A Message from the President

April 24, 1957

Dear Alumni:

The current academic year has been marked by significant achievements in several areas of the College life.

Before the Fall term was underway the tone of the year was set by a check from the Ford Foundation for $75,000 the first payment on the Foundation Grant to improve faculty salaries. As a result, substantial salary increases have been written into the contracts for next year. We are proud to mark this advance.

The Survey Team from the University Senate of The Methodist Church was here in November. Their report charts the course of the college for the next decade. It is forthright and prophetic. We will move forward into a very creative future.

The building program has seen completion of the Men's Dormitory and the Science Building. The Student Activities Building will be under construction before school opens in September, 1957. Plans for additional expansion are being studied by the Board of Directors.

The College A Cappella Choir has received resounding reception throughout the year. The fund for the British Tour continues to grow and the final plans for the trip are being completed. This is as imaginative and creative a program as we have ever attempted. Enthusiasm is high and we are convinced that this undertaking will repay the college many times over in good will, public relations, and cultural contribution to the college life. This year the Choir is better than ever and we are proud of their accomplishments.

President Wertz and Dr. George S. Shortess, Divisional Director, Natural Sciences, go over the plans and note the progress in the nearly completed Science Building. The picture was taken in the lecture auditorium which will seat 141 students.

We anticipate an outstanding Commencement Season. I do hope you are planning to attend.

Very sincerely,

HONORARY FRATERNITIES ESTABLISHED

Three national honorary fraternities and two on-campus study groups have recently been established on the Lycoming College campus.

COLLEGE PLAYERS PRESENT ORIGINAL MUSICAL

The Lycoming College Players will present an original comedy on May 16th and 17th. SUMMER 'N GREASEPAINT was written by Otto L. Sonder, Jr., Assistant Professor of Sociology in collaboration with two students, Wallace Pelton, '57 and Richard Reimhold, '58. The music has been composed by Dr. Russell Graves, Assistant Professor of Speech, together with Jack Eyer, '59, Frederick Horn, '58, and Marjorie Kramer, '57. Jackie Lou Snyder, '58 assisted the music writers with arrangements.

The plot revolves around a group of college students and their dramatics professor who take an old barn for the summer to operate it as a summer theatre. After difficulty with the farmer who owns the barn, the group has financial difficulties when their wealthy backer learns that he cannot put up the operating funds for the summer. They also lose their opening play.

Plans are made to publish the book and music after the first presentation on the campus.

DR. YOON RECEIVES GRANT

Dr. Chai H. Yoon, Assistant Professor of Biology, has been granted $1,850 by the National Muscular Dystrophy Research Foundation to assist in his research project to erase the shadow of muscular dystrophy.

Dr. Yoon will use the grant in his study of a condition known as "quivering" in the house mouse. His interest is in discovering the pathological causes of the condition. Using a mouse colony of 200, the scientist is attempting to trace how heredity affects the "quivering" symptom.

Dr. Yoon, formerly a member of the faculty at Ohio State University, joined the faculty at Lycoming last September. He served as research assistant in the department of zoology and etymology at Alma College in Michigan, where he took his undergraduate work. He received his doctorate from Ohio State University where he also taught genetics and anatomy. It was while he was at Ohio State that Dr. Yoon noted that a particular mouse in the colony exhibited symptoms similar to muscular dystrophy.

Dr. Yoon, a native of Korea and former Korean Army captain, is married and the father of a 16-month-old daughter.

Coach David Busey Appointed Director of Athletics

Coach David G. Busey

David G. Busey, head football coach, has been appointed as Director of Athletics effective June 1, 1957. As Director of Athletics, Coach Busey will have overall responsibility for the intercollegiate athletic program at the College. He will continue to discharge the re-

A 23-year veteran of the coaching profession, Busey joined the staff at Lycoming College in 1954 when football was resumed after a discontinuance of four years. Last year the team had a 5 win and 3 loss season, highlighted by the defeat of Juniata thus ending their 25-game winning streak.

Coach Busey retains his rank of Commander in the United States Naval Reserve and is the commanding officer of the Williamsport Reserve Unit. During World War II and immediately thereafter he served on the coaching staff at the United States Naval Academy, as Executive and Administrative Officer of the Ship Repair Facility on Guam, and as chief recreation officer, ComSubPac.

He began his coaching career in 1933 at Urbana High School in Illinois while an undergraduate at the University of Illinois. Two years later, he became director of physical education for that city's school system. Later he served as assistant coach at the University of Illinois, his Alma Mater.

Coach Busey is married and the father of three sons—David, Robert, and Donald. He holds the rank of Associate Professor of Phy-

CAGERS END 8 - 15 SEASON

Albert Wilson, the only member of the squad who will be lost by graduation, again paced the "Warriors" through their gruelling 23 game schedule. His average of 16.4 points per game, while under his last year's average of 19.5 points, was sufficient to make him the team's high scorer. Wilson's all-around ability has earned him honorable mention among Methodist Colleges in Fred Russell's selections, appearing in the March issue of TOGETHER.

When asked to comment on the season this year, Coach Lawther said, "It is very evident that we were 'outshot'. The statistics show that our opponents scored on approximately 45% of their field goal attempts, and we scored on approximately 37%. This made the difference. I might add, that a 45% average over a 23-game schedule is an exceptionally good average for Lyco's opponents."

In the free-throw category, Cliff Smith led the "Warriors" with 45 points out of a possible 55 for an average of approximately 82%. Ron Kitt, center, dropped in 71 baskets out of 157 attempts for the high team average of 45%.

Since Al Wilson is the only senior on the squad, Coach Lawther will have an experienced nucleus around which to build next year's team. Such cagers as Smith, Kitt, Jim Jackson, Bob Glunk, Ron Hughes, and Frank Sullivan should pace the "Warriors" to a successful season.

GRAPPLERS WIN 2 LOSE 4

Coach Budd Whitehill's grapplers, handicapped by inexperience, ended wrestling's first season at Lycoming with 2 wins and 4 losses. The Coach and the team are to be congratulated for such a fine showing in a sport that created a great deal of interest among the student body and gives every indication of becoming one of the College's most popular intercollegiate activities.

The team turned in victories over Elizabethtown College and Albright College, and dropped matches to Gettysburg College, Bucknell University, Bloomsburg State Teachers College, and Wilkes College.

'57 FOOTBALL SCHEDULE ANNOUNCED

Coach Busey announced as a tentative lineup the following men: Freshman Fred Agnello from Indiana, Pa. will be the starting pitcher. ## ALUMNI DAY — SATURDAY, JUNE 1st

ALUMNI BANQUET SPEAKER

Maxwell E. Hannum

Mrs. Samuel Hutchison, chairman of the Annual Alumni Day Committee, announced that Maxwell E. Hannum, Education Director, Eastern Division, National Association of Manufacturers, will be the speaker at the Alumni Banquet on June 1, 1957.

Mr. Hannum was born in Ohio and received his public school education in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. He served with the A E F during World War I, 1917-1919. From 1919 until 1929 he worked as a reporter, feature writer, and assistant city editor for the Pittsburgh Press. During this time, he attended the University of Pittsburgh College of Economics and received his degree in 1922.

From 1928 - 1930 he owned his own publicity and advertising agency. In 1930 he assumed the position of Director of Publicity and Manager of the Bureau of News and Publications at the Carnegie Institute of Technology. From 1933 to 1945 he volunteered supplementary duty as head basketball coach.

In 1946 he left Carnegie Institute and went to Franklin & Marshall College, Lancaster, Pennsylvania, where he served as Assistant to the President and Director of Public Relations. While at Franklin & Marshall he was elected President of the American College Public Relations Association, 1948-1949.

Mr. Hannum assumed his present position with the National Association of Manufacturers in October, 1954.

The Alumni Banquet, at which Mr. Hannum will speak, will be held in the College Dining Room at 6:00 P. M.

The activities on June 1st will begin with registration at the College from 9:30 A. M. until 12:00 noon. During the morning period there will be several small concerts by the Lycoming College Band, under the direction of Mr. William Maxson, Instructor in Music. There will also be several guided tours of the College Campus in order that the Alumni may see the newest additions to Lycoming's physical plant.

Luncheon at 12:30 P. M. will be held picnic style on the tennis courts adjacent to the College Dining room. Tables will be designated for the reunion classes. It is hoped that all members of the reunion classes will make every effort to be present and to have lunch together. The Annual Meeting of the Alumni Association will be held immediately following the luncheon. At this meeting the officers and directors for the coming year will be elected. In addition, a novel and interesting program is being planned for the meeting . . . this you will not want to miss!

From 3:00 P. M. until 4:00 P. M. the reunion classes will hold their business meetings. The meetings will be very important to every one because some new plans will be offered to these classes that will enable them to organize more effectively for the Association and the College.

At 8:00 P. M., the Lycoming College Choir will present the Annual Commencement Concert.

Within a week, you should be receiving the reservation forms. You are urged to send yours in right away. A gala weekend is being planned, but it will be so, only if you are there.

Have you contributed to the '57 Alumni Fund?
Do it today!

ALUMNI FUND PROGRESS REPORT

Ralph C. Geigle, '31, 1957 Alumni Fund Chairman, reports that as of April 10, 1957, 315 alumni have contributed $3625.60. This is certainly a fine report and gives every indication that the Fund will exceed the $4,052 that was contributed last year. The deadline for this year's appeal is June 30, 1957.

Contributions to the three areas of interest have been made in the following amounts:

The John W. Long Memorial Scholarship Fund .....	$1194.00
The choir tour of Great Britain in 1957 .....	$ 381.50
Unrestricted giving for the general educational program .....	$2050.10

In making his report, Dr. Geigle said, "the goal of $7500.00 is still ahead of us. I re-affirm my statement made in December that our goal can be reached if each of us will do his share. The time is growing short and it is my hope that every alumnus will feel a responsibility to do what he can in a united effort to help Lycoming's growth."

SUMMER SCHOOL SESSIONS ANNOUNCED

Dr. Robert F. Smith, Director of Summer School, announced that two sessions of summer school would be held. The first session will be from June 10th to July 19th; the second session from July 22nd to August 30th.

In making the announcement, Dr. Smith pointed out that a wide range of courses is being offered. Courses in science, business, education, economics, political science, history, English, psychology, mathematics, music, philosophy, and sociology will be offered in both sessions.

For further information, write to: Dr. Robert F. Smith, Director of Summer School, Lycoming College, Williamsport, Pennsylvania.

REPORT AVAILABLE

On November 16, 1956, a committee appointed by President Eisenhower to study education beyond the high school made its first interim report. This report is of interest to all those concerned about the problems ahead for institutions of higher learning, and to those who will have children interested in going to college within the next decade.

The Alumni Office will be glad to send a copy of this report to anyone desiring to read it. A postcard with your name and address and the words "President's Report" will be all that is necessary.

PLACEMENT OFFICE NEWS

With graduation but a few weeks away, the Placement Office reports that interviews with Seniors are increasing, and that most of them have one or more job offers. There are still a few Secretarial and Medical Secretarial girls that have not been placed. If you have knowledge of an opening for these secretaries, please write to: Donald C. Remley, Director, Placement Office, Lycoming College, Williamsport, Pennsylvania.

Did you know that the Girl Scouts of the United States offers individual training, on-the-job re-orientation, and special courses in administration, finance, supervision, and public relations within the Girl Scout program? Perhaps those of you who have decreasing family responsibilities would like to employ your time and talents in such a program.

This is but one of the many types of opportunities that the Placement Office learns about and is glad to pass on to you. Why not use this service? It is there for you.

FROM SOME SENIORS . . . .

It is always good to know what others think of you. The College was interested in knowing this and asked four Seniors, "In addition to your academic preparation, how has Lycoming College helped prepare you for life?" The comments are printed below.

Cynthia Lim, Singapore, Malaya: "Being a foreign student on campus, I have had a wonderful opportunity to learn about and experience the American system of Education, and also to work and exchange ideas with people of different nationalities and cultures, which will definitely help me to have a better understanding of mankind.

"I have had a rich spiritual and social experience on campus too. Hand in hand with my college experiences have gone my speaking engagements which have helped me further my understanding of American people."

Mary A. Mitchell, Meshoppen, Penna.: "One usually thinks of the time spent at college as being four of the most enjoyable years of his life. My four years on this campus have been that, but more important, they have proven to be very influential. They provided the rich opportunities of meeting and exchanging ideas with people of race, creed and backgrounds foreign to mine. As a result of these experiences, I feel better equipped to meet life as an adult person."

Janice E. Brisbin, Yeagertown, Penna.: "Lycoming College has better prepared me for life by helping me to learn to cooperate and get along with other people. I feel that this ability to be congenial and cooperative is necessary if we are to live happily and successfully in this social minded age of ours.

"In this small liberal arts college, I have found ample opportunity to work with others in every area, whether social, athletic, or governmental. Moreover, an unbiased and cooperative attitude is more readily assured, because we not only work with fellow students, but come into close contact with the faculty, administration and community."

Nancy J. Dorrance, Florham Park, New Jersey: "The qualities demanded of an adult in society are aspects of an individual's personality which, under certain educational surroundings, are stimulated into a maturity that is a necessary pre-requisite to life. I feel that Lycoming College contains these certain educational surroundings. I feel that in its environment of leadership opportunities and close student-faculty relationships, I have gained an understanding of the values involved in living with and for other people. This, of course, is only a fundamental step of personality development, but the degree to which I apply this understanding to life will be increased by the preparation for maturity I have received at Lycoming College.

WELCOME . . . . . CLASS OF '57

On behalf of the Alumni Association of Lycoming College, I welcome you to active membership. On June 2nd you will take your place with approximately 4500 other Alumni in an association that has for its objective the strengthening of Lycoming College. It will mean much to you if you will participate; it will mean little if you do not.

There are many ways that you can become active in the Association. To list them all would take far more space than the Editor has allotted to me. Therefore, may I mention just a few?

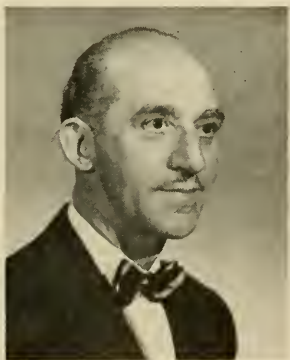

Our Alma Mater is growing. Even during your years at the College, you have seen it make great strides. You can then imagine what changes some of us "oldsters" have seen tal for just a moment? Don't be so busy that you find no time to return to the campus for Alumni Activities. It will refresh you to come back for Homecoming, Alumni Day, and other Alumni activities. One of the most valuable things that Lycoming has given to you is your friendships—continue to cultivate them by getting together several times a year.

You have all seen cartoons of the harried alumnus who hears from ole' Alma Mater only when she has the hand out for a contribution to the fund to "remodel Old Main that you love so well." Jestng, of course, but you will be hearing from the College to ask your support financially of the Annual Alumni Fund. When you give, remember that you are not giving to charity. Actually, none of us paid in full what it cost to give us an education. Somebody has helped pay our way . . . now we must help someone else. And if you ever reach the point where you have contributed to the Alumni Fund an amount sufficient to cover the cost of your education, then continue to give as an investment to help Lycoming train leaders that will help keep our world free.

One of the life lines to Lycoming, as you room the four corners, is the Alumni Bulletin. It is your magazine — your suggestions are most welcome. The Alumni Office wants it to be the magazine that you want. In order to receive your copy, you must keep the Alumni Office informed of your address. Therefore, may I suggest that whenever you move, drop the College a line and let them know where you are going . . . you'll be glad you did.

The Editor is cutting me short here, so I must bring this to a close. Welcome, Class of '57. Good luck to you, God bless you, and we are glad to have you with us to help in the job we have to continue to make Lycoming the very best college that she can become.

wrought. All of these changes have been an indication of the ever increasing role that Lycoming will play in higher education. I say an indication because they mean nothing if Lycoming does not continue to attract students of the highest caliber. So—in the area of student recruitment you can be most helpful. Mr. Harris, the Director of Admissions, will count on your help to refer to him students that you know are of the type that will reflect credit upon your college.

All of you will be tremendously occupied with the task of making a living. That's good—we hope that Lycoming has helped you with this task. But, would you let me be sentiment-

Stewardship

Wealth is a hard won prize. It often represents the toil, anxiety and sacrifice of a lifetime. The making of a gift or the disposition of one's estate becomes a matter of serious personal consideration especially for those endowed with a sense of stewardship.

After assuring the security of loved ones, where may one turn to the greatest good? The late Calvin Coolidge said, "To place your name by gift or bequest in the keeping of an active university is to be sure that the name and project with which it is associated will continue down the centuries to quicken the minds and hearts of youth, and thus make a permanent contribution to the welfare of humanity."

Inquiries about permanent living memorials available at Lycoming College will be welcomed by:
