

JOLLY DINNER AT WHEEL CLUB

In Honor of Young Man Soon
To Take a
Wife.

The Williamsport Wheel Club was the scene of a jolly dinner last evening, given by F. E. Erickson in honor of Emory Hogg, formerly of this city but now a resident of Punxsutawney, who is to be married in the near future.

The dinner, which was excellent, was followed by a post-prandial over which Mr. Erickson presided as toastmaster. Ralph W. Gray responded to "The Invocation," E. J. McHenry to "Echoes From Large Cans," Henry M. Bodecker to "Steady Girls" and Harry C. Creamer to "Merry Windows."

Those present were F. E. Erickson, Ralph W. Gray, E. J. McHenry, Harry C. Creamer, Robert W. Clevinger, Whilden Dickson, Henry M. Bodecker, Earl Blair and Messrs. Flook and Fagan.

The guests all expressed themselves as perfectly willing to see their host lose another best, he has proved such a prince of entertainers.
