Villiger Debaters Get Unanimous Decisions Over Lehigh and U. of Pennsylvania

Second Meeting of Year Held in College Auditorium Finds Visitors Defeated

The Villiger Debating Society was declared unanimously victorious over the debating team of the University of Pennsylvania in their contest on Friday, March 20, in the College Auditorium.

The question debated was: "Resolved, that disobedience of the law for purposes of nullification should be condoned."

Pennsylvania's defense of the affirmative was undertaken by Samuel Edes and Morris Winokur while Francis J. Lalley, '31, and Thomas P. McDonnell, '31, presented the negative side for St. Joseph's. Romanus J. Buckley, '30, a varsity debater when an undergraduate, was the presiding officer.

Each speaker was allowed eighteen minutes; the first speaker of the affirmative, however, gave twelve minutes of his time to argumentation, reserving the rest for his short rebuttal that closed the debate.

Mr. Edes opened the debate for Pennsylvania. He pointed out that many laws were frequently disobeyed, consciously and otherwise, without penalty. Because of this constant disregard for the laws in question, he argued that practical nullification was justifiable.

Mr. Lalley was the first speaker for the negative.

He declared the policy advocated by

SENIOR CLASS COMPLETES ARRANGEMENTS FOR BALL AT BELLEVUE-STRATFORD

Thirty-First Annual Social Function Will be held on Easter Monday

Box Holders Listed

Final arrangements for the Thirty-first annual Senior Ball of St. Joseph's College, to be held on Easter Monday evening, April 6, in the main ballroom of the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, have been completed under the direction of Joseph E. Cooke, Jr., general chairman of the committee in charge.

It has been announced that unique decorations and professional entertainment will feature this year's social function.

Mr. Cooke has announced that the following are the box holders, up to and including Wednesday of last week: Mrs. Anna R. Riordan, Mr. James Cassidy, Mr. Louis E. Pequinot, The Faculty, Mr. Joseph L. Durkin, Mr. Thomas Minnick, Mr. James Sackville, Mrs. P. A. McCauley, Mr. Joseph Barthmire, Mrs. Catherine Kane, Mr. Francis Gain, Mr. William Gookey, Mr. Sigma Fraternity, Mr. Joseph Phalan, Phi Iota Lambda Fraternity, Mr. Michael McEnery, Mr. Peter J. Mch, Mrs. Joseph C. Trainer, Mr. Mathias Horstmann, Mr. William Menessey, Class of 1930, Class of 1932, Class of 1933, and Class of 1934.

College Team Invades Quakertown and Continues Unblemished Record

Villiger continued on its way to an undefeated Inter-Collegiate debating season Tuesday evening when the Varsity debaters were awarded an unanimous decision over the representatives of Lehigh University in a contest staged at Quakertown, Pennsylvania. The question was "Resolved, that the Nations of the world should adopt a policy of free trade."

The victory marked the sixth of the year for Villiger. Previous wins had been recorded over the University of Pennsylvania, Haverford, Washington and Jefferson, and Gettysburg. One of the contests with Pennsylvania was held over the radio last December.

The debate at Quakertown was held before the Women's Club of that city, a large and enthusiastic audience which received the arguments of the speakers with evident appreciation. The judges for the evening were the Editor of the Quakertown Gazette; the President of the Board of Education of Allentown; and the President of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs.

James F. O'Neill, Joseph Victor Hunt and John J. White, all members of the Class of 1932, represented St. Joseph's and upheld the negative of the proposition. The members of the

PLAY BY DUNSANY CHOSEN BY CAP AND BELLS CLUB FOR COLLEGIATE CONTEST

Cast Selected for "A Night at an Inn" to be Presented in New York, May 1st

Club Defends Cup

The Cap and Bells Club will defend the championship cup of the Inter-Collegiate One-Act-Play Association, in New York City, on Friday, May 1.

The Club has selected as its dramatic vehicle "A Night At An Inn" by Lord Dunsany. This play has won first place in 15 contests of this nature including the one held in Chicago last year under the auspices of Northwestern University.

Partial castings for the play were held on Monday, March 23, when the following men were selected for the cup defense: Edwin Malloy, '33, as "A. E. Scott Fortescue", portrays the character of a suave overconfident English criminal of the gentleman type known as a "Toff."

William Lang, '34, as "Sniggers", James Graham, '33, as "Albert", and Myles O'Brien, '33, as "Bill", support the "Toff" as his three cockney assistants in crime.

Thomas Leis, '34, was found to be particularly well suited as to stature and voice to the part of the Hindu idol "Klesh".

Selections of the three "Priests of Klesh" have not as yet been made, but

ASSOCIATION OF JESUIT SCHOOL PUBLICATIONS IS INITIATED BY STAFF OF CRIMSON AND GRAY

Boston College, Canisius, Fordham, Holy Cross, Georgetown Hear Plan

Letter Sent Editors Suggests Yearly Contest for College Authors

"America" Will be Judge

St. Joseph's College has taken the initiative in the formation of an organization to be known as "The Literary Association of Jesuit Colleges and Universities."

The announcement was made this week by Charles A. Dunn, '31, editor of "The Crimson and Gray", which is sponsoring the movement.

According to the plans of the initiators, the new literary association is to be composed of the literary publications of all Jesuit Colleges and Universities in the eastern section of the country.

Letters explaining the plan and asking their opinion, have already been received by the following Jesuit schools: Georgetown University, Fordham University, Boston College, Holy Cross College and Canisius College.

These schools publish the following literary magazines: "The Georgetown College Journal", "The Fordham Monthly", "The Boston College Stylus", "The Holy Cross Purple" and "The Canisius Monthly". "The Crimson and Gray" would be the sixth member of the group.

Also as part of the plan is a proposal for a prize contest between the members of the new association. This part of the plan was outlined as follows in the letters the various schools received:

"Each member of the proposed Association will submit what it considers to be its best fiction story, essay, poem and editorial."

"When all entries are in, 'America', weekly magazine of the Jesuit Fathers, will be asked to select what it considers to be the best fiction story,"

Two Editors Accept Plan

Two publications have signified approval of the "Crimson and Gray's" plans for a Literary Association of Jesuit Colleges and Universities.

"The Boston College Stylus" and "The Georgetown College Journal" were the first to reply.

R. Felix Dougherty, editor of "The Boston College Stylus" spoke as follows in his letter: "Our staff has discussed and is fully and heartily in accord with the idea."

Richard X. Evans, editor of "The Georgetown College Journal" wrote as follows:

"With much enthusiasm and desire to co-operate do we welcome your plans."

Three editors have yet to be heard from.

ST. JOSEPH'S SPONSORS FIRST COMPETITION OF "INTERCOLLEGIATE DRAMATIC ALLIANCE"

Edwin Stanley, '06, Professor of Dramatics and Public Speaking, Elected First President of Newly Organized Group of 16 Colleges and Universities — Junior Class Planning to Stage Initial Contest as Part of Junior Week

Philadelphia Art Alliance Is Founder

The Philadelphia Art Alliance through the interest of Mr. J. Howard Reber and Dr. Arthur Hobson Quinn of the Alliance Drama Committee extended invitations recently to colleges and universities throughout the East. A meeting of the schools invited to attend was held at the headquarters of the Alliance last Thursday.

The result of the session was the formation of a new organization known as "The Intercollegiate Dramatic Alliance." The meeting was personally attended by nine colleges while seven other institutions were represented by mail.

Mr. Reber in addressing the delegates welcomed them in the name of the Art Alliance and stated the main purpose of the new organization.

"The need of such an organization has long been felt," he said. "The main purpose of our union is to foster the best in college dramatics particularly through the medium of intercollegiate competition."

GREATON CLUB HONORS BASKETBALL PLAYERS AT MONTHLY DINNER

William J. Ferguson Lauds Junior Varsity-Comments on Team

New League Discussed

The members of the Varsity basketball squad were feted last Monday evening at the regular monthly dinner of the Greaton Club of the Alumni Association.

The banquet, which was attended by the largest gathering of the year, was a testimonial to the team which recently concluded the most successful record in the history of basketball at Saint Joseph's. Sixteen contests were won by the Hawks while only five defeats were registered against the team.

William J. Ferguson, coach of the basketball team, was the honor guest of the evening. When introduced to those present by Edward J. O'Reilly, '18, who acted in the capacity of toastmaster, Ferguson was accorded an ovation.

"The past season," said Mr. Ferguson "has been a highly successful one. Many difficulties had to be overcome in order that we might accomplish our desire to place a representative team on the floor. Whatever success we have attained, and our record has been an excellent one, may be attributed to three main causes."

"In the time of victory only the actual playing members of the Varsity team are honored. But I would like to say here and now that Manager Frank Lalley has done as much for the furtherance of basketball this year as

Edwin Stanley, '06, instructor of Public Speaking and Dramatics at St. Joseph's and director of the dramatic welfare of the Cap and Bells Club, was elected president of the organization. Other officers selected were W. S. Rothwell and Ellwood Parry, members of the faculty of the University of Pennsylvania, who will fill the positions of secretary and treasurer.

An innovation, incident to the formation of the new league, is the fact that women's colleges as well as co-educational institutions are represented among the members. The colleges and universities who comprise the league are the University of Pennsylvania, Bryn Mawr, Mount Saint Joseph, Muhlenberg, Lafayette, Temple, Drexel and St. Joseph's. Other colleges signified their approval of the new organization by mail.

The first activity of the new intercollegiate alliance will be an One-Act-Play contest to be held at St. Joseph's during the first week of May. According to present indications it is the

GREATON TEAM WINS FROM N. CATHOLIC

The Greaton Debating Society defeated the North Catholic High School debaters last Thursday in the latter's auditorium. The decision of the judges, who were members of the faculty of the home institution, was unanimous.

The topic for debate was, "Resolved, that national advertising is socially and economically harmful." St. Joseph's upheld the affirmative.

Representing St. Joseph's were Joseph Devine, John A. Mitchell, and Thomas A. Galbally. The members of the negative team were Messrs. Murphy, Goldschmidt, and Naub.

Mr. Devine opened the debate and sketched a general plan of campaign for the topic. He stated that the opposition in their presentation must include all advertising on a large scale, by radio, billboard, and through the medium of large publications; and that advertising in its present stage is corrupt.

Mr. Mitchell, taking as his authority quotations from outstanding periodicals, presented a forceful argument against present conditions. Mr. Galbally declared that the producer can produce at will and that the consumer is forced to accept this advertising.

Following the debate, which was made possible through the splendid cooperation of Father Stahl, professor of English at Northeast Catholic, the acting Rector of the school, Father McElwee made a brief speech in which he thanked the members of both teams for their work and expressed the wish that the representatives of St. Joseph's would soon return again.

The judges were Mr. Joseph Niedermeir, Mr. Francis Fox, and Mr. John Conney, members of the faculty. Joseph Madden was chairman.

Simultaneously with the furore created by the so-called and much discussed over-emphasis placed on intercollegiate football comes the announcement that St. Joseph's College is about to institute spring training for its candidates. This action comes after much discussion on the part of those in charge of athletics.

In view of the recent charges such a step may be regarded by some as being an attempt to lay the cornerstone of future athletic greatness. But when considering the obstacles encountered in developing creditable teams to represent a college operating on a day school basis, where the coach is forced to gather and instruct his prospective candidates within a relatively short space of time, the inauguration of such preliminary training is but placing the proper emphasis on competitive sports.

Football is, independently of the opinions of prominent educational leaders, a collegiate institution. It is rooted in the traditions of almost every college and university in the United States. It is one of the few means of drawing the colleges together. And it is more to the credit of college to be represented by teams physically fit and capable of meeting opponents on an equal basis.

In the past St. Joseph's has been content to meet opponents who had advantages in training. Individual ability was approximately on a par with that of the opponents returned victorious over the Hawks, as was shown by the low scores in the early season games when the strenuousness of a hard schedule had not yet taken its toll. To poor physical condition alone can the loss of what should have resulted in certain victories be attributed.

Past experience has taught the athletic directors the wisdom of meeting opponents with players equal not only in natural ability but also in physical condition. With the advent of preliminary preparation, St. Joseph's students and alumni should see a Hawk team that compares favorably with any college its size.

A pertinent question has been asked by the Editor of "The Crimson and Gray." And THE HAWK takes it upon itself to answer it.

In concluding a comprehensive series of editorials on the need of honorary societies at St. Joseph's, the Editor of "The Crimson and Gray" outlined an acceptable plan; in fact he left nothing undone but the actual putting into effect of his ideas. His closing shot at the student body was: "Who will apply the torch?" And THE HAWK answers: the Editor, himself, should apply the torch.

But it realizes he cannot work alone. Therefore, THE HAWK points to the following undergraduates, who should be the ones to give the Editor of "The Crimson and Gray" the aid he needs: Francis A. Lalley, '31; Joseph E. Cooke, '31; F. Benedict Lanahan, '31; William J. Glowacz, '31; Thomas A. Galbally, '34; William Kane, '34; Edward C. Trainer, '31; James F. O'Neill, '32; William T. Phelan, '33, and Joseph Devine, '34. These men are the heads of the various student activities. THE HAWK and the Quill Club, lacking heads, must have them appointed by their Moderators for the time being. And the Editor, himself, can represent "The Crimson and Gray."

These representatives we have named can call their various organizations together (with the exception of the presidents of the four classes) and have their honor men elected, as advocated by the Editor of "The Crimson and Gray." Unless we are greatly mistaken, the spirit that has been rampant on the campus lately, will not allow this duty to go for long.

Back in September statistics were brought to bear on student activities with the result that an editorial was seen as needed to arouse the undergraduate to a realization of the fact that extra-curricular activities were not exactly being neglected, but were not receiving the attention they needed.

This week THE HAWK chronicles facts that will go into the archive as outstanding. The formation of the Dramatic Alliance is a new step forward. "The Crimson and Gray" has undertaken the foundation of a Jesuit Literary Association. That, too, is an outstanding fact. The Cap and Bells is preparing to enter the annual competition it won last year; the Villiger Debating Society emerged undefeated from two encounters with representative schools a plan is advocated to fill the library with new fiction. All this shows a remarkable response to something.

Perhaps it is pride, but THE HAWK believes most of this technical activity is a reaction to editorial opinions.

In the Shadow of the Tower

THE GREATON CLUB

On May 15, 1773, a substantial-looking gentleman, clad in a snuff-colored coat and wearing the broad-rimmed hat of a Quaker, had signed a deed for a plot of ground south of Walnut St. and east of Fourth. The gentleman was the Rev. Joseph Greaton, S.J., and the plot he purchased was the site of the first Catholic Church in Philadelphia. More pertinent to this history, it was the place where St. Joseph's College was first established.

Father Greaton, whose surname is sometimes written Crayton, and whose Christian name varies from Joseph, John and James to the Quaker Isiah and Josiah, was born in 1678 in Devonshire, England. Having been converted to Catholicism, he was ordained to the priesthood in the English Seminary at Valladolid, Spain, in 1704. Four years later, he entered the Society of Jesus and was sent to the Missions in Maryland.

The property that Father Greaton secured at 4th and Walnut was improved by a house, two stories high, with a garret and ten rooms. After two centuries of continuous occupation, the original walls of Father Greaton's house formed part of the residence of the Jesuits at Old St. Joseph's. Within these very walls, the first classes of St. Joseph's College were held one hundred and twenty years later.

It was in honor and commemoration of this lovable and diligent old Jesuit, the first Catholic Priest in Philadelphia, and the Founder of St. Joseph's College that the Greaton Club is named. Surely it could not have organized under better auspices, with the name of this kindly, old man of God as a constant benediction.

The organization itself is not yet two years old, and the progress that the club has made in that short space of time has surpassed the most extravagant dreams of its founders. It had its inception with a small loyal band of St. Joseph's Alumni, who tediously and with infinite patience had volunteered to compile and publish an Alumni Directory. This group included Joseph Cox, Jules Lentz, George Arnholt, Eugene White and Joseph Murphy, who were joined later by William Diamond and a few others. Its purposes were simple,—to meet and chat once a month at dinner in some centrally-located hotel. Gradually the idea has grown and blossomed into a large organization of friendly Alumni, who do more than just eat and talk together once a month. The club and its members are devoting themselves to real constructive work for St. Joseph's and her undergraduates. Like the College itself, it is "on the march."

Every month, during the past year and a half, The Greaton Club has entertained one or more of St. Joseph's distinguished men at dinner. This in itself has been of incalculable benefit to the College. It has introduced to the Alumni body at large, many gifted and successful men from a variety of occupations, heretofore unknown to a large number of our graduates. It has stimulated pride, fidelity and good-fellowship. It has proven a golden means of linking closely the undergraduate body and the faculty with the Alumni.

There is no formality, stiffness or constraint about the meetings. Discussion is free and invited, although a Chairman presides for the purpose of keeping the proceedings orderly. During the past year, the Greaton Club has entertained the Football and Basketball teams and has supported every progressive movement, tending to further and foster the best interests of the College.

The Club is growing rapidly, both in point of numbers and popularity. Invitation to attend and particularly to address the Club is now an honor eagerly sought and gratefully accepted.

It is not difficult to predict the future of this infant organization. Judging by its present successes, it shall take its place as the most successful achievement of the St. Joseph's College Alumni.

Famous Sons

JOHN J. SULLIVAN, ESQ.

John J. Sullivan, A.M., LL.B., LL.D., was born on June 29, 1877. He comes of a family noted for outstanding business achievement and high character. His elementary schooling was at Notre Dame Academy, Philadelphia. He entered St. Joseph's in 1889, graduated from the equivalent of what is now the high school department in 1892, and was graduated from the College in 1896 with the degree of A.B. In 1898 he was awarded an A.M. by St. Joseph's College. In 1899 he was awarded his LL.B. by the University of Pennsylvania. In 1908 he received an LL.D. from Fordham University and in 1911 received an LL.D. from St. Joseph's College.

He began teaching law at the University of Pennsylvania in 1904 and was appointed to a full Professorship there in 1916. In 1925, President Coolidge appointed him to the United States Indian Commission and he still holds that appointment.

He is and has been for many years President of the Laymen's Week-End Retreat League of Philadelphia. He is a member of the Union League, of the Lawyer's Club of Philadelphia, of the Philadelphia Bar Association, of the American Bar Association, of the Radnor Hunt and of the Merion Cricket Club. He is Vice-President of the Market Street National Bank; President of the Frankford and Southwark Philadelphia City Passenger Railroad Company (the oldest street railway company in Pennsylvania); Vice President of the Travelers Aid Society of Philadelphia; Trustee of the Catholic University of America; Trustee of St. Emma Agricultural and Industrial Institute; Trustee of the Cardinal Gibbons Institute; Director of the Finance Company of Pennsylvania; Director and General Counsel of the Union Traction Company of Philadelphia; Director of the Philadelphia Health Council; Manager of the Mercantile Beneficial Association.

He is the author of "Pennsylvania Business Law," probably the best work of its kind published in the entire United States. This book is now in its tenth edition. It is extensively used as a law text book and as a desk guide book by business men. He is likewise the author of "American Business Law," which is now in its fourth edition, and of "American Corporations" which is now in its second edition.

John J. Sullivan is an exceptionally well-preserved man for his years, having always, right up to the present, been athletic in his habits, loving nothing better than to ride cross-country on one of his excellent horses and to come back to his extensive farm lands in one of the most beautiful sections of the Main Line.

He bears a most enviable reputation in the community of Philadelphia and among people of every walk in life. He is considered one of Philadelphia's most learned lawyers and one of our most outstanding Catholic laymen. It would be difficult to find anyone in our community of whom it could be said with greater truth that, in the finest sense of the word, he is "a gentleman." St. Joseph's College is justly proud of him as one of her most prominent and successful sons and glories in his record of service to nation, Church and community.

We take this opportunity to thank sincerely the members of the Alumni Association, who have so generously supported us by their advertising and subscriptions, and trust the others will support us in a like way.

TIGHE BREAKS RECORD

BETTERS COLLEGE MARK BY 20 FEET PRACTICING

Does 6 Feet Over M. A. S. C. A. Mark as Coach Smith Watches

Ray Tighe, holder of the College javelin record, surpassed not only the local mark, but also the Middle Atlantic Collegiate figure in practice last Tuesday.

His throw sped 20 feet past the College's mark and nearly six over the M. A. S. C. A. mark of 183 feet, 9 3/4 inches. His actual figures were 189 feet, 6 5/8 inches.

The record-breaking contest was conducted by Coach Ken Smith, and was measured by a member of the Alumni and a representative of "The Hawk".

In consideration of his work, Tighe being entered in the feature javelin event at the Penn Relays, and Mr. Smith is confident that his team leader will at least gain a place there. The record for the Relays is 197 feet, 1-4 inch, eight feet better than Tighe's effort.

If Tighe continues to improve at his present pace, it is not at all unlikely that he will represent the Hawks at the National Collegiate Meet in Chicago. Last year Churchill, of California, won the event with 204 feet, 2 inches, while the record is 216 feet, 7 inches.

Greaton Club Pays Tribute to Basketball Players

has any actual participant. He has lifted many loads from my shoulders and has generally aided me in a manner beyond my expectations.

"Secondly, much praise should be bestowed upon the members of the Junior Varsity team. Day after day these men have been the 'doormats' for the Varsity squad in the practice sessions. Were it not for them our record would be less presentable than is the case. They, as well as the lettermen, are the cause of every glory which has come to the College through the medium of basketball.

"Inasmuch as a situation has cropped up in College basketball which is receiving much publicity through the medium of the daily press, I wish to inform the members of the Greaton Club that Saint Joseph's is represented by a legitimate College team in every sense of the word. Every member of the team is from high school and has not been the recipient of any training in a preparatory or six-year school. Regarding age, the players on our team are even younger than the average college performers."

"Schedule-making for Saint Joseph's is about the hardest task that could be imposed on any man. Due to the formation of the new league our task will be more difficult than usual. Colleges whom we have met annually in the past are now members of the new circuit and, due to the schedule requirements there, they will be unable to meet us next year. Thus several sure games have been erased from our schedule which makes its completion more difficult.

"We made application to enter the league but for reasons which have not been made public were refused admittance. Albright, Franklin and Marshall, Ursinus, Lebanon Valley, Gettysburg, Drexel, and Swarthmore are the members of the league. Most of these teams were formerly on our schedule for home and home games."

Ed Trainer on behalf of his teammates presented Mr. Ferguson with a token of their appreciation and expressed the wish that he would act in the capacity of coach for many years to come. He also thanked the Greaton Club for the honor afforded the players and expressed the gratitude of the men.

Other speakers were: James J. Breen, Esq., Dr. Joseph Yates, former coach of the Hawks; and Thomas J. Minnick, Esq., president of the Alumni Association. The players honored were: Osborne, Sunkes, Walker, Trainer, Kane, Ober, McCusker, Cahill, Sculley, Moylan and Smith.

Tighe Refuses Record

Ray Tighe refuses to accept his own record javelin throw, either as official or unofficial, he said today.

"The wind may have aided me," he declared. "I refuse to accept the distance I made until I have duplicated it, or gone beyond it." When asked the possibility of duplicating the record toss, Tighe evaded an answer.

Coach Smith and Charlie Crowley declared afterward the wind that was blowing at the time would not have greatly affected Tighe's throw.

INJURIES MAY HAMPER TRACK SQUAD'S FORM

Coach Smith Sees Tighe Breaking Meet Record With Javelin

Due to injuries and lack of new men, Coach Ken Smith is rather pessimistic concerning the fate of the team in the warthmore-Delaware-St. Joseph's meet to be held on April 11.

Steve Fuller is suffering from a strained tendon, while Ed Smith has a series of bumps received while broad-jumping. The exact extent of Fuller's injuries cannot be learned readily, but Smith should be running at full speed in a few days.

"The only record," said Mr. Smith, "that I can see broken is that for the javelin throw. Tighe has a splendid habit of breaking his own mark in every meet. At an outside chance Augustine may break the record for the two miles (10 minutes 46 2/5 seconds) and Smith may come close to the 220 mark. All the others seem perfectly safe."

DELAWARE TO PLAY COLLEGE GOLF TEAM

Match Scheduled for April 29 at Newark, Del.—Many Vie for Team

Arrangements for a golf match between St. Joseph's and Delaware University have been completed, according to John Gallagher, manager of the golf team.

This will be the first time a golf team has represented the College in an intercollegiate contest. The match will be played on the Newark Country Club links, at Newark, Delaware, on April 29.

A tournament is now being played by the candidates for the team. The winners of this tournament will represent the Hawks in the intercollegiate contest.

The foursomes arranged for the first round are:

Murphy, McDermott, Osborne and Rumbarger; O'Connor, Linaugh, Hogan and Hartigan; McCabe, Lehman, Cullather and Gallagher; Broderick, Farrell, Gain and Daly; Burke, Schaeffer, Stanton and Seltzer; Leis, McManus, Nulty and McCormick.

Mr. Gallagher is still communicating with other colleges in the vicinity in the hope of arranging more matches. He also expects to arrange a home match with Delaware.

in all probability the casting will be announced after the first rehearsal.

Canisius College of Buffalo, has recently entered the association and will compete with Fordham, Georgetown and St. Joseph's, the present members, for the Pequinot Trophy.

This trophy, a silver cup, is the gift of Francis C. Pequinot, Class of 1900, of St. Joseph's College. It is at present held by St. Joseph's, winners of the first of the contests, between the Jesuit Colleges, held last year in Philadelphia.

According to the specifications set down by the donor, the cup must be won three times by the same club before it becomes a permanent possession.

Announcements of the names of the plays to be presented by the other members of the Association have not as yet been made, but according to the terms of the contest the titles must be made public before April 15.

The Rev. Timothy J. Coughlin, S.J., Moderator of the Cap and Bells Club, is the founder of this Association which last year held its first contest as a feature of the St. Joseph's College Junior Week activities.

Three contestants took part in the competition last year: Fordham, Georgetown and St. Joseph's. The latter school emerged victorious having in its possession for one year the Pequinot Trophy and permanently the Samuel French Plaque, both symbolic of the Association Championship.

his opponents to be theoretically and practically unsound. Application of that principle to such laws as those governing divorce and prohibition, he contended, would bring about a chaotic state of affairs.

The case for the affirmative was continued by Mr. Winokur, who asserted that unwieldy legislative processes made it difficult to effect any change in undesirable laws under present conditions. This delay was unnecessary, he said, and was an impediment to the progress of the country.

In concluding the debate for the negative, Mr. McDonnell maintained that repeal or subsequent modification were the only logical steps to a solution of the problem.

Mr. Edes made his second appearance of the night in the rebuttal which brought the contest to its close.

The board of judges, consisted of the Hon. John E. Walsh, David J. Smyth, Esq., and the Hon. Robert E. Lamber-ten.

The freshman defines a gust of wind as a bunch of air in a hurry.

And a hospital as a place where a rundown person winds up.

Business is so bad in Europe that the Gigolos are dancing with themselves.

A dark-complexioned preacher was beseeching a highly excited Darktown congregation to "hit the saw-dust trial." One of the faithful and younger members who had recently acquired religion arose and shouted to her more reserved brethren: "Last night I was in the arms of de debil, but tonight I is in de arms of de Lawd." At this one of the more progressive of the male representatives asked from the rear of the church: "Sistah are you all gwine to be occupied tomorrow night?"

There is a story told of a woman who was being conducted to her room hop. "Just walk this way, madame," he said, leading the way in a very grotesque fashion. The woman observed his movements closely. "No, sir," she replied indignantly, "I'd die first," in a hotel by a very bow-legged bell-essay, poem and editorial from the group.

"These would then be the best pieces of literature that had appeared in any magazine of the association for the current year."

The proposed Association would also ask "America" to decide the best magazine of the group, further planning outlines. This would be in the same vein as the Dramatic Association of Jesuit Colleges and Universities, which each year holds a contest and decides the best play.

Once the colleges and universities in this section of the country have been formed together, all Jesuit Colleges and Universities in the country, and not yet members, will be asked to join, it was stated.

"The purpose of the Association," the letters stated, "is to keep pace with the great strides being made by Jesuit Colleges and Universities; and to bind them closer together in their literary endeavors."

Varsity Debaters Continue to Keep Perfect Record

Lehigh University team were: Henry J. Fleisher, Philip J. Snifkin, and Emmanuel Scoblionko.

St. Joseph's developed in constructive speeches the infant industry argument; that all progressive nations have always had tariff. The debaters also showed the disastrous results of free trade upon the political, social, and economic worlds. In conclusion, the representatives of Villiger distinguished the use from the abuse and the legitimate application of tariff.

The arguments of the Lehigh team were not definitely defined and were most difficult to follow. The logic of the Bethlehem students was a bit unbalanced and failed to connect the salient points of their discussion.

The decision of the judges was more than unanimous if such could be the case. The chairman of the debate in announcing the verdict of the judges declared that there had been little trouble arriving at the ultimate decision.

The victory over Lehigh was the second for Villiger over the Brown and White debaters in as many seasons. It marked the second win for the Varsity within four days and was the sixth unanimous decision of the year.

The reception tendered the team by the Women's Club of Quakertown under whose auspices the debate was conducted was excellent and most cordial.

APPEAL FOR FICTION BOOKS IS MADE BY EDITORS OF "CRIMSON AND GRAY"

The editors of "The Crimson and Gray" are sponsoring a movement to present the College library with modern fiction books, it was made known today.

The plan of the editors is an appeal to all students. According to the announcement made today, students are asked to present to the library those modern fiction books for which they have no further use, and which are still in good condition.

The statement of the editors reads as follows:

"We find that the fiction department of the library is not in proportion to the numerous and valuable reference books to be found there. Yet we realize that the library should afford a means of entertainment, as well as a source of knowledge to all students.

"If the library were to be presented with 300 modern fiction books, which would be at the rate of one from each student, the number of fiction books now offered students would be practically doubled.

"We further realize that many students are the owners of modern fiction books, which, having once been read, are now collecting dust, but which would be welcomed by fellow students if they were placed at their disposal.

"We, therefore, ask each student to look over his books at home and select those which they feel would add to those already being distributed by the library.

"We would call attention to the fact that we appeal only for modern fiction, that is, books published within the past five years.

"These volumes will be received any day at the offices of 'The Crimson and Gray', or by any of its editors. We are asking the editors of 'The Hawk' to co-operate with the movement by publishing an acknowledgement list in each issue until the College closes."

plan of the Class of 1932, to feature the first contest between the colleges as a prominent activity of Junior Week.

Since it has not been definitely decided how many colleges will be represented in the first meeting of the teams, no definite plans have been formulated by the Juniors. If the number of schools is sufficiently large, the possibility is that a series of eliminations will be conducted and the final contest held on May 8.

The Cap and Bells Club which will represent St. Joseph's in the contest will enter "A Game of Chess" by Kenneth Sawyer. Joseph V. Hunt, '32, and Edmond Molloy, '33, will have the feature roles which they portrayed last year in the intercollegiate contest staged among Fordham, Georgetown, and St. Joseph's.

Each college will be represented by its dramatic organization. The University of Pennsylvania, in accordance with the size of the institution, has entered two representatives. They are the University Dramatic Club and the Philomathian Club.

A short resume of the by-laws drafted by the organization members shows several points of interest which are worthy of mention here.

The plays to be presented shall have a time limit of forty minutes. The play must meet with the approval of the Faculty Representative of the School presenting it. The title of the play must be submitted to the Secretary of the Alliance, in order to prevent duplication. Suitable awards shall be made to the first and second groups and honorable mention, and awards to the first, second and third individual performance and honorable mention. Lastly, the Cast must be chosen from under-graduates in good standing.

FOUNDERS INCREASE EDITORIAL AWARD

Mu Tau Sigma Fraternity has decided to raise the award for the best editorial appearing in the columns of "The Hawk" from Five to Ten Dollars, announcement has been made by John F. Donahue, '30, president of the organization.

"We have as yet failed to select the judges," Mr. Donahue declares in a letter. "Letters have been mailed to several of the Alumni who are at present outstanding in the journalistic field."

Mr. Donahue explained the system that will be used in determining the winner, as follows:

"As none of the editorials are signed, the Moderator is the only one who knows the authors' names. These printed editorials will be clipped from all six issues mentioned last time, and presented the judges.
