W. E. Schimpff, 1875-1945

William E. Schimpff died just a few days after the completion of our freshman year. But his spirit of "You'd better work at it" and his own willingness to work have stayed with us and today we would dedicate this book to his memory.

Many mourned his passing; not only those who responded to his "You're at the Board" in mathematics and physics classes, but those others who knew him only as another faculty member. All recognized a great loss in his dying.

We shall never forget his extreme personal interest in everyone. He had a story or an anecdote apropos to every situation. His worldly knowledge was almost infinite and as many of us have marvelled, "He knew his stuff."

Mr. Schimpff had a phenomenal faith in human nature. He helped anyone who needed aid, never questioning whether or not the student deserved the extra time. He was genuinely congenial and his sincerity was unbounded. He knew everyone by his first name after only a few days of school. A student never failed to go to Mr. Schimpff for assistance in classroom problems or in an everyday disturbance.

Keystone and the Class of 1946 will never forget him. We remember him especially with the publication of this 1946 Nokomian.

ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY

President's Message . . .

To the Class of 1946 . . .

College at Keystone has meant, for you people, one war year plus one year of peace. Your class, through determination, has survived an international crisis.

Not only have you continued your education in a period when defense plant opportunities were financially attractive and when friends and relatives were fighting and dying overseas; but you have upheld the traditions of the College when its numbers were few. You have maintained an academic record which was outstanding, not only under the circumstances, but creditable at any time.

Your spirit has been comforting to some who tended to become discouraged by what seemed the "last straw" of the war years. Your cooperation was of pre-war quality. Your future success therefore, is guaranteed.

It is gratifying to those of us who will follow your careers in the years to come to know that you were here when the College rallied after the war. We are glad to know that you have seen expansions in enrollment, campus activities, classroom and dormitory facilities, and that you have witnessed the making of future plans.

You have made a commendable mark on Keystone. Our hope is that Keystone's spirit and enthusiasm for its alumni may go with you now.

The armed forces took most of our men in 1945 but returned to us Gene Piersimoni, whom we elected our president. Elizabeth McCain was elected vice president, Rose Mattes, secretary, and Jean Tewksbury, treasurer.

As freshmen, we had survived the vigorous hazing imposed upon us by the seniors, especially Gloria. As seniors, we had our revenge by hovering over green frosh for an extended period of two weeks. Solemn-faced Tribunal delivered sentences on many quavering law-breaking freshmen.

In our freshmen year, our football team composed of all the boys and coached by S. William Dowey, won over Clarks Summit High School Junior Varsity. The basketball team, under the leadership of Coach Jim Davis, also won one game—over Factoryville.

We enjoyed frequent, informal Friday night dances and parties. In December we had a pre-holiday dance, the first formal Keystone had had since the beginning of the war. We gloried in the senior prom in May. The next morning we dragged ourselves wearily to the Baccaulareate service and watched the seniors prepare to leave Keystone.

As dignified seniors we settled down to our studies to make a good impression on the freshmen. Our boys' basketball team with several outstanding stars boasted several victories. Phi Theta Kappa, the student council, the Athletic club, the K.W.O., and the Senior Class held dances during the year.

In February we welcomed back many veterans who certainly lifted our morale and made college life much more interesting.

It is with a queer empty feeling that we say goodbye. It is not farewell to Keystone, for we will be back. Even when there are strange faces on the campus, we shall always feel at home.

FRESHMEN

1947 CLASSES HISTORY

On September 24, 1945, the peaceful Keystone campus once again became the hub of activity. With the returning of the seniors there came a new class of freshmen. This was our class, the largest since pre-Pearl Harbor days. At first the details of college life were new and confusing to us, but it didn't take us long to learn the ropes. What a thrilling sensation to know we were Keystoneians! With the beginning of classes, our names, just plain Bill and Jane, were shed for Mr. and Miss. It was in the height of our new glory that the senior girls feted the freshman girls at the Big Sister-Little Sister Tea.

Within several weeks our new sophistication was brought to naught by hazing. For two whole weeks the seniors had complete control over us. Double button, freshmen!" As we heard those dreaded words we stopped dead in our tracks. Looking strange and pale with half a dozen pigtailed or more and with huge signs on our backs, we immediately dropped our stack of books to touch the button on our dinks. If our dear friends, the seniors, had a few minutes to spare, our hazing did not end here. A real ordeal followed. Some of us bucked. As a result, Tribunal's business reached a new peak. The seniors gave us the whole works and ordered a pleasing (?) costume for the next day. We saw Al Sultzer on campus with blue striped pajamas, hip boots, and a large black umbrella. Jean Fassler looked amusing wrapped up in her pink bedspread with a lamp shade topping her head. The fate of Pepper and Helaine Gilbert became apparent when a colored mammy and her young 'un were added to our class. Soon the days of hazing were over, with the result of mutual friendship among all Keystoneians. A party in the gym highlighted the end of Freshman Days. We were now one big family.

Our class officers were soon chosen. These honored freshmen included Walter Lewis, president; Jean Weber, vice-president; Ronald Hodgson, secretary; and Harry Morgan, treasurer.

But this is not the complete story of our freshman class. In February 1946 our number was augmented with about a hundred new students, all but a few of them veterans. With the enrollment of these new students, Keystone's population reached an all time high.

Thus another class of young men and women have pledged a loyalty to Keystone. It is with joy and affection that we reminisce on our Freshman Days. But, although they are gone forever, we can now look ahead, with relish, to the days when we'll be the dignified seniors . . . when we will be able to do the hazing instead of being hazed.

ACTIVITIES

Phi Theta Kappa

Phi Theta Kappa, one of the distinctive organizations of the College, is a national junior college honorary society for the purpose of recognizing outstanding work of students in the fields of arts and sciences.

The local chapter sponsored its annual dance, "The Harvest Frolic" in November. This dance was semi-formal. Presenting an award to the student group having the highest scholastic average, it conducted a drive for better grades during the Spring Semester.

Mrs. Douglas M. Jewett, dean of women, served as faculty advisor. Rose Marie Jenkins was president; Norma Emick served as secretary-treasurer; and Lenore Cetta was vice president.

K. W. O.

The Keystone Women's Organization, which was originated on campus in 1934, is a society of all the Keystone women. The purpose of this active organization is to promote companionship among the groups of women. The K.W.O. members have supported various activities, including the "Big Sister-Little Sister Tea" in September, and the Christmas Tea and Reading in December.

Mrs. Catherine Oswald and Miss Gail James served as faculty advisors. The officers were Lois Smith, president; Esther Owens, secretary; Anne Pethick, vice president; and Jean Weber, treasurer.

Student Council

With Lenore Cetta as Council chairman, Keystone's student government heads met regularly throughout the year, planning and executing programs for the benefit and enjoyment of the student body.

In addition to discussing the usual list of student problems and complaints, Council conducted the Red Cross, Community Chest, and Tuberculosis drives on campus, planned a campaign for the improvement of the Student Union, and finally donated the remainder of their fund for the purchase of new furniture for the Union lounge.

President Blake Tewksbury served as faculty advisor for the group which met regularly in his office.

Tribunal

Tribunal, under the capable supervision of Helen Romanovich, was responsible for the setting up and carrying out of hazing rules during the fall semester.

It was not an unusual sight to see a male student in a girl's bathing suit or dressed in night attire for pleasant dreams. The girls had to forego all thoughts of glamour during this fateful 10 days when they sacrificed cosmetics, curls, and colorful clothes for pale faces, pig-tails, and all sorts of distorted combinations of costumes.

In conclusion may we say that as soon as this period in college life was over, the freshmen and seniors got to know each other and now live as one happy family.

Keynotes

To recognize the writing abilities of Keystoneans in the literary field, Keynotes, the first magazine of its type at the college, was founded this year.

A quarterly, Keynotes was published by students, with Barbara Bolling serving as editor.

Poetry, stories, personal essays, and editorials were all included in the four issues this year.

Keystonian

Keystone's newspaper, the Keystonian, supplies the faculty, students, and alumni with all the news, gossip, and sport events pertaining to the college.

For the first time in ten years, the Keystonian was published bi-weekly and is a tabloid in size. It took a second place honor in the Junior College Printed Class, the Columbia Scholastic Press Association Contest.

Editor-in-chief, Norma Emick, Advertising Manager Mary Frank, Circulation Manager Joan Strecker, and the news-getting reporters have worked together this year with Miss Jane Murphy, advisor.

Glee Club

The Glee Club, under the direction of Horace Gregory, attracted a large number of students during the past year. The returning veterans showed a definite interest in the organization.

During the year, the Glee Club had charge of the Christmas Orientation Program, and assisted at the Easter and Commencement Programs. The organization also presented a spring concert and broadcast over WGBI in Scranton.

Masque and Harlequin

Masque and Harlequin, Keystone's dramatic club, proved to be a huge success this past year. Under the guidance of Mrs. Douglas M. Jewett and Miss Jeanne Leiser, the organization held regular club meetings, which included a make-up demonstration, a lecture on radio technique, numerous skits, and try-outs for plays. This year's productions were several one-act plays and the May Day drama.

A point system for membership, based on activity, was inaugurated. Club insignia were awarded those dramatists who had earned the required number of points.

Officers were Rose Mattes, president; and Elizabeth McCain, secretary.

International Relations Club

With a large number of faculty and student members, the Keystone International Relations Club carried a full-time active program throughout the year with Joan Strecker as president and Charles H. Hapgood as faculty advisor.

Polly Jeanne Felton and Grace Rafaj were other officers of the Club which met monthly to discuss international affairs of note, sponsored a forum and several discussions on the atomic bomb, heard outside speakers, and sent representatives to a national convention.

Dr. Orland M. Ritchie, Mrs. Douglas M. Jewett, Dr. Hubert Vecchierello, Dr. Theodore Hahn, Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Oswald, were faculty members of the Club.

Sigma Mu Alpha

Sigma Mu Alpha, honorary society for medical secretaries and laboratory technicians, composed of 13 former members, accomplished more this year than any previous one.

With Dr. Hubert Vecchierello as advisor, a trip to New York was planned as a pleasant diversion from struggling with quantitative analysis and the "bac" lab.

At a meeting early in the year, Helen Romanovich was elected president and Lillian O'Levich, secretary-treasurer.

Business

Club

The Business Club is an organization for all business administration, merchandising, and secretarial students, since it acquaints the members with the functions of the business world.

A sight-seeing tour of the Bell Telephone was made by the club, in addition to other visits to business concerns in Scranton.

The membership of the club was the largest it has ever been.

The president was Lenore Cetta, secretary-treasurer, Joan Strecker, and the advisor to the group was Miss Elsie Van Nort.

Outing Club

Organized in the fall to promote coeducational sports and outdoor activities each season, the College Outing Club attracted forty members and planned an extensive program for the year.

Because of several unpredictable changes in weather, numerous activities were cancelled but the group "bussed it" to Syracuse, N. Y., for a Colgate football game with the home University. The Club also sponsored a steak and fish fry on the back campus picnic ground prior to a dance in April and closed the year's schedule with a hiking party in the Spring.

Esther Owens and Harry Gregory were co-presidents of the organization while Miss Gail James and Dr. Hubert Vecchierello served as advisors.

Photography Club

It's here again. That popular organization, the Photography Club, whose activities were discontinued during the war due to lack of materials and members, is back on campus.

Now that the club has been re-organized, a large number of activities were instituted. With its faculty advisor, Charles T. Oswald, the club conducted field trips, learned film development, received instruction in the care and use of cameras, and held exhibits.

Officers of the organization were Richard R. Rudge, president; Jean Tewksbury, vice-president; and Dorcas Davis, secretary-treasurer.

Orange and Blue

Orange and Blue, girls athletic club, directed by Miss Gail James, is comprised of women on varsity teams. New "athletes" took the club oath during the Spring semester after the usual initiation, showing courage and good sportsmanship.

One of the outstanding activities of the organizations this year was the sponsoring of the "Sweetheart Ball", given shortly after the new "Vets" arrived on campus in February.

Officers of the group were Jean Gibson, president; and Jean Tewksbury, secretary-treasurer.

Inter-Faith Fellowship

Under the leadership of the Rev. Edward E. Chipman, the Inter-Faith Fellowship was organized at Keystone this year.

Headed by Abraham Bernstein '46, the organization approved a statement of purpose for the group, this purpose being to provide a medium for discussion and for exchange of views helpful to students in their life at Keystone and in wider areas of personal living.

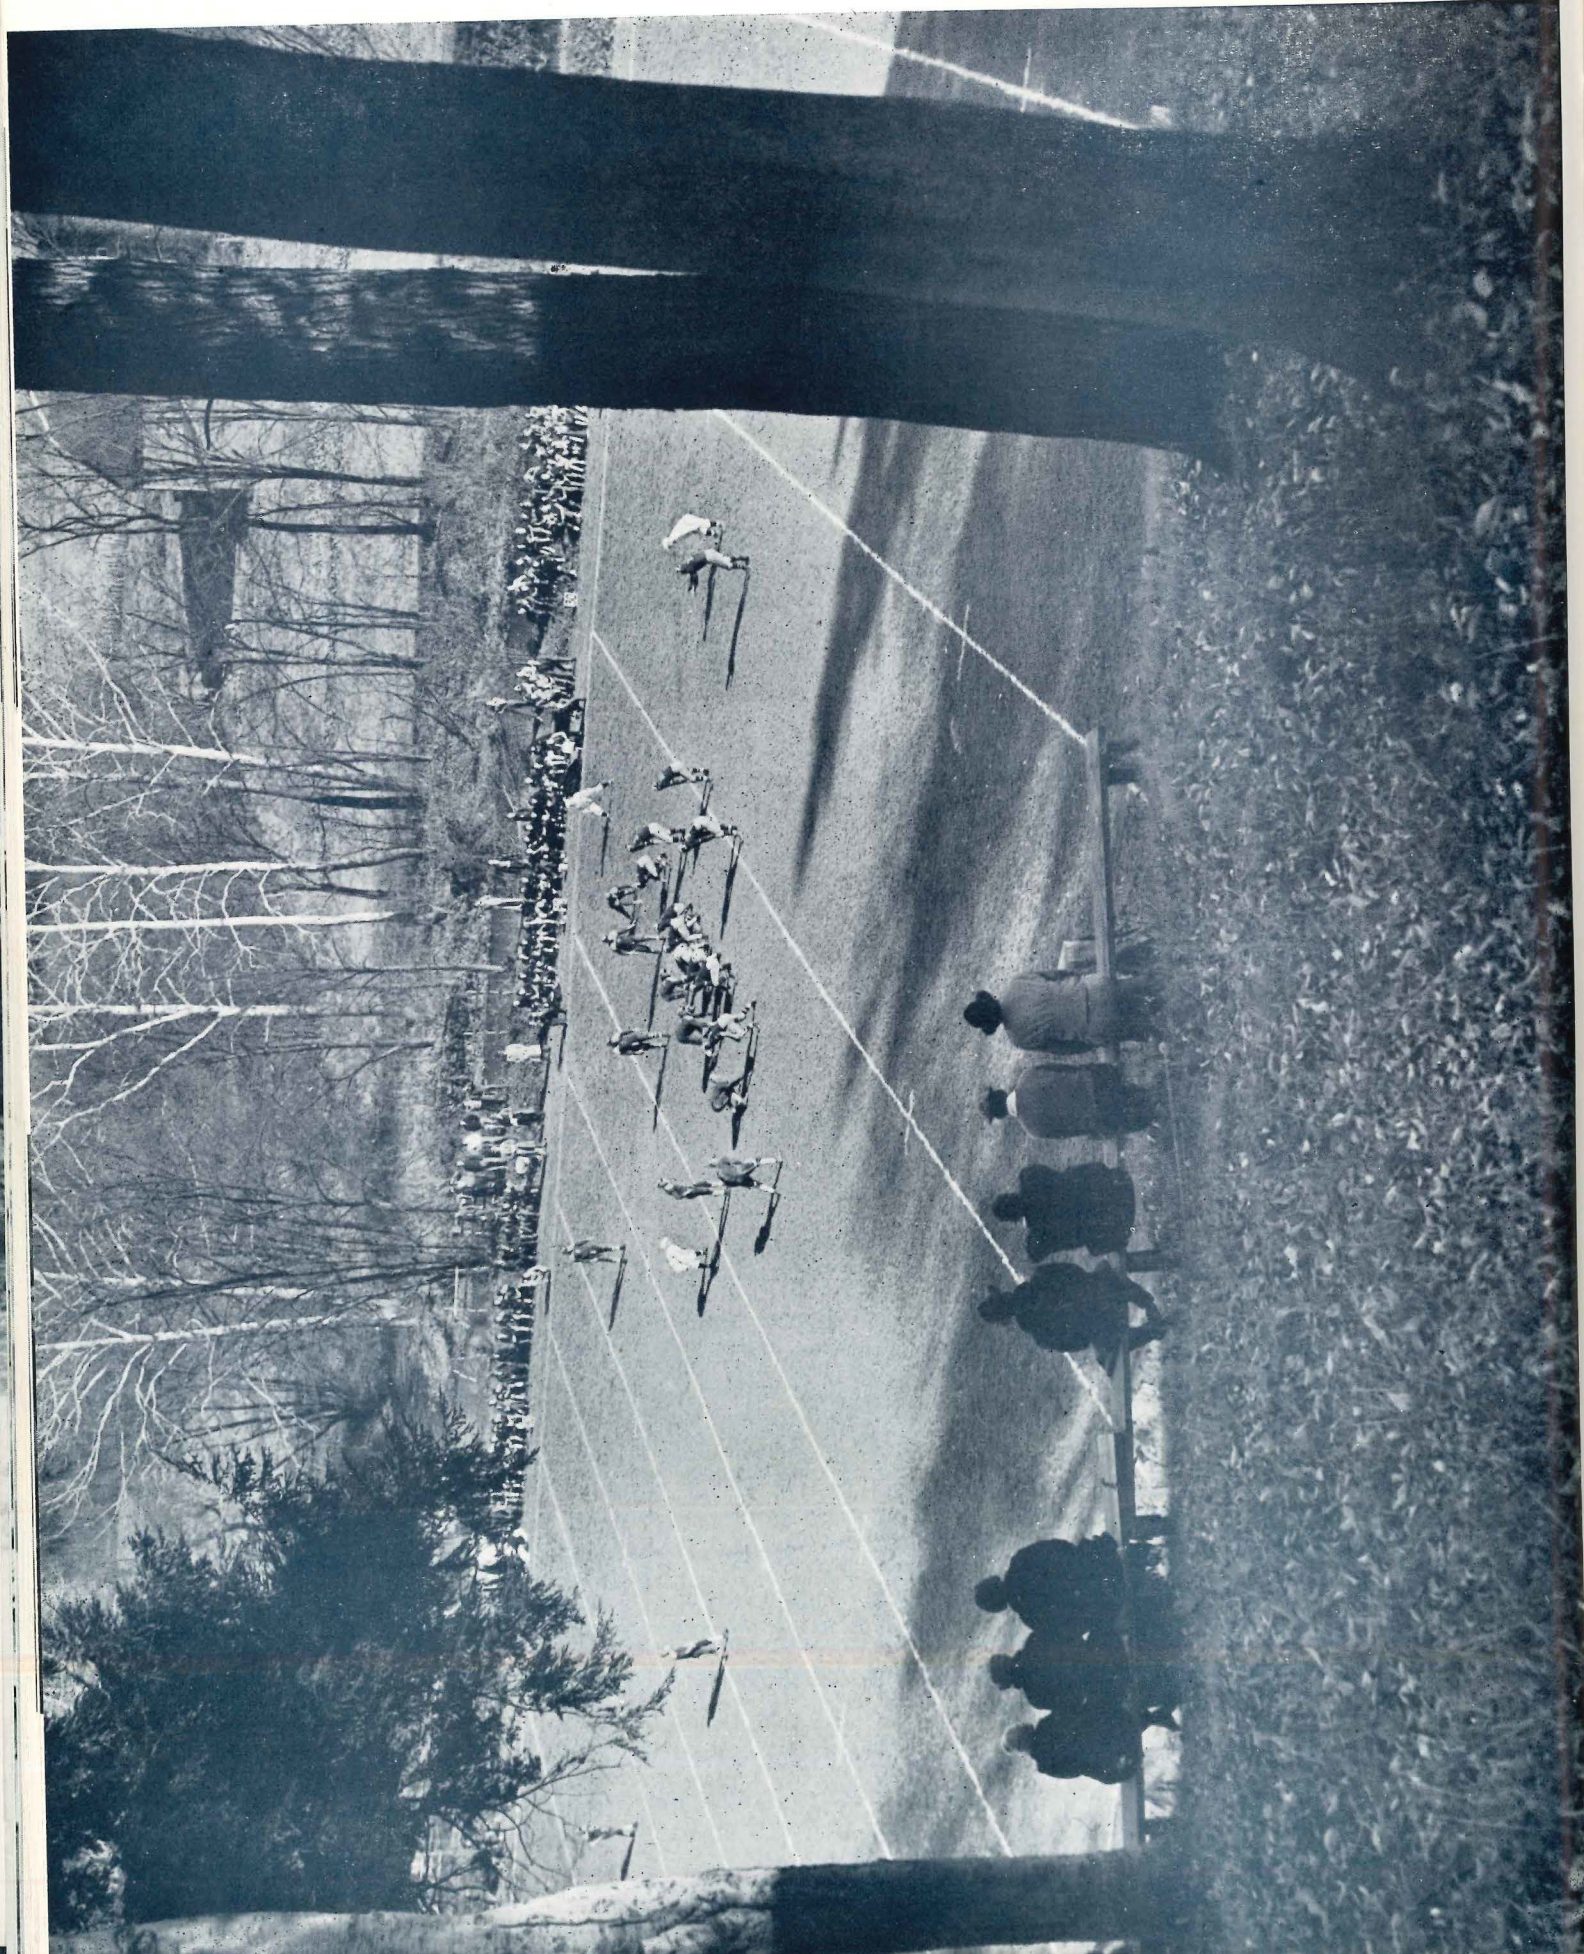

The group sponsored Religious Emphasis Week at the college in April.

The girls' basketball team of 1945-46, coached by Miss Gail James, enjoyed one of its most active seasons. Among the opponents of the season were Factoryville High School, Dalton High, Wyoming Seminary, Benton High, East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, and Wilkes-Barre Day School.

Rose Mattes was chosen manager of the team and Joanne Shea served as time keeper.

Winning two away games and one home match, the team lost four away and two at home.

Their important wins were over Wyoming Seminary, whom they beat twice, since the latter school is an aged rival of Keystone's.

H O C K E Y

School sports for Keystone girls in 1945-1946 began with the organization of a squad for field hockey. Miss Gail James, physical educational instructor, began practice with players remaining from last year's team and freshmen candidates for the team.

Joanne Shea was appointed manager and Polly Felton time keeper.

Keystone's eleven claimed victory over Marywood College at the home game as they skillfully out-played their opponents. Later in the season Keystone suffered defeat on Marywood's own field after a close game. Although the team worked steadily during the season to improve, the girls lost two games to Wilkes-Barre Day School and one to the girls of Clarks Summit. Because of unfavorable weather, the last game could not be played.

Thus ended the hockey season which, although it was low in victories, was high in the spirit of competition, co-operation, and loyalty.

Playing an intercollegiate schedule for the first time since pre-war days, Keystone's basketball squad had a full but uneventful season. Red Keiser served as captain and Al Sultz finished the season as high scorer.

The team was strengthened in February with players and coach when Veterans Volotta, Smith, Hill, Travis, and Bevan joined the ranks, and Robert Lamoreaux was appointed to the faculty. He succeeded Miss Gail James who had opened the season.

The boys met and took over a couple of high school teams from the area in addition to the junior college schedule which included Bucknell Junior College, Wyoming Seminary, Hazleton Undergraduate Center of the Pennsylvania State College, Dickinson Junior College, and the College alumni.

Invited to play in a junior college tournament at York Junior College in York, the team fell before Schuylkill Junior College in a Friday night meet.

A banquet in Moore Hall dining room near the end of the season climaxed the years activities. Letters were awarded and the election of Ed Jones as new captain was announced.

Scores for the league games follow:

	At	Keystone	Away		At	Keystone	Away
Keystone	38	28		Dickinson	41	44
Keystone	41	27		Wyoming Sem.	37	60
Keystone		35		Bucknell Jr.		54

Baseball, reconverted from a wartime softball intramural sport, returned this year to Keystone when some 13 enthusiasts went to the lots to work out with Coach Bob Lamoreaux.

The season included games with Wyoming Seminary, Bucknell Junior College, Factoryville High School, and a few amateur teams. A varsity schedule is contemplated for the coming year.

Participating in the season's games were Al Volotta, Dave Bevan, Bill Keiser, Al Potash, Lew White, Em Davis, Al Williams, Ernest Kowalski, Walt Gantz, John Keegan, Tom Hill, Al Sultz, and Bob Murray.

Several defeats blackened the Orange and Blue record this year but the recreating of a one-time varsity sport at the College was accomplished.
