Barr Named Police Officer On West Side

Resigns His Council Post, Defeats Six Candidates by 5-2

West Conshohocken — Allan W. Barr, 36, of 719 Ford St., former third ward councilman, was elected police officer at a council session last night, when the borough increased its force to two full-time patrolmen and voted to retain a part-time officer.

Barr, who submitted his resignation to Council, effective immediately, received a 5-2 vote for the position, when the names of seven applicants were presented for the job.

Chief Frank Altopiedi, 633 Ford St., who was the borough's lone officer a number of years, last month submitted his resignation, but at a special meeting later agreed to remain if the borough would provide additional assistance.

In addition to the two full-time officers, Albert Slater, 119 Ford St., will continue as a part-time officer, a position he has held here nearly five years.

The new police officer, who will be sworn in by Burgess Harry F. Mosman as soon as a uniform is supplied, is a former athlete at West Conshohocken High School where he was graduated in 1937.

Until Autocar Co. removed to Exton recently, Barr was a foreman in the inspection department at the Ardmore plant where he was employed 13 years.

A native of Akron, O., he came here as a young boy. He has been a property owner in the borough since 1943. Married to the former Helen Westwood, of Hallowell Hill, they have two sons, Aljar T., 16, and Robert Louis, 13.

After the election of the new officer, Council agreed to give Slater a four-day vacation with pay.

Salaries of the full-time patrolmen remain at $350 for the chief and $250 for the two officers.

Other applicants seeking the position were Mark Miller, 643 Ford St., who received votes of councilmen James Kelly and John Szlachetich for the job.

Councilmen Charles Anko, Paul Hartman, George Haven, Henry McGovern and George Minnis voted for Barr.

British Widow of Airman Lives Life in America, Will Stay in Borough

By Elizabeth G. Collins

Conshohocken — The 21-year-old American airman and his pretty British bride were making plans to come to the States last October.

Airmen 2/c Henry F. Firestone, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Firestone, Sr., 386 E. Hector St., and his wife, the former Margaret Carrington, 20, were in the process of procuring passports for the trans-Atlantic voyage when fate intervened. They had packed some of their clothes.

A motorcycle accident at Margate, England, near the airman's base at Minnis Bay, North Bournemouth, Kent, April 11, took his life a few days later. His body was sent here. The funeral was held May 1.

Carrying out alone the plans she had shared in happy anticipation with her husband, the British girl is now making her home with the Firestone family. She is planning their first months old daughter, Linda, in her father's native land, in accordance with his wishes.

"I like America and Conshohocken very much," the dark-haired, dark-eyed former Britisher, says. "My husband had told me so much about the country and his home town that I feel much at home."

She said she plans to make it her home for the rest of her life. Traveling from Great Britain by air Mrs. Firestone and daughter arrived at Westover Air Base, Mass., where they were met by the senior Firestone, who accompanied them.

Airman Firestone had nearly completed his scheduled four years of Air Corps service. His time would have been up Dec. 28.

"I met him the first day he arrived at Margate three years ago," Margaret Firestone said. "We were together since that time, and we were married two years ago in Kent."

Before her marriage, Mrs. Firestone, Jr. was a dental receptionist and a child's nurse. Her hobbies are painting pictures, knitting and making her own clothes.

Proposed Ordinance Will Be Aired at Meeting Wednesday

Conshohocken — Fate of the proposed curfew to clear borough streets of boys and girls under 16 by 10 at night, is expected to be decided at a public hearing scheduled for the opening of the August meeting of Conshohocken Town Council, at 8 Wednesday night in the Borough Hall, Hector and Forrest Sts.

While the revolutionary ordinance, echoing one shelled more than 30 years ago, already in written form and passed its first reading by a 7 to 3 vote at the last meeting of Council July 14, Ray L. Fiero, Council president, indicated today that "whether or not the borough has a curfew law rests with the people."

He said, "I hope there will be a large turnout of the public next Wednesday night—for I believe Council will be guided Wednesday night by the sentiments of the public toward it."

According to borough code, the remaining two readings of the ordinance required before adoption, may both be made at Wednesday night's session. This makes adoption possible at the meeting, although the signature of Burgess Edmund K. Williams is necessary for enactment. At the same time the curfew law can be adopted.

Reason behind the aim to establish the 10-o'clock street-clearing for teenagers in the younger bracket is given by a borough official as "particularly that recurring after hours at public playgrounds, or between its summer sessions."

The Recreation Committee, comprising five councilmen and two school directors and a member-at-large, submitted the curfew ordinance at a meeting several months ago and presented it to Council.

Chairman, Miller, second ward, councilman, is chairman of the committee. Others include James Desmond, Lewis Nohitt, Philip Gravines and Harrison Brad, all councilmen. Dr. Russell C. Erb and Dr. Walter Willis, school directors, and Mrs. Henry E. Rollins, Sr., secretary.

Miller taking the lead in council for the new ordinance, said the recreation committee is "100 percent for it, and the majority of the people who have contacted me about it—favor it."

Strangely opposing the proposed curfew is Harry M. Rowland, (Continued on Page Six)

Tanker, Filled With Gas, Oil Burns on Pike

Driver Jumps Back Into Cab to Remove Vehicle from Flames

Plymouth Center — Three thousand gallons of gasoline resulted when a tanker containing 3,000 gallons of gasoline and fuel oil caught fire on Germantown Pike between Hickory and Plymouth roads, at 8:45, Tuesday morning according to J. Donald Taylor, Plymouth Twp. fire marshal.

Volunteer firemen worked feverishly an hour and a half, under constant hazard of explosion of the big cylinder. The blaze was subdued on the truck belonging to C. J. Langenfelder & Sons, Baltimore, Md., contractors on the New Jersey Extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike now under construction through Plymouth and Whitmarsh townships.

Their Wood, about 30, of Santoga Trailer Park, Pottstown, was driver of the big vehicle. On the ground near the stopped truck when the fire broke out, he heroically jumped out of the cab, to get to the driver's side and try to get the vehicle back 25 feet on Germantown Pike, in a vain effort to get it away from the flames.

The fire actually started, it is believed, in and along a one-inch hole through which the 250 gallons of gasoline in the truck was being transferred to a gasoline-driven air compressor. The compressor feeds the jack-hammers in use on the turnpike.

Because of the intense heat and flames, it was impossible to shut off the valve at the rear end of the truck, fire officials said. The gasoline continued to flow uninterrupted through the hose, feeding the flames and sending the fire to the front of the truck, burning the cab interior and shattering the windshield.

The eight tires on the truck burned and exploded. Extensive damage was also done to the air compressor. The 1700 gallons of fuel oil in the burning truck was saved.

Harmonville and Plymouth fire companies fought the flames with chemical agents by Barren Hill Fire Co. Tarrabon directed the firemen's work.

Opinion Split On Sewers

King of Prussia — Upper Merion Twp. Authority is continuing a survey in the new developments of the rapidly-expanding area for installation of sewers.

Motion picture residents divided opinion on the proposal at a meeting last Thursday night in Upper Merion High School auditorium.

No action was taken on the matter, since a session was arranged to receive opinion from residents on a recent survey. Some favored the plan, while others objected.

Areas involved include King of Prussia, Forge Farm, Brandynville, Village and Candlebrook. Another survey is scheduled to take place in Swedesburg, where residents have requested installation of a number of years.

Cost to individual homeowners would be $100 a house, in addition to annual sewer rental which will not exceed $50 a year, a spokesman said.

Residents without cesspool difficulty felt they were satisfied and had no need of sewers, while other property owners voted favorable opinion on the sewer plan.

In the event the proposed plans are approved, the township would construct its own sewage disposal plant in Upper Merion, it was stated.

William E. Willis, Authority treasurer, appointed a year ago with a committee to discuss the problem, presided at the meeting.

Folier described the tractor section of the big dual-vehicle as a "total loss." Some damage was also reported to the property of Joseph Caputo of Luetta and Fairfield Sts.

Tidwell told Plymouth Twp. police he was operating the tractor-trailer, the property of Tose, Inc., Bridgeport haulers, south on Fairfield Rd. As he went down an incline, he applied the brakes and the vehicle doubled on itself.

It creased across the road, uprooting two trees and shearing off an electric pole, hurling live wires to the ground. Another tractor towed the trailer away. Electric crews were summoned to the scene. Officer Salvatore Carbo investigated.

AS THEY PASS

It's 'Good Neighbor Policy' — That's for Sure — At Horning-Andrey Wedding on Saturday
By Elizabeth G. Collins

SENTIMENT AND GENUINE FRIENDSHIP are usually the very essence of the wedding time, with proper recognition of tender emotions and long and hallowed associations at one of life's most important occasions. . . . The nuptials of Conshohocken's Joan Andrey and Norristown's Ronald Horning, Jr., scheduled for Saturday in St. Matthew's have an extra share of such a pleasant backdrop. . . . Three of the bride's four attendants have been her close neighbors and close friends since childhood, the fourth has been her classmate throughout her school life. . . . Mary Ann Brown, Dorothy Quinn and Joanne Shimmers, the bridesmaids, all live within a few doors of the bride on E. Eighth Ave. . . . Mary Ann, Dorothy and Mrs. Daniel Stauffer, the former Kathleen Millhouse, the matron of honor, were graduated from St. Matthew's High School with Joan in 1952. . . . Joanne Shimmers completed her studies at the same school last June. . . . Further emphasizing the "good neighbor policy" of the wedding, Raymond Rodenbaugh, an usher, also lives in the same block as the bride-elect. . . . Michael Dearolf, another usher, is the next-door neighbor of the bridegroom-elect. . . .

The former Peggy Ann Collins of Plymouth Valley, a bride of two months, has joined her husband, Altran William Gadd, in Denver. . . . Peggy's mother-in-law, Mrs. Warren Gadd of Norristown, made the rail trip with her and will remain for two weeks. . . . The newlyweds expect a furlough at Christmas when they will visit the Thomas Collines of Plymouth Valley, formerly of Conshohocken, and the Gadds. . . .

MANY MILES FOR THE MILONS . . . Mrs. John Milon, daughter, Betty and son, Edwin, motored East from Cincinnati, recently to join another daughter, Pat, and son, Jack, already vacationing at the home of their maternal grandmother, Mrs. Stanley Nalowski of E. Fourth Ave. . . . Betty went on to Wildwood for a brief visit with friends, before flying back Sunday night to resume duty in the office of a nationally-known soap firm in the Ohio city. . . . Just before Labor Day, Betty and her Dad, Cincinnati distributor for "home-baked" bread company, will fly to Pennsylvania, join the rest of the family here and all will motor back to Ohio together. . . .

Many a year since ole' Dobbin clawed impatiently at the curb as he stood tethered at the iron post on lower Third Ave. just above Maple St., but the ancient hitchin' and a company still stand, relics of horse-and-wagon days. . . . Old-time residents of the street believe the pair to be the last of their kind in the borough. . . . Even the hitchin' post, adorned with a horse's head, which stood for decades outside the Presbyterian Church at Third Ave. and Fayette Street has long been removed for lack of business. . . .

HIGH C FOR CAROL . . . Lovely blonde, emerald-eyed Carol Lee Bergey of W. Tenth Ave., Conshohocken, has been awarded a scholarship for a second year of study at the Academy of Vocal Arts, Philadelphia. . . . Gaining one for the last year through skilled vocalization at Conshohocken High School, where she was graduated in 1953, she wound up her freshman year only last Friday and will resume studies in mid-September. . . . During "vacation," she will again join the staff of the Conshohocken Federal Savings and Loan Association. Already Carol Lee has won recognition in the music world, through selection as one of a quartet of young women to appear in a grand opera last Fall on the stage of the hallowed Academy of Fine Arts, Philadelphia. . . .

CHATTERMATTER . . . An eighth grader at Plymouth-Whitemarsh High School was one of seven county students named among 712 winners throughout the nation in an annual industrial arts competition sponsored by a motor company. . . . George Estell, 12-year-old son of the George Estell, 733 Germantown Pike, Barren Hill, gained the $20 award for a lamp entered in the plastics division. . . .

Parents Warned About Fires Set By Children

Conshohocken — Washington Fire Co. has received a number of calls in the last few weeks reporting that children are setting fires to beds and dumps, a company spokesman said today.

Because of the extreme dryness of the season, fires of any proportions are of great danger, he said. Fire officials urged that evidence of such action on the part of the youngsters be reported and every effort be made by parents and others to prevent it.

Conshohocken — Three weekend runs by the Washington Fire Co. included two at the same site Saturday.

At 3:30 in the afternoon the firemen were summoned to a shack on the property of the American Refractories Corp. of America, Washington and Oak Sts. The shack was burned to the ground. At 6:03, a second call summoned them back to the same property, where several logs were burning. No. 2 company also responded on the first call.

Both Washington and No. 2 Companies were called to the Jones Lumber Co. Hector and Cherry Sts. at 11:30, Saturday morning where a fence and a quantity of lumber were burned.

Cedar Heights — Pvt. Harvey Houck, son of Paul Houck, Roberts Ave., has reported to Camp Lejeune, N. C., after spending a 15-day furlough at home, following completion of Marine basic training at Parris Island, S. C.

Prior to entering service April 28, he was employed by a landscape architect in Trooper. He attended Conshohocken High School.

Safety equipment plays an important role in the lives of two Alan Wood Steel Co. employees who were saved from serious foot injury by wearing safety shoes. John Bukosky, 117 Flint Hill Rd., Swedeland, left, had a steel plate fall on the toe of his shoe, while Michael J. Rakosky, right, 337 E. Elm St., Conshohocken, had a bundle of scrap fall from a narrow gauge buggy onto his shoe. In both instances, steel-capped shoes proved the difference.

Let Live . . . and Live

Safety in Recreation Urged to Save Lives

(First of a Series)
Earlier reports in this series on community safety have discussed the hazards and protective precautions associated with highway traffic and activities in the home and on the farm. Now we shall look at off-the-job accident and safety in recreation.

Orderly habits and thinking will build character and thus help prevent accidents. So while at play—on hikes, at the seashore, at the lake, in the mountains, in your own yard or community recreation areas—certain rules must be followed to protect life and property.

Seven basic rules for water play have been issued by Mrs. Vernon Norris, of the Pennsylvania State Grange:

1. Don't swim alone; use the "buddy" system. Never go into the water when tired, overheated, or immediately after eating.
2. Don't overload a boat. It's lots more fun and twice as easy to fish two persons in a boat than fishing eight victims off the pond bottom.
3. If your boat capsizes, stay with it as long as it floats or until help arrives.
4. Remember in casting from a boat in which there are other persons that a fish hook is sharp. If it is caught in the eye or face it may cause serious injury.
5. A 10-year-old's underestimate your swimming ability. Avoid exertion beyond your strength.

6. Never dive into strange water where depth and condition of the bottom are unknown.
 7. Learn to swim well, and teach other members of your family to swim, too.
- Vacation accidents do happen—or are caused—as newspapers frequently report. Within this area recently appeared these tragic headlines of death and injury:

Wife, Children See Man Drown Boy, 9, on Hike Plunges 40 Feet Girl, 4, Drowns In Drainage Ditch Poisonous Snake Bites Phila. Girl

"Work safely so you can play safely" is the National Safety Council's motto. Instructing the vacationing public about how to enjoy the great outdoors the NSC suggests:

1. Prepare for the places where you are to vacation.
2. Study up on the country and be ready for special hazards.
3. Wear the proper clothing. Learn to identify and watch for harmful snakes, animals and plants.
4. Don't drink water when in doubt about its purity, or treat it chemically to purify it—if you know how. When fishing select the boat carefully.

YOUR HEALTH
MEDICAL SOCIETY-STATE OF PENNA.
If kerosene is not good for nits, neither is it good for tots

A young mother, after rubbing kerosene into her child's hair to remove nits, left the fluid on the table, the child drank it and was severely poisoned.

The incidence of poisoning from kerosene is higher and the complications more serious than is generally realized.

It is a relatively common accident occurring in children between the ages of six months and two years, especially in those areas where kerosene is used for cooking and other household purposes.

In a study of 100 cases of kerosene poisoning in children, there were reactions of varying severity with two deaths.

The average time elapsing after swallowing the kerosene up to arrival at the hospital was an hour and a half, with one case arriving within 15 minutes and another as late as 24 hours.

Expressway Section Will Be Open Sept. 1

A 14.2-mile section of the Schuylkill Expressway from King of Prussia to City Line Ave. will be opened Sept. 1, the Pennsylvania Department of Highways announced Friday.

A portion of this highway now is open to traffic between King of Prussia and West Conshohocken. The Expressway from King of Prussia to City Line Ave. constructed at a cost of $18,000,000, will provide a direct route to the city for thousands of suburban motorists.

At City Line the full clover-leaf will not be constructed nor open to traffic until the section between City Line and Vine St. is completed. Therefore, a temporary intersection with City Line Ave. will be built for the use of traffic at this time.

A Hollow Rd. above Flat Rock tunnel, there will be ramps to and from Philadelphia, but they will not be open to traffic for several weeks due to the construction of Hollow Rd. between the Expressway and Conshohocken State Rd.

The section of the expressway in Philadelphia which is partly under construction and partly being designed, extends from City Line Ave. to 34th St. and Vine Ave., a distance of nine miles. The estimated cost of construction of this part of the expressway will be $38,000,000.

The Vine St. extension to be built extends from the western bank of the Schuylkill River to 15th St., a length of 1.2 miles, at the estimated cost of $10,000,000. This Vine St. extension will be direct connection to the present Delaware River bridge and access to central city.

The expressway is being built by the Pennsylvania Department of Highways, E. L. Schmidt is secretary and E. J. Kinney, district engineer.

Why Conshohocken Clicks in Wide Market

Passengers on both the Pennsylvania and Reading trains and motorists traveling the Schuylkill Expressway are impressed by a huge sign erected by Walker of Conshohocken on one of its sites in Spring Mill.

The sign proclaims:

JOBS DEPEND ON SALES
SALES DEPEND ON PRICES
PRICES DEPEND ON COSTS
COSTS DEPEND ON YOU

What passersby do not see is that the Walker firm actively is engaged in practicing what it preaches. The firm presently is investing an additional three-quarters of a million dollars in the construction of facilities that will spur sales of copper products by achieving a stronger position in a highly competitive market. Jobs, sales, prices and costs are all wrapped in Walker's package of progress currently responsible for intense activity along the banks of the Schuylkill.

About two years ago Walker of Conshohocken acquired a tract on Hector St. and North Lane and razed a dwelling occupied for 60 years by three families — Botto, Davidson and Keenan. Later a home at Elm and End Sts. gave way to industrial progress. Yesterday, the residence for many years of the parents of Oliver C. McFarland fell to a wrecking crew which today has cleared the land in preparation for further expansion contemplated by the Walker firm.

The spirit of progress is amply reflected in a letter written July 20, 1954 by H. J. von Pionski, production manager, to all employees. The letter:

July 20th, 1954

To All Employees:

I wrote to you about two months ago telling you about the Company's intentions as to increased production facilities and the need to continue on the "right hand."
Your Management finds it imperative to increase our copper facilities to a point where we will have rounded out a program which at the present time is limited and which we have found is a handicap in doing a real job. For the past year our competition in insulated wires and cables has been very severe. As a matter of fact, last November we went into red figures to a considerable degree. The wire business has now improved somewhat but we are having trouble to make a profit in that department.

This is what we are going to do about it. We have found in buying our larger copper conductors already stranded we were having difficulty in meeting competition and therefore we are going to put up the third unit originally planned for the Copper Division when it was started some time ago. This will make necessary an investment of $1,000,000. This money is to be borrowed and must then be earned so the loans can be repaid by profitable operation.

We have contracted to erect an 80' building on 2 levels on Hector Street between End Street and North Lane, a distance of about 650'. The first floor will be on the present floor level of the Copper Division and the second floor level will be on the level of the Main Entrance to the Steel Division. This new and larger Tubor and a 37 Wire Strander so we can fabricate and insulate our own copper core for all sizes up to MCM Cables. On the second floor we will then have ample space to move our Automotive Division out of Building No. 3 which will make it possible for us to build up that division of our business. All the necessary contracts have been placed and we expect the building to be under roof by the New Year.

We are telling you what we are going to do about this so you can help us thru profitable operation to make your jobs more secure, and accept the challenge by measuring up to our new sign erected at the Main Entrance to the Steel Division. Our ability to sell a competitive article rests entirely on your willingness and ability to produce high quality material at a cost low enough to meet competition.

To take care of our parking problems which we have had and will have as we now paving the area at Elm and End Streets and in a short time the area between Hector and Elm Streets on End will also be made into another parking facility. This will take care of cars previously parked on Hector Street in front of the present Copper Division buildings.

In our Steel Division we are handicapped for space, without the ground necessary for expansion. We are presently considering doing a lot of things about this problem and hope to come up with a definite program shortly. We will advise you as this program develops.

We have a lot of other ideas with which we hope to follow through just as long as we have the support of all of you who can make or break our company, and yourselves, by the amount of interest you take in your job and the way you do it. We hope you will join us in doing our best to keep "Walker of Conshohocken" in front of the parade. Let's make our company one of the most efficient in the business as well as the best place to work in the community.

H. J. von Pionski

It is indeed encouraging to our community to see how one of our industries plans to increase job security in these extremely competitive times. An expansion program of this kind indicates what the cooperation of men and management can do towards building a better and stronger community by understanding and mutual confidence.

Expressway Opening— For Better or Worse?

Predicting traffic trends probably is safer than forecasting the weather. Occasionally, however, traffic experts, like the weatherman, guess wrong.

With respect to the opening of the Schuylkill Expressway on Sept. 1 from King of Prussia to City Line, there is a marked silence, apparently, as to what conditions may develop on Fayette St. in Conshohocken and on Main St. in Manayunk. After Sept. 1, will the traffic situation locally be better or worse?

In Conshohocken and West Conshohocken, the flow of traffic may be heavier, and the opening of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Extension to Willow Grove on Aug. 15 may be a contributing factor. On the other hand, there are those who sincerely believe the new superhighways will ease the local traffic burden.

The Expressway, terminating temporarily at City Ave., near the Presidential Apartments, is likely to aggravate conditions already acute on that highway, one of the most heavily used in Philadelphia. Turnpike traffic, thrown into City Ave. by way of the Expressway, will either crowd that road, east and west, or add to traffic difficulties on West River Drive in Fairmount Park.

The existing City Line bridge cannot accommodate heavy trucks. Such vehicles probably will leave the Expressway at Belmont Ave. and cross into Manayunk, complicating traffic conditions on Main St. as well as Green Lane. It is entirely likely that within 30 days after the opening of the Expressway parking may be prohibited by the city on both sides of Main St. during the day.

When the Expressway is built to Vine St. and new bridges are finished at Vine St. and City Line traffic flow should be handled easily and expeditiously. Meanwhile, however, the City Line intersection and approaches and the West Conshohocken interchange will require special traffic control measures if hopeless jams are to be avoided.

Prison Population: Adult and Juvenile

How mistaken an editor can be!

For example, we thought the curfew went out with kerosene lamps and the horse and buggy, about a half century ago.

But in Conshohocken, at the moment, breathes there men with hope so dead they are pushing to revive the ancient curfew, which never was worthy of 20th century civilization.

Please don't misunderstand us — we are absolutely and positively in favor of the curfew!

We favored the kind of curfew that will get mothers and fathers out of taprooms and dens of iniquity no later than 10 P. M.

We favor a curfew that would permit baby-sitters to return home at a respectable hour instead of past midnight, after Mom and Dad get back from a wild night out. By going to bed early, Mom should be in the right mood to arise and prepare breakfast for her children, kiss them good-by when they go to school or playground, and get her housework done.

Yes indeed, we are in favor of a curfew! We'd like to think of the church bells Sunday morning as a welcome ringing . . . the clarion call to parents and youngsters to make a command appearance before God in a House of Worship.

A little more confession of sin and seeking of redemption on the part of adults on Sunday in the House of God will mean fewer broken homes the other six days of the week.

Boys and girls can be expected to go straight if the example is set in their own homes.

Lack of respect for the law and public officials is the natural course for teenagers if they witness time and again the same lack of respect on the part of their parents and most other adults.

Sure, some teenagers will go astray! The ratio of teenagers who take the path leading to destruction is comparatively smaller than the number of adults who go down into the ugly pit of crime, who fail to remember "thy creator in the days of thy youth, lest the evil days draw nigh," and consequently wind up in prison.

Sound the curfew . . . sound it for the misfits guilty of delinquency, but beyond the qualifying adjective, juvenile! Older than 21, they stand more desperately in need of guidance.

Impose a curfew, from coast to coast — an immediate drastic and effective ban on violence dramatized daily on television and radio. To this sinister influence we expose our boys and girls from early morning until midnight. Murder, burglary, robbery, rape, drunkenness and betrayal, all are material for 90 percent, of all television and radio shows.

Enact a curfew, a wise and necessary ban on the trash that fills our comic books that flood the American home, sometimes taking the form of legitimate advertising distributed by local merchants. Comic books that earn fat profits for fake publishers often provide big ideas for crime committed subsequently by the youngsters in the age bracket we are striving to deal with through the curfew ordinance in Conshohocken.

Are we determined to take the youngsters off the street and send them home to uncontrolled and vicious television and radio programs and a fresh new batch of comic books hot off the press?

Sound the curfew . . . sound it as an end to war! Call a halt to the slaughter of the flower of our youth in battle, the spilling of their blood on foreign soil! Make the promise more than an election platform. Make it mean more than a false proclamation to the God-fearing mothers of men for the vain, worthless, egotistical desire of any individual to hold and to retain, term after term, the office of President of the United States of America.

Sound the curfew . . . usher in an era of peace and prosperity. Let teenagers see that adults possess a reasonable degree of sanity and are capable of running the universe and maintaining full employment without the necessity of war!

Tender-Hearted, Generous People Belong to God

A believer's views
by Harold McCuen

Are God's people sane? What are they like, how do they act? Each of us probably has a different answer. Based on observations of the conduct, character and reputation of so-called pillars of the church, and others who profess Christianity, we easily may become bewildered, cynical, dismayed. And yet it is a mistake to turn from God in the slightest degree because of the shortcomings that afflict our neighbors, friends and fellow workers. Too often our own shortcomings may cause some of them to turn away also!

Well, what are God's people like? How should they behave? Read Ephesians 4:25-32; 5:2-14 for God's answer. No other answer is worthwhile anyway. And, having read His word, decide for yourself whether you prefer His way, or war, crime, violence, fraud, deceit, adultery, sexual vice, misery, bitterness, vexation.

EPHESIANS 4:25-32; 5:2-14—

"Lay aside falsehood, then, let each tell his neighbor the truth, for we are members one of another. Be angry but do not sin; never let the sun set upon your anger, give the devil no chance. Let the thief steal no more; rather let him work and put his hands to an honest task, so as to have something to contribute to the needy. Let no bad word pass your lips, but only such speech as is good for edification, as occasion may require, words that are gracious and a means of grace to those who hear them."

"And do not vex God's holy Spirit, by whom you have been sealed for the day of redemption; drop all bitter feeling and passion and anger and clamorings and insults, together with all malice; be kind to each other, be tender-hearted, be generous to each other as God has been generous to you in Christ. Copy God, then, as his beloved children, and lead lives of love, just as Christ loved you and gave himself up for you to be fragrant offering and sacrifice to God."

"Never let any sexual vice or impurity or lust be so much as mentioned by you—that is the proper course for saints to take; no, nor indecent, silly, or scurrilous talk—all that is improper. Rather, voice your thanks to God."

"Be sure of this that no one guilty of sexual vice or impurity or lust which is as bad as idolatry possesses any inheritance in the realm of Christ and God. Let no one deceive you with spacious arguments; these are the voices that bring down God's anger on the sons of disobedience."

"So avoid the company of such men. For while once upon a time you were darkness, now in the Lord you are light; lead the life of those who are children of the light (for the fruit of light consists in all that is good and right and true), verifying what pleases the Lord. Have nothing to do with the fruitless enterprises of darkness; rather expose them."

"One is indeed ashamed even to speak of what such men do in secret; still, whatever the light exposes becomes illuminated—for anything that is illuminated turns into light."

"Thus it is said, 'Wake up, O sleeper, and rise from the dead; so Christ will shine upon you.'"

—from A New Translation of The Bible
by James Moffatt.

Kids Blue Over Curfew, No Trip

Unless a miracle happens overnight, the majority of contestants who raced in the Soap Box Derby on Fayette St. in celebration of Independence Day will not go to Akron Aug. 14-15.

Response to an appeal for funds to pay expenses by rail from Conshohocken to Akron, so that the boys could race for Jimmy Burnett, our stake in the national Soap Box Derby, is most discouraging. It would appear that the efforts of members of the committee who were successful in their campaign for funds last summer have been dwarfed by the emphasis placed upon the movement favoring enactment of a curfew ordinance by Town Council, which will hold a public hearing on the proposal Wednesday night.

William A. Moore, president of Conshohocken Chamber of Commerce, is unhappy that chances are nearly certain that the Soap Box Derby boys will be denied the journey to Akron and the intense excitement of the big race for world-wide honors on Aug. 15. The event is foremost nationally among all activities designed especially for boys, and its significance in demonstrating how much the country thinks of its youth is an overwhelming deterrent in combatting delinquency.

Perhaps ringing the curfew for the kids is a vital necessity locally. We are inclined to think it wholly unnecessary and fundamentally a bad approach. There's nothing wrong with our youth that a few years of good international adult behavior and a degree of honesty, sincerity and efficiency in local, state and federal government cannot cure permanently. And while the adults are at it, locally, they might decide to stay home nights with their children instead of patronizing taprooms, and falling victim to a gray social whirl that robs them of natural affection for their sons and daughters.

We realize with regret the sense of keen disappointment the boys feel as their hopes of making the trip to Akron fade. With the leader of the local Chamber of Commerce we agree heartily; every cent contributed to date must be set aside now for the 1955 outing to Akron, and early next year, perhaps in January, we must start the ball rolling to be sure the Derby contestants shall not again be disappointed.

The miracle may yet happen—$500 will do it. Better the miracle than the curfew!

Remodeling Completed At Norristown Hospital

Harrisburg — The remodeling of Building No. 6 at Norristown State Hospital has been completed and the building is now ready for occupancy. Frank C. Hilton, secretary of property and supplies, said today. The remodeling increased the capacity of Building No. 6 which will house 300 men patients. In addition to having a state building which to live, these patients will have day rooms, porches and facilities for visitors which they formerly lacked. The building will be much more sanitary, and maintenance and operation costs will be reduced.

Except for the use of the original brick walls, this structure was virtually rebuilt. It consists of four floors, including basement and attic. The outside of the building was cleaned with steam and the brickwork was repointed.

The state roof was reconstructed. The building is now almost fireproof.

The interior was entirely modernized, with white tile walls and terrazzo floors replacing those of plaster and wood.

A music room and an occupational therapy room were provided. There is a new reception room with booths for visitors.

New electrical, plumbing, ventilation units were installed on each floor, at both end and at the center of the building, give the nurses a better view.

Lees Hikes Prices Of Woven Carpets

Bridgeport — A 3 percent increase in the price of its woven carpets, effective Aug. 21, was announced Monday by James Lees & Sons Co.

The company announced the price hike after its Aug. 1 evaluation of replacement costs indicated it was necessary. Tufted-carpet prices are unchanged.

Fred J. Lehnertz, general sales manager, said: "This adjustment in the wholesale price of carpets still leaves Lees woven floor coverings 4 percent lower than the levels of last fall."

Washington Co. Lauded for Role In Storm Repair

Conshohocken — The borough might have been plunged into a "blackout" — similar to those of World War 2 — on July 15, if it hadn't been for the Washington Fire Co., the company lauded at a meeting Monday night.

A representative of the Philadelphia Electric Co., Norristown, attended the meeting, personally to express thanks of his firm for use of the fire company's 75-foot aerial ladder truck in repairing damage to the electrical lines due to the severe storm.

"It is quite possible that if it hadn't been for the Washington Co.'s ladder truck, all of Conshohocken might have been without electricity for a time. Certainly, having such equipment right at hand prevented much more serious consequences," the representative said in effect.

The aerial ladder truck was purchased at a cost of approximately $20,000 more than three and a half years ago.

Nuns Study Television At Chestnut Hill College

Chestnut Hill — Unique among the summer school courses being offered in educational institutions in and around Philadelphia this season is a radio and television workshop now being conducted at Chestnut Hill College for nuns teaching in the archdiocesan schools.

The workshop is the first ever held exclusively for nuns and one of the first of its kind ever held in this part of the country.

Eighteen Sisters of St. Joseph are enrolled in the six weeks' course. Director of the workshop is Sister Josephine Rosari of the English department at John W. Hallahan High School, a specialist in the radio and TV field and the originator and star of the popular TV series "Storytime" for children.

During the course, the sisters will meet with radio and television experts and will visit the local stations for first hand knowledge of what makes TV tick.

The aim of the workshop is to familiarize the teachers with every aspect of radio and TV so that they may learn the value of both mediums for effective use in the classroom and so that they can take advantage of all the educational possibilities of radio and TV and use them as tools for teaching.

Sister Josephine Rosari proposes that, through the workshop, the teachers will lead their pupils to read critically, to listen discriminately, and to evaluate the worth of pictured presentation.

Sister does not hold with the frequently expressed fear that television is killing young people's interest in reading.

"A good program," she maintains, "sets the stage for learning."

"An educational program brings into the homes and classrooms resources in the way of research, technology and artistic presentation not otherwise available. It gives students easy contact with a wealth of important factual information, thus giving them genuine incentive to further thinking, reading, or study.

"It is up to us teachers to make use of the medium of television to raise our cultural and educational levels. We should not just view programs. We should learn to look, criticize, and evaluate. It is up to us to have our young people grow up enlightened."

Among the radio and television luminaries speaking at Chestnut Hill during the workshop are Charles Shaw, foreign correspondent and newsreader; Ed McMahon, producer, director, and radio star; Margaret Mary Kearney, co-ordinator of radio and TV activities for the Philadelphia diocesan school system and education director at WCAU; "Click" Kelly, director of public relations at WFIZ; and Jack Steck, executive program director at WFIL.

Maple Bed Sells So Woman Buys Ad for Camera

With most people, a newspaper is a habit.

Recorder readers find that their good habit newspaper is a good habit in many ways.

Its news and pictures keep them posted on what's going in their community; its advertising brings them the best buys around, and its classified section helps them convert non-needed articles to cash.

The constant ringing of the advertiser's phone is testimony to the popularity of The Recorder's classified service. Some advertisers make it a habit to call week after week because this is one habit that pays.

Mrs. A. H. Schulteis, 709 Hartwell Lane, Wyndmoor, has found that out. She advertised a maple bed and sold it before 9 A.M. the day the paper came out. She lost no time placing an ad for a movie camera for sale in the next issue.

Make it a habit to call CO 6-4600. The Recorder makes money for you. It's only $1.25 for 12 words running in all four Weekly Review newspapers.

Short Circuit Causes Fire in Washer

Flourtown — A short circuit caused a fire last Tuesday morning in an electric washer owned by Mrs. Benjamin C. Draper, of 88 S. College Ave.

Mrs. Draper noticed smoking emerging from the washer in the laundry room and immediately notified the Flourtown Volunteer Fire Co. The fire was extinguished quickly, and damage was slight.

Simpsons Find Safety Rule-of-Road in England

Miquon — During their recent 2800-mile tour of the British Isles the B. Mitchell Simpsons of Hart's Lane say not one accident—not even a dented fender. Traveling in a hired Morris Oxford car, they said they did not travel slowly, though they covered lots of ground. They drove a 1948 Buick which seems to be the prime rule of the road in England, they said.

Their impressions of Great Britain were revealing, since they spent such a long time among the English, Irish, Scots and Welsh in that country.

Traveling by boat to and from Great Britain, the couple said, was most restful.

"They said the rented automobile was most comfortable and easy on petrol." It is comparable to a low-priced auto in this country, but is comprised of a much lower horse power, "since cars over there are taxed on their horse power."

The couple reported that roads in Britain are "safe in excellent condition." They said they didn't reach any dirt or gravel roads, only well-surfaced roads—mainly black top or macadam—few concrete highways.

"And there is only one law of the highway," Mrs. Marshall Hill Simpson, wife of B. Mitchell Simpson, said, "to drive carefully and safely. If you have an accident, you're broken and come at you, we mostly cringed. But all went well."

In places, seemingly fair roads were under repair, but highways for the most part were easy to travel over.

The tour for the couple took them throughout England, much of Scotland and Northern Wales and Northern Ireland. They were in Belfast, "a highly-populated area," and enjoyed traveling from Belfast over the Giant's Causeway.

"Although we packed a little summer clothing, we hit the coldest weather in 25 years. Everyone was complaining. There were only five days out of the seven weeks that we went without topcoats. We'd have been lost without our warm tweeds," they agreed. And believe it or not, we were stuck in the snow in northern Scotland in mid-May."

Answering a question about food rationing, the pair asserted they had "ample but probably only because we ate in hotels. From the housewives' standpoint, we noticed there was a problem... one could tell that from the scarcity of food in shop windows."

"We did discover," the couple continued, "that they do not serve snacks over there for luncheon. No, indeed, we ate two big meals a day, both at lunch and dinner. There was no such thing as a salad-and-sandwich luncheon snack. You had your three or four course meals twice a day, including usually soup or appetizer, entree, vegetables and dessert. We weren't used to it, but the fare was good and hearty and, we confess, we ate it all."

When asked if either of them gained weight with such hearty meals, Mrs. Simpson said, "No. There was no trouble getting accommodations, the couple said.

One thing that was outstanding to them, was the courteous attitude of all persons in the British Isles in every such thing as a salad-and-sandwich luncheon snack. You had your three or four course meals twice a day, including usually soup or appetizer, entree, vegetables and dessert. We weren't used to it, but the fare was good and hearty and, we confess, we ate it all."

Her husband, an insurance executive in the firm of William A. Simpson & Son in Philadelphia, is a member of the board of managers of Memorial Hospital, Roxborough.

The couple's two sons, B. Mitchell (Tony) 26, and Charles, are both graduates of Springfield Twp. High School.

No. 5 of a series... Community Safety

CLOSE SHAVE!

How many "close shaves" have you had on the highway recently?

Sure, lots of us get impatient when we're on a crowded road. We want to pass the car or truck in front whether we have enough clearance or not.

So we follow too close behind. Then, if a sudden emergency crops up ahead—bang!—we're right in it!

11% of drivers guilty of traffic violations in Pennsylvania were following the vehicle ahead too closely.

Keep sufficient distance between you and the fellow in front so that... if you have to make a sudden stop... you won't go piling into him.

Eliminate those close shaves!

Make 1954 the safest year ever! SLOW DOWN AND LIVE!

C. of C. Reports County Growth

Philadelphia—Montgomery County will record a population expansion of more than 35 percent in the decade between 1940 and 1960 if the present pace continues, Leonard A. Drake, economist of the Chamber of Commerce of Greater Philadelphia, reported.

Noted also is the building boom in southeastern sectors of the county, with Abington Twp. recording the greatest unit rate of growth between April 1, 1950 and Dec. 31, 1953. That township has seen the construction of more than 3100 dwelling units in that period.

The townships of Springfield, Lower Merion, Cheltenham, and Upper Merion had all increases of more than 1000 dwelling units in the same period. Springfield, Lower Merion, and Cheltenham are among townships included in plans of the City of Philadelphia for cooperative police, fire and sewage-disposal systems covering the city and adjacent suburbs of high-population density.

Greatest percentage increase in this 1950-1953 period were 41 for Springfield, 51 for Upper Merion, and 58 for West Norristown townships. Drake added that it was probable, if records were available, that Lower Merion and Plymouth also would show substantial growth in dwelling units.

With the available statistics—and applying the 1940-50 rate of growth for several important townships which are missing—Drake estimated 115,300 dwelling units in the county at the end of 1953 compared to 86,000 in April, 1950, and 74,800 in 1940.

Of all governmental units in the county, Lower Merion Township had the most homes—18,486 at the end of 1953 compared to 10,495 in April, 1940. Next largest was Abington Township with 11,113 dwellings on Dec. 31, 1953 and 5,502 in 1940.

Sea Yields Fish For the Zadrugas

Conshohocken — Officer Jesse Zadruga returned to duty Monday in the Conshohocken police department after a week's vacation in North Wildwood with his wife and family.

The policeman and his son, David, six, went deep-sea fishing. David, by himself, caught two large croakers at sea.

A younger son, Paul, four-and-a-half, fished from a pier and was happy with one catch, a medium-sized.

Dreaming of past possibilities leaves none for the future.

Mount Joy: Ancestral Home If Variety Is Spice of Life We Really LIVED on NEA Tour

August 3, 1954
THINKING OF YOU? With you could have been with us to see that marvelous Transportation Museum owned by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, located in Baltimore, Md. And I went there with our National Editorial group Saturday, June 19. The railroad provided transportation for our association.

If you take the children along, they'll stay longest in the room where the "HO" miniature model railroads are operated . . . among the finest in the country. In fact, their miniature railroads are in demand at State Fairs and Expositions . . . constantly being hauled to various states . . . and now they have three steps.

The B & O people call the miniature railroads "a composite model of typical railroad operation . . ."

While the NEA elected officers, I went with the women to a tea conducted by Shell Oil Co. Their representative, Miss Carol Lane, Women's Travel director, gave a most informative talk on "Traveling Light . . .," meaning that women too often pack much too much when they are touring.

Miss Lane showed us her 28" travel case, not stuffed as you might imagine, but packed lightly . . . yet she had selected with care clothing that would make up 24 different outfits . . .

It sounds impossible, but she had a two piece suit, jacket and skirt . . . to which she added two different type blouses . . . making three different outfits right there . . .

Then she added two cotton skirts, one figured and one plain . . . combining them with the jacket or

Mackenzie Defeats Grays by 18 to 2

West Conshohocken — Mackenzie Park Boys Club won its 12th game Tuesday night by trouncing the Lower Providence Boys Club Grays 18 to 2 on Lower Providence Fire Co. field.

Tonight the Parkers chose bats with the Grays again on Mackenzie Park field in a make-up game. The Parkers still have one more game to make up with the Lower Providence "Yellow" team.

The West Conshohocken Cardinals were hosts to the 27th District PAL team of Philadelphia Sunday afternoon on the Community Field, and dropped a 6 to 4 decision.

Although the Cardinals outbit the victors 11 to 4, errors again were the big factors in the Cardinal loss. Bob Leroy, the losing pitcher, struck out 10, and walked two, and allowed only five hits.

Fergie Ferguson, the winning pitcher, struck out 13, walked five and gave up 11 hits. Lou Wolfe, after being stopped from hitting safely in his ninth straight game Wednesday against Lower Providence, came back with two for four, including a double.

Leroy was also the leading hitter for the Cardinals with three for five, including a double. George Bailey tripled for the Cardinals. J. Piemens and C. Pekis made only extra-base hits for the 27th District, both doubles.

The Cardinals lost their sixth game of the season and their third shutout to Lower Providence Senior Boys Club 3 to 0, Wednesday at Lower Providence Fire Co. field.

Don Smith of Lower Providence allowed only two hits and walked four. The two hits for the Cardinals were both singles, one for Anthony Venezia and one for Billy Russell. Wolfe was stopped after hitting in his ninth straight game. Tom Priest was losing pitcher.

Mackenzie Park Boys Club continued its steam-rolling in the Interscholastic Boys Club League by winning its 11th game 24 to 6 over Lower Providence Green, Thursday at the Lower Providence Fire Co. field.

Billy Lightkep won his fifth game and also contributed a triple. Butch Lawrence was top hitter with five for five.

Charlie Cooper, Joe Barnyock, Spike Mellon and Eddie Rowe each had a perfect night at bat.

Industrial League Playoffs Start Monday Night

Conshohocken — Quaker Chemical finished the regular season in first place in the Industrial Softball League with a final win-loss record of 15 and five.

Playoffs begin next Monday night at 8 but pairings for the championship series have not been determined pending the outcome of tonight's contest between Flexton and Walker. Carey also is expected to make the playoffs.

Carey topped Flexton 10-3 in an important game Tuesday night as Beis slammed a home run and Pergine rapped two doubles. Barbato tripled for Flexton. Beis was the winner and led the league.

Walker also registered a win on Monday with a 12-10 victory. The winners without a six-run last inning rally by C & D to sew up the triumph. The power hitting for Walker was supplied by Bove, who tripled and Heleinai who had two doubles.

Kelly and Whitley had doubles for C & B. Bove was the winning hurler and Sabos the losing pitcher.

Quaker topped Flexton Friday, 8-4. Hoffman tripled for the winners, while Bozarth and Stemple had doubles. Bozarth was the winner and Lesniowski the losing pitcher.

Flexton won a thriller, 2-1, from Quaker Tuesday last week as Pickelli's home run in the last of the seventh provided the winning margin. Lesniowski was the winner and Bozarth the loser.

Johnson Seeks Light-Heavyweight Championship for Birthday Present

Harold Johnson looks ahead to his big opportunity Wednesday night while doing road work at camp near Pleasantville, N. J.

Lt. Casinelli Star Hurler With Marines in Korea

Conshohocken — Lt. Anthony Casinelli, former outstanding athlete at Conshohocken High School and Villanova University, is star hurler with the First Marine division team now based in Korea.

The Conshohocken athlete pulled the First Marines into a tie for the American League leadership recently with an excellent relief performance over 8-2/3 innings to check the 11th Marines, winning, 5-4.

Casinelli, who relieved one of his buddies in the first inning with one out and the bases loaded, while the score was tied, eased out of the inning by getting the next two batters to tap harmlessly to first as one run scored.

Then, with the exception of two shaky innings when the opposing team scored their third and fourth runs, Casinelli was in complete control, and allowed only six hits during his stint and walked five batters.

An account of Casinelli's skillful hurling appeared in a recent Marine publication, "The First Word," at camp.

An all-around athlete at Conshohocken, and an outstanding baseball player at Villanova, Casinelli was called to active duty with the Marines after graduation from Villanova last June. He is a son of

Harold Johnson will greet a long-awaited visitor next Wednesday night when the Manayunk boxer meets Archie Moore in a 15-round light-heavyweight title fight.

Johnson will be opening the door to opportunity and the chance for a world championship that has eluded him for three or four long, lean years. During that time, the local fighter has consistently been ranked among the top contenders in his division, but time and again has been passed for important bouts.

When Johnson enters the Garden ring at 10 P. M. next Wednesday, he will be facing the champion for the fifth time. This is their first bout, however, since Moore lifted the title from Joey Maxim.

Harold will enter the ring with several strong advantages—the most important the fact that Johnson is 11 years younger than the 37-year-old Moore. He is in fine condition, while Moore reportedly has experienced extreme difficulty in making the 175-pound weight limit.

Johnson got an early start in training, even before he left Manayunk for Pleasantville, N. J. Harold reached what he considers his peak more than a week ago and has been merely keeping in trim since then.

In a recent 15-round sparring session, he took on a relay of gym rivals, ranging from 140-pounder Joe White to 200-pounder Johnny York.

"I had them throwing at me with everything they had," Harold continued, "but wasn't trying to hit them hard—just punching fast. There was only a half minute rest between rounds to speed up the workout."

It came off handsomely, the challenger said. Working fast from start to finish, he was never winded.

"How I will fight will depend on how Moore fights," Harold explained. "He has so many different styles, it's useless to try to myself down to any particular way to fight him. But I know all his styles by this time and what to do against any one of them."

Harold, who will mark his 20th birthday on Monday, could not ask for a better present than the title. In his four previous meetings with Moore, Harold dropped three decisions to the champ, while scoring a decision win himself. Harold was the last man to beat Moore and he feels certain he will be the next.

Johnson's record includes decisive wins over Edward Charles, Jimmy Bivins, Jimmy Slade, Nino Valdez and Leonard Morrow. Despite this, Johnson had to have help from the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission to get his long-deferred opportunity.

Now that his chance has finally come, Harold is determined not to waste it and observers feel that he will carry the name of Manayunk from coast to coast next Wednesday night.

Several relatives of Johnson live in the Conshohocken area.

Wagner Post Downs Norristown Nine, 6-5; Will Play in State Knee-Hi Tourney

Conshohocken — The Joseph Wagner Post Knee-Hi team today won a five-run last-inning rally to down Norristown, 6-5 last night and win a best-of-three series.

The Conshohocken nine will represent this area in the State Knee-Hi tournament beginning next Wednesday at Doylestown. The team's season record now stands at 17 and 4.

Conshohocken scored early last night, tallying one in the first on a walk to Budde, a stolen base and a double by Love. In the second they chalked up two more on a walk, a stolen base, two outs, a single and an error. In the third they pushed over three on a single, an error, a walk and another single.

The 6-0 lead stood up until the seventh when a hit batsman, a single, a walk, and two more singles, Norristown's Underoffrey, who had the last single in the rally, tried to move to second on a throw to the plate but he was cut down for the final out on a good throw from catcher Love to second baseman Budds.

Norristown tied the series at one game apiece on Monday in a thrilling game. The winners scored twice in the last half of the seventh to win, 9-8, after trailing 7-0 at one time.

Conshohocken scored once in the first then added five in the second with Jerry Pettine's bases-loaded home run the big blow. Pettine had three hits for the night, while Wallace and Graham each had two. Love, Allan and pitcher Bruni each had one base knock. Gambone and McGraw had two hits apiece for Norristown.

The local Knee-Hi team won its second straight game in a scheduled best-of-three series with Collegeville on Thursday night, chalking up an 8-5 win with three-run rally in the sixth.

The Conshohocken attack was led by Jerry Pettine with three for three. The win gave the Wagner Post team the Lower Montco League title.

The win brought the local nine's record to 15 and three. Manager Slater started Symanski on the mound, but had to call on Bruni in the third inning when the starter developed a sore arm.

King of Prussia — The annual benefit tournament of the Middle Atlantic Blind Golfers Association will take place Wednesday at the Valley Forge Golf Club. The Plymouth Lions Club is sponsoring the event this year.

The Lions Clubs of the Middle Atlantic States rotate in sponsoring the tournament. There will be no blind golfers participating because of the time element.

Entries may be off any time from 8 A. M. until 5 P. M., rain or shine. Fee is $2. The defending champion will be Charles Falco.

Proceeds from the event will be used to aid blind golfers so that they may participate in the Middle Atlantic Blind Golfers Tournament.

Prominent blind golfers will be on hand to give driving and putting exhibitions. Refreshments will be served throughout the day.

The tournament is open to everyone and will be scored on the Callaway system. Various prizes will be awarded to winners and runner-up.

Mackenzie Defeats Grays by 18 to 2

West Conshohocken — Mackenzie Park Boys Club won its 12th game Tuesday night by trouncing the Lower Providence Boys Club Grays 18 to 2 on Lower Providence Fire Co. field.

Tonight the Parkers cross bats with the Grays again on Mackenzie Park field in a make-up game. The Parkers still have one more game to make up, with the Lower Providence Grays.

Jack Welsh again was big gun for the Parkers, going three for five, including a home run. Welsh struck homers in at least nine of the 13 games played and has hit safety in all the games. Billy Collins and Spike Melton each hit two for two. Bobby Yurcaba was the winning pitcher.

The West Conshohocken Cardinals were hosts to the 27th District PAL team of Philadelphia Sunday afternoon on the Community Field, and dropped a 6 to 4 decision.

Although the Cardinals outbit the visitors 11 to 5, errors again were the big factors in the Cardinal loss. Bob Leroy, the losing pitcher, struck out 10, and walked two, and allowed only five hits.

Fergie Ferguson, the winning pitcher, struck out 13, walked five and gave up 10 hits. Lou Wolfe, after being stopped from hitting safely in his ninth straight game Wednesday against Lower Providence, came back with two for four, including a double.

Leroy was the leading hitter for the Cardinals with three for five, including a double. George Bailey tripped for the Cardinals, J. Flemens and C. Pekis made only extra-base hits for the 27th District, both doubles.

The Cardinals lost their sixth game of the season and their third shutout to Lower Providence Senior Boys Club 5 to 0, Wednesday at Lower Providence Fire Co. field.

Don Smith of Lower Providence allowed only two hits and walked four. The two hits for the Cardinals were both singles, one for Anthony Fenezia and one for Bud Rich. Wolfe was stopped after hitting in his ninth straight game. Tom Priest was losing pitcher.

Mackenzie Park Boys Club continued its steam-rolling in the Intertownship Boy Club League by winning its 11th game 24 to 6 over Lower Providence Green, Thursday at the Lower Providence Fire Co. field.

Billy Lightkep won his fifth game and also contributed a triple. Butch Lawrence was top hitter with five for five.

Charlie Cooper, Joe Barnyock, Spike Melton and Edna Howe each had a perfect night at bat.

Industrial League Playoffs Start Monday Night

Conshohocken — Quaker Chemical finished the regular season in first place in the Industrial Softball League with a final win-loss record of 15 and five.

Playoffs begin next Monday night at 8, but pairings for the championship series have not been determined. The outcome of tonight's contest between Flexton and Walker, Carey also is expected to make the playoffs.

Carey topped Flexton 10-3 in an important game Tuesday night as Belz slammed a home run and Pergie rapped two doubles. Barbato tripped for Flexton. Belz was the winner and Hall the loser.

Walker also registered a win on Monday with a 13-10 victory. The winners withstood a six-run last inning rally by C & D to sew up the triumph. The power hitting for Walker was supplied by Bove, who tripled and Heintak who had two doubles.

Kelly and Whitley had doubles for C & D. Bove was the winning hurler and Sabo the loser.

Quaker topped Flexton Friday, 8-4. Hoffman tripped for the winners, while Bozarth and Stemple had doubles. Bozarth was the winner and Lesniwski the loser.

Flexton won a thriller, 2-1, from Quaker Tuesday last week as Pickel's home run in the last of the seventh provided the winning margin. Lesniwski was the winner and Bozarth the loser.

Members of Norristown will meet McCoy of Pottstown in a six-round semi-windup. Remainder of the bout card will be announced soon. Charlie and Anthony Besock of Brynmawr are directing the show, first of the season here.

Conshohocken — Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence O. LaCoste, Sr., 215 E. 11th Ave., Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence LaCoste, Jr., 926 Fayette St., left here Saturday for a vacation with relatives and friends at Kingston and Cornwall, Canada.

She Could Have Sold 24 Cribs And Play Pens

Mrs. William Stuckel, 660 Pedley Rd., Wissahickon Hills, Roxborough, joins the ever-increasing list of residents in the area verifying excellent results of "want ads" in Weekly Review newspapers.

"I wasn't a bit surprised at the prompt results," she tells, when she sold a crib and play pen she advertised for sale.

"Calls came streaming in here early Thursday morning. I could have sold 24 of them," she said.

"I always get excellent response to ads," she continued. "I have sold many, many items, that otherwise would just lie around the house or be discarded."

"In fact," she added, "I received calls about the ad until yesterday."

Johnson Seeks Light-Heavyweight Championship for Birthday Present

Harold Johnson will greet a long-awaited visitor next Wednesday night when the Manayunk boxer meets Archie Moore in a 15-round light-heavyweight title fight.

Johnson will be opening the door to opportunity and the chance for a world championship that has eluded him for three or four long, lean years. During that time, the local fighter has consistently been ranked among the top contenders in his division, but time and again has been passed for important bouts.

When Johnson enters the Garden ring at 10 P. M. next Wednesday, he will be facing the champion for the fifth time. This is their first bout, however, since Moore lifted the title from Joey Maxim.

Harold will enter the ring with several strong advantages, the most important that Johnson is 11 years younger than the 37-year-old Moore. He is in fine condition, while Moore reportedly has experienced extreme difficulty in making the 175-pound weight limit.

Johnson got an early start in training, even before he left Manayunk for Pleasantville, N. J. Harold has been ranked among the top contenders in his division, but time and again has been passed for important bouts.

In a recent 15-round sparring session, he took on a relay of gym rivals, ranging from 140-pounder Joe White to 200-pounder Johnny York.

"I had them throwing at me with everything they had," Harold continued, "but wasn't trying to hit them hard—just punching fast. There was only a half minute rest between rounds to speed up the workout."

It came off handsomely, the challenger said. Working fast from start to finish, he was never winded.

"How I will fight will depend on how Moore fights," Harold explained. "He has so many different styles, it's useless to try to myself down to any particular way to fight him. But I know all his styles by this time and what to do against any one of them."

Harold, who will mark his 35th birthday on Monday, could not ask for a better present than the title. In his four previous meetings with Moore, Harold dropped three decisions to the champ, while scoring a decision win himself. Harold was the last man to beat Moore and he feels certain he will be the next.

Johnson's record includes decisive wins over Edward Charles, Jimmy Bivins, Jimmy Slaye, Nino Valdes and Leonard Morrow. Despite this, Johnson had to help from the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission to get his long-deferred opportunity.

Now that his chance has finally come, Harold is determined not to waste it and observers feel that he will carry the name of Manayunk from coast to coast next Wednesday night.

Several relatives of Johnson live in the Conshohocken area.

Harold Johnson looks ahead to his big opportunity Wednesday night while doing road work at camp near Pleasantville, N. J.

Lt. Casinelli Star Hurler With Marines in Korea

Conshohocken — Lt. Anthony Casinelli, former outstanding athlete at Conshohocken High School and Villanova University, is star hurler with the First Marine division team now based in Korea.

The Conshohocken athlete pulled the First Marines into a tie for the American League leadership recently with an excellent relief performance over 8-2/3 innings to check the 11th Marines, winning, 5-4.

Casinelli, who relieved one of his buddies in the first inning with one out and the bases loaded, while the score was tied, eased out of the inning by getting the next two batters to tap harmlessly to first as one run scored.

Then, with the exception of two shaky innings when the opposing team scored their third and fourth runs, Casinelli was in complete control, and allowed only six hits during his stint and walked five batters.

An account of Casinelli's skillful hurling appeared in a recent Marine publication, "The First Word," at camp.

An all-around athlete at Conshohocken, and an outstanding basketball player at Villanova, Casinelli was called to active duty with the Marines after graduation from Villanova last June. He is a son of
