GUILTY OF SERIOUS CRIME

A jury returned a verdict of guilty in the case of William Gabriel, a West Manayunk barber who was seriously charged by Elizabeth Sackl, a 19 year old Philadelphia girl.

The alleged crime was committed in the woods along the river or road below West Conshohocken on December 21 last while defendant was taking the girl on an automobile ride.

The defendant, who was represented by Attorney J. H. Ragan, claimed that the girl was a willing accomplice.

It being shown after the verdict was rendered that the defendant has a New Jersey record for a similar offense and that he is also wanted to answer a similar charge in Philadelphia county, the imposition of sentence was deferred until Saturday.

The trial of this case ended the jury trials for the second week of February term of Criminal Court and the entire panel of jurors was discharged for the term.

REALTY HOUSES TO COST $5050 EACH

The Corporation Also Declares a Dividend of ten per cent for the Past Year

At a meeting of the directors of the Conshohocken Realty Corporation, held in the office of C. A. Leslie on Wednesday afternoon, it was decided to sell the sixty houses to be erected on West Eleventh and West Tenth avenues at $5050 each. These houses will be the same size as those erected by the corporation for the past three years, but will be of slightly different construction. There will be no garage on the lots. A dividend of ten per cent was also declared, payable to the stockholders on May first. This is an annual dividend, and is payable out of the profits of the past year. A small part of the corporation's ground is in Plymouth township, adjoining Conshohocken. A committee consisting of C. A. Desimore, Thomas F. McCoy and H. B. Heywood was appointed to see if it is desirable to have this annexed to Conshohocken.

THIEVES RANSACK WEST SIDE CHURCH

Break Stained Glass Window to Gain Entrance.—Break Locks on Closets.—Father Gaffney Scores Off Intruders.

Thieves entered St. Gertrude's church, Bullock and Merion avenues, West Conshohocken, about midnight on Monday. The intruders were frightened off by Rev. Thomas L. Gaffney, rector of the church, but not until after they had ransacked the place. Locks were broken on several closets, and the contents turned topsy-turvy although nothing was missing. It was just about midnight when Father Gaffney, in the rectory, was startled by what he thought was someone knocking around in the church. Listening for a second longer there was not the slightest doubt but what he thought at first was a reality. The lights were immediately flashed on but before Father Gaffney could get into the church the intruders had made their escape.

An investigation of the church revealed the fact the robbers had been in the basement as well as in the church proper. Entrance to the basement was gained by forcing a window. However, while evidence of their presence was found no damage resulted.

Entrance to the church was gained by breaking one of the beautiful stained glass windows in front of the church and climbing through. Once inside, the robbers took care to unlock the door, which is fastened by a bolt on the inside, in case they were forced to make a hasty retreat. They forced the locks on several closets, turning the contents topsy-turvy although nothing was missing. On account of this state of affairs it is believed the robbers were in search of money. If so they were doomed to disappointment as no money is permitted to remain in the church.

It is believed the men are strangers and probably the same ones who broke into and robbed the Sacred Heart church, Swedeland, early Monday morning, because had it been some one acquainted with the church they would have known how to go from the basement to the church without forcing a double entrance, as the door leading to the basement was unlocked.

The matter was reported to the police but up to the present time no clue to the robbers has been obtained.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH TO BUILD EDIFICE

Colored Baptists Have Purchased Ground and Expect to Start Work on Building This Summer

ORGANIZED IN 1925

The congregation of St. Paul's Colored Baptist church has purchased a lot of ground 69x129 at the corner of Third avenue and Hallock street for the purpose of erecting a new church building. The new edifice will be of stone construction and is expected to be completed this summer and rushed to rapid completion. St. Paul's is the new congregation in this vicinity, being organized April 2, 1925, part of the James Hall carpet mill, where they have been conducting their regular church services. Fifty members have been received into the church and there have been twelve persons baptized.

Ever since the organization of the church Rev. Marshall Lee, of this borough, has been the leading spirit. On November 17, of last year, Rev. Mr. Lee was ordained to the Baptist ministry, the occasion being one of the most interesting and attended by a large gathering of visiting clergymen.

Since the organization of the church the members have raised $927.53 of which $674.88 have been paid out as expenses. The most recent expense being for the purchase of 149 chairs.

A campaign is now being carried on among the members with the idea of raising $300 by March 21. Rev. Mr. Lee has been a resident of this borough for the past thirty-seven years and commands a wide circle of friends. For many years he has been prominently identified with church work. He is a vocalist of repute and his services are much sought.

COURT STRIKES AT SOURCE OF LIQUOR

Drunken Driver's Companions Arrested at Judge's Order for Transportation

Source of liquor supply, at which the courts and police officials are continually striking, was ordered "cleaned up" in at least one direction through the strenuous efforts of Judge Williams, late Wednesday afternoon. The judge is the central figure in a swiftly moving cycle of events, which had as its basis, the arrest of Samuel B. Scheetz, of Bryn Mawr, for operating his automobile while under the influence of intoxicants.

In pleading guilty to this offense, Scheetz declared two companions, James Ferra and Isaac Johnson, also of the Main Line borough, actually furnished the "moonshine."

At the demand of Judge Williams, warrants were sworn out before Magistrate E. M. Harty for the arrest of Ferra and Johnson, who were brought into court several hours later and pleaded guilty to transportation of liquor. Two half emptied pint bottles were confiscated by the Norristown police at the time the trio first got into difficulties.

Because of the small quantities of liquor in possession of the men, police did not hold Ferra and Johnson for court, leaving Scheetz to bear the brunt of the "party" aftermath.

On the strength of Scheetz's testimony, his companions in crime were arrested within the tolls of the law, however, and arrested at their place of employment in Rosemont.

After imposing a sentence of five months in prison upon Johnson, Judge Williams questioned Ferra, as to the source of the liquor, which tested 47 per cent, alcoholic content.

Apparently in fear of a similar sentence, received by Johnson, the third defendant in the case told the court he knew where the "whisky" was purchased.

"We bought it off a Polish widow woman in West Conshohocken," he declared, mopping perspiration from his brow. "I paid visits to the place at least 20 times within the past year and a half."

"Would you be willing to lead Chief Eller to the place," the court queried, and received a quick reply in the affirmative.

In company with Ferra, the officer left the court room and Scheetz was remanded to the county jail to await the outcome of the raid.

SPLENDID RESULTS OF GARBAGE COLLECTION

The Guarantors committee feel highly gratified that they have been successful in securing the services of Mrs. Elizabeth Rawnsley, of this borough, to go about town making collections with which to meet the bills due to the Garbage Contractors.

Mrs. Rawnsley reports much success on the East side of Fayette street down through Hector street and up Spring Mill avenue, and the numbered streets.

It is regrettable to find in checking up that the collections made on the West side of Fayette in the section comprising West Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh and Eighth avenues, have been exceedingly disappointing. The collections through this whole section have been almost negligible. Mrs. Rawnsley finds, however, that this condition is due presumably to the fact that there has not been a proper contact established with the residents. Many residents in this section have signified their intention to pay the collector, and backing the garbage system to the fullest extent.

The committee feels that in the follow up process being made by Mrs. Rawnsley, the dire need of the garbage collections in Conshohocken will be realized by everyone, and that they will see the necessity for an improvement town wide in its collection.

The garbage collection is to be assured every resident of the town as soon as the work is straightened out.

The Guarantors make an earnest appeal to every public spirited citizen in the town irrespective of whether they are receiving the garbage collection or not, to make at least a small contribution to the garbage fund immediately.

Payment made to Frank J. C. Jones, treasurer, or the First National Bank of Conshohocken, will be greatly appreciated.

Fresh Vegetables From Your Own Garden

It is a fact worth remembering that many of the best varieties among even the common vegetables, cannot be bought in the market, for the reason that they will not stand shipping.

These varieties can be grown in the home garden, as well as the less desirable sorts, and supply the suburbanite table with luxuries that the city man must go without. The man with a garden can have them fresh and consequently at their best.

A very important factor is to have good food seeds, so that the farmer and the man with the small garden plot, should place his order only with firms which he has reason to believe are thoroughly reliable.

Any reader can secure free of charge, an instructive 192 page illustrated catalog from "Michell's Seed House," 518 Market street, Philadelphia. This book is a valuable source of information to all garden lovers.

A GREAT MENACE

By M. A. Traylor, Chairman, Economic Policy Commission, American Bankers' Association. A cross section of American thought today, as reflected in private conversation, public addresses and through our multitude of avenues of thought distribution, would reveal perhaps as great a confusion of ideas and purposes as confounded the assembled throng at Babylon.

There should be a diversity of interest represented upon the Board, but that the majority of the Board should ever be constituted of other than men thoroughly trained by practical experience in financial management is to me utterly unthinkable and if practiced will in the end lead to a complete disintegration of the strength of the System, if not to a worse conclusion.

Banking a Science

The science of banking is not an accident. It rests upon principles as fundamental as the laws of the universe. Logic, technical and practical experience is absolutely essential to the safe management of any financial institution, and yet what is the result of the political assaults that have been made upon the Federal Reserve, the greatest piece of financial machinery in this country?

Civic Opera Company Adds Another Triumph to its Already Long List

Another triumph was added to its already long list by the Philadelphia Civic Opera Company last evening when it produced Samson and Dalila at the Metropolitan Opera House, Philadelphia. There have been many fine performances of this melodious opera in Philadelphia, especially notable being those under the regime of the erratic impresario Hammerstein, and, therefore, the production of this masterpiece of the French composer invites comparison. It is, therefore, placing not one, but many plumes in the hat of the management of the Philadelphia operatic organization when it is stated that last night's performance compares favorably with any previous production.

One of the notable features of the coal strike was that within forty-eight hours of the signing of the agreement between the operators and miners, the wholesale price of coke was cut in half. Unfortunately, the retailer, who is not responsible for these high prices, is compelled to bear all the opprobrium for them from the consumer.

A small section of the ground owned by the Realty Corporation, on which houses will be built this year, is in Plymouth Township. It consists of the strip east of Colwell Lane and the borough line from about Eighth avenue to Twelfth. If Conshohocken Town Council desires it, and the Court approves, the Realty Corporation will permit its annexation to Conshohocken. This step will increase the total taxes paid to the borough and school, and will not add to the cost of borough government, and therefore, we believe the annexation is desirable and should be welcomed by town council.

The Water Company and Borough Agree

At the meeting on Wednesday evening before representatives of West Conshohocken Town Council, the Water Company and an inspector from the Public Service Commission as umpire, a tentative agreement was reached subject to approval by the Public Service Commission. Those interested are to be congratulated on the outcome. It is an old saying that you can catch more flies with molasses than vinegar, and this applies to the relation between borough officials and a utility company. The latter must give good service, or justifiable complaint can be made to the Public Service Commission, who will promptly require that efficient service be given to the people. If the Water Company is given the opportunity to gradually add to its plant and equipment, its service should steadily improve, and this latter is what interests the people of West Conshohocken.

Our Government Building

Congress is about changing its methods authorizing the erection of public buildings. Formerly, all buildings were directly authorized by an act of Congress. Now, it is proposed to enact an Omnibus Public Building Bill, giving a certain amount of money to the Postmaster General, and he will direct where this will be spent for new post office buildings.

This is unfortunate for Conshohocken's proposed post-office building. Under the new methods the big cities will get more attention than the small town. The latter will have trouble in getting a fair part of the building fund. Therefore, Conshohocken may have difficulty in persuading the Postmaster General that Conshohocken should have preference to Norristown, Jenkintown, Ardmore and the other places in the county that want Government Buildings. The outlook is not as favorable as it was six months ago, but we should not despair, but continue our efforts to sell the Postmaster General on the needs of Conshohocken.

Study Our Great Men

Next Monday is the birthday of George Washington, and as is usual, the schools will close, giving the pupils a holiday. It is probably a question whether the holiday to the pupils adds anything to their knowledge or appreciation of our first president. Perhaps if the schools remained in session and the whole day was devoted to an exemplification of George Washington's life; his statesmanship, his speeches, his domestic life, and the anecdotes that explain his career, the pupils would benefit more in knowledge of the great American that would be useful during their whole life. The holiday is just another day for the movies, or some sport, and means no real value to the pupils' life. Special services in the schools would be of value. There are so many holidays for school pupils, and such short hours for study that there is a growing feeling that school children are not receiving enough instruction. Whether they are or not intensive study of great Americans would be beneficial to all scholars, and should be practiced in our schools.

The Spanish Prisoner Swindle.

Probably the most famous swindle of all times and one that is still being "worked" is the Spanish prisoner swindle. A Conshohocken man was recently picked out as the victim. The writer, it seems, being imprisoned by "bankruptcy" needs help in getting a portmanteau left in this country and containing in a secret pocket two checks for $300,000, payable to bearer. These must not fall into the hands of the Spanish authorities, of course, but if the noble American will get them cashed he is to keep $120,000 for his trouble. By cable and not by mail this unhappy prisoner can be reached "through a person of my confidence" whose address is "Lista Correos 289, Esparraguez Espanza." And if the American cables, he will be told about sending a few hundred dollars to the prisoner as a guarantee of good faith and to meet some trouble—some court expenses.

This was the tale written to the Conshohocken man, but this swindle has been exposed so often that he was not taken in by it, but promptly turned it over to THE RECORDER.

Such addresses, as the above one, have been turned over to the Spanish authorities many times, but they never seem to be much interested. At any rate, it is not recorded that any one ever was arrested for playing "the Spanish prisoner" game. That may be because it was the unsuccessful, not the successful, attempts at fraud that were revealed.

MAN vs WOMAN

Dear Miss Flo—After reading a number of your articles, I thought you might also be interested in a bachelor's viewpoint toward women—and why he is staying single.

Of course you know, as every one else with any reasoning power at all knows, that women were created primarily for men's entertainment and amusement. Adam was lonely—therefore Eve, and women have remained men's toys ever since.

Now women are refusing to remain toys. In other words, they are forgetting their place. Naturally men, realizing that there can be no happiness in the sea of matrimony, where there is mutiny on board ship, do not care to take a chance, so they stay single. I for one, am having too much fun being a bachelor to ever think of getting married.

What do you think of that?
 Billie.

Your are quite flattering—when your credit me with reasoning power and try to convince me that my sex is merely man's plaything. You'll change your mind, no doubt, about my reasoning power, when you learn that it takes a slightly different turn from yours. I heartily and most emphatically disagree with you. Where do you get the idea that women were created merely for man's amusement. Possibly you have been attending too many musical comedies and reviews. If so, you might be pardoned for coming to such a conclusion, but no one can have even a fair acquaintance with the world of business women without being convinced otherwise.

Stenographers, shop girls, waitresses and business women with their own successful establishments would probably answer that if what they are doing now constitutes man's amusement, they would never have to go to work. In the field of work with which I am most familiar—and remember, I am not exploiting my sex any more than you are exploiting your sex—women are a match for the men, and in many cases, they are more than a match.

Everyday Science

By RUSSELL C. ERB

RAPID TRANSIT

The high cost of living has, and probably always will be the big problem of life. The commonness of this expression has reached such a degree that H. C. L. has been named as an abbreviation of the four words—high cost of living. All branches of human knowledge have taken up this question in a greater or less degree. The Sciences are probably the only type of knowledge that tries to advance means for reducing the cost of maintaining normal life.

The science of dietetics advances the statement that we eat too much. This is not only a statement but a fact. We may modify this fact by saying that if we would eat less and chew our food more, the cost of living would be appreciably lower and our general digestive disturbances reduced to a minimum.

Scientists have found thousands of analyses of the human feces. "Feces" is merely the scientific term meaning the residual mass of food in the intestines. A high percentage of the human feces contains whole, unassimilated particles of foods. Such foods as peas and corn are most often found in the whole condition. Portions of starchy foods and meat fibers are also found in the unutilized condition.

What do these findings show? They show that the mouth that is in partnership with those particular intestines does not chew the food enough. We swallow most of our food whole, using water as a wash-down. Peas in our gastronomic haste, are bound to roll down instead of being crushed and partly digested in the mouth. And so this offense to the body and to the pocketbook goes on, in fact, day after day, and sometimes between meals. People, though they are told, find it difficult to break away from old habits. Science has a hard time in educating people to better ways.

Public Indignation

The taxicab assassins are now roaming bold and free. The patter of the blackjack nightly wakes you and me. Tobaccoists' emporia are stuck up every minute. While rare indeed's the jeweler's skull that has no bullet in it. Municipal authority the criminals defy. The paralyzed police merely nets the smaller fry. Hence the public's so indignant that, as is the public's way, The voters will go thronging to the links election day.

A UNION SOLDIERS DEFY

Don't talk to me of San Juan Hill, Or that scrap in Manila bay, For I was one of the boys in blue That fought with the boys in gray. I don't disparage the Spanish war, Or that fight on the first of May. But I was a foot rank volunteer, More than three score years ago.

Just think of the men who led us then, We cherish their memory still. McChas, Logan, Pratt and Meade Sherman and little Bill.

And think of the chaps on the other side, They were giants yesirree. Stoneval, Jackson, Beargard, Mosby, Stewart and Lee.

The war that was scheduled for sixty days, Took nigh six years to run but staided It thinned our ranks but staided our nerves. And at last the fight was won.

Was it worth the cost of blood and tears, That was shed from day to day. You bet it was for it settled things And the Union's here to stay.

And now today you younger boys Are reaping what we sowed. We plowed the land with fire and sword, And blood like water flowed.

But one good thing that came of it Which no one can gainsay, No Mason and Dixie line divides On Decoration day.

Then bring the flowers and pile them high, On the graves of the men who died And let "Old Glory" wave o'er all, Our heroes side my side.

No need to ask were they Yanks or Rebs, In the days when they fought below. They are comrades now in the ranks above, And they were afraid to go.

"Moral" "Next to God our Country" M. GLEZENGER.

Topics of the Times

The important thing in America is the baby of today, destined to be the President, the Postmaster, the millionaire, mechanic and farmer of the coming generation.

The important thing for the baby and there fore for America's future is MILK.

Postmaster: New knows that the farmer gets at most four or five cents a quart for his milk. And the mother who needs milk for her children pays from fifteen to twenty cents.

In other words, the farmer if he does well after raising the cost of a gallon, getting up before dawn three hundred and sixty-five times a year, cleaning out the stable, raising the feed and doing all the rest of it, he gets only five cents a quart for producing the milk. And somebody, usually an "intelligent combiner" gets from twelve to twenty cents per quart for delivering the milk.

Mr. Postmaster, why can't you be the milkman and deliver the milk? You deliver eggs now, and handle millions of them with minimum breakage as poultrymen will testify. Fresh eggs in cities are worth 60 cents to a dollar a dozen, depending on the season. Pured post delivers them for a few cents per dozen. If it cost as much to distribute eggs as it does to distribute milk, and if the farmer got present prices for fresh eggs as in winter time, the city consumer would have to pay at least $3.00 a dozen.

The distributor of milk adds from one hundred to three hundred per cent to the cost of the milk for his trouble in handling it to the consumer. Pured post delivers more expensive handling than eggs, but there should be reason in all things, even in milk combine.

If it is possible to distribute eggs without breaking them, is it not possible to distribute milk without spilling it or letting it spoil?

The present post is well managed and powerful. Glass bottles could be replaced with paper containers, sealed with paraffin, bottles thrown away after use. There is gigantic waste now in glass bottles—the consumer pays that.

The Post Office of the United States could take the milk from the farmers, carry it on rapid trains to the cities, and distribute it through its great distributing agency that visits every household every day. The milk for which the farmer gets four cents could be delivered to the mothers of children for seven cents, and one of the most costly combines would be abolished by simple government efficiency.

CIVIL WAR VETERANS

A List of Those From This Borough Who Entered the Service at Beginning of War

When the first call was made for volunteers at the outbreak of the Civil War, Conshohocken was in the late war was one of the first to respond and eighty-six of the stalwart young men responded and offered their services to their country. Of these eighty-six, but two are known among those who returned and weathered the storm of the war to remain among the living today. Of these two H. J. Harrod, a member of George Smith Post, is the only resident of the borough. The other survivor, however, is well-known throughout the town and is a reminder of the storm of the war to remain among the living today. He is Samuel Hines, who during the past few years has been a resident of New York, making frequent trips here to renew acquaintances.

The following list of those who answered the first call from this borough was compiled by Mr. Harrod and Jonathan E. Rodgers, whose death occurred only a few weeks ago:

HEAVIEST BABY LAMB.

POODLES. 2 AND 4 LEGS. BURBANK AN INFIDEL?

The heaviest new born lamb on record arrives on the farm of Robert Magee in Michigan, weighing fourteen pounds.

The new born cub of a 600 pound bear weighs only a few ounces, and the mother is usually sound asleep, in late winter, when her baby is born.

Why should nature inflict on delicate human mothers infants weighing twelve pounds and more? An Italian doctor believes that the right diet for the mother would make the new baby much lighter and stronger and childbirth much easier.

The fattest, heaviest baby is not necessarily the best.

Profits on the Pennsylvania Railroad for one year reach a "neak" for all time, more than $100,000,000.

This, and increasing railroad profits everywhere, should gain a friendly hearing and better pay for railroad workers.

To raise the pay of millions of men would cost hundreds of millions a year. But that is the scale we are now geared up to, nationally, and the hundreds of millions would be poured back into general prosperity, the railroads getting their share.

Husbands are gradually losing their ancient "rights." The marriage service no longer makes woman promise to obey, English law no longer permits a man to beat his wife "with a stick no bigger around than his thumb." A Russian husband no longer beats his wife gently on their marriage day to prove that he is boss. And now a wife gets her divorce with cash alimony simply because the husband, during the past eight years, has had a way of calling her in the morning by throwing cold water on her as she lay in bed at 6. An occasional, not frequent, beating, adds to the effect of the cold water.

An expert says poodles and other lap dogs "go mad" often than dogs that take more exercise. Another expert, friendly to poodles, says that isn't so. One thing is certain, HUMAN poodles patted and pampered, inherited money, go mad, or lose their balance, much more quickly than those that work for a living. See the divorce and "high class" crime news in your daily newspapers.

Luther Burbank in a San Francisco pulpit gives more information concerning his views on a Supreme Being. He says he is an infidel, but believes in God. Of course he doesn't KNOW that he is an infidel, and he can't tell whether he believes in God or not. "Belief" is a word used commonly to describe a mental habit.

As to the existence of a Supreme Being, the belief of individuals, from Thales to the Mahatma Gandhi, is about as important as the beliefs of so many hoploids speculating on the nature, power and purposes of a passing airplane. We don't even know positively that we exist, and haven't the vaguest idea how or WHY we exist. Our abstract speculations are foolish, but we can't help trying.

Judge's Joke

PRESENT DAY POLITICIANS HAVE THREE CHOICES—OUR SIDE—THE OTHER SIDE AND THE FENCE.

"Uncle John is always lamenting the passing of the old days." Evidently doesn't like the daze he is in.

Every American is born with the inalienable right to life, liberty and the pursuit of a cheap second-hand car.

The only objection we have to short skirts is the exceedingly long list of stale jokes about them.

Too much of the world is run on the theory that you don't need reformers if you are a five-ton truck.

Why did you give that inferior servant such splendid references? "I was obliged to give them," explained the weary housewife, "in order to persuade her to go peaceably."

Russia has heard real American jazz for the first time, having succeeded in catching it over the radio. It is to be hoped that no nations with which we are desirous of maintaining friendly relations were listening in, too.

STRENGTH IN RESERVE STRAIGHT TALKS

Nation's Financial Resources Mobilized for General Good When Need Comes.

There are more than thirty thousand banks in the United States, largely owned by residents of the cities, towns and villages in which they operate. They receive deposits of coin, currency or credits for the current use of business and for safe-keeping and they loan out these funds with interest to proper and profitable business enterprises, agricultural, industrial or commercial, always bearing in mind the necessity of having on hand, or quickly available, sufficient funds to meet the demands of such customers as desire to make withdrawals.

To meet the demands of such customers and others upon the funds in their care bankers must maintain reserves—in their vaults, on deposit with other banks, invested in securities which command a ready market, or it may be in the form of call loans, payment of which they can demand at will.

Before the establishment of the Federal Reserve System—in 1907, in 1896, in 1873 and many times before—the banks of the nation were unable to assist each other when panic threatened. There was no provision for effective leadership, and co-operative action was out of the question. Bank reserves, carried with other banks which were no less embarrassed were least available when they were needed most.

Every country bank had reserves in one or more of the larger cities in its section as well as in the great centers of population, and since the correspondent banks paid interest on such deposits they were compelled to loan them out, usually at call. Whenever panic or the growing fear of it led any bank to draw upon its reserves—and panic usually led every bank to do so—the correspondent, in order to meet such demands, was compelled to withdraw the money from active service and the thousands of such withdrawals, aggregating many millions of dollars, only made the general situation worse by restricting essential business operations and in many cases compelling the sale of securities, perhaps at grievous loss.

The direct result in more than one instance was a complete breakdown of the country's banking machinery and a prolonged period of resultant depression in industry and commerce.

The great achievement of the Federal Reserve System has been the massing of the nation's monetary armies. By this means it has rendered financial panic impossible in America and has eliminated the worst features of business depression.

WITH AUNT EMMY

ON BEING A SMALL INVESTOR

"It seems to me, Aunt Emmy," said Jane, "that it is rather silly for us to be talking about investments when all we can save is about $500 a year after all our expenses and life insurance are paid."

"You're wrong there. If you save $500 a year you are doing very well indeed, and remember that the insurance you speak of is in the nature of an investment itself."

"Well, I know, Aunt, but some how investments always seem to mean dealing in lost of money, thousands and thousands of dollars. There certainly can't be many good securities which people with so little money as we have could buy."

"Indeed, there are a number of good investments for the small investor," said Aunt Emmy. "Even if you could only set aside five or ten dollars a month you can be sure of one investment that you can safely make on your own responsibility and that is putting your money in a savings bank, the safest and most conservative way of making it work for you. Even though the interest will be moderate, you will feel safe. Then there are other securities you can buy, but don't buy any before getting sound advice from some trust company or bank. These investments are real estate mortgages, industrial corporation securities, public utility corporation securities, government securities—any one of these securities may be bought on the installment plan. You may pay as little as five dollars a month for them or as much as you want to invest."

"Of course, you can never be actually positive that an investment will turn out well. Human affairs are uncertain at best. When you invest money, what you really do is entrust your money to business men to use in a paying business. If your bank gives a good account of the corporation whose securities you desire to buy you are comparatively safe. But never use a cent of your capital for speculation. No matter who comes to you and tells you that a certain stock is going up, that it is a sure thing, don't speculate on it. Speculating in stocks is not for our kind. You'd never believe it, but some people who are supposed to have common sense will mortgage their homes and ruin themselves in wild speculations. The best thing for you is to buy securities on monthly payments."

"Can you do that, Aunt Emmy?" "Certainly, and if you start to do it you'll soon find that you'll be willing to do without lots of little catching penny things for the sake of owning a nice comfortable bond."—Anne B. Aymea.

CONVINCES JURY BOOZE WASN'T HIS

Escapes Conviction But is Forced to Pay Costs

"Not guilty on both bills; costs to be divided between the defendant and prosecutor." That was the verdict of the jury which heard the case of John Tucker, negro, of Wynne, tried before Judge Solly on charges of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor and transportation of illicit whiskey. The suit grew out of an automobile accident which happened in front of the Gulph Country Club, December 6, last. Raymond Killman, of 108 East Elm street, Norristown, caused the arrest of Tucker after the cars of the respective parties had collided, alleging the defendant was intoxicated at the time, and that a companion riding in Tucker's car carried a gallon of moonshine. The station container of liquor was produced by the police, but the defendant, through counsel, J. Herbert Egan, satisfied the jury, it was not his property and that he had no knowledge of its being transported.

Edward Rodenhough, of Norristown, pleaded guilty before Judge Miller to the charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated, and was sentenced to four months in jail.

John Provoce, in whose hotel at Spring House, State troopers confiscated eighteen cases of beer and a quantity of moonshine whiskey, also pleaded guilty before Judge Solly and will be sentenced Saturday.

Pleading guilty to illegal possession of intoxicants, before Judge Solly, Alexander Selak, of West Ambler, was sentenced to pay a fine of $125 and serve thirty days in jail.

Earl Wetzel, proprietor of the hotel at Unionville, pleaded guilty to a violation of the liquor law and keeping a gambling house and will be sentenced later. Thirty-one cases of beer were found in his hotel by the State police.

He nodded toward the clergyman in the pulpit, whispered back tersely, "Just opened for the defense."

Singer Finds Determination Greatest Factor In Success

HELEN STOVER

Helen Stover, In Effort to Win, Takes On Three Professions At Once

Why wait until some booking agent thinks you're good as you know you are, inquires Miss Helen Stover, a singer, who is also her own concert manager and booking agent.

When Miss Stover decided upon a musical career, she was confronted by the usual difficulties that beset young girls with operatic ambitions.

"Only I had just decided not to let any difficulties keep me back," confides Miss Stover, who is as good looking as she is energetic.

"I firmly believe that determination and ambition are the greatest factors in success. You may have all the talent in the world and never get anywhere with it, if you sit idle, waiting for good fortune or a booking agent to help you out. Every man and woman can be his or her own good fortune, I say."

Miss Stover is an ardent supporter of American music and believes the American public wants songs by its own composers.

"I never sing a program on which I do not include at least three or four home-made numbers," she declares. "Some of the prettiest modern things have been written here in America. One of which I am very fond is 'When Lights Are Low, a dreamy waltz. It has the rhythm and sentiment which American people love and it is very real music."

"Another of my loyalties to my native land is that I have never studied abroad. I consider myself a native-born American."

She is anybody in Europe.

"My advice to a girl with ambition for a concert career is that she let nobody discourage her, but go out on her own, and let America provide both instruction and musical material. If she has any talent at all she will get to the top."

MOYER, IN COURT, ADMITS FUND THEFT

Sixty Counts on Embezzlement and Forgery Offered Against Former Banker

Walter R. Moyer, former treasurer of the Norristown-Penn Trust Company, pleaded guilty in court Wednesday afternoon to forgery and embezzlement of funds totaling $184,448.28, belonging to the bank and others, but he was not sentenced. He was remanded to jail, where he has been since October 29, 1925, until Saturday, or "such other time as he is ordered into court."

He was represented by his brother, E. C. A. Moyer, who, in pleading for leniency, asked the Court to consider keeping him in the Montgomery county jail instead of sending him to the penitentiary.

Takes Witness Stand
In his own defense Moyer took the witness stand. In a faltering voice that could scarcely be heard by Judges Miller, Williams and Solly, in reply to Judge Miller on what he had to say, declared:

"Having got into trouble I tried to get out of it with the result that I got into it deeper."

District Attorney Renninger presented thirty-five bills, containing sixty counts against Moyer, and put on the witness stand only one witness, Godfrey F. Berger, now a Norristown Penn Trust Company official but at the time of an audit, several months ago, in the employ of a Philadelphia auditing firm, employed to audit the accounts of the trust company.

He told the Court how various accounts had been juggled, among them those of H. K. Bussa, Simon Salsky, the Central Presbyterian church, J. C. Mendenhall, Clara K. Quillman, Edward R. Price, Margaret R. Kinsey, Catharine Longaker, W. R. Yerger, Gaylord T. Harris, Catharine and Jane Miller and Annie Anderson.

Call Character Witnesses
Character witnesses were called, all of whom gave Moyer a splendid reputation until the disclosures had been made. Among those who testified regarding his character were, C. Carroll Hoover, an attorney, Charles Schnabley, a Norristown merchant; Clayton Alderfer, president of the Trust Company, and Frank S. Yeakle, vice president.

When District Attorney Renninger asked whether restitution had been made, Mr. Berger testified that none had been made to his knowledge and there had been no offer to make restitution. It was generally admitted that he had no means to make restitution if he wanted to. In fact, his brother admitted that he was not in circumstances to return any of the money.

"I make no excuse," said his counsel in appealing to the Court for mercy. He said that Moyer had tried to make whole a previous default by misusing more money.

Moyer and J. Truman Eber, another former executive of the Norristown Penn Trust Company, occupy the same cell in the Montgomery county jail.

They pleaded guilty, a week ago and was remanded to prison, after being out on bail for sentence next Saturday. His shortage was $2,000.

Moyer twitched nervously all the time he was in court and when he talked he could not be heard by those in the court room.

Liquor Cases Rouses Wrath of Judge Williams

Court Orders Arrest of Alleged Employers of Intoxicated Driver

Cluttering of the court dockets with petty liquor cases appeared to be the underlying cause of arousing the ire of Judge Williams Wednesday, when Samuel B. Scheetz, of Bryn Mawr, pleaded guilty to operating his motor car "while under the influence."

After hearing testimony of Norristown patrolman who made the arrest in the vicinity of Main and Franklin streets, the court asked the defendant if he had anything to say.

"All I want to know is, who is going to care for my wife and two children?" Scheetz, replied apparently anticipating a jail sentence.

Further questioning developed the fact that one Isaac Johnson and a companion, James Farra, who were with Scheetz at the time of his arrest, actually had furnished the liquor, after hiring the defendant to drive them about the country. Scheetz said he agreed to the use of his machine when told he would receive $5, which amount, he declared, however, is still owed him.

"I demand that warrants be sworn out for the arrest of Farra and Johnson," Judge Williams said, remanding Scheetz to jail until the two were taken into custody. The court made it plain Scheetz should not suffer for the shortcomings of his companions, who were permitted to go free after self-evident transportation of intoxicants. Officer Sperry testified a pint bottle had been taken from the respective persons of Johnson and Farra. Warrants were placed in the hands of Constable Wolfe for the arrest of Farra and Johnson, who are employed at Rosemont.

A Generous Job.

A Holyoke, Massachusetts, man in Worcester found that he had spent all his money, and began looking about for a chance to earn some. Seeing a group of men digging for the foundation of a new building, he asked the foreman if he could go to work. "Sure," said the foreman, "help yourself to a shovel." Picking up an idle shovel, the newcomer worked away for a couple of hours. Finally, when he paused for a rest, one of the men who was working beside him said: "I don't seem to know you—where do you live?" "I live in Holyoke," replied the newcomer. "What are you doing here?" asked the other. "All of us Worcester men are giving a day's work free to help build the new Presbyterian church."

Turning the Tables

"Three gallons of gas, please."

"Yes, sir. Want some cylinder oil too?"
"No, just gas."
"Do you want some paint? Your car needs it, and we've got some dandy paint—heat-proof, dirt-proof, guaranteed to wear long."
"No, I only want gas to-day."

"Then you want your car washed?"
"I said that I wanted only gas."
"You want a tire, then? We've got some good non-skidding. Only $40 apiece. Want one?"
"I tell you I only want gas to-day!"

"Yes, sir; but—say, your rear lights are all shot to pieces. You need new ones. We just got in some dandy new ones. Shall I put some in?"
"No! I want only gas, do you understand?"

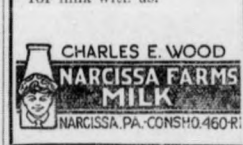

"Your magnets needs adjusting—didn't hear that funny noise in the motor when you stop? It needs adjusting. I'll fix it, what?"
"No! I want only gas, gas! Do you hear!"

"Yes, sir!" And with the gas obtained, the exasperated motorist drove angrily away. But for once the garage man has got even with his barber.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

20th Annual Meeting of Supervisors' Association Held in Norristown

A definite and concrete road-building program for their term of office, a close co-operation with every agency in any way identified with road building, the confidence of the tax payers in every undertaking, and the elimination of politics or personal interests were the high spots of the twelfth annual meeting of the Supervisors' Association of Montgomery held in Norristown on Tuesday.

Daniel Stout, of Glenside, chairman of the County Commissioners, presided. He presented data regarding the program of road building on the part of the county, indicating that with the use of county and State funds, as well as the aid to be given to townships, the total road mileage planned for the year would exceed forty-five miles aside from bridge construction, repairs and maintenance.

Other speakers were Phillip H. Dewey, president of the State Association of Township Supervisors; D. Stackpole, State Highway Department; R. S. Cox, Fidelity Casualty Company; Louis Hoffman, State Highway Department.

Officers were re-elected as follows: President, Daniel P. Stout; vice president, Walter Linn; secretary, J. B. Krause, and treasurer, Hiram Gribel.

His Ready Tongue

In one of Lloyd George's early campaigns some one threw a brick through the window, and it fell on the platform at his feet. Picking it up, he cried: "Behold the only argument of our opponents." From the gallery, a sullen fellow kept calling out "Rats! Rats!" in one of his nastiness. Will some one please take the Chinaman his dinner?" was the witty and effective reply.

Once when he was talking on "home rule" he said, "I want home rule for England, for Scotland, for Wales, for Ireland"—at this point some one shouted, "Home rule for hell."

"That's right," he shot back. "Every man for his own country." In another gathering a man shouted, "Oh, you're not so much. Your dad used to peddle vegetables with a donkey and cart." "Yes," said the orator, "that is true. My father was a poor man. The cart has long since disappeared, but I see the donkey is still with us."

MONTGOMERY ROAD PLANS DISCUSSED

20th Annual Meeting of Supervisors' Association Held in Norristown

A definite and concrete road-building program for their term of office, a close co-operation with every agency in any way identified with road building, the confidence of the tax payers in every undertaking, and the elimination of politics or personal interests were the high spots of the twelfth annual meeting of the Supervisors' Association of Montgomery held in Norristown on Tuesday.

Daniel Stout, of Glenside, chairman of the County Commissioners, presided. He presented data regarding the program of road building on the part of the county, indicating that with the use of county and State funds, as well as the aid to be given to townships, the total road mileage planned for the year would exceed forty-five miles aside from bridge construction, repairs and maintenance.

Other speakers were Phillip H. Dewey, president of the State Association of Township Supervisors; D. Stackpole, State Highway Department; R. S. Cox, Fidelity Casualty Company; Louis Hoffman, State Highway Department.

Officers were re-elected as follows: President, Daniel P. Stout; vice president, Walter Linn; secretary, J. B. Krause, and treasurer, Hiram Gribel.

His Ready Tongue

In one of Lloyd George's early campaigns some one threw a brick through the window, and it fell on the platform at his feet. Picking it up, he cried: "Behold the only argument of our opponents." From the gallery, a sullen fellow kept calling out "Rats! Rats!" in one of his nastiness. Will some one please take the Chinaman his dinner?" was the witty and effective reply.

Once when he was talking on "home rule" he said, "I want home rule for England, for Scotland, for Wales, for Ireland"—at this point some one shouted, "Home rule for hell."

"That's right," he shot back. "Every man for his own country." In another gathering a man shouted, "Oh, you're not so much. Your dad used to peddle vegetables with a donkey and cart." "Yes," said the orator, "that is true. My father was a poor man. The cart has long since disappeared, but I see the donkey is still with us."

MOLLY TELLS MORE OF EARLY DAYS IN BOROUG

Would you like to hear more of the story of the Wood family? Well then Molly will continue and so: A few years before 1860, Dan Lukens purchased the farm which is now the First and Fourth ward of Conshohocken with the exception of the smaller farms of Cadwalader Poole and the Shepherd family. Poole's farm was that tract of land now known at Connaughttown. The Shepherd farm, east of the Plymouth creek, built in 174, the homestead of which is still standing, occupied, is now the Lukens property.

David Lukens, of Mary, Shepherd of the Shepherd household and they began their married life in the farm house still standing on West Third avenue near Wood street. Among the sons of Dan and Mary Lukens, was Lewis, who, when James Wood's family came to Conshohocken was quick to discover the charms of James Wood's oldest daughter Mary, Lewis lost no time in claiming Mary for his bride.

Mary Lukens, wife of David passed away in 1818. In 1828, David died and the executors sold the farm in 1833 to James Wood who placed his new home on a farm near Wood street. The new home was built by James Wood and his wife Mary, who occupied the new home they had built which is now the home of the pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Polish church. Lewis Lukens selling his home to John Wood, who had married Elizabeth Wells, built the mansion on Third avenue and Fayette street, now occupied by the Free Library.

Benjamin Harry, son of David and Ann Harry, was the successful entrepreneur of the Harry family. The original home and barn of the Harry family stood on East Elm street where now stands the headquarters of James Lewis. Benjamin Harry's sister Mary, the mother of Mrs. Alan Wood, who gave to Conshohocken the Mary Wood school, according to Dr. Hiram Corson, was a beautiful young lady and the mother of Mrs. Corson. During the epidemic of cholera here, among the workmen on the canal construction, it was necessary to convert Harry's barn into a hospital. Here the victims of the deadly disease were taken while all others fled from the place stricken sufferers. Mary Harry alone, acted as their nurse, and Dr. Corson, their only physician.

Isaac Jones, born in 1771, in the village of East Hope street, was one of the most remarkable men, living through four wars in this country, the Revolution, the War of 1812, the Mexican and the Civil war. His family had a long and distinguished history. One of his grandsons, George, married the daughter of Charles Wood, son of James Wood.

Lewis Lukens and his wife, Mary, lived many years in their home on Third avenue and Fayette street. A beautiful couple, an example to all in the harmony, affection and beauty of their married life.

Methuselah ate what he found on his plate.

And never, as people do now, Did he note the amount of caloric count—

He ate it because it was chow. He wasn't disturbed as at dinner he sat,

Devolving a roast or a pie, To think it was lacking in granular fat.

Of a couple of vitamins shy, He cheerfully chewed every species of food.

Untroubled by worries or fears—

Least his health might be hurt by some fancy diet—

And he lived over nine hundred years!

Y. P. S. C. E. MEETING

The topic for the weekly prayer meeting of the Y. P. S. C. E. of the Conshohocken Presbyterian church, 645 p. m., February 21st, in the Lecture Room of the church is "Transformations: Lives transformed by Christ." Scripture reference: Acts 8: 1-20. Meeting in charge of Mrs. Elizabeth W. Edelman.

These meetings are becoming more interesting each week, as the new younger members of the society lead and take hold of them. The meeting last week, in charge of Miss Florence Coburn, was very good. While these meetings are for the young people, any body is welcome, and the older members of the congregation will find them a fine preparation for the evening service if they will come a little early and drop in for the last fifteen minutes or so.

As regards the topic, a moment's reflection will give us many proofs of Christ's transforming power on the history and progress of the world, nations and individuals. Starting with the apostles who were all unlearned, ordinary men of the world, following ordinary pursuits, and coming down through the ages, we have record of thousands upon thousands of lives transformed by Christ. Each one can readily think of someone whose life has been entirely changed by Christ coming into it. One of the most notable of all ages is that of "Saul of Tarsus." Christ's teachings are constantly and continuously affecting the nations of the world. China and India are opening to them, as well as all other nations, and in proportion as the Christian church obeys Christ's command: "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every nation" will the time be hastened when the whole world will be transformed by Him.

LOCAL HIGH WINS AT PHOENIXVILLE

Blue and Gold Plays Great Game to Win From Chester County School Team.—Girls Team Defeated.—Brown Cancels.

Conshohocken high school basketball team played a return game on Wednesday evening with Phoenixville high at the Chester county gymnasium and after one of the bitterest struggles in the history of the local team, succeeded in winning by the decisive score of 23-16.

Earlier in the season Phoenixville came to this borough and catching the local team at a time when they were weakened by the absence of their strongest players, succeeded in winning in an extra period by the score of 30-27. Suffering from the sting of defeat the minions of "Splice" Irwin went to Phoenixville bent on revenge and they got it in a large measure. The team had its full strength on the floor and played its best game of the season.

From the outset the local team played at whirlwind pace but the Phoenix boys managed to keep in the running all through the first half and at half-time the score stood at 11-7 in favor of Conshohocken.

When the play was resumed the game was marked by the same furious pace, with Conshohocken gradually pulling away from their opponents. The play at times became unnecessarily rough and it was necessary to call a number of fouls. Conshohocken played a clever defensive game, holding the speedy Phoenixville players to five field goals during the entire game while they themselves, managed to double this number.

Brown played a wonderful game at forward and succeeded in scoring five goals from the field.

Weakened by the absence of their star forward, Miss Montgomery, the local girls' team, who had no trouble in winning in this borough, was defeated by the girls' team in Phoenixville on Wednesday, the score being 20 to 12.

The score at half time was 11 to 7.

Following a week's illness on account of the school play both Boys' and Girls' teams of the local high school will swing into action this week again. The first contest will mark the appearance of the Berwyn High School Girls' team in the local gymnasium. The game will be played this afternoon and a real battle is anticipated. While it is a fact no game was scheduled for last week and all of the girls were busy with their theatrical performance, nevertheless, they found time to put in a few hours in the gymnasium and keep from going stale. This week they have been practicing hard and are ready to battle to the limit against the Main Liners. Berwyn is proud of their team of lassies and a large number of the students will accompany the players to this borough to cheer them on to victory. The teams are evenly matched and a great game is expected.

The contest scheduled to be played in the local gymnasium to-morrow evening between Conshohocken high and Brown Prep, school of Philadelphia, has been called on account of the Philadelphia cancelling the game.

Fires on Factory Official When Salary is Delayed

After being told to come back for his pay at an Ambler factory where he was employed, a sixty-six-year-old watchman fired several shots at the superintendent of the plant Wednesday night.

He is Fred Waad, Spring Garden street, Ambler, and had been employed as an analyst in Pottsville, Pa., by the Vulcan Foundry Company several months. Up until last week, he said, he had received his pay regularly, but when he applied to John Rainey, superintendent, for his weekly envelope, he was told to return later.

At a hearing before Squire Urban, Waad, who was held in $300 bail for court, said that he had gone to Philadelphia and purchased the pistol. "I was on my way to bed Wednesday night," Rainey said, "when the bell rang. My wife and baby son had just gone up the stairs and were waiting for me. I opened the door and before I could say anything to Waad he called me several names and then fired at me."

"I tried to slam the door, but he pushed in and I ran upstairs. Waad fired another shot at me." Neighbors telephoned the police station and Chief of Police Richard S. Ford disarmed the watchman.

27 CASES DEFERRED UNTIL APRIL TERM

Absence of Witnesses and Defendants Delays Action on 24 Trials in Montgomery

Twenty-four cases have been continued by District Attorney Renning to the April sessions of Criminal Court due to the absence of material witnesses, running away of defendants and other reasons that made it impossible for these cases to be tried at the February term of court.

Three other cases, in addition to the twenty-four are held over until April because of motions for new trials after verdicts of conviction. These three include: George S. Witt, aggravated assault and battery; Fred Marshall, assault and battery with intent to kill, and Fred Irlit, assault and battery.

Of the cases continued one is that in which Joseph P. Hyman is charged with conducting a gambling house in Norristown in which bandits held up many gamblers.

The trial of Oscar Inholder, proprietor of the Fort Washington Hotel, where ninety young girls and young men were taken in a raid by State police, was continued after both Inholder and George Shultz, the bartender, were indicted by the Grand Jury.
