Dedication

Because he has always been so fair; because he is never too busy to help a student in trouble; because he has taught us so very much; we dedicate our yearbook to Paul J. Lilly, our instructor, adviser, and friend.

Administration

The President . . .

PRESIDENT BLAKE TEWKSBURY

I compliment the Class of 1949 on your achievements at Keystone and extend sincere good wishes for the success of your future plans. Your spirit of cooperation and your initiative in sponsoring worthwhile projects has been appreciated by those who worked with you as advisers and teachers. I speak for all when I say congratulations and good luck.

Dean of Women . . .

MISS MARJORIE T. McINTOSH

"It is with a sense of pride that I say 'Congratulations, Seniors' and how much we have enjoyed you as students and individuals. As you accept the blessed and honored 'sheepskin,' may you be aware of the many expectations written between the lines of the formalities of this diploma. I hope you will continue to grow in the reach of your mind and orient yourself to great ideals.

"Good luck and best wishes."

Dean of Men . . .

"We are continually reminded that civilization stands at the crossroads. Through cooperation, tolerance, and intelligent application of knowledge, new heights of human achievement will be opened to us. Intolerance, ignorance, and misunderstandings will lead us to a new low.

"We look forward with pride to the ability of the class of '49 to take its place of leadership in this critical period of world history."

The Class of 1950 . . .

The Class . . .

The Class of 1950 was the first class to enter Keystone since the war that was not composed mainly of veterans. The seniors, who well remembered their own freshman days, made hazing as tough as possible, but because of their good sportsmanship, the freshmen came through with flying colors.

After hazing, the Frosh settled down as full-fledged Keystoneians. They elected Steve Latanision, president; Emmett Olver, vice president; Janet Taylor, secretary; and Blythe Bromley, treasurer. Under the leadership of their officers they demonstrated their capability by presenting a very successful dance in the Fall.

The freshmen have proved themselves to be good sports, good students, and good friends, capable of carrying on the traditions of Keystone next year.

Activities _____

Student Council

Student government at Keystone is effected by the Student Council. This body is elected by students to represent them in student problems, and for the closer cooperation between the administration and the student body. This past year saw a great many advancements made under the presidency of Edward Prebor.

Budget Committee

The purpose of the budget committee is to allocate the necessary funds for the different campus activities. Four seniors and three freshmen members are appointed subject to the approval of the student council. Theodore Okulski was chairman of the committee for the past year.

Klwo

Keystone Women's Organization is for all Keystone women. Each year they sponsor at least one dance for the student body. Their annual Big-Little Sister tea is designed to give the senior and freshmen women a chance to get better acquainted. This year they were headed by Dorothy Stone, while Joan Evans, Carlyn Jacobwitz, and Marilyn White comprised the other officers.

Tribunal

Under the strong arm of Robert Maier, Hazing Week got off to a rousing start. The honorable judges held court each day and gained a reputation for their leniency. Besides issuing sentences for college crimes, they are believed to have strengthened the bonds of friendship between freshmen and seniors.

Dorm Council

Creating greater harmony in dormitory life is the purpose of the Dormitory Council. Members are elected from each residence and hold meetings bi-weekly with Miss Marjorie McIntosh, faculty adviser. Ruth Saldana was the elected president for the past year. This committee also served as the campus social committee, sponsoring dances and allocating funds for the different social activities. William H. Pickering was appointed chairman.

Athletic Commission

Student request for participation in college athletic affairs led to the formation of the Athletic Commission. Members are appointed by Student Council and aid in forming varsity schedules and in handling intramural sports events. They also set up regulations for athletic competitive awards, and under the leadership of Thomas Longmore completed a successful year.

Keys

Keys is an organization at Keystone which gives recognition to those senior men who are outstanding in campus affairs. Candidates are chosen for possessing the qualities of leadership, participation in extra-curricular activities as well as maintaining a better than average scholastic record. Mr. Benjamin Trapani returned as adviser to the group.

Phi Theta Kappa

Phi Theta Kappa, national junior college honorary society, is represented at Keystone by the Delta Mu chapter, whose membership this year totaled 50. Members must have at least a 2. average in arts and sciences. Phi Theta Kappa sponsors an annual Christmas Ball to raise money for a scholarship for a worthy member of the organization. Lloyd Young was president of the group, Robert Bryant, vice president, and Howard Schmidt, secretary.

I.F.F.

Inter-Faith Fellowship is an organization devoted to effecting greater harmony and understanding between the different religious faiths. The group gathered bi-weekly to hear guest speakers and to hold discussions concerning racial and religious problems. Ann Romano was president this year and the Rev. E. E. Chipman was faculty adviser.

Religious Activities
Commission

The Religious Activities Commission plans and directs the religious activities at Keystone. This past year the group sponsored a very successful Religion in Life Week program. Several notable persons spent the week on campus and held formal lectures and informal discussions. The organization is comprised of both faculty and student members. Lee Weller was the elected president, Ruth Saldana was vice president, and Jean Florandin secretary.

I.R.C.

Mansoor Haghani was re-elected president of the International Relations Club for the second year, and with his re-election brought many innovations to the club. The group carried on debates and discussions and also had the opportunity of hearing several prominent speakers as well as seeing motion pictures on international and current events.

Masque
and Harlequin

Mrs. Leland Freidenburg directed Masque and Harlequin to a very successful year. Seven plays were presented at convocation enabling all members to participate. Besides formal productions many of the members were active in amateur shows and off-campus engagements. Ray Rachowski was president of the club.

Sigma Mu Alpha

Under the able leadership of Dorothy Albert, Keystone's society for medical secretaries and laboratory technicians this year held regular monthly meetings at which they had speakers to discuss the duties and opportunities for women in the medical field. Mr. William Brickel is faculty adviser to the group.

Kappa Sigma Epsilon

Kappa Sigma Epsilon is the Keystone engineering society. Under the presidency of Charles Beckendorf, the group had the opportunity of coordinating their classroom work with films showing practical applications. The interest in this organization was shown by the greatly increased membership. Mr. William Hoffman acted as faculty adviser.

Alpha Kappa Tau

Now almost two years old, Alpha Kappa Tau, the organization for business students with a 1. average enjoyed a very successful year. They heard guest speakers talk on the various phases of business life, and went on tours of business places in Scranton. Bob Gentzel, Lee Weller, and Bill Mowbray made up the organization's executive board. Miss Ann Manno was faculty adviser.

Kappa Beta
Sigma

Kappa Beta Sigma is a group composed of students interested in the biological sciences. Under the guidance of Dr. Hubert Vecchierello, the club went on numerous field trips and collected specimens for preservation in the biology laboratory. Robert Bausch was the elected president and Ann Romano was secretary.

Orange
Blue

Women's athletics were encouraged at Keystone by the reorganization of the Orange and Blue for all varsity sportswomen. Inactive for over a year, the reorganized club elected Irene Korba as president. Orange and Blue plans and discusses women's intramural sports. They also presented awards to coeds participating in sports.

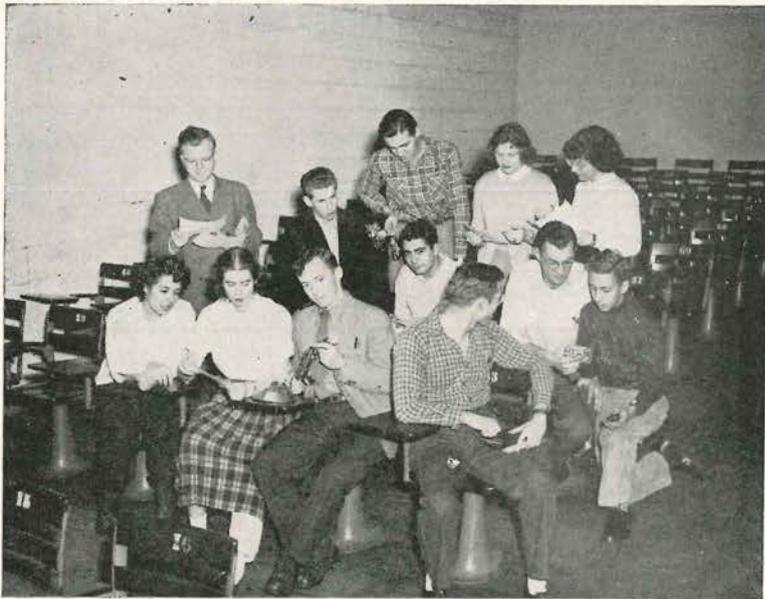

Varsity K

Varsity K is the Keystone letterman's club. Membership is granted to all members who have been awarded varsity letters. The group consisted of 32 members. Dick Hetsko was president and Coach John Franklin was faculty adviser.

Radio Club

The Radio Club at Keystone affords those students interested in radio the opportunity to further their experience by use of standard equipment which is at their disposal. They advanced their practical knowledge by repairing and operating College apparatus. Edward Stern was president and Frank Chipak, faculty adviser.

Camera Club

Students interested in photography joined the Camera Club which was headed by Jean Florandin. The group offered its services to organizations or individuals who wanted photographic work done. Charles T. Oswald was adviser to the club and aided them in their study of photography and the processing of pictures.

Glee Club

This past year the College Glee Club completed a very successful season under the leadership of Mrs. Delmar Davies and the presidency of Robert Korb. This group achieved prominence not only through a successful Christmas concert but also through other singing engagements.

Publications . . .

THE KEYSTONIAN

EDITORIAL BOARD

The Keystonian, Keystone's bi-weekly newspaper, was edited by Frank Cimino. The paper, a four page publication, covered campus news and personalities. The paper is a student publication, staffed by students and voicing the opinions of the students as interpreted by the editorial board which included John Steiger and Robert Bausch. Lee Weller acted as business manager.

THE NOKOMIAN

NOKOMIAN STAFF

The members of the Nokomian Staff, headed by Editor-in-Chief Sally Deppen, Feature Editor Jeanne Reap, Activities Editor Bill Pickering, and Sports Editor John Steiger, have collaborated in producing this, your yearbook. Miss Marilyn Mayne acted as faculty adviser this year for the first time. The entire staff is grateful for her help and advice when it seemed that we couldn't overcome our problems.

We hope that in our work we have attained our goal of "a better yearbook, out on time."

VARSITY

Ted Okulski and Dick Hetsko
Co-Captains, 1948

Again this year the Little Giant football squad had a rough time winning games, as they had on their schedule teams which were out of their class. The squad, although falling behind in most of the games, never gave up. The boys always showed good sportsmanship and were a team to be proud of.

Thirty-four men responded to a call issued by Coach John Franklin on August 30 for football practice sessions. Much preparation time was spent by the men in learning plays and getting into condition the first week. By the time the first game rolled around, Franklin had the boys ready for their arch rivals, Wyoming Seminary.

The first game was well played, but it proved fatal to the Little Giants as they went down to defeat 6-0. Seminary got the only score of the game in the first period. The Giants had plenty of drive, but it wasn't enough to get over the goal line. The remainder of the game was a punting battle.

On October 1, the Orange and Blue squad hopped a bus and traveled to Lock Haven to meet the State Teachers College Jayvees. Lock Haven displayed plenty of punch and lots of reserve strength as they bowled over the Keystoneans. When the final whistle had sounded, the teachers had a 28 point lead, and they won 34-6. The only Keystone touchdown of the game was made on a pass from Charlie Beal to Lionel Stanton.

After the Lock Haven game, the Giants had a two-week rest because the game with the Long Island Aggies was cancelled by mutual agreement of the two schools. Following the short vacation, the Giants took another beating at the hands of the University of Scranton Frosh on October 23. The Frosh team outweighed and outplayed the Keystone squad to defeat them 25-7. It was a hard game, and several of the team members were injured.

Homecoming Day was a very sad day for the alumni. After coming back to visit their Alma Mater, they wanted very much to see the team win. The opponents were the Stroudsburg State Teachers College Jayvees and the final score was 46-0. Enough said.

The Giants tasted another defeat when they made a road trip to Morrisville, N. Y. With victory in their eyes, the Keystone squad played hard, but lost, 19-7. Now the men really looked forward to the next game, and they were out for a victory to end the season.

FOOTBALL

Before a home crowd, the Giants really put on a great show. Everybody played his heart out for the victory which was to be theirs. The students and other spectators could hardly believe their eyes as they watched a team with a record of no wins and five losses pile it on the helpless victim, Genesee Junior College. The final score read 52-13 in favor of the home forces who ended the season with a splendid victory.

Although the record of one win and six defeats looks bad, the team played good ball in every game. Next year should be a different one since most of the teams on last year's schedule, which were out of Keystone's class, have been replaced by other teams.

And so another football season goes down as history, and everyone looks to the future for the next season. As long as Keystone puts a squad on the field, the sportsmanship and determination of the team will always be present in the hearts of those who watched the Little Giants play.

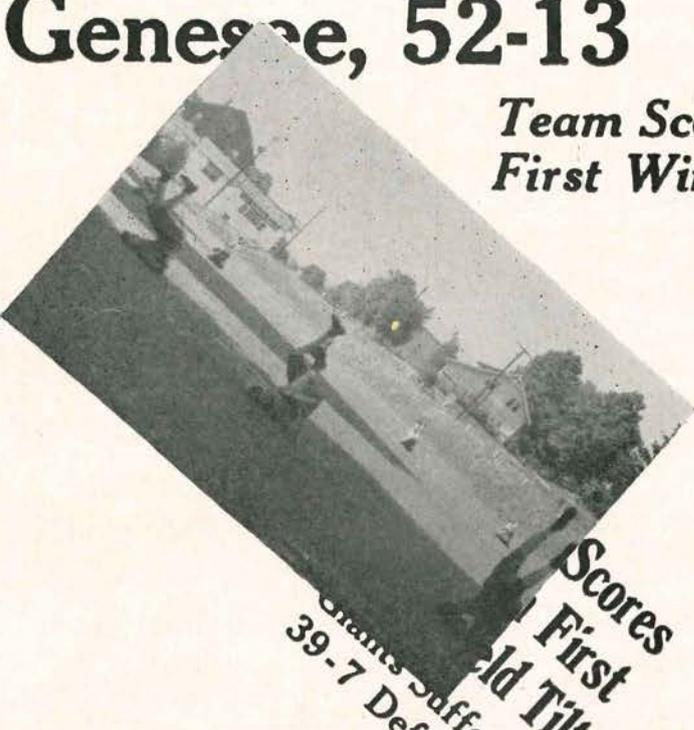

John L. Franklin
Coach

INTRAMURAL FOOTBALL

MID-VALLEY RAMS

The intramural touch football tournament consisted of two leagues, one for day students (the American League), and one for boarding students (the National League). The American title was taken by the Mid-Valley Rams with their razzle-dazzle type of play. The National League title-holder was the Cottage which used organized play to bowl over the opposition in the night league.

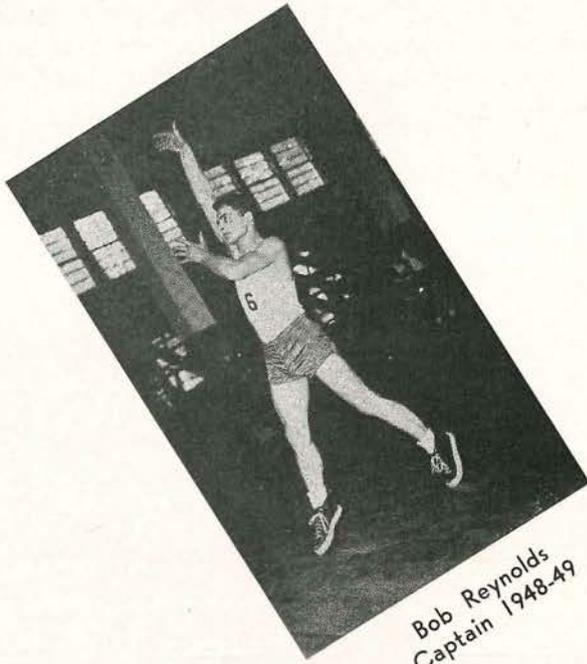

The play-off game was expected to be a close thrill-packed contest, but much to everybody's surprise the Rams turned the game into a rout, winning it 36-6. The fancy razzle-dazzle tactics proved to be too much for the Cottage which could not devise any suitable defense to stop the Rams' attack.

BASKETBALL

Keystone's cage machine, which was taken over by Coach John Franklin this year, did not have a very impressive season. However, although their record was seven wins and twelve losses, the team gave the home fans a real treat as far as close games go, setting a record for the number of overtime games in one season here at Keystone.

The season started out as usual this year with the opening game against the Alumni five, whom the Giants bowled over 76-36. Then they took to the road, the first game being with Triple Cities College of Endicott, N. Y., where they got their first defeat in the young season. York Junior College, the Pennsylvania Junior College Athletic Association champion for the 1948-49 season, was next on the schedule and proved fatal to the Orange and Blue men as they took the worst defeat of the campaign, 91-40.

After the York defeat, Keystone traveled to Pottsville and won a 55-54 overtime victory over the Schuylkill Undergraduate Center of Penn State. Two more defeats followed this victory, both on the road, at the hands of Swarthmore and Hazleton Undergraduate Center. Kings College Jayvees were beaten as the first game was played before the home crowd, 53-38.

Bob Reynolds
Captain 1948-49

As the end of the season came into sight, the Giants were determined to win more games if it killed them to do so. (It almost killed them). They set another record by playing two overtime games in four nights. At Kingston the Giants dropped a one-point decision to the Kings College Jayvees in an overtime period, 67-66. The next game was played at home against the York team, which smeared the Giants in their first meeting. At the end of regulation time, the score was all knotted. In the first overtime period, both teams played very cautiously, and at the end the score was still tied. Sooooo, into the second extra period we go. It was very nerve racking, as both clubs played as long with the ball as they could, thinking that one basket would probably win the game. It didn't, however, for at the end of this second extra period, the score was still tied. (This is too much.) Both teams were really tired in the third overtime, but York had enough energy left to outscore the Giants in this period, 8-2. The final score was 75-69.

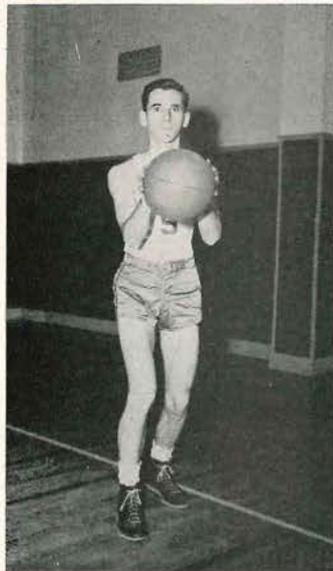

The last three games on the schedule resulted in two more defeats and one victory for the Keystone squad.

Next year only one letterman returns, and Coach Franklin will have to build a completely new team for next season around Captain Bruce Vogt. Bob Reynolds was 1948-49 captain of the Little Giants and also high scorer.

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL

Both going undefeated in twelve games, the Cottage and Podunk copped the cage titles in the National and American Leagues respectively.

Contests played in the night league were much faster than those played in the day league. Podunk had little opposition from the other teams in the day league while the Cottage met some keen competition from the Living Center Royals.

After the first round Podunk was a sure bet to take the American crown. In a hard fought contest the Cottage emerged the victor over the talented Podunk team in the intramural cage tournament championship playoffs.

Other teams in the National League were the Living Center Royals, Phoebe's Flappers, Hedgewood Hoppers, Nokomis Nemesis, and the Cottage Red Devils. The American League was rounded out by the following: City Slickers, Martz Travelers, Highwaymen, and the Mid-Valley Rams.

THE COTTAGE

BASEBALL

As usual Keystone fielded another winning combination last Spring on the baseball diamond. With plenty of batting power and a good pitching staff, Coach John Franklin's Little Giant nine was able to compile a record of seven wins and three losses for a very successful season.

Baseball Co-Captains, 1948

The Keystone squad made their debut with a win over the Kings College nine, 12-6. After leading most of the way in the season's second game, the Giants blew an early lead and lost out to Wilkes College, 15-13. Following the Wilkes game, the Orange and Blue men took victories from Wyoming Sem, 7-5, and a repeat over Kings, 12-7.

The next three games on the schedule were rained out, but finally on May 17 the squad got in a game with Triple Cities which resulted in the second loss of the season, 3-0. The Giants really got hot after that loss, and took the next four games on the schedule, beating Triple Cities in a return game, 9-8, and notching wins over the National Farm School, 11-0 and 15-10, and Wyoming Sem, 9-5.

The Giants' last game of the season was a defeat at the hands of the powerful Wilkes nine, 10-8.

Six of the 19 men on the squad hit over .300. Warren "Doc" Travers, who was one of the leading pitchers, led the hitters with a .471 average. Dave Evans, John Newcott, and Joe Krushinski were the other pitchers on the squad.

INTRAMURALS

HOCKEY

Hockey Champions, 1948

The women's hockey tournament, which started with a victory for the Moore Hall team, drew to a close before the Thanksgiving vacation with the Day Hops as champs.

Neither the Thompson Hall team nor the one representing Sabiston Hall proved to be much competition for the Day Hops, but the going was a bit rough for the eventual champs when they encountered the Moore Hall eleven.

Lorraine Haffner, a freshman from Clarks Summit, was elected captain of the Day Hops. Miss Haffner showed outstanding ability, and with the help of excellent pass work by Shirley Lutz, accounted for a number of field goals.

Dorothy Stone served as captain for the Moore Hall team. The squads from Thompson and Sabiston were headed by Judy Raumann and Walda Braun respectively.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

The Day Hops ran off with the honors again—this time for basketball intramurals. It was obvious to the spectators that the students on the Day team liked to play and knew how to.

The games were played in Brooks Gymnasium either late in the afternoon or at 6:30 in the evening. Miss Dorothy Borden, women's physical education instructor, officiated at all the games. On different occasions she was assisted by Dorothy Stone, Helen Haugh, and Joan Thompson.

The Day Hops were captained by Shirley Lutz who also achieved the highest point record. Arline Grill made another impressive record. Moore Hall chose Irene Korba and Helen Haugh for co-captains. The former was the high scorer of her team. Sylvia DeShong was responsible for the majority of the points scored for Sab, whose team was captained by Joan Thompson. Eleanor Santora, Thompson's captain, was also that team's high scorer.

SOCCER

For the first time since pre-war days, a soccer tournament was held this year. There were many very close contests in which no one team proved an especially soft touch. Because of the short time available and the number of men required on each team, only one league was formed.

The outcome of league play was not decided until the very last day of the season when the intramural soccer championship went to a determined Cottage team as they clinched the title with a 3-0 victory over the Highwaymen. The Cottage's first goal came in the first period, but the outcome of the contest was finally decided in the second period when they scored a second goal making it almost impossible for the Highwaymen to pull the game out of the fire.

Because of the player response and spectator enjoyment, prospects are bright for the formation of a soccer league next year.

MINOR INTRAMURALS

Other intramural tournaments included table tennis, bowling, volleyball, and soft ball. The table tennis was conducted on a double elimination basis. Students entering played in the Student Union during the Spring semester.

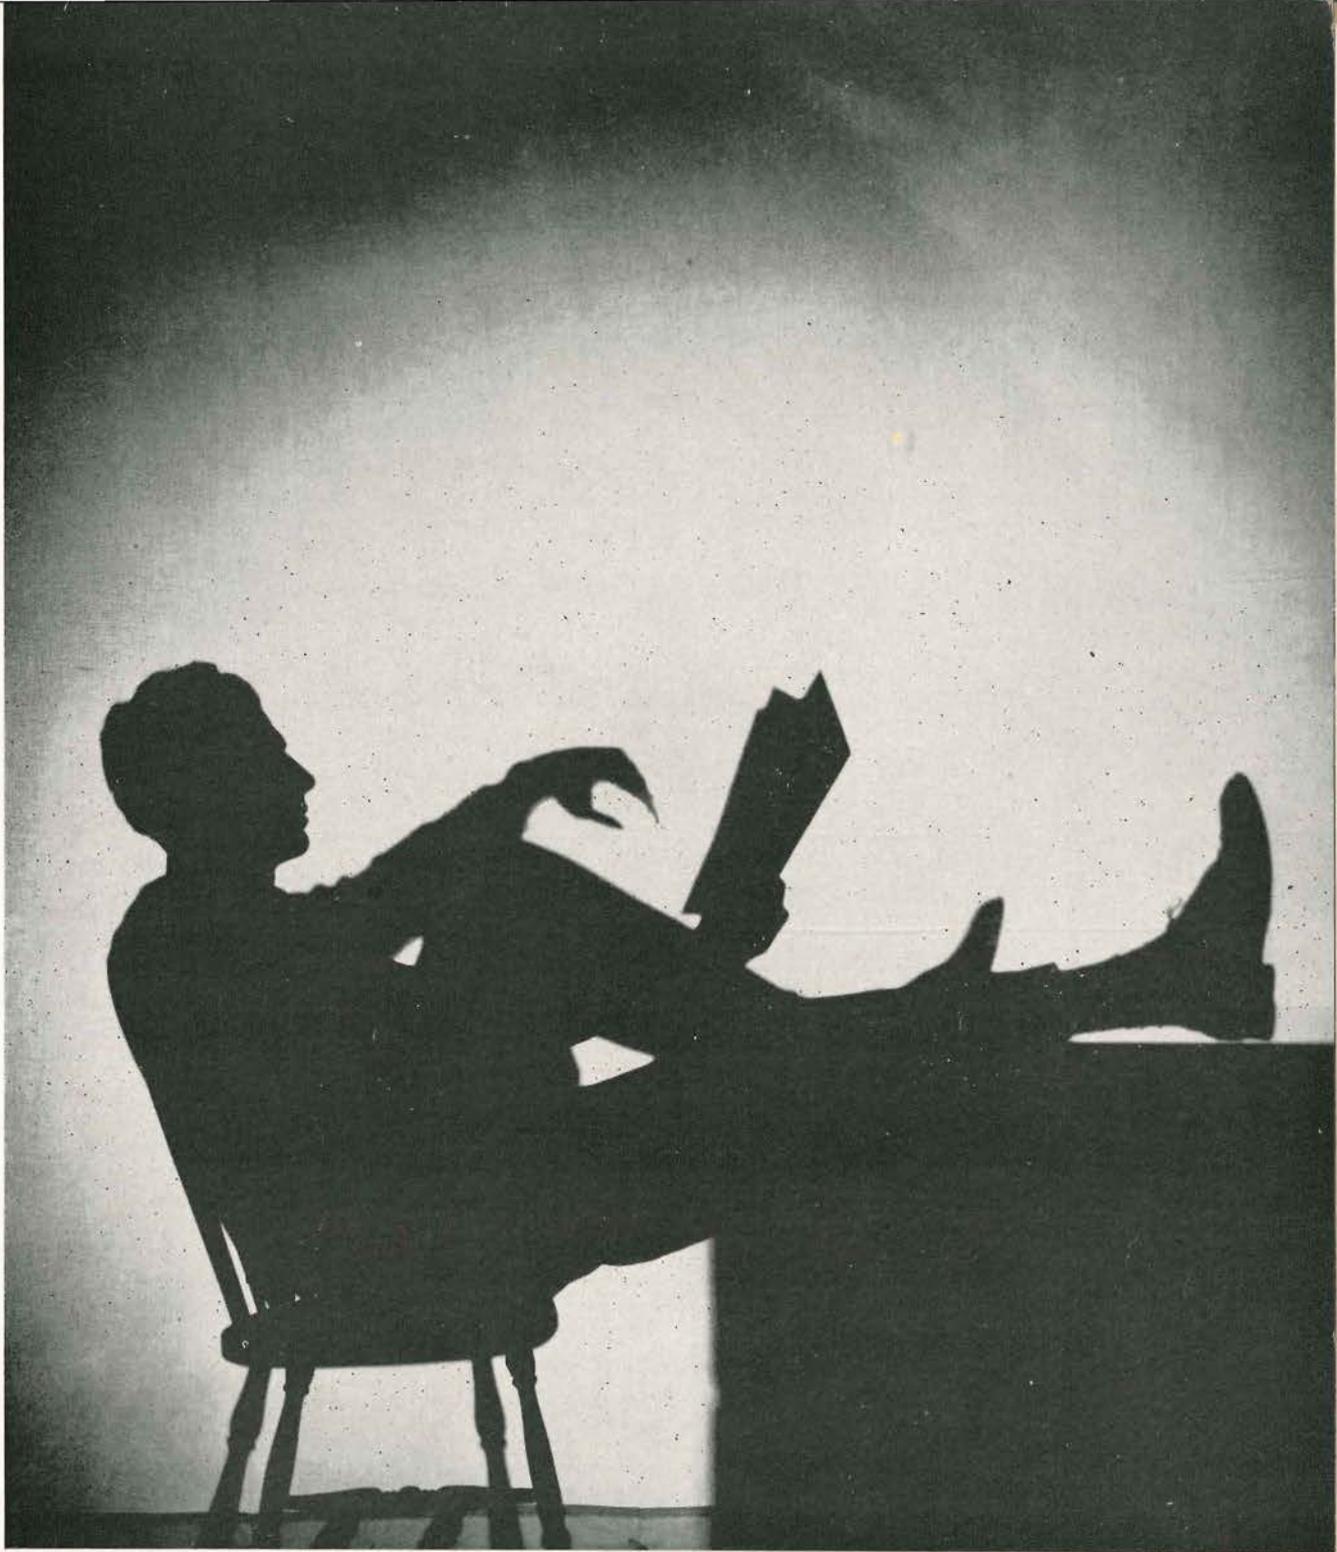

Four teams, Alpha Kappa Tau, Phoebe's Flappers, Hedgewood Hoppers, and Cottage Jolly Rogers, entered the bowling tourney which extended January through May. The volleyball competition was conducted on a round robin basis with twelve teams in the night league and five teams in the day league—a total of 140 men. The tournament ended just before Spring vacation.

The Living Center Falcons were the victors in last Spring's softball tourney with the Wildcats as runners-up. Last year's intramural cup was won by the Greybeards with Podunk and the Living Center Falcons tied for second place.

CLASS

Once upon a Sunday dreary, when we were still young and cheery,
Over many a road we traveled; Keystone was to be our home.
Shy we were and lacking knowledge (that is why we came to college—
To acquire a little knowledge; that is why we left our home,
Why we traveled many a mile—to peruse the weighty tome).

Keystone was to be our home.

Ah, distinctly we remember in the month of cool September,
Not till we were oriented would our Prexy be contented.
He told us how and when and where in a voice beyond compare,
Of the things we must forbear, else we would be regimented.
Classes, rules, and regulations, and the food the chef invented,

Were things which we at first resented.

Hazing left us meek and mild—in fact, it almost drove us wild.
Then at last the week was over, and we settled down to work;
Settled down to book and test with resolve to do our best;
Our averages will tell the rest. At least we know we did not shirk,
And we have cause to seem insane; to have developed quite a quirk.

Exams would drive a saint berserk.

Our freshman year was not all strife; we can't forget our social life.
Hayrides, football games and dances sped the time along that Fall.
When winter came we turned to skating, basketball games and weekend dating,

Bridge which led to much debating; but we enjoyed it, one and all.
Springtime baseball was exciting, and the well-known mating call

Wove a spell that cannot pall.

Though we looked forward to summer vacation, our hearts were saddened by graduation,

For we feared we might not see again the seniors whom we'd known so well.

But in the Fall, the freshmen faces helped to fill those empty spaces
Left in old familiar places by those who bade us fond farewell.

For a week we reigned supreme—against the things that we'd compel,
Freshmen didn't dare rebel.

HISTORY

With Council ably led by Zeke, activities soon reached their peak.
Our publications kept us posted on all the current campus news.
The business club was AKT; the engineers had KSE;
Another group was IRC for students wanting broader views.
And those with grades above the average tried to pay Phi Theta dues.

The perfect club was hard to choose.

We wished the graduates could stay when they came back Alumni Day,
But life continued as before; our problems came both thick and fast—
It really wasn't any fun the day the water ceased to run;
We woke and found that we had none. But soon this incident had passed

And mid-semesters faced us next; the outcome we could not forecast.

But these were over, too, at last.

We worked quite hard, and that is why the next few months went whizzing by.

Thanksgiving Day and Christmas time were all too soon a memory.
Although they warned us to beware, our finals caught us unaware;
We found we had no time to spare—to try to pass was drudgery.
We struggled for a while and then we left the rest to destiny—

Results are now just history.

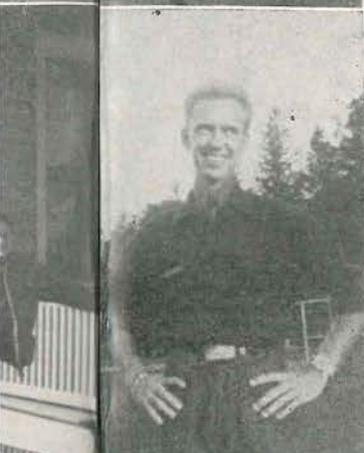

Because of lack of space we fear we can't describe our entire year.
The varsity games were so exciting we wish we could record each one.
Intramurals packed with action; formal dances for distraction;
Open house was a big attraction; and all these dates we have to shun.
The snowless winter carnival like many another function,

We've only time to mention.

One time when everything was right—the Senior Prom, a perfect night.
Baccalaureate and Commencement came to some as quite a blow;
We knew the time was drawing nigh when we would have to say goodbye;

The strongest had a tear-stained eye, for all seemed close, both friend and foe.

And now we leave a parting thought, this one last word before we go—
We give our heart-felt thanks to Poe.

CLASS WILL

We, the members of the Class of '49, being as sound of mind and body as can be expected after having been exposed to the trials and tribulations of life at Keystone for two years, do hereby publish our Last Will and Testament.

The girls of Moore bequeath their convenient tunnel to future inhabitants with the understanding, of course, that it is to be used only in case of cold weather, over-sleeping, fire, or some other such emergency. The Thompson Rockettes leave their historic "Goody-Goody" to those future students with the nerve, ability, and inclination to perform same. Sab's stay-at-homes regretfully vacate their well-populated lounge with the hope that next year's students will appreciate it as they have.

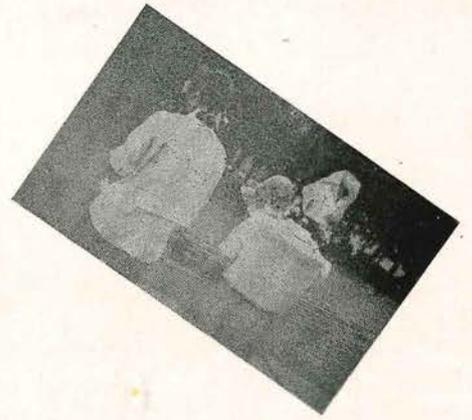

Aunt Phoebe's boys will their unrevealed Follies to posterity. The Cottage inmates bestow their talent for breaking everything in sight including walls, windows, doors, and hearts, upon all hearty souls with courage enough to live in the Cottage next year.

The day students willingly give up their well-developed broken-field running for a noon-time seat in the Union to future riders of the Martz. The Living Center boys donate their carefree, unchaperoned life to the lucky few who will take their places next year.

We all leave behind a faint spark of hope for escalators in Harris; ashtrays for rare but heart-warming smoking rooms in Capwell; and, last but not least, our chairs in the Union, hopelessly deformed after long periods of pressure, with the hope that future students will fit and feel at home in them as we have.

We do appoint as executor of this, our Last Will and Testament, Mimi, the College Widow, trusting she will carry out our parting wishes.

HAZING

Double-Button, Frosh!

Hazing week this year had more than its share of trials and tribulations for the unhappy greenhorns. The Tribunal, capably led by Bob Maier, initiated many new and interesting variations on how to orient the freshmen.

Who can forget Herbert's beautiful rendition of "When You Were Sweet Sixteen" or Rachel's oration on "Why I Hate Men"? And did you see the freshmen praying for rain—and getting it from the windows of Harris?

But hazing was a lot of fun for all and a bigger success this year than previous years because of the interest and good spirit of the Freshman Class.
