Derby Champ Flies to Akron With Ed Moore Will Leave Phila. International Airport At 11 A. M. Thursday

William J. McCloskey III, Conshohocken's Soap Box Derby champion and Edward P. Moore, co-spacer of the derby, will fly next Thursday to Akron, O.

The world's greatest amateur racing event is scheduled for Sunday, Aug. 20.

McCloskey and Moore will leave Philadelphia's International Airport by a United jetliner at 11 A. M. and land in Akron at 1:30 P. M.

Moore will return Friday and depart for Avalon, N. J., to join his family on vacation. This will be the first time in ten years that Moore will miss the national derby, but he will listen to the broadcast on the radio.

McCloskey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William J. McCloskey, will travel by motor to Derby Downs, leaving here Thursday. They will watch the race in the afternoon and attend the banquet of champions at night in Akron.

McCloskey won the local derby on July 4 before a crowd of 7,500.

Trophy Added To Collection

The Conshohocken Fire Co. No. 2 has done it again.

For the second straight year, the volunteer fire-fighting company is in possession of an award for traveling.

Traveling? That's right.

The company has received a new trophy from the Fairless Hill Volunteer Fire Co., for "traveling" the farthest distance to attend the Bucks County organization's formal housing of its new 1,000 gallon pumper.

Last year, No. 2 earned the award from Fairless Hill for traveling the longest distance to attend its anniversary celebration.

The trophy, an 18-inch miniature of a uniformed fireman mounted on a marble pedestal, was accepted by Franklin B. Thomas Jr., chief engineer.

George Keown, Milton Hadley, Charles Thomas, William McAvoy, and Arthur Truesdell, along with Thomas, attended the event.

Federal Tops $20,000,000

Assets of the Conshohocken Savings and Loan Association exceeded $20 million as of June, according to Edwin S. Rockett, president.

The local association, with offices at Second Ave. and Fayette St. and in the Plymouth Square Shopping Center, also announced reserves of $1,250,000. The present dividend rate is 4%.

The association moved into its offices at its present location in Conshohocken on July 24, 1961. At that time, assets were a little over $5 million and its reserves over $250,000. Its dividend rate was 2 1/2%.

William M. Maylum saw love. He often talked about his love, telling his family, relatives and neighbors how thrilled he was to have found it.

He was to be married Saturday. But death departed Bill from his love and ruined the hopes and dreams of two young people.

Bill was employed by the Hamilton Paper Co. in Miquon since April 4, 1960.

John Remener, safety director of the company, said "Bill was one of the few who did his work well, and was always willing to assist in performing extra duties, if he was needed."

Bill went to work as usual Tuesday morning starting at 7:30. A little more than an hour later he was dead, his body partially crushed in a paper-winding machine.

Bill lived at 4728 Fowler St. with his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Maylum. He was thrilled and excited over his coming marriage to Miss Nancy Alice Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith, of 528 Gates St.

He would often sit and talk to neighbors and relatives for hours about his plans.

Most frequently, he would visit next door at his cousin's house at 4724 Fowler St. His cousin, Frank Schaefer, and the latter's wife, Natalie, would listen as Bill wove his future dreams in a light wicker chair.

Bill, 22, and Nancy Smith, 18, had been going steady since last January. They announced their engagement in March. Three months ago they rented an apartment at Manayunk and Krams Aves. and started to paint and furnish it. The couple bought all new furniture, and the apartment was almost ready when the new occupants were all it needed.

The marriage was set for 1 P. M. Saturday at Holy Family Church.

Lions Host Hundreds of Youth at Circus

When Audubon-Oaks Lions Club sponsors matinee and night performances of the Mills Bros. three-ring circus on August 25, they will be most generous at the opening at 2 P. M.

The Lions will be hosts to not only all the physically handicapped children of Montgomery County, but they will also hand free tickets to the children from Rivercrest Preventorium at Mont Clare; 100 boys from the Protectory at Audubon; the girls from St. Joseph's Protectory, as well as other area orphanages and homes.

Jerry Toth and Bill Fritz head the Lions committee for the event, which will aid their community projects and welfare fund.

Circus takes place on Superior Tube grounds, Germantown Pike, Collegeville. Tickets purchased from the Lions save each adult 40 cents. Toth points out. There will be two performances, at 2 and 8 P. M. A list of stores were tickets may be obtained appears in the Lions Circus ad on page 8. Tickets may be obtained from any Lions member, Audubon-Oaks club.

FELICITATIONS — T. Allen Glass, president of Peoples National Bank, which has branch offices at Lafayette Hill and King of Prussia, will observe a birthday anniversary on Wednesday. He is chairman of the Plymouth Township Municipal Authority.

Football Squads To Train at Camp Starting Aug. 20

It's off to camp soon for the football squads of Conshohocken and Upper Merion High schools.

The 1961 hopefuls will travel on Aug. 20 to Camp Conrad Weiser at Wernersville, Pa. for a week of intensive training on separate fields.

Coach Ray N. Weaver, of Conshohocken, may be alone this season. He had the assistance of Coach Vincent Miraglia last season at camp, but the coach resigned in order to assume the role of acting principal of the high school. That was a temporary appointment and there was strong indication the former coach would be named principal. It is likely he will not be appointed, and will not resume coaching.

Miraglia is winding up summer study this week at Rutgers and could not be reached for comment. He hopes to earn a degree.

The Upper Merion squad will be under the guidance of Harry E. Fox Jr., athletic director and Orient "Oogie" Martella, head coach; John Lute, backfield coach and Jack Klock, line coach.

About 36 boys will represent Upper Merion. They will depart at 12:30 P. M. Aug. 20 and return on the 18th year.

The teams dine in a large hall at camp.

Weeds Have To Come Down Mayor Mellon Issues Warning

Weed cutting and trash collection are items of interest this week Mayor James "Pat" Mellon issued another warning concerning enforcement of an ordinance requiring the cutting of weeds one week before Aug. 15.

He said he is urging everybody he sees who owns property where weeds are growing to cut them immediately, all of them. The fine for failing to do so ranges from $10 to $25.

The Pennsylvania Railroad has been notified in writing, the Mayor said, but has not given any indication of cooperation.

Announced this week is the new schedule for combined trash and

Fayette, Fourth Traffic Light? No, State Says

Fayette Also Ruled
Out in Survey

More than a month ago the Borough Council of Conshohocken was petitioned by the Bell Telephone Co. of Pennsylvania and the Conshohocken Chamber of Commerce to place a traffic signal at either one of two sites — Fayette St. at Fourth Ave. or Fayette St. at Fifth Ave.

Council turned the request over to officials of the State Highway. On July 17, the State sent representatives for a two-day survey of the sites in question, studying traffic patterns at various hours.

The days selected by the State were a Monday and a Tuesday.

Traffic is high at both those corners each morning and afternoon as employees travel to and from work.

But, Borough Council agreed at their meeting last night, when the survey was read and refused, that

Bus Strike In 14th Day

The number of passengers inconvenienced by the strike of drivers and mechanics of the Auch Interborough Transit Co., which enters its third week tonight, is smaller at this season than during the fall and winter, Floyd Douse, treasurer of the firm, said today.

During the summer, about 2,000 men, women and children ride the buses daily, he said, but when schools are in session and vacations over the number is considerably larger.

At noon today there appeared to be no end in sight to the prolonged strike. A meeting is to be held at 2 P. M. Monday in the mediator's office in the State building in Philadelphia.

The controversy centers about three paid holidays for five mechanics, two of whom are said to have voted for the strike, two against it. The fifth did not attend the meeting.

Gravers Lane Conference Is Set for Monday

The Pennsylvania Railroad Co. has asked the Public Utility Commission to order the closing of the Gravers Lane crossing in Plymouth township after charging that the thoroughfare "is a minor road for which no public need or necessity exists."

A field inspection is scheduled for 10 A. M. Monday.

The allegations were made in a three-page document filed with the P.U.C. in response to formal complaints filed by Plymouth township, in which the Commissioners requested that the railroad be ordered to install automatic warning signals with flashing lights and bells "at the railroad's expense."

Also contained in the railroad's document to the Commission were charges that neither E. J. Lavino Co. nor Philip Carey Mfg. Co. "has any need for the continued existence of the crossing as a public

River Yields Woman's Body

Brother Identifies Mildred H. Taylor

The body of a fully clothed woman, later identified as Mildred H. Taylor, 42, of Conshohocken, was found floating in the Schuylkill near No. 1 River Road, Sunday night.

Two fishermen found the woman's body, which probably had been in the water about two days, according to the Philadelphia Medical Examiner's office.

No foul play was suspected. The Medical Examiner's office issued a certificate of death by drowning.

The body was identified by the dead woman's brother, James P. Taylor of Langhorne.

The two fishermen who found the body were Anthony Onosko, 24, of 1528 Sterigere St., Norristown, and Matthew Dolgo, 22, of 245 E. Elm St., Conshohocken.

Civil Defense Unit Asks $600, Gets Half For Borough Task

The Civil Defense Council of Conshohocken asked Borough Council last night to renew an appropriation of $600 annually for the Civil Defense program.

Council approved an outlay of $300 for the remainder of 1961.

Fred Flocio, CD deputy, voiced the plea of the local unit, explaining that reorganization is under way and requires funds for needed equipment, such as typewriters, stationery, etc.

Council awarded the only bid submitted for a leaf loader. It will be purchased through Road Machinery Co., of Devon, for $3,150. This machine will gather the leaves that fall from the trees in the borough.

Frank Gusoni, of Plymouth township, requested Council do something about vast amounts of rain water flowing down 19th and 11th Aves. and flooding stores he erected on Colwell Lane in the Borough of Conshohocken. He complained that a new culvert erected when another street was opened on 12th Ave. is too high. The complaint was referred to the streets committee.

THE FIRING LINE

A BUSINESSMAN has won a libel suit against a newspaper on grounds that a headline using the word "embarrassed" meant that the plaintiff was in bad circumstances, insolvent and unworthy of credit.

This was untrue, he declared, and revealed his assets to be substantial and sound.

Said the Appellate Court:

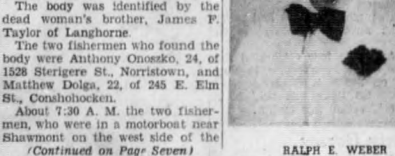

"Written or printed words, which are injurious to a person in his office, profession, or calling, or which impeach the credit of any merchant or trader, by imputing to him: insolency, or even embarrassment, are libelous. The law carefully guards the credit of merchants and traders.

"In its application to a man's financial condition or standing, the word 'embarrassed' employed in the headline of the article complained of, ordinarily means incumbered with debt; beset with urgent claims and demands; unable to meet his pecuniary engagements.

"The publication, as a whole, including the headline, was in no sense privileged."

Jenkintown In Oreland Lions Tourney Physical Fitness Winners

Jenkintown High school has replaced Ambler in the Oreland Lions holiday basketball tournament, according to John R. Oakman, Lions Club president.

The Oreland will compete with Springfield, Penn Charter and Plymouth-Whitemarsh. Ambler withdrew some weeks ago in order to give their athletes a longer rest between the football and basketball seasons.

For the first time in the history of the tournament, Springfield, the host team, will be the only entry from the Bux-Mont League.

"We are delighted," Oakman said, "to have four teams that do not play each other during the regular season. Ambler was an excellent competitor, and we are sorry to lose them, but we believe that Jenkintown's appearance in the tournament will create added interest among an entirely new group of fans."

Springfield, the defending champions, will be captained by Roy Allen and Morris Sills.

D. W. Welsler, president of the Oreland Lions Club, will be assisted by William H. Vogt.

Physical Fitness Day drew nearly 150 boys and girls at the A. A. Garthwaite Field last week with about 40 prizes distributed to winners.

The Elm St. and "B" Field playgrounds were tops with each producing nearly 12 winners.

Top event of the day was won by William Green in the high jump event as he jumped over the bar when it stood at nearly 6 feet. Arts and crafts kept the children busy with ash trays, paper weights, molds and basket weaving; "B" Field had lanyard-making on their schedule.

Next Tuesday, an annual "All Playground Champions Day" will be featured. All champions in playground activities will compete for prizes. Box Hockey, checkers and horseshoes champions from various playgrounds will compete plus arts and crafts, also special events winners.

These are winners in events:

50 yd. dash—ages 6-7-8, Rickey Morgan and Shirley Morgan; ages 9-10-11, Jim Moore and Lorraine Green; ages 12-13-14, Bob Moore and Lois Kelly.

Swedesburg Tops Fire Loop

Swedesburg Fire Company won the regular season title as they defeated Plymouth Fire Company 3-0 before a crowd of nearly 300.

The game was a real pitcher's battle between the winner, Vince Morris and the loser, John Bokoski. Each pitcher gave up four hits while Morris struck out 6 batters and Bokoski only one.

An error set the stage for the victory as Carl DeHaven doubled with John Keller on base, to put men on second and third with one out. Fred LeRoy then stepped to the plate and banged out a tremendous double to right field driving in two runs. LeRoy's shot hit five feet in front of the fence and bounced over for a ground rule double.

Ed Keseyek then singled to bring LeRoy home for the third run.

Having a three run lead, Morris really put the pressure on the Plymouth batters as he had them popping out and grounding out.

Swedesburg thus captures the Hale Fire Pump Regular Season Trophy, which was won by Plymouth last year.

Swedesburg will now face Lincoln in a best-of-three series while Plymouth tangles with fourth place Spring Mill, to see which teams will enter the finals.

Bell Is Upset In Slow Pitch

DeSantis Beverage upset Bell Telephone in the Conshohocken Slow Pitch League by a score of 7-6 and go one up in the final best-of-three playoff series. Bell, which won the regular season title, took a commanding 6-1 lead going into the sixth inning when the roof fell in and DeSantis scored five times to take the win.

Sylvio DeSantis gets credit for the win as he allowed only 10 hits with his famous "loop" ball. Dave Franchette, Ken Host, Phil Marino, Joe DeSantis and Jerry Pettin, sparked the winners hitting attack. Ken Morgan and Fred Hoffman led the hitting for the losers while Charlie Ziegler pitched in defeat.

Narco Upsets Alan Wood

Narco, a fourth place finisher in the Conshohocken Industrial Softball League, pulled a tremendous upset Thursday as they defeated Alan Wood Steel Co. 5-4 to gain a one game advantage in their best-of-three series as playoffs officially opened in the league.

Vic Delpopolo pitched the win for the Narco nine as he limited the power laden Steelers to only seven hits. Narco scored its winning run in the top of the seventh inning when Al Gietel and Sal Gietel and Franny Santoro all hit safely.

Don Roop, the losing pitcher, settled down to retire the side after that. Gietel and Santoro had two hits each to pace the winners.

Bud McFadden and Chick Winterbottom paced the losers at the plate.

On Mediterranean Duty

Serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Franklin D. Roosevelt with the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean is Navy Lt. (jg) E. Mitchell Simpson, son of Mrs. B. Mitchell Simpson, Harris Lane, Miquon.

Officers and men of the attack aircraft carrier recently visited Athens, Greece, where they received a well deserved shore leave following an extensive training period with the Sixth Fleet.

The Sixth Fleet is a force composed of some 50 ships and more than 25,000 men, posing a strong deterrent to aggression in Europe.

Teen Leagues May Set Tourney

Any persons or teams interested in entering a Kneehi or Babe Ruth League age baseball tournament should contact A. C. Donofrio at TA 8-2265 or TA 8-6857 or come in person to the Fellowship House of Conshohocken.

The tournament will be a single elimination type for boys playing in either Babe Ruth, Kneehi, or Senior Little League.

Age classification is 13-15. A team must enter its original members that played in its respective leagues.

Loughridge Realtors Tighten Hold on First Place in Basketball Race

The Loughridge Realtors added two victories to keep a firm grip on first place in the Plymouth-Whitemarsh Summer Basketball League. The Realtors disposed of Roxy Drug 91-76 and then defeated Lafayette Gulf 85-47.

Realtors' fast break and backboard control were really devastating.

Tom Mitchell, Bob Canavan, John Thompson, and Mike Heits all played important parts in both victories. Mitchell added 55 points to lead all scorers in the league with 236 points. John Thompson besides great rebounding, added 43 points to his total for his work in these two games.

Bryans Esso, rained-out Monday, came through against a tough Abington team to take over second place in the league. In one of the highest scores and best played games of the summer, Esso with Smeethen, Doebler and home from vacation for the first game of the summer, Gerry Marano, a six foot five from LaSalle, showing the way defeated Abington and the Vincent twins 80-68. The Vincents scored 51 of the 68 points.

Rotary-Flocco's Score Ruth Wins

Mat Mazlar pitched a no hit no run game July 26 as his Conshohocken Rotary team defeated the TK Association 4-0 in the Conshohocken Babe Ruth League.

Mazlar walked four batters in his victory, but double plays and good fielding kept the losers from scoring. Jack Batnosky paced the winners hitting attack with two hits.

Flocco's nipped the American Legion by a 4-2 score as Jerry Gray pitched a two hitter for the winners on Thursday. Gray also singled in a run. John Schank and Vic Fisher had the extra base hits for the winners.

Alas! that men must see Love, before Death!
Else they content might be
With their short breath.

Margaret Wade Deland

WILLIAM M. MAYLUM
... funeral Saturday.

William M. Maylum saw love.
He often talked about his love, telling his family, relatives and neighbors how thrilled he was to have found it.

He was to be married Saturday.
But death departed Bill from his love and ruined the hopes and dreams of two young people.

Bill was employed by the Hamilton
Paper Co. in Miquon since April 4, 1960.

John Rementer, safety director of the company, said "Bill was one of the few who did his work well, and was always willing to assist in performing extra duties, if he was needed."

Bill went to work as usual Tuesday morning starting at 7:30.

A little more than an hour later he was dead, his body partially crushed in a paper-winding machine.

Bill lived at 4726 Fowler St. with his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Maylum. He was thrilled and excited over his coming marriage to Miss Nancy Alice Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Harold Smith, of 328 Gates St.

He would often sit and talk to neighbors and relatives for hours about his plans.

Most frequently, he would visit next door at his cousin's house at 4724 Fowler St. His cousin, Frank Schafer, and the latter's wife, Natalie, would listen as Bill wove his future dreams in a work web.

Bill, 22, and Nancy Smith, 18, had been going steady since last January.
They announced their engagement in March. Three months ago they rented an apartment at Manayunk and Krams Aves. and started to paint and furnish it. The couple bought all new furniture, and the apartment was almost ready.

The marriage was set for 1 P. M.
Saturday at Holy Family Church.

Fayette, Fourth Traffic Light? No, State Says

One at Fifth and
Fayette Also Ruled
Out in Survey

More than a month ago the Borough Council of Conshohocken was petitioned by the Bell Telephone
Co. of Pennsylvania and the Conshohocken Chamber of Commerce to place a traffic signal at either one of two sites — Fayette St. at Fourth Ave. or Fayette St. at Fifth Ave.

Council turned the request over to officials of the State Highway.
On July 17, the State sent representatives for a two-day survey of the sites in question, studying traffic patterns at various hours.

The days selected by the State were a Monday and a Tuesday.

Traffic is high at both those corners
each morning and afternoon as employees travel to and from work.

But, Borough Council agreed at their meeting last night, when the survey was read and refused, that

Bus Strike In 14th Day

The number of passengers inconvenienced by the strike of drivers and mechanics of the Auch Interborough Transit Co., which enters its third week tonight, is smaller at this season than during the fall and winter, Floyd Douse, treasurer of the firm, said today.

During the summer, about 2,000 men, women and children ride the buses daily, he said, but when schools are in session and vacations over the number is considerably larger.

At noon today there appeared to be no end in sight to the prolonged strike. A meeting is to be held at 2 P. M. Monday in the mediator's office in the State building in Philadelphia.

The controversy centers about three paid holidays for five mechanics, two of whom are said to have voted for the strike, two against it.
The fifth did not attend the meeting.

Burden Far Less Than Elsewhere

For the second consecutive year, commissioners of Plymouth township and members of the School Board have comprehensive assessment information and figures compiled by Joseph A. Aldinger, assessor.

And for the second year there is a comfortable gain. The final assessment figure is $23,902,900, an increase of $1,679,110 over 1960. And the 1960 increase was a whopper too!

The township is the only one in the county making such a report available. It will be considered by the board of commissioners at a meeting at 7:30 P. M. Monday.

The records reveal that there are 148 commercial units, a net increase of 23. While new commercial units were established during the year, the township also picked

Officials to Meet
At Crossing in Plymouth Township

The Pennsylvania Railroad Co. has asked the Public Utility Commission to order the closing of the Gravers Lane crossing in Plymouth township after charging that the thoroughfare "is a minor road for which no public need or necessity exists."

A field inspection is scheduled for 10 A. M. Monday.

The allegations were made in a three-page document filed with the P.U.C. in response to formal complaints filed by Plymouth township, in which the Commissioners requested that the railroad be ordered to install automatic warning signals with flashing lights and bells "at the railroad crossing."

Also contained in the railroad's document to the Commission were charges that neither E. J. Lavino Co. nor Philip Carey Mfg. Co. "has any need for the continued existence

Football Squads To Train at Camp Starting Aug. 20

It's off to camp soon for the football squads of Conshohocken and Upper Merion High schools.

The 1961 hopefuls will travel on Aug. 20 to Camp Conrad Weiser at Wernersville, Pa., for a week of intensive training on separate fields.

Coach Ray N. Weaver, of Conshohocken, will be alone this season. He had the assistance of Coach Vincent Miraglia last season at camp, but the coach resigned in order to assume the role of acting principal of the high school. That was a temporary appointment and there was strong indication the former coach would be named principal. It is likely he will not be appointed, and will not resume coaching.

Miraglia is winding up summer study this week at Rutgers and could not be reached for comment. He hopes to earn a degree.

The Upper Merion squad will be under the guidance of Harry E. Fox Jr., athletic director and assistant "Oggie" Martella, head coach; John Lute, backfield coach; and Jack Klock, line coach.

About 36 boys will represent Upper Merion. They will depart at 12:30 P. M. Aug. 20 and return on the 26th.

Members of the board of education of the Upper Merion School District will be guests at dinner at the 200-acre camp on Aug. 24. It is expected the visitors will be accompanied by members of the Conshohocken School Board. The Blue and Gold team is going to camp for the 19th year.

The teams dine in a large hall at camp.

Weeds Have To Come Down

Mayor Mellon

He said he is urging everybody he sees who owns property where weeds are growing to cut them immediately, all of them. The fine for failing to do so ranges from $10 to $25.

The Pennsylvania Railroad has been notified in writing, the Mayor said, but has not given any indication of cooperation.

Announced this week is the new schedule for combined trash and

Trophy Added To Collection

The Conshohocken Fire Co. No. 2 has done it again.

For the second straight year, the volunteer fire-fighting company is in possession of an award for traveling.

Traveling? That's right. The company has received a new trophy from the Fairless Hill Volunteer Fire Co. for "traveling" the farthest distance to attend the Bucks County organization's formal housing of its new 1,000 gallon pumper.

Last year, No. 2 earned the award from Fairless Hill for traveling the longest distance to attend an anniversary celebration.

The trophy, an 18-inch miniature of an unarmored fireman mounted on a marble pedestal, was accepted by Franklin B. Thomas Jr., chief engineer.

George Keown, Milton Hadley, Charles Thomas, William McAvoy, and Arthur Truesdell, along with Thomas, attended the event.

Federal Tops $20,000,000

Assets of the Conshohocken Savings and Loan Association exceeded $20 million as of June, according to Edwin S. Rockett, president.

The local association, with offices at Second Ave. and Fayette St. and in the Plymouth Square Shopping Center, also announced reserves of $1,200,000. The present dividend rate is 4%.

GIFT — Officials accept a set of rare prints by John James Audubon, valued at $25,000, which were bequeathed to Montgomery County in the will of the late Mrs. Charles T. Church, of New York. The five-volume set, entitled "The Birds of America," will be placed

THE FIRING LINE

A BUSINESSMAN has won a libel suit against a newspaper on grounds that a headline using the word "embarrassed" meant that "the plaintiff was in bad circumstances, insolvent and unworthy of credit." This was untrue, he declared, and revealed his assets to be substantial and sound.

Said the Appellate Court: "Written or printed words, which are injurious to a person in his office, profession, or calling, or which impeach the credit of any merchant or trader, by imputing to him insolvency, or even embarrassment, are libelous. The law carefully guards the credit of merchants and traders.

"In its application to a man's financial condition or standing, the word 'embarrassed' employed in the headline of the article complained of, ordinarily means 'incumbered with debt; beset with urgent claims and demands; unable to meet his pecuniary engagements.'

"The publication, as a whole, including the headline, was in no sense privileged."

Civil Defense Unit Asks $600, Gets Half For Borough Task

The Civil Defense Council of Conshohocken asked Borough Council last night to renew an appropriation of $600 annually for the Civil Defense program.

Council approved an outlay of $300 for the remainder of 1961.

Fred Flocio, CD deputy, voiced the plea of the local unit, explaining that reorganization is under way and requires funds for needed equipment, such as typewriters, stationery, etc.

Council awarded the only bid submitted for a leaf loader. It will be purchased through Road Machinery Co., of Devon, for $3,150. This machine will gather the leaves that fall from the trees in the borough.

Frank Gusconi, of Plymouth township, requested Council do something about vast amounts of rain water flowing down 10th and 11th Aves. and flooding stores he erected on Colwell Lane in the Borough of Conshohocken. He complained that a new culvert erected when another street was opened on 12th Ave. is too high. The complaint was referred to the streets committee.

Ann Whiteside In Hedgerow's 'Changeling'

Miss Ann Whiteside of Barren Hill will portray Diaphanta in "The Changeling", in Off-Broadway at Hedgerow, Moylan - Rose Valley, starting Wednesday night.

This Thomas Middleton-William Rowley tragedy dates from the days when James I occupied the British throne.

Others in the cast will include: F. M. Kimball as DeFlores, the Spanish paid-murderer; Bronia Siefan as Beatrice; Grayson Hall as Isabella; John Wynne-Evans as Lollo; Frank Grosselose as Albus; Peter Judd as Vermandero.

Middleton, one of the company of great writers and collaborators who gathered at the London Globe Theatre early in the 17th century, is generally rated as one of the outstanding realists of all time; writing in the aftermath of the flowering of the great Elizabethan dramatists Marlowe and Shakespeare, he chose to paint with an unsentimental palette a London, or a world, limned in uncompromising colors.

In 1624 he came into heavy disfavor with the authorities over "A Game At Chess", which drew the ire of the Spanish Ambassador for its satire of political marriages-of-convenience and had to be withdrawn on order of His Majesty, James I. After a few performances, Middleton soon returned to favor and, with Dekker, continued to flourish as one of the most promising playwrights and collaborators of his day.

Not until 1940, however, was any serious critical notice taken of this contemporary of Beaumont and Fletcher, as well as the Bard of Avon, who preceded him in death by only 11 years. The next notice came from Havelock Ellis, at the close of the 19th century. The author of the monumental "Studies in the Psychology of Sex" introduced, for the Mermaid Editions, a volume of Middleton with an introduction written by Algernon Charles Swinburne.

"The Changeling" opened in London on February 21 of this year. Kenneth Tynan, writing for the London Observer, described it as "a first-rate job . . . of physical agonies both subtle and strident . . . not since Peter Brooks' 'Venice Preserved' has a minor classic been so excitingly revived."

OFF-BROADWAY AT HEDGEROW will follow "The Changeling" with Berthold Brecht's "The Good Woman of Setzuan", postponed earlier in the season because of difficulty in securing the rights, held in Germany by the author's widow and secondarily in England by the translator, Eric Bentley.

They will extend their season further in September to accommodate "The Good Woman", following this with Sam Hall's original play about the novel, Ford Madox Ford, "No More Parades". The company plans to take both "The Changeling" and "No More Parades" into New York for the fall and winter season of 1961-62.

Classified Directory Is Hard to Get

Businesses of Montgomery County are solicited time and again by the Reuben Donnelly firm for their advertisements in the big Philadelphia classified directory. Any business, if it advertises, probably receives one copy of the directory.

But just let a resident, or a place of business who does not advertise, TRY to get one of these directories. One really begins to think one needs a Congressional investigation in order to obtain one.

Maybe the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania would do well to look further into this situation. Disgruntled customers are usually soothed by the nice people from Bell, in every instance except where a city directory of classified is requested.

Open Garbage Truck A Health Hazard

It seems the Borough of Conshohocken is far-sighted enough to have a Board of Health.

Well, then, why must residents of the town and the people who work here, be literally STUNK right out of their homes and factories and offices by the distinctly UNFRAGRANT OPEN garbage truck that tours the streets and parks for minutes on end, smelling up even the nicest neighborhoods?

It would seem the Board of Health has pushed for a covered garbage truck, they say.

Why, in this modern day and age must people endure such a health menace?

Maybe residents who have been "stinked out" (as one small tot put it) would do well to raise Cain with Harrisburg. It seems local complaints do no good.

Workman Killed

Hermitage and Wilde Sts. This was the same day, 28 years before, that Bill's parents were married.

Miss Smith was guest of honor at a bridal shower on July 28 at the home of Mrs. Peg Pivnicki, of 4555 Fleming St. She was too happy for words.

The shower was given by Mrs. Helen Timmy, Mrs. Natalie Schaefer and Mrs. Pivnicki.

Present were Mrs. Genevieve Gregory, Mrs. Helen Timmy, Mrs. Rita Petrucci, Mrs. Marie Plummer, Mrs. Edith O'Toole, Mrs. Mary Kurtz, Mrs. Helen Dombrowski, Mrs. Betty Jones, Mrs. Ronald Jones, Mrs. Natalie Schaefer, Mrs. Marcella Mayhew, Mrs. Frances Pivnicki, Miss Maryann Pivnicki, Mrs. Elizabeth Rhoades, Mrs. Rose Lachman, Mrs. Babe Zawislak, Mrs. Jane Smith, Mrs. Peg Pivnicki and Mrs. Alice Getteman, grandmother of the bride-to-be.

Bill was a graduate of the Dobson public school and went on to Roxborough High School. He left Roxborough High, and in June, 1957, entered the army. In March, 1960, he was honorably discharged.

Shortly after leaving the army he met Nancy Smith. He got his job at Hamilton's.

The work was hard, but according to his cousin, Frank, Bill rarely complained.

The months went by, and Bill and Nancy came closer together, and finally started going steady last January.

"You wouldn't want to meet a nicer guy," Frank Schaefer said yesterday of Bill. "He was friendly with all the neighbors and with all the kids in the neighborhood. He often said how much he loved Nancy".

According to Hamilton's Remem-ber, Bill was at least two feet, four inches away from the huge wind-ing machine he was working at Tuesday.

"But he could have moved closer," Hamilton said, "by leaning over. Evidently he did, and he was caught in the 'nip' that grabs the paper to carry it to the drum up-der machine."

The paper was moving at speeds of 550 feet per minute in the wind-er.

"He was probably pulled into the machine after his hand got caught, and before the machine jammed he was drawn into the rollers up to his waist and instantly crushed to death," Remem-ber added.

Bill's body was taken to the Lowman Funeral Home in Barren Hill and was later removed to the William P. Koller Funeral Home, 263 Hermitage St.

Besides his parents, Bill is sur-vided by a sister, Mrs. John Piv-nicki, of 4555 Fleming St., and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Lena Vergruge, of Seaside Park, N. J. His father is a patrolman at the 35th district, York Rd. and Champ-lost St.

Solemn requiem mass will be celebrated at 11 A. M. Saturday at Holy Family Church. Burial will be in Holy Sepulchre cemetery, ar-rangements by Koller Funeral Home. Friends may call Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll L. Corson and their daughters, Miss Carol A. Corson, Miss Judith T. Corson and Miss Linda R. Corson, who have been traveling abroad since June, have returned to "Journey's End," their home in Plymouth Meeting. Their son, Mr. John E. P. Cor-son, is on a motor trip through Europe.

DETERMINATION DOESN'T ALWAYS WIN — Joseph Chassey gives the potato race a lot of intense attention but he fails to emerge victorious at the annual Field Day held in Miles Park, Barren Hill. Chassey was so engrossed in keeping the potato on the spoon that he failed to notice several other contestants go over the finish line ahead of him.

Magistrate Sued For Slander by Capt. Ferguson

Captain Clarence J. Ferguson, of Roxborough, commander of the special investigation squad of the Philadelphia Police department, filed suit for slander Monday against Magistrate M. Philip Freed, alleging remarks the magistrate directed against him at a hearing July 26 were "false and malicious."

Ferguson, who possesses a larger number of awards than any police officer ever received in the city's history, asked Common Pleas Court 6 to order Freed to pay him punitive and compensatory damages "in excess of $5,000."

Among the 109 citations accorded Capt. Ferguson in his 41 years in the police department are several presented to him by organizations in his hometown. They include a commendation written by Lt. Gov. John Morgan Davis, of Mt. Airy, for publication in "The Jimmy Du-Furante Times," a tabloid given to the outstanding detective as a surprise feature of a testimonial dinner held in his honor on Feb. 25 at White-marsh Valley Country Club. The presentation was by The Schenck himself. More than 400 attended the dinner.

Included also are awards presented by North Light Boys Club, Manayunk Neighborhood Council, the Fraternal Order of Police award for meritorious service in the Elmo Smith murder case, the Gang Busters Award by the Mutual Broadcasting Co. in 1935; citation for outstanding public service as a peace officer by three different Grand Jurors; and a commendation Feb. 9, 1941, by Philip Klein, director of Civil Defense Council of Philadelphia and a native of Manayunk.

In the police department his performance record has won the outstanding status annually since 1935.

HALL T. RIGHTER

Army Officer Back From Germany Assigned Again to Fort Monroe

An Army warrant officer just assigned to Fort Monroe, Va., found himself in the unusual circumstance of succeeding his own successor.

CWO Hall T. Righter, Post Military Personnel Officer at Fort Monroe from Jan. 1950 to July 1950, returned to this Chesapeake Bay post on Aug. 4 to begin his second tour of duty in the same capacity.

Righter succeeds CWO Charles Karika—the man who succeeded him in the Fort Monroe Personnel post three years ago when Righter got Army orders transferring him to Germany. Karika left the Fort Monroe personnel job vacant recently when he retired from the Army after 20 years' active military service.

The Fort Monroe officer entered the Army in August 1942 as an enlisted man. Ordered to Europe in December 1944 he joined the 66th Engineer battalion and participated in two major campaigns against Axis Forces.

In April, 1951, seven months before his assignment to Korea, he was then a master sergeant—was appointed to warrant officer rank. He took part in two major campaigns in Korea in his new rank, when he was assigned to personnel duty in Japan to round out his three-year tour of service in the Far East Command.

Among the decorations held by the Army personnel chief are the European - African - Middle East Campaign Ribbon with two battle stars, the Korean Service Ribbon with two campaign stars, the United Nations Service Medal, the World War II Victory and American Theater Medals, the Good Conduct Medal earned when he was an enlistman and the National Defense Service Medal.

Fire Routs 3 Families

Elm St. Residence Damaged Sunday

A general alarm blaze in a third floor bedroom of an apartment building at 313 E. Elm St., chased several families and caused extensive water damage Sunday.

The blaze broke out about 2:45 A. M. Sunday. Conshohocken Fire Co. No. 2 and Washington Fire Co. fought the flames for 45 minutes before the fire was declared out by Chief Joseph T. Thomas.

Officials said the occupant of the room, Harmon Wilson, fled soon after the blaze broke out. He was not injured.

An unidentified motorist, seeing smoke pouring from the third floor window pulled a fire box signal at Elm and Poplar Sts., which brought the volunteer companies on the scene. The motorist also awakened the sleeping families on the lower floors of the three-story building.

The fire destroyed a bed and mattress in the room and some clothing. The room was scorched, and extensive water damage was done to the building.

Firemen had to use a steel aerial ladder and booster lines to reach the third floor room and finally put the blaze out.

The two families on the first and second floor were evacuated.

West Chester Graduates 62

Degrees Granted For First Time

Four residents of Montgomery County were among the 62 graduates who received degrees from West Chester State College at its summer commencement in the Philips Memorial auditorium on the college campus on Aug. 3.
