

LYCOMING
COLLEGE

JAN 2 35

LIB

LYCOMING

DECEMBER 1961

ALUMNI BULLETIN

LYCOMING

The Alumni Bulletin

Volume 17 December, 1964 Number 4

Editor - - - - - R. ANDREW LADY '49
Associate Editor - - - - - NANCY HALL BRUNNER '52
Sports Editor - - - - - H. LAWRENCE SWARTZ '57
Class Notes Editor - - - - - CAROL J. SORTMAN
Technical Consultant - - - - - BARNARD TAYLOR

Member: American Alumni Council
American College Public Relations Association

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION EXECUTIVE BOARD

President—The Rev. George C. Kramer, Jr. '53
Binghamton, New York
Vice-President—Mr. Robert W. Gehrig '57
Williamsport, Pennsylvania
Recording Secretary—Miss Eva L. Keller '13
South Williamsport, Pennsylvania
Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. Homer L. Barton '24
Salladasburg, Pennsylvania
Treasurer—Mr. Logan A. Richmond '54
Williamsport, Pennsylvania
Last Retiring President—Mr. Robert W. Griggs '50
Williamsport, Pennsylvania

Term Expires June 1965

Mr. Morris F. Good '50, Williamsport, Pennsylvania
Mr. Jack Hirsh '37, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania
Mrs. J. E. D. Huffman '13, Williamsport, Pennsylvania
Mr. Fred Y. Legge '53, Williamsport, Pennsylvania
Mr. Henry L. Long '56, Three Springs, Pennsylvania
Mrs. Richard H. Spotts '32, Lincoln Park, New Jersey

Term Expires June 1966

Dr. Frank W. Ake '27, Williamsport, Pennsylvania
Dr. Victor B. Hann '24, Mechanicsburg, Pennsylvania
Mr. Edward P. Heeter '11, Williamsport, Pennsylvania
Mr. James J. Keller '50, Williamsport, Pennsylvania
Mrs. Edward B. Knights '36, Montoursville, Pennsylvania
Mr. Douglas E. McWilliams '52, Elysburg, Pennsylvania
Dr. T. Sherman Stanford '32, State College, Pennsylvania

Term Expires June 1967

Mr. Howard C. Beach '49, Rochester, New York
Mr. John L. Bruch, Jr. '40, Muncy, Pennsylvania
Mr. T. Max Hall '55, Williamsport, Pennsylvania
Mrs. J. Paul Hively '56, Williamsport, Pennsylvania
Mr. Herbert C. Kane '60, Williamsport, Pennsylvania
Mr. Raymond A. Miller '58, Williamsport, Pennsylvania
Mr. Harry W. Morgan '16, Williamsport, Pennsylvania

1964 Class Representative—One Year Term

Mr. Barry Lee Boyer, Williamsport, Pennsylvania

EDITORIAL BOARD

Mrs. Richard H. Spotts, Chairman; Dr. Frank W. Ake,
Mr. Jack Hirsh, Dr. T. Sherman Stanford.

The Alumni Bulletin is published January, April, September and December by Lycoming College. It is entered as Second Class Matter at the Post Office at Williamsport, Pa., under the Act of Congress of August 24, 1912.

In this issue . . .

	Page
President's Message	1
Men of Good Will Strengthen Lycoming—Part I	2
Part II	8
Part III	9
A Great Teacher by John B. Willmann '38	10
Fall Sports Review	12
Faculty News	13
Brummie Leaves Lycoming	14
Alumni Club News	15
Homecoming '64	16
From Here and There	17
Lyco Lytes	22
Lycoming Commemorates Shakespeare	23
The Wind Ensemble	24
The Choir	25

ON THE COVER—The Theta Chi Christmas tree rises from the campus quadrangle like a multi-colored jewel. For the Theta Chi story, turn to page 9.

DEAR ALUMNI:

This has been a busy fall! The college year began with 1270 students and we knew very early in the year that our facilities were being taxed to the very limit.

So it was a welcome relief to break ground for the new residence hall construction on September 23. At least, there appeared to be daylight ahead. We can endure almost any limitation if there is evidence of work being done to solve the problem.

As a consequence, the entire campus community is watching with a great deal of excitement as two new residence halls rise out of the ground. These are more than college dormitories. These are living units which will make a totally new and significant impact upon the college community.

As a college grows, there are many evidences of its growth: the student body and the faculty increase in size, the campus expands and new buildings arise, the quality of the educational program improves, the number of persons involved in the support of the institution multiplies. All of these factors unite to form the image of a college which is striving to fulfill its purpose in the context of a complex society.

The future of Lycoming College is exceedingly bright. It is bright because of the loyalty and devotion which so many people have brought to the task.

Very sincerely,
D. FREDERICK WERTZ
President

President Wertz and the Hon. Robert F. Rich, Honorary President of the Board of Directors, inspect construction progress on the new women's residence at the corner of College Place and Washington Boulevard. So far the only delay has been the paucity of bricklayers in the area. Seventeen bricklayers are engaged full-time to work on this building and the new men's residence. The job actually requires thirty-five.

Five of the Lycoming Associates inspect elevation drawings for the two new residences. From left: Oliver E. Harris, Director of Development; Fred A. Pennington, Chairman; W. Russell Zacharias; the Hon. Robert F. Rich; and George R. Lamade.

Men of Good Will Strengthen Lycoming

Twenty-Nine Community Leaders Work To Develop The College As The Lycoming Associates

AT a crucial point in the history of Lycoming College, twenty-nine business and professional men known as the Lycoming Associates are giving their time and abilities to advise and assist in the college's long-range development program. Organized last April, the Associates are men with faith in Lycoming College and sufficient interest to participate actively in its growth in the decade ahead. They are serving our school because they realize it needs their advice, support, work, and leadership in strengthening its quality, in extending its service, and in widening its influence in society. Their potential for helping Lycoming build a greater college is valuable. Their voluntary acceptance of the invitation to join the Associates promises that they have the interest and desire to fulfill that potential.

Who are these men? Sheridan W. Bell, D.D.—Methodist Minister—Harrisburg, Pa.; Fred Pierce Corson, D.D.—Bishop of The Methodist Church—Philadelphia, Pa.; John G. Detwiler—President, Central Cable Company—Jersey Shore, Pa.; Roger S. Firestone, L.L.D.—President, Firestone Plastics Company—Pottstown, Pa.; S. Dale Furst, Jr.—Attorney, Furst, McCormick, Muir, Lynn & Reeder—Williamsport, Pa.; Charles F. Greedy—President Judge of Lycoming County—Williamsport; Leon E. Hickman—Vice-President, Aluminum Corporation of America—Pittsburgh, Pa.; George R. Lamade, Litt.D.—Publisher, Grit Publishing Company—Williamsport; James G. Law—President, Magee Carpet Company—Bloomsburg, Pa.; Charles A. Lehman, Jr., M.D.—Physician—Williamsport; W. Gibbs McKenney—Attorney—Baltimore, Md.; W. Vernon Middleton, Ph.D.—Bishop of The Methodist Church—Pittsburgh; Leon I. Minkin—President, Minkin Salvage Company—Williamsport; Carl H. Ott—Carl H. Ott Insurance Agency—Williamsport; Charles C. Parlin, L.L.D.—Attorney, Shearman & Sterling—New York City; Fred A. Pennington—President, Andrew S. McCreath & Son, Inc.—Harrisburg; John E. Person, Jr.—President, Williamsport Sun-Gazette—Williamsport; Arnold A. Phipps—Investment banker, Manager of Schmidt, Roberts & Parke office—Williamsport; Robert F. Rich, L.L.D.—Chairman of the Board, Woolrich Woolen Mills—Woolrich, Pa.; Herman T. Schmeebeli—U. S. Representative, 17th Congressional District—Williamsport; Joseph T. Simpson—President, Harco Corporation—Harrisburg; Harold M. Soars—President, Sprout-Waldron & Company—Muncy, Pa.; George L. Stearns, II—President, L. L. Stearns & Sons, Inc.—Williamsport; R. Edward Steele, M.D.—Surgeon—Harrisburg; Charles J. Stockwell—Vice-President, C. A. Reed Company—Williamsport; Harold J. Stroehmann, Jr.—President, Stroehmann Brothers Company—Williamsport; Nathan W. Stuart—Attorney, Stuart & Murphy—Williamsport; Charles Scott Williams—Attorney, former Judge of Lycoming County—Williamsport; and W. Russell Zacharias—Regional Manager, Raymond Rosen & Company—Allentown, Pa. Besides these, four members of the college administration are Lycoming Associates: President D. Frederick Wertz; Oliver E. Harris, Director of Development; Kenneth E. Himes, Treasurer and Business Manager; and Dr. J. Milton Skeath, Acting Dean. Eleven of the Associates also will sit on the college Board of Directors. What will be their role? According to

Oliver E. Harris, these men will assist directly in promoting the college development program, contacting colleagues and others for help. They have had two meetings on campus since organizing, primarily for the purpose of becoming thoroughly informed on the present and future educational program of the college.

The job they will tackle is an $5,000,000 development program that is extremely urgent. $6,500,000 is earmarked for academic facilities and the remainder for student aid and faculty salaries. It has been referred to as a long-range program, but as Mr. Harris points out "we have reached a point in development where we can't grow and improve our academic progress without new classroom facilities." So the needs are immediate. Already we are in the midst of an Urban Redevelopment Project with two dormitories under construction. Their completion next summer will bring to ten the number of buildings constructed since 1948, and will make possible new housing for 146 women and 184 men. Now that these are under way, we must turn our attention to another urgent need—academic facilities. The Registrar reports that our classroom situation is at a critical point. Practically all classrooms and laboratories are scheduled for continuous use from 8 a. m. through 3 p. m., except for the noon hour. Some are too small for the number of students assigned to them and others are simply obsolete because

Chairman of the Associates is Fred A. Pennington, also President of the Board of Directors.

Some are new faces . . .

Leon I. Minkin

John G. Detweiler

Charles J. Stockwell

Some are not . . .

Sheridan W. Bell, D.D.

W. Russell Zacharius

George L. Stearns, II

The top picture shows the homes in the urban renewal program being demolished for the Lycoming College project. A tremendous amount of work and sacrifice was involved both on the part of the residents who had to be moved and the planners who assisted them in the arrangements. In lower picture the razing is completed and the site ready for the new residence hall.

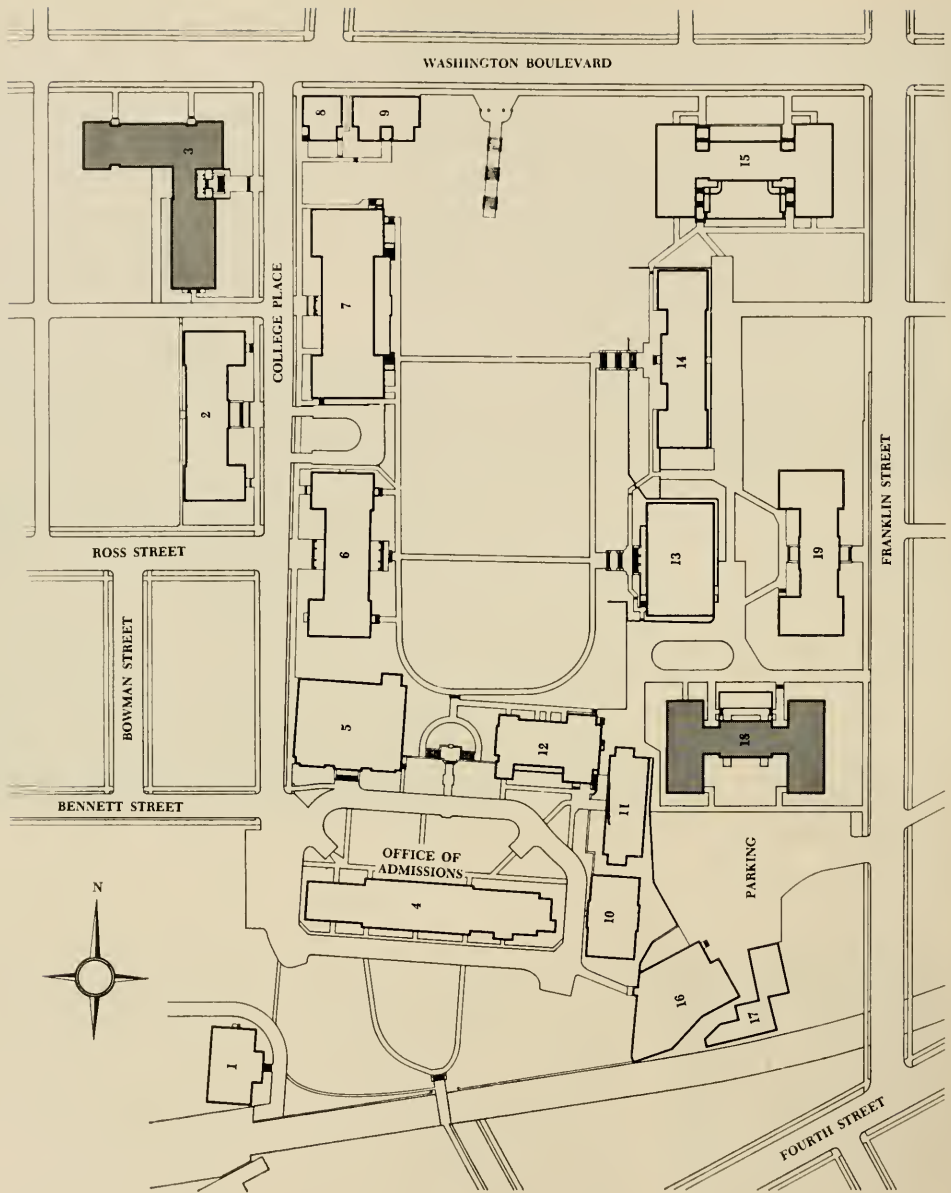

the job is underway

of age, design, and construction. For this reason, top priority has been given to the construction of a classroom building as the next phase of the facilities expansion. At the most recent meeting of the Associates, the members learned that plans have been initiated on a classroom building which will be placed somewhere in the area between Ross and Bennett Streets and between College Place and Mulberry Street. It will adequately accommodate 1600 students and ninety faculty members, the projected campus population for 1970. Classrooms and laboratories will occupy about 32,000 square feet. Auxiliary areas will include faculty offices, seminar rooms, faculty lounge, communications center, theatre, and provisions for an instructional computer installation. This will amount to a total of 60,000 square feet in a three-story building. President Wertz hopes that construction on this building will begin in 1965. When it is completed, classroom space currently being used in Bradley Hall, Eveland Hall, Memorial, Old Main, and the John W. Long Library will be retired.

Next on the priority list is a new library planned with stack capacity for 250,000 volumes and study areas for 640 students—forty percent of our anticipated enrollment. The most recently developed equipment for library operation will be incorporated into this building. The John W. Long Library will be converted for other important uses. Following the library will be a new administration building. Last on the agenda will be a new recreation center to replace our present gymnasium. The new gymnasium will provide facilities for physical education instruction, intramural sports, and intercollegiate sports. With a seating capacity of 2500, it will include areas for classrooms, wrestling, squash-raequet and handball courts, basketball and other indoor sports. It will be designed

THE CAMPUS TODAY

CAMPUS BUILDING CODE

1. Eveland Hall
2. Women's Dormitory
3. Women's Dormitory
4. Old Main
5. Gymnasium
6. Rich Hall
7. Student Activities Building
8. President's Residence
9. Fine Arts Building
10. Bradley Hall
11. Memorial Hall
12. Clarke Chapel
13. John W. Long Library
14. Wesley Hall
15. Fraternity Residence Hall
16. Science Building
17. Maintenance Building
18. Men's Dormitory
19. Asbury Hall

■ Now being built

so that a new swimming pool can easily be added if and when funds are available. The present gymnasium will become a physical education and intramural center for women. The site for the new recreation center has not yet been determined.

In introducing members of the Associates to the job at hand, Mr. Harris told them of the tremendous task facing higher education everywhere. More than four million students are now in colleges and universities. A larger proportion of young people now demand post-high school education; colleges and universities are being asked to more than double in a decade what it has taken them more than three centuries to build. He assured them that Lycoming College must prepare its academic program and physical facilities to share in this burden.

The Lycoming Associates have responded enthusiastically to Lycoming's plans for the future. They are company presidents, attorneys, clergymen, doctors, and public servants with business commitments and full personal schedules who somehow are finding time to affirm their confidence in the value of Lycoming College. Already they have made important contacts prior to the launching of a full-scale gifts program. Their genuine concern and willing involvement will help Lycoming maintain its high educational standards. When the Visiting Committee of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools reaffirmed Lycoming's academic accreditation in 1960, it stated: "The dominant impression of the Visiting Committee to Lycoming College was of an institution in a state of dynamic transition, with a remarkable record of achievement during the brief tenure of the present administration." With the Lycoming Associates actively supporting our program, it promises to continue to be dynamic, progressive, and significant.

this is part of the vision

Men of Good Will Strengthen Lycoming

Another group of men, this time from our student body, are concerned enough about the development of Lycoming College to take effective action. Realizing that people are more likely to look favorably upon that with which they are familiar, members of the Circle K, a campus service club, decided to invite nearby residents to attend a "Neighbor Day" on campus. Many of them live in the urban redevelopment project area which is vital to the expansion of the college. Some of them will be moved to different dwellings because of this. Others live in the Ross Hotel where we are housing some of our men students this year because of crowded campus residence facilities.

Circle K members, under the leadership of chairman Jack McCallus, a senior from Williamsport, went directly to the home of their prospective guests and invited them personally. They also left at each home a printed letter of invitation and an agenda.

STUDENTS ACQUAINT NEARBY
RESIDENTS WITH COLLEGE BY INVITING THEM TO NEIGHBOR DAY

Approximately one hundred persons accepted and came to the campus for a Saturday afternoon visit. The college band played for them; the choir sang. Students guided them through tours of the buildings and served them refreshments. While the visitors listened to brief talks by members of the administration, co-eds entertained their children in the gymnasium. Older children swam in the pool. Alpha Phi Omega and other student organizations assisted the Circle K men as guides.

The response to Neighbor Day was warm. Many of the guests admitted that in spite of years of living next to the college, they had not truly understood its goals or appreciated its students until this, their first visit to the campus.

Co-ed Janet Gee reads to a pair of brothers while their parents tour the campus. Below, student Marshall Minkin takes a group of Neighbor Day visitors through the John W. Long Library.

Men of Good Will Strengthen Lycoming

BROTHERS OF THETA CHI BEAUTIFY CAMPUS FOR CHRISTMAS SEASON

Searching for a way to make our hilltop college a pinnacle of beauty in the Christmas season, the brothers of Theta Chi Fraternity have for several years placed a tree on the campus quadrangle. This year they chose an impressive thirty-foot-high tree to decorate. Imaginative Ron Danks, a senior from Armonk, New York, suggested that in place of their usual method of delivery (hauling the tree from nearby woods in a truck) they hire a commercial helicopter to fly in the tree and drop it in place. It was a dramatic touch that soon caught the fancy of the community of Williamsport. A man from Picture Rocks, twenty miles east of town, donated a tree. The brothers set about digging the hole for the tree and making plans to hire the helicopter. They found one at Homestead, Pa., but the cost of renting it and hiring a pilot was more than their treasury could bear. Meanwhile they had added Santa Claus (Theta Chi Robert Hancox from Summit, New Jersey) to the plans with toys and candy for the children of Williamsport who would come to view the landing. The gifts cost a considerable amount of money as did the many strings of colored lights needed for the tree. The brothers appealed for help. Soon local stores, businesses, and industries contributed to the expenses of the project. Everything was set—the helicopter hired, the tree cut, Santa outfitted, the town's youngsters waiting breathlessly. On the day the tree was to arrive, it poured rain. Optimistic children showed up anyway, gazing skyward from under their umbrellas. The pilot called the college to say his town had a storm and he couldn't possibly take off. The next day it rained again, and again the aircraft could not leave the ground. The Theta Chi men couldn't disappoint the hopeful children a second time. They hastily arranged to have a fire truck deliver the tree. It roared onto campus with Santa perched jauntily on top. The men used the money left over from the helicopter allotment for additional toys and candy. It was a wet job, but the men secured the tree. A temporary setback occurred when thoughtless vandals cut the wires holding the heavy tree and it toppled, sinking into the muddy ground. For a day, the campus was glum. But Ron Danks and his workers hoisted the tree again amidst a heavy downpour of rain. The storm lifted and the entire fraternity turned out to decorate the brilliantly lighted evergreen pictured on our cover.

Santa Claus is nearly obscured by the children and umbrellas during his rainy visit to campus.

The Theta Chis erect their 30-foot tree.

A GREAT TEACHER

“because he loves both teaching and students”

by JOHN B. WILLMANN '38

IT might have been raining or maybe the sun was smiling that September day in 1936 when I registered for classes. But one memory remains undimmed.

My first contact with Dean J. Milton Skeath left me cold. He set me up for a course called Orientation; he tossed me into a chemistry course after I had learned that subject in high school. Dean Skeath spoke low and didn't give any tip that he could smile. On the way home I tried to think of some way of avoiding beginning my day-hop college life at old Williamsport Dickinson J. C.

As often happens, no way-out came to mind and I returned to enjoy two of the most rewarding years of my life. One of the principal reasons was this man Skeath who now finds himself cast for the fourth time as dean of the College on the Hilltop.

Mine were the days of WPA and NYA. The latter meant jobs for deserving students at 20 cents an hour, with the money applied on the bill to the college. I counted it as a bad roll of dice when “the office” assigned me to work with Dean Skeath.

Told to report at his home on the campus, I knocked at the door of an old brick house on Academy St., just off East 4th. The house has long been razed and so have my original impressions of the slim, sort of gawky man who was holding a crying infant in his arms. That's a college professor? Where were the book-lined den, the smoking jacket, the atmosphere of academe'?

Dean Skeath appeared to be a human being. He turned out to be one—as human and so much a being.

To his credit, initially and foremost, he put me to work earning the NYA stipend. I cut stencils for examinations—and learned his respect for integrity. I wrote letters and compiled data on his graduates. This information, so seemingly useless as I filled out file cards, was to be used as the basis of a report on what happened to former students. Without understanding at the time, lessons of reporting and collecting information were being learned.

But fundamentally, there was the fortuitous good fortune to be associated with the man who could smile (there's usually a twinkle in his eyes), who could turn a deft phrase, who could be articulate without being oratorical and who could inflict a needed gibe and an inspiring compliment when either one was warranted.

Without raking over the grubby details of an undistinguished academic career at the J. C., may it be said that this writer got a passing mark in freshman math, and somehow got through a sophomore calculus course that was taken just because Prof. Skeath was teaching it.

Somehow I did a bit better in his psychology class—but not without providing amusement.

Prof. Skeath was discussing something or other about emotional instability and making a test that showed indications of the malady. His gimmick singled out my instability. I protested with so much gusto that he roared at my involuntary substantiation of his finding.

Withal attending his classes and working for him,

Dr. J. Milton Skeath

I really didn't get to know Prof. Skeath until after graduation. By that time he had moved out to Glenwood Ave. and my close buddy, Tom Sharar, and I kept finding excuses to visit his house for coffee and chats. Tom and I even bought pipes in order to blow up smoke storms with Prof. We borrowed some of his cut-plug Edgeworth but soon had to admit that it was too much for our tender tonsils.

In that we were smarter than our tutor. He also chose a blend something less hostile to the lungs a few years later. But, unimportantly or not, Prof still drags on his pipe and I still keep a briar sticking out of the side of my mouth.

While finishing college in the Midwest I kept in touch. During vacations I stopped at Glenwood Ave. He told me about his new students and I reported on the pros at Notre Dame. "I thought you were tough to understand, but the Frenchman who teaches philosophy out there is too much."

I recognized admittance to an inner circle when Prof asked me to go fishing. We used his gear and we found something else in common. Trout and bass seemed to eschew our bait on a nonpartisan basis. Prof cracked up eggs in the coffee he made, I drank it and said it was good.

After finishing college and going to work in Williamsport, the stops at 605 Glenwood continued. We stayed up later and talked about more serious subjects—even life. Our eyeballs didn't march on religion but we seemed to become closer friends.

When the Navy granted me permission to go abroad during the World War II years, Prof was there when the train pulled me away from the Park Hotel depot for the first time. Subsequently, he was there every time I pulled in or out. Ordinarily I'm not superstitious. But, like Linus and his blanket, I felt more secure seeing him there.

Later, back in Williamsport again, I learned that marriage need not break up a bond with this prof friend. We played some bridge on a coed basis and we still had our personal discussions. By that time I was drinking stronger coffee and a few times had his offer of a glass of wine.

Prof also helped me with decisions I outlined and he listened and questioned. He didn't say yes and he didn't say no. He just helped me to put the ducks in order and to count them accurately.

A night to be cherished, if some vanity may be admitted, was when I brought one of those mathematical brain-teasers through the Skeath door. It was some thing about a man paying so much money for his lunch at a restaurant and getting a certain number of coins in return. Question: How much did he have in his pocket before paying the bill—or something like that. For two hours that night Prof trotted out his formulas and filled pages with figures. Meanwhile, I was playing the game of trial and error, with a dash of logic, and came up with the answer on the basis of deductive procedures.

Anyone who knows Prof. Skeath or paid any attention in his classes will recognize that I haven't touched all of his attributes. But almost every Lycoming graduate would agree with me that Dean Skeath himself has provided an essentially worthwhile reason for attendance at the Seminary, the Junior College, or Lycoming—all of which he spans.

If this illuminates the man who is a great teacher because he loves both teaching and students, then I've made a small repayment on the endowment that Prof. Skeath and Lycoming provided me over these years.

He's not Mr. Chips, heaven forbid. But then Mr. Chips wasn't Prof. Skeath.

After graduating from Williamsport Dickinson Junior College in 1938, John B. Willmann went on to graduate from Notre Dame in 1940. He began his newspaper career on the staff of "Grit," the Sunday family newspaper in Williamsport, the same month he finished college. His journalistic ability and acumen eventually led to his appointment as state editor at "Grit" and later as city editor. He left this position in 1957 to become real estate editor of "The Washington Post," his current position. His keen appraisal of and inventive writing about the housing business in Washington, D. C. for "The Post" earned him earlier this year a first-place national award from the National Association of Real Estate Editors.

FALL SPORTS REVIEW

IT can be said poignantly that the Lycoming College Fall sports teams built character. Both the football and soccer squads found victory to be an elusive goal through most of the campaign. The Warrior grid squad had to wait until the final game of the year to win their first contest and break a 14-game losing streak. The soccer team won 2 and lost 10.

The 9-0 victory over Muhlenberg in the season's finale tended to ease some of the frustrations of the previous seven Saturdays. The blue and gold dominated the game from the kickoff to the closing gun. They held a good Muhlenberg team to 19 yards rushing and 5 first downs.

Throughout the season the Warrior footballers moved the ball well between the 20-yard line stripes but lacked the punch to put the ball over the goal. In the third game of the season against Albright, Lycoming had the ball on the 8, the 5, and the 2 without scoring and lost 19-6. They also moved inside the 10 against both Juniata and Western Maryland and in each instance the TD would have won the game.

After the 35-8 loss to C. W. Post, the biggest team Coach Dave Busey's squad has ever faced, Lycoming was in contention in each game. They lost six in a row by 6, 12, 8, 6, 5, and 3 points, respectively.

Despite the losing record there were many bright spots in the season. One was the play of freshman quarterback Wayne Miller. The 5' 10", 155-pound signal caller had a brilliant high school career, but was deemed too small to be a good college player. A resident of Beech Creek, Pennsylvania, Wayne obliterated all Lycoming College passing and total offense records by completing 95 out of 197 passes for 987 yards. He added 61 yards rushing for 1048 yards total offense.

Wayne led the Middle Atlantic Conference's northern division in passing and total offense with 69 completions in 140 attempts for 717 yards and 762 yards total offense.

Another individual who had a great year was Mike Cohen the Warriors' number one quarterback the previous two seasons. The Brooklyn, N. Y. junior was moved to a halfback spot and sparkled at the new position. He made tremendous progress through the last several games of the season and concluded with a 105-yard rushing effort against Muhlenberg, despite missing the second quarter of the game. The 105 yards gave Mike the rushing leadership on the team with 263 yards.

An interesting sidelight on the versatile Cohen is the fact that he finished second in passing in the MAC's northern division in 1963 and this year he won the pass receiving championship with 20 receptions for 228 yards. As a defensive halfback he was a big factor in the Warriors' effective pass defense.

Wayne Miller's favorite receiver at Bald Eagle-Nittany High School, Walt Bower, also had a good season as a Lycoming freshman. The 5' 10" roving end caught 19 passes for 280 yards, tops for the team. Most of his passes were snagged in the first two games of the season against non-conference foes C. W. Post and Waynesburg. By the time league action started, Bower was being given special consideration by the opposition, thus freeing team mates Mike Cohen and end Steve Hockley for the Wayne Miller aeriels.

Seth Keller finished his career as one of the best Lycoming rushers to date. The former Williamsport High performer led the MAC's northern division in rushing his sophomore and junior years. A Methodist All-American and all-division team member his junior year, Seth was injured in a preseason scrimmage and missed the first two games of the season. Though he failed to regain his previous form, he gained 261 yards, two less than Cohen, and finished sixth in the northern division with the same total.

In addition to Keller, there were six seniors on the squad: co-captain Bill Wilt and Tom Springman, both tackles, guard Bob Wayne, centers Ray Brown and Dick Sheppard, and halfback Wally Brown.

Two factors were prominent in the Warrior soccer team's losing season. First, coach Nels Phillips squad lost their scoring punch with the graduation of several strong seniors in June and did not find anyone who could take up the slack.

Second, injuries began to plague the team by the third game of the season and through the last half most of the squad fell victim to various ailments from bruised thighs to minor ankle sprains. Sophomore Walt Kinsey scored 8 goals in the first five games of the year and then missed the final seven games because of a leg injury. Monty Whitney, also a sophomore, picked up the slack and scored 7 goals after Kinsey departed to tie with 8 for the year.

The blue and gold booters played their best game of the year against Drew in the season's finale. Lycoming held the strong Drew team to a 1-1 tie at halftime and moved ahead 2-1 in the third quarter on a Whitney goal. With virtually no substitutes, the Warriors ran out of steam in the fourth quarter and lost 4-2.

Five seniors completed their soccer careers: George Dellinger, Clem Heick, Dave Meserole, Henry Riewertz, and Jesse May.

Faculty News

Elected . . .

Dr. John A. Radspinner, Professor of Chemistry, was elected chairman of the Susquehanna Valley section of the American Chemical Society in November. Elected as treasurer was Dr. James K. Hummer, Associate Professor of Chemistry.

Mr. Jack C. Buckle, Dean of Students, was elected to the executive committee of The Pennsylvania Association of Student Personnel Administrators at their annual meeting in November.

Mr. David G. Busey, Associate Professor of Physical Education, has been appointed by N. C. A. A. President Robert Roy to represent the N. C. A. A. on the American Association of Health, Physical Education and Health Representative Assembly for a one year term beginning July 15, 1964.

Published . . .

Dr. Eric H. Kadler, Professor of French, with Dr. Bernard P. Flam, Assistant Professor of Spanish, published an article on "Foreign Language Teaching in Other Countries" in the Modern Language Journal.

Dr. Robert H. Byington, Associate Professor of English, has published an article entitled "Popular Beliefs and Superstitions from Pennsylvania" in the Keystone Folklore Quarterly, IX, No. 1 (Spring, 1964). "Powwowing in Pennsylvania" appeared in the Fall issue (IX, No. 3) of the same publication.

Attend Meetings . . .

Dr. W. Arthur Faus, Dr. Neale H. Mucklow, Associate Professors of Philosophy, and Mr. William F. Cooper, Assistant Professor of Philosophy, attended the fall meeting of The Western Pennsylvania Philosophical Society at St. Vincent's College in Latrobe. During the Christmas holidays they attended the annual meeting of the American Philosophical Association in Boston.

Mr. H. Lawrence Swartz, Director of Public Relations, attended the national Consultative Sessions on Religious Broadcasting of The Methodist Church in New York City in December.

Mr. David G. Busey, Associate Professor of Physical Education, attended the Middle Atlantic Conference scheduling meeting and fall athletic directors meeting at Pennsylvania Military College in November. He also attended the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference annual meeting in New York City in December.

Lycoming was well represented at the annual meeting of the Modern Language Association of America held in New York City in December. Attending were Dr. Eric H. Kadler, Professor of French; Dr. Robert H. Byington, Associate Professor of English; Dr. Bernard P. Flam, Assistant Professor of Spanish; Dr. James J. Haydock and Dr. Donald C. Wall, Assistant Professors of English; and Dr. Huou Joui Yu, Assistant Professor of French.

Dr. Eric H. Kadler attended the Pennsylvania State Education Association, Department of Higher Education, annual conference in Harrisburg. He also attended the American Association of Teachers of French meetings in Selinsgrove and in New York City.

Dr. Carrie E. Miller, Associate Professor of Psychology, attended a symposium on Psychology and Religion at Susquehanna University in Selinsgrove. She also went to a seminar in psychology at the Harrisburg State Hospital.

Dr. Robert H. Byington attended the annual meeting of the American Folklore Society in New York City in December.

Mr. Gerald E. Hartdagen and Mr. Richard T. Stites, Assistant Professors of History, attended the American Historical Convention in Washington, D. C. in December.

Mr. Walter G. McIver, Professor of Voice, and Dr. Glen E. Morgan, Assistant Professor of Music, attended the Pennsylvania Music Education Association meetings in Harrisburg in December. Dr. Morgan also attended the College Band Directors National Association meeting in Tempe, Arizona.

Mr. G. Heil Gramley, Registrar, attended the annual meeting of the Middle States Association during the first week in December.

Mr. Leo K. Winston, Assistant Professor of Russian, attended the Pennsylvania State Modern Language Association meeting at Bucknell University and the American Association of Teachers of Slavic and Eastern European Languages at The Pennsylvania State University.

Speaking Engagements . . .

Mr. G. Heil Gramley, Registrar, was the commencement speaker for the Williamsport Hospital nurses on September 3. In October Mr. Gramley addressed a Father-Son banquet.

Dr. Mitchell P. Strohl, Associate Professor of International Relations, spoke to the Williamsport Exchange Club in October concerning the financial problems of the United Nations.

Mr. David G. Busey, Associate Professor of Physical Education, spoke to the Williamsport Kiwanis in September and the Williamsport Rotary in November.

Dr. Carrie E. Miller, Associate Professor of Psychology, participated in a symposium entitled "Roots of Discipline" at the Lose School in Williamsport.

Mr. John W. Chandler, Associate Professor of Art, spoke at the Mill Hall Art Gallery in November on the subject, "Aspects of American Art." Mr. Chandler served as an art consultant for the annual meeting of the teachers in the Milton-Warrior Run and Northumberland area in October.

Dr. Eric H. Kadler, Professor of French, served as consultant at the Lycoming County Teachers' Institute and the meeting of Modern Language Teachers at Milton High School.

Dr. Robert H. Byington, Associate Professor of English, addressed the Jersey Shore chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution at their annual dinner on the subject "Folklore of the West Branch Valley." "Popular Beliefs and Superstitions of Pennsylvania" was his topic when he was the guest speaker at the annual dinner of the Mifflin County Historical Society in Lewistown. In October Dr. Byington served as consultant for the annual institute of the Lycoming County Teachers of English in South Williamsport.

Dr. D. Frederick Wertz, President of the College, was the guest speaker for the all-college worship service the Sunday morning of parents' weekend at Juniata College in Huntingdon.

Mr. R. Andrew Lady, Assistant to the President, was the Layman's Day speaker at the Fairview Methodist Church in Farragut in October.

Mr. David G. Busey was the speaker at the Lake-Lehman High School athletic banquet Saturday, November 21.

Represent Lycoming . . .

Dr. D. Frederick Wertz, President of the College, represented Lycoming at the dedication of St. John's College in Santa Fe, New Mexico on October 10.

Mrs. Mabel K. Bauer, Professor of Chemistry Emeritus, represented Lycoming at the inauguration of Alan Simpson as President of Vassar College on October 16.

Dr. Eric V. Sandin, Professor of English Emeritus, represented Lycoming at the dedication of the senior center at Bowdoin College on October 19. His son-in-law, Professor Whiteside, is the director of the new senior center.

Mr. John W. Chandler, Associate Professor of Art, represented Lycoming at the inauguration of Mayo Bruce as President of Moore College of Art on November 30.

Dr. D. Frederick Wertz represented Lycoming at the inauguration of Charles Wesley Ranson as Dean of the Theological School of Drew University on December 10.

Miscellany . . .

Mr. Gerald E. Hardtgen, Assistant Professor of History, has submitted the final formal copy of his doctoral dissertation to Northwestern University. His final exam and dissertation defense were scheduled during the Christmas holidays.

Mr. G. Heil Gramley, Registrar, attended the I. B. M. school in Philadelphia for a week in October in preparation for the installation of five I. B. M. machines at Lycoming.

BRUMMIE LEAVES LYCOMING

Anyone who worked in the dining hall at Lycoming between 1942 and 1964 knows that Brummie is Mrs. Hazel Brumbaugh, the kindly lady who supervised the student waiters. Last month Brummie retired. Before leaving she was feted at a dinner by the kitchen staff at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Himes. Mr. Himes is business manager of the college. Her fellow workers gave her an electric blanket and a pink sweater; the college gave her a radio.

During the twenty-two years that Brummie worked on the Lycoming food staff, she thoroughly enjoyed her work. "It was a great blessing to be with those young people all those years" she says. Since her former husband, The Rev. Harry Brumbaugh, had served The Methodist Church throughout Pennsylvania in his lifetime, Brummie had come to know many of the Methodist families in his charges. Consequently she knew many of the young men from those families who came to Lycoming and secured waiters' jobs. Those who became ministers often paid her a visit when they returned to campus for conferences.

Brummie worked under four different cafeteria managers and witnessed some of the most dramatic changes that have occurred on campus. When she first arrived the dining facilities had just been moved from the east end of Old Main to Clarke Chapel. Five years ago she was part of the move into the modern dining facilities of the new Student Activities Building. Here the staff fed an average of 835 students nightly in comparison to the 350 to 400 they usually had handled in the Clarke dining room.

Three years ago Brummie was placed in charge of salad making in the kitchen and Mrs. Lupert took over the supervision of the waiters. After a fall, and subsequent back trouble, Brummie decided to retire. She now has returned to her family homestead in Milmont, Pa. where she lives with her two sisters. It's a serene life on a small, remote farm that is "lovely in the summer, but pretty hard to reach in the winter." Brummie plans to relax and spend her time "doing Swedish embroidery and other fancy work."

COLLEGE BOARD MEMBER DIES

On October 16 Horace S. Heim, a member of the Executive Committee of the Board of Directors, died in Doctors Hospital at New York City. Widely known throughout the area as a businessman and civic leader, Mr. Heim was one of the staunchest supporters of Lycoming College. Not only did he rarely miss Board meetings or official functions, but he also came to nearly every cultural affair held on campus. Before his death he had become an active member of the Lycoming Associates, a new development group. President of Lycoming Silica Sand Company and vice president of the Montour Trading Corporation, he also was president of the Montoursville Cemetery Company, a director of the First National Bank of Montoursville, and served on the Montoursville School Board.

Alumni Club News

BUFFALO

A planning meeting by club members was held November 9 at the home of Jim and Pat McNaughton Tallman '57. Those in attendance included Lee Purnell '64 and his wife Alice, Bob and Eleanor Smith Pellman '48, Frances Wood Auffinger, III '50, Elaine Lybolt Morgan '55 and Jean Davies Van Baelen '52. Arrangements were made to join the College choir for dinner Sunday evening, January 24, at Trinity Methodist Church in Buffalo. Some of the alumni are planning to provide overnight accommodations for choir members. Jean is planning to send a letter to area alumni during the holidays giving all of the details including patron sponsorship. If you don't hear from Jean Van Baelen don't hesitate to write to her at 431 Girard Avenue, East Aurora, New York 14052.

HARRISBURG

Nancy and Carlos Jayne '57 invited the planning committee of the Harrisburg club to meet in their home on November 6 to make arrangements for a January dinner. Presiding was Larry Lykens '39. Those on the committee included Nancy '64 and Fred Spanuth '61, Jackie Lou Snyder Nowak '58, Raydel Goldsborough '58, Mary '60 and Dale Bower '59, Bob Zanker '55 and John Grier '59.

It was decided to meet at the Dutch Pantry in Camp Hill Friday evening, January 15, with a reception scheduled for 7:00 and dinner at 7:30. Speaker of the evening will be the Acting Dean of the College, Dr. J. Milton Skeath. Accompanying him will be his wife, the former Dr. Frances Knights.

PITTSBURGH

Henrietta Malone '34 and Mahlon Hurlbert, Jr. '52 are working on the local arrangements for a dinner meeting of the club Monday evening, February 1, 1965. It is expected that dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m. at the Christ Church in Bethel Park. Later that evening the College choir will present a concert to which all alumni are invited. Details will be mailed to all local alumni including the price of the dinner. Other questions can be answered by Mahlon by calling his office GR1-3716.

ROCHESTER

Howard Beach '49, President of the Rochester Club, has been flat on his back since July. His trouble was a ruptured disc which was treated surgically early in November. He now feels well enough to think about a club dinner meeting on Sunday, January 24. The College choir will be singing at East Rochester Methodist Church Sunday morning where Roland Archer '53 is the pastor. Howard hopes to make arrangements to hold the dinner at the Country Club around 1:00 p. m. Although Howard will soon be sending more details, if you are eager to know more about the arrangements drop him a note at 106 N. Country Club Drive, Rochester.

SAN FRANCISCO

A business trip to the West Coast for President Wertz provided an opportunity for two groups of alumni to meet. Alumni in the San Francisco area met at the Golden Gate Room of the Sheraton-Palace Hotel Friday evening, October 2 to visit with President and Mrs. Wertz and get a little better acquainted with each other. Serving as hosts were Paul and Onalee Barton Sabin '62 and Carl Thomas '63. Also enjoying the pie, coffee and fellowship were Mrs. Myles W. Chute '42, Barbara R. Gresh '57, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Maltby '51, Elsie Metzen Crowell '52 and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Sughrue '58, and The Rev. and Mrs. Charles E. Manherz '26.

LOS ANGELES

Less than a week after the San Francisco meeting, President and Mrs. Wertz met with southern California alumni in the Town House Room of the Sheraton-West Hotel Wednesday evening, October 7. Hostesses at that meeting were Mrs. Marilyn Gillette Schiring '58 and Mrs. Martha C. Jensen '62. These were the first Lycoming alumni meetings ever held in California. Enjoying the pie and coffee were Mrs. Mildred Staiman Weisel '39 and her husband, Mrs. Diana Mussina German '55 and her husband, John H. Gibson '22, Mrs. David L. Roberts '35, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Hawkins '57, Richard O. Sensor '36, Dr. and Mrs. Robert M. Mamolen '36 and Miss Minnie McCullough Bridge '95 (who remarked to the President that she was ninety-one years old). Also in attendance were a former faculty member and his family, Dr. Mamoru Iga, Assistant Professor of Sociology 1959-60. Of course the husbands of the hostesses were also present. The fact that some stayed until midnight is indicative of their interest and the intention was expressed that they try to get together again. Most of the alumni there had no idea that Lycoming has more than eighty alumni now residing in southern California.

HOMECOMING '64 WAS;

COLD

But the steaming corn chowder served by Herbert Kane '60 (at right) warmed returning alumni. The Rev. George C. Kramer, Jr. '53 receives a bowl; at center Mr. and Mrs. Oliver E. Harris (she is the former Phyllis Slout '38) enjoy their chowder.

ENTERTAINING

The Kiondaga Dancers performed authentic Indian dances. Some alumni stoically came outside to watch them; others peered from inside the warmth of the Student Activities Building.

ROUSING

Although we lost to Drexel (15-7) the game was exciting and time after time brought the hopeful crowd to its feet.

FROM HERE AND THERE

'64 The marriage of Nancy Fleming Morris '66 to Robert S. Duff took place August 29 in Saint Catherine of Siena Church, Mountain Lakes, New Jersey. Bob is employed by the Travelers Insurance Company. The couple is living in Hartford, Connecticut.

A daughter was born September 9 to Mr. and Mrs. John M. Billhime. The mother is the former Kathleen Whalen.

James R. Stonge has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force upon graduation from Officer Training School at Lackland AFB, Texas. Jim is being assigned to a unit of the United States Air Force in Europe for duty.

The wedding of Kathryn Louise Harris and Paul James Gouddy took place August 29 in Saint Joan of Arc Catholic Church, Hershey, Pennsylvania. Paul is teaching at Northern Joint High School, Dillsburg, Pennsylvania. Robert P. Halley has accepted a teaching position at the South School in Rockland, Maine. He is teaching the fifth grade.

Registered as a medical technologist is Evelyn D. Hunt. She received word from the Board of Registry of Medical Technologists of the American Society of Clinical Pathologists at Muncie, Indiana, that she has passed the registry examination for medical technologists. Evelyn is employed as a medical technologist in the laboratory at the Williamsport Hospital.

The wedding of Lynn Marie Meincke and Donald Burton Reed took place September 12. Don is presently a student in Maxwell Graduate School of Political Science. Lynn is a laboratory technician at the Syracuse University Research Corporation. They are residing in Clay, New York.

Newman Congregational Church, Rumford, R. I., was the setting for the marriage of Anne Christine Ford and Wesley Duane Corle '65. The couple is residing in Williamsport. Anne is employed as a receptionist in the Admissions Office here at Lycoming.

William V. Chase has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force upon graduation from Officer Training School at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas. Bill, selected for OTS through competitive examination, was assigned to an Air Force Systems Command unit at Eglin Air Force Base, Florida, for duty. This unit researches, develops, and tests Air Force planes and missile systems.

Dorothy F. Fisher has started her first year of study at Drew Theological Seminary, Madison, New Jersey and has also been assigned to serve as assistant pastor of The Methodist Church at Smithtown, Long Island.

Attending Miami University in Oxford, Ohio is Michele Ann Boden. She is working in botany as a graduate fellow.

Anne B. Pittinger launched her career as a welfare worker in the public assistance program of the Baltimore City Welfare Department on September 28.

Named national Theta Chi fraternity man of the year, being selected from the social fraternity's 132 chapters throughout the nation, was Michael N. Burr. Mike received the Colley Memorial Trophy, symbolic of distinguished undergraduate service to alma mater, fraternity, and chapter. He is doing graduate work in political science at the University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia.

Married October 3 in the First United Presbyterian Church at Coudersport, Pennsylvania was W. Ann Kline and Wayne A. Hyde. She is a case worker with the department of public assistance. The groom is attending the Williamsport Technical Institute. A member of the National Guard, he is employed by Lycoming Division of Avco Manufacturing Corporation.

Pvt. John S. McNeil recently completed an eight-week advanced infantry course at the U. S. Army Training Center, Fort Gordon, Georgia.

Drue A. Sherman has enrolled in the Theological School at Drew University, Madison, New Jersey. He is beginning a three-year course of theological training for the Christian ministry leading to the bachelor of divinity degree.

The First Presbyterian Church, Middletown, Ohio, was the scene of the wedding of Sharon Lynn Mills to David Robert Shamel, on September 12. The bride is a graduate nurse and David is a sales trainee for International Harvester Co. The couple is residing in Bucyrus, Ohio.

In a double-ring ceremony October 24, Ann Louise Bly became the bride of Thomas Ross Campbell '65. The Rev. L. Paul Neuffer, director of religious activities here at Lycoming, officiated at the candlelight service in Third Street Methodist Church in Williamsport. Ann is a teacher at the Jefferson Elementary School in Williamsport. Tom is now stationed in Hawaii with the United States Army.

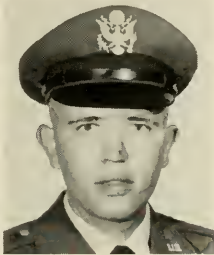

Leslie M. Stuart was elected to teach third grade at Stevens School by the Easton Area Joint School Committee.

Robert J. Markle has a new position as a public accountant for Arthur Andersen and Company. He married Patricia A. Miller on November 28. Patricia is a graduate of the Harrisburg Hospital School of Nursing and is working at the Delaware County Memorial Hospital.

William D. Lewis has begun a three-year course at the Theological School of Drew University, Madison, New Jersey. The course leads to a bachelor of divinity degree.

The wedding of Leslie Anne Robson and Marvin George Freid, Jr. took place August 29 in Covenant Methodist Church, Springfield, Pa. The couple is residing temporarily in Putnam Valley, New York, after a wedding trip to Jamaica.

Jean Cecelia Kreikle became the bride of Ronald Neil Fiske on September 5 at Immaculate Conception Church, Syracuse, New York. The bride, a graduate of Villa Maria College, Erie, Pa.,

James R. Stonge

William V. Chase

Mr. and Mrs. T. Campbell

is teaching at North Collins Central School, Erie County. Ron is employed by the Manufacturers and Traders Company in Buffalo, New York. The couple is residing in Hamburg, New York.

The 1964 issue of THE ARROW has been awarded second place in the 30th annual yearbook critique and contest conducted by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association at Columbia University. Editor of the annual was Bertram Longbotham. Bert is currently teaching in Ballston Spa, New York. Out of a possible 1000 points, THE ARROW scored 810. The first place winner received 850 points.

'63 A daughter, Amy Adams, was born September 6 to Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Tepel. The mother is the former Susan Timmerman Fagan.

A ceremony performed at Covenant Methodist Church, August 29 in Springfield, Pennsylvania united in marriage Leslie Anne Robson '64 and Marvin George Freid. Alumni members of the wedding included Carol Irwin '64, R. Carla Higdon '64, and Lynn Meincke '64. After their wedding trip to Jamaica the couple is living in Putnam Valley, Pennsylvania.

Thomas A. Paternostro has accepted a position as an elementary teacher at Campbell, New York.

United in marriage on September 12 was Sylvia M. Starr and Robert J. Sarno. The wedding took place in the rectory of Saint Boniface Church in Williamsport. Sylvia is a teacher in Sidney, New York. Bob is attending the University of Richmond at the T. C. Williams Law School.

Lawrence L. Verdekal represented Lycoming at the inauguration of The Rev. Lane Dixon Kilburn, C.S.C., as president of King's College on October 21.

Representing Lycoming at the inauguration of Ralph Gordon Hoxie as Chancellor of Long Island University, Brookville, Long Island, New York, on October 9 was Sandra J. Hopf. Sandra wrote that it was a new and interesting experience for her and she sincerely enjoyed it.

The marriage of Donna Therese Kennedy and William LeRoy Landis took place Saturday, October 17, in St. Martin of Tours Church, Cheviot, Ohio. They are residing at Chatellerault, France after a wedding trip to New York, London, and Paris. The bride, a graduate of Our Lady of Cincinnati College, is a teacher of civilian personnel with the U. S. Army. Bill is with the Army's accounting division.

Brian J. McHugh is among forty-six graduate students from thirty colleges and universities across the country who are currently studying under scholarships, fellowships and departmental assistantships this year at Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pennsylvania. Brian is married to the former Maryellen McMahon '64.

Connecticut Farms Presbyterian Church, Elizabeth, New York was the scene of the marriage of Dolores Ann Wheeler and Jack K. Lingenfelter. The bride is a graduate of Berkeley School, East Orange, New Jersey. Jack is a lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force stationed at Fort Lee, Virginia.

Margery Ann Schrader and Daniel Charles Wurster were married on October 31. Margery's maid of honor was Hilda Scott. Margery is a physical therapist at Burdette Tomlin Hospital in Cape May Courthouse, New Jersey. Dan is an ensign in the U. S. Coast Guard.

'62 David H. Karchner, a tax specialist in the Hartford, Connecticut office of Arthur Anderson and Company, recently passed the certified public accountants' examination. Dave and his wife, the former Clare M. Bogle, are parents of three children, Teresa, six, David, four, and John, three.

Receiving his master of education degree at the commencement held August 5 at The Pennsylvania State University, was David R. Anderson. Dave is married to the former Brenda Kazamek '64.

A daughter, Holly Ann, was born August 29 to Mr. and Mrs. G. Grant Jones. The mother is the former Margaret A. Peddicord. Holly Ann joins a brother, Gregory Grant, two.

A daughter was born October 10 to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lay. Mrs. Lay is the former Barbara Lee Owens.

The wedding of Andrea Belle Phillips and Neal Charles Kofman took place Friday, October 9 at The Hilton Hotel in Pittsburgh. The bride is a graduate of Penn State. Charlie is serving as an ensign with the U. S. Navy. They are residing at Virginia Beach, Virginia.

Saint Ann's Church in Hornell, New York was the scene of the marriage of Sharon Ann Grillo to Thomas Robert Clifford on October 3. After a wedding trip to Jamaica, West Indies, the couple is residing in Rochester. The bride was graduated from Nazareth College of Rochester and is employed at Security Trust Company. Tom is self employed.

Pvt. Joseph A. Collins has completed an eight-week personnel administration specialist course at the Army Armor Center at Fort Knox, Kentucky.

'61 Opportunity often must be sought to be recognized. George C. Roush, of Bloomfield, New Jersey is a pointed example of that fact. The advent of automation and a dead-end position caused George many moments of concern as he looked to the future. After his graduation from Lycoming he went on to earn his master's degree at Syracuse University. He is now assistant professor of business administration at Bloomfield College. He is working at Rutgers University for another advanced degree. At the same time, he visits and corresponds frequently with union, business, and government executives to keep abreast of current developments in these fields. Mrs. Roush, the former Mary J. Huffman, is a secretary in the public relations office at Bloomfield College.

The marriage of Judy Carol Yeagle and William S. McCormick took place August 29 in the Watsonstown Methodist Church, Watsonstown, Pa. After a wedding trip to Canada and New York the couple is residing in Williamsport. Judy is employed in the office of Dr. Robert Yasui. The groom is employed by Piper Aircraft Corp. in Lock Haven, Pennsylvania.

Morris I. Leader was appointed director of field service of the Pennsylvania Savings and Loan League. He joins the staff of the trade association after three years with the Army Security Agency.

We received a letter from the former Carol Ann Mishler telling us of her marriage on August 22 to Kenneth R. Barrett. Carol is a private secretary at Armstrong Cork Company, Lancaster, Pennsylvania. Her husband, a graduate of Millersville State Teachers College, is an English teacher at J. P. McCaskey High School in Lancaster. They are residing in Lancaster.

Faxon-Kennar Methodist Church, Williamsport, Pennsylvania was the setting for the marriage of Constance Elaine Cupp to Charles Manson Plankenhorn on October 10. Upon returning from their wedding trip, they are residing in Williamsport. Connie is a legal secretary for Don L. Larrabee '23 and Clinton W. Smith '55. Her husband is a graduate of Pennsylvania State University and is assistant manager of the Plankenhorn Stationery Company.

A son, Daniel, was born October 3 to Mr. and Mrs. George V. Kirschner. They also have another son, Michael, two, Mrs. Kirschner is the former Polly M. Polinko.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Blair W. Thomas on October 3. The mother is the former Carolyn Moday.

'60 John D. Hoffman received his master of education degree in educational administration from The Pennsylvania State University at the commencement ceremonies held September 5.

The Ohio Bell Telephone Company has promoted William Bruce Jones to plant chief of their Zanesville, Ohio office. Bill is married to the former Barbara Robinson. They have two children.

In her third year as director of the Fun With a Purpose Club, Ann McKelvey is working toward a certificate in special education at Mankato State College, Minnesota.

After four years of teaching in Elmira, New York, Shirley A. Ostrander decided to go to France where she is working and taking courses in French and French literature. She tells us that the "city of lights" is a wonderful place in which to live.

A husband and wife with mutual interests in the educational field have been awarded one-year fellowships. Mr. and Mrs. Leo M. Snowiss began studies in Washington this September. Leo has been awarded a Brookings Institution Research Fellowship for governmental studies and his wife is studying constitutional law and decisions of Justice Douglas under an American Association of University Women Fellowship.

'59 Maurice J. Mootgat received his master of arts degree in mathematics from The Pennsylvania State University on September 5. He is married to the former Suzanne Gonzalez.

Receiving his master of education degree in counselor education at The Pennsylvania State University on September 5 was Robert J. Glunk. Bob is married to the former Claramae Cohick.

Donald E. Zeigler received the master of education degree in educational administration at The Pennsylvania State University Commencement on September 5. He is married to the former Carol Mouser.

Raymond C. Miller was recently appointed supervisor in the valuation department at the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company, Spring, Massachusetts.

We received a letter from John C. Boettger, Jr. He tells us he is now the Director of Personnel for the Allen Organ Company in Macungie, Pennsylvania. He is also working toward his M.B.A. at Lehigh University. John is married to the former Lynn Hoosier and they have one son, John III, born September 10, 1963.

One of the new teachers at Lemont Elementary School, State College, Pennsylvania is Charles F. Bonadio. Charlie has a master's degree from The Pennsylvania State University and taught social studies at Cleary Junior High School, Minotola, New Jersey.

James D. Holman has joined the pharmaceutical company Abbott Laboratories as a sales representative in Sunbury, Pennsylvania. He is married to the former Jane A. Dougherty. They are the parents of a daughter, July Ann, four.

A daughter, Stacey Lynn, was born October 11 to Mr. and Mrs. Barr S. Morris. The mother is the former Margie McComas.

Representing Lycoming at the inauguration of John Frederick Olson as president of Oklahoma City University on December 2 was Allen L. Morehart.

Edward M. Allison represented Lycoming at the inauguration of Seymour Eskow as President of Rockland Community College, Suffern, New York on October 11.

'58 Robert E. McManigal, secretary of the Loyalsock Township School District, was notified of his re-appointment to the legislative council of the Pennsylvania School Board Association. Bob attended the group's annual convention in Pittsburgh in November.

In a nation-wide fund-raising project, four members of the Greater Williamsport Junior Chamber of Commerce were runners who carried a "torch" of money as part of a cross-country marathon to benefit the United States Olympic Team. One of the four, James R. Maiolo, is the president of the Williamsport Jaycees.

The marriage of Ellen R. Ghaspey and Lt. Willis W. Willard, III took place on July 25 in Haddon Heights Presbyterian Church, Haddon Heights, New Jersey. The couple is residing on the grounds of the Naval Home in Philadelphia. Willis serves at the Navy Hospital.

Jackie Snyder Nowak was recently elected to the board of directors of the Cumberland County unit of the American Cancer Society. She was selected as one of two delegates to the annual state meeting of the Pennsylvania division.

Richard L. Byerly has been selected principal of Beaver Creek Elementary School at Downingtown, Pennsylvania. Dick received his master's degree from Bucknell University.

The marriage of Carol A. Jones to George B. Lacsiskey took place October 17 in Washington Memorial Chapel, Valley Forge, Pennsylvania. Following a wedding trip to the Poconos the couple is residing in Camden, New Jersey.

'57 Max E. Ameigh received his master of education degree on September 5 from The Pennsylvania State University. Max is married to the former Edythe Sheriff. He is an art supervisor at the Jersey Shore Area Joint Schools.

A daughter was born August 27 to Dr. and Mrs. Clifford O. Smith '59. The mother is the former Arlene V. Hiesel.

A wedding ceremony August 17 united in marriage Shirley Ida Harbach and William Ronald Renninger. The bride is employed by Crit Publishing Company. Bill is an employee of the Charles M. Noll funeral home.

We have been informed of a new arrival at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Kelts. Arthur David arrived on October 3. The Kelts also have a daughter, Kathleen Ann, three. Mrs. Kelts is the former Sylvia Rakoczi.

'56 At The University of Pennsylvania Commencement on September 5 Henry L. Long received the degree master of education.

Paul S. Rupert received the master of education degree in art education from The Pennsylvania State University on September 5.

Eleven new faculty members have been appointed at Wesley College, Dover, Delaware, one of which is Lon M. Fluman, Jr., formerly an art teacher and supervisor in the Montgomery, Pennsylvania area schools. Lon was appointed departmental chairman in art. One of the evening courses in art which was offered was so popular they had to increase the evening class and now have two—both filled to capacity.

E. LaRue Junt recently joined the national staff of the American Cancer Society and has been assigned to the Pennsylvania division of the ACS for orientation and training.

June E. Seiler became the bride of Richard R. Carducci on September 11. The ceremony was performed in the Church of the Nazarene at Millifinburg, Pennsylvania. The couple is residing in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania after a wedding trip to the Poconos.

The big noise around the Stewart household is John Mark who made his arrival on May 25. The Rev. and Mrs. Vaughn E. Stewart have two other sons, Dale, seven, and Peter, five. Mrs. Stewart is the former Barbara Spuyt.

James F. Edgeworth represented Lycoming at the inauguration of William Travers Jerome III as the sixth president of the Bowling Green State University on September 16.

A daughter, Allison Marie, was born October 25 to Mr. and Mrs. David Z. Richards. The mother is the former Maryann M. Apple. Allison joins a brother David, four and sister Kelly, two.

55 A daughter was born October 8 to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Maiolo. The mother is the former Barbara Montague.

We received a letter from Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ratcliff informing us of a new arrival at their household on July 15. A son, Gary Craig, now joins Nanette Lynn, two, and Ralph Lee, three. Mrs. Ratcliff is the former Marjorie Ann Steel.

Harold P. Neff has been named assistant director of environmental health research at Spencer Heater Division of Avco. Harold received his master's degree from the Department of Sanitary Engineering at the University of North Carolina. He has been employed by the Pennsylvania Department of Health. He is married to the former H. Joanne Miller.

Representing Lycoming at the inauguration of Gordon E. Hermanson as President of Davis and Elkins College on October 21 was Robert L. Morris. Bob tells us that he and his wife, Ruth, have adopted a three-month old little girl. She has been named Karen Sue.

54 A son, Michael Arthur, was born August 2 to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mitchell. Mrs. Mitchell is the former Elizabeth A. Geen. They also have a son, Kevin McCormac.

53 The appointment of Gerald H. Rolfe as manager of insurance has been announced by Oxford Paper Company Treasurer B. Frederick Ayer. In his new assignment Gerry is responsible for negotiating contracts for all insurance coverage requirements of Oxford and its subsidiary companies. He will also assist the Industrial Relations Department in developing employee benefits programs and claims administration and will handle special assignments for the treasurer. A resident of Norwalk, Connecticut, Gerry joined Oxford in 1963 as assistant insurance manager after previous experience in accounting and tax positions with Price Waterhouse & Co. and First National Real Estate Trust.

52 A daughter was born September 17 to Mr. and Mrs. Albert G. Cooper. The mother is the former Marjory Jean Whiteley.

LaVern Fidcoe informs us that he is attending the School of Public Health at the University of North Carolina. He has been granted a three-year leave for study by the Pennsylvania Department of Health. Vern is married to the former Freda Corson. They are the parents of five children, Susan, Stephen, Peter, Patricia, and Michael.

Announcement was made of the marriage of Anne E. Palmer to Robert M. Jayson on September 19. The groom is a graduate of New York University.

Harry J. Canon represented Lycoming at the inauguration of Marion Carey Brewer as President of Lynchburg College on October 17.

Representing Lycoming at the inauguration of Robert Harry Spiro as President of Jacksonville University on November 20 was Harvey A. Hartman.

Lycoming was represented at the inauguration of the Very Rev. William L. Reilly, S.J. as President of LeMoynes College, Syracuse, New York on November 10 by Joseph L. Wool.

51 This season Harry Woolever commutes between New York and Rio de Janeiro. He is there now restaging Bob Fosse's choreography for "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying" at the Teatro Carlos Gomez, where he previously directed "My Fair Lady." He was in the Broadway production of "My Fair Lady" for five years, finally becoming its dance captain.

Robert W. Long has been appointed assistant vice-president in the investment department of the New York Life Insurance Company. Following his graduation from Lycoming, Bob earned a master's degree at New York University. He joined New York Life in 1955. He and his wife, Patricia, have two daughters.

50 The transfer of the Rev. Forest R. Stonge from Grace Methodist Church in Williamsport to Mount Carmel, Pennsylvania, was announced recently. Forest had been at Grace Methodist for the past six years. He and his wife, the former Doris Berry, are the parents of three children.

Benjamin F. Thompson has been elected to membership in Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic society. Ben is a member of the journalism faculty of California State Polytechnic College in Pomona.

Richard A. Dickson and his family have moved into a new house in Orinda, California. Dick is now employed as public relations representative for Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Corporation. He handles publicity and public relations for the Foil and Container Division. The Dicksons have also had an addition to their family—Deirdre joined them in July. Dick and his wife, the former Nell Campbell, have two other daughters, Debbie, six, and Diane, five.

Jacqueline Brouse Griggs is now enrolled as a student in the elementary curriculum at Lycoming. She plans to complete her student teaching in the Williamsport area by the end of the second semester. Jackie was graduated with an A.B. degree in psychology.

Assistant professor Harold E. Barto was guest speaker in late October at a meeting of the Ocean County Chapter of B'nai B'rith Young Adults in Lakewood, New Jersey. The presidential election was the topic of discussion. Harold is a history teacher at Monmouth College. Following his graduation from Lycoming he earned a master's degree at Columbia University. Before being hired by Monmouth ten years ago he was the assistant budget director for Cities Service Oil Company. He belongs to the American Scholars, American Historical Association and the Mississippi Valley Historical Association. He and his wife, the former Virginia G. Herlt '50, live with their two children in Holmdel Township near Toms River, New Jersey.

49 John W. Williamson, Jr. has been appointed principal of the high school at Beacon, New York. He will direct a staff of sixty-five teachers and coordinators for the educational program of approximately 1300 students in grades seven through twelve. Mrs. Williamson is the former Miriam Gingrich. They have a daughter, Marianne.

48 A son, Michael Kevin, was born September 10 to Mr. and Mrs. John H. Lewis.

47 The marriage of Donna Louise Osler and Willets Gilmore Ellison took place October 24. The couple is residing in Montoursville, Pennsylvania, since their wedding trip to the New England States. The bride is a teller at the First National Bank of Montoursville. Willie is employed by Carchoe's Food Center, Williamsport.

Albert L. Shaeffer has been named vice-president of the Union Bank and Trust Company of Eastern Pennsylvania. Formerly Al was assistant vice-president. He is currently enrolled in the Graduate School of Credit and Financial Management at Dartmouth College. Al is married to the former Gertrude Peters Sommers '60. The Shaeffers live in Bethlehem, Pa.

'46 Otto L. Sonder, Jr. received the doctor of education degree from The Pennsylvania State University on September 5. Otto is associate professor of sociology and anthropology here at Lycoming.

'45 Dr. George D. Wolf successfully defended his singles title in the Woolrich Tennis Tournament. George, who is now a professor at Lock Haven State College, also teamed with Bob Gleichert to take the tournament doubles crown.

'43 A Williamsport attorney and member of the State Liquor Control Board has been appointed to the board of managers of the Williamsport Hospital. Dean R. Fisher was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Sen. John C. Snowden. Dean's appointment will be through June, 1968. He is married to the former Joanne Bodle.

Miriam McAllister Lundgren, director of nursing at Methodist Hospital, Haddonfield, New Jersey, was ordained as a deacon of the New Jersey Conference of The Methodist Church. She is the first woman deacon in the history of the conference. Miriam will not be assigned to any specific church. She will continue with her hospital job. She is also presently enrolled in the masters program at Temple University in educational administration. She and her husband, William, are parents of two children, Pete, 17, and Hope, 14.

'41 Margaret Fowler Lander had no idea that her trip to the New York World's Fair would include rescuing a family of fair-goers from the chilling Oswego River. Margaret, her husband Raymond A. Lander, Jr. and their two older children Tom, 14, and Susan, 13, first made news when they guided their cabin cruiser "Ray Mar II" away from the Rochester Yacht Club into Lake Ontario, along the Barge Canal, through Oneida Lake, down the Hudson River and the Harlem River to their boat reservation at the World's Fair Marina in Flushing Bay, Long Island. They really hit the headlines when they helped rescue a Jamesville family of five whose cruiser had sunk in the Barge Canal. The Landers themselves experienced a storm, a leaking exhaust muffler, and stretches of choppy water on the 400-mile waterway trip. Throughout the ten days travel and the five days at the fair the boat served as the Landers' hotel, or as Margaret Lander calls it, "our floating cottage."

Raymond H. Wilson was elected a member of the General Board of Publications of The Methodist Church.

'38 John B. Willmann represented Lycoming at the one hundred and seventy-fifth anniversary and the inauguration of Gerard John Campbell, S.J., as the forty-fourth president of Georgetown University on December 3. Jack is real estate editor of The Washington Post. Recently he was awarded a first place citation by the National Association of Real Estate Editors for his urban renewal feature entitled "A Walk In The Southwest."

'37 Dr. Howard T. Brinton recently returned from Elizabethville in the Republic of the Congo, to the United States. His family has resided in Williamsport for the last year. Howard has served periodically in the Congo since 1946. Serving under the board of missions in New York City, he left October 1 on an assignment through the southern states, speaking to church groups.

Representing Lycoming at the inauguration of the Very Reverend Joseph Anthony Sellinger, S.J., as President of Loyola College on November 12 was W. Gibbs McKenney.

'24 Dr. Victor B. Hann, superintendent of the Methodist Home for Children, Mechanicsburg, Pennsylvania, was the main speaker at the 71st annual convention of the Lycoming County Sabbath School Association. Vic was active in the youth department of the county association before entering the ministry. He also represented Lycoming at the inauguration of D. Ray Hostetter as President of Messiah College on October 24 at Grantham, Pennsylvania.

'23 The Rev. P. Gordon Gould, first native of Alaska to become an ordained Methodist minister, preached recently at the Pine Street Methodist Church. He is in charge of promotion for the Alaska Methodist University.

'17 Representing Lycoming College at the anniversary convocation of Bloomsburg State College, Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania, was Donald G. Remley. Mr. Remley said it was a very impressive ceremony.

'16 A sixty-eight-acre farm located on a hill overlooking Fox Hollow Road, Williamsport, Pennsylvania, became inoperative when Harry W. Morgan retired from farming this past autumn. Harry first retired in 1960 after thirty-seven years as a rural mail carrier. Since then he has spent almost every day at the farm, tending to various chores. He is what you might call a commuting farmer, for while his farm is near the city limits, he and his wife, Miriam, live at 2424 Grand Street, about a mile away. Harry, who was 70 his last birthday, said he has worked the farm since he was a youth. Harry and his wife also observed their fortieth wedding anniversary this year. Mrs. Morgan is the former Miriam C. Evans. They are the parents of two sons and a daughter and ten grandchildren.

'10 "I'm more familiarly known as Hix but when a student at Dickinson Seminary I was Mildred Todd, a minute and also unnoticed member of the class of 1910." She is also Mrs. T. M. B., Hicks, Jr., associate editor of The Dallas Post in Dallas, Pa., who won The Golden Quill, highest award given by the International Conference of Weekly Newspaper Editors. She won The Golden Quill in an editorial contest, in which 80,000 editorials were considered, for writing in December of 1963 "The Living Flame," a reflection upon the mood and significance of the state funeral of John Fitzgerald Kennedy. The award was presented on July 16, 1964 at Southern Illinois University. Hix has won many writing contests and is author of many editorials widely distributed. In 1952 she was named Pennsylv-vania Newspaper Woman of the Year. She has been writing for more years than she likes to remember, twenty-two of them as author of the pithy column "Pillar to Post." For a time she wrote "Pillar to Post" from her home in Kingston and in 1950 she joined the staff of The Dallas Post.

Mrs. T. M. B. Hicks, Jr.

'97 Jesse S. Bell, who is a guest at the Presbyterian Home, St. Petersburg, Florida, observed his eighty-ninth birthday on November 10. Jesse, a partner in the Bell Agency, a real estate firm, has been residing in Florida for nearly two years. He founded the agency in 1909.

'82 On November 11, Miss L. Minnie Hursh, our oldest living alumna, celebrated her 102nd birthday. Miss Hursh received her diploma from Dickinson Seminary. Now a resident of Hershey, she is a retired Harrisburg school teacher. She was salutatorian of the eighth class to graduate from the Harrisburg High School.

DEATHS

1892—Anne Blanche Slate died November 23. Her sister, Martha V. Slate '11 died on September 22. Anne was well known for her active interest in The Methodist Church. She was sent to Japan at the turn of the century by the Board of Missions of The Methodist Church. She lived in Yokohama where for twenty-one years she supervised kindergarten and trained women to teach the Bible and to carry on evangelistic work in the district. She returned to the United States in 1923 shortly before the earthquake disaster of that year in Japan. After that disaster Anne made many public appearances on behalf of the stricken Japanese people to collect funds for their relief. She was ninety-one at the time of her death.

1905—Blanche Applegate.

1907—The Rev. William W. Banks, a director emeritus of Lycoming College, died on October 26. Formerly pastor of Methodist churches in Williamsport and Jersey Shore, he served the Central Pennsylvania Conference for sixty years before his retirement in 1952. He served on the Board of Directors of the college from 1949 to 1958.

1911—Martha Virginia Slate, 72, operator of a kindergarten in her home, died Tuesday, September 22. She was active in community and church affairs and lived her entire life in the family homestead. She was born March 24, 1892.

1925—Sarah Eleanor Rohrer.

1931—Dr. Millard F. Squires died on August 9. He was 58. He had been a member of the board of directors of the First National Bank of Wilmington, Delaware. He was also a football physician for his local high school. He is survived by three children, one sister, and three grandchildren.

1931—William H. Taylor.

1935—Bruner B. Potter died on June 23. He resided in Harrington Park, New Jersey.

1936—Mrs. Charles A. Faris died very suddenly on September 23. She was a member of the board of directors of the Presbyterian Church and a president of the Centre County Society for Crippled Children and Adults. She was born January 31, 1917. She is survived by her husband and five children. She was the former Robennette Rogers.

1962—Eugene P. Hickey died following an automobile accident in September.

Lyco Lytes

Lycoming College received a $1,000 grant last month from The Sears-Roebuck Foundation and a $3,000 grant from the Esso Education Foundation.

The Committee on Professional and Occupational Affairs of the Pennsylvania Real Estate Commission has authorized Lycoming to give credit applicable to a Pennsylvania real estate broker's license to its students. In an effort to professionalize the real estate business the state requires that a certain number of credits be earned by prospective brokers in formal real estate courses at an approved institution. Currently there is a sizable enrollment in the evening school real estate course taught by Charles E. Townsend, Assistant Professor of Business Administration.

Leo K. Winston, Assistant Professor of Russian, was startled last month to discover Williamsport in the pages of Pravda, the Soviet daily newspaper published in Moscow. While reading the November 2nd issue he discovered on Page 3 an article entitled "Report from Pennsylvania." Reading further he learned it was a special report from a Pravda correspondent who travelled throughout Pennsylvania on election eve interviewing Americans on their views of the current political issues.

The Placement Office now has a full-time secretary, Mrs. Maxine Everett, who is located on the second floor of Old Main. Jack C. Buckle, Dean of Students, has assumed the duties of director of placement along with his other responsibilities. With the addition of a placement secretary, more comprehensive service is available to students in finding part-time employment as well as arranging interviews prior to full-time employment for seniors. Eventually, the Placement Office intends to offer vocational counseling services to all students at all levels. This will include testing of a limited nature. Information regarding graduate study opportunities, including the establishment of a library of graduate school catalogues and announcements of assistantships, scholarships, and work opportunities are also available in the Placement Office.

Students for Human Rights Everywhere, a new campus group, has been organized at Lycoming. SHARE, as it will be called, will be a local student group dedicated to the cause of human rights, and willing to work to promote that cause. The members of SHARE plan to work on local projects such as voter registration, tutorial sessions, housing needs surveys, and to educate themselves and others on world problems.

Lycoming Commemorates SHAKESPEARE

LYCOMING COLLEGE joins theater-lovers the world over in commemorating the four hundredth anniversary of William Shakespeare's birth. A number of activities have been held on campus in conjunction with the quadricentennial. The most exciting is yet to come. On March 19th the Artist and Lecture Series will bring to Lycoming the National Players Touring Company production of HAMLET, "the most personal and yet the most universal of Shakespeare's works." Playing the lead roles of Hamlet and Ophelia will be Richard Bauer and Halo Wines. The Touring Company of National Players has become the foremost national classical repertory company in America.

Last summer a film series of Shakespeare's plays was opened to the public as the first quadricentennial event. HAMLET, HENRY IV, ROMEO AND JULIET, MACBETH, and RICHARD III were shown. On campus to instruct Someone and Elizabeth R. Helmhold as Hamlet and Ophelia in 1902.

Richard Bauer and Halo Wines as Hamlet and Ophelia in 1964.

summer school students was Shakespeare specialist Dr. Theodore S. Adams, a member of the faculty of the State University of New York at Albany.

Last month two members of Lycoming's English Department, Dr. James J. Haydock and Dr. John A. Stuart, lectured in the public library as part of a film series on HAMLET sponsored by the Junior League of Williamsport Inc. Dr. Glen E. Morgan, from our Music Department, last month on his weekly Sunday evening radio program paid a musical tribute to Shakespeare by playing recordings of music from Shakespeare's time and music inspired by his artistry.

For the interest of alumni in particular we include on this page (at left) a 1902 photograph taken at the only campus production on record of HAMLET. We have no idea who played the Prince of Denmark, but his Ophelia pictured here, is Elizabeth R. Helmhold.

THE WIND ENSEMBLE WILL TOUR IN FOUR STATES

The Lycoming College Chamber Wind Ensemble will tour through Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, and Vermont for ten days between the fall and spring semesters. The Ensemble plays throughout the college term on campus and in nearby communities. Last year's tour included special performances at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Perry Point, Maryland and at Bainbridge Naval Training Center in Bainbridge, Maryland. Their repertoire includes serious band music, marches, popular tunes, musical comedy medleys, and specialty numbers. On the 1964 closing day of the New York World's Fair, the Ensemble played an hour-long concert in the Tiparillo Pavillion. The enthusiastic audience response led Fair officials to invite the ensemble to play a return concert at the Fair in 1965.

The Ensemble is directed by Dr. Glen E. Morgan, Assistant Professor of Music.

WIND ENSEMBLE TOUR ITINERARY

Date	City and Place	Time
January 23	Ridgway, Pa. High School	evening
January 24	Clearfield, Pa. The Methodist Church West Side Methodist Church	afternoon
January 25	Philipsburg, Pa. High School	evening morning
January 26	Port Alleghany, Pa. Rotary Club (High School) Erie, Pa.	evening evening
January 27	Methodist Church Lawrence Park, Pa. High School	morning
January 28	Fulton, N. Y. Music Chbs (High School) Ilion, N. Y. High School	evening morning
January 29	Poultney, Vt. Green Mountain (College) Methodist Church Stowe, Vt.	evening afternoon
January 30	Stowe Prep School-Stowe High School Montpelier, Vt. High School	evening
January 31	Springfield, Vt. Band Festival (High School)	all day
February 1	Morristown, N. J. The Morristown Methodist Church	evening
February 1	Ridgewood, N. J. Benjamin Franklin Junior High School	morning
	Lehighton, Pa. High School	afternoon
	Turbotville, Pa. High School	evening

THE CHOIR WILL MAKE FIRST WESTERN TRIP

After a number of trips through New England, the East, and the South, the Lycoming Choir will for the first time head west. Like the Chamber Wind Ensemble, they have had a busy year, and will appear May 1st in a concert at the New York World's Fair. Last month music sung by the Lycoming Choir was heard several Sundays on the National Broadcasting Company's radio program, "Great Choirs of America." "Oh, Susanna," "Lonesome Valley," "He's Gone Away," "Cousin Jedediah" and "Go 'Way From My Window" were the tunes NBC chose from the new choir album to play. In March members from the choir will provide choral music for the musical "Little Mary Sunshine" to be presented by the Lycoming College Players. Professor Walter G. McIver directs the choir.

CHOIR TOUR ITINERARY

Date	City and Place	Time
January 23	Auburn, N. Y. First Methodist Church	evening
January 24	East Rochester, N. Y. The Methodist Church Buffalo, N. Y. Trinity Methodist Church Chelsea, Mich.	morning evening
January 26	First Methodist Church Wauwatosa, Wis.	evening
January 27	The Methodist Church Lockport, Ill.	evening
January 28	Lockport High School Goshen, Ind. First Methodist Church South Bend, Ind.	morning evening
January 29	First Methodist Church Lima, Ohio Epworth Methodist Church Defiance, Ohio	evening
January 30	St. Paul's Methodist Church Cleveland, Ohio Lakewood Methodist Church	morning evening
January 31	Pittsburgh, Pa. Christ Methodist Church Hollidaysburg, Pa. Hollidaysburg High School Tyrone, Pa. First Methodist Church	evening afternoon evening

Great Day

Lycoming Choir's Exuberant New Album Is Here

ORDER YOURS NOW

In GREAT DAY, the forty voices of the Lycoming Choir directed by Walter G. Melver sing folk and spiritual favorites such as: "Go Way From My Window," "Lonesome Valley," "Amen!" and "Great Day." They were recorded in the sanctuary of Pine Street Methodist Church in Williamsport by Helffrich Recording Labs of Bethlehem, Pa.

The albums are reasonably priced at $2.98 for the monaural and $3.98 for the stereo records. Return the coupon below and the alumni office will be pleased to send records to you. Please enclose an additional 15c to cover the cost of postage.

ALUMNI OFFICE
LYCOMING COLLEGE
Williamsport, Penna.

Date

Please send

Monaural record album(s) @ $2.98

Stereophonic record album(s) @ $3.98

To: Name

Class

Address

City

State

I have enclosed a check or money order, payable to Lycoming College.

LYCOMING COLLEGE
WILLIAMSPORT, PA. 17704
RETURN REQUESTED