PRESENTED BY THE
CLASS OF 1939

We dedicate this book to
JOHN H. BROOKS

*Acting Chairman

Because

JOHN H. BROOKS has been intimately associated with Keystone for many years and has always been a stalwart friend and generous supporter. Since the inception of the junior college, his efforts on behalf of the student body have resulted in the reconstruction of Bailey Field and the surfacing of Christy Mathewson Field. As chairman of the Finance Committee of the Board of Trustees, he helped to make possible the erection of Capwell Science Hall and the purchase of much needed equipment.

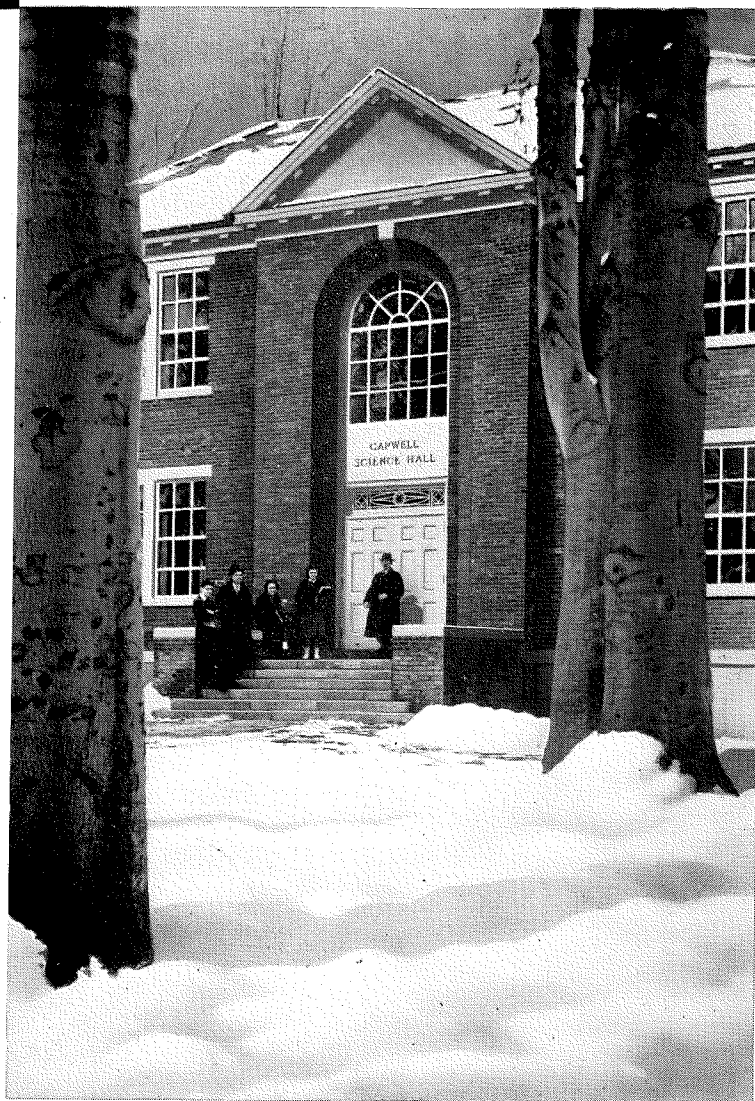

But the interest of Mr. Brooks has gone beyond generous material aid. As a frequent visitor to our campus, his smiling, friendly countenance is known to all of us. He encourages us in our academic work and always stands ready to support worthwhile student activities. We dedicate this book to him because he is our ideal of a fine citizen, always ready to lend his aid to good projects; because he is a great-hearted friend, whose efforts on our behalf are very sincerely appreciated.

President Hollinshead Speaks

EACH year we make progress toward our goal of making this the finest possible institution of its kind. The college year, 1938-39, has been one of unusual progress. We have absorbed into our working facilities this year Capwell Science Hall, Sabiston Hall, and the President's House. Each of these new buildings is serving a need very adequately. In the field of science we have equipment second to no other institution offering the same type of work.

More important than physical equipment is the spirit of the student body and faculty. I am sure I speak for the faculty in saying that we hate to see this year's class graduate. Most of you have become our close friends whose fortunes we shall follow with affectionate interest. I hope you will always feel that you have here a home with "Welcome" written on the door.

The class of 1939 has done a great deal for Keystone and my appreciation is extended to all of you. Every time we use the public address system we shall think of your generosity in providing it. Every time we walk up the side steps from Capwell Hall we shall see the numerals of your class. The flag of 1939 will be treasured, kept, and displayed on every festive occasion.

I wish you good luck and happiness in the years ahead.

Sincerely yours,

Byron S. Hollinshead

PRESIDENT

Administrative Staff

DEAN WILLIAMS

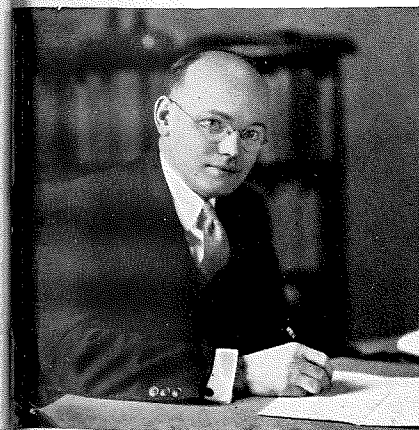

Dean Wilbur L. Williams is probably the busiest man in La Plume. To him falls much of the unpleasant work of making out reports, posting probation lists, and sending home notices of excess cuts from classes. All of these undesirable documents bear his signature. Formerly a journalist, the Dean now uses that knowledge to good advantage as faculty supervisor of all student publications. A more capable man could not be imagined to fill his position, and as first assistant to the President, he is helping to mould the great future of our growing institution.

FRED DENMON, Controller

The silent efficiency with which the controller manages his office is frequently the subject for comment among the students. A quiet man, who seldom talks, and then very softly, Mr. Denmon seems to take life very seriously. He is our idea of a perfect gentleman and all the boys consider him a "swell fellow." His good manners are exceeded only by his good manners.

DEAN SCHEUER

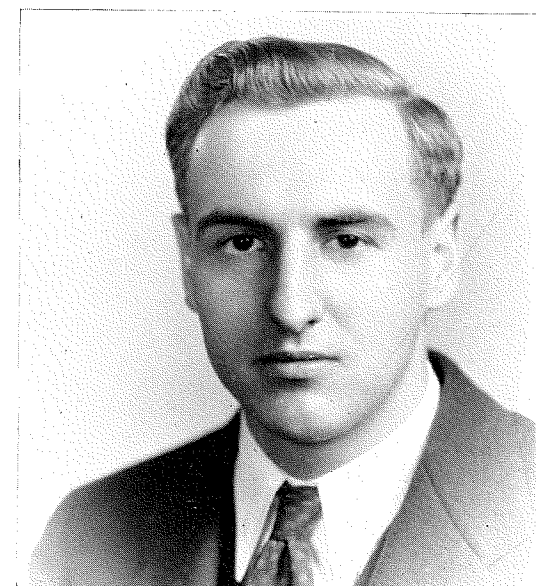

Miss Lucile Scheuer, as Dean of Women, has just completed her first year at Keystone and during that time has demonstrated her ability as a manager, diplomat, teacher, and dramatist. Miss Scheuer concluded several years service at Scranton Technical High School in order to serve at Keystone, and what was Tech's loss was Keystone's gain. Like Dean Williams, she too has some unpleasant disciplinary duties to perform, and like him further, her reasonableness and firmness have made her the object of respect and popularity.

Class of 1939

OFFICERS: David Humphreys, President; David Richards, vice-President; Helen Denmon, Secretary; MacGregor Jones, Treasurer.

The Faculty

Second row: Dr. Joseph A. Strelzoff, Chairman, Engineering Curriculum; C. T. Oswald, Chairman, Science Curriculum, James E. Luckman, Mathematics and Drawing; George Azar, Chairman, Preparatory Department; Dr. Samuel Morris, Biology; Peter P. Stapay, Chairman, Secretarial Curriculum.

Third row: H. H. Dudley, Psychology and Public Speaking; R. M. Lightfoot, Jr., Librarian and History; Lucile M. Scheuer, Dean; George Yost, Jr., English and French; Lester C. Wolfe, Bacteriology, Biology, and Chemistry.

IN THE Fall of 1937 we entered Keystone, which was then starting its fourth year as a junior college. We, the present Sophomore class, represented the largest Freshman class ever to enter Keystone. It has been explained to us that we would be welcomed most cordially by the Sophomore class, but the explanation was not clear enough. We soon found out that the Sophs welcomed us only as lambs are welcomed at the slaughter.

After surviving our initiation it was time to elect class officers. Jack Daley, a very popular boy on the Keystone campus, was elected to lead the Frosh, with Jack Tilley, vice-President; Jeanne Richards, Secretary; and Don Heebner, Treasurer. Our class was now a fully organized society and we set out to give our full cooperation to the college.

We thoroughly enjoyed our first year, which was made more enjoyable by many dances, teas, and parties sponsored by different campus organizations. The freshman year, which we will always look back on as being one of the best years of our lives, ended with the Commencement Prom.

In the Fall of '38 we returned joyfully to assume our positions as honorable Sophomores. Wasting no time, we elected David Humphreys, President; David Richards, vice-President; Helen Denmon, Secretary; and MacGregor Jones, Treasurer.

This was our big year, because we now had plenty of Freshmen to haze. Led by the Tribunal we had one solid week of sport at the expense of the Frosh. This later became boring, however, and the Frosh were allowed to assume a more advanced standing.

When the time came for the annual Freshman-Sophomore football game we were determined to upset tradition, and we were successful in doing just that. Although the score ended nothing to nothing, the Sophs were awarded the victory on the basis of their superiority in first downs.

It has suddenly dawned upon us that our remaining days on the campus are numbered. Suddenly our happiness ends for the moment. There now comes a feeling of sadness, which the brawny students try to laugh away; but find that they are unable to overcome their feelings.

As a parting sigh, I find myself humming our Alma Mater, to the tune of Juanita. Brush away a tear, breathe a sigh, and with a sad gdoo-bye sing:

Down in the valley
Through a shady cloistered dell,
Flows the Nokomis;
Where we love to dwell.
Far above the water,
Proudly on the hillside's crest,
Stands our Alma Mater—
E'er to us the best.

CHORUS

Keystone, ever thy memory
Cherished in our hearts shall be.
Keystone, Alma Mater,
Loyal e'er to thee.

ONE of Keystone's outstanding wrestlers, Killer well deserves his nickname when he is riled. He can floor anyone he wants, on the mat or with his humor. "Peep" is very quiet until you get to know him, but teasing is his hobby with those he knows.

WERE is not for the unstinting generosity of Clare, many of the medical secretarial parties would have been both uninteresting and unfed. She is lively, and can not be accused of being too quiet.

BURKE is definitely interested in music, and if his activities here at Keystone show anything, he should be a better musician than an engineer. Bill is definitely on the social side, trying his darnedest to be a lady-killer and at times he almost succeeds.

CARL is the type of person who is a problem to the biographer. Early in his freshman year he learned that going through college meant a lot of studying, and he has been doing little else since. He has found time, however, for intramural sports.

ONE of those industrious "Med. Secs," Betty, like the rest of her group, spends a great deal of time in the Bacteriology lab puncturing fingers and counting red corpuscles. An ardent follower of swing, Betty is definitely a jitterbug, although about the campus she is usually rather quiet and unassuming.

QUIETLY cultured is the phrase which best describe Bob, but his reserve is easily broken through and Bob proves himself to be an all-around good sport. Broady is a wrestler, who if he had been able to wrestle regularly through 1939 would have solved one of Turk's major problems.

SARCASTIC, humorous, quiet, noisy—all these adjectives described Ruthie. She is quiet until she cuts loose, but then there is no stopping her. One of the outstanding members of the girls' hockey team, she made an admirable forward.

FERNIE is the type of girl about whom poets write—slender, with eyes that enthrall like stars. Fernie did not play hockey until her sophomore year, but proved to be a valuable asset to the team.

CHUCK is a screwy sort of a fellow, but he gets along well with his classmates. As an athlete he is not the stellar type, but he is always dependable. His speed makes him a man to be desired on most teams. A would-be ladies man.

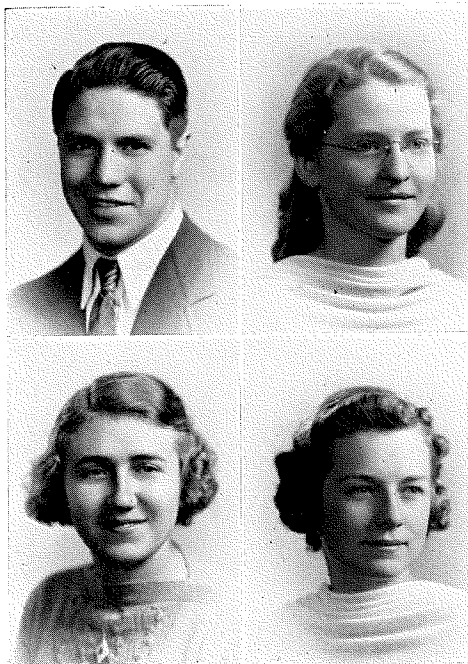

RUTH is a quiet studious girl whose chief interest is the next day's home work. A well-known worrier, Ruth always manages to come out on top. She seems destined to make a good medical secretary. Her over-conscientiousness will fit her well in her chosen profession.

OF "Turkey" Decker stock, June is well rooted in Keystone traditions. She is the antithesis of her brother Joe who made the name Decker famous at Keystone. June is quiet, well-bred, and definitely inclined to be studious. A good talker when she talks.

A WOMAN of many words, "Pat" is efficient, industrious, and a capable worker. She has successfully filled the two highest offices the Women's Organization has to offer. Her popularity further proves itself in her election as president of Sigma Mu Alpha.

THE "Admiral" has been at sea ever since he became a full-fledged sophomore and was able to boss a certain freshman. A football star by way of Blakely High, John shone in three sports at Keystone, following with bigger shoes in the footsteps of his brother. He has a quiet, dry sense of humor, which amuses his many friends.

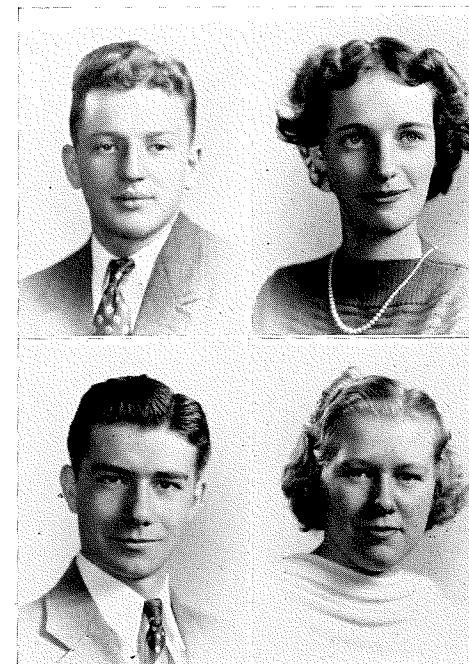

ONE of the girl members of the radio club, Betty seems more likely to be at home in front of a mike, than with a pair of earphones. Betty is an excellent dramatist, and introduced at Keystone the reading with a musical setting. She has a devastatingly quick sense of humor, and turns puns quite easily.

ONE of those super-active individuals, "Punchy" makes his presence felt on the Keystone campus (front of course). Disappointed in a first year's love affair, Bill has sublimated his emotions to the smells and odors of the chem lab, and spends his evenings engrossed in extra-curricular activities. Debating is his specialty, and he is the type of man you like to debate with, not against.

QUIET, modest and unassuming, Fran is liked by anyone who knows her. Frances has kept the college average up with her Dean's list grades during her two years at Keystone. If New Milford needs a medical secretary, Keystone will certainly recommend Fran.

REESY is a first-class wack and one of the campus clowns. His vivacious personality has made him one of the popular men about Keystone. His ambition is to be an advertising man, but he will compromise any day for Clark Gable's job. Is an inferiority complex the reason he never went out for varsity sports?

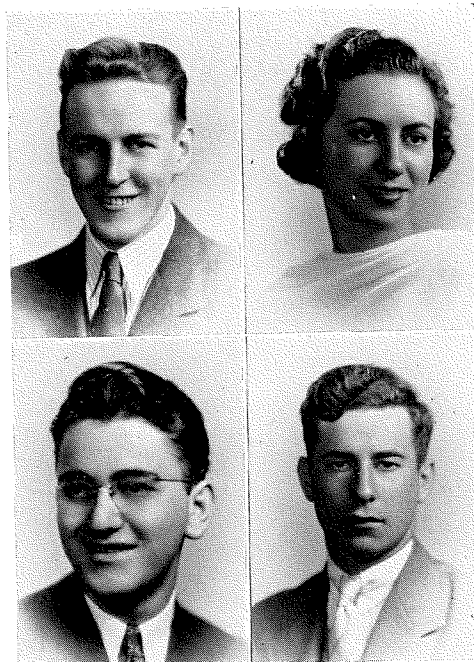

FOOTSIE missed her calling when she joined the Bridge Club; she would have been much better as a comedian. Ann is the studious, ambitious type who can always be depended upon to do her part. It would have been hard to get along without her on the hockey and basketball teams.

DAVE is famous for his second-hand humor. His interests seem to have broadened out during his second year of school. He's an all around sort of fellow, president and one of the most popular men of the sophomore class. His talents as an extemporaneous speaker have served him well and in all probability will in the future.

ONE of the good looking members of the class, his presence is felt everywhere. Although Jimmy was not thought to be dramatically inclined, he surprised everyone when he blossomed forth as the hero of "Rich Man, Poor Man." Definitely not the quiet type, you are bound to find noise where you find Irland.

PETITE is the word for Ruthie. Her charm is as refreshing as rain and seems to come inversely to her small size. Her popularity among the student body has been proved by the number of offices she has held in the different campus organizations. She has demonstrated her musical ability in several Keystone concerts. Her keen interest in laboratory work should carry her far in her chosen profession.

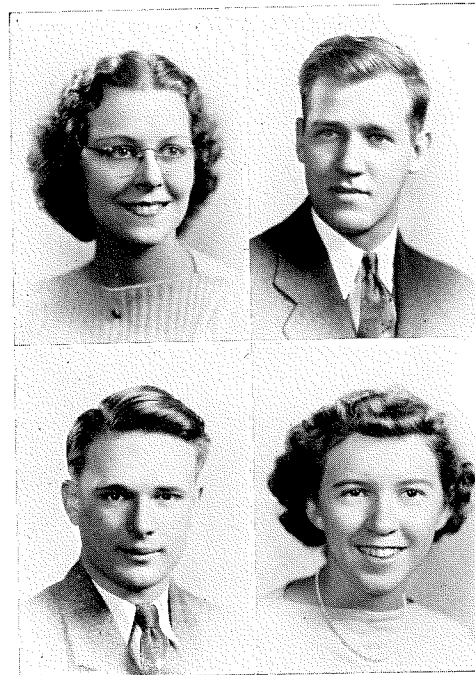

A TYPICAL athlete, Bob, however, prefers the books, as his marks show. Though quiet, he is always smiling, and seems to radiate cheer. A typical man's man, his interests lie definitely with engineering. Although he restrained himself in his first year, his athletic ability came to the surface in his sophomore year.

DOT JONES, who worked her way through Keystone by nursing the aches, pains, and (mostly) imaginary illnesses of the students, will not soon be forgotten. Her patient attention to recited symptoms and her white starched uniform will remain memories of Keystone to many.

MAC JONES has proved to be one of Keystone's outstanding athletes during the past two years. However, Mac has been able to maintain Honor Roll grades. His quick wit and pleasant laugh have made him the friend of many. In his Sophomore year, Mac was elected Treasurer of the Sophomore class.

WHAT has he got that gets us, this mysterious Mr. Johnson? Quiet, unconcerned, yet he is everybody's friend. While at Keystone he was noted for his wrestling, being undefeated in his first year. So popular he may be classed as a heart-breaker, Chuck still remains the silent man.

ONE of those big, bad Sophomores who frightened freshmen who were called before the Tribunal, Kay is really not the boggy-man type. She has many friends at Keystone who will not soon forget her cheerful personality and winning ways.

DURING the years she spent at Keystone, Nancy has kept pretty much within a group of secretaries, and although she is well known, not much is known about her. This much is known, however; she plays an equally good game of pinochle or bridge. She has the qualities of a good secretary.

YA-YA, a crashing fullback on the football team, will be best remembered for his excellent portrayal of the male vamp role both on the Keystone stage and on the Keystone campus. Jones was one of the initial members of the Wolves Society.

KADAK is one of the Engineers who found plenty of time for extra-curricular activities. Living by the old slogan, "Don't let your studies interfere with your college education," Kadak learned much, most important of which is "how to win friends." On the basketball floor he is a fearful and wonderful thing to watch.

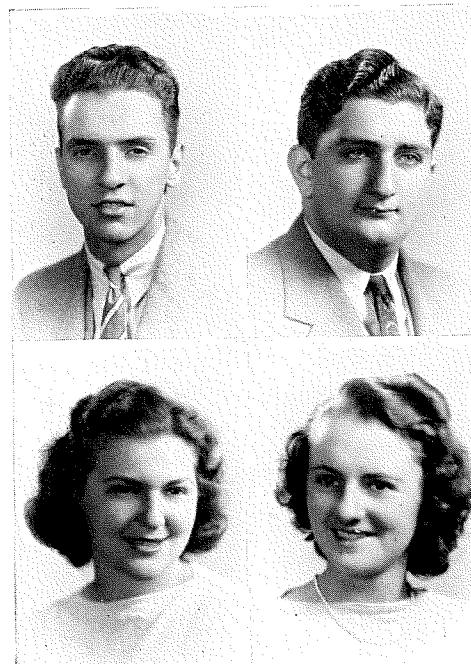

ALTHOUGH "Blimp" started a new weeks later than the rest of the class, he soon made up for lost time and became a well-known figure on the campus, largely through his football exploits. Although not very fast on the gridiron, off the field he doesn't lack speed and is notably chief contender for the record on the highway between La Plume and Scranton.

BEA, whether she knows it or not, has made more than one Keystone man turn around to stare after her with a prayer on his lips. Her outstanding activity is hockey, where she played an excellent game.

LINDY is one of those girls who did not get around much during her first year, but made up for it during her sophomore year. She is hard to get to know, but well worth the trouble. Her personality is interesting when she chooses for it to be so.

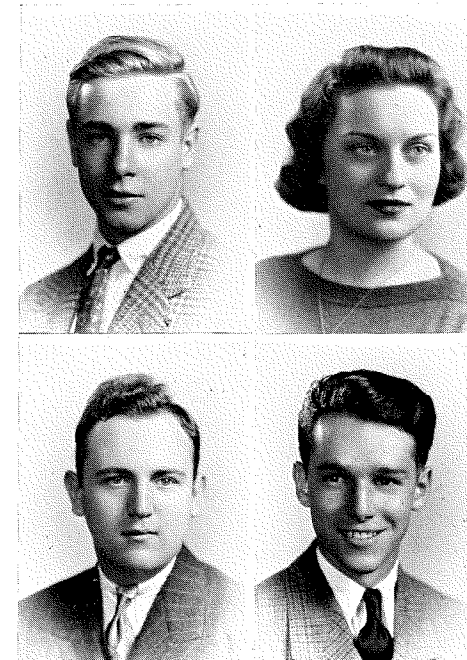

WILLIAM, or "Jerry," as he is known by everyone, is a newcomer to the Sophomore class. His quick wit and ready smile won him a place in our hearts. Jerry is also a wrestler of no little ability.

MICKY is one of those calm, sedate girls of which one reads. She never allows herself to be worked into a state of wild excitement. She is also an above-the-average student, as well as being somewhat of a music critic.

PROBABLY the best-natured man on the campus, and very definitely one of the best-liked individuals, George is one of those sunny-dispositioned boys who comes in for plenty of razzing and knows how to take it. Although ordinarily the type "who wouldn't hurt a fly," he won't stand for any "pushing around," and can become indignant if occasion demands.

DAVE is inclined to give one the opinion that he is bashful and shy. However, the observing person will see him quite often engaging some fair lass in quiet conversation. His ability as a photographer won him the Presidency of the Camera Club.

IF you have a question about foreign languages, Jeanne is the girl to see. The way she can rattle off a translation is enough to make her classmates green with envy. It is generally known, however, that her interests are not entirely foreign.

A SMOOTH performer on the basketball floor, yet a very quiet lass in the classroom, Lois is hard to become acquainted with, but she possesses a pleasing personality once you get to know her.

SHE might well be labeled Keystone's smile girl. It seems as though Lillian can smile regardless of conditions. Her ability as a makeup artist was a life-saver for the Dramatic Club.

BOB is one of the happiest-go-lucky persons on the campus. Very seldom worried unless it is time for a test of examination, Bob is always to be found pranking around the campus.

JOVIAL, with a perpetual smile, Mary Alice flits about Keystone spreading her sunshine. If you're looking for a girl with a happy frame of mind, she's the one to see. Incidentally, Mary Alice has an unusually good alto voice and has been one of Mr. Dudley's mainstays in the glee club.

SOOKY was our all-around girl athlete. There is no sport for girls in which she does not excel. The way she steers clear of the boys would make you think that she is bashful.

BENDING laboriously over the typewriter in the news room and smoking his pipe—in this characteristic pose, Ben will probably be long remembered. Keystone is going to miss that typical Slocum grim, that aimable personality, that pitching on the baseball field. We think that Ben is a "trump" if there ever was one.

NAIVE best describes this lanky lad, who has been so fittingly nicknamed "Legs." Well known for his sense of humor and his co-operation, Boyd is a likable lad. His credulity has often resulted in the most comical situations. "Slug" answers to almost anything; his nicknames seem to have no end.

PRETTY, dark-haired Mary can be feminine or athletic as the occasion demands. No danger of her ever being a wall-flower; she is always surrounded by a number of admirers. Perhaps her secret lies in her curly hair and her warm, refreshing smile.

ALTHOUGH she's quiet and retiring, Helene stands out as a girl who undoubtedly will be a successful medical secretary, if her excellent grades are any indication. She has quite ably demonstrated her musical talent in both the Concert Association and the Glee Club, and she is smart-looking as well as smart.

SOUP stays in the background among strangers, but when he's among his own group, he is remarkably changed. Haven't you ever heard of that famous sense of humor, which he reserves for the pleasure of his pals? Soup, they say, also secretly plays a trumpet.

A QUIET girl with lovely eyes, Dotty seems to go her way and get along very well. She's the girl who hails from the now very famous Picture Rocks. Until she came to Keystone, no one had ever heard of the place, but Dotty certainly put it on the map.

ANNETTE is one of the more brilliant members of our class. Nevertheless, she always finds time to participate in numerous Keystone activities. She is a lover of music and has played an active part in the affairs of the Concert Association of which she was a co-chairman in her second year. Annette is an admirable person.

MAURICE is probably the smilingest man of Keystone. A very friendly engineer who says little, Maurice has never in our knowledge been seen radiating anything but a smile. He ought to be remembered in the halls of fame for having gone to Keystone and never been "down."

SPECTACULAR best describes the tennis playing of our Jack. Some times he appears to be a contortionist as he goes after the ball—and hits it! In addition to his pretty figure, he is one of Keystone's handsomest Romeos, and in spite of his attractiveness he is one swell fellow—one of our class leaders.

OUR innocent, petite, Helen really added a lot to our basketball team this year. Although she entered Keystone as a sophomore, it didn't take her long to make a hit. She always keeps an open book in front of her and is a diligent student, but we prefer to think of her as our Keystone "cutie."

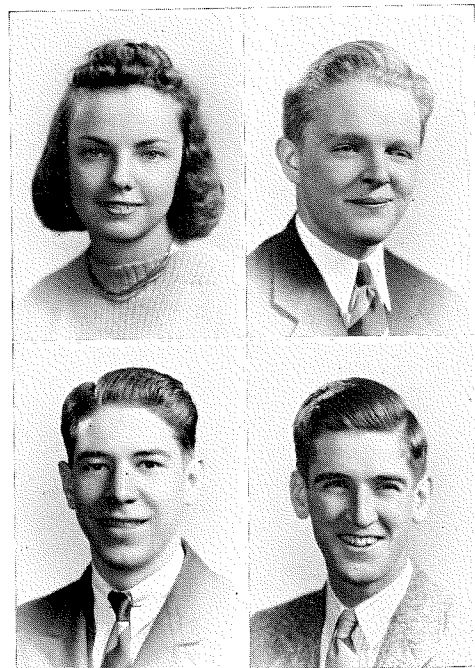

WHENEVER you hear a noise, you can be sure that Steve is expounding on one of his favorite topics, and believe us he has plenty of them. Nevertheless, Steve is a good kid in his way. He is reputed as one of Keystone's best apple-polishers.

EVERY class has its star in scholarship and our class has Bob. Serious-minded and efficient, he always manages to come out on top. Bob is one of our first rate debaters as well as probably our most interesting writer. In years to come, Keystone, even as it is already proud of him, will be prouder still of Bob Walter, for he will go far.

IN his freshman year Snuffy went in for chess and checkers in a big way, but this year he has become a veritable bridge fiend. Carl can always be counted on to make a fourth. Camera Club also seems to hold his interest, and he is often found scouting with his "candid."

ATHLETICALLY inclined, Widge is one of Pudgie's standbys. She is quiet, but watch her go on the tennis court! A good student, Widge will be a better gym teacher. She's got what it takes, too, because she is well liked, especially among the engineers. Her wit is keen, and there is a lot of feeling under her shell.

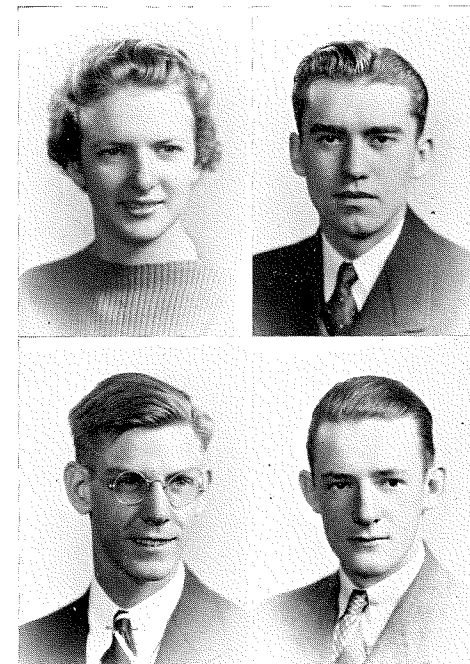

WALT is a popular member of the Tribunal and has made more than one Freshman hearken to his commands. A likeable boy, this Wieland chap makes a pleasant acquaintance. He is an ardent Bridge Clubber and an intramural sport enthusiast.

A QUIET person, but easy to become acquainted with, Dean is liked by all of his associates. He is an enthusiastic engineer and a faithful supporter of Kappa Sigma Epsilon, of which he is vice-president. Intramural sports seem to hold a great attraction for him.

JIMMY is a popular member of the Keys Society and a typical Keystone man. He seems to have a supply of humorous remarks on hand at all times and never fails to use them. He is another camera fiend and baseball enthusiast.

Freshman Class History

MONDAY, September 13, 1939! That day shall live forever in the hearts and minds of the class of 1940. Our first day at Keystone was a bit awe-inspiring. We were in college! But all was not roses, for on Friday, we came face to face with our sworn enemy, the Tribunal. Treated somewhat roughly all that day, we came to our first classes on Monday resplendent in dinks, bow-ties, dresses, boxes, bags and what-have-you. We were determined not to incur the wrath of that august body of elders, the Sophomores. In vain—every Tuesday various members of our class made their knee-knocking, teeth-chattering appearance before the Tribunal. We tried to behave, honestly we did, but the cunning upperclassmen enjoyed setting traps for us, and apparently we enjoyed falling into them.

A month or two after classes began, the class of 1940 elected the following officers to guide us through the year: Ronnie Williams, President; Allan MacArt, vice-President; Aimée Sobbott, Secretary; and Harold "Gummy" Watkins, Treasurer.

In a short time the class became an intimate part of Keystone life. Members of the class became as well-known on the back campus as they did in the classroom and the extra-curricular activities. We took an active part in sports, and members of our class helped bring glory, as well as bear the ignominy of defeat, to Keystone's ventures in football, basketball, and wrestling.

And now, our first year at Keystone is at an end. We must take over the duties and honors of the Sophomores. It is a fervent hope on the part of the entire class of 1940 that we may be able to do as much for Keystone as did the class of 1939. The class of 1939 leaves much to us in the way of duty, tradition, and honor. May we step into its place and fulfill our duties as successfully as they filled theirs!

Preparatory Department

SEPTEMBER 19, 1938, and classes are about to begin! Early this morning all the prep students received their programs and idled away to classes. This first day, we, who had not been here before, surveyed our surroundings with rising interest, intent upon the things we would enjoy later on.

Tuesday morning, and we are having assembly. Mr. Azar (we had not yet become used to calling him "Turk") explained the rules and regulations. We elected "Red" Wallace president of the class and also our representative on the Student Council. The boys voted solidly for "Red," and the girls for "Jeanner" Gordon—but the girls were outnumbered.

Very soon we became better acquainted and an air of cordiality grew among us. The weeks slip by; football season is in full progress; dances enliven our evenings; wrestling season starts—and we are proud of our preppers, "Bruiser" Bloxham and Bill Lodovici, later to be elected co-Captains of the 1939-1940 wrestlers.

Already it is examination time. Well, anyway, Jean Gordon and Bob McClave gained honor rating. The new semester starts and work slows up. Easter vacation is "just around the corner," and next thing we know exams will be on us again.

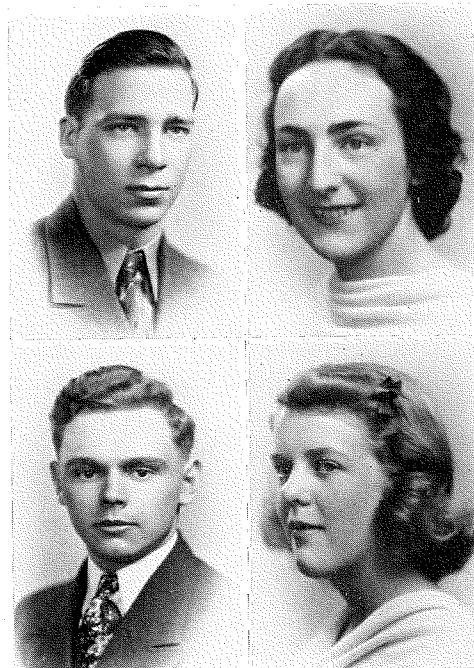

Thus ends the history of 1939. Here, where we have built our foundations, our time is complete. Most of us realize that "Time marches on," yet it is with genuine regret that we leave Keystone—even though several of us will be back for college in September.

BRUISER is a quiet lad.
Is always happy,
Never sad.

RONNIE is a very capable and fine girl. She has a dominant personality and is utterly frank. She came to us shortly after classes began and has made a definite impression on all in her year here.

BRUCE B. BLOXHAM

M. JEAN GORDON
"Jeanner"
Carbondale High School
Glee Club, 2; Camera Club, 2; Girls' Hockey, 1, 2; Orange and Blue, 1, 2.

HE likes to read, and "dream" away at the piano. Quiet, but a thorough gentleman and genuinely interested in Keystone and its activities.

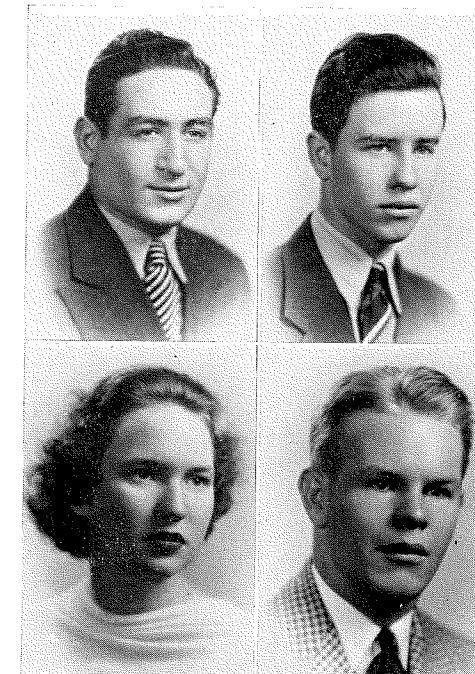

JEANER is very capable and is one of the most active girls on the campus. She loves to play golf—not to mention croquet—but her favorite amusement is probably reading. "Jeanner" is a fine girl and an excellent student.

EGOTISTICAL is the word for "Lody." "I did this," and "I did that," are his favorite introductions when he is talking about the sports in which he has participated. We must admit, however, that "Lody" is a fine football player and wrestler.

THERE is not much to be said about Walt because few who meet him get to know him. Among his friends, however, Shimer is quite a different young man. His favorite amusement is the movies and his favorite sport (as a spectator) is football.

WILLIAM LODOVICI

EARL J. WALKER
"E. J."
Central High School

MARNY is very withdrawn. She never says much and she is seldom seen about the campus. Owing to ill health, "Marny" has been unable to participate in school activities. Yet she has quite a sense of humor—and sometimes of mischief.

E. J. is an athlete of high caliber. Through his splendid efforts in football, he became a member of the Varsity "K" Club. He is an amiable, yet quiet, chap.

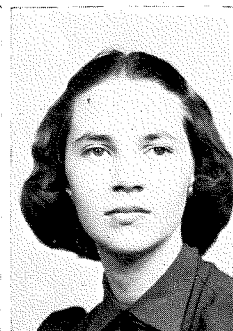

PEGGY is an ardent bridge player and has thoroughly enjoyed the activities which have been sponsored in this game this year. Also a dramatist of ability, "Peggy" is friendly and has a cordial manner. She is a good companion at any time.

COMING to us on her birthday in 1937, Jean started a new year in the best possible way and has been going strong ever since. She early became a well-known and well-liked member of the campus community, even though she has had a "one and only" virtually since she arrived.

NOKOMIAN STAFF

FOR the fourth year in the history of Scranton-Keystone it is the privilege of the students to prepare an annual yearbook. This book we proudly call "THE NOKOMIAN." It is so-named because it is our wish that it will bring back pleasant memories of the life spent along the banks of the winding stream, Nokomis, back campus.

It is the absurd hope of the staff of every year book the world over to present to its readers the high spots in college life. Unfortunately this is impossible. Many of you will no doubt be immensely disappointed to discover that some minor item (to the editors, at least) has been omitted. It is our aim to please, but we can't please everyone. So bear with us, and remember that we tried our best.

We, the staff, give to you, the students, the "NOKOMIAN" for 1939!

KEYSTONIAN STAFF

OPERATING under a board of editors for the first time in its existence, THE KEYSTONIAN steadily improved throughout the year.

With Elmer Morgan as editor, and Robert G. Walter and S. William Dowey as associate editors, the College bi-weekly adopted a liberal editorial and feature policy. Editors other than those represented on the editorial board include: Ben Slocum, sports, and Mary Smithing and Annette Steinle, associate feature editors.

In Columbia Scholastic Press Association competition, THE KEYSTONIAN was awarded a second prize among junior college newspapers. With first prizes awarded to large Western public junior colleges, this recognizes Keystone's publication as an outstanding junior college paper in the East.

The faculty supervision of Dean Wilbur L. Williams proved quite helpful, for the Dean's wide experience in journalism kept Keystone's embryo journalists from making many mistakes.

Pressed by deadlines and a constant lack of space, THE KEYSTONIAN has tried to present all the news about Keystone, and has succeeded rather well.

TRIBUNAL

THE Tribunal, which was appointed by the graduating sophomores, did its best to instill into the hearts and minds of the lowly freshman the love of the "Bible" and the fear of the Sophomores, and to administer justice to all freshmen offenders. This was not fully appreciated however, until those on trial realized that the freshmen were wrong until proven right, and were not allowed to defend themselves.

The trials that many of the freshmen were subjected to were not meant to make little of the defendants, but to make them realize that they were coming to an age at which they would be expected to obey common laws. The rules were also designed to establish a sense of tolerance to fellow human beings.

The Tribunal made the Freshmen into a strong brotherly organization. It enabled the Freshmen to become better acquainted with the Sophomores and it promoted college spirit. While the penalties inflicted were often thought of as childish, today they are seen in the same spirit of fun in which they were inflicted.

STUDENT COUNCIL

EVERY effort is made at Keystone to encourage students to govern themselves. The Student Council is a legislative body composed of students representing the Freshman, Sophomore, and Preparatory Classes. The members are elected by the student body each year. They meet regularly twice a month and when necessary special meetings are called. This plan has worked so successfully that infractions of discipline have been few.

This Spring the Council conducted a faculty take off, and assisted in the administration of the annual career forum. The sophomore class chose: William Dowey, Charles Johnson, Ruth Cairns, Jack Tilley, Alice Wood, and Ruth Jenkins. The freshman class elected Doris Boyle, Luther Keller, Ruth Weber, Charles Barclay, and Jack Wilcox. The Prep School chose Michael Wallace.

WOMEN'S ORGANIZATION

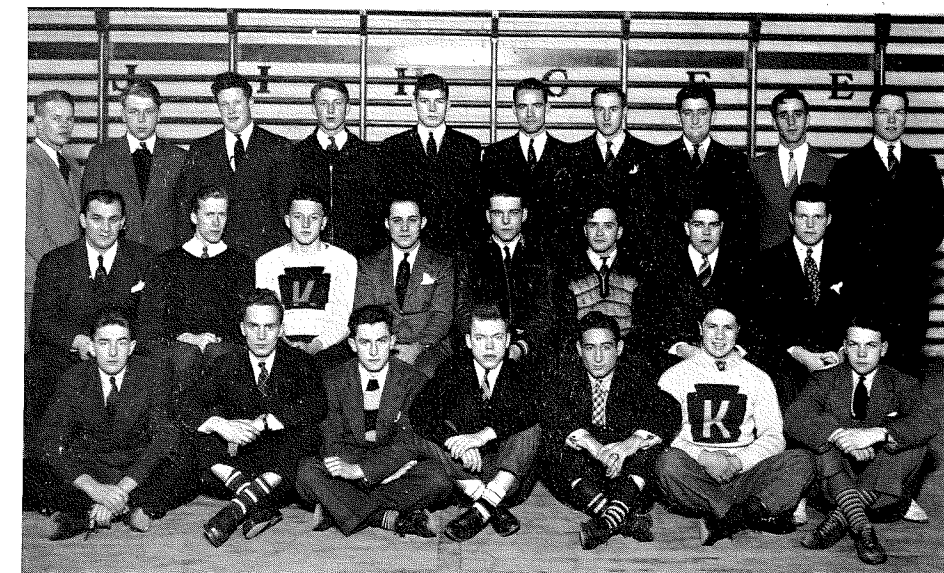

THE Keystone Women's Organization is for the association of the girls of Keystone. Miss Scheuer, Dean of Women, is the faculty advisor.

In September a weiner roast was held on back campus, and the girls had fun getting acquainted with each other. A Hallowe'en Masquerade Dance was given in the Gymnasium in October. A Grand March was adjudged the most original, the most beautiful, and the most comical. A scavenger hunt was scheduled in November. A grand prize of candy was given to the victors.

In December a reading was given by Mrs. Salo Friedewald, and a tea was held for the mothers of the girls. January brought the annual Military Ball, which was a masquerade. There were prizes for the prettiest, funniest, most clever, and the most original. A concert and a Washington Birthday Tea were given in February. In March the girls held a theatre party, which was followed by a tea given by Dean Scheuer. The annual Spring Dance in April closed the events of the Keystone Women's Organization very successfully.

THE Varsity "K" Club is composed of those men who have won a major letter in athletics and who have, in the opinion of the club, displayed good sportsmanship and fairness in all activities. Major awards are given to those who have played in a majority of the games in either baseball, basketball, or football and to the managers in these sports. The awards are also given to the captains of the tennis and wrestling teams and to each member of the wrestling team who has won all his matches.

As an organization the group supports athletics of all kinds and encourages as feeling of good sportsmanship among the students of Keystone. In accordance with this policy the club has donated a cup to the school as an award in intramural basketball and has entered teams in many minor sport competitions. In addition, it sponsors many social activities and thus provides its members with an opportunity to earn a varsity sweater.

This is the fifth year that the club has functioned. Its present membership consists of over thirty students, making it one of the most influential, successful, and respected organizations of Keystone.

THE KEYS

THE Keys Society is the only honorary society at Keystone. Its members consist of the ten sophomore boys who have attained the greatest number of points, according to a definite basis, in their freshman year. Character and honesty are the first requirements of Keys members.

The organization meets bi-monthly for the purpose of recording the points of freshman boys. These points are awarded according to a standard agreed upon by the society. Points are awarded first, for grades, and second, for each extra-curricular activity in which the student participates. This includes all athletics—varsity, inter-mural, and intra-mural; clubs; and any other organization found on the school campus. Officers of clubs and class officers are given special credit.

At the end of each class year the society tabulates the points and, on Class Day, the new members are officially initiated when the white Keys hat is placed on their heads. This hat is the only insignia of the society.

The constitution of the society forbids social affairs of any kind other than private activities of the club. No officers are elected; members serve as chairman and secretary of the meetings in alphabetic rotation.

CAPWELL STEWARDS

WHEN Capwell Science Hall was opened in November, stewards were appointed to take care of the building.

These stewards, appointed by William Dowey, President of the Student Council, and Dr. Strelzoff, act as a student governing body. The stewards draw up the rules and regulations of the lounge, inform Dr. Strelzoff of the needs of the building from a student point of view, and so on.

The stewards are: Charles Johnson, President; Robert Walter, David Richards, MacGregor Jones, Evan Williams, Walter Winters, and Robert Lehr.

SIGMA MU ALPHA

THE Sigma Mu Alpha is a club for the medical secretaries. Its object is to produce an atmosphere and background which will create student interest and enthusiasm in daily classes and in their chosen occupations. It is also formed to obtain specialized, interesting, and authoritative speakers and demonstrators at varying intervals to present the latest medical, surgical, and professional findings. The club visits bacteriological, medical, and public health clinics, as well as private, state, and county hospitals. Still another purpose of Sigma Mu Alpha is to encourage professional reading habits and to promote social activity for personal development.

Dr. Frederic B. Davies is faculty adviser to the group. In the past year the officers were: Helen Denmon, President; Ruth Jenkins, Secretary-Treasurer; and Mary Smithing, Reporter.

ORANGE AND BLUE

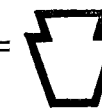

THE Orange and Blue Club, in its second year, proved its success by gaining many new members. Those girls who earned a major or a minor letter were asked to join, and there were no refusals, which demonstrated the favorable tradition which the original members left behind them.

The members sold tickets at a football game, and, from the treasury, purchased crew hats with Keystone emblems, which were objects of much admiration and envy.

Initiation of the new members was by turns a hilarious and a serious affair. The pledges took their oath in a picturesque setting—candlelight and the murmur of the Nokomis in the background. This ceremony will be long remembered by those who participated.

The social event of the year which the club sponsored was the "Silver Swing," the annual Christmas dance, which was a highly successful affair.

Officers for the year were: Betty Widger, President; Beatrice Levine, Secretary-Treasurer; and Ann Foote, Reporter.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

THE foremost aim and purpose of the International Relations Club is to stimulate and promote interest in international affairs.

Membership in the Club is gained by preparing a ten-minute paper on any timely international topic which deals with our foreign policy. Candidates are required to present the papers at regular meetings, which are held bi-monthly. After presentation, the subject of study is discussed, and the candidate is further quizzed. If members of the Club vote unanimously in his favor, the candidate is admitted.

In December, 1938, Betty Dimock, William Dowey, Allan MacArt, and Robert M. Lightfoot, faculty advisor, attended a regional I. R. C. conference at Swartmore College, at which representatives from almost a hundred colleges were present.

Aside from the regular meetings, the members of the Club enjoyed a dinner and several social parties at the home of Professor and Mrs. Lightfoot.

Officers for the year were: Robert Walter, President; William Dowey, Vice-President; and Jeanne Richards, Secretary-Treasurer.

KAPPA Sigma Epsilon, Keystone Society of Engineers, was primarily organized to promote friendship and fraternization among the various engineering schools. Having accomplished this purpose the society has turned its attention to the organization of field trips to point out the practical side of the engineer's life and study. One of the outstanding trips this year was the excursion to the New York World's Fair. The size of the entire society has led to the separating of the Sophomores and Freshmen, each class traveling to different places of interest at different times.

To show that the well-known "slide-rule-pushers" are versatile, they engaged in intra-mural basketball and soft ball. They excelled in soft ball by winning the championship in 1938 and 1939.

This year finds the largest class of engineers graduating in the history of Keystone and next year's class outnumbers the present one.

In the politics of Keystone the engineers stick together, put their shoulders to one wheel, and come out ahead. This year there are two engineers in class offices, three in the Keys Society, two holding offices in the Camera Club, and in many other places the engineers are represented.

CHEER LEADERS

CHEER leading is the student medium between the bleachers and the field. It provides ample opportunity to demonstrate school spirit and patriotism. It imparts a feeling of responsibility and teaches cooperation and leadership. When both cheer-leader and the student body are functioning together, games and other student activities are enlivened and emotional expression renews fight and enthusiasm.

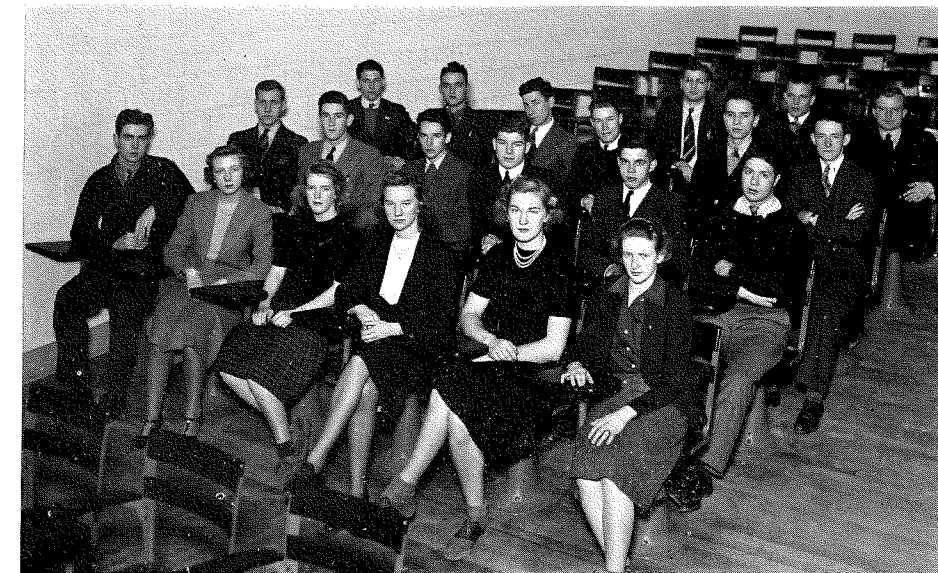

At Keystone the necessary backing to both student life and successful sports activities is found in the cheer leaders.

The school spirit was usually kept alive by the peppy members of this squad. They were on hand at most of the football games, rain or shine.

Any student is eligible for cheer leading who has honest determination to go out and lead cheers for the old Alma Mater. Cheer Leaders must be untiringly energetic and go out with enthusiasm to win in any kind of weather.

The group this year was composed of five students. With one exception they are all members of the sophomore class.

CAMERA CLUB

THE erection of Capwell Science Hall has supplied the Camera Club with a new and much larger laboratory.

The three large dark rooms facilitate the problem of the number who can work at one time. Under the competent direction of Professor C. T. Oswald and Professor L. C. Wolfe, faculty advisers, many new photographers were initiated into the deep and mysterious realm of turning out fine pictures. Many of the pictures for the View Book and the Nokomian were the products of the members of the Camera Club.

The membership of twenty-five is the largest it has been since the club was organized by Professor Hill and Professor Oswald four years ago.

Once a month, at the regular meetings, a lecture is given by one of the members. These lectures are accompanied by slides and pictures which are loaned to the club by the Eastman Kodak Company.

Members make their own solutions in the Chemistry Labs to cut down the expense of developing and printing. In the dark rooms the members not only make contact prints but do their own enlarging. The club has had the honor of having one of the professional photographers from Scranton in the dark room to show how to make better prints and enlargements.

GLEE CLUB

WHEREVER a college may be, one expects to find a glee club, for youth the world over have ability to sing and receive much pleasure therein. Keystone would not be a college without its Glee Club. Students have always popularized this activity at Keystone, and we may say that the Glee Club has been one of Keystone's most popular extra-curricular activities.

Since the Glee Club attracts boys as well as girls, choruses of four and five parts make the club more entertaining and enjoyable to hear. In addition to singing for the music alone, instruction is given in breath control, expression, enunciation, and good posture. Any student who has talent or interest in singing finds himself amply repaid for the time he spends in Glee Club.

The Glee Club is one of Keystone's most valuable activities. Through its effort, students are introduced to the better modern music and the priceless classics. Whenever the Keystone Glee Club meets, hearts are warm and throats are tuned to the joy of singing.

DEBATING CLUB

THIS year marked the third year of active intercollegiate debating at Keystone. Each term has seen the debating society follow a more and more active schedule, and this season members participated in about fourteen separate debates. Last year only three individuals did all the talking, while during the '38-'39 season there were three teams of two members each. Robert G. Walter and S. William Dowey were the only seasoned members of this year's squad, all the rest consisting of Freshmen; some without any previous experience in the forensic field. In spite of this handicap the new members of the society did very well, and will be prepared next year to carry on this extremely valuable extra-curricular activity.

The question for discussion during the past season was, "Resolved: That the United States government should cease to use public funds, including credit, to stimulate business activity." The society had both negative and affirmative teams.

A great deal of traveling featured this year's schedule, including trips to Drew University, Rutgers University, Penn State College; Bucknell Junior College, Bucknell University, and Ursinus College. In many cases return engagements were enjoyed. Two debates were held simultaneously with the University of Scranton, our nearest collegiate neighbor, and each college won an encounter.

Sidney Freedman and Bill Dowey were co-managers of this year's team. Other members were Bob Walter, John Shlanta, Aimée Sobbott, Bob McClave, Jean Judge, Audrey Haggarty, and William Wallace.

THE Masque and Harlequin has become, with the aid of improved facilities and equipment, one of the most worthwhile extra-curricular activities at Keystone. This club offers an excellent opportunity to those interested in dramatics, giving its members adequate instruction in make-up, producing, and in handling of stage properties and lighting.

This year the Masque and Harlequin has reached a new peak under the capable supervision of Miss Lucile M. Scheuer, Dean of Women. Four plays have been given. In December three one-act plays were produced. These included "A Sunny Day in Spain," "The Man In the Bowler Hat," and "Rich Man, Poor Man." The latter was produced a second time, by request, in Tunkhannock. Later in the year a three-act play, "Fresh Fields", was presented. This was a great success.

Despite the improvements in equipment and facilities, stage-lighting, properties, and equipment in general are still inadequate. However, with the culmination of Keystone's building plan in 1943, the Masque and Harlequin will be prepared to produce plays on a par with any other college.

Officers of Masque and Harlequin were: Robert H. Jones, President; Jean Evans, vice-President; and Betty Dimock, Secretary-Treasurer.

CONCERT ASSOCIATION

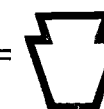

ONE of the most worthwhile organizations at Keystone and the only organization left entirely to the management and direction of students is the Keystone Concert Association. Student concerts are rather new in college life, having been introduced to Keystone only two years ago. In fact, Keystone is the first college to have included student concert work among its extra-curricular activities.

At various times during the year, concerts are arranged and given by students in which they demonstrate their musical ability before their fellow-classmen. In this manner, students having talent learn to develop their poise and self-confidence and at the same time please their associates.

Concerts are conducted with dignity. The selections played are restricted as much as possible to the classical and better types of modern music. Anyone who is interested in music for music's sake may become a member of the association.

The high-light of the year is the final concert of the students which is held on the back campus in the open air. It has become traditional that whosoever has taken part in the concerts throughout the year shall appear in the final concert. Last year the open-air concert was a tremendous success, and this year we are hoping for an even greater finale.

Co-chairmen of the Association this year were Annette Steinle and William Burkavage.

ORCHESTRA

DURING the past year the College orchestra became known as the String Ensemble. Under the leadership of Mr. J. A. Campbell, the organization has mastered many compositions.

On December 9 the Ensemble played at an Alumni Banquet which was held at the Scranton Club.

This organization gives any musically inclined student a chance to spend many pleasant hours at his favorite pastime. The Club meets each Tuesday afternoon, and at this time such refrains as "The Priest's March," "The Pilgrim's Chorus," and "Minuet In G" may be heard coming from the auditorium. Not only is a student able to better his own musical career by playing in ensemble, but he has the advantage of learning to play with a group.

Some of the active members in the ensemble are: Lois Savage, Donald Boughner, June Decker, Keith Wrigley, and Charlotte Post.

THE Secretarial Club is an organization for all secretarial, medical secretarial, and general business students. Its purpose is to promote better scholarship and to aid the terminal students in securing positions through contacts made with various business establishments in local communities. These contacts are brought about by instructive field trips. Some of the places the group has visited are The Scranton Times, the Woodlawn Dairy, the Marvine mines, Lackawanna County Jail, the Bell Telephone Company, the International Correspondence Schools, along with other leading industries.

The club also stresses social activities, including teas, and lectures by men prominent in their fields.

Membership this year has increased to an enrollment of approximately double that of the first year.

Under the efficient and enthusiastic leadership of Peter P. Stapay, faculty adviser, the organization has proved one of the most active and beneficial on the campus. Officers were: Arline Linderman, President; Doris Pizer, Vice-President; Mary Smithing, Secretary; Fernata Cerra, Treasurer; and Mary Alice Shay, Reporter.

Radio Club

THE Radio Club, for a long time an integral part of Keystone activities, but dormant for about a year, was re-organized this Winter when President Hollinshead very kindly consented to give it a room of its own on the fourth floor of Harris Hall—a room now dignified as the headquarters of WSTCS, a licensed amateur radio station.

The first meeting was held on February 1 when the following officers were elected: Richard Fish, President; Clifford Chivers, Vice-President; and Betty Dimock, Secretary-Treasurer.

Professor Sterling E. Hess is club advisor and operator of the station. Code classes were started so that some of the members might qualify to obtain their own amateur license, when they will have the title "Ham" conferred upon them.

The club built a transmitter and put up an outside aerial so that it could contact short-wave stations around the world. It was not able to go on the air, however, until May, because of Professor Hess' illness.

Almost any day students can hear strange noises emitting from the radio room. Club members have listened to people all over the world from Alice, of Porto Rico, to GM6RG of Scotland. Stations from Africa, France, the Phillipine and Hawaiian Islands, and Java, have been heard.

Members hope that in the years to follow, other members of the Radio Club will experience all the thrill and satisfaction that we, as charter members, have known.

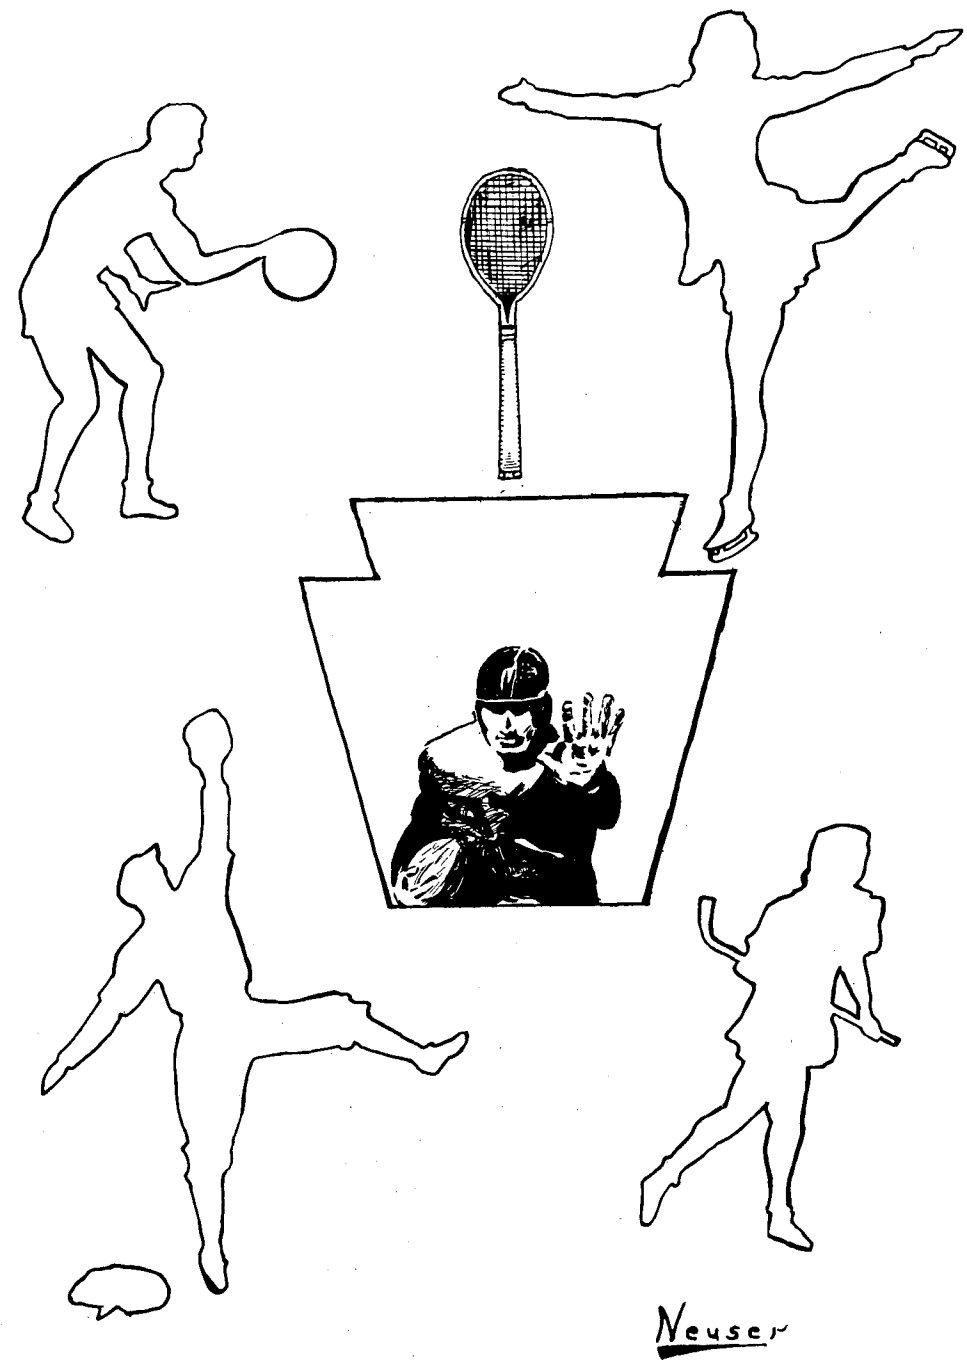

Bridge Club

BRIDGE might well be termed the most popular indoor sport at dear old Keystone. In fact, it might even be termed the most popular pastime. All Fall and Winter in the cafeteria, games were constantly in progress, to such an extent that the Student Council found it necessary to prohibit individuals from monopolizing tables during the noon hour in order to indulge in a contest or two. With the advent of warm weather, many adherents of the game took to the great outdoors and there pursued the game further. Some people played so much the President declared a special "Bridge probation" to prevent them from ignoring their studies to too great an extent.

In the light of all this enthusiasm for the game, it was natural that a Bridge Club should be formed. It was. And for a while, classes were conducted three times a week to initiate the novice into the mysteries of the cards. Mr. Burton Gildersleeve instructed these classes and also acted as faculty advisor to the Club. In the course of the year four tournaments were held and prizes were presented to the winners.

Miss Jeanne Richards was elected President, and Ann Foote was made Secretary-Treasurer.

Keystone Gridmen Have Successful Season

WITH the initial practice at the beginning of Freshman week, Keystone's football squad did not get off to as early a start as they have in previous years. The Little Giants had only a few men returning from the 1937 wonder team, and most of these were utilized for the first team. Among the Freshmen, Coaches Azar and Lee found several good linemen and a few good backs.

Keystone had a heavy starting team, but was embarrassed with a lack of substitutes. One deep, Keystone had as good a team as any she played, but a lack of substitutes proved the reason for the three defeats which the team met.

Playing seven games, the Orange and Blue won four contests and dropped three. In scoring, the LaPlume boys had the better of it, with Keystone scoring 138 points and its opponents 33. In the game which Keystone lost by the most top heavy score (Keystone, 0—Bucknell Frosh, 21) the Little Giants were able to break even on first downs.

Keystone Gridmen Have Successful Season---Continued

Harrassed by injuries and illness on the team, Coach Azar deserves credit for the splendid showing of his team throughout the year. The team deserves credit for the fine sportsmanship and the fortitude it showed throughout the season. To MacDonald Heebner, Manager, and Boyd Smith, Trainer, goes credit for helping to keep up the team morale.

At the end of the season Mike Maholchic was elected captain for the '38 squad. The kicking and plunging of Mike were the reason for many of the Keystone victories. Walker's passing, the receiving of Wallace, Lodovici's running, and the defense of Longo, Rippon, and Dee were outstanding.

The season was a good one, but not good enough to place the team among the Keystone immortals. The Sophomores are already in Keystone's hall of fame for their play on the team of '38. The freshmen have their chance again next year.

Facts and Figures

Syracuse Frosh B, 6
Keystone, 0

In a game featured by the fine defensive punting of fullback Mike Maholchic, Keystone bowed via the aerial route to the heavier and more experienced team from Syracuse. The passing of Walker and the running of Lodovici put Keystone in a scoring position, but the team was unable to capitalize on its breaks.

Bloomsburg Jayvees, 0
Keystone, 47

Starting a scoring spree immediately after the opening gun, and continuing through four quarters, Keystone swept the opposition to a decisive victory at Bloomsburg. Lodovici scored three touchdowns; Maholchic, two; and Consagra and Ronnie Williams one each.

Susquehanna, 14
Keystone, 32

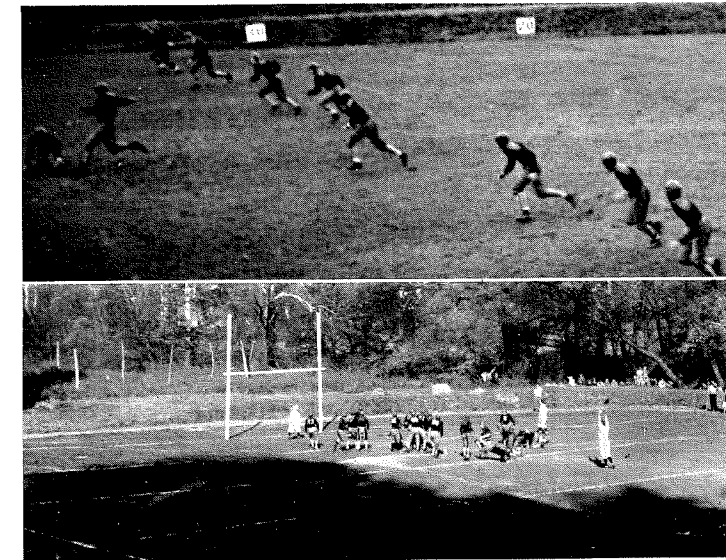

Scoring in every period, the Little Giants decisively defeated the Susquehanna Varsity (minus lettermen from previous years). Maholchic carried the ball for two of Keystone's tallies. Dee, Wallace, and Lodovici scored the other six-pointers.

Alfred Frosh, 0
Keystone, 21

In the tightest game for the year, despite the topheavy score in favor of Keystone, the Little Giants superior offense proved the deciding factor. Maholchic, Lodovici, and Dee scored the touchdowns and the extra points for Keystone. Walker's passing was a high point of the game.

Wyoming Seminary, 14
Keystone, 6

Keystone has yet to upset the Seminary football jinx. The Kingston boys scored early in the first quarter and added an extra point to put them ahead in what turned out to be a hard fought game. In the second period Maholchic scored on a fumble recovered by Wallace. Seminary again scored in a last quarter drive.

Bucknell Frosh, 24
Keystone, 0

A sick and undermanned Orange and Blue squad valiantly tied the Baby Bisons from Bucknell in first downs, but ceded four touchdowns via the tough break route. Playing a wide-open game in rain and mud, the Bucknell team made good every scoring opportunity, and decisively defeated Keystone.

Cazenovia, 0
Keystone, 38

Playing heads-up ball throughout, Keystone clowned past Cazenovia, 38-0. At full strength, Keystone had no difficulty in walloping the plucky New Yorkers. Even line-men carried the ball, as the second half developed into a farce. Wallace tallied twice, and Walker, Lodovici, Maholchic, and Barclay each scored once. Barclay's touchdown climaxed a twenty-two yard run on his first play in the game.

BASKETBALL SQUAD

STRIVES FOR RECOGNITION

HAVING only "Red" Wallace, Dick Stark, and Dave Humphreys from last year's squad, Coach Sam Lee was forced to develop much new material to mold a good team. The outstanding player of the season was Captain-elect, Mike "Red" Wallace, who was selected on the All-League team.

The Little Giants opened the season with a successful invasion of New York State against Cazenovia. After a close first half, the Keystone squad began to click and walked off with a 39-13 victory. Wallace led the scorers for the evening.

Four days later the squad engaged the University of Scranton Jayvees, who defeated them 29-20. Fighting vainly, the Little Giants were unable to overcome the reserve power of the Jayvees.

In its third game of the season the Keystone boys entertained the Pennsylvania Dutchmen from Wyomissing Polytech. This contest was bitterly fought all the way, with the Dutchmen finally winning out 48-46. Wallace and Jones led the individual scorers.

The return game with the Scranton Jayvees ended with the same results as the first match—too much power for the Scranton club. The University of Scranton boys took this one to the tune of 47-40.

Playing the boys from Bucknell Junior College, the Little Giants were defeated in an evenly fought battle all the way, by the score of 48-44. Captain Wallace was the leading point maker with 22 markers.

The Keystone squad returned to the win column against Wyoming Seminary. Playing the brand of ball which they were capable the Little Giants nosed out Sem. 45-44. Wallace again led the way with 20 points.

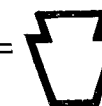

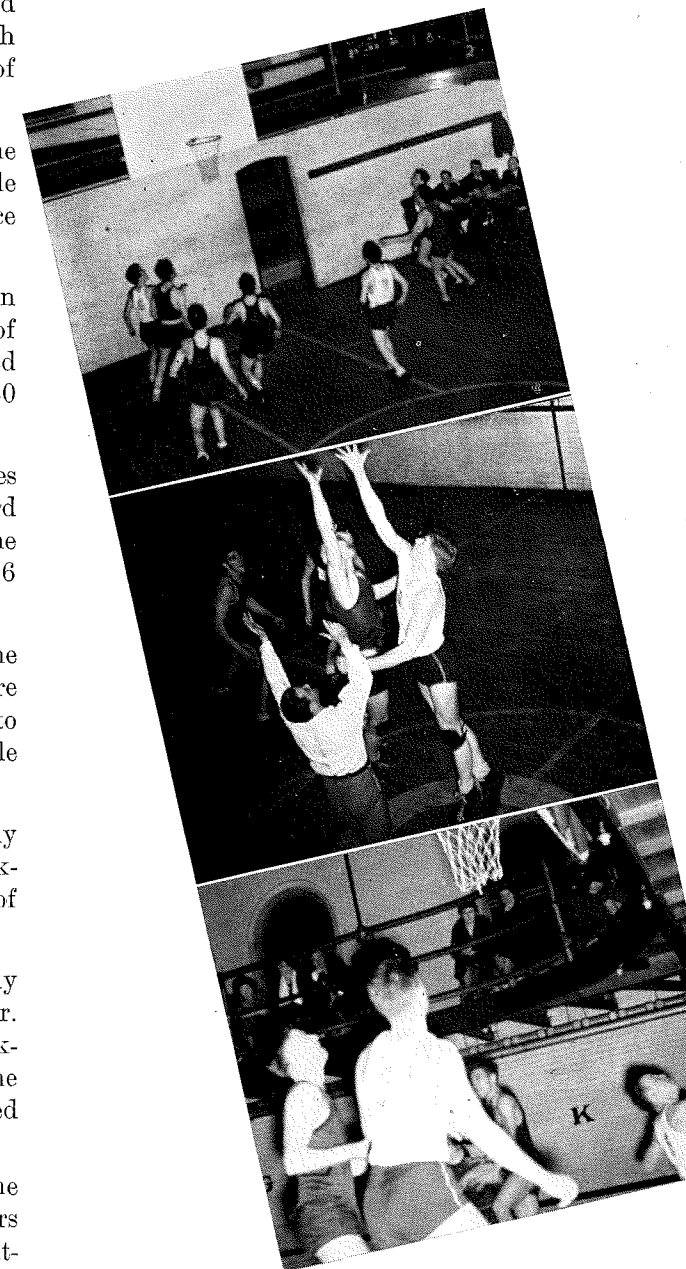

With Wallace out of the line up and Mac Jones sick, an inspired team of subs overcame the Venard team 51-29. Ronnie Williams and Bob Johler, the only regulars on the team, led the scorers with 18 and 16 points respectively.

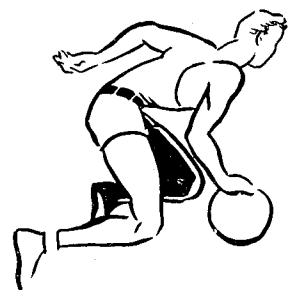

Playing Wyomissing in a game at Reading, the Little Giants, with their team of second stringers, were humiliated by the score of 80-39. Lacking the size to cope with the rangy Dutchmen, the boys were unable to do much scoring.

In the return engagement with Venard the badly battered Keystone squad was outplayed by a fast-breaking Venard five, out for revenge. The final score of this contest was 47-27.

The next home game was one of the most evenly fought games ever witnessed on the Keystone floor. At the end of the regulation four quarters with Bucknell Junior College, the score stood at 32 all. At the end of the third extra period the Little Giants emerged from the contest on the long end of a 38-35 score.

Traveling to Lewisburg for their next battle the squad could not outstretch the human sky scrapers representing the Bucknell Frosh. The team was outstretched to the tune of 59-26.

Onward Keystone

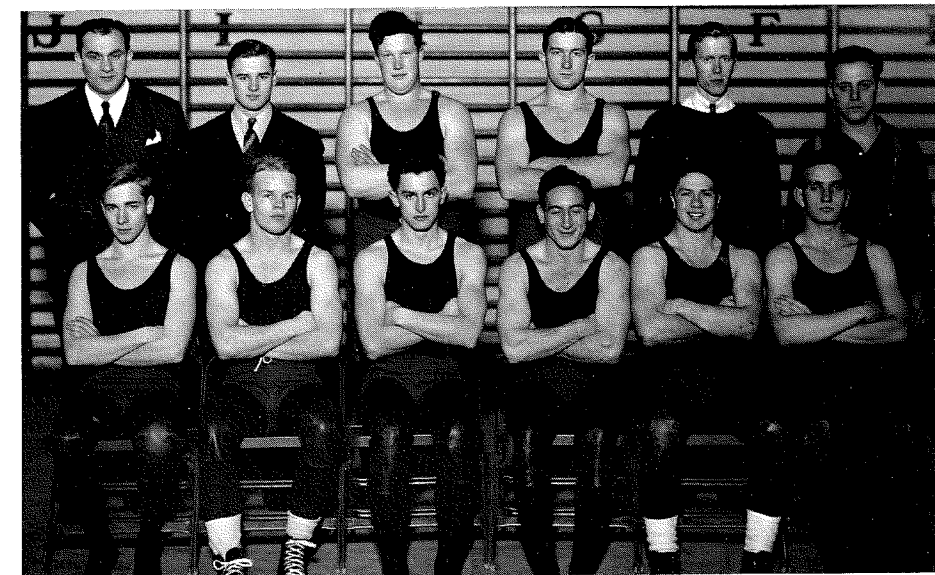

In the next game, with Susquehanna University, Coach Sam Lee used every available man, but there were not enough to down the Susquehanna boys. Again, as against Bucknell, the team was not tall enough to get the ball off of the back-board. The result—61-37.

The boys again returned to the win column against Cazenovia at La Plume. The Little Giants emerged on the long end of a 49-26 score in this battle.

In the return game with Wyoming Seminary, the loss of Mike Wallace was very noticeable. As the final score of 45-35 indicated, it was again a case of being outstretched.

The Keystone squad was unable to successfully celebrate the return of Wallace to the squad in its return game with the Bucknell Frosh. The Baby Bisons flashed the form which made them league champions, and the home lads were unable to down them. The final score was 49-32.

It took the boys until the last game of the season to show the basketball form and ability of which they were capable. The team, intact for perhaps the first time all season, vanquished Morris Junior College by a score of 58-38.

Wrestling

WITH men at a premium and ineligibility reducing the ranks of the ones who were out for wrestling, "Turk" Azar's squad won only three of its eight matches. This was one of the most disastrous seasons the grunt and groan artists have had in several years.

When it is realized that at times "Turk" had only eight men—and many of these inexperienced—it is easy to see why the Keystone squad would be weak. Ineligibility and heavy schedules accounted for the low participation.

Keystone won its first match against the Scranton Y. M. H. A., 23-15. Bloomsburg JVs. defeated them 21½-14½. After scheduling the Seminary JVs., Keystone had to wrestle the varsity or disappoint the fans. Keystone lost 33-3. In the most interesting match of the year, Keystone bowed to the accomplished matmen who represented the JV. squad of Franklin and Marshall, 29½-6½. Keystone next dropped a close match to Wyoming Seminary's "B" team, 17½-16½. In the second tilt with the Scranton Y. M. H. A., Keystone won its second victory, 26½-9½. Keystone lost the next to Gettysburg, 26½-11½. In the last match of the year, with all the wrestlers available for one of the few times after the start of the season, the Little Giants took the University of Pennsylvania JVs., 24-10.

Baseball Has Large Following

FEATURING the heaviest hitting team ever known at Keystone, the Little Giants romped through their schedule last year with seven wins and two losses. The terrific slugging of the Maholchic brothers, along with the hitting of Mike "Red" Wallace and Jack Munley, kept the boys right on top throughout the season. Proof of this is the fact that the Little Giants scored ninety-five runs in seven games.

In its first game of the season the Little Giants scored an easy 13-1 win over Venard's nine. In this game Coach Sam Lee used every available man. In its second game the Keystone boys met a tartar in the form of a Wyoming Seminary hurler named Pittman, who blanked Keystone for three innings. The final result was 7-4. Sam Coccodrilli turned in the best performance for the Little Giants.

The sluggers really went to work in their next game with Bucknell Junior College at Wilkes-Barre, which was defeated in a lopsided battle, 23-5. The boys held an eleven run lead at the end of the second inning. Mike Maholchic accounted for two homers and three singles, while brother Frank hit a homer and a single. Wallace had one triple, two doubles, and a single in four times at bat.

BASEBALL---Continued

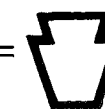

In their return engagement with Venard the Little Giants again emerged the victors, 12-7. Keystone scored eight runs in the first two innings. Out for revenge in the return game with Wyoming Seminary the Little Giants came out on the long end of a 14-5 score. Humphreys, starting his first game, was credited with the win. His task was made easy by the heavy hitting of Wallace and Munley.

In their game with Manlius Military Academy the Keystone boys were forced to come from behind in order to down the cadets, 16-10. The following day the Little Giants took on Cazenovia in their final game of the season. However, the heavy hitting of the Maholchic brothers was not enough to down the Cazenovia lads, as the 16-13 score indicates.

Tennis

Showing an improvement over the previous year, Keystone's tennis team, coached by Burton H. Gildersleeve, won three of its seven matches, and tied one. The defeats were suffered at the hands of Wyoming Seminary, 8-1; Susquehanna, 5-4; Wyomissing, 7-2. The victories were over Cazenovia, 0-5; East Stroudsburg Jay-Vee, 3-6; Bucknell Junior College, 0-7. In the second match with Wyoming Seminary, the score was tied, each team having won four matches, when rain cut short the match.

With the loss of Art Sweetser, No. 2 man, Charles (Chuck) Sweeney, No. 4, and Albert Ellowitz, No. 6, it is difficult to form any opinion as to the strength of this year's team. However, we still have Jack Tilley, last year's No. 1 man; MacGregor Jones, No. 3; and Walter Shimer, No. 5. Last year both Jones and Tilley lost but one match each. With these three men from last year's team, and several good Freshmen prospects, a record better than last year's is expected.

GIRLS SPORTS CAPTURE BASKETBALL

The 1938-39 basketball season proved quite successful for the girls' squad. Under the tutelage of Miss Doris Smith for the second year, the group won seven out of eleven games played. The season marked a definite improvement over any of the preceeding years and it is believed that this will continue next year.

Miss Alice Patterson was elected Captain to replace "Tebby" Kolb, who transferred to Indiana State this year. Miss Patterson was the highest scorer of the season, sinking a total of 126 points in 10 games. Marian Seroukis was a close second, with a total of 110 points in nine games.

TROPHY'S AND POPULARITY GIRLS' HOCKEY

MONTROSE

OCTOBER 7

AWAY

The girls' hockey team, thrilled at the prospect of the first game of the season, rode off to Montrose Girls' School in a pitch of excitement and anticipation. We scored three goals during the first half of the game. The Montrose girls gained two goals in the last half, but could not quite make the necessary point to tie the score.

WYOMING SEMINARY

OCTOBER 15

0—8

AT HOME

Feeling just a little too cocky because of our victory over our first opponents, we met our Waterloo in the form of Wyoming Seminary. Passes, beautifully planned and executed, and almost perfect technique, made the game very interesting, however.

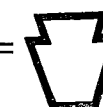

CLARKS SUMMIT HIGH SCHOOL

4—2

AT HOME

This game, played on a Saturday morning, is long to be remembered in the history of Keystone Hockey as the date when first we beat Clarks Summit. This victory gave us new courage to look forward to avenge the "Wyoming Massacre" of the previous week.

WYOMING SEMINARY

OCTOBER 28

4-6

AWAY

A chance to avenge ourselves! And we really fought! We almost broke the jinx that has long prevented us from winning. We earned the first points, but it was not enough. It was fun, and "Wait until next year," says the team.

OWEGO HIGH SCHOOL

NOVEMBER 5

0-1

AT HOME

This is another game which will be long remembered by those who saw or played it. Everyone looks forward to playing Owego each year, but tradition seems to order rain. This year was no exception; in fact, there was not rain; instead, clouds seemed to burst over our heads. We didn't win, but we are looking forward to seeing Owego again next year—and we expect rain.

CLARKS SUMMIT HIGH SCHOOL

0-1

AWAY

This game was played on a bitterly cold day. We had hoped to repeat our performance at the previous Summit game, but were not able to score.

WILKES-BARRE INSTITUTE

NOVEMBER 18

AT HOME

Wilkes-Barre Institute, although it won the victory, lost something to us—the technique which they practice so perfectly in games. They are grand girls to play with, and we look forward to seeing them again.

In the second row "Kay" Shumaker appears before Dave Humphreys and his colleagues on the Tribunal; Keller, Morgan, and Ben Slocum rest at the feet of the Dean's Alma Mater on the yearly Keystone trip to New York; a group shows Prexy, his son, and some of the Keystone contingent at Pocono Manor; and Aimee Sobott picks an appropriate place to rest.

The bottom section shows one of those very, very frequent bridge games in the lounge; Dick Stark in a studious moment, Sam Lee showing how to take a curve on skis; Mr. Luckman debating the matter; and, finally, Richards, Taylor, and Dowey slaving away for "Simon Legree" Oswald.
