Fourth Edition of "Ice Follies" To Be Given At Hershey Sports Arena December 6---10

The fourth annual edition of the "Ice Follies" will be presented at the Hershey Sports Arena on the nights of December 6, 7, 8, 9, and 10.

Two important additions to the cast will be Evelyn Chandler and Bruce Mapes. When these stars of the ice appeared at the Hershey Sports Arena on October 29 last, it was announced that they would not appear again in the Arena until the Spring.

In the meantime, Miss Chandler and Mr. Mapes changed their plans and joined the fourth annual edition of the "Ice Follies".

Miss Chandler, rated as tops in professional ice skating, will be seen in numbers in which she will show Axel Paulsen jumps, Jackson Haines spins, butterflies and spread-eagles.

All attendance records for shows of this type are expected to be shattered here as the "Ice Follies" boasts a complete new show, sensational new stars which makes the figure skating extravaganza the prize entertainment hit of the year. In the last two seasons the "Ice Follies" have appeared in twenty-seven cities and played before more than two million applauding winter sports fans.

Every city on last year's triumphant tour has again booked dates for the new fourth spectacle. When the new colorful ice production started its tour the season was completely booked from November to April and there was every indication that more than a million would again witness the thrill-packed event this season.

This year's nation-wide tour includes performances in all the great rinks of the country, plus those in Canada. Cities on the list are headed by Madison Square Garden in New York, and take in Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Detroit, Cleveland, Baltimore, St. Louis, Kansas City, New Haven, Providence, Springfield, Mass., Tulsa, Hershey, and four cities in Canada, Montreal, Sherbrooke, Quebec and Toronto.

The tour began in Hollywood early in the fall where the "Ice Follies" made a picture at Metro Goldwyn Mayer, released as the Ice Follies of 1939. The figure skating carnival first appeared on the West Coast last spring, at which time scouts from five major motion picture studios saw the possibilities of a film in the ice show. All five wanted to film it, but Ice Follies officials closed the deal with M.G.M.

The show will travel as a unit again this year, with a complete company of sixty, which includes a line of twenty-four girls for its ballets, group number and skating pantomime acts; twenty-five stars in single and double featured numbers, plus its own orchestra leader, master of ceremonies, wardrobe, lighting, technical, publicity and business staff.

While playing its summer run at Atlantic City, the fourth Ice Follies was created under the supervision of six of the greatest professional skating directors in the world. The six include Oscar Johnson, Eddie and Roy Shipstad, Frances Claudet, Gae Foster and Ernie Kratzinger.

Johnson and the two Shipstad boys are co-owners of the Ice Follies with Edward A. Mahlke, business manager. Miss Claudet is the Canadian Women's Champion, while Miss Foster is from the famous Roxy Theatre staff, New York City. Kratzinger is the musical director for the production.

While the previous productions were hailed as marvelous exhibitions of rhythm and grace, the Ice Follies of 1939 is acclaimed as a new

Hershey Rose Garden In Bloom In Mid-November

Strange as it may seem, hundreds of plants were in bloom in the Hershey Rose Garden last Sunday due to the mild weather in this section of the country. Previously the weather was so warm and the frosts so light that it made possible the blooming of roses.

Among those noticed by visitors last Sunday were the gorgeous scarlet Gloria Mundi; the yellow President Plumcocq; the pink Gaiety; McGredy's Yellow; Gloaming, a beautiful pink rose and the white Pedrables.

Among others that were pleasing to the eye were the yellow Mrs. Joseph Peraud; the red Radiant Beauty; the reddish-yellow Condesa de Sastago; the brilliant red Joyous Cavalier; the red Permanent Wave; the yellow Sister Therese; the red Radiance; and the pink Warrawee.

Hershey Community Theatre Aids Welfare

On the last three Fridays of October, during which there was a stage show in addition to motion pictures at the Hershey Community Theatre, the entire receipts for each night were given to the cities of Harrisburg, Lancaster and Lebanon for their welfare funds.

The Harrisburg Welfare Federation received $312.25; the United Welfare of Lancaster County $573.50; and the Lebanon Welfare $265.00.

high in figure skating. Long hours spent before the camera in making the movie have given the new Ice Follies a smoothness of technical perfection plus a polish in timing that lifts it far above any other show ever attempted on ice.

Hershey Community Farm Show Here December 2, 3

The second annual Hershey Community Farm Show will be held on December 2 and 3 in the Social Room of the Community Building here, and farmers of the surrounding countryside are invited to send exhibits.

The farm exhibits will be on display beginning at 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon of Friday and remain on view for Saturday. On Friday night, December 2, A. S. Fromeyer, Dauphin County Farm Agent, has arranged for educational movies of interest to farmers.

There will be money prizes offered for the exhibits and the sweepstake prize will be a ribbon. The vegetables, grains and fruits will be judged by representatives of the Pennsylvania State College.

Among the vegetables that will be shown for prizes are beets, carrots, onions, turnips, squash, pie peppers, sweet potatoes, and among the white potatoes early Cobblers and late White Skins and Russets. The apples to be represented are the Staymen, Smoke House, Grimes, Red Delicious, York and Rome.

Among the grains are corn, oats, barley and soy beans. There will be a special display of eggs.

THE ROSE A QUEEN

Robed in exquisite shades of color blending,
In tender chords of harmony that tone
With other charms that chastity is lending,
She reigns a queen, and all my heart her throne.

I am her subject for my life's full term,
When Time forecloses; she will deck the pall
And pay such tribute as pale lips conform
When o'er the casket her white petals fall.

Mark not my grave with cross or sculptor's urn,
I want no labor'd art where I repose;
When life is past and I to dust return,
I'd lie beneath the shadow of a Rose.

Plant me a Rose my resting place to hide!
The crystal drops of dew her petals weep
Will seem like tears she could not brush aside,
While at her feet her lover lies asleep.

—JOHN KENDRICK BLOGG in the Australian Rose Annual.

Lyric Proclamation Urges Rejoicing On Thanksgiving

As the colors of Autumn stream down the wind, scarlet in sumach and maple, spun gold in the birches, a splendor of smoldering fire in the oaks along the hill, and the last leaves flutter away, the dusk falls briefly about the worker bringing in from the field a late load of its fruit, and Arcturus is lost to sight and Orion swings upward that great sun upon his shoulder, we are stirred once more to ponder the Infinite Goodness that has set apart for us, in all this moving mystery of creation, a time of living and a home. In such a spirit I appoint Thursday, the twenty-fourth of November, a day of

Public Thanksgiving

In such a spirit I call upon the people to acknowledge heartily, in friendly gathering and house of prayer, the increase of the season nearing now its close; the harvest of earth, the yield of patient mind and faithful hand, that have kept us fed and clothed and have made for us a shelter even against the storm.

It is right that we whose arc of sky has been darkened by no war hawk; who have been forced by no man to stand and speak when to speak was to choose between death and life, should give thanks also for the further mercies we have enjoyed, beyond desert or any estimation, of Justice, Freedom, Loving-kindness, Peace-resolving, as we prize them, to let no occasion go without some prompting or some effort worthy in a way however humble of those proudest among man's ideals, which burn, though it may be like candles fitfully in our gusty world, with a light so clear we name its source divine.

and Mrs. Feder, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Treadway, Miss Sally Treadway, Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Wick. Hartville—Mr. and Mrs. H. Schumacker.

Pennsylvania: Allentown—Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Christman. Bethlehem—Mrs. C. B. Jacobs, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Jacobs. Carbondale—Mr. and Mrs. George W. Berry. Edgewood—Mr. L. M. Gumm. Fairfield—Mrs. Henderson. Hanover—Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Delme. Harrisburg—Mr. J. B. Warden.

Irwin—Mr. C. W. Drake. Lancaster—Mrs. Heidelbaugh. McKeesport—Mr. H. E. McElravey. Merion—Mr. Frank H. Jones. Nazareth—Mr. Thomas Stites. Oil City—Mr. and Mrs. William M. Parker, Jr.

Philadelphia—Mr. A. B. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Busch, Mrs. William J. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Lare, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Nooman, Mr. J. B. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Saubrey, Mr. George A. Welsh.

Extolling Horse-Chestnut Trees When In Blossom

To the Editor of The New York Times:

The Times Magazine had an article recently about "Our Historic Chestnuts" which reminded me of my early youth in New England.

The horse-chestnut tree, which attains an unrivaled beauty when it reaches the height of its blossoming period, is something to remember, as shown by the beautiful print in The Times. The giant clusters of its fragrant blossoms of white tinged with pink scent the Summer air more strongly than do most trees. And any one who has ever seen the large pyramidal stacks of the horse-chestnut flowers gently falling to the ground sees a sight suggestive of a woodland fairyland. Like a shower of dainty snowflakes falling from heaven, the blossoms cover the ground.

I rarely see horse-chestnut trees in this part of the country, though they seem to be quite frequent in many parts of New England.

ARTHUR EILENBERG.

Come down to Hershey, Mr. Eilenberg, during the latter part of May when the trees planted many years ago by Mr. M. S. Hershey on Cocoa Avenue, extending from West Chocolate Avenue to West Granada Avenue are in bloom. These horse-chestnut trees, when in their full bloom with clusters of blossoms of red, yellow, pink and white, make a most pleasing picture to the eye. (EDITOR).

Orion, Mighty Hunter Of Sky, On Winter Nights

Now is the time of the year to renew your acquaintance with the most majestic of all the constellations, Orion, the mighty hunter. You will find him climbing up over the Eastern horizon about 10 P.M.

As the weeks progress he will rise a little earlier each night. By the middle of November he will appear about 8:30 P. M., by the end of November about 7:30 P. M.

Orion is the sign of winter. He appears as the autumn leaves of red and gold and brown disappear. When autumn has reached its most melancholy stage, when the trees are beginning to look gaunt and to poke bare branches at a gray sky, then Orion comes to remind us that this is only a transitional stage.

Mighty Orion comes to remind us that the end of autumn is not, after all, the end of the world. He whispers of cold, crisp nights when the earth sleeps beneath its blanket of white, when snow-covered bushes and trees make a landscape worthy of fairyland, when the air is so clear and the sky so bright that the stars seem bits of fire. Orion foretells the merriment of Christmas time and the joys of New Year.

Ever since the beginnings of civilization Orion has attracted the attention of mankind. Next to the Big Dipper it is the most conspicuous and hence most easily identified of the constellations.

—DAVID DIETZ in the New York World-Telegram.

IN AUTUMN

Is it too much to ask of us, that we Should imitate the grandeur of a tree? And when our year is dying, lift on high Some flaming torch of Faith against the sky?

—ETHEL STANDISH WOODS, Good House-keeping, September, 1938.

What to See in Hershey

HOTEL HERSHEY: A masterpiece of beauty and luxurious living amid the foothills of the Blue Ridge mountains on the Hershey 10,000 acre farm. HOTEL HERSHEY is one of the world's most palatial hotels. It is erected on a hilltop overlooking the Lebanon Valley and the Blue Ridge mountains. It is surrounded by gardens of flowers, in bloom in Spring, Summer and Autumn. In design, the building has the warm glow of famed Spanish architecture. Its semicircular dining room gives an outdoor effect. Much of its food served is raised on the Hershey farm.

RIDING ACADEMY: At the HOTEL HERSHEY stables fine saddle horses are to be obtained from Spring to Fall.

GOLF: Hershey has been called "The Golf Capital of America." There are four courses to play: The Hershey Country Club, the Hershey Park Golf Course, the HOTEL HERSHEY Golf Course, and the Juvenile Golf Club, the former two having eighteen holes each and the latter two nine holes each. The Juvenile course is the only one of its kind in America. Spring Creek winds through three of the golf courses, making an attractive natural hazard. The rolling country makes for sporty courses and they are well kept and watered. Hershey Park Golf Course $1.00 week days; $1.50 on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays. HOTEL HERSHEY Golf Course, $1.00 week days; $1.50 Saturdays, Sundays and holidays.

HERSHEY CHOCOLATE CORPORATION: Open to visitors daily, except Saturdays, Sundays and holidays. Visiting hours 8:15 to 11:15 a.m., and 1:15 to 3:15 p.m. One-half hour assigned to see how chocolate is smoothed, moulded, cooled, and spread in uniform thickness and wrapped for shipment.

MODERN OFFICE BUILDING: The offices of the Hershey Chocolate Corporation are housed in a window-less, air-conditioned indirectly lighted office building. Science's latest contribution to business in general and employees in particular.

COMMUNITY BUILDING: A centre providing entertainment and recreation as well as aiding the educational, moral and civic functions of the community. Contains the Community Theatre, Little Theatre, Hershey Junior College, hospital, gymnasium, swimming pool, bowling alleys, game room, social room, library, dining room, cafeteria, club rooms and dormitories.

HERSHEY JUNIOR COLLEGE: To aid the immediate needs of young people and adults. Open to graduates of Hershey High School, Hershey Industrial School and residents of Derry Township. No tuition fees.

COMMUNITY THEATRE: Seating 1,904 people. Paramount, 20th Century Fox, Universal, RKO Radio and Columbia motion pictures shown with occasional stage shows.

GYMNASIUM: Indoor swimming pool rooms and apparatus for all manly sports.

HERSHEY PUBLIC LIBRARY: Contains reading and reference rooms for its thousands of readers of books and magazines.

DINING ROOM: Serving popular priced meals amid delightful surroundings.

CAFETERIA: Where wholesome, delicious foods are prepared for a nominal charge.

YOUNG WOMEN'S CLUB: Accommodating forty-five guests. Headquarters for Girl Scouts. Modern equipped gymnasium and swimming pool.

HERSHEY PARK BALL ROOM: Popular orchestras of national reputation play dance music on Wednesday and Saturday night, in the summer season.

Accomplishments

In the spring of 1903, when the dogwood was in blossom on the hill-sides, M. S. Hershey came to this community, which was then a corn-field in Derry township. He brought with him twelve families, a deed for three hundred acres of land and an idea to build a factory in the country and make the best bar of chocolate that he could produce and sell it at the lowest possible price.

Success touched him on the shoulder and bade him go forth and bring to fruition another idea. Take motherless and fatherless boys, educate them by mind, hand and heart and make the best men of them that he possibly could. He carried out the idea and devotes his time and energy to that end.

Here, briefly, are the accomplishments of Mr. Hershey and the men and women who have worked with him and have created a richer and fuller life, for more than 3,000 people of Hershey, transforming the corn-field into a delightful place in which to live and work.

HERSHEY PARK: Called "The Summer Playground of Pennsylvania." A park of 1,000 acres, situated in the midst of meandering Spring Creek, beautifully landscaped with flowers in profusion during the Spring, Summer and Fall. In its Sunken Garden is a joyous electric fountain. On certain Wednesday and Saturday nights there are free concerts in the Band Shell; also every Sunday and holiday in Summer. There are picnic tables for 5,000 people and a Cafeteria seating 1,000. Contains a score or more of fun devices to entertain children, youths and grown-ups.

HERSHEY PARK ZOOLOGICAL GARDEN: This is the largest privately owned zoological garden in the United States, and in addition contains an aquarium. Mammals, reptiles and birds from all parts of the world are to be found here in the cleanest of surroundings. Contains individual houses for reptiles, primates, carnivora, small mammals, antelope, birds and fish. Hours: 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.

HERSHEY MUSEUM: A museum of Colonial and Pennsylvania Dutch days, containing the George H. Danner collection; and the Indian collections of Colonel John G. Worth and David H. Landis. Open daily from 1:00 to 5:00 p.m.; on Saturdays, Sundays, and holiday nights 'till 9:00 p.m.

OUTDOOR SWIMMING POOL: Water from clear subterranean springs is filtered into the largest outdoor swimming pool in Pennsylvania, from May to September.

HERSHEY GREENHOUSES: Contains 23,000 square feet of floor space. Growing plants, shrubs and trees from all over the tropical and temperate zones are on display. On Palm Sunday the annual Easter Flower Show presents thousands of flowers in bloom in their varied colors.

HERSHEY ROSE GARDEN: Contains more than 20,000 rose plants of over 500 distinct varieties in bloom from June to frost time. The Garden covers three acres and is a veritable rose university.

HERSHEY SPORTS ARENA: The largest span concrete monolithic structure in America. It is the home ice of the Hershey Hockey Club, whose teams are popularly known as the Hershey Bears and the Hershey Cubs. The pro team is the Hershey Bears, a member of the International-American League. The amateur team is the Hershey Cubs, who for the past three seasons has won the championship of the Eastern Amateur Hockey League. It is also the home ice of the Hershey Figure Skating Club. The Arena is used also for conventions, roller skating, softball, basketball and such annual exhibitions as the "Ice Follies", "Water Follies", World's Professional Tennis exhibition and Rodeo. Seats 7,200, and where a large floor is not required, 10,000.

HERSHEY DEPARTMENT STORE: Contains 21 departments, selling everything the community needs. Large variety of merchandise of quality.

GAME FARM: For the propagation of game birds, particularly pheasants and quail. Visitors welcomed.

TROUT POOLS (Spring Creek): Propagating brook trout.

COMMUNITY INN: A newly modernized, moderate price hotel, containing 150 guest rooms, the building, in Colonial design, four stories high, is comfortably and completely furnished. The Oyster Bar and Sea Food Restaurant is air-conditioned, seating over 600 people. The finest sea food available is received daily.

DERRY TOWNSHIP SCHOOLS: The largest consolidated school system in America.

CHURCHES: All Saints' Episcopal Church; Derry Presbyterian Church; First Church United Brethren in Christ; Holy Trinity Lutheran Church; Spring Creek Church of the Brethren; St. Joan of Arc Catholic Church.

PASTOR'S STUDY AND ACADEMY: Derry Presbyterian Church: built in 1732, now inclosed in glass to preserve and protect it for future generations.

HERSHEY INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL: (Headquarters in Hershey Industrial Junior-Senior High School). Founded in 1909, for the making of men out of fatherless and motherless boys. On thirty-nine farm homes and seven school homes, scattered over sixty-nine miles of road, live 1,000 orphan boys who are given an all round education and taught trades that appeal to them, to make them fit to take their place in the world. At eighteen they leave the School, are given clothes to last for a year and $100 additional to what they have saved from their weekly allowance. A hospital cares for their physical needs.

HERSHEY INDUSTRIAL JUNIOR-SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL: (On the ridge overlooking Hershey). This building houses the Junior High School and the academic, commercial and vocational divisions of the Senior High School. The vocational school has shops for instruction in carpentry, plumbing, electrical work, printing, machine shop practice, auto mechanics, ceramics and horticulture. Visiting hours, 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. and 1:00 to 3:30 p.m., daily. Summer hours, 1 to 3:30 p.m. daily.

HERSHEY FARMS: Everywhere one goes one sees the well kept, well developed farms, with their Holstein cattle grazing on the succulent grass so prevalent in the Lebanon Valley. The Round Barn is one of Hershey's showplaces.
