Physical education center almost completed

Lycoming College's new $3.2 million Physical Education and Recreation Center is almost a dream come true.

At the beginning of June, less than a month of finishing work remained to be completed, according to a spokesman for Bloom Penn Contractors, Inc., of Bloomsburg. Most of that work involved laying carpeting in the offices, installing benches in the locker rooms and light fixtures throughout the building, hanging doors, erecting bleachers and assembling basketball backboards in the gymnasium and laying a few more square feet of sidewalk outside the main entrance.

Woodwork, cabinets and trophy cases have been hung, as have most of the drop ceilings. Although some tile must be laid and hardware installed, most of the swimming pool work is completed.

Lockers have been installed in the locker rooms. Showers have been connected and need only to be turned on. The gymnasium floor has been laid and needs only to be finished.

From the outside, the phys-ed center is complete, except for the pouring of the main entrance sidewalk. Grass has been planted. Landscaping has been completed.

Completion of the new center is well ahead of schedule. The original timetable called for a mid to late summer, not an early summer, completion. As could be expected, the almost-completed center is drawing a considerable amount of attention from faculty and staff members, the community and campus visitors. It is not unusual to find people wandering around outside the building or strolling into the main vestibule or entrance lobby for a quick look.

The Partners in Progress Fund Drive has raised almost $2.2 million toward the cost of the structure, which will be opened for the fall semester. Official opening or dedication ceremony dates have not yet been set.

Because the Lycoming College Report is not published in July or August, the next issue will reach you in September. Some changes will be made to the Report in an effort to improve it. Of course, your suggestions are always welcome.

Until September, have a good summer.

Some tile still needed to be laid and hardware had to be installed, but the swimming pool was almost finished at the beginning of June.

Bleachers for the new gymnasium arrived about a week after this photograph was taken. Note the basketball backboard supports hanging from the ceiling.

Meet trustees

Sabin

Onalee R. Sabin, of Elmira, N. Y., has been a member of the board of trustees since 1978. She is director of undergraduate evening programs at Elmira College.

Mrs. Sabin was graduated from Lycoming College in 1962. She earned a master's degree in education from the State University College of Buffalo in 1971.

Mrs. Sabin has taught mathematics in Ohio, California and New York. Prior to her present position, she was administrative assistant to the director of Watson Homestead.

The native of Jersey Shore, Pa., is the daughter of Luther K. and Estella E. Barton.

Hershberger

Harold D. Hershberger, Jr., of Williamsport, has been a member of the Lycoming College board of trustees since 1978. He is a senior trust officer and senior vice president at Northern Central Bank of Williamsport.

Hershberger has been with Northern Central since 1956. He was graduated from Bucknell University in Lewisburg in 1954 and the Stonier Graduate School of Banking in 1966.

At Northern Central, the 47-year-old trustee has held numerous positions in the trust department. He has been a senior vice president since 1975, and a senior trust officer since 1971.

Campus Notes

MEL ZIMMERMAN, a member of the biology department, has been informed that his paper, "The Nutritional Dynamics of the Burrowing Mayfly, Hexagenia limbata," will be published in Advances in Ephemeroptera Biology--the proceedings of the Third International Conference on Ephemeroptera. He also has been invited to present a workshop at the second annual meeting of the Association for Biology Laboratory Educators. It will be held at Urbana, Ill., in June and deal with "The Mechanical Analysis of Vertebrate Skeletal Systems."

STAN WILK, a member of the sociology/anthropology department, conducted a workshop at the Association for Humanistic Psychology Eastern Regional Annual Meeting in Philadelphia May 17. It was entitled Humanistic Anthropology: The Healing Way. The workshop was designed to introduce human service professionals to the therapeutic dimensions of anthropology. Also, Wilk has been informed that two pieces he has written will be published in two journals. His essay, "Anthropology and the Law: A Comparative Perspective on the Mythic Professions," will be published in the American Legal Studies Association Forum. A short piece entitled "Comments on an Exchange Regarding Proper Methods and Goals: Mannors, Kaplan and Scholte Revisited" will appear in the September issue of The Anthropology and Humanism Quarterly.

MARY VESTERMARK, a member of the psychology department, and STEPHEN ROBINSON, a member of the religion department, presented lectures at the sixth annual Continuing Education Seminar of the Central Pennsylvania Conference of The United Methodist Church. The seminar was held on the college campus under the sponsorship of the conference's Committee on Higher Education and Campus Ministry. Vestermark's lecture was on "Counseling Persons with Special Concerns." Robinson spoke on "The Lost Bicentennial of Biblical Literature."

RICHARD HUGHES, of the religion department, has had his article, "The Ambiguity of Organ Transplants," published in the April 2, 1980, issue of The Christian Century. The article is based on his recent eye surgery and is believed to be the first published statement from a patient's point of view.

DAVID JEX, of the music department, was one of the guest adjudicators at the High School Stage Band Festival held April 19 at Montoursville (Pa.) High School.

LOGAN RICHMOND, of the accounting department, has been installed as president of the North Central Chapter of the Pennsylvania Institute of Certified Public Accountants. Also, he was the featured speaker at the "Focus on Success" program held May 1 at Shikellamy High School in Sunbury, Pa. He discussed the various aspects of a career as a CPA.

The Lycoming College faculty bowling team has won the Williamsport Professional Men's Bowling League championship. Members of the team are BOB ANGSTADT and DAN KING, of the biology department, DAVE FRANZ, of the chemistry department, JOHN HANCOCK, of the psychology department, and RALPH HELLAN, an operations programmer in the computer center. The championship is believed to be the first ever for the college bowling team.

Three Lycoming College students winners of ROTC award

Three Lycoming students enrolled in the Army ROTC program at Bucknell University in Lewisburg were award winners at the detachment's annual spring banquet.

Harriett E. (Jill) Deissler, a junior from Gulf Breeze, Fla.; Randolph H. Bates, a freshman from Vienna, Va., and Crystal J. Smith, a junior from Cogan Station, Pa., were the award winners.

Deissler won the Superior Cadet Award for her class. Sponsored by the Department of the Army, it recognizes ROTC and academic standings, military and academic leadership and officer qualities. She is a biology major.

Bates won the Sons of the American Revolution Award. Sponsored by the Tiadaghton chapter of the organization, it cites all-around excellence in a basic-course cadet (freshman or sophomore). He is a political science major.

Smith received the National Sojourners Award. Sponsored by Lycoming Chapter #509, it is awarded to the MS II or MS III cadet who is in the top 25 percent of his or her class, who encourages the ideals of Americanism and who has demonstrated outstanding leadership potential. She is a biology major.

She has three children, Craig, 16, Laurel, 13, and Todd, 11.

The 40-year-old trustee is a member of Christ's United Methodist Church in Elmira and its single adult fellowship and steering committee. An accomplished pianist and organist, she is the organist at Lake Street Presbyterian Church in Elmira, and is a member of the Corning Philharmonic Orchestra and rehearsal accompanist for the Corning Philharmonic Chorus.

Mrs. Sabin is a member of the Association for Continuing Higher Education, American Guild of Organists, American Association of University Women, Business and Professional Women and Association for Creative Change.

The Philadelphia native is the son of Harold D. and Amilla R. Hershberger. He is married to the former Joyce Simpson. They have two daughters, Pamela, 16, and Susan, 14. His wife was graduated from The Pennsylvania State University in 1956. She is a former teacher, and a member of the Williamsport Area School Board of Directors.

Hershberger is a member of St. Mark's Lutheran Church in Williamsport, and is active in numerous civic, professional, service and other organizations, including the Williamsport Foundation, Lycoming United Way, YWCA, Williamsport-Lycoming Chamber of Commerce, James V. Brown Library Board of Trustees, Williamsport Sanitary/Water Authority and Rotary Club. He is a director of the Tioga Lumber Company, Rowland Land Company and Wildwood Cemetery Association.

Phi Kappa Phi awards scholarship to Lycoming graduate

The Phi Kappa Phi national honor society has awarded a $3,000 fellowship for graduate study to Thomas G. Stavoy, a 1980 Lycoming graduate from Williamsport. He is one of only 40 persons selected this year by Phi Kappa Phi to receive the award.

Stavoy plans to study cardiology at Baylor Medical College in Houston, Tex. His interest in cardiology dates back to his sophomore year in college when he began working as a volunteer for the heart association. He currently is a director of the state and local heart association chapters.

"I was surprised," Stavoy said, "but I think the fact that I won reflects the high academic standards of the college."

Dr. Charles Getchell, president of the college chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, added that Lycoming can be proud to already have had one of its graduates awarded such a fellowship because a chapter of the society has been operating on campus for only a year. Since 1932, when Phi Kappa Phi began the program, it has honored 500 scholars with fellowships.

Conferences keep campus busy

Summer-term students and several thousand visitors will keep the Lycoming College campus very busy this summer.

Hundreds of persons attending a conference of the Episcopal Diocese of Central Pennsylvania, a meeting of the Board of Ministry of the Central Pennsylvania Conference of The United Methodist Church, a session of Marriage Encounter and the Miss Pennsylvania National Teen-Ager Pageant have already come and gone. Hundreds more will arrive on campus in future weeks.

Events still scheduled for the college campus this summer include a judicatory meeting of the Northumberland Presbytery, the annual statewide summer session of the Pennsylvania Parent Teachers Association, a conference of the School of Evangelism and the Northeast Jurisdictional Youth Convocation.

Other events include two International Cheerleading Foundation camps, the annual visit and show of the Susquehanna Antique Car Association, a nine-day stay by the First Southern Baptist Church Choir, two weekend school of missions of the Central Pennsylvania Conference of The United Methodist Church and a conference of the Northeast Jurisdictional Music School.

Also, Lycoming will hold orientation sessions for new students and their parents.

Summer theatre curtain rising

The Arena Theatre curtain will rise this summer on an expanded schedule of four productions, including a new Monday night special. It will be the 11th season for summer theatre at Lycoming College.

The summer theatre season will open June 18-22 and 25-29 with a revival of "My Fair Lady," the delightful and popular musical. The musical also was one of the theatre's spring productions.

The second offering will be "The Price," a theatrically comic and moving play by Arthur Miller. It will be presented July 3-6 and 10-13.

"End of Summer," a sophisticated and urbane American comedy of manners set in the mid-1930's, will be the third production. The play, written by S. N. Behrman, will run July 17-20 and 24-27.

The fourth production, "A Life in the Theatre," will be the Monday night special June 23 and 30 and July 7. Written by David Mamet, the play is a backstage look at two actors, their life and their art. It will feature Dr. Robert F. Falk, professor of theatre at Lycoming and Arena Theatre director, and his son, Drew, a Lycoming student, as the two actors.

Renowned historian gives Ewing Lecture

An internationally renowned reformation historian and author gave the seventh annual Robert H. Ewing Lecture at Lycoming College in April.

Hans J. Hillerbrand, author of The Reformation and The World of the Reformation, spoke in the Academic Center. His books are considered classics in the field. Hillerbrand has authored numerous other books and articles on that period of history.

Hillerbrand currently is vice president and provost at City University of New York. He taught previously at CUNY, Duke University and Goshen College. The title of his lecture was "The Reformation and the Peasants War: Reflections on Social History."

The Ewing lecture is named in honor of the professor emeritus of history at Lycoming. Ewing taught at the college for 30 years.

Trustees cite director of buildings and grounds

Robert L. Eddinger (center), director of buildings and grounds, was honored by the board of trustees at the luncheon after its spring meeting. Eddinger was cited for his many years of devoted service to Lycoming. Shown here reading the citation is W. Gibbs McKenney, chairman of the board of trustees. Dr. Frederick E. Blumer, president, looks on. The luncheon was held in the private dining room.

Alumni directory to be published

The college alumni association responded to numerous inquiries by authorizing the preparation of a directory of alumni. The directory will be a valuable reference volume, and it will be helpful on campus in planning alumni activities and programs.

The Bernard C. Harris Publishing Company, Inc., of White Plains, NY, has been selected as the official publisher after a thorough review of this firm's extensive experience and success. Recognized as the oldest and largest exclusive publisher of alumni directories in the world, they have completed, over the past seventeen years, more than 300 alumni directories for colleges, universities, and fraternities.

This extensive project will be undertaken at virtually no cost to Lycoming. The Harris Company has contracted to compile, publish, and market the directory, financing the operation solely through the sale of individual directory copies and, in cases where it seems appropriate, through space reservations to alumni only.

The College will not benefit financially from the directory sales (purchases should not be considered as a contribution), but will derive substantial benefit from the completely updated records and other valuable information obtained.

The main body of the directory will consist of an alphabetical listing of all alumni, with each entry to include name, class, degree(s) home address and telephone, and business or professional information, including title, firm name and address, and telephone. Two complete indexes of all alumni, one arranged geographically by towns within states, and the other by class year will follow the main listings, providing ready references.

The updated material will be derived from brief questionnaires mailed to all alumni with known addresses and followed up by telephone for verification of the information to be printed in the directory. At that time, and at that time only, alumni will be invited to purchase a copy of the directory or reserve space. The directory will be made available only to Lycoming alumni and will not be released to any other individuals or firms. Only enough directories to fill these pre-publication orders will be printed, and circulation will be restricted to alumni. Release of the directory is tentatively scheduled for late-Spring, 1981.

Lycoming graduate wins research prize

A May Lycoming graduate from Montoursville, Pa., was awarded a biology research prize at the annual spring meeting of the Beta Beta Beta national biological honor society's Northeastern Region District Two. It was held at Susquehanna University in Selinsgrove.

Frank D. O'Brien III, a summa cum laude graduate, placed third in competition for the Fraak G. Brooks Award for Excellence in Student Research. His research paper described the interaction of pigment cells in the development of patterns of pigmentation in amphibians. He conducted his research in the laboratory of Dr. Robert Zaccaris, an assistant professor of biology.

O'Brien will attend Hershey Medical School in September. He is a member of the Phi Kappa Phi national honor society, and a charter member of the college chapter of Beta Beta Beta.

SPORTS

It was a long spring season

Although the spring sports season spanned a short length of time, it turned out to be a very long season for Lycoming's golf, tennis and track teams. Together, the squads compiled a 2-25 record.

Coach Bob Foreman's golfers posted the only wins in a rain-shortened 2-6 season. The wins came against Kings College in a triangular match at home and against Juniata College in Huntingdon. The six losses came to Lock Haven State, Susquehanna, Western Maryland and Ursinus in a triangular match and Bloomsburg State. Four matches were rained out.

First-year coach Phil Christman took a very young tennis team into a heavy schedule of 10 matches in 17 days and came away without a win. With the 0-10 mark, Lycoming's netters now have lost 24 straight matches in a streak started in 1978. The losses were to Bloomsburg, Elizabethtown, Seranton, Western Maryland, Susquehanna, Kings, Lock Haven, Dickinson, Wilkes, Albright and Juniata.

Coach Pat Schemery's track team was kept out of the winning column, dropping all nine meets. Losses came against Messiah and Dickinson in a triangular, Juniata and Baptist Bible in a triangular, Lock Haven, Mansfield and Bloomsburg in a quadrangular, Western Maryland and Susquehanna. Despite the record, there were some bright moments for the track team. On April 15, Esrl (Stretch) Ostrander, a sophomore high jumper from Wildwood, N. J., leaped 6-7 3/4 to set a new college record and tie the Middle Atlantic Conference mark. He held the old record of 6-4. And at the MAC meet May 2-3, Chris Stewart, a junior long jumper from Dallas, Tex., jumped 21-2 to place sixth in the conference tournament. Ostrander did not compete in the MAC tourney.

CLASS news

Edited by DALE V. BOWEN '59

1915

MARGUERITE DERSTINE FORBES returned to the campus for her 65th class reunion. Marguerite lives in W. Pittston, PA. She has two sons and a daughter. She also has seven grandchildren and two great grandchildren. She is active in her church and other civic organizations. She brought along the minutes of her Dickinson Seminary Class and presented them to the college for the archives. Lycoming College is very happy to receive such items. Marguerite had visited BERNICE DECKER TAYLOR. Bernice was secretary of the class of 1915. Bernice lives in Bradenton, FL, but was unable to return for her class reunion. Marguerite also brought greetings from MARJORIE STACKHOUSE, another classmate, who was unable to return for the reunion. While in Williamsport, Marguerite stayed with BERNADINE DECKER NANCARROW '23.

1920

GEORGIA KAUFFMAN SELSAM is living in State College, PA. She is retired from the Pennsylvania State University as music librarian. She has two married daughters. Georgia had been living in State College, PA, but has now moved to a Quaker retirement community in Newtown, PA.

1925

MARGARET E. HILL lives in California, MD. She attended her 55th reunion on Alumni Day. Margaret is retired as a teacher-librarian from the St. Mary's County Memorial Library. She was employed by the Board of National Missions, Presbyterian Church, U.S.A.

BRADEN P. HUGHES lives in Southampton, NY, and spends his winters in Longwood, FL. He is retired from the New York Telephone Company. He still enjoys golf and fishing. Braden remembers being a member of the "6th hall roughnecks" (in Old Main).

CLARENCE H. LOVE lives in Waterville, PA. He received a trophy on Alumni Day in the annual golf tournament. Clarence is a retired salesman, and in addition to golf, he enjoys fishing and hunting.

DOROTHY MOORE COURTNEY lives in Scotland, MD. Dorothy and her husband have ten grandchildren. Dorothy has sold real estate for eighteen years and has been the judge of elections for over twenty years. She has many happy memories of her days on the Dickinson Seminary Campus.

RICHARD G. RAUP lives in Marmora, NJ. He and his wife, Edith, have two sons and three grandchildren. Richard is retired from the Bell Telephone Company of PA.

LEONARD H. ROTHERMEL lives in Trevorton, PA. Leonard is retired after 36 years as a teacher and administrator. He is very active with a number of hobbies and in various civic organizations.

CAROL BRYAN SMITH lives in Rochester, NY. She has two daughters, two sons, and nine grandchildren. She lists her occupation as "Home Executive." Although she was unable to return for her 50th reunion, she sent her best wishes to all of her classmates for good health and happiness.

CARL B. TAYLOR lives in Morgantown, WV. The Taylors have two sons and two grandchildren. Carl is Professor Emeritus at W. Virginia University. He holds the Ph.D. degree in rural sociology from the Pennsylvania State University. Carl was here on campus for his 50th reunion to celebrate with other members of his class.

ELIZABETH THOMAS CORNELIUS was on campus for her 50th reunion. She lives in Williamsport. She is retired from Sylvania Electric where she had worked as a draftsman in the electrical engineering department. She is a graduate of the Rochester Institute of Technology in art education. Elizabeth presented the college with several very fine old photographs on Alumni Day. She also remembered her mother observing her 50th reunion at Dickinson Seminary. She remembers her mother re-counting the many changes which had taken place since her graduation. Now Elizabeth marvels at the growth and changes which have taken place at Lycoming College in the past 50 years. Elizabeth's mother was EVA LEPLEY THOMAS '04, now deceased.

NELSON A. THOMAS lives in Penney Farms, FL. He has a son, a daughter, and two grandchildren. He is a retired minister. From his seminary days, he vividly recalls the night when JOHN NICHOLSON, in his sleep, rang the bell in the bell tower at midnight. It aroused the entire student body and sent them scurrying onto the campus in their night clothes.

ROBERT M. BUBB lives in Jersey Shore, PA. Robert and his wife, the former Ethel Welshans, have two sons, two daughters, and seven grandchildren. Robert is a farmer, and since this reunion came at corn planting time, he was not able to be present for the weekend.

LOUISE CASTNER SANDERSON and her husband, JOHN '36, live at Treasure Island, FL. They have two sons, and five grandchildren. Louise is church librarian and plays cello in the orchestra and also plays in their handbell choir. From her days on campus she remembers singing in the first jazz trio at the first dance ever held on campus.

JOSEPH McCABE lives in Williamsport, PA. He has one son. Now that he is retired, he enjoys model railroading, photography, and reading. He also is a volunteer job analyst with Divine Providence Hospital.

WILLIAM C. WESTBERG lives in Carbon-dale, IL. He is Professor Emeritus of psychology and administrative sciences at Southern Illinois University. He and his wife, Helen, have two sons and two grandchildren.

FLOYDE WILLIAMS DUNCAN lives in Port Matilda, PA. She has a son, a daughter, and four grandchildren. She remembers her wonderful friendships on campus and remembers waiting on the tables of the football players.

PAUL K. WINNER and his wife, Martha, live in Williamsport. They have a son, a daughter, and two grandchildren. Paul retired from the West Chester Area School District in 1978 as the director of physical plant and plant engineer. His interest since retirement has centered around military history.

1940

JOHN L. BRUCH, JR. and his wife, the former SARAH BUBB '42, live in Muncy, PA. They have two daughters, one son, and two grandchildren. John is an insurance broker. Active in numerous civic and church affairs, of all things, he remembers matching quarters in the day room with JOHN MONKS!

HERBERT L. WEAVER, JR. lives in Hagerstown, MD. He is retired as a United Methodist minister. As a hobby, he enjoys raising tropical fish.

BLANCHE BECK BRITT is now with Auburn Travel, Inc., and her husband, Charles, is teaching at Auburn University. They are living in Auburn, AL.

1945

SHIRLEY ADSIT WATERS lives in Syracuse, NY. She works as a medical secretary with an orthopedic surgeon. She has two daughters, one son, and four grandchildren.

RUTH BRUCKLACHER was the only one to return for her 35th class reunion. Ruth is a retired teacher. She enjoys reading, music, art work and quilting. She lives at Cogan Station, PA.

ELIZABETH CORSON SPEGA is a housewife. She and her husband, Stephen, live at Linden, PA. They have a son and a daughter. She is active in Trinity Episcopal Church and the DAR.

JEANNE ODELL STRAYER lives in Round Hill, VA. She is retired from the Department of the Navy and enjoys sewing, cooking and gardening.

SUZANNE UMSTEAD WOLF lives in Erie, PA. She has five children and five grandchildren. She is the assistant manager of the bookstore at Villa Marie College. Her husband, Joseph, is deceased. Suzanne is an Elder in the Presbyterian Church.

BARBARA WAGNER BEYER lives in Renovo, PA. She has a son, a daughter, and two grandchildren. After teaching fourteen years for the Keystone Central School District, she retired in 1979 and now enjoys traveling.

GEORGE D. WOLF lives in Camp Hill, PA. George and his wife, Margaret, have three daughters, and three grandchildren. George is Professor of American Studies and History at the Pennsylvania State University, Capitol Campus. He is president of the Allendale Community Association and is a township commissioner. During the Three Mile Island crisis, George wrote a beautiful letter to his new-born granddaughter. The letter appeared in the Philadelphia Bulletin.

HOWARD C. BEACH is living in Sarasota, FL. Howard and his wife, Barbara, have a son, and a daughter. Although Howard says he is "really retired", he is the kind of person that probably will never retire completely. He is busy as a developer and is active in investments. He enjoys golf, boating and fishing. Howard is currently serving as a member of the Lycoming College Board of Trustees.

DOROTHY (COHICK) and STAN ROSENBERG '50, are living in Bozeman, MT. Stan, now retired from public health service, is self employed with Rosenberg & Associates. He is also Adjunct Professor in the School of Nursing, Montana State University. Dorothy lists her occupation as a retired, free-lance writer. She enjoys music and cross country skiing. Stan and Dorothy have two sons, and one granddaughter. Their son, ARCHIE, graduated from Lycoming in 1973. They describe Montana as the best of all of the contiguous 48 states: clean air, good fishing, skiing, cool dry summers and crisp cold winters.

ELLINOR DAVIES HALTER and her husband, George, live in Burney, CA. Ellinor is a social worker with Shasta County Welfare. Ellinor and George have a son and a daughter. Ellinor is active in civic organizations and in her church. Ellie wishes that time and distance was not a deterrent to her being able to return for reunions. Her thoughts are often with her classmates.

KAY GOODMAN STOVER is manager of the Hidden Valley Shooting Preserve, a family owned business. Kay enjoys hunting, and in August of 1979, shot a 400 lb. bear on their hunting trip to Lewiston, ID. The Stovers have two daughters.

VIOLA MILLER WOOSTER lives in Towanda, PA. She is a ballet teacher. She and her husband, William, have three daughters and a son.

JOHN RETKWA is in sales with Pacific Vegetable Oil Corp., International. John and his wife, Jacqueline, have a son and two daughters.

R. BRUCE AND WINIFRED TABER SMAY live in Harrisburg, PA. Bruce was recently appointed Pastor of Stevens Memorial United Methodist Church there. Bruce and Winifred have a son and a daughter. Their son, JOHN, is a 1979 graduate of Lycoming.

HAROLD A. AMMONS is Pastor of Violetville United Methodist Church, Baltimore, MD. Harold and his wife, Betty Jane, have two sons. Harold could not attend his reunion because of a very heavy church schedule, but he has very happy memories of his time on campus, particularly with the college choir. He also remembers Sadie Hawkins Day, casual walks to Grampain Hill, dormitory life, especially the top floor of Old Main, and the Betty Grable movies at the local theater.

KEN and PAULINE PRIBBLE BRUNGARD live in Montoursville. Ken is vice-president of Fidelity National Bank and Polly continues to be the Loan Coordinator at Lycoming. Ken and Polly have two sons and a daughter. TOM graduated in 1974, BOB graduated in 1979, and LENORA attended Lycoming for two years and then graduated from Lock Haven State College.

GEORGE CLARK is branch manager of Finance America Consumer Discount Co. He lives in Shamokin, PA. He and his wife, Dorothy, have one son.

JACK GOLDSMITH is Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Sytek, Inc., Sunnyvale, CA. The company deals in computer and communications systems. Jack and his wife, Joan, live in Los Altos, CA. Jack is active in his Chamber of Commerce and does lectureships on university campuses. He holds an MBA degree from New York University.

JACK HARKINS is vice-president, manufacturing for Unimation, Inc., Danbury, CT. He and his wife, Eloise, live in Cheshire, CT.

PAUL HILLER is branch manager of GAB business services. Paul and his wife, the former MARCELLA MAPES '55, have a son, a daughter and one grandchild. They live in Truexville, PA. Marcella is an intermediate math teacher in the Gate of Heaven Parochial School, Dallas. Their son, PAUL, Jr., is a 1979 Lycoming graduate.

CHARLES J. KOCHAN and his wife, Jean, live in Washington, DC. Chuck is an economist and biostatistician, retired from the office of the Surgeon General, Army. Chuck heads our Washington area Alumni Club activities. He has also endowed a number of graduation prizes given to students who have done outstanding work in a particular field of study.

MATTHEW A. MARCINEK and his wife, Elizabeth, live in Shamokin, PA. Matt is treasurer of Marcinek's Inc., a wholesale malt beverage distributor. The Marcineks have two sons and two daughters. Matt is a director of the Chamber of Commerce.

LESLIE McRAE is a pastor in the Central PA Conference, United Methodist Church. He lives in Bellwood, PA. Les and his wife, Mary, have two sons, one daughter, and two grandchildren. Les remembers helping start the Lycoming College band, with BURTT SWEET, in 1947.

J. ROBERT SCHRADER is president of Lundy Lumber Company. He and his wife, Beverly, have a son and a daughter. They live in Williamsport. Bob is active in civic organizations and enjoys boating, fishing and travel.
