Squibb & Sons Co. Breaks Ground in Upper Merion; Will Move From Phila.

William L. Garrity, Philadelphia regional sales manager for E. R. Squibb & Sons Co. declared yesterday that the pharmaceutical industry is spending upwards of $100 million a year on research, "ploughing back from four to six and sometimes up to 10% of gross income into the restless, endless hunt for compounds which will make the wonder drugs of today the has-beens of tomorrow."

The drug firm executive was principal speaker at ground-breaking exercises at King of Prussia for a new building to house the Philadelphia distributing branch of Squibb U. S. Highway 202 on Route 23. When it is completed early in 1959, the one-story brick and aluminum facaded structure will provide 40,000 square feet of office and warehouse space. The Squibb Philadelphia branch services the medical and pharmaceutical profession in five eastern states.

Squibb will double its facilities in the new building which will be erected on a four-acre tract providing additional room for future expansion. The most modern materials handling equipment, a system of electrically powered automatic conveyors, larger refrigeration facilities for handling products requiring refrigeration, and completely air-conditioned offices, will be included in the new plant.

"The fact that 75% of drug products prescribed today did not exist 10 years ago," Garrity said, "certainly confirms the significant expenditures in money and time for research being made by the drug industry. Since World War II, research expenditures in the drug field have probably tripled."

"With the increase in dollar investment in research has come an increase in the skilled scientific personnel to carry on this research. Several pharmaceutical firms, including Squibb, have more than 500 persons in their research departments. And maintaining just one scientist—paying his salary and giving him the expensive tools he needs and an efficient place to use them—costs an estimated $75,000 a year."

The Squibb executive went on to say that even with concentration of men and money, modern medical and pharmaceutical research today is a vast gamble. "We read and hear about the successes; the failures—and there are many of them—never get mentioned. For example, in the case of the broad-spectrum antibiotic, it was one in one hundred thousand. Fifty-five scientists screened that many samples, spending $4 million and two-and-a-half years, to find their product."

Conshy Brings Back Wrestling Volunteer Firemen Sponsor Card Aug. 22

The Graham Brothers, Dr. Jerry and Ed, and the team of Kid Fox and Chief Big Heart will be the top attraction in an all-star outdoor wrestling show Friday night, Aug. 22, at the Community Center field, 12th Ave. and Fayette St., Conshohocken.

The event is to be sponsored by Washington Fire Co. No. 1 of Conshohocken, the proceeds to be earmarked for a fund of $24,000 needed for the purchase of a new 1,600 a minute pumper.

The tag team will be a two out of three falls match. Promoter Ray Fabiani announced the semi-windup will feature light heavyweight champion Marvin Mercer of Reading and the tough Bozo Brown from St. Louis.

Two other matches complete the card. One has Soldier Berry, from Chicago, against Chico Lopez, of Puerto Rico, in a 30-minute test. The other, also a half-hour production, is between Jack Donovan and Arnold Skaland.

The program will mark the first wrestling show in the Conshohocken area for years. The community was a hot bed of athletic activity for years and the resumption of the mat sport for such a worthy cause is certain to stimulate sports interest.

The Grams are topnotchers as a team. Kid Fox and Chief Big Heart make a real test for Dr. Jerry and his younger brother.

$525,000 Spring Mill School Addition Ok'd; Fitness Course Proposed

Architectural plans for a proposed $425,000 addition to the Spring Mill Elementary school, Joshua and Cedar Grove Rds., were approved last night by the Whitmarsh Township school board.

Dunlap and Rienzi, architects, were authorized to proceed with the plans as modified by the board at a monthly meeting at Gen. Lafayette school, Barren Hill, Germantown Pike.

The cost of construction is exclusive of ground, furnishings, and equipment, which, it is estimated, will add $100,000 for a total of $525,000.

The addition will provide 10 classrooms and a kindergarten room in a two-story hillside structure which will be joined by a corridor to a one-story all purpose wing.

The all-purpose wing which will house the administrative offices, music and health rooms, kitchen, storage areas and an all-purpose room, will also be connected by a corridor to the existing school building.

After a discussion on whether the corridors which will join the three buildings should be open or closed, it was unanimously decided to close the corridors and heat them to a temperature of 60 degrees.

The additional cost of enclosing the corridors was estimated by the architect at $8000. Heating costs, he added, would be negligible. In the self-contained classrooms, (Continued on Page Seven)

No. 2 IN A SERIES ON COMMUNITY SAFETY

DRIVING WITH ONE FOOT IN THE GRAVE!
Perhaps not, but it could be a matter of feet that puts you there.

We're speaking of the feet your car travels after you comprehend danger and before you can do something about it.

Take a fairly average highway situation for example. It's a star-spangled night and you're zipping along at 316-800 a star an hour. (Your speedometer, not feet-conscious, reads 60.) Your headlights illuminate about 300 feet of highway ahead of you.

The first indication of danger is a stop sign at the intersection just entering your sphere of vision 300 feet ahead. Three-fourths of a second pass before your pre-chrome-trim-age brain gets the message to your foot to move from the accelerator to the brake. You have then used up 65 of your 300 feet—234 feet left.

Better hope no one's entering the intersection . . . because you simply cannot stop in time! Keep your foot ready for the brake . . . lightly on the accelerator. . . Stay out of an early grave!

YOUNG GOP LEADER — Miss Gloria Sabatini, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dominic Sabatini, of 4039 Joshua Rd., Lafayette Hill, is first woman from Montgomery County in many years to be elected vice-chairman of State Federation of Young Republicans. Miss Sabatini, a pharmacist with a Philadelphia firm, was elected at federation convention at Erie early this month. She is an honor graduate of Temple University School of Pharmacy and member of board of directors of its alumni association.

The Republican Platform Committee will meet at 2 P. M. today at Harrisburg to set up a schedule of public meetings at Harrisburg, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh to air recommendations for the party's 1958 platform.

Albert W. Johnson, of Smethport, Republican Majority Leader in the House of Representatives and chairman of the committee, has started contacting representatives of farm, labor, industry and private organizations, urging that they mail recommendations.

At its organization session, members elected Mrs. Sara C. Lettler, of Lebanon, permanent secretary, and Miss Gloria Sabatini, of Lafayette Hill, assistant secretary.

The platform will be recommended to the State Committee at a meeting at Pittsburgh Sept. 6.

Johnson said the tentative outline for the platform embraced 21 planks.

High on the list is education, embracing higher education, secondary schools and teaching and supervision. Another important plank covers public health and sanitation including water and air improvement and atomic energy and radiation.

Other subjects to be covered in the platform are agriculture, labor relations, youth programs and recreation, mental health and welfare, highways and highway safety, revenues and appropriations, constitutional revision, conservation including game and fish, professions and trades, veterans' affairs, natural resources, women in business and government, business promotion and industrial development, law and order, civil rights, small business, the Philadelphia program, the Pittsburgh program and other local governments.

Seats are scarce, although nearly 100,000 witness the event. Grandstands line either side of the mile-long track. Reservations must be made to insure good seats.

A big parade precedes the race, with a couple of top movie stars staging a race of their own. One year, No. 2 firemen went out with Jimmy Burnett, neighbor of Lebold, and saw Abbott and Costello in a hilarious race.

Several other localities plan to make the trip with the firemen.

One of the outstanding success stories in the drug industry over the last 15 years, according to Garity, has been the development and perfection of antibiotics. "As late as 1942, antibiotics did not appear in the catalog of any drug company," he said. "Today, more than $60 million worth are produced annually. The further development of antibiotics shall continue to play a large part in the expansion of the industry. This growth has certainly been aided by Squibb's principal broad-spectrum antibiotic, Mycostin-V. This antibiotic, which contains tetracycline, is made unique and particularly valuable by the addition of an antifungal agent, trade named Mycostatin, by Squibb," he reported.

"Mycostatin required more than four years of development by Squibb, more than one million dollars in research expenditures and extensive manufacturing facilities before it could be offered to the medical profession."

The Squibb firm has conducted branch operations in Philadelphia for nearly 30 years. The distributing branch is presently located at

Train Crushes Tractor Trailer

A tractor-trailer was struck by a westbound Reading Co. train and demolished early Wednesday morning at a crossing on River Rd. near Hamilton Paper Mill, Miquon.

The tractor-trailer, loaded with 30,000 pounds of paper stock, drifted onto the tracks when its air-brakes failed.

The driver, William L. Pershing, 33, of 8 Woods Lane, Lewistown, attempted to flag the light-car express bound for Reading.

The twin-diesel engine train was unable to stop in time.

The cab of the disabled vehicle was crushed and the trailer thrown onto its side on the westbound track.

Pershing told Sgt. Charles Young, Whitmarsh Township Police, he pulled away from the loading platform of the Hamilton mill and stopped to close the trailer doors. The huge rig rolled free and plunged onto the main track.

Shooting Mr. Pershing was called to the scene to wet down the paper stock and railroad ties when gasoline leaked from the ruptured tank of the tractor.

St. Paul's Win Church Loop Title

St. Paul's turned the tables on Lutheran in the Conshohocken Church Softball League play off by defeating the latter in two straight games by identical scores of 9-6. The first win came Monday and the deciding decision was chalked up last night.

Lutheran and St. Paul's had deadlocked for first in the regular season with Lutheran winning the play off contest.

Al Scott pitched the champs to the two wins and was aided by the hitting of Ray Graham, Maynard Graham, Irv Dean and Gary Graham.

Ed Janus was the Lutheran hurler in both games, while Bob Haven, Joe Keenan, Bill Gray and John Traub kept his hitting.

Zaniest Hats Ever Shown At Miles Park

Some of the zaniest hats ever to grace a cranium were glimpsed last week when a "make 'em yourself" hat contest was held at Miles Park playground.

A showing and judging of the hats climaxed the session, one of the varied activities offered Whitmarsh township youngsters under the summer playground program sponsored by the Park and Recreation Board.

Walking off with first honors for the most unusual chaparral was Horner Gifford, 11, of 4018 N. Warner Rd., Lafayette Hill. Fashioned on a lampshade base, the prize-winning bonnet was, perhaps, more of a culinary creation than a milliner's delight, trimmed as it was with cookie cutters, pot holders, a cookbook, salad spoon and a German meat hammer.

"On Hope; though, it looked good . . ."

Second prize for the most unusual bonnet went to Linda Mullen, 11, of 4097 N. Warner Rd., Lafayette Hill, for a dreamy concoction painstakingly fashioned from a lampshade, lace and artificial posies.

Tagged as the "funniest" headgear in the contest, was a "bird hat", cleverly contrived from a baseball cap, feathers and a cloth "beak" to make a "bird" of it's wearer, Doug Bickford six of 4148 Twynwood Rd., Lafayette Hill.

Doug's brother, Randy, came in second prize winner in the "funniest" division with a looney lid that sported more fruit than the dining room centerpiece.

All in all, the chapeau show was enough to go to one's head.

Army-Virginia Game Bids Must Be Made Early

Reservations for the Army-Virginia football game Oct. 18 at West Point must be in early, George Sneed, chairman of the "Root for Whitley" campaign, said today.

Conshohocken football fans, who regarded Whitley as one of the best football stars in Conshohocken gridiron history, have arranged for a couple of buses to take fans to "The Point" to see Reece Whitley quarterback and captain Virginia against the Cadets.

Whitley starred in the same role at Conshohocken High before winning a scholarship to Virginia U. The Cavaliers are one of the South's best collegiate powers and are expected to be among the top 10 this year. Whitley was top passer in his conference last season.

He is also a good ball carrier and a terrific defensive player.

Sneed said reservations may be made by calling him at TA 8-0156.

Turnpike Pile-Up $15,000 Damages

A Conshohocken woman suffered minor injuries in a Pennsylvania turnpike pile-up Sunday night which sent 15 persons to the hospital and damaged 14 cars. Total damage was estimated by State police near the $15,000 mark.

Mrs. Harry Gillingher Jr., 349 E. Fifth Ave., was treated at Montgomery hospital for lacerations of the nose when the car in which she was riding, driven by her husband, was struck from the rear by the Gillingher vehicle into the rear of another car.

The Gillinghers were returning from Levittown where they had visited their son, Harry, when, according to Mrs. Gillingher, an accident ahead on the turnpike tied up all westbound traffic near the Port Washington interchange.

"It was raining and visibility was poor," Mrs. Gillingher said. "Suddenly my husband glanced in the rear-view mirror and saw this car bearing down on us. 'Brace yourself,' he told me, 'we're going to be hit.'"

The approaching car, unable to stop on the slippery highway, rammed the Gillingher car which, in turn, struck the car ahead. The impact hurled Mrs. Gillingher against the dashboard.

The injured woman was associated with The Conshohocken Record for 20 years as a bookkeeper when this newspaper was published by the Heywood Brothers.

According to State police at Plymouth Meeting turnpike barracks, the series of accidents which involved the Gillinghers was touched off about 8:45 P. M. when a sports car driven by Lt. Charles P. Shan, chest bruises and possible fracture of the skull and back injuries.

Three servicemen from Fort Monmouth were transferred to Valley Forge Army hospital. They are: William H. Lusk, 23 of Carnegie Pa., Edward J. Wirick 20, and Dale Harshberger, 18.

Treated and discharged by the Montgomery hospital were: Mrs. Gillingher; Maria Kiraly 50, 2029 2nd St., Huntingdon Valley; Patricia Gierula, 14, 421 Jefferson St., Fullerton; Mrs. Edward Gierula 55, same address; Mrs. Simon Gierula 63, 373 Green St., Allentown; Mrs. Eric Rothla 31, 2511 Huntingdon Pike; Irene Gierula 32, 740 N. 4th St., Allentown; Marian E. Grover 24, of Erin, N. Y. and Stanton Grover 11, 1029 Ripley Ave., Drexel Hill; Attila Kiraly 20, 2511 Huntingdon Pike, Huntingdon Valley, refused treatment.

Cardin D. Brown, superintendent of schools, presented for study a proposal for introduction of a physical fitness program in the elementary schools.

The program would be administered by a physical therapist and carried out by the school staff in grades 2 through 6.

Lamenting the fact that most school physical training programs concentrated on the physically able and neglected the physically defective, Brown said that his proposed program would, conversely, determine the presence of, and attempt to correct physical defects, abnormal habits and poor postural tendencies in students.
