had been in ill health for some time and a patient there since Tuesday.

He was born in St. Marys on May 15, 1911, son of the late Alfred and Anna Wurm Hanes. He attended Sacred Heart and Central High Schools.

He was married July 12, 1942 in Sacred Heart Church to the former Henrietta Caskey, who survives as do the following brothers and sister:

Ernie Hanes, William and Beatrice, Mrs. Francis Loeffler, all of St. Marys.

His father passed away in 1919 and his mother on April 23, 1957.

Mr. Hanes was among the 40-year veterans honored Thanksgiving eve by Stackpole Carbon Company.

He was a member of the Sacred Heart Church, C.M.F., Eagles and American Legion. He served overseas in World War II.

Friends will be received at the Joseph W. Lynch Funeral Home on Center Street over the week-end. Time of the funeral was not known at press time today.

Edwards - Lakes - To - Sea Lines Threatens Strike

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—Negotiations between Edwards Lakes-to-Sea System bus lines and its 120 drivers and mechanics remained deadlocked today, and a federal mediator said there are no further meetings scheduled before tonight's midnight strike deadline.

The mediator, G. Harry Young, said from his home in New Cumberland Friday night that the two sides were deadlocked over economic items, including wages.

"I have spoken to representatives of both sides on several occasions and neither party has changed its position enough to warrant the calling of a meeting," he said.

He added, however, that he would continue to keep in touch with the situation. The drivers and mechanics, members of the Amalgamated Transit Union, say they will strike if an agreement is not reached.

The bus line has routes in New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio.

U Thant And Johnson Agree On One Aspect

Still Wide Gap Between Two When It Comes To War

By MILTON BESSER

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U Thant has disclosed his agreement with President Johnson on one aspect of the Vietnam problem — that if the war could be ended the way would be cleared for vast economic and social aid to millions in Southeast Asia.

But on the crucial issue of how to stop the shooting, there is still a wide gap between the U.N. secretary-general and the Johnson administration. The gap remains despite the latest appeal to Thant from the United States to do what he can to arrange talks leading to a ceasefire.

In a New Year's message aimed at government leaders in Washington, Moscow, Saigon, Hanoi and Peking, Thant appealed anew for an early end to the war. He declared that favorable conditions exist for a breakthrough in international cooperation, but that the war stands in the way.

Thant said the end of the war could signal cooperation in sorely needed programs to alleviate hunger and permit social gains in vast areas of the world. Johnson has said much the same thing in proposing economic and social aid to Southeast Asia, including Vietnam.

Thant still holds that the only way to achieve peace is through his three-point plan: an immediate halt to the U.S. bombing of North Vietnam, a gradual scaling down of military activity by both sides, and a role for the Viet Cong in peace negotiations.

Moreover, Thant considers that the approach should be in that order — first a halt in the bombing.

The United States accepts Thant's concept as a package proposal, and insists that there be some sign in advance that North Vietnam would make concessions.

The question naturally arises as to why U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg made the request to Thant on Dec. 19. It came three days after a conference with Johnson, attended by Goldberg and other high officials. Goldberg is credited with initiating the move.

The United States evidently felt the necessity of showing its desire for peace anew in the face of the extended truce pleas from Pope Paul VI and others.

But the United States also wanted to give Thant some kind of new lever in his declared intention to continue to seek peace in Vietnam. He spoke of this Dec. 2 in accepting a new five-year term. The United States was among those exerting the greatest pressure on him to stay in office.

Thant has indicated he will make public probably next week his response to the Goldberg appeal, which was placed in circulation as a U.N. Security Council document.

Johnson Holds Conference At His Ranch Today

Word Was Sent Out In Advance Not To Expect Any Big News

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson holds a news conference at his ranch today. But the word went out in advance to expect no big announcements.

Bill D. Moyers, who is doubling as acting press secretary due to the hospitalization of George Christian for back surgery, said Johnson called the 11 a.m. EST conference in response to requests of newsmen to see him.

The ABC, CBS and NBC television and radio networks planned to carry the news conference live.

Newsmen have seen Johnson only a few times and then only fleetingly since he came to the ranch Dec. 16 for a working holiday.

"There are no announcements to be made because the President is still in the midst of consultations on legislation, budget and other matters peculiar to this time of the year," Moyers said.

Johnson faces a big decision in the early days of the new Congress convening Jan. 10.

The first of the "big three" messages he will send to Capitol Hill will be the State of the Union in which he sketches the broad outlines of his domestic and foreign policy goals. No date for this message has been announced, but it usually comes within a few days after Congress meets.

Following in order will be the budget message and the economic report.

Another decision Johnson must make soon is whether to ask Congress for an income tax increase. He has said this will not be made until all the facts are in.

Guesses on the size next year's budget, some of them by government experts, range up to $140 billion, with revenues estimated at $127 billion to $130 billion.

These are the day and night trains that travel through Renovo and Emporium, enroute to and from Buffalo, N. Y., Baltimore, Md., and Washington, D. C. They are the only means of public transportation between Port Allegany and Lock Haven, a distance of 97 miles.

The petition cited eight specific reasons why the trains should be retained.

Ridgway Man Injured In Truck Crash

Dean Lewis Reported In Good Condition In Local Hospital

Dean Lewis of Ridgway, is a patient in the local hospital suffering from injuries received in a tractor-trailer accident last night on Route 120, 18 miles east of Emporium.

Hospital authorities reported his condition this morning as good, suffering from possible injured back, and laceration of face and was to be X-rayed this morning to determine further injuries.

The Emporium State Police investigated the accident that occurred sometime around 10 p. m.

The police stated that Mr. Lewis was traveling towards Emporium with a load of lumber for the Mallery Lumber Company when he overturned on the highway.

The rig was owned by the Emporium Truck Leasing Company and damage to the rig was estimated at $14,000.

Investigating Boulevard Fight Here Early Today

St. Marys and area police today are conducting an investigation into a fight that occurred about 5 a. m. today on the Boulevard in downtown St. Marys.

It was understood that about eight arrests are to be made, once the investigation is completed. It was learned that a gun was involved and police are seeking identity of the owner.

From available information it was understood that no one from St. Marys or Benzinger Township was involved in the fight.

Catholic Burial Refused Child Of An Expriest

Father Girandola Was Excommunicated When He Married

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—The stillborn daughter of an excommunicated Roman Catholic priest has been refused a Catholic burial.

Her father, the Rev. Anthony Girandola, asked: "Why should my daughter be punished by the rigid interpreters of church law who would punish me? It is ironic that in the season of the Prince of Peace there are those who would exercise hatred on an innocent child," he said today.

Father Girandola said he made arrangements Thursday at Calvary Cemetery for burial.

That night, he said, cemetery officials telephoned and said they were returning his deposit because the church had ordered them not to bury the child.

Father Girandola, 40, was automatically excommunicated in 1965 when he was married. In April, he gained nationwide publicity when he came to St. Petersburg and announced he was setting up a home for other married priests.

Asked about the burial decision, the Rev. William Corry, director of cemeteries for the diocese, said: "The church has made a decision. That is it — that is everything."

Father Corry said the orders came from the diocese and were based on Canon Law and church policy.

Canon law applied, he explained, "because the child was not baptized, and there are many other circumstances." He refused to list the other circumstances.

Father Girandola, who said he baptized the child after she was stillborn Wednesday, said canon law had nothing to do with the church's order.

"The child of course was baptized and the church's orders are actually contrary to canon law and certainly to all the principles of Christianity. Church law forbids burial only for notorious sinners or those excommunicated by a condemnatory of declaratory sentence."

The married priest claimed the order was a personal punishment of him.

Police Begin To Block Off Times Square For Party

By GEORGE ESPER
NEW YORK (AP)— At 11:59 p. m. tonight, an illuminated ball will slide down a flagpole on the Allied Chemical Tower in New York's Times Square.

Thus, the old tradition, dating back to 1906, will signal the start of a new year.

From New York, to Rome, to Glasgow, Scotland, millions will whoop it up.

New York Mayor John V. Lindsay will have not only his name, but also his New Year's message to the "fun city," up to lights over Times Square tonight.

In Rome, nimble-footed city policemen braced for the usual Roman New Year's Eve shower of exploding crackers and crockery.

Despite the law and by centuries-old tradition, Romans bring in the New Year by exploding fire crackers and by raining down everything but the kitchen sink on cars and fleeing pedestrians. "It's their way of symbolizing a desire to start anew."

Scotland was prepared to celebrate its most singing, swinging New Year of all time. New Year's undoubtedly still holds sway as the No. 1 holiday binge of the year.

Thanks to a price war among publicans, Scots stocked up with drink at slashed prices.

New Yorkers started getting ready to celebrate the New Year Friday. Many businesses closed early. Some did not even bother to open. Police began putting up wooden barricades in Times Square.

Broadway appeared ready for a very profitable New Year's Eve with more than half of the 26 shows already sold out for the night.

Authorities In Bahamas To Ask Powell To Leave

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)— "The Bahamas should not carry the reputation of being a hideout for people who are wanted by law enforcement authorities in their own state in America," said the Nassau Tribune.

It was calling for the departure from Bimini, 50 miles off the Florida coast, of Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y.

Powell, convicted of contempt of court in connection with a libel judgment against him in New York and under fire by some members of Congress, owns property on Bimini.

"If his presence here is not healthy for our society then we should ask him to go and live in surroundings that suit his way of life," the Tribune said Friday in an editorial.

The newspapers said the Bahamian government considered deporting Powell in 1965 after Hurricane Betsy struck Bimini.

When Powell asked the U.S. Coast Guard to send food and water to the island, the Bahamas considered Powell was interfering in local affairs but hesitated to deport him because he was a congressman, the Tribune said.

Let's Repeat Last Weekend
Another long holiday here as we begin the celebration of the New Year's weekend. Tonight is New Year's Eve and the night for many parties, both public and private. There will be merry-makers welcoming in the New Year.

This is traditional and should be carried out as in the past. Last weekend was Christmas and Elk County drivers can be proud of the record that was established on the highways and in the boroughs. The driving was hazardous and the motorists were careful.

Let's do all in our power to duplicate that weekend again during this one. We should all resolve to drive with more care and patience and take a little more time to arrive at our destination. Last year in the first 11 months Elk County had 16 fatalities. This year the number of deaths has dropped to seven in the same length of time. That is a reduction of over 50 per cent.

We are quite sure that there will be people driving after they have been drinking. Many officials frown on this practice and the state itself has urged those who drink not to drive. We can pass the same word along, but feel that it will not be heeded. What we could recommend is that after drinking drive much slower. You might not avoid an accident but it would reduce the possibilities of serious injuries and maybe death to those involved. This, of course, will not apply to the fellow who gets "stoned." He better just sleep it off wherever he got it and drive home the next day.

Most accidents could have been avoided. Remember that and do not be a party to the next one. Think of your own life and that of the persons in other cars on the highways and streets. Have a good time tonight, but not at the expense of someone's life. A Happy and Healthy New Year to all.

Costs To Be Nosey
There is very little left in this country today that has not been commercialized. Even the names of your neighbors.

We understand that there is a firm in New York which offers for sale the names of the wealthiest persons in any county in the state. The firm has a list of 375 persons living in Elk County said to be worth $50,000 or more. This list is available for $12.50. The more names in the list the more it costs.

Clearfield County has 500 persons in that category and list costs $25. Jefferson County has 387 names and this can be obtained for $20. Clarion County has 229 "wealthy" people and the list is available for $13.50. Poor Cameron County has no one in that class and henceforth there is no list. We wouldn't make a bet on that. How about you?

Viewing HARRISBURG

By VINCENT P. CAROCCI
HARRISBURG (AP) — It's that time again to bid farewell to the old and welcome the new — a New Year, a new state administration, a new legislature, lots of new faces and a goodly number of old faces in new jobs.

It's farewell to 1966 and welcome to 1967. It's good-bye Gov. Scranton and hello to Gov. Shafer. It's greetings to the 1967 General Assembly and best wishes for an expeditious and fruitful session.

It's welcome Lt. Gov. Raymond J. Broderick, Atty. Gen. William C. Sennett and Highways Secretary Robert G. Bartlett, three of the more prominent new faces in the new Shafer Administration.

It's "so long" to Commerce Secretary John K. Tabor and "how-do-you-do" to John K. Tabor, secretary of Internal Affairs.

And it's just good-bye after 12 dedicated years to Miss Genevieve Blatt, the retiring secretary of Internal Affairs and the first woman ever elected to statewide office in Pennsylvania.

This is but a sample of what the 1966 elections meant in terms of the old and the new for 1967 in the state capital. While 1967 officially begins Sunday and is legally celebrated on Monday, its true significance won't begin to be grasped in Harrisburg until Tuesday.

That's the day when the 1967 General Assembly convenes and 203 House members and 50 senators take their oaths of office to mark the dawn of another legislative year.

Included in the lot are 65 new representatives and 16 new senators. Tuesday is also the day of Scranton's last address as chief executive to a joint session of the legislature.

Two weeks later, the impact of the new year really strikes home. That's when Raymond P. Shafer takes his oath of office as Pennsylvania's 39th governor maintaining a line of administration dating back to the proprietary governorship of William Penn in 1681.

Shafer, incidentally, will be the first chief executive to take the Commonwealth's new oath of office. The shortened oath dropped a declaration by which he "will not, knowingly receive, directly or indirectly, any money or valuable thing for the performance or non-performance of any act of duty. . . ."

For Republicans, the inauguration will provide an opportunity to celebrate their renewed control of the Capitol for another four years. For the Democrats, it should be a time of contemplation in light of three successive defeats in major statewide elections.

Shafer's cabinet will be a combination of the old and the new. Sennett, Bartlett, Arthur F. Sampson, the new secretary of Administration, and William J. Hart, the Labor and Industry secretary-designate, are among the new cabinet officers to be appointed by the governor-elect.

Mines Secretary H. Beecher Charmbury, Welfare Secretary Max Rosen, Forests and Waters Secretary Maurice K. Goddar and Banking Secretary G. Allen Patterson are among the holdovers from the Scranton Administration.

The inauguration also will mark a new slurry era for the executive office holders. The 1965 General Assembly raised the salary of the new governor from $35,000 to $45,000; the lieutenant governor from $22,500 to $32,500; and cabinet officers from $20,000 to $25,000.

Legislative salaries, incidentally, also will jump in 1967 from $6,000 to $7,200 under a law enacted in the 1965 session. That statute also increased immediately legislative expense accounts from $3,000 to $4,800.

There is one striking new dimension to the Shafer cabinet — a new position, that of counsel general, to be filled by the present attorney general, Edward Friedman.

The $25,000 post was created to retain Friedman, a veteran of 20 years service with the Justice Department, as Sennett's chief legal advisor. As happens after every major election, a number of old faces turn up in new positions, particularly in the legislature.

For example, Adam Bower, the 14-term veteran Republican legislator from Northumberland County who was defeated last November, will be returning as Chief Clerk of the House. James S. Berger, a six-term senator from Potter County, lost out in a bid for renomination in the May primary, has been designated by the Republican legislative majority as the new director of the Legislative Reference Bureau.

He will succeed Martin P. Muray, a former Democratic senator who lost his Luzerne County seat in the reapportionment.

House Has Wrapped Up Investigation Of Adam Clayton Powell

Three Minutes A Day

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House subcommittee has wrapped up its investigation of Rep. Adam Clayton Powell and submits its recommendations Tuesday to its parent House Administration Committee.

Rep. Wayne L. Hays, D-Ohio, subcommittee chairman, declined to make public the report until it is submitted. But he said Friday the panel does not have authority to recommend Justice Department action against the New York Democrat.

Hays indicated he would try to have the subcommittee make general recommendations in the area of general procedures for approving and paying official travel and payroll expenses for House committees.

The subcommittee has been looking into Powell's travel expenses and pay roll. Its findings include more than 75 airline trips paid for as official travel for Powell's aides were taken by someone else.

Hays also had said he would urge the panel to recommend removal of Powell's wife from the House payroll as a $20,500-a-year employe on her husband's staff.

Hays said Mrs. Powell, who lives in Puerto Rico, is in violation of the law requiring congressional aides to work either in Washington or in their employer's district. He said the only penalty is removal from the payroll.

Mrs. Powell remained absent Friday when called for a third time as a witness. Although Hays said in his opinion she is in contempt of Congress for not responding to the subcommittee subpoena, there appears insufficient time for the 89th Congress, which expires Tuesday, to carry out contempt proceedings.

China Has Reported Success In Guided Nuclear Weapons

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Rev. Lester Kinsolving has little patience with what he calls injustices and pettiness in his Church and has organized a clergy's union to change things. The 39-year-old Episcopal priest, the son of a bishop, is one of a new breed of clergymen who work outside the traditional job of shepherding a flock in an assigned parish.

Kinsolving shies away from the word "union" in describing his recently incorporated Association of Episcopal Clergy. "Rather," he said in an interview, "it is a vocational association modeled after the American Bar Association or the American Association of University Professors."

A man of energy, he writes a weekly religious column for the San Francisco Chronicle, works as a reporter for the newspaper, campaigns for reforms in California's abortion laws and is president of the new priests' association.

"There are many causes for the association to fight for," he said, "because the Church is analogous to a large corporation with 10,000 graduate executives and no personnel department."

In his view, injustices range from the administration of the pension fund for widows to salaries paid clergymen. "Widows of priests are paid one-millionth of the fund's total assets per month," the priest said. The fund, Kinsolving said, totals $160 million and pensioners "receive an average of $133 a month."

"The Church pension fund is operated in a manner approved by the general convention," said Bishop John E. Hines, leader of the Church's clergymen. "Some Church institutions are subject to criticism by people who think they can run them better."

Bishop Hines has described Kinsolving's association as "outside the nature of the Church." The association also is campaigning for higher pay for priests.

Kinsolving supports himself, his wife and three children by his newspaper work and by writing magazine articles. "One goal we have is to create conditions where a priest has the freedom to express his personal convictions in sermons to his congregation. With the present lack of freedom, priests are leaving the parochial ministry to work in schools, administration and in special projects such as civil rights," he said.

"The association is growing slowly," Kinsolving said. "We have 150 members from all over the United States, representing 23 dioceses. These include dioceses in Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Michigan, Georgia, Illinois, Virginia, Washington, D.C., and California, he said.

Kinsolving, son of the late Bishop Arthur B. Kinsolving of Arizona, has done most of his work in missions. He said he resigned one post in New London, N.H., because the members could not agree on construction details of a new church "after 10 years of meetings by 33 committees."

Today In History

Today is Saturday, New Year's Eve, Dec. 31, the 365th day of 1966. This is the last day of the year. Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1879, Thomas Alva Edison first demonstrated his electric incandescent lamp. On this date: In 1862, President Abraham Lincoln signed an act admitting West Virginia as a state. In 1921, Lenin was re-elected leader of the Soviet Union. In 1924, the name of Norway's capital city was changed from Christiania to Oslo. In 1945, Bermuda voted to end its war ban on the use of automobiles. Ten years ago — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, who early in 1956 delivered a sensational attack on the late dictator Josef Stalin, seemed to reverse his stand at a Kremlin New Year's Eve party where he was quoted as describing Stalin as "a great fighter against imperialism and a great Marxist." Five years ago — President John F. Kennedy and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev exchanged New Year's greetings, assuring each other of a firm resolve to find a durable peace in 1962. One year ago — Presidential envoy Arthur D. Goldberg outlined U.S. peace moves in Vietnam to President Charles de Gaulle of France and to NATO. De Gaulle answered Goldberg by declaring that France will not get involved in the Vietnam war.

Crusaders Defeated Ridgway There 63-58

Last Quarter Was Decider In Close, Thrilling Contest

Junior Varsity Also Victorious By 50-44 Score

By JEFF and JESS

Christmas came late for the Crusaders this year, but none the less, it still came. The present came, not in a stocking, but in the sweat socks of Father Presley's cagers, who beat Jim Principe's Ridgway Elkers 63-58. In a thrilling fast-breaking basketball tilt at the County Seat, the Crusaders caught up in the final minutes of the 4th quarter to eke out a well-matched victory. Hitting the 500 mark for the 2nd time this season, the Crusaders seem to be on their way to a successful season.

Elk Christian took an early lead in the opening minutes of play with a foul shot by Werner and lay-ups by Gerber and Nedzinski. But coming back for the Elkers Ron Zamerosi hit for a jumper and a lay-up, followed by two lay-ups and foul shots by Doug Glantz. This tied the score up at 10-10 with 43 seconds left in the 1st quarter.

From here, Pierce and Heatherdale added 2 points apiece to give the Elkers their first lead of the game. Sharing the scoring in the 2nd period, the Elkers began to roll on the sharp shooting of Dan Pierce, who hit on far-out jumpers followed by the lay-ups of Sam Heatherdale, Mark Johnson and Doug Glantz. Keeping the Crusaders in contention in this period was Art "The Faker" Werner who hit 10 points on a 4 fast breaking lay-ups and a jump shot from the key.

The second quarter was a period of many turnovers with the Elkers coming out on top, leading from 2-6 points over the Crusaders. Using a half-court press the Crusaders forced many breaks to come from behind to take a tied-up 31-31 game to the locker room.

Starting the 2nd half, Ridgway jumped quickly to a 6-point lead on the terrific sharpshooting of Dan Pierce and the driving lay-ups of Doug Glantz.

Coming off the bench to help the Crusaders hold their own, Bob Heindl, Dick Pfingstler and George Neubert proved their "mettle" under fire by adding a combined 11 points to add to Werner's 5 to keep Elk Christian within close range.

At this time the "County Seat boys" full-court press netted them many opportunities to which Doug Glantz and Dan Pierce capitalized on. During this period, Dan Pierce thrilled the spectators with the frightening regularity of his long range bomboms.

Going into the 4th quarter the Elkers led 51-49 and in this lead for the beginning part of the period. The Crusaders then began to close the gap with a jumper by Viglione followed with a lay-up by Gerber. With 5:40 left, Gary Neddy tied it up 55-55.

Coming back for Ridgway, Ron Zamerosi hit on a long shot to give the Elkers the lead once again. With the crowd on its feet, Bruce Gerber slammed home a jumper to tie it up. Then with a charity toss to Dan Pierce, Ridgway had its final lead of the game.

Here, after playing catch-up ball all evening, the Crusaders finally caught up. A set-shot by Werner and a lay-up by Viglione put the game on ice, and the two foul shots by Werner, which copped him game honors, with 11 seconds left, iced the cake.

Jay Vee's Win Again
Showing good form and refusing to lose their heads when the baby Elkers put on a determined last quarter press, the baby Crusaders won another game 50-44. Rounding out under Ray Gorman's tutelage, the Crusader's now own a commendable 5-1 record and continue on their way to an excellent season leading the scoring for the Crusaders were Jeff Snower with 19, Brad Schwabenbauer with 13, Tom "Greta" Gahr with 8, Bob Heindl with 4, Dick Pfingstler with 4 and Tim Jacobs with 2.

For Ridgway, it was Paul Puck with 23, Scott Johnson with 8, Bill Erlanson with 8 and Roy Robertson with 6.

Tip Off News
Not spot-lighted ball players, Henry Viglione and Mike Renaud are doing outstanding yet unnoticed work for the Christian team by being a constant harassment to the opposing teams with as many steals and play-making. Of particular note, is the fact that both these boys came from Ridgway and probably would SUSPENDED—Scoring star of the Illinois team, Rich Jones, 6'7" forward, has been suspended from competition by the Big Ten because he allegedly received financial aid in violation of the rules. Two other stars of the Illini cage team also were suspended.

The win last night gave the Crusaders a current 3-3 record and an air of confidence to take to the opening city series game on Jan. 6. After the city series Elk Christian will resume league play when they host the Punxsy Saints on Jan. 10.

The Crusader cheerleaders are doing a great job and need to be commended. With pretty girls such as Nancy Lambert, Marlene Spence, Anne Krieger, Doty Fleming, Debby Bliskey, Penny Feldbauer, and Lois Schling rooting the team on there should be no way to stop them.

A good crowd turned out to see the game last evening, but a few more cheering supporters wouldn't be a mass. It's the fan who goes to the usually unexciting games, and not the big city series and play-off games that really count.

Final Practice Was Scheduled Today For The Rose Bowl Teams

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Final serious practice was scheduled today for Rose Bowl-bound Purdue and Southern California, and most everyone predicted a wide open football game Monday.

Green Bay And Dallas Hoping For Dry Field

Coaches Say Damp Playing Area Could Hurt Both Teams

By JACK HAND
DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The chance of rain for the Cotton Bowl game between Georgia and Southern Methodist raises the possibility that the Green Bay Packers and Dallas Cowboys might slug it out in the mud Sunday in the same stadium for the National Football League title. However, hot air blowers will be used if necessary to dry the field.

"If the field is torn up it could hurt our game," said Coach Tom Landry of the Cowboys. "We'd rather have a dry field."

"I don't think the weather will handicap Dallas any more than us," said Coach Vince Lombardi of the Packers. "Both teams will be handicapped if the field is bad."

Both Landry and Lombardi agreed that the quarterbacks were the key men in this battle for the league title and the right to play the American Football League champion Jan. 15 in the Super Bowl at Los Angeles.

A crowd of 75,504 will watch, starting at 4:05 p.m., EST, with network (CBS) radio and television coverage.

"If Bart Starr has a real hot day, we are going to win," said Lombardi. "If Don Meredith has a real hot day, Dallas probably will win. In this league it comes down to that."

When Landry was advised of Lombardi's remarks, he said, "That is a pretty good observation. How the quarterback goes dictates how a team goes. And Meredith is capable of having an excellent day."

The Packers, one touchdown favorites, have running power in Jim Taylor, Elijah Pitts, Paul Hornung and the million dollar rookies, Donny Anderson and Jim Grabowski. Starr has had a great year passing, with Carroll Dale his favorite long ball target.

A winning share will be worth about $8,600 plus a shot at the Super Bowl where the winner is guaranteed $15,000 and the loser $7,500. The loser Sunday will get about $6,000.

If the game is tied at the end of regulation time it will continue on a sudden death basis until somebody scores by safety, field goal or touchdown.

The weatherman forecast cool, crisp weather for the game at Kezar Stadium matching such All-America players as Nick Eddy of Notre Dame, Clint Jones of Michigan State and Mel Farr of UCLA.

Opposing lines averaged more than 225 pounds and some of the most avid spectators were pro scouts who hope to line up the talent for coming seasons.

The East was favored by 6½ points although the Westerners hold the series edge 20-16-5.

In addition to Eddy and Jones, the East All-America players are linebackers George Webster of Michigan State and Jim Lynch of Notre Dame and end Jack Clancy of Michigan.

Farr has defensive ends Lloyd Phillips and Tom Greenlee joining him from the All-America list.

A pulled muscle has hampered Greenlee and put Idaho's Ray McDonald into a double duty role. McDonald led the nation's collegians in rushing the past season but has been drilling at defensive end as well as fullback.

UCLA Buries Southern Cal By 107 To 83

Alcindor Scores 25 Points As He Breaks Defense

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Lew Alcindor took Southern California's tough Trojans in stride, but Montana State's hungry Bobcats took Oklahoma City by storm.

Alcindor, harassed by a saging Trojan defense, still scored 25 points as unbeaten UCLA buried Southern Cal 107-83 Friday night for the Los Angeles Classic basketball title.

Montana State's Bob Storm, meanwhile, led the unheralded Bobcats to their third upset victory in the 31st All-College Tournament at Oklahoma City, flipping in 27 points in an 82-81 overtime decision over the host Chiefs for the championship.

Alcindor, UCLA's 7-foot-1 sophomore wizard, shook off USC defenders to set up guards Lucius Allen, 22 points, and Mike Warren, 20, repeatedly and trigger a devastating fast break that ran off 14 straight points at the start and carried the top-ranked Bruins to their eighth victory.

"We had an idea they would go to a zone defense and sag on Lew," UCLA Coach John Wooden said, "so we went to our guards and our outside men for the shots. We played as well in the first half as we have played all year."

Asked about the blanket of USC defenders that surrounded him, Alcindor replied: "They didn't beat me up any worse than the last time. It's just something I have to get used to."

The "last time" was Dec. 3, when Big Lew staggered the Trojans with 56 points in his first varsity game.

At Oklahoma City, Storm was named the most valuable player in the All-College event — the nation's oldest holiday college tourney — after spiking Montana State past Texas 91-87 and tournament favorite Temple 61-60 on the way to the final.

Second-ranked Louisville and No. 5 New Mexico also captured tournament titles and fourth-ranked Texas Western rebounded convincingly after its stunning first-round loss to Southern Illinois Thursday night in the Sun Carnival — a tourney the NCAA champion Miners had won five years in a row.

Burly Westley Unsel and slick sophomore Butch Beard paced unbeaten Louisville to a 72-63 triumph over previously-unbeaten Princeton in the title game of the Quaker City Classic at Philadelphia.

Vaughan Harper, who led Syracuse past Villanova 81-71 in the third-place contest and totaled 70 points and 50 rebounds in three starts, took the MVP award in the Quaker City test.

Philadelphia school. New Mexico's Mel Daniels dropped in 29 points and Don Hoover led a scrambling defense that forced 26 turnovers as the Lobos belted Colorado State 64-49 to win their own invitational tournament at Albuquerque.

Texas Western throttled Drake 66-47 for third place in the Sun Carnival at El Paso. Southern Methodist then knocked off Southern Illinois, the nation's No. 2 small college team, 66-64 in the final.

In non-tournament action, third-ranked North Carolina posted Ohio State 105-72 as Russ Clark, Larry Miller and Bob Lewis combined for 70 points. No. 7 Cincinnati had its eighth game unbeaten string snapped by Iowa 78-69 after Jeff Tillman's 41-point binge led Chicago Loyola to an 85-72 romp over Marquette in a doubleheader at Chicago.

Eighth-ranked St. John's, N.Y., only other member of the Top Ten in action, got past treel-top tall Brigham Young 76-73 in an overtime consolation game at New York's ECAC Holiday Festival. Providence rallied behind Jim Walker's 25 points to overcome St. Joseph's of Philadelphia 82-76 for the championship.

In other tournament finals: Kansas beat Iowa State 63-57 in the Big Eight at Kansas City, Mo.; Bradley nipped Utah 64-62 in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans, La.; North Carolina State upset South Carolina 76-73 in the Triangle Classic at Raleigh, N.C.; Seattle topped Xavier, Ohio, 91-79 in the Legion Invitational at Seattle, Wash.

Washington downed Washington State 80-72 in the Far West Classic at Portland, Ore.; Clemson trounced Furman 83-66 in the Poinsettia at Greenville, S.C., and Pacific defeated San Francisco 59-51 in the WCAC Tourney at San Francisco.

Buffalo Out To Grab Third AFL Championship

Bills And Chiefs Both Want To Play In Super Bowl Game

By MIKE RATHET
BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — The Buffalo Bills will be out to grab an unprecedented third straight American Football League championship — and an unprecedented pot of gold — when they meet the Kansas City Chiefs Sunday in the most important struggle for supremacy in league history.

The seventh AFL title game, which will be televised nationally by NBC at 1 p.m. EST, offers the added incentive of a shot at the National Football League champion in the Super Bowl and one of the biggest payoffs in U.S. sports history.

The eventual AFL champions will draw checks for about $7,000 each from the league title game and then move on to meet Green Bay or Dallas in the Super Bowl game with a $15,000 payoff awaiting each of the winners and a $7,500 consolation prize for the loser.

The AFL title game then guarantees the winner a minimum in the neighborhood of close to $15,000 — some $11,000 more than the loser will take home.

The Chiefs, with a potent offense revolving around quarterback Len Dawson, running backs Mike Garrett and Curt McClintock and receivers Ott Taylor and Chris Burford, have been established as slight favorites over the defending champion Bills.

However, there is one factor that could hurt the Chiefs' chances — Buffalo's usually frigid weather. It is almost certain that the War Memorial Stadium turf will be frozen, and Coach Joe Collier of the Bills admits that might give Buffalo a slight advantage.

"The advantages and disadvantages will probably counter-balance in most instances," Collier said. "However, they have a more varied attack than we do, they have more formations and they're a little fancier than us."

'BAMA GETS FINAL TEST—Only undefeated major college team in the country this season, Alabama (10-0), pits its rugged defense (37 points given up in 10 games) against Nebraska, which finished the season with a 9-1 mark, in the Sugar Bowl game in New Orleans Jan. 2. Alabama is making its 19th Bowl appearance and the Cornhuskers are in a Bowl for the fifth time in six years. 'Bama met Nebraska in 1966 Orange Bowl, defeating the Huskers, 39-28.

76ers Scored 137-113 Win Over Detroit
Chamberlain, Walker And Cunningham All Had A Big 23 Points

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Wilt Chamberlain showed how it's done and Billy Cunningham and Chet Walker seem to have learned the lesson well.

All three Philadelphia 76ers scored 23 points Friday night in the club's 137-113 National Basketball Association victory over Detroit in Fort Wayne, Ind. And all three hardly missed from the floor.

It's Chamberlain, of course, who has been shooting field goals at a record percentage during the early part of the season, and Friday night he had eight for 13. But Cunningham, at 11 of 16, and Walker, with 0 of 13, did even better for the one game at least.

The 76ers had nothing in the way of trouble from Detroit in racking up their 35th victory against just three losses for a remarkable .921 mark. They took a 77-55 halftime lead and ran it up to 26 points in the fourth quarter.

Dave DeBusschere and Dave Bing led Detroit with 18 points each.

In other NBA games, Boston beat the Bulls at Chicago 110-106, New York beat Baltimore in Washington 130-115 and San Francisco clipped Cincinnati 101-102 in Cleveland.

Rose Bowl May Be Start Of A New Era

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — This year's Rose Bowl seems to be the start of a new era. Or maybe it's the end of an old trend.

However viewed, there has been no hickering, no cloak-and-dagger exercises and nothing but good clean humor in the exchanges between the Bowl rivals, Purdue and Southern California.

Southern Cal's coach, John McKay, and Jack Mollenkopf of the Boiler-makers have held open practices for the press. For years, the Big Ten drills have been barred to West Coast writers, and the Easterners couldn't get into the coast team's sessions.

"There aren't many secrets in football," said McKay, who commented one afternoon: "I'm angry and I hope my team is angry."

But McKay's ire wasn't aimed at Purdue. John, who seldom strays too far from a sense of humor, has been irritated with some writers here who, in effect, seemed to criticize USC for accepting the role of Rose Bowl host after losing to UCLA.

Bear Bryant Says Alabama Best In Nation

Must Beat Nebraska In Sugar Bowl Monday To Remain The Best

By RON RAPPOORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Bear Bryant hasn't given up. Poll or no poll, he figures his Alabama football team is the best in the country. Or at least it will be if it beats Nebraska in the Sugar Bowl Monday.

The Crimson Tide posted a 10-0 record during the regular season and Bryant and most of the rest of Alabama figured that gave the team a third straight national championship. The Associated Press pollsters disagreed, though, and named Notre Dame first, Michigan State second and the Tide Third.

But Bear isn't through yet. "If we beat this Nebraska team, we'll be the best in the country," he said Friday.

Last year, the AP took a post-Bowl game poll because Michigan State and Alabama were involved in Bowl games. This year, with the No. 1 and 2 teams not in Bowl games, so no post-season poll is planned.

In Bowl games this afternoon, Tennessee met Syracuse in the Gator Bowl, in Jacksonville, Fla.; Georgia played Southern Methodist in the Cotton Bowl in Dallas, and all-star teams from the East and West clashed in the Shrine game in San Francisco.

Along with the Alabama-Nebraska clash in New Orleans, La. in the Sugar Bowl Monday, (NBC, 2 p.m., EST), Purdue and Southern California meet in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif. (NBC, 5 p.m. EST) and Georgia Tech plays Florida in the Orange Bowl in Miami (NBC, 8 p.m.).

In the Rose Bowl, Purdue quarterback Bob Griese is the big reason for the Boiler-makers' being favored by almost two touchdowns. Leroy Keyes will play both offense and defense for Purdue, at halfback.

Quarterback Troy Winslow will do the throwing for the Trojans and Rod Sherman is a threat both carrying the ball and catching passes.

SPORTS SPUTTERINGS

By Walter L. Johns, Central Press Sports Editor

IT'S COMING UP roses in Pasadena the afternoon of Jan. 2, or is it ragweed, as one writer says?

Purdue, beaten by the Big Ten conference champ, and Southern California, trimmed by the logical choice, U.C.L.A., meet in the 52nd Rose Bowl game and not for years, they say, have the selections smelled out the joint.

But wait. This could be quite a ball game, as many of the Rose Bowl games are. Purdue is a 13-point favorite and, according to some, should murder the Trojans by more than that.

The Trojans, walloped by Notre Dame, 51 to 0, in their finale, and then shattered by an intelligible ruling on several of their stars, should be lower than a dachshund's bottom. But, as we said, be careful.

REMEMBER what happened to Michigan State last Jan. 1? This was one of Duffy's greatest teams and the Uclans knocked 'em off in that Pasadena party.

The Spartans had gone through 10 straight games without defeat and had beaten U.C.L.A. in their opener but in the Rose Bowl U.C.L.A. whipped 'em, 14 to 12, with the Spartans scoring all 12 of their points in the last quarter.

At one time this season, coast observers saw the Trojans of 1966 as one of the best Trojan teams of all time. And they started out winning six in a row, including a 3-3 walloping of another Big Ten team, Wisconsin, before losing by three points to Miami of Florida.

PURDUE, which is playing in its first Bowl game after all these years, is listed as the second best team in the Big Ten and that dims the Bowl classic, too. But the Boiler-makers lost only to Notre Dame, 26 to 14, and to Michigan State, 41 to 20, with the Boiler-makers dominating the second-half play. Purdue, to be factual, probably is the No. 3 team in the country this year, although the records and voting pushed the club down to a lower part in the first 10.

THE GAME will mark the end of the college career, for all official action, of Bob Griese, the great quarterback of the Boiler-makers, who has had a fabulous career.

Bob capped his Purdue performances this season with 130 completions in 215 pass attempts, good for 1,749 yards and 12 touchdowns. He carried the ball 71 times for 209 yards, punting 22 times and added 33 extra points and four field goals to lead the team in scoring with 81 points.

Griese finished seventh among the top offensive men of all time for a three-year varsity career with 4,829 yards. He has had nine games of 200 or more total yards, started every game for the past three seasons and twice was selected All-American. He ran second to Steve Spurrier of Florida for the Heisman award this year.

Gasoline Tax In Next 60 Hours To Equal First Year

HARRISBURG, Dec. 31 — Pennsylvania highway users, as of about noon on Tuesday (Jan. 3), will be paid as much in motor fuel taxes—just within the first 60 hours of 1967—as was once collected in this state in a whole year.

Frank J. Bowden, Jr., executive director of the Associated Petroleum Industries of Pennsylvania, made this prediction, based on present estimates that Pennsylvania highway users will pay $459 million in 1967—an average of $1.3 million a day—under the State's 7-cent gasoline tax and the 4-cent federal rate.

Noting that the 1967 tax estimate is 147.5 times the $3,112,000 collected back in 1922, the first full year of Pennsylvania's original one-cent tax on motor fuel, Bowden observed:

"This remarkable growth in revenue is due in part to the fact that there are now seven times as many motor vehicles in Pennsylvania as there were in 1921, added to the fact that the present total tax rate is 11 times as high."

"Another significant factor in these revenue gains," he said, "has been the ever-increasing use of diesel fuel, which in Pennsylvania, as in most other states and at the federal level, bears the same tax rates as gasoline."

Second Of 3 Men Shot While Robbing Philly Bank Dies

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A second of three men shot while attempting to hold up a branch bank in South Philadelphia earlier this week is dead while the third remains in critical condition at Methodist Hospital here.

William F. Baky, 59, who had been in critical condition since being brought to the hospital on Wednesday, died Friday night after he had been given an emergency tracheotomy "to make him more comfortable," hospital authorities said.

This Has Been Bloody Year In Viet War

Estimated 77,000 Soldiers Have Fallen On The Battlefields

By PETER ARNETT

SAIGON, South Vietnam—This has been the bloodiest year of the Vietnam war. Allied commanders have few illusions about what 1967 will bring.

An estimated 77,000 soldiers have fallen on the battlefields of Vietnam in 1966, two-thirds more than in the previous year. Most of these dead were Communist dead, yet high hopes that the huge allied buildup would break the enemy back once and for all in 1966 have not materialized.

The prospects are for more vicious battles, a lengthening casualty list, and a steady increase that brings with it the threat of an ever larger conflict.

Allied commanders are more sober about prospects this year than ever before, and forecasts of "victory" come sparingly now that the best American military units have found and fought the enemy in the highlands, the plateaus and the coastal valleys, beaten him, and been forced to return again and again to the same battlefields to fight once more.

The enemy force has grown larger, despite an estimated 52,000 dead in 1966. By late December he was fielding an army of 280,000 men, or 50,000 more than a year ago.

The U.S. Command believes that not until late 1967 or early 1968 will American strength be sufficient to kill more of the enemy than can be replaced. The United States will have to provide the troops to do the job because the Vietnamese army is now considered at its peak strength.

The prospect is gloomy for an early military victory. But at least the past year has removed the specter of a military defeat, considered a possibility early in 1965.

As 1966 began the U.S. Army's 25th Division was pouring into Vietnam to boost U.S. strength past the 200,000 mark. Now ground troops number nearly 380,000.

But the Communists appear as willing as ever to continue paying the high price that the conventional-type battles invariably cost them under the crushing superiority of allied firepower.

Measured in human life, the Communists suffered three times more dead in 1966 than the combined allies—about 5,000 Americans, 10,000 Vietnamese, 600 from other nations.

From the propaganda viewpoint, some observers believe, the Communists are prepared to sacrifice 20 of their own for one American. They evidently feel that U.S. public opinion will eventually turn against the war if American casualties continue. American forces have met and crushed every enemy offensive in 1966. In doing so they have learned that these battles in the remote plateaus or highlands have had little or no bearing on the enemy stance in the populous Mekong River delta and along the fertile coast.

Hopes at the beginning of 1966 that the pacification programs "to win the hearts and minds of the people" would work better than in the past are still only hopes.

The enemy continues to recruit at will in much of Vietnam, and to extract taxes from as many as two-thirds of Vietnam's 15 million population, according to recent official U.S. figures.

U.S. Marines have started using troops in pacification. American forces are even standing guard at the southern gates of Saigon just beyond the Chinese suburb of Cholon, to try to reduce the freedom of Communist movement in and out of the capital city.

Hopes early in 1966 that the Vietnamese army would be revitalized by allied help have been dashed as U.S. troops bear more and more of the brunt of the war. The decision has been made to throw approximately 50 per cent of the Vietnamese army into pacification work, leaving the other half to guard bridges, base camps and other static security posts.

The United States will pump more than $70 million directly into the pacification program in 1967, five times more than in 1966. Hundreds of millions more will be spent on U.S. Aid projects and commodity support which indirectly serve the pacification goal.

Many observers feel that 1966 showed all too clearly what can and what can't be done quickly.

U.S. officials' echo a plea by Gen. William C. Westmoreland, command of U.S. forces in Vietnam.

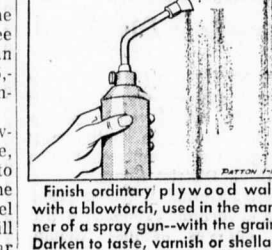

"What we need here is patience. We must have patience to deal with this complex problem," Westmoreland said. "It will take perseverance, endurance on the battlefield, and patience at home."

Hollywood Happenings

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie and TV Writer

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—The distance between Pasadena and Hollywood has long seemed more than the geographic 20 miles. But that will be rectified on Monday.

Pasadena has been characterized, especially by Bob Hope and other comedians, as a long, nettle-wielding dowager. Hollywood, of course, bears the image of a peroxide starlet. The dowager and the starlet have seldom joined forces for Pasadena's annual Tournament of Roses.

But both are more mature now, and Hollywood will be well represented in the two-hour parade which will be televised across the nation on all three networks Monday morning.

In previous years, Hollywood participation was largely limited to selection of stars as grand marshal. Mary Pickford, Harold Lloyd, Leo Carrillo, Shirley Temple, Edgar Bergen, Kay Kyser and Bob Hope served from 1933 to 1947. Last year the grand marshal was Walt Disney, who led the parade alongside his old friend, Mickey Mouse.

This year Pat Crowley, Mark Miller and their sons of the "Please Don't Eat the Daisies" television series will ride the Florists' Transworld Delivery Association float, along with their shaggy dog, Bill Cosby of "I Spy" will appear on a float sponsored by the Centennial Rose Parade Committee.

For its "Shangri-La" theme, the American Trucking Association is assembling some of the surviving members of the "Lost Horizon" caste—Jane Wyatt and Margo and Sam Jaffe. Chinese actress Lisa Lu will grace the Hong Kong float.

The "F Troop" gang—Forest Tucker, Larry Storch, Ken Berry, and others, will be among the horseriders in the parade, along with a sprinkling of other television cowboys and Indians.

As usual, the networks have hired male-and-female teams to tell viewers how many thou-

Hearing On

In a telephone interview Friday, Jack Ruina, former director of the Pentagon's Advanced Research Projects Agency and now a professor at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, said he knew of the new U.S. underground detection capabilities and described them as "significant."

Despite these gains, he added, "what I consider more important is the fact that at low yield, a country can test without any concern that there'll be seismic detection and identification."

"This will always be the case," Ruina added. "Seismic improvement will only move the threshold (for detection) down."

The present U.S. identification and detection limits are considered secret, but sources have hinted that in some areas the United States can identify shots with a measure of 4 on the Richter scale — the standard measuring rod for seismic events. This would amount to a 10-fold improvement in the past few years, sources said.

Ronald Reagan To Take Office On January 2

Activities Will Begin Monday At Capitol Rotunda

By BILL STALL
SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan takes office next week in an estimated $100,000 inauguration program with touches of Hollywood.

The 55-year-old Republican's inaugural activities begin at 12:01 a. m. Monday with oathing-taking in the Capitol rotunda and wind up late Thursday at an inaugural ball expected to draw at least 5,000 persons at $50 a couple.

The major festivities begin Wednesday night with the governor's concert, a new event for a California inaugural, in which comedian-violinist Jack Benny will be soloist with the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra.

The big day is Thursday, with a prayer breakfast, procession, Reagan's inaugural address from the Capitol steps, a luncheon, a reception and the ball.

Television performer Danny Thomas will entertain during the ball. Francis Cardinal McIntyre of Los Angeles is scheduled to deliver the invocation at the public inaugural of the state's 33rd governor.

For $1,000, a couple can buy good seats for every inaugural event. Ticket prices for the cheapest seats at the concert are $3. Reagan's staff says any extra money collected from ticket buyers will be used to pay for expenses of Reagan's interim Sacramento office.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower had planned to attend the inauguration but had to cancel because of his recent surgery, said Sandy Quinn, inaugural director.

The elaborate preparations, their costs unofficially estimated at up to $100,000, are working out just as planned, Quinn said. "The only thing I can't be sure about is the weather."

U. S. Asks U Thant To Arrange Possible Vietnam Peace Talks

By MILTON BESSER
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary-General U Thant replies today to a U.S. request that he explore all possible means of arranging Vietnam peace talks.

The request was made Dec. 19 in a letter to Thant from U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg. Since then Thant reportedly has probed both Hanoi and representatives of the Viet Cong for their reaction, but he has made no announcement of any progress.

Thant long ago proposed a three-point plan to bring about peace talks in Vietnam. Sources close to him say he still favors his plan: an unconditional halt of U.S. bombings of North Vietnam, a mutual scaling down of hostilities and the inclusion of the Viet Cong at any negotiating table.

Pledged to make every personal effort through channels of private diplomacy to achieve peace in Vietnam, Thant appealed last month for an early end to the war. In a New Year's message, he said international cooperation "is being held back by the dark barriers of war."

Thant said he was convinced that if peace were soon restored "there would be a rebirth of faith in our ability to promote the well-being of all."

The true meaning and purpose of the United Nations, he said, is to lay the foundations of lasting peace.

Cities with their suburbs, airports and shopping centers are gobbling land at a rate of about a million acres a year.

Navy Lifted Confidential Ban From Jet Corsair II Is A Lightweight Type Bomber

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy quietly has lifted the "confidential" label from its A7 Corsair II, a lightweight jet bomber which ultimately may carry a television-guided missile.

The Corsair was designed specifically to meet the needs of limited war, such as the United States is encountering in Vietnam.

In the next five years the Navy and the Air Force are expected to purchase nearly 1,600 Corsairs for an estimated $1.5 billion.

An industry source confirmed the change-order, increasing that the Air Force recently is its original purchase from about 370 to around 600.

Both the Corsair and the television-controlled missile, known as Walleye, are expected to enter the combat inventory this year, albeit in very limited numbers.

There are reports the Navy hopes to have at least 35 Corsairs in fleet operation sometime this spring.

In time, according to Pentagon sources, the Air Force and Navy hope to replace all propeller-driven bombers now in Vietnam with single jet Corsairs.

The Corsair, which has a large, T-shaped dive brake under its belly, is designed for pinpoint bombing in direct support of ground troops and for bombing missions over enemy territory where the United States maintains unquestioned air domination.

What makes the A7 unusual is that it is basically a low, slow plane in a time of supersonic aircraft and development of hypersonic aircraft. It was removed from the confidential list Dec. 20.

The Corsair carries 8,200 pounds of bombs, missiles and gun ammunition.

With a maximum load, the Corsair has a combat radius of loiter over its most distant target of 340 miles and will be able to get over in an hour.

The average cruise speed with maximum payload is 508 miles an hour. Top speed is 604 m.p.h.

Robbery Charges Against Youths Have Been Dismissed

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Federal bank robbery charges against two high school youths sentenced last month on similar state charges were dismissed Friday in U. S. District Court.

Judge Gerald J. Weber granted a government request to drop the charges against Thomas Kerkebaugh, 17, of Whitehall and Edward Genovesi Jr., 17, of Baldwin.

They were sentenced in Allegheny County Juvenile Court Nov. 5 as juvenile delinquents. Kerkebaugh was given an indefinite term, not to exceed his 18th birthday, in the State Correctional Institution at Camp Hill. Genovesi was placed on one year probation.

Bob Hope Tells About His Visit Over In Vietnam

Calls The Conflict A Dirty War, A Mine And Bobby Trap War

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bob Hope, back from Vietnam, found it difficult to joke about what he saw there.

"At Chu Chi all through the show on Christmas Day there was artillery fire going on in the background," he said. "Two of the boys at my show were killed a couple of hours later."

The comedian, who had taken a troupe of holiday entertainers to Vietnam twice before, called the conflict "a very dirty war, a booby trap and mine war."

He said there were "many many true violations" during the 48-hour holiday cease-fire period.

Hope and his troupe of performers, including comedienne Phyllis Diller, presented 17 shows in addition to performances in five hospitals and four evacuation planes or carriers bearing wounded servicemen.

"I am amazed at the spirit of these kids," he said. "The morale was great. Even the wounded laughed."

Miss Diller, wearing two wilted leis, quipped that she had
