Greater Lyco Speaker

DR. ROBERT T. OLIVER

Pictured above is Dr. Robert T. Oliver, professor and head of the Department of Speech at Penn State, who will be the guest speaker for the Greater Lycoming Banquet, February 23.

Dr. Robert T. Oliver, who in 1949 was appointed professor and head of the department of speech at the Pennsylvania State College, is one of the outstanding authorities on Korea and Korean affairs in this country.

Prior to joining the Penn State faculty, Dr. Oliver was manager of the Washington Bureau of the Korean Pacific Press and counsellor of the Korean Commission. The Korean Commission was the diplomatic agency of the Korean Republic in exile and was dissolved in 1948 when the Korean Embassy was established. He served on the faculty of the University of Korea in Seoul in 1946 and in 1948 was with the Asia Institute in New York, N. Y.

Born in Sweet Home, Oregon, Dr. Oliver was graduated from Pacific University, Forest Grove, Ore., received his master of arts degree at the University of Oregon, and his doctor of philosophy degree at the University of Wisconsin. Last October (1949), Pacific University honored Dr. Oliver with the degree of doctor of laws.

Dr. Oliver served from 1933 to 1935 as dean of Clark Junior Col-

ANNUAL BANQUET AND DANCE SCHEDULED FOR LYCOMING HOTEL

DR. ROBERT T. OLIVER TO SPEAK

The Greater Lycoming Banquet will be held Feb. 23 at 6:30 p.m., in the ballroom of the Lycoming Hotel. This year the banquet promises to be the greatest in the history of the annual affair.

Dr. Robert T. Oliver, noted authority on Korea and Head of the Department of Speech at the Pennsylvania State College, has been secured at the guest speaker. At one time, Dr. Oliver was manager of the Washington Bureau of the Korean Pacific Press and counsellor of the Korean commission. Full details on the well-known speaker appear elsewhere in this issue.

Entertainment for the banquet is being handled by Walter G. McIver, associate professor of voice. Mr. McIver has arranged several skits and

Banquet Cost Explained

Because of the larger plans for the Greater Lycoming Banquet this year, a price of three dollars per person has been set. The rise in cost became mandatory when it was proved necessary to transfer the scene of the dinner from the college campus to the Lycoming Hotel.

The increase in interest in this annual affair has made it impossible to hold it on the campus. Facilities there are not sufficient to handle the number of people expected. Therefore, the Lycoming was the logical choice.

A breakdown on the price indicates that it actually does not completely cover the cost of the evening. $2.25 goes for the dinner and 25 cents for the tip, leaving only fifty cents to apply to the decorations, printing of tickets, advertising, programs and so forth.

lege, Vancouver, Wash., was professor and head of the department of speech at Bucknell University from 1937 to 1942; and from 1942 to 1947, was professor and chairman of the department of speech at Syracuse University.

Three recently published books by Dr. Oliver are: "Why War Came in Korea", published Sept. 25, 1950, by Declan X. McMullin, 22 Park Place, New York, N. Y., and two text books, "Persuasive Speaking", and a revision of "The New Training for Effective Speech" co-authored with Rupert L. Cortright, of Wayne University, Detroit.

a selection of musical numbers which will lend to the general enjoyment of the evening. In addition, he has intimated that there will be an "extra-added-attraction", the exact nature of which he is keeping a secret.

Dancing will be from 9 until 12. Gerald Kehler and his orchestra will play for the dance. This orchestra has been in great demand throughout the Williamsport and surrounding areas. Last summer, the orchestra was heard regularly over one of the local radio stations.

A large response will guarantee the success, not only for this year, but for succeeding years, of the banquet.

Where to Make Reservations for Banquet

Alumni reservations should be made immediately because it will be necessary to limit the number available. Alumni living in Williamsport should contact Miss Martha Virginia Slate, 361 Mulberry St., Williamsport, Pa. Those residing outside of Williamsport should make their reservations with Rev. Lawrence Lykens, Jordan Avenue, Montoursville, Pa. Only those tickets paid for in advance will be reserved. These tickets may be obtained in the lobby of the hotel the night of the banquet, or they will be mailed if a self-addressed envelope is enclosed with the reservation.

The President's Message

Dear Alumni and other friends of Lycoming College:

Plans are now complete for the Greater Lycoming Banquet to be held at the Lycoming Hotel, Friday evening, February 23, next. This is the main mid-winter event at the college both for students, faculty, and alumni and as such is attracting even greater than usual interest this year.

With world conditions affecting every interest of our country it is possible that this may be the last Lycoming Banquet for some time, all depending, of course, on future developments. For this, as well as for other reasons, let me urge you to make your plans early to attend. Come early in the afternoon and let us show you through the buildings and grounds so that you will have a recent impression of the fine progress that the college has been making.

At this banquet we hope to announce plans by which the college will undertake in a more effective way to keep in touch with the Alumni and show how you can help. We need your help for next year especially, both in directing new students to us and in a financial way.

We particularly want you to see the new library which is now about 50% completed and from the outside at least you can gather a fine impression of this imposing structure which is to be one of the very finest on the campus. Opposite Rich Hall and with the same general lines, it will help you to see the plan of the college in working toward Washington Boulevard, on each side of the extended, beautiful campus.

I am looking forward to seeing you and hope we shall have the largest attendance of Alumni and other friends that we have ever had at the mid-winter banquet.

Faithfully yours,

JOHN W. LONG, President

Growing College

Lycoming College, a youngster in the field of four-year degree-granting educational institutions, is growing by leaps and bounds.

You can see that progress in a physical way by just looking at the buildings on the campus. You are also made aware of it from time to time by announcements of additions to the educational activity of the college.

One of these additions was announced this week. It concerns six new courses which will be offered at the college during the second semester. They include: problems in philosophy, American regional fiction, public utilities, French Revolution and Napoleon, international law and international relations.

It was just a year ago that a college night school program was instituted. There are 94 students currently enrolled in eight courses. That's in the addition to the 29 student nurses who are taking a special course and the 554 regular college students.

The college is qualified now to grant three kinds of bachelor of science degrees, the recent ones added being degrees in church work and laboratory technology.

The educational growth of the college is a sound complement to the additions to the college's physical plant. Passersby cannot fail to notice the attractive athletic field, Rich Hall and the new library building now being erected.

There's even a news sports interest being manifest at the college with its basketball team winning the first four games of its season's schedule.

Lycoming College is growing anyway you look at it.

Religion-in-Life Week Planned for Feb. 12 - 15

The second annual Religion-in-Life Week will be held at Lycoming College, Feb. 12-15, according to an announcement by Dr. Herbert Picht, faculty chairman for the event.

Dr. Picht, college chaplain, also announced that Dr. John W. Long, president of the college, will be the honorary chairman.

Guest speakers for the week will be Dr. Earl H. Ferguson, professor of homiletics at Westminster Theological Seminary, Westminster, Md., and Miss Stella Ward, dean of students at Greensboro College for Women, Greensboro, N. C.

Theme of the program will be "Words with Power." These words, as defined by the committee, are "knowledge, faith, fellowship, freedom, discipline, and love."

Vocal Groups Active

The A Cappella Choir and Lycoming Singers were much in demand during the recent holiday season. Both groups are under the direction of Walter G. Melver, associate professor of voice.

Highlighting the Singers' itinerary was a trip to Harrisburg, Dec. 12, where concerts were presented at the William Penn and John Harris High Schools, and at Grace Methodist Church. In addition, the Singers, in conjunction with the publicity office, launched a new promotional program at Montgomery-Clinton High School, Dec. 20. At this concert, a representative from the college briefly outlined the many advantages offered by Lycoming.

The Lycoming A Cappella Choir is now planning its Spring Tour, for which dates are still available. All alumni interested in obtaining dates is requested to contact Walter G. Melver.

The college choir presented a Christmas Cantata, Dec. 19, "When the Christ Child Came," by Joseph Clokey.

Mr. Melver has added another sterling musical organization to the campus. The Men's Glee Club, formed this fall, will be heard on the regular college broadcast, Wednesday, Jan. 31, at 8:15 p.m.

Dr. Long Attends Conference

Dr. John W. Long, president of the college, attended the 37th annual meeting of the Association of American Colleges and the National Association of Schools and Colleges of the Methodist Church, held in Atlantic City, Jan. 8-11.

At the AAC meeting, President Daniel Marsh of Boston University, who is also president of the association, officially recognized Lycoming College as a member of the organization by introducing Dr. Long to the assembled educators. The most important discussion at this meeting dealt with the colleges and military service.

The Lycoming president concluded the busy week by attending the Methodist conference. The theme of this meeting was "Religion on the Campus." Clarence P. McClelland serves as president of this organization.

Rich Honored

Robert F. Rich, President of the Board of Directors and retiring Congressman from the 15th district in Pennsylvania, was awarded the Grit Citation for meritorious community service for 1950. The award presented him reads:

"For 18 years of Service to Your Fellow Citizens as a Conscientious and Courageous Member of the Congress of the United States."

The Grit Publishing Company award, presented annually since 1933, has always been presented locally. It is a high tribute to Mr. Rich to be the first person outside of Williamsport to receive it.

Miss Houston Addresses Lycoming Women

Miss Jane Houston, a graduate of Mount Holyoke College and a graduate student at New York University, addressed the women students of the college, Jan. 9, in the women's day room of Rich Hall.

Miss Houston spoke on the subject, "The College Woman Weighs Careers." A large gathering of women students was on hand to appreciate the informative talk. Miss Houston has contacted deans and placement directors in many eastern colleges in conjunction with her work.

New Curriculum; Six Courses Added

One entirely new curriculum and six new courses are being added to the college program beginning with the February semester.

The laboratory technology course has been enlarged to the extent that it will now be possible to take two years of academic work at the college, spend the third year at an accredited hospital, (Williamsport Hospital is accredited), and then return to the campus for the final year. Upon completion of this four-year program, the student will be awarded a B.S. degree.

Two of the new courses offered will be in the humanities. They are problems of philosophy, which deals with the study of the chief philosophical world views, and American regional fiction course, with special emphasis on local color.

A third course to be given is public utilities, which concerns the characteristics, organization, management and financing of utilities.

Three new social studies have also been added. One is the French Revolution and Napoleon, an analysis of the political, social and intellectual backgrounds of the French Revolution. The other two are international law and international relations, studies of the nature and scope of the rules governing the conduct of states with one another during peace, war and neutrality.

Faculty Notes

Dr. Helen B. Weidman, associate professor of political science, addressed the Faculty Wives Association of the college, Jan. 8. Her topic was "Say It With Verses."

In illustrating her discussion Dr. Weidman showed how verses might be used in everyday life to give people an understanding and appreciation of nature and the beautiful things of life.

Mr. Robert G. Wharton, Jr., business manager of the college, was elected worshipful master of Lodge No. 106, F. and A. M. Mr. Wharton began his duties as worshipful master December 27.

Symposiums embracing each of the four divisions of the college Humanities, Sciences, Sociology and Business Administration, are being conducted in the assembly programs. The purpose of the panel discussions is to further acquaint the students with the many opportunities offered in each field.

Warriors Undefeated

Lycoming's Warriors, undefeated as this release was prepared, have come through the first six games of the season surprising even the most ardent Lyco rooters.

Bob Smith's boys opened the season with a 70-63 victory over Juniata College at Huntingdon, Dec. 2. Paced by Jim Brodmerkel, who tallied 25 points, the Blue and Gold-clad Braves were never headed.

Following the successful lid-opener, the Smithmen rolled over highly-favored Moravian, 73-65, Dec. 6, staving off a last period rally to emerge victorious. Billy Graff, with 30 points, came within two of the all-time record set by Jack Sowers against Wilkes in 1949. Ursinus, Dec. 8, was the next scalp claimed by the Warriors. In a lethargic first half Lycoming managed to gain a four point advantage and then hitting on all cylinders, the Lycos ran off with a 62-46 decision. Again Graff was the spark plug, this time with 22 points. King's College joined the ranks of Lyco victims, Dec. 12, 78-60. In this one, Graff again hit 30.

Forced to play without Bill Graff, whose mother died Jan. 7, Lycoming opened the new year at Endicott, N. Y., against Harpur, Jan. 6. Shooting an amazing 51%, the Braves returned home with another scalp, 88-70. This time, veterans Jim Brodmerkel and Stu Kane picked up the scoring duties. At Mansfield, Jan. 10, once more without Graff, Vince Leta and Don Mosher, who filled in for Bill, sparked the Warriors to a 70-66 win. This one came within an eyelash of being the first loss of the season, but a last-ditch rally saved the unblemished record.

The remainder of this year's basketball schedule follows:

Jan. 12—Wilkes	H
Jan. 19—Nat. Agricul.	A
Jan. 20—Elizabethtown	A
Jan. 27—King's	A

Smith Superstitious;

Lycos Recognized

Coach Bob Smith, of Lycoming's rampaging Warriors, will not part with his battered "good-luck" hat. The Lyco head mentor wears it to each game. Thus far it has been a good omen.

The Lycoming eagles gained national recognition by virtue of their fine early-season play. The National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball places Billy Graff fourth in the country's small colleges with a 23.8 average per game. Bill was again mentioned in the shooting averages, ranking high with a 41.8% average on shots tried.

are being treated not just to a winning team, but also to fine musical entertainment. James W. Sheaffer, instructor in music, has organized a special "Little German Band," which has added tremendously to the games.
