

NEGRO HELD AS WOMAN'S SLAYER

Russel Davis, Who Lived With Slain Woman, Arrested as He Was Leaving His Home.

RAZOR IN EVIDENCE

Russel Davis, colored, who was arrested Friday as he was leaving his home, 1027 Odgen street, where he had lived with Mary Beverly, whose body with the throat cut was found Thursday afternoon in a field near St. Joseph's convent, Chestnut Hill, will be given a hearing at Ambler this afternoon, charged with being the slayer of the woman.

Davis was brought here by the State police and taken to the morgue of Paul Miller where he was made view the body of the dead woman. Davis denied all knowledge of the crime and stuck to his story that he had not seen her since Monday morning of last week. Davis maintains he is innocent and has employed an attorney to defend him.

The State police have had the razor, which was broken and found beside the body, identified. They claim they have found the owner of the razor, who stated that he loaned it to Davis and that it was not returned to him. The police are tracing Davis' movements from Monday when he claims he last saw the woman until Friday afternoon when he was arrested.

The colored woman found at Erdeheim near St. Joseph's Convent, on Thursday afternoon, with her throat cut, and who was brought to the morgue of Paul D. Miller, this borough, was identified, on Friday evening as Miss Mary Beverly, of 1027 Odgen street, Philadelphia and Russel Davis, colored of the same address, was arrested on Friday afternoon at his home by the State police suspected with committing the crime. He was taken to Ambler for a hearing.

Investigation by Coroner Neville and the State Police on Friday divulged that the dead woman and Davis have been living together at the Philadelphia address for a number of years. It is said that the woman threatened to leave the man and that he was supposed to have warned her if she did he would kill her.

When confronted by the officials Davis disclaimed any knowledge of the death of the woman claiming he had not seen her since Monday morning. Earl Green, a cousin of the dead woman, resides in the same house as did Davis and the Beverly woman. In company with Sarah Hawkins, Green came to this borough on Friday evening and identified the woman.

The dead woman was employed as a servant in the home of funeral director Elisha D. Steelman, 3033 Kensington avenue, Philadelphia. The woman left her place of employment on Tuesday evening and that was the last heard of her until her body was found on Thursday afternoon.

Awarding Dance Favors Cause a Near Riot at Norristown

The Saturday evening dance given by Miss Linda Jones in City hall Norristown ended in a fight when the favors were awarded, and has caused Miss Jones to give up the dances which she had planned for the immediate future in city hall.

In making the award for the second prize, the judges hesitated as the applause for Miss Anna Corrigan and Edward Jagers, both of Norristown, and Miss Grace Zearfoss, Bridgeport and Stanley Davis Manayunk, was about equal. The judges divided the prize. This was unsatisfactory to some of the audience and a free-for-all fight started. Officer Kehoe tried to restore order and it is claimed he was struck by Harry McGucken, 314 Arch street Norristown. McGucken ran away and was chased by the officer and captured after firing several shots. McGucken was given a hearing before Burgess Crawford on Sunday morning and fined $7.50.

Philadelphia newspapers, yesterday, printed an account of the near riot and gave full credit for the disorder to Conshohocken attendants at the dance. The only arrest made was that of a Norristown man. Conshohocken dancers were not concerned in the prizes as the only resident of this borough who participated in the awards was Edward English, who with Miss Freda Moll, of Bridgeport, received the fourth award, a consolation prize.

CELEBRATED HER 100TH BIRTHDAY

Surrounded by her children grand children and great grandchildren Mrs. Matilda McDermody celebrated the one hundredth anniversary of her birth at her home, 248 East Sixth avenue, on Sunday. During the day hundreds of friends of the venerable old lady called at her home to extend felicitations and congratulate her on her 100th birthday. In recognition of the unusual event members of the family arranged for supper. A large cake weighing twenty pounds, bearing the inscription Mother, and grandmother. 100th Anniversary. The cake was beautifully decorated and on it were 100 candles—one for each year of her age.

No one enjoyed the festivities more than did the aged hostess. She arose early and came downstairs where she remained the entire day until nine o'clock in the evening. When asked by one of her grandsons how it felt to be 100 years old Mrs. McDermody, replied that she did not feel any older than the youngest one present. She ate heartily of the supper and did not seem the least bit fatigued as the result of the strenuous day.

NEW FIRE ALARM INSTALLED

The Washington Fire Company at its own expense has provided the town with a modern fire alarm. The company purchased and has had erected on its building a large siren operated by electricity and compressed air. The cost of the apparatus is about $600. The siren was tested this morning and could be heard several miles. The siren is now in service and will sound the alarm for all fires reported to the company, which maintains men on duty at all hours of the day and night.

The fireman will work out a plan of signals to designate the location of fires within the borough.

SPOILED A PRETTY SPEECH

Summoning all the pathos possible into his voice, the amateur settlement worker was addressing his audience on the subject of certain poverty-stricken foreigners who if they weren't wretchedly miserable, at least ought to be.

"Think of it," he cried, dabbing at his eyes. "There are people down there who live on garlic alone! Imagine it! Garlic alone!"

"Well called back the Old Grouch as he made his way down the aisle toward the nearest exit. "If they live on garlic they ought to live alone."—American Legion Weekly.

PADDY LIVINGSTON CHOSEN AS COACH

Formerly of Logan A. A., One of the Best Semi-Professional Players in This Vicinity. Will Have Full Charge of Team. Expects to Have Strong Team of Local Players.

The Base Ball Committee of the Conshohocken Athletic Association on Saturday afternoon, signed up Paddy Livingston of Philadelphia to act as coach of the local Montgomery County League Team. There were a number of candidates for the position but Livingston seemed to be the best of the number. Paddy has an enviable record as a manager coach and player. He has had lots of experience and has been most successful. He has been identified for several seasons with the crack Logan A. A. nine acting as coach and captain. He also played with the team, being one of the best semi professional players in and around Philadelphia, and knows the game thoroughly.

Livingston will have full charge of the players, will act as coach and select the men for the various positions. He will also serve as one of the regular catchers.

The second practice of the season which was held last Saturday afternoon on the athletic field of the Lee Tire & Rubber Company was witnessed by a large number of spectators who took a deep interest in how the players worked out. More than enough candidates reported to select two teams and a regular game was played. The men showed plenty of pep in their work and Coach Livingston was well pleased with the showing. He expressed firm belief that an excellent team can be chosen from the local talent that has thus far reported. He will have charge of the practices from now on and feels confident that he will have one of the best teams in the league by the time of the opening game on May 14.

Livingston's troubles will be plenty from now on as he is bound to experience a difficult problem in selecting his team. For the in-field positions every candidate on Saturday played a bang up game and deserves a great amount of attention before the final decisions are made. Kennedy, Campbell, Kilpatrick, Custer, Williams, and Riggs are all good players and whoever gets the call for second base, third base and short stop will have some battle, although it is expected that all of the men will be carried on the team, so in case one or more of the regulars is off color an able substitute will be on hand to take care of the positions. For the position of first base Lloyd Behnke is giving Heimbecker a merry battle and if he continues to hit as well as he did last Saturday Lloyd should be given the choice. The outfield will be ably taken care of by Blake Jones, Hastings, Desinger, Moore and Moser. Michael McDonnell and Paschall are both, first-class catchers and are looking even better this year than ever before. Lefty Rein, Cobee and Thomas all worked out for a while and showed up to good advantage. Reynolds who made his initial appearance on Saturday, was on the mound for five innings and his work was considered great for so early in the season. He is a Philadelphia boy and last season pitched for Flasher's and Sun Oil. He has not yet been signed up for the local team as the Committee are going slow about selecting a pitcher and want to tryout several in order to be sure of getting the best available.

It is the intention to carry at least fifteen men throughout the season. Another practice will be held next Saturday at which time it is expected two additional pitchers will be on hand for a tryout.

The two teams line up as follows for last Saturday's game:

Williams 3b. Kennedy
Campbell 2b. Riggs
Behnke 1b. Heimbecker
Kilpatrick ss. Custer
Hastings lf. Woodward
Jones rf. Desinger
McDonnell c. Livingston
Moore cf. Blake
Rein p. Reynolds
Cobee p.

Speed Demon

A young man who had been in the city only three days but who had been paying attention to a pretty girl, wanted to propose but was afraid he might be thought too hasty. He delicately approached the subject as follows:

"Well I should say never put off till tomorrow that which you should have done day before yesterday."—Detroit Free Press.

FOUR INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Easter Pleasure Seekers Come to Grief When Their Car is Wrecked.

TWO STILL IN HOSPITAL

Five occupants of a Ford touring car seeking pleasure came to grief about 5:45 o'clock Sunday evening, when the car in which they were riding left the roadway and sideswiped a telegraph pole along the road leading from Port Kennedy village to Valley Forge Chapel. Four of the occupants were more or less injured, but the fifth member of the party escaped without a scratch.

The party consisted of Thomas Pierson, of Eighth avenue and Harry street, Herbert McFarland, East Eighth avenue, George Wilfong, William Gamble, Mechanicsville and Hallman Wynn, who is State road supervisor in Upper Merion township and resides with his family along the Crooked Lane Road, at Gulf Mills. It is said that Wynn owns the automobile.

The party was out for a pleasure trip and were going in the direction of Valley Forge. A short distance above Port Kennedy a large Packard automobile hove in sight and in attempting to turn out of the way, the Ford car got too far to the side of the road and slid down into a gutter about two feet deep, and sideswiped a telegraph pole. The machine was badly wrecked and the occupants thrown out. All of the men were more or less injured with the exception of McFarland who escaped unhurt. Passing automobilists who witnessed the accident hurried to the assistance of the injured men all of whom were rendered unconscious. A hurry call was sent to Dr. Hartman, of Port Kennedy, who was driven to the scene by A. Irvin Supplee, local feed merchant. Mr. Supplee knew all of the injured men. When the physician arrived the men were still lying in an unconscious state with blood streaming from wounds about the head and face. He saw that Pierson and Wilfong were seriously injured and the removed to Montgomery Hospital, Norristown. The men were conveyed to the institution in machines that had been driven up to the scene of the accident and stopped to render what aid they could.

At the hospital it was found that Pierson and Wilfong were seriously injured and will be confined to the institution for several days. The injuries of Wynn and Gamble while painful were not serious and they were discharged having their injuries dressed.

THE CLOSED SCHOOLS

From Germantown Independent. All this week the public schools are closed. There is no adequate excuse for letting school children loose for a week of idleness at the present season. It is an exaggerated phase of the growing tendency toward an excess of holidays.

Laws are passed keeping children in school until they are 16 years of age, and some enthusiasts would even extend those limits. But at the same time the schools are closed so much of the time that there is endless opportunity for lessons in idleness and profligacy during the prolonged school period.

When on every hand there is a demand for shorter hours, it is only to be expected that the school teachers should join in the demand.

Religious leaders realize that idleness is a menace to childhood. Hence much consideration has been given of late to the devising of some plan to provide classes in religious instruction for public school pupils Samuel B. Fairies touched upon this matter in an address before the Methodist Conference when in discussing the Vacation Bible Schools he said:

"We are discovering that the ten week's vacation is not for the sake of the children, but for the sake of the teachers. The children do not need it, but the teachers do need it to recuperate. The committee on Sunday schools thinks you should avail yourself of this opportunity to train children in the ten week's period."

CURED

"I notice that Agnes doesn't go around boring other people with her ailments as she used to."

"No; she met a man who cured her completely."

"A doctor?"

"Oh no. She was telling this man some of her symptoms when he remarked, 'It's strange how many of these things afflict people as they begin to grow old.' Since then she has held her tongue about them."—Boston Transcript.

ROBBERS STILL ACTIVE

Store in Conoughttown and One on Fayette Street Entered

The grocery store of Dominico Lollo, at 479 Old Elm street, Conoughttown in Plymouth township, was entered by robbers early yesterday morning and a quantity of cigars and cigarettes carried away and a box of soft drinks was drank and the empty bottles allowed to remain in the store.

Lollo, who resides on Maple street this borough, closed up his place of business about 9:30 o'clock Sunday evening and returned to his home. On Monday morning when he arrived at his store he found that his place had been entered, and articles were scattered around the floor.

An investigation of the premises showed that the rear door of the store had been pried open. Once on the inside the robbers worked undisturbed and they completely ransacked the store. An inventory of the stock showed that more than four cartons of cigarettes two boxes of cigars and about five dollars in pennies had been stolen. A box of soft drinks was also brought out in the center of the store and the contents drank and the empty bottles thrown about the place.

The dwelling house connected with the store is occupied but the occupants did not hear the robbers.

For the second time within a few weeks robbers forced an entrance into the hardware store of Kehoe Brothers, 109 Fayette street Saturday morning. As Albert Haverstick an employee at the post office was on his way to his work about 5:40 o'clock he heard the burglar alarm of the store ringing. He immediately notified John J. Kehoe, a member of the firm residing on Fayette street above Third avenue.

Mr. Kehoe came to the store and found that some one had entered the cellar. He was unable to tell whether the entrance was gained from the rear or front of the store as both windows had been opened. The glass in the front window was badly broken.

Upon investigation it was learned that the robbers had not been in any part of the building but the cellar. The door leading to the upper floor was securely bolted. Nothing was stolen.

The identity of the robbers was learned this morning and their arrest will be made this afternoon by Detective Ruggerio.

SUMMER MAKES A QUICK CHANGE TO WINTER.

A sudden and strong gale of wind from out of the West quickly followed with a light shower caused the quick closing of houses and other buildings and sent people scurrying for their overcoats which had been discarded.

At four o'clock yesterday afternoon the thermometer registered 84 degrees. The day was hot and sultry, but it was fine growing weather. Fruit trees came out in full blossom and under the strong sun many bushes were in bloom. Ten minutes after the gale arrived, the thermometer dropped 24 degrees and at 5 o'clock the mercury had fallen to 54 degrees. During the night a cold rain, accompanied by hail, fell and the mercury fell to 24 degrees.

Farmers and fruit growers are anxious about their trees some contending that the fruit will be blighted while others believe the high wind prevented freezing and that the buds had not been injured.

Today while a seasonable March day, can be registered as one of the cold days of an exceedingly mild winter.

UPPER MERION SCHOOL DISTRICT SELLS BONDS

The school board of Upper Merion township at a meeting last evening sold $100,000 improvement bonds to the Bridgeport National Bank at par and a premium of $100 and accrued interest. The bonds bear 5 per cent. interest from March 1, 1921 and are redeemable at the option of the school district in from 15 to 20 years.

The proceeds of the issue will be used to erect and equip a school building near Swedeland on land donated to the district for school purposes by the Alan Wood Iron & Steel Company.

The board has approved plans and specifications for the building and will soon let a contract for the erection of a building to be completed and ready for use at the opening of the next school in September.

MAN FOUND DEAD WITH THROAT CUT

Probable Suicide Found on Maple Street Saturday Morning.

BODY NOT IDENTIFIED

The body of an unidentified man, probably a suicide, was found along Maple street between First and Second avenues about 6:30 o'clock on Saturday morning with his throat cut. The man was taken to the morgue of Undertaker M. F. Moore, from where he was buried this morning in "Potter's Field", in the Gulf cemetery.

The body was first discovered by Nicholas Rotunda, who resides on Second avenue and is employed on the Reading Railway. He was on his way to work, taking a short cut by coming through his back yard, down an alley to Maple street and down Maple street. He discovered the body just in back of his property. Being in a hurry to catch his train he saw Joseph Kimmel and told him about it and asked him to notify the police.

Kimmel got in touch with Officer Spurlento and he immediately went to the scene and then notified Coroner Neville, who ordered the body removed.

When discovered the man had been dead for some time. He was lying face downward in a pool of blood, with a gaping wound about four inches long in his throat. Beside him was also found a safety razor blade in a stropping handle. The blade was covered with blood but there were no blood marks on the handle. A box of blades was also found nearby. The man had also removed his coat and hat and laid them to one side before cutting his throat.

At the morgue a search was made of the man's clothing with the hope of obtaining some means of identification. In his pockets were found two pocketbooks, containing forty-three cents, a gold cuff button and two pay checks of the Eastern Printing Company of Philadelphia. He also had a part of a loaf of baker's bread from which he had been eating.

One of the checks was sent to the paying company for identification and it was learned that it had been issued by the company to a man named "M. Cress", who worked for them only a short time shoveling snow. His address was not known by the company.

In making an investigation it was discovered that the man who was probably about thirty years old and about five feet six inches in height, stopped at the home of William Mullen, Elm and Marble streets. Mr. Mullen went out into the yard in the rear of his home about 11 o'clock on Friday evening and saw the man and asked him what he was doing there. The man replied that he was looking for a pump. Mr. Mullen asked him if he wanted a drink of water and he answered in the affirmative. Mr. Mullen invited him into the kitchen and offered him a glass and ordered him to help himself. The stranger drank five glasses of water, thanked Mr. Mullen and on leaving went out E'm street and turned down Forrest street. That was the last he saw of him until he went on Saturday morning to identify him. Mr. Mullen said the stranger was a foreigner, probably an Italian.

The man wore khaki sweater, blue striped overalls, blue chambray shirt and black shoes.

Big Congregations Attend Easter Services

The delightful spring weather made Easter an ideal day and there was a great outpouring of church goers. All the services in all the churches were largely attended and special music was sung by the various choirs.

At both St. Mark's Lutheran and Calvary P. E. churches the evening service was for the children. The 9 o'clock mass at St. Matthew's church was a children's mass and the music was by the children directed by Sisters of St. Joseph. At the 10:30 mass Rt. B. J. Bradley, L.L.D., president of Mt. St. Mary's college, Emmittsburg, Md., preached the sermon. The annual Easter offering for the school was received and amounted to $4800, the largest Easter offering in the history of the parish.

In the Baptist church seven young men were baptized and received into the church, the first time in years that all of the new communicants were men.

The many rains and warm weather during March has brought forth the emerald color of spring in much of its beauty and freshness, and the landscape hereabouts is beginning to assume that picturesque appearance which brings forth admiration from the observer.

From the fact that the operators of different textile mills are advertising for help in the various departments is an indication that the conditions in that industry which have been dull for a time promise improvements. A vast army of workers gain their livelihood in the textile plants, consequently the improvements in the business is good news and is received with grateful recognition on their part.

Within about a month past death has claimed five persons in this district, three from Mechanicsville and two from Gulf Mills. Numbered among them was the infant in its mother's arms to those in the meridian of life. Their work in this world is completed and they have returned to their maker, they have been called home to the fold; they have entered a different sphere of life.

God in his wisdom had so designed this and those who are left and whose hearts are seared with the deep bereavement bow in submission to the inevitable. It is doubtful whether any number of persons like this ever passed away in such a short space of time in the history of the place, therefore the bereavement is manifest widely among relatives and friends, who feel very poignantly death summons. Two of the persons who passed over the great divide were old and well known residents of the place, and were descendants of families prominent at Gulf Mills in the early history of the village. Two others had resided at Mechanicsville for some years. Among those who answered to the call from life's activities was a young man who was so unfortunate as to be bitten by a dog from the fact that he evidently died from the effects of rabies, shows conclusively that a non-to-stringent law can be enacted governing the ownership of dogs. Some persons who own dogs often place their valuation above that of a human being. The inconsistency of such a belief should be cause for rebuke and the sooner a canine fancier is dissuaded from this seemingly vicious idea, the sooner will he be recognized by his fellow men as a citizen with a human heart. The death of the Mechanicsville young man from the effects of having been bitten by a dog has startled the citizenry of that section of Upper Merion, and the many deaths within such a short space of time has cast a gloom over the entire community.

At the Gulf Christian church on Sunday the Easter observance was appropriate and impressive. Rev. Albert Loucks, pastor, gave discourses that brought out many strong and interesting points on the great Resurrection. The choir rendered a program of special Easter music, and solo renditions were also given. This was Rev. Albert Loucks' first Easter at the local charge, he having succeeded Rev. M. W. Buler, who went to a pastorate at Muncie, Indiana.

The decorations at both Trinity Mission and the Gulf Christian church on Sunday were in keeping with the spirit of Easter, and they infused into the festival a beautiful meaning and a charming effect.

Rev. Charles Schiffer of Lansdale minister in charge at Trinity Mission, preached morning and evening on Easter Sunday and delivered special discourses. Communion was observed at the former service. A program of special music was rendered. Following the custom of preceding years, Easter blooms were distributed among the members of the school.

THE MAN WITH VIGOR A WINNER

No Wonder Some Folks Have a Hard Time Getting Ahead

IT TAKES RED BLOOD TO SUCCEED

Pepto-Mangan Restores Vigor A Really Wonderful Tonic Purifies & Tones Up the Blood

It takes vitality to succeed because success requires hard work.

Some days you get along all right. Other times you have to strain and you overexert yourself. When that happens, your system is overtaxed. It shows first in the blood. The over-exertion causes an increase in waste matter. The blood struggles to take care of it all. Gradually the poisons in the waste increase too fast for the blood. Then the blood becomes clogged.

First thing you know you feel all tired out. Sleep does you little good. You can't eat well. You wonder what the trouble is.

Then is the time to get some Pepto-Mangan, the blood building tonic. Take it for awhile till your blood is cleared up. You'll soon have plenty of rich, red blood. Notice the difference in your work. Your old time energy returns. You win out because you are stronger.

Pepto-Mangan is sold in both liquid and tablet form. The tablets have the same medicinal value as the liquid. Take either kind you prefer. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan—"Gude's." The full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," should be on the package—Adv.

Housing Conditions.

The house shortage is still seriously affecting the town. Despite the business depression, real estate men are experiencing a demand for houses that they cannot supply.

Building here as in other sections practically ceased during the war period and unstable prices have been responsible for retarding resumption in the building trades. Readjustment is taking place. Labor and material costs have been reduced and when people feel assured that prices in the building trades are proportionate with those of the other trades building will be resumed on a large scale.

This community is sorely in need of homes. Hundreds of persons employed here must live elsewhere. When business again becomes normal, the necessity for homes will be greater as the expense of commuting to and from work and the loss of time will be more seriously felt than under the extravagance of the war period. From the statements of real estate men, there is a good market here for a hundred houses at least.

Bolshevism is being condemned by its own friends. Gorky, the great Russian Socialist and one of the leaders of the Bolsheviks deplors the fact that the workingmen of Russia are not producing but are destroying their own work.

The great upheaval in Russia came about by promises to the workingmen, peasants and soldiers and sailors that their lot would be easier; that they would participate in the profits of their work and that which has been built by capital would be distributed among them. The latter has come to pass. Mansions, great estates, industrial plants have been taken by the Bolsheviks but have been put to a sorry use. The people have been taught false doctrine that they will receive something for nothing. Russia is not producing and each day the people are becoming more miserable. The Soviet Government is holding out concessions as bait that other nations might be tempted to give them recognition and trade with them. The Soviet Government is being operated with stolen goods and is ruling with the utmost tyranny. This country has been asked to trade with and give recognition to such a government. It is hoped America ideals shall not be forgotten and engagements made with such a government that engages in murder, thievery and all the acts of savagery.

The Government as a Physician.

The silly, assinine and scandalous methods employed in the enforcement of the prohibition law has brought forth the contempt of responsible men and made of the nation the laughing stock of the world.

Another new ruling regarding the manufacture and sale of beer for medicinal purposes has been promulgated and like all previous rulings on prohibition for a way to provide drink for a class while denying it to another class, places the Government in a more ridiculous situation. The Government in its beer ruling has usurped the prerogatives of a physician. It recognizes beer is a medicine and sick people need it. It goes further and prescribes a maximum amount to be taken in a given time. The Government prohibition doctors do not prescribe a minimum dose, nor do they prescribe the length of time for treatment.

Beer, to have its medicinal value, must follow the regular channels of a prescription. It is to be made in a separate plant from near-beer. It must be prescribed by a physician and must be purchased through the wholesale and retail druggists. A comic opera plot would devise nothing more ludicrous; a Wallingford would not devise a more happy and more profitable way to delude and defraud the people and the amazing feature of the whole situation is that the American people, known for their practicability, tolerate such a condition.

Prohibition is the law of the land but as it affects only a certain class of the people, it is openly violated by all classes to such an extent that it is not considered law breaking. The people laugh at the Government playing the role of a physician and the supplying of imported liquors to those who are able to pay. Europe laughs at us and the distillers and wine makers report an unprecedented business with the United States and all the Scotch and Irish whiskies, stouts and ales and fine wines are for medicinal use.

These great importations are not fooling the people and the prohibition law is not prohibiting. The person who can afford to pay the price can get all the liquors wanted. The law as it is enforced operates only against the poor man, who knowing the rich are getting all they want, patronize the boot-legger, make their own and are charged extortionate prices for vile stuff.

For the dignity and honor of American citizenship, the prohibition laws should either be modified or enforced to the letter. The medicinal feature of the law is hypocritical. While the campaign for prohibition was being waged, medical associations, physicians, irrationals and all who believed that law is the means to correct morals, denounced liquors as having no medicinal value. Today the Government gives alcoholic liquors a great place in medicine and permits the manufacture, sale and importation in vast quantities but only for the ones who are able to pay.

The disregard of the prohibition law is so general that the people can easily drift into the way of breaking other laws with the consequence that the laws and our institutions will lack support of the whole people and they will fail.

The prohibition laws have failed in their purpose. They will ever fail as they are class legislation and oppose the liberty and freedom of the people. They are creating a most dangerous situation and if the laws are not enforced upon all the people alike and loop holes closed that give liberties to one class and deny them to another, the country will be endangered.

Enforce the prohibition laws to the letter and upon all the people.

GEN. LEONARD WOOD MAKES APPEAL FOR NEAR EAST RELIEF

Says Two and a Half Million
Starving Armenians Need Help at Once.

Pt. Sheridan, Ill.—Major General Leonard Wood, commanding the Sixth Corps Area, has issued a Lenten sacrifice appeal for funds to save the Armenians from annihilation by starvation and disease. "I feel that however many and however worthy the other appeals which are being made to the great heart of America these days may be," he says, "this cry from the little children cannot remain unanswered."

The Near East Relief, 1 Madison avenue, New York City, which has been charged by Congress with the American relief work in the whole Near East, has formed a special "Lenten Sacrifice Appeal Committee," of which Major General Wood is chairman, Charles V. Vickery secretary and Cleveland H. Dodge treasurer, to put before the American people the desperate need of the Christian populations of the Near East, who have sufferred and are still suffering the horrors of war.

MAJ. GEN. LEONARD WOOD

Among the prominent members of General Wood's Committee are Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon, Mrs. Corinne Roosevelt Robinson, sister of the late President Roosevelt, ex-President W. H. Taft, Mary Garden, President John Grier Hibben of Princeton University, Bishop-Elect William T. Manning of New York, Dr. Henry van Dyke, David Belasco, Samuel Gompers, Frank A. Munsey, Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, Mrs. Henry Morgenthau, John G. Milburn of the American Bar Association, Miss Elizabeth Marbury and Mrs. Medill McCormick of Chicago.

General Wood's Appeal
 As Chairman of a Special Committee of representative men and women of the country, charged with placing before the American people the desperate need of two and a half million Armenians, the remnant of the oldest Christian nation, whose sufferings through sixteen centuries seem to have brought them no nearer peace, liberty or security, I beg your personal co-operation and influence to forward an appeal for a Lenten Sacrifice Offering to enable the Near East Relief to go on with its work of mercy.

Over one hundred thousand little children who have been kept alive by American generosity for the past three years are absolutely dependent upon the support which America gives them through the Near East Relief.

I feel that however many and however worthy the other appeals which are being made to the great heart of America these days may be, this cry from the little children of the land where Christ gave his life for mankind cannot remain unanswered.

Will you help to save this martyred people?

Leonard Wood
 Leonard Wood,
 Major General,

PRESIDENT ENDORSES THE NEAR EAST RELIEF APPEAL

Washington.—President Harding has given his hearty endorsement to the appeal being made by Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood on behalf of the Near East Relief, 1 Madison Avenue, New York City, for a nation-wide Lenten Sacrifice Offering to save the starving Christians of the Near East.

The President's letter reads:
 "There ought to be no cessation or relaxation of our sympathetic American efforts to be of service to these stricken people. One can well believe that they will not survive if we withdraw the relief which has heretofore been so generous from the private American purse. It has seemed to me that all we have done has borne dividends tenfold in the consciousness that we have done an humane thing for a people well deserving our generous sympathy.

"I wish you the very greatest success in furthering the great relief movement to which you are now giving your attention.

"WARREN G. HARDING."

Chamber of Commerce is Just As Valuable as Its Members Make It

Frequently there arises in Conshohocken, as in every other live community things that ought to be done and the first thought of many people is that the Chamber of Commerce ought to do them. To meet the requirements of the time and build up an organization that will be effective, the Chamber of Commerce officials are planning to ask more people of Conshohocken to take hold.

"The Chamber of Commerce anywhere," secretary Mitchell said this morning, "can do only what the members will. It can be as active only as the membership is active. It must have adequate support and ample finance to enable it to meet its needs."

The Conshohocken Chamber is to be recast on an absolute business basis and will be conducted the same as any other business institution in the community. It will operate on a budget and will take account of stock, like all business houses. The war has taught the need of community organizations and the organization of manpower will be utilized for peace time pursuits.

Every live city to-day has a strong Chamber of Commerce and there is competition among cities just as between business houses. The Chamber of Commerce intends to capitalize this competition for the advantage of Conshohocken and to build this Chamber to a strong and representative basis. It cannot do this without the help of the men and women of Conshohocken and it plans to ask all the good citizens of the city to take hold and do their share.

Shortly a brief drive for increased memberships will be held and the Chamber of Commerce officials ask that the citizens respond.

The Trade Bureau are to hold a meeting in the Park House on Tuesday evening to discuss plans for the formation of a live Merchants' Association in the town. They are also to talk over plans for a get-together meeting of all the merchants in the near future.

The members of this bureau are Wm. Katz, P. J. Leary Harry Woodland and George Taylor.

Lee Tire & Rubber Co. Increases Production.
Paper Mills To Close for Two Weeks

Betterment is the industrial situation and one that will give relief to a number of families was experienced yesterday when the Lee Tire and Rubber Company increased its production to 75 per cent. of normal capacity. The company was running at about 35 per cent. of capacity before the first of the year and has gradually increased production until yesterday when it began work at the highest capacity for the year. Whether there will be any further increase or how long the present capacity will be maintained is problematical as the spring months are the big selling months for automobiles and if there is any business for the year, it must be shown in the spring and early summer.

The rolling mills are operating at about the same capacity as during the previous weeks. The management is arranging as far as possible to alternate the working of the mills in order to give each employe a share of the work. The rolling mills are operating slightly less than 50 per cent.

The Hamilton Paper Mills at Lafayette will close on Friday for two weeks and possibly longer on account of dullness in the paper trade. This shut down will throw about 375 employes out of work temporarily. The management hope the shut down will continue for two weeks only but if conditions do not improve the resumption of operations will be further postponed.

The textile trade has lost some of its activity and there is less demand for yarns. The local hosiery factory is still running at full production as is the local clothing factory and these plants expect to continue.

There is a slight improvement in the cigar manufacturing business here and a local factory has increased production.

There is practically no improvement in the glass industry and local industries are working for short time.

Retail merchants had varied experiences in the Easter trade. A local confectioner prepared in advance to boost trade by publicity and he was agreeably surprised with the results. He stated to a Recorder representative that his Easter business equaled that of last year. Other merchants who had prepared by using publicity reported the Easter trade as being beyond their expectations.

Grocers reported the Easter trade as being good and less extension of credits were asked than in previous weeks. The retailers report that conditions are showing a slight improvement with more money in circulation.

TO REDUCE DANGEROUS
VARICOSE VEINS

People who have swollen veins or bunches should not wait until they reach the bursting point, which means much suffering and loss of time, but should at once secure from any reliable druggist a two-ounce original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength).

By using this powerful, yet harmless germicide treatment improvement is noticed in a few days and by its regular use swollen veins will return to their normal size, and sufferers will cease to worry. Moone's Emerald Oil treatment is used by physicians and in hospitals and is guaranteed to accomplish results or money returned.

It reduces all kinds of enlarged glands, gotters and wens and is used exclusively in many large factories as an unfailing first aid to the injured antiseptic. Generous sample on receipt of 15 cents, silver or stamps. International Laboratories, Rochester N. Y. Your druggist can supply you.—Adv.

War Work Taught Women
The Science of Money Raising

Elizabeth Rudyerd Currier.

Women and money have been war she gave her time and ability earned for ages, but in the past freely to the gigantic task of raising usually have been disclosed in the funds for the Red Cross in its two act of parting company. Prior to the world war American women were justly celebrated as spenders, needing only sufficient encouragement to try their hand at reducing the most plethoric bank accounts. The war loan campaigns and allied service, charitable and religious campaigns developed in hundreds of cases the versatile, adaptable woman into a money-raiser of respect-compelling ability.

Before women became identified with the raising of money on a large scale—back when a woman usually confined herself to canvassing her husband and male relatives for contributions to any cause she was interested in—Elizabeth Rudyerd Currier had begun her long record of organizing and directing successful campaigns. During the

Although her home is in New York, Mrs. Currier is known from the Eastern seaboard to the wheatland states of the northwest for her direction of campaigns—usually for hospitals, educational or religious institutions—with funds totaling many millions being raised. Mrs. Currier attributes her successful record as a campaign director to the fact that she is a woman. The success of a campaign depends on the organization of a mass of details which the feminine temperament is peculiarly equipped to recognize and develop. Mrs. Currier has won the warm commendations of Henry P. Davison, as well as of college presidents and hospital heads. She says it is as easy to raise a big sum as a small one if the cause is worthy and is presented properly.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

The courier, of course, had his story to tell. He was a messenger, and his name was Co-operation. He told his story to the boy and girl adventures, and they listened, for they wanted to hear what he had to say, and they knew that he wanted to help them.

"Oh," said the girl to the boy, "did you have a perfectly dreadful time during the long hours we were separated and afraid each other was lost?"

"Dreadful," said the boy, "but it is over with now. How about you? How did you get along?"

"Not so badly," said the girl, for she didn't think it was quite so dreadful to look back upon as it was when she was going through it all alone.

"How did you know I was safe?" she asked, turning to the courier.

"We got these messages," he said, "all through the woods. You see, we can't control the rules which govern the owners of the House of Secrets. The owners, I might tell you, are the secrets themselves. Each one owns

THE TIGER GIRL.

The girl who was about to enter the room stood poised on the stair as if she were waiting. She heard her own name mentioned and waited. Her hair shone tawny in the window light, and her face was soft-lit as a flower. The golden lashes veiling her yellow-black eyes glistened like sunny dewdrops. She stood calm, expectant.

"I call her the tiger-cat," her hostess was saying. "We had one once just like her, subtle, ever ready to stab with her hidden claws. Grestly for that which was—or was not her own. Claiming, by cunning or force, it might be. And yet, we could not part from the thing. It had an endearing manner of cuddling up to one, expressing with its yellow head or begging pardon with enlashed outstretched paws. That is Pauline. When I lose patience with her completely," Marion Dale smiled at her confession, "Pauline is sure to come it over me one way or another. She can charm and conciliate women as well as men on those occasions when it suits her purpose."

The small person on the window seat turned so that the listener could see her face.

"Aren't you bitter, Marion?" she reproved.

"Bitter!" Mrs. Dale's tone expressed exasperation.

"It is you who should be bitter, Nell, with that woman taking Paul from you, before your very eyes. And only for a passing whim to show her powers, not that a public exhibition is necessary, merry knows; for the men follow her about for a smile or a frown."

"I do not think," Nell said slowly, "that Pauline will throw Paul over."

Nell paused between the door draperies.

"Maybe," she suggested, "it might be better, Marion, to try to tame the tiger."

"He Was Tall."

A room. But while we can't change things, we couriers, we are messengers, and we find out where all the adventures are, even if we don't let them know it.

"Now, I was sent out to find the boy. They told me he was doing some fine things. He went in the direction which Joy had told him was the short cut. It was full of trunks of trees, and there were two ravines, and it would seem as though it would take longer than the smooth road—it was so full of obstacles—which are big things that get in the way."

"And again I was the one who wanted to go the wrong way," said the girl.

"You wanted, it is true, to go along the road which seemed so well traveled. You thought surely this time it was right, and that we were trying to fool you. Sometimes a well-traveled road might be right—it is a puzzle. But not this one. 'For this one is well beaten with the tracks of the lazy and the ones who have no courage. You took the right one, boy, though you didn't succeed right away, and though others laughed at you.'"

"I didn't succeed at all," said the boy. "I got lost."

"Not really," said the courier.

"You are one of those people who believe in trying a thing more than once. You didn't mind stumbling. In fact, you were a pretty good sport."

The girl liked to hear the boy praised, and she knew he deserved it. "I'm going to see that all this traveling you did gets you nearer the House of Secrets in a shorter time. You really wandered very far away, girl."

"But I don't want to leave the girl," said the boy.

"Of course not," said the courier.

"He'll have to leave me, for I'll have to go all over the distance which he went over without me," said the girl sadly.

"Not a bit of it," said the courier.

"My message to you both is this: I'm going to take you both on my horse—there is room, and we're going to go along a special road, down which I came this morning. You didn't notice it before.

"It was filled with branches and trunks of trees, but they've been cleared away during the night, and a new little road made around the ravines. I have so much to tell you!"

"Don't imagine I'm going to reward the boy because he was good and leave you out because you didn't do the right thing.

"You're bound to make mistakes, I'll explain. Come! Mount the horse!"

The girl looked at the kindly face of the courier. He wore a green cap which ended in a point, from which dangled three brass bells.

He was tall and rather thin, and from his sleeves and shoulders and the end of his breeches were bells dangling from his handsome green suit.

"My name," he explained, "is Co-operation. You see, you must have the spirit of co-operation, in your adventures. When one of you makes a mistake, the other mustn't leave and march on alone.

"You must work and play together—that's what my name means," he ended.

THAT DULL ACHING

Don't worry and complain about a bad back. Get rid of it! For weak kidneys, lame and achy backs, your neighbors recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Ask your neighbor! Read this statement:

Mrs. Wm. F. Dewees, 100 Merion ave., Conshohocken, says: "About three years ago I had kidney trouble I suffered terribly and could hardly get up or down. There was a dull, nagging ache in the small of my back all the time. At times sharp, cutting pains would almost double me up. In the morning I was so lame and stiff I could hardly drag myself around. My kidneys didn't act right at all. After suffering a long time, I decided to try Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box at McCoy's Drug Store and they helped me so, that I continued with them until I was entirely cured of the attack."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Dewees had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mrs. Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.
