JUNIORS STAGE FIFTH ANNUAL DANCE FRIDAY

Class of '33, Will Hold Prom At Bellevue - Stratford On Night After Thanksgiving

SMITH BALLEW'S BAND

The sweet strains of Smith Ballew's enchanting music will officiate in opening the Fall social season of the College, when the Fifth Annual Junior Prom will be staged in the Main Ballroom, Bellevue-Stratford, on Friday evening. Ballew and his orchestra is the main feature of the Prom program. This band of soothing melody-makers has gained great prominence by their recent appearance during the summer on Steel Pier in Atlantic City. Ballew is well known to radio listeners by his presentations from the famous Piping Rock Hotel at Saratoga Springs, the Villa Vallee and the Club Richman.

From all advance reports the Junior Class is anticipating a record attendance on Friday evening. The selection of such a prominent orchestra and the securing of the fashionable Bellevue-Stratford Ballroom have aroused great interest and enthusiasm among the Alumni, underclassmen and friends of the College.

John F. O'Keefe, chairman of the Prom, at a meeting of the committee yesterday, "The latest reports on the affair are most encouraging, and presage a decided social and financial success. The men on the various sub-committees have merited every commendation as a result of their unanimous and sincere co-operation. Their enthusiasm will undoubtedly be rewarded by a tremendous turnout the evening of the twenty-seventh."

Spontaneity and originality will provide the keynote of the Prom. Future Junior classes will find new standards to emulate. The elaborate display of music and beauty will serve to make this dance a memorable one,—one which will surpass all previous affairs of the sort.

GLEE CLUB MEETS IN COLLEGE HALL

Montani Instructs Members at Weekly Assembly; Classes Detain Many

ELECTIONS POSTPONED

The fifth meeting of the most infant project on the campus, the Glee Club, took place on Monday afternoon in College Hall.

Mr. Nicola Montani, director of the organization, conducted the rehearsal in his usual manner, stressing the fundamentals of tone production, and placing particular emphasis on proper breathing and control.

At the conclusion of the meeting, Mr. Montani expressed the opinion that he was very well pleased and somewhat surprised by the results of a few weeks' training. He was especially pleased with the will and sincerity of the members in striving to master a difficult subject. The Director announced that he has received several invitations for the participation of his club in outside circles, but that he is postponing acceptance until that time when the club reaches the degree of perfection he expects.

Due to conflicting scholastic schedules a large number did not attend Monday's rehearsal. However, it is to be hoped that such difficulty may be obviated in the future.

STUDENTS HEAR TALKS ON CATHOLIC ACTION

Programme Held in Conjunction of National Education Week

SENIORS SPEAK IN "QUAD"

A series of talks in the interests of Catholic Action by members of the senior class featured the observance of National Education Week. The program was directed by the Rev. Joseph Slattery, S.J., Dean of Studies.

The lectures were delivered before the assembled student-body in the Quadrangle during the week beginning Monday, November 9. Their purpose was the propagation of Christian principles of living as a panacea for prevalent social and economic evils.

The speakers were, Joseph T. Dineen, George Dunn, Peter J. Sculley, and Francis T. Gain, in the order named. Joseph V. Hunt was master of ceremonies.

Dineen sounded the keynote of the week's program in the first address.

"Catholic Action, in its strict acceptance", he said, "means the apostolate of the laity, under the guidance of the Hierarchy for the advancement of Christ's principles."

"Catholic Action should be pursued in whatever fields these principles are to be found."

Dunn established a standard of education and pointed out its realization in the Catholic method and its superiority to the shallow pedagogy of non-sectarian universities and colleges.

His concept of education was "the full and harmonious development of the intellectual, moral and physical powers of man."

"Education along these lines", he continued, "will give to the world profound thinkers, safe guides, clear writers, and cultured gentlemen."

Sculley, the third speaker, emphasized the economic phase of Catholic Action. His argument was constructed around Pope Pius XI's encyclical on labor, quoting His Holiness

JAMES TAYLOR, '33, DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Lingering illness which had racked his frame for seven long months, finally claimed the life of James F. Taylor, Class of '33, early last Saturday morning. The popular Junior, who has been absent from the campus since last April, was a victim of pernicious anemia.

During the past two months of his illness, many students volunteered offers of their blood in efforts to save the life of their classmate. Taylor's condition was such, however, that these transfusions were ineffectual.

Funeral services for Taylor were held Tuesday morning from St. Francis de Sales Church. A Solemn Requiem Mass was celebrated at 10 o'clock and interment was in Holy Cross Cemetery.

Monday evening classmates of the late Junior attended the wake and recited the Rosary for the repose of the soul of their deceased member.

Members of the faculty and student leaders expressed their sympathy to his mother, Mrs. Mary Taylor, and his sister, Dorothy, who are the survivors.

MANY ALUMNI ATTEND GREATON CLUB DINNER

Numerous Classes Represented at Regular Monthly Gathering; H. Eugene Heine Guest of Honor

EUSTACE CHAIRMAN

The regular monthly dinner of the Greatton Club was held at Holland's Restaurant on Monday, November 15. There was an excellent turnout of St. Joseph's graduates, eighty-five by actual count.

Mr. H. Eugene Heine, Esq., '08, was the guest of honor at this the second meeting of the Club for the 1931-32 season. This tribute was particularly opportune as Mr. Heine was recently appointed special Deputy Attorney-General in charge of Banking in the State of Pennsylvania.

The chair, regularly held by Mr. Edward O'Reilly, '18, was given over for the evening to Mr. Frank J. Eustace, Esq., '24.

Mention of all the names of those present would show a representation from nearly every class of the Alumni. Some of the more familiar faces were those of the Rev. Bernard C. Farley, '16, Chaplain of the Eastern Penitentiary; the Rev. James J. McBride, '23; Mr. Clare G. Fenerty, Esq., Assistant District Attorney of Philadelphia; Joseph Long, '13; Samuel J. Carr, '17; Joseph A. Horan, '17; Samuel M. Rhoads, Jr., '17, and James J. Breen, Esq., '01.

The large attendance was most gratifying to those who have the interest of the Greatton Club at heart. All members of the Alumni are urged to make this event a regular feature of their lives.

The monthly meeting of the Board of Directors followed the dinner.

FACULTY MEMBERS QUIZ JUNIOR LOGIC CLASS

Prefect of Studies Presides at Traditional Philosophy Specimen

JUNIORS "NERVOUS"

The annual Minor Logic specimen of the Junior class was held last Thursday. The dean, Father Joseph A. Slattery, S.J., presided and was assisted by Fathers Hogan, Mullen, Walsh and Bouwhuis.

The Juniors, manifesting slight nervousness, assembled in the College Hall at 10.25 A. M. Father Slattery called out the names of the "specimens" who were questioned by the assisting professors.

The Logic specimen is an oral test of the Junior class on the principles of Minor Logic. The questions dealt mostly with ideas, judgments and particularly with syllogisms. The Juniors on the whole responded well.

This examination is a tradition at St. Joseph's and is held in the presence of the members of the Senior class, who failed to avail themselves of the privilege of questioning the Juniors.

The specimen lasted but an hour, when the Juniors were dismissed for the day, while the Seniors remained for one more class, following which, they too were also dismissed.

CAP AND BELLS CLUB FACES BUSY SCHEDULE

Dramatic Group Will Present Two Plays Next Week at Immaculata College

SECOND ANNUAL TRIP

Final arrangements for the Cap and Bells annual trip to Immaculata College Club's December 4, have been completed. The evening will consist of a series of one-act plays, two by the Cap and Bells and one by the Immaculata players. Following the plays there will be dancing in the College Social Hall.

This will be the second trip of the Cap and Bells to Immaculata. The custom was originated last year in accordance with plans formulated by Rev. T. J. Coughlin, S.J., moderator, to have the Cap and Bells players appear before representative assemblies. Last year the visit was a huge success and it is eagerly awaited this week by students of both institutions.

Negotiations are already under way for a visit to Mt. St. Joseph's in the early spring.

The Cap and Bells will present "A Way Out" and "Copy". "A Way Out," a story of mistaken identity down on the farm was presented for the first time at the last meeting of the Club. "Copy," which portrays the life of a newspaperman will have its premier on the Immaculata boards. The Immaculata players will present "The Pipers Pay" by Margaret Cameron.

The casts for the plays of the Cap and Bells are as follows:

- "A Way Out"
- | | |
|-------------|-------------------|
| Asa Gorrell | James Graham, '33 |
| A Stranger | William Lang, '34 |
- "Copy"
- | | |
|----------------|---------------------|
| David Lay | John Durkin, '35 |
| William Thomas | Edmond Molloy, '33 |
| Adams | Harold Stokes, '32 |
| Pratt | John Martin, '32 |
| Baldwin | Lawrence Tighe, '32 |
| Jimmy | Joseph Byrne, '33 |

No definite announcement regarding the cast of the Immaculata play, "The Pipers Pay," could be obtained from Sister Mary Donata, I.H.M., last night.

Cast Announced For "Journey's End," Play Selected As Annual Production

MOLLOY WINS LEAD

Underclassmen predominate in the cast selected for "Journey's End" the annual play of the Cap and Bells Club as announced by Rev. T. J. Coughlin, S.J., faculty moderator. The complete cast is as follows:

- | | |
|----------------|--------------------|
| Stanhope | Edmond Molloy, '33 |
| Osborne | John Durkin, '35 |
| Raleigh | James Graham, '33 |
| Hibbert | Henry Jones, '35 |
| Trotter | William Lang, '34 |
| Mason | Miles O'Brien, '33 |
| Captain Hardy | Joseph Hunt, '32 |
| Sergeant-Major | John Unger, '34 |
| German Soldier | Louis Iezza, '34 |
| Colonel | Harold Stokes, '32 |
| Broughton | Joseph Lowery, '35 |

"Three eliminations were needed to select this group of men," said Father Coughlin, "and Mr. Stanley and I feel that it is the best possible cast. With their help we expect to make "Journey's End" the finest production in the history of Cap and Bells. We have already begun rehearsals and we will be working at least four days a week from now until the date of the show, February 5.

Almost all of the men selected have had previous experience in college dramatics. Molloy, Graham and Lang will be remembered for their excellent work in last year's show, "Three Wise Fools." Stokes and Hunt made names for themselves in College productions two and three years ago. O'Brien impressed all with his characterization of an underworld Denizen in "Three Wise Fools." The other members of the cast are new men, but have already shown much promise in the rehearsals thus far.

The plans for the play as announced by James O'Neill, business manager, are to hold a dress rehearsal at Old College Hall on Sunday, January 31. The show will be presented in Chester on Monday, February 2. The main showing will be at the Penn A. C. on Friday, February 5. There is a possibility that other road engagements will be arranged.

MODERATOR OF LITERARY COMMITTEE EXPLAINS PURPOSE OF PAMPHLETS

"Why did you get all the pamphlets from the Queens Work Press by Daniel A. Lord, S.J.?" asked the student-body of the Rev. Andrew Bouwhuis, S.J., moderator of the Sodality Literary Committee, when the pamphlet rack appeared on the main corridor for the first time.

Father Bouwhuis in giving his answer said his purpose was threefold.

First—Because the funds received by the Committee in the beginning would only permit the purchase at the lowest possible cost of what was needed. The Queens Work Press offered me the most suitable price.

Secondly—Because a survey of college pamphlet racks showed Father Lord's works the most popular among the students.

Thirdly—Because Father Lord writes these articles after considerable experience with college men and college women.

The Board of Directors is well pleased with this criticism, as it shows the interest taken by the students in the new undertaking.

Other pamphlets which will soon appear on the rack are those published by the New York Stock Exchange, National Catholic Welfare Conference, and Binn & Company, of London, England. The latter publication is a literary pamphlet which features Hillaire Belloc and other English writers. The students are requested by the moderator to peruse these pamphlets carefully.

These pamphlets deal with all the questions asked of the Catholic layman and therefore are a ready answer to our non-Catholic friends. They are the practical side of Catholic Action and should hold a great interest for the students. A pamphlet on any particular subject may be had by notifying the committee.

Those holding stock in the new corporation will receive in return for their investment pamphlets at a time when the Board of Directors considers conditions warrant such action.

The period of trial to which freshmen are subjected is almost completed. The exact duration of the freshmen rules is contingent upon the outcome of the traditional Battle of the Caps.

Too many times freshmen feel they are justified in rebelling against what they term indignities. They can do so, if they like. But any such action on their part would be a breach of good faith.

There is reason to believe that Freshmen might entertain such thoughts, because they have done so before. They are fully aware that they cannot be threatened or bullied into obedience, and may attempt to seek this means of escape if they lose.

We reprint this (without criticism) from the "Tower," of Catholic University.

During the past week the eyes of the intercollegiate world have been focused on two matters pertaining directly to publicity. In one instance a popular radio announcer caused a furor because he employed freedom of speech, and in the other case we find the editor of a college newspaper receiving general condemnation because he RIGHTFULLY employed freedom of the pen.

It is very evident at the outset that in both instances the criticized parties were hurt, and quite naturally they resented it. However, we are not concerned with either case and for that reason will offer our opinions solely on the second problem cited.

It seems that on Tuesday, November 10, Reed Harris, editor of the "Spectator," daily publication at Columbia University, published an editorial entitled "Football" which so irritated and antagonized the captain of the Columbia football team and a few of his cronies that they threatened to thrash him "if he did not lay off."

After weighing the content of the editorial, we will maintain conservative position as regards the veracity of the accusations and charges made against modern football because we are not particularly interested. We feel that we are in no position to say whether or not intercollegiate football is adulterated with the ominous odors of professionalism, since we have never made a through study of the problem.

However, much is to be said for the editor who has the right to express an opinion.

A GREAT MAN

To the college man, Rockne was something more than a hero of the football field; to the man in the street, he was something more than a successful football coach; to the football expert, he was something more than a master technician and strategist; to the business man, he was something more than a wise leader of young men.

To nearly everyone, Rockne was "a great man." That a memorial should be erected for such a man goes without saying. What more fitting tribute could be paid to this man than that a memorial should be erected in his honor?

In asking for the whole-hearted co-operation of the student-body, I am only giving every man an opportunity to express his appreciation of the work which this man has accomplished.

HERE AND THERE

Editor in Chief, "The Hawk" St. Joseph's College, 54th & City Line, Phila., Pa.

Dear Sir: I have just received your issue of "The Hawk". Without a doubt yourself, your business manager and staff are to be congratulated on the talent and effort put forth in giving the Alumni an insight to the activities of our Alma Mater.

In reading "The Hawk" my mind drifts back to undergraduate days as you chronicle the class room, the Debating Society, Dramatics, the college magazine "The Crimson and Gray" and last, but not least Athletics—Good luck to Emid Thomas.

"The Hawk" as the nerve center between College and Alumni may be a means of arousing a dormant Alumni.

Best of luck and if I may be of any service to you do not hesitate to call on me.

Sincerely yours, An Alumnus, '27.

DID YOU KNOW—

That—Clare G. Fenerty, Esq., '16, was the principle lay orator at the Holy Name Rally held at Convention Hall last Sunday?

That—H. Eugene Heine, Esq., '08, was the principle orator at the Newman Club Convention held at Temple University, last Sunday?

That—John J. Nolan, '18, was nominated to succeed himself as chairman of the Philadelphia Chapter of the Baseball Writers of America?

That—Edward J. O'Reilly, '17, spoke on the air (WCAU)? His subject was: "The Holy Name".

That—Raymond Trainer, '25, and Miss Anna Hassan were married at the Church of St. Francis de Sales, Saturday, November 14?

Warmest Congratulations, Ray!

College endowments grow larger every year. Harvard has a nendowment amounting to $108,000,000, ranking first; Yale has $88,000,000; Columbia, $77,000,000; University of Chicago, $50,000,000; M. I. T., $31,000,000; Stanford, $30,000,000; University of Texas, $27,000,000.

College men prefer college women as life companions, according to the nation-wide poll of the College Stories Magazine. The poll revealed that men preferred college girls because they have "it", intelligence, and a knowledge of the higher values of life.

There were some, however, that thought that college did a girl more harm than good. A statistician in Kansas revealed that figures show that the Kansas divorce rate is one to every five among non-college graduates, and only one to every hundred among college graduates. College people have ninety-nine more chances of being right.

"Five cents a week for twenty weeks," is the new slogan for the Student Loan Fund at the University of Omaha, which is now being planned. This plan is estimated to net at least $1500.00.

Students must shed vests in the sanctum of the Columbia University library. The students must either retain their packets or divest themselves of both coat and jacket. The idea is that a "vestless" or "jacketed" student-body makes a more favorable appearance.

A Young Voters' League has been organized at Temple University in order to encourage intelligent thought by prospective voters, and for those already in the voting public. Its members take an active part in the local polls as registers and inspectors.

At last the value of extra-curricular activities is being acknowledged. Among other colleges, the Milton College faculty has adopted a plan whereby while extra-curricular activities of the students will have official recognition with "service credits."

The Cosmopolitan Club of Occidental, has collected over $60 from faculty members, students, and friends of the College to help in providing food and clothing for thousands of Mexicans who are being deported from Los Angeles because of the unemployment situation in that region. The Club began its activity with the distribution of apples among the deportees, and with provision for their entertainment at the train. It has prepared meals for deported families, and has provided money for those in need. A girl student sang Spanish numbers at the train and explained to the Mexicans the purpose in sending them back to their native land. Their reactions to the work were favorable; it was keenly appreciated. It was done to show them that there was a spirit of friendship for them and that the students were ready to help them.

Soup kitchens and shows will be established on the campus of Oberlin College. Hunger-stricken students will find help through this work which is sponsored by the Student Council. A coffee-house will be situated in the center of the campus and will dispense drinks to the hordes after they have negotiated the breadline.

Food tickets were handed out to the students after chapel. There will be entertainment to keep the spirits of these poverty-stricken students from sinking too low. But don't get excited—this is only a campus "mixer," following out the spirit of the depression.

Note: We invite any suggestion as to improvements in this release. This service is for you, and we want to give you the kind of news you want, in the way you want it.

Owen D. Young, in a speech at Wesleyan University, during its centennial ceremonies, in criticism of American colleges, said that most students fail to get a broad economic outlook. Students are not gaining a knowledge of the complexities of our economic relations with the world.

NOW YOU KNOW!

You were surprised, no doubt, that the policy of the column wasn't outlined in the first issue. But we chose to experiment first and select afterwards. Here are the fruits of experimentation: Four things should be avoided: punning, joking, personalities, and attempts at deep wisdom. On the other hand, four effects should be sought: quiet humor, common sense commentating interesting topics, and pungency of expression.

If, hereafter, you find a presence of the former in an absence of the latter, by all means write to the editor and demand the scalp of the columnist.

Furthermore this column is not always the work of one man. Sometimes the columnist is hard-pressed and find time to work. Sometimes sheer indolence prevents him. On such occasions others take up the burden.

There is one other thing to be mentioned. A question has been raised about the choice of a name for this column. Certainly, in one sense, the title of "The Eavesdropper" is rather repulsive. It brings to mind pictures of gum-shoe work, of peeping in at key holes, of tapping telephone wires and sundry other unpleasant things. We assure you that such are not our methods. Our role is nothing more than that of an observer of things open and above board.

It is a rather commonly accepted belief that professors are dull, depressing fellows absolutely devoid of color. Thanks to a few of the more enterprising members, this fallacy is gradually being spiked. Look here!

"All whistlers are morons," say Charles Gray Shaw professor of philosophy at N. Y. U.

"Marry the boss' daughter instead of his stenographer," was the advice given the graduating class of Massachusetts Tech by the now famous Professor Rogers.

And now Dr. David D. Vaughan, professor of sociology at Boston University School of Theology advocates marriage between graduate students with the father of the student-wife supporting her while she and her husband continue their studies.

Unfortunately other brilliant views of a similar nature are not published in the papers. But walk into almost any class in any college and you'll hear such masterpieces.

We read in the papers that Mahatma Gandhi appeared before King George of England, in his lion's cloth.

Said Gandhi: "Would a poor man in the United States change his dress to see President Hoover? Perhaps not. But the poor man in the United States would at least wear something. Gandhi isn't so poor that he couldn't afford to wear at least an extra sheen in deference to the King.

It has been observed that only about three touchdowns have been scored through the line this season. That's a remarkable tribute to the men on the forward wall. Most of the scores have been due to lapses in the backfield. Now somebody has an idea how to remedy the situation. Why not have the linemen pull a "Rube Waddell act"? On the defense, let the backs go and sit on the bench and leave the defense of the goal-line to the forwards. Simple, eh?

THE BALLAD OF RED AND GREEN

Oh! Red is red and green is green
And never the twain should meet
Till Frosh and Soph stand hand in hand
Beneath the judgment seat.

When scarlet mingles with the jade,
When green is one with red,
The ruby gnashes all its teeth,
The emerald bows its head.

For red is red and green is green
And never the twain will meet
Unless some Soph should get profane
Or crazy with the heat.

A strange thing happened at the Drexel game. We're not referring to 1880 model forward pass that accounted for two of the touchdowns, either. The Drexel band played the school song and, mirabile dictu, the Freshmen didn't know it. To the upperclassmen it sounded strangely familiar. Where had they heard it before?

No hens have teeth
Minnie the Moocher is a hen.

Therefore, Minnie the Moocher doesn't have teeth.
You say that the syllogism contains four terms? You're wrong. Minnie the Moocher happens to be the name we gave a hen . . . a real hen . . . not a figurative one.

Alas, poor Kelly . . . "He fell among friends" . . .

What is the purpose of a logic specimen? Is it to find out how much the Juniors know? Or is it to make specimens of them? . . . The New York police are going to play the Sing Sing convicts in a football game. . . . When the prisoners see the cops coming they'll probably run in the opposite direction through force of habit . . .

At any rate our money is on the cops . . . Look at all the practice they've had beating up prisoners in the station houses. . . . By the way, the golf tournament will be over sometime in January. . . . Tom Mullins lead the field in "cuts" this quarter. . . . Nice work, Tom. . . . Hair tonics aren't all fakes. . . . Another moustache has appeared in our midst. . . . The Junior Prom Committee has chartered a special train that will leave for California immediately after the dance. . . . These Juniors are clever fellows . . . they shoot the works first and worry later. . . .

THE PRESS BOX

ON TO CHESTER

The last game of the season will take place in Chester, on Thanksgiving Day, when P. M. C. will be met. Judging by their record the Cadets are not what anyone would term hot. While we haven't been exactly wonderful this season ourselves, with only one game on the right side of the ledger, nevertheless we expect to avenge the defeat of last year in no uncertain manner. There are no Laver's or Warren's down there at Chester this year to muffle our attack, so consequently we feel reasonably sure that the team will conclude the season with a victory over our traditional rivals.

THAT TRACK SCHEDULE

Two years ago Ken Smith was appointed Track and Field Coach upon his graduation from school. Since then the track team has been on the upgrade. Track in past years here at St. Joseph's was a sport that a few hardy ones used to venture out for each year. Thanks to Mr. Smith, it has now been placed on a level with the other sports of the school. Last year the team won the second dual meet in the history of the sport, and due to the Coach's efforts several men of outstanding ability were placed in competition in the Middle Atlantic's.

The schedule just released by the Athletic office is a credit to Mr. Smith, and while we do not expect the team to go out and set the sports world afire with their performance, we do expect to win our share of the meets that are scheduled.

LET'S FILL THE PALAIS ROYAL

Basketball will soon be upon us for in one week we will play our opening game with Textile. Here is the point we wish to stress. Attendance at games. Everyone knows, at least here at school, that the attendance at the football games was not even close to being fair. We'll grant that the team was not a winning one, and the old "That everyone likes to see a winner", is true, but this argument will not hold for Basketball. The court team has always been a winner here, and there is no reason in the world why we cannot get a large crowd of the students at our games. Bring your friends, bring your Dad, the home floor is a place that you will not be ashamed of, and we will show them a team that plays the game as it should be played.

SWAN SONG

Six members of the football squad, three backs and three linemen, will take part in their last college fray when the Hawks engage P. M. C. on Thanksgiving Day, at Chester.

Charlie McNabb, Joe Walker and Joe Doherty, in the backfield. Buck Linaugh, El Boger and Pete Leone on the line are the lads who will bow out on Turkey Day. While they may not all start the game each one is sure of getting into the game at some time or other. All of the departing players have been on the Varsity squad for the past four years with the exception of Boger.

The graduation of these men will leave a big hole to be filled next year. Joe Walker, sturdy fullback, and acting captain in most of the games, is the only one of the six who plays a dual role in sports. He will report for basketball next Monday to prepare for the approaching opener with Textile.

UPSETS MARK FIRST MATCHES ON LINKS

McEnery and Lehman Stage Stirring Round Before Former Grabs Upset Win

SELTZER BOWS

Several startling upsets marked the opening rounds of play in the first semi-annual intramural golf tournament.

Most prominent among the matches which went contrary to prediction was that between McEnery and Lehman. Lehman who has experience in inter-collegiate competition was expected to take this match with comparative ease. McEnery upset the dope by forcing Lehman to bow on the eighteenth green when he won one up.

Other matches which caused surprise were those between Daly and Janish, McMunigal and Bennington, and Schaeffer and Dineen. In all these the victors who are members of the varsity golf team were extended to win. Everyone was carried to the seventeenth green.

The most sensational and hard fought match was that between Seltzer and Murphy. The outcome of this battle between two varsity players was never liable to prediction. Neither contestant at any time held an advantage greater than one hole. Seltzer finally eked out a one up victory on the 18th.

Only three second round matches have been played so far. Katzinger, Rumbarger, and Daly advanced to the third round by defeating Gregor, Janiszewski, and Seltzer. Katzinger downed Gregor one up while Rumbarger beat Janiszewski four and two, and Seltzer bowed to Daly two and one.

The results of the matches played so far follows:

- First Round
- Bohem, '32, defeated P. Kelly, '34, one up.
 - J. J. Burke, '33, defeated F. Smith, '33, two and one.
 - McCabe, '32, defeated J. F. Burke, '32, three and two.
 - Boger, '32, defeated Osborne, '32, one up.
 - Daly, '33, defeated Janish, '33, three and one.
 - Seltzer, '32, defeated Murphy, '32, one up.
 - Katzinger, '32, defeated Perrot, '32, three and two.
 - Gregor, '32, defeated Deegan, '32, one up.
 - McMunigal, '35, defeated Bennington, '35, two and one.
 - Rumbarger, '32, defeated E. Smith, '32, four and three.
 - Janiszewski, '32, defeated Lindsay, '32, six and five.
 - Schaeffer, '32, defeated Dineen, '32, three and one.
 - McEnery, '33, defeated Lehman, '32, one up.
 - Quinn, '33, defeated Stanton, '34, three and two.
 - Rowland, '32, defeated Sculley, '32, two and one.
- Second Round
- Katzinger, '32, defeated Gregor, '32, one up.
 - Rumbarger, '32, defeated Janiszewski, '32, four and two.
 - Daly, '33, defeated Seltzer, '32, two and one.

GRAYBIRD TRACKMAN LIST FIVE OPPONENTS

Hawk Cinderpath Experts Encounter Stern Opposition; Also Compete in College Classics

OPEN WITH MULES

In line with the policy of developing those sports which afford the greatest opportunity to the greatest number of students, an extensive and interesting track schedule for 1932 has been released from the Athletic office.

Muhlenberg College will furnish the opposition on the cinder path for St. Joseph's opening meet on April 23, on Finessey Field. It will mark the first time the Hawks have competed with Muhlenberg in track. The colleges were old rivals in other sports dating back to the initial sports meeting in 1909. Although not officially announced, it is expected that the Hawk grid team will clash with the Mules next fall in what will be the third annual game of the series resumed in 1930.

The next event on the program will be the Penn Relays, in which St. Joseph's has been competing for more than 30 years. Track men have been consistently successful in representing the College at the relays and place in some event nearly every year.

In a return meet inaugurated here last year, Catholic University will be met on its own field on May 7. The Hawks lost to their rivals last year, but seek revenge this season with a promising group of veterans and newcomers.

A meet with Haverford has been tentatively arranged, but is not definitely settled as yet. It will be the first time the Crimson and Gray has opposed Haverford on the paths and field. It is evident the athletic board wishes to give the track squad the benefit of top-notch competition prior to the Middle Atlantic's scheduled for May 13 and 14. Our highly regarded Main Line neighbors have what many regard as the foremost small college track squad in the country, and Coach Ken Smith's minions will have their hands full on May 10, the pending date for the meet.

Delaware University will act as host to the Hawk squad on May 21, to continue relations in force ever since sport was revived on a formal basis at the College in 1923. Sport contests between the Blue and Gold and St. Joseph's have ensued annually since then. The Hawks defeated Delaware for the first time in track here in 1929, in a dual meet and last year again defeated them in a triangular meet at Swarthmore in which the Hawks surprised followers of the sport by winning.

Ursinus has been scheduled for May 25 in another meet on foreign soil. Ursinus is a new foe for the Crimson and Gray in track, but has been a rival in other sports for two decades. This is the last contest that has been definitely arranged.

Temple University is among those with whom the authorities are contemplating arranging meets with this season. St. Joseph's first met Temple in track in 1917, in a triangular meet with Drexel. They have met regularly since 1928 in dual meets, none of which has been won by the Hawks.

Lafayette is also being regarded as a possible foe for the Hawk track team. If arrangements are completed, it will mark the first time the two institutions have met in track. The Crimson and Gray bowed to the Leopards in football in 1918, by the score of 17 to 14.

Ken Smith is starting his second year as coach of the Hawk track team. Following the many improvements on the track this year, this elaborate schedule rounds out what is expected to be a most promising and creditable 1932 track season that seems certain to overshadow past efforts in the furtherance of St. Joseph's in track competition.

The schedule:

- Muhlenberg College, April 23, at home.
- Penn Relays, April 29 and 30.
- Catholic University, May 7, away.
- Haverford College, May 10, away.
- Middle Atlantic's, May 13 and 14.
- Delaware University, May 21, away.
- Ursinus College, May 25, away.

HAWKS FACE P. M. C.

VARSITY WINS FIRST. DOWNING WASHINGTON

Walker Shines in 20-0 Win Over Chestertown Band

LAST HOME GAME

Tasting victory for the first time in over two years, our team rolled over Washington College, 20-0, Saturday in their last game on Finessey Field this season. Scoring in every period but one, the Hawks presented the attack that we have been waiting for all season. Despite the fact that they played ragged football at times the team always had the game well in hand. Incidentally the lads from Chestertown were also after their first victory in two years, and while they didn't achieve their objective we feel that we can sympathize with them, and also praise them for their plucky fight, against odds.

Charlie Morris received the first kick-off and brought the ball back 35 yards to the center of the field in a dazzling exhibition of broken field running. From there the Hawks made a slow, but steady march down the field to the Southerner's 12-yard mark, where they lost the ball on downs. On the first play Washington fumbled and Johnny Kane, alert end recovered for us. From this point Joe Walker took the ball over in three tries, for our second touchdown of the year. The try for the point via the forward pass route went awry. In the second quarter Kane, the lad who was recently converted into an end, intercepted a pass from the hands of Robinson, visiting quarterback, and sprinted 50 yards for the second score of the game. A pass from Joe Doherty to Phil Zuber, out in the flat zone, netted the extra point.

In the third quarter our attack refused to function with any degree of success and as a result of kicking duel developed between Slezak and Dopkins with our Will having the best of the argument by far. With about three minutes of the fourth quarter gone Charlie Morris grabbed a punt at mid-field and dashed 20 yards to Washington's 30-yard line. A pass from Becker to Morris, which netted ten yards, two line bucks by Walker, and a thrust over tackle by Morris brought the ball up to the four-yard mark. Here the ball was given to Friar McNabb and he threaded his way through tackle for a score. With Walker holding the ball, Pint Morris kicked the extra point. The playing of Walker, McNabb and Morris featured for the Hawks while Ollie Robinson and Nicholson showed well for Washington.

ST. JOSEPH'S BATTLES P. M. C. FOR 30TH TIME

First Thanksgiving Day Contest for Hawks Since 1914

P. M. C. HAS EDGE

Traditional rivalry will once again hold the spotlight when St. Joseph's College meets P. M. C. on Thanksgiving Day at Chester. This game, the first to be held on Thanksgiving between the colleges, will be the thirtieth of the series.

In 1922, when football was revived at St. Joseph's, one of the first opponents was P. M. C. So great had the intensity of the rivalry become that in 1929, P. M. C. was invited to assist in the dedication of the new stadium on Finessey Field. This game will be remembered as one of the best in recent years. Ken Smith registered the first score on the new field, when he ran back the opening kick-off for a touchdown. However, P. M. C., quickly recovered from this setback and eventually won by the margin of a point after touchdown, 7-6.

For the first time since 1914, St. Joseph's has scheduled a game on Thanksgiving.

The game will mark the tenth annual contest of the present series with the Cadets, who hold a large advantage over the Hawks in games won, 8-1. Present indications point to a severe struggle, with the Hawk's having a slight edge on the basis of comparative scores. But when traditional rivals meet, comparative scores mean little and anything may be expected to happen.

P. M. C. has compiled a record of three victories, three losses and one tie, Upsala, Gallaudet and Baltimore University were the victims of the Cadets, while they suffered reverses from Albright, Lehigh and Delaware. A tie game with a strong Dickinson eleven was the highlight of the season.

The Hawks, facing a far more difficult schedule, have won one game, but upset pre-game statistics by holding Delaware, an overwhelming favorite, to a scoreless tie.

An enthusiastic turnout is expected from both Colleges.

Veterans Report As New Men Bid Hard For Posts

FERGUSON SILENT

With few veterans of last season's record making varsity available, the Hawk basketball team face a tremendous task when they play Nat Holman's C. C. N. Y. outfit in their second game of the season at New York, on December 5. This game will mark the resumption of relations, which have lapsed since 1919 when St. Joseph's lost a hard fought game in the "old gym" by 20-19. The Hawks open their season next Wednesday night, December 2, at the Palais Royale against Textile.

While the Hawks have been practicing for the past two weeks, Coach Ferguson does not expect to have his full varsity strength in shape for the opening game. This is due to the fact that Joe Walker and Phil Zuber, both members of last year's varsity, together with several promising regulars of the successful '30 and '31 junior varsity will not report until next Monday at the close of the football season.

From the twelve players, who comprised last year's varsity outfit, only seven are available for this year's team. Ed Trainer and Tommy Kane, co-captains of that club, received their diplomas last June. Ed Sunkes, stellar guard, is ineligible, having played four years on the varsity. John Moynihan, lanky center, did not return to school this semester. "Cooky" McCusker was admitted to St. Charles Borromeo Seminary to study for the priesthood.

A welcome surprise was afforded Hawk followers during the past week, when Jimmy Osborne reported to Coach Ferguson. It had not been expected that Jimmy would report until the football season had come to a close since he appeared to be making out well in that sport. This will be Osborne's fourth season on the varsity and much is expected of this veteran, who appears to be in the best shape of his career.

When the call for candidates was issued two weeks ago, all the other available players from last year's varsity and junior varsity squads reported. Franny Smith, regular center throughout the past two campaigns, appears to have recovered from the sickness that confined him to bed most of the summer and is quickly approaching his real form. Pete Sculley, Willie Cahill and Jim Ridgway have been displaying the flashing form that made them members of last season's varsity.

Former "J. V." players have reported in force and several others are expected to come out at the conclusion of the football season. Bromo Seltzer, lanky center of the Jayvees, is a senior this year and is expected to make a strong bid for a varsity post; Jim Dougherty, formerly a guard, has been playing well at center. Others, who have shown improvement, are Hugh Quinn, Joe McVeigh, Charley Dickinson and Bill Kane. Members of last year's Jayvees, who are expected to report on Monday are: Johnny Kane, Charley and Leo Morris, and Joe Morrow.

"The squad is beginning" said Coach Ferguson, when questioned as to how good his team would be, "to shape up pretty well and should be on their game by next week. However, I would rather not predict the outcome of any of our games; not until the football men have reported."

"But I will say," continued Coach Ferguson, "that, no matter who the opposition is nor how good they are cracked up to be, WE'RE OUT TO WIN EVERY BALL GAME."

CATHOLIC ACTION

to the effect that the "only salutary reform for the present economic situation is a reform of Christian morals."

"Action participation in economic life by Catholic lay societies is evident today," declared Sculley. "To mention only a few, we have the National Welfare Conference, the Catholic Conference in Industrial Affairs, the Central Verein, and the Catholic Rural Life Conference."

"May we, too," he concluded, "meet our obligation as graduates of a Catholic college in teaching and exemplifying the Catholic theory of economic life."

The last speaker, Francis T. Gain, stressed the importance of Catholic Action in civic life.

"The Catholic layman," he said, "is eminently fitted to be the intelligent watch-guard that the State needs, because he is motivated solely by justice in the interests of his fellow-man."

HOLD MEDICAL EXAM.

Attention of all the pre-medical students was recently called to the aptitude test to be given by the Association of American Medical Colleges. The test is to be held on December 11, in the Biology Technique Room at 3 P. M.

This test should be taken by all the students who expect to apply for admission to any medical school in 1932. Emphasis was placed on the fact that this would be the only such examination to be given this school year.

The test has been adopted by all the member schools of the Association and is one of the requirements for admission to any of these colleges.

Application to take the test should be made immediately to the Rev. Clarence E. Shaffrey, S.J., Dean of the Pre-Medical Department. The nominal fee of one dollar is required of each student taking the test.

VARSITY CLUB DANCE PLANNED FOR BELLEVUE

Lettermen To Hold Second Annual Dance In North Garden of Downtown Hotel

SCULLEY CHAIRMAN

The second annual reception and dance of the Varsity Club will be held on Monday, December 28, in the North Garden of the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel.

Peter Sculley, '32, chairman of the committee in charge, announced that Al Hirsch and his orchestra have been engaged to furnish the music for the dance.

Further details are being withheld until after the Junior Prom, at which time plans for the entertainment will be made public.

Harry Linaugh, '32, President of the Organization said, "We hope in time to develop in this affair, an annual dance which will rank with the present outstanding social events of the school year." Continuing he said, "We hope to receive the whole hearted support of the students and Alumni in this comparatively infant endeavor."

Members of the committee assisting Mr. Sculley are as follows: Joseph Walker, '32, Edward Sunkes, '32, John Kelly, '32, Frank Smith, '33, John Cabrey, '33, Hugh Quinn, '33, William Kane, '34, Joseph Corneley, '34 and Frank Connors, '34.

Last year's affair proved both a social and financial success despite the fact that very little time was afforded the committee for preparations. This year under radically different conditions with plenty of time in which to make satisfactory arrangements greater success is the current prediction.

FULLER DISCHARGED FROM HOSPITAL

Stephen Fuller, star end who was injured in the Albright football game, was discharged from the Misericordia Hospital where he had been confined. Fuller has been convalescing at his home and has not yet resumed his classes.

Thought to be fatally injured at first, Fuller rallied to surprise attended physicians by his quick recovery. While lying in the hospital, the injured player made the statement that he would participate in the Drexel game. His spirit is manifested in the fact that he has indicated his desire to again be a candidate for the varsity squad next year. It is not thought that his injuries will hamper him next season.
