BIG SLUMP IN STEEL TRADE CLOSES MILLS

JOHN WOOD MANUFACTURING COMPANY CLOSES WHOLE PLANT.—THREE MILLS AT SCHUYLKILL IRON WORKS ARE OFF.—RUBBER PLANT ON SINGLE TURN AND STEEL PLANT IS DOING LITTLE.

The business depression has at last struck Conshohocken a severe blow. Heretofore the mills have been kept in operation although the men have been working under a reduction. The mills have averaged better time than most of the mills in the state but the last two weeks have brought a bigger slump in the iron and steel trade with orders becoming scarcer and no prospects for the immediate future.

Saturday the John Wood Manufacturing Company, makers of the electric weld range boilers and tanks, closed down the entire plant until further notice. This plant when running full employes about five hundred men. The Schuylkill Iron Works of the Alan Wood Iron and Steel Company, which has been running continuously, has felt the effect of the depression and this week three mills are idle. The mills are: No. 4 flue mill, No. 5 bar mill and No. 3 sheet mill. The closing of these mills will throw about one hundred men out of employment and should the shut down be prolonged, a number of laborers will also have to be laid off. The mills of the J. Wood and Brothers Company were shut down yesterday but will resume this week.

It is hoped that the shut downs will be temporary, but conditions in the trade are such as have not existed for many years.

The Ivy Rock steel plant is operating but three open hearth furnaces out of nine. Thousands of tons of ingots are stored in the yards together with many thousands of tons of scrap and other materials. At Swedes furnaces the shipments are very light and a great quantity of pig iron is stored.

At the Lee Tire and Rubber Company, manufacturers of pneumatic automobile tires, the business depression has been felt and a sudden slump in the market caused the laying off of the night turn. This concern has been busy until a few weeks ago when business fell off and there is no prospect of an early revival.

The industrial situation in Conshohocken is in bad condition. Orders have been scarce for some time and today there is a scarcity of inquiries which gives no promise of an early resumption of business.

Conshohocken concerns have always secured their share of any business to be had owing to the reputation of their products. During the past year the local mills have worked steadier than those in other sections of the state.

In outside work there is little doing. The contractors are complaining and many men are unemployed.

EWING—RIGHTER.

Richard Ewing, of this borough, and Miss Irene Righter, of Custer Station, were married on Saturday evening. The ceremony was performed at the Presbyterian manse by Rev. J. F. Sheppard, pastor of the church.

The groom is a well known printer and a former resident of this borough. The couple will make their home during the winter at Custer Station.

LAY DOWN YOUR ARMS.

Great Peace Novel Has Been Dramatized in Picture and Will Be Seen Here.

"Lay Down Your Arms" the celebrated war novel by the late Baroness Bertha von Suttner, which perhaps has been the greatest influence in the peace movement has been dramatized in picture and will be shown at Little's Opera House tomorrow evening. The novel was inspired by the great grief of a loving wife for her young husband who was killed in battle. War was never more truly pictured by pen or camera than in this great film. Manager Creight has been able to secure this great picture for one night only, tomorrow.

NORRISTOWN LETTER

Norristown, Pa., October 26. "We will win," declared Freas Styer, Republican County Chairman last week. "My statement is not an idle boast but is based on facts and figures which I consider are as reliable as is possible to obtain for antelection purposes and calculations. I speak from figures furnished by the committeemen from every district in the county, who have reported to me the conditions which exist in their respective districts. Their figures show that a total of 42,720 votes will be cast at the election on November 3d. Of this number 21,000 will be Republicans, while the other half is divided among the Democrats, the Washingtons and the doubtful voters. From the way I calculate on these returns candidates Penrose and Brumbaugh will have not less than 2500 plurality and that Henry W. Watson, candidate for Congress, will have as much if not more, as will Frank P. Croft, candidate for State Senator. I feel sure, also, that of the four Assemblymen to be elected three will be of Republican persuasion.

The cause of Republicans was given a great boost on Monday when candidate Brumbaugh with candidates Houck, McClain and others toured the county and wound up the rally in Norristown in the evening. The party arrived at Pottstown at 9.57 A. M. They were met by State Insurance Commissioner Chas. Johnson and County Chairman Freas Styer. After a meeting in Pottstown the party went by train to Royersford, arriving there at eleven o'clock. They held a meeting and reception and proceeded to Collegeville in automobiles, arriving at one o'clock. From here they went to Schwenksville, where they arrived at 5 o'clock; they were in Harleysville at three o'clock; at Souderton at four o'clock; at Lansdale at five-thirty o'clock; and Gwynedd at six-thirty o'clock and arrived at Norristown in time for the mass meeting in City Hall at eight o'clock. Besides these candidates—who, by the way was accompanied through the county by Henry W. Watson, candidate for Congress and Frank P. Croft, candidate for State Senator—Henry M. Brownback, chairman of the committee of arrangements, announced that Adjutant General Thomas J. Stewart, who is a prime favorite with audiences in Norristown, his home town, was on hand.

The Montgomery County Branch of the Pennsylvania Protective Union has passed a resolution calling upon the voters of the county to cast their ballots for Senator Penrose and the entire Republican ticket, as it concerns the candidates for Congress, in order to bring back the high pressure prosperity which existed in the State of Pennsylvania previous to the passage of the less-than-revenue tariff bill—the Underwood Act. The good times, which existed previous to two years ago, will only prevail when the Republican policies are reestablished at Washington.

"Nearly three months ago," said Joseph S Rambo, of the hosiery firm of Rambo & Regar, in addressing the association, "the Manufacturers Association of Montgomery County (which is non-political) sent a letter to President Wilson, strongly arraigning the Democratic party's national and anti-business policy and its effect upon business and industry in the Schuylkill Valley. The date of this letter was July 17th, which was two weeks before the European war began. Therefore the administration, having no excuse to offer for conditions in this district directly attributes to its policies brazenly denied that the conditions existed. The war benefitted some of our local industries slightly, but it was not a sufficient stimulus to American trade to overcome an economic situation at home, which may be described as rotten with socialism and demagoguery. Still we are in not much worse plight that we were at the time that the Montgomery County Manufacturers Association wrote that letter. We have lived through it three months longer, that is all, why then have the Democrats and anti-Republicans become so willing to admit that industrial evils, which they could not see prior to August 1st are now very real and apparent? It is simply because the European war has furnished an excuse for the native dishonesty and hypocrisy of free trade.

STRANGER HIRES TEAM AND BOTH ARE MISSING

MAN SAYING HE REPRESENTED A BALTIMORE RUG FIRM HIRED A TEAM AT MOORE'S LIVERY, SATURDAY, AND NO TRACE OF EITHER HAS SINCE BEEN FOUND.—POLICE ARE NOTIFIED.

M. F. Moore has the police of this section and Philadelphia hunting for a horse and buggy and a man who gave the name of William Hill, of Baltimore. The man hired a team Saturday morning saying that he wanted a team for three days to work in the town. The man nor the team has been seen since Saturday afternoon.

Hill came to town Friday and engaged accommodations at Sauter's hotel, Elm and Poplar streets. Saturday morning he called Moore's livery on the telephone and engaged a team saying he would be here three days to canvas the town in the interest of W. H. Sames and Company, 462 Hill street, Baltimore, Md., importers of Japan rugs and matting. He obtained a horse and carriage and when leaving the stables said he expected to return at two o'clock. He was seen in various parts of the town during the morning and in the early afternoon but since then all trace of him is lost.

At the hotel, he paid his bill for his accommodations up to Saturday morning.

Mr. Moore notified the local and Norristown police and also the Philadelphia detective bureau.

The horse is a light bay, sixteen hands high, light weight and is a little "sprung" in the front legs. In front, it is shod with bar shoes and there is a small white spot on the right hind leg near the hoof. The buggy is a falling top painted black and made by the Wescott Carriage Company.

Hill is a large man weighing over 200 pounds and has sandy hair, mustache and side whiskers. He is of florid complexion.

Kelly will be given a hearing on the charge of arson. He was arrested this morning.

RIVAL PARTIES HELD BIG MEETINGS

REPUBLICAN AND DEMOCRATIC STATE CANDIDATES ADDRESS BIG AUDIENCES AT NORRISTOWN, LAST NIGHT.—ALL ARE GIVEN A FINE RECEPTION AND MASS MEETINGS WERE HELD.—MANY FROM HERE PRESENT.

After a tour through upper and central Montgomery County, Dr. Brumbaugh, Henry Houck and party held meetings at Norristown, in City Hall—that is a meeting was held in an adjoining room across the hall, about 2500 being present in all. Stops were made at Pottstown, Royersford, Collegeville, Schwenksville, Harleysville, Scuderton, Hatfield, Lansdale and North Wales, where speeches and receptions were tended with fairly large crowds at each place.

At last night's meeting, Henry M. Brownback, borough solicitor, and long time postmaster, presided at the main hall and District Attorney Shieve at the overflow.

Brumbaugh repeated his oft-made assertion that there is no man behind him; that he is a candidate, hand, heart and soul free; that if elected he will see that the soft and unbaked bricks in the structure of State, even in the Highway Department, will be plucked out by him and a solid buttress substituted, that for every dollar contributed for road building there will be one hundred cents of service returned, that he will not say a thing to get a vote that he will not do after it is given; that he would not pay more to get the office of Governor than it is worth in dollars and cents.

He declared that the largest issue in the campaign is the conservation of human life in Pennsylvania. He declared for a recall of a lot of legislation on the statute books; declared for a workmen's compensation law, and comprehensive child labor law.

"I favor the right of the people to say 'county' for county," he said, "whether intoxicating liquors shall be sold in that county." He favored woman's suffrage and "good honest roads," and declared that if elected that the Highway Department will give honest service and that no man will have a job therein because of his being a hanger-on of a political camp.

Houck, Scott and Adjutant General Stewart also spoke.

Several hundred men and women who filled the Palace Rink at Norristown, last night, accorded Vance C. McCormick and A. Mitchell Palmer, candidates, an ovation. The cheers were given while nearly every one of the great crowd raised a small American flag. Only two squares away Dr. Brumbaugh and other Republican orators were holding forth, which seemed to put even more spirit than usual into the Democratic meeting. The Palace Rink was elaborately decorated with American flags and pictures of the Democratic standard-bearers and an immense picture of President Wilson was hung in the centre of the hall.

Upon their arrival at Norristown the candidates were tendered a reception at the Hotel Montgomery, with nearly every district of the county represented by committeemen. Headed by the Cadet Band, the campaigners, including Palmer, McCormick, Secretary of Labor Wilson, Robert S. Bright, of Philadelphia; Arthur B. Clark, of Altoona and Harry T. Grim of Perkaskie, candidate for Congress in this district, as well as the nominees for Congressman-at-Large, were escorted to the rink. County Chairman Harvey Christman called the meeting to order and Charles D. McAvoy was introduced as presiding officer.

A big delegation of Conshohockenites were present at both meetings.

HURLED INTO FIELD FROM AUTO

Skidding Machine Turns Around in the Road Hurts Occupants Over a Fence Without Injury.

M. F. Moore Jr. of this borough, and William Dytill, of Harmonville, were hurled from an automobile, when it skidded, on the Ridge pike, into a field and received no injuries other than slight bruises, while John Crimean Jr., who was driving the car retained his seat by holding on to the steering wheel.

Crimean went after the car, which is owned by his father, and was being repaired at Moore's Harmonville garage. He was to bring the car home but started on a trial ride before returning here. The boys were invited to ride and they drove down the Ridge pike at fair speed until near the pottery, at Barren Hill. The road is oiled and without the least warning the car skidded towards the embankment along the road side. Crimean tried to straighten the car's course but it swung entirely around, hurling the boys, who were in the rear seat, over a fence and into a field. Crimean hung onto the steering wheel and retained his seat in the car.

The car was damaged, the steering rod being bent and the front axle was also bent. The car was towed back to the garage for repairs.

PLENTY OF MUSHROOMS

Fields are full of the Delicious Vegetable and Hunters are Getting Large Quantities

Mushrooms are plentiful, the fields are full of them and this is the first good crop since early in July. Every day many persons may be seen in the fields near the town, gathering large baskets of the delicate vegetable.

The crop is the greatest known for years, and came as a delightful surprise to the lovers of the fungus plant. Hundreds of quarts have been gathered by local persons. Two men were out Saturday and within an hour and a half had collected two and one-half bushels. There have gathered as many and each morning the fields are dotted with industrious mushroom gatherers.

The article appearing in this paper recently telling of the success of Mrs. Enos Buchanan, of "Walnut" farm, Barren Hill, in raising Chinese pumpkins has brought the information from Joseph Tinsley, East Fifth avenue, that he and Mrs. Tinsley have successfully raised Chinese pumpkins for the past twenty-two years. They made and ate their first pie of these pumpkins on Christmas, twenty-two years ago of pumpkins of their own raising. Mr. and Mrs. Tinsley believe they were the first to plant this species of pumpkins in this section.

CORONER SAYS TOWN IS LIVELY

Gave Testimony in Behalf of A. Talone, who Wants a Detective's License

"Conshohocken is some lively place," said Coroner William Neville, Saturday morning, when he appeared in court in behalf of Anthony Talone, who is an applicant for a detective license in this borough. The official made this statement in answer to a question by Judge Swartz as to whether there was any more necessity for a detective in Conshohocken than in any other borough in the county. The coroner testified that in his judgment there was a great necessity for a detective in Conshohocken, especially for one that spoke both English and Italian, as there is a large foreign population and misdoings among this element were frequent.

Similar testimony was given by Squire William F. Smith and John DeHaven.

Attorney Henry I. Fox represented the petitioner and presented a petition signed by many of the leading citizens of this borough and vicinity.

Talone was appointed as private detective, with an office in this borough. The decree directs that Talone pay the license fee and enter a bond for $2000. The term of the license is for three years revokable at any time for cause shown.

INJURED IN FALL FROM WHEEL

School Boy Lost Control of Bicycle at Hector Street Curve and Ran Into Pole

Thomas F. McCoy Jr., son of Druggist Thomas F. McCoy, was painfully but not seriously injured this morning while riding his bicycle to school. He was rounding the curve in Hector street below Harry, when he lost control of his wheel and crashed into a telegraph pole. He was thrown violently to the ground and suffered painful bruises. The bicycle was badly broken. As the accident happened, Thomas J. Carroll was driving along the street in his automobile. He assisted the injured boy and took him to his parents' home.

KNOCKED DOWN BY AUTO

Reckless Driver Runs Down Man at Curb Line and Drives Away

James Fitzsimmons, of West Ninth avenue, was struck by an automobile and knocked down but not injured, at Ninth avenue and Fayette street, at ten o'clock, Saturday night.

Mr. Fitzsimmons and councilman William Kane were standing in the street along the curb at the corner of the avenue and street, conversing when they noticed a Ford automobile approaching slowly and as if about to stop at the corner. The occupants of the car were a man and woman. When the corner was reached, the man spoke to the woman and instead of stopping, put on more speed. The car veered to the gutter and struck Fitzsimmons, the hind wheel running over his foot and throwing him to the street. The car sped away. Mr. Kane aided his friend to his feet and found that he was uninjured, except his feelings towards autoists and automobiles.

HOW TO VOTE FOR A JUDGE

TO MARK BALLOT FOR FRANK M. TREXLER AN EASY MATTER

Candidates for the Supreme and Superior Courts of Pennsylvania will not appear in the party ballots at the November election. This is because the Act of 1913 makes the office of judge non-partisan, and the voter must choose between the men named for the office without regard to any party at all.

Judge Frank M. Trexler of Lehigh County is the Superior Court candidate who bids fair to be elected without difficulty. His name will be second on the ticket for Superior Court. He is a Lehigh County man and in his 11 years on the bench of that county was sustained by the higher courts in nine out of ten of his decisions.

What is the Superior Court? The Superior Court of Pennsylvania is the court which stands between the Court of Common Pleas and the Supreme Court. There are seven Justices of the Superior Court, which meet each year in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Harrisburg, Williamsport, and Scranton. During October, for example, the court will be holding sessions in Philadelphia.

The members of the Superior Court are Judge Head of Westmoreland County, Judge Henderson of Crawford County, President Judge Rice, Judge Oclary of Huntingdon County, Judge Porter of Allegheny County, Judge Kephart of Cambria County, and Judge Frank M. Trexler of Lehigh County.

Judge Trexler, appointed by the governor to fill the unexpired term of Gen. James A. Beaver, ran such a tremendous vote in the primary of May 19th that his total was almost as great as that of his three opponents combined. The judge's vote in his home county of Lehigh was very conspicuous, all parties uniting to back him for the place. Judge Trexler occupied the Lehigh County bench for 11 years. Last May he carried 47 of the 67 counties of Pennsylvania.

Judge Frank M. Trexler of the Superior Court of Pennsylvania, a candidate for the place made vacant through the death of Gen. James A. Beaver, and nominated in the spring primary on the non-partisan ballot, has a record as a jurist which is, to say the least, an unusual one. In 11 years on the bench of Lehigh County he was sustained by the higher courts in 90 per cent. of his decisions. That is to say, in cases appealed to the higher courts from Lehigh County Judge Trexler's opinions and findings were upheld by the upper bodies nine out of ten times.

Judge Trexler, or Frank Trexler, as he is known to his friends, was born in Allentown January 9, 1861. His father was the late Edwin Trexler, for many years a farmer, and afterward a lumberman who helped develop many sections of Pennsylvania. Judge Trexler was graduated from Allentown High School in 1878. In 1879 he was graduated with honors from Muhlenberg College at Allentown. He studied law and in 1882 was admitted to practice in the courts of Lehigh County. Within a short time he had built up a large practice. In November of 1903 he was elected to the Lehigh County bench. During the 11 years he presided over those courts he showed marked industry, court business was expedited and the docket cleared of old cases. This was done without the loss of that thoroughness which makes a good judge. The same thing is true of Judge Trexler since he became a member of the Superior Court of Pennsylvania. He should be elected November 3, 1914.

He stopped short. He had been going to say "talking." He substituted "ideas."

"That world of royalty," the king went on. "In a little while no one will understand it any more—it will become a riddle."

"Among other things, it was a world of perpetual best clothes. Everything was in its best clothes for us and usually wearing busting, with a cinema watching to see we took it properly. If you were a king, Firmin and you go and look at a regiment of infantry stops whatever it is holding, changes into full uniform and presents arms. When my august parents went in a train the coal in the tender used to be whitened. It did, Firmin, and if coal had been white instead of black I have no doubt the authorities would have blackened it. That was the spirit of our treatment. People were always walking about with their faces to us. One never saw anything in profile. One got an impression of a world that was instantly focused as our eyes moved and when it began to take shape it was a world of—"

He stood up. Firmin, forgetting the habits of a score of years, remained seated. "Well," he said at last, "and I have known nothing!"

The king smiled very cheerfully. He liked these talks with Firmin.

CHAPTER IX. The Ending of War.

THAT conference upon the Brissago meadows was one of the most heterogeneous collections of prominent people that has ever met together. Principalities and powers, stripped and shattered until all their pride and mystery were gone, met in a marvelous new humility. Here were kings and emperors whose capitals were lakes of flaming destruction, statesmen whose countries had become chaos, scared politicians and financial potentates. Here were leaders of thought and learned investigators dragged reluctantly to the control of affairs. Altogether there were ninety-three of them, Leblanc's conception of the head men of the world. They had all come to the realization of the simple truths that the indefatigable Leblanc had hammered into them, and, drawing his resources from the king of Italy, he had provisioned his conference with a generous simplicity quite in accordance with the rest of his character and so at last was able to make his astonishing and entirely rational appeal. He had appointed King Egbert the president. He believed in this young man so firmly that he completely dominated him, and he spoke himself as a secretary might speak from the president's left hand, and evidently did not realize himself that he was telling them all exactly what they had to do. He imagined that he was merely recapitulating the obvious features of the situation for their convenience. He was dressed in ill-fitting white silk clothes, and he consulted a dingy little packet of notes as he spoke. They put him out. He explained that I notes before. was exceptional.

And then King Egbert spoke as he was expected to speak, and Leblanc's spectacles moistened at that flow of generous sentiment, most amiably and lightly expressed. "We haven't to stand on ceremony," said the king, "we have to govern the world. We have always pretended to govern the world, and here is our opportunity."

"Of course," whispered Leblanc, nodding his head rapidly, "of course."

"The world has been smashed up, and we have to put it on its wheels again," said King Egbert, "as it is the simple common sense of this crisis for all to help and none to seek advantage. Is that our tone or not?"

The gathering was too old and seasoned and miscellaneous for any great displays of enthusiasm, but that was its tone, and with an astonishment that somehow became exhilarating it began to resign, repudiate and declare its intentions. Firmin, taking notes behind his master, heard everything that had been foretold among the yellow broom come true. With a queer feeling that he was dreaming, he assisted at the proclamation of the world state and saw the message taken out to the wireless operators to be throbbled all around the habitable globe. "And next," said King Egbert, with a cheerful excitement in his voice, "we have to get every atom of carollism and all the plant for making it into our control."

Firmin was not alone in his incredulity. Not a man there who was not a very amiable, reasonable, benevolent creature at bottom. Some had been born to power, and some had happened upon it. Some had struggled to get it, not clearly knowing what it was and what it implied, but none was irreconcilably set upon its retention at the price of cosmic disaster. Their minds had been prepared by circumstances and sedulously cultivated by Leblanc, and now they took the broad, obvious road along which King Egbert was leading them with a mingled conviction of strangeness and necessity. Things went very smoothly. The king of Italy explained the arrangements that had been made for the protection of the camp from any fantastic attack. A couple of thousand of aeroplanes, each carrying a sharpshooter, guarded them, and there was an excellent system of relays, and at night all the sky would be searched by scores of lights, and the admirable Leblanc gave luminous reasons for their camping just where they were and going on with their administrative duties forthwith. He knew of this place because he had happened upon it when holiday making with Mme. Leblanc twenty years and more ago. "There is very simple fare at present," he explained, "on account of the disturbed state of the countries about us. But we have excellent fresh milk, good red wine, beef, bread, salad and lemons. In a few days I hope to place things in the hands of a more efficient caterer."

The members of the new world government dined at three long tables on trestles, and down the middle of these tables Leblanc, in spite of the barrenness of his menu, had contrived to have a great multitude of beautiful roses. There was similar accommodation for the secretaries and attendants at a lower level down the mountain. The assembly dined as it had debated. In the open air, and over the dark crags to the west the glowing June sunset shone upon the banquet. There was no precedence now among the ninety-three, and King Egbert found himself between a pleasant little Japanese stranger in spectacles and his cousin of central Europe and opposite a great Bengali leader and the president of the United States of America. Beyond the Japanese was Holsten, the old chemist, and Leblanc was a little way down on the other side.

The king was still cheerfully talkative and abounded in ideas. He fell presently into an amiable controversy with the American, who seemed to feel a lack of impressiveness in the occasion.

"Firmin, we are just going to lay down our differences and take over government without any election at all, without any sanction. The government will show their consent by silence. If any effective opposition arises we shall ask it to come in and help. The true sanction of kingship is the grip upon the scepter. We aren't going to worry people to vote for us. I'm certain that the mass of men does not want to be bothered with such things. We'll contrive a way for any one interested to join in. That's quite enough in the way of democracy. Perhaps later, when things don't matter. We shall govern all right, Firmin. Government only becomes difficult when the lawyers get hold of it, and since these troubles began the lawyers are shy. Indeed, come to think of it, I wonder where all the lawyers are. Where are they? A lot, of course, were bagged—some of the worst ones—when they blew up my legislature. You never knew the late lord chancellor."

"Necessities bury rights. Lawyers live on rights. We've done with that way of living. We won't have more law than a code can cover, and beyond that government will be free."

"Before the sun sets today, Firmin, we shall have made our abdication, all of us, and declared the world republic, supreme and indivisible. I wonder what my august grandmother would have made of it—all my rights! And then we shall go on governing. What else is there to do? All over the world we shall declare that there is no longer mine or thine, but ours. China, the United States, two-thirds will certainly fall in and obey. They will have to do so. What else can they do? Their official rulers are here with us. They won't be able to get together any sort of idea of not obeying us. Then we shall declare that every sort of property is held in trust for the republic."

"But, sir," cried Firmin, suddenly enlightened, "has this been arranged already?"

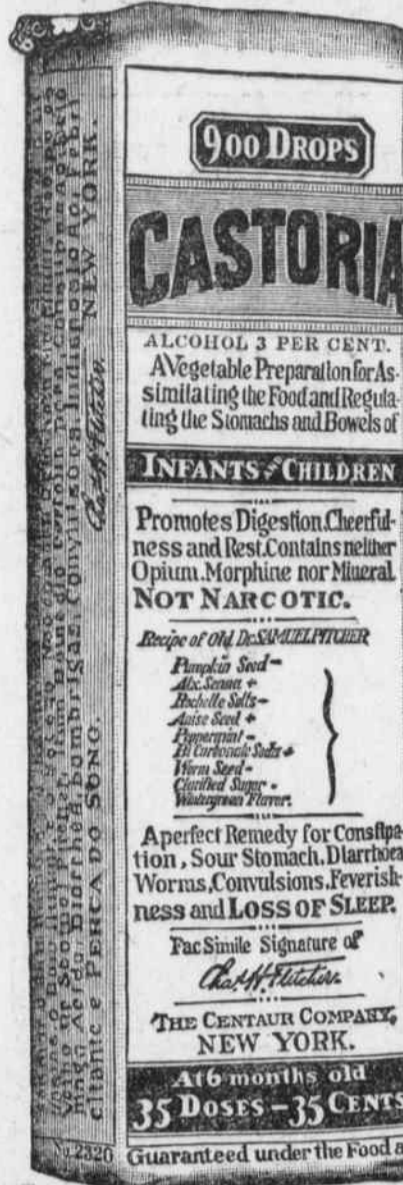

"My dear Firmin, do you think we have come here, all of us, to talk at large? The talking has been done for half a century, talking and writing. We are here to set the new thing, the simple, obvious, necessary thing, going."

He stood up. Firmin, forgetting the habits of a score of years, remained seated. "Well," he said at last, "and I have known nothing!"

The king smiled very cheerfully. He liked these talks with Firmin.

CHAPTER IX. The Ending of War. THAT conference upon the Brissago meadows was one of the most heterogeneous collections of prominent people that has ever met together. Principalities and powers, stripped and shattered until all their pride and mystery were gone, met in a marvelous new humility. Here were kings and emperors whose capitals were lakes of flaming destruction, statesmen whose countries had become chaos, scared politicians and financial potentates. Here were leaders of thought and learned investigators dragged reluctantly to the control of affairs. Altogether there were ninety-three of them, Leblanc's conception of the head men of the world. They had all come to the realization of the simple truths that the indefatigable Leblanc had hammered into them, and, drawing his resources from the king of Italy, he had provisioned his conference with a generous simplicity quite in accordance with the rest of his character and so at last was able to make his astonishing and entirely rational appeal. He had appointed King Egbert the president. He believed in this young man so firmly that he completely dominated him, and he spoke himself as a secretary might speak from the president's left hand, and evidently did not realize himself that he was telling them all exactly what they had to do. He imagined that he was merely recapitulating the obvious features of the situation for their convenience. He was dressed in ill-fitting white silk clothes, and he consulted a dingy little packet of notes as he spoke. They put him out. He ex-

The High Cost Fallacy

Some people have a mistaken impression regarding plumbing. They believe there are two kinds—the cheap job of seconds with skimped workmanship and the unnecessarily expensive quality installation.

Such reasoning is entirely without the bounds of fact.

When building rest assured that your plumbing equipment can be what it should be—satisfactory in design, durability and price.

This we wish to demonstrate by going over your plans with you and showing the wide range of suitable "Standard" guaranteed plumbing fixtures which, with our charge for installation will satisfy you as to quality and reasonableness of price.

RESOLUTION.

RESOLVED—That the Burgess and officers of town council of the Borough of West Conshohocken, Pa., be directed and they are hereby authorized and empowered to enter into a contract, for furnishing light to this Borough, with the Counties Gas and Electric Company of Conshohocken, Pa., in the following form and conditions for a period beginning the 18th day of April, 1914, and ending May 1st 1922.

THIS AGREEMENT dated the eighteenth day of April, 1914, by and between the Counties Gas & Electric Company, a corporation of the State of Pennsylvania, hereinafter called "Company", party of the first part, and the Borough of West Conshohocken, Montgomery County, Pennsylvania, hereinafter called the "Borough", party of the second part, WITNESSETH:

WHEREAS, the Borough desires the Company to establish fifty (50) incandescent street lights having an initial candle power of twenty-four (24), as rated by the manufacturer, and also desires the Company, upon written notice from the Borough at any time within five (5) years from the date hereof, to establish five (5) or more arc lamps of the same type as are at that time operated by the Company in the Borough of Conshohocken, said arc lamps to be established within fifteen hundred (1,500) feet of the West Conshohocken end of Matson's Ford Bridge.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutuality hereof, it is agreed between the parties hereto as follows:

1st. The Company agrees to furnish all poles, wires fixtures, lamps and other appliances, which may be necessary to supply said lamps and to erect and maintain the same.

2nd. The Company agrees to furnish the electric current for the purpose of lighting said incandescent and arc lamps between dusk and dawn, or a total of four thousand (4000) hours per year. The Borough agrees for itself, its successors and assigns, to use the electric current supplied by the Company for the aforesaid purposes to the extent of not less than fifty (50) incandescent lamps having an initial candle power of twenty-four (24) as rated by the manufacturer, for the term beginning the date hereof and ending the first day of May, 1922, and to pay for all service rendered by the Company hereunder in accordance with the rates and conditions hereinafter named.

3rd. The Borough agrees to pay for said service as follows: Fifteen ($15) Dollars per year per incandescent lamp, plus any tax or license fee that is now or may hereafter be assessed by the Borough against the business or property of the Company, excepting, however, any tax on real estate owned by the Company in said Borough.

Eighty ($80) Dollars per year per arc lamp erected at the request of the Borough in accordance with the terms hereof.

Payments for service shall be made in equal monthly installments on or before the eighteenth day of every month succeeding that in which said service has been supplied. The last payment to be made on or before May 18th, 1922, and to be for the portion of the month beginning April 18th, 1922 and ending May 1st, 1922, computed at the aforesaid rates.

4th. The Company agrees to renew, free of charge, any incandescent lamp which may be burned out or broken, or which, upon complaint being made thereof by the Borough, may be found to give a horizontal candle power less than eighty per cent. (80%) of the initial candle power of a new twenty-four (24) candle power lamp.

5th. Of the fifty (50) incandescent lamps to be furnished by the Company hereunder, any thereof which may be selected by the Borough, not exceeding twelve (12) in number, shall, upon written notice from the Lighting Committee of Councils of the Borough, be moved by the Company, free of cost to the Borough, to a new location within two hundred (200) feet of the present location thereof, but if any other or further changes of location are desired, the same shall be made by the Company at the expense of the Borough. The Borough shall have the right from time to time to increase the number of incandescent lamps to be supplied hereunder, by the Lighting Committee of Councils of the Borough, giving written notice thereof to the Company, and the Company shall thereupon erect the same in accordance with the terms of this agreement, provided the location selected by the Borough for each such additional lamp may be reached from the existing street lighting circuits of the Company by an extension of not over six hundred (600) feet upon a then existing pole line of the Company, or by an extension of not over two hundred (200) feet when it is necessary for the Company to erect additional poles or, in case there are poles already erected for a part of the proposed extension, the distance over which it would be necessary to erect poles multiplied by three and added to the remainder of the length of the extension shall not exceed six hundred (600) feet, and provided further that no additional lamp or lamps shall be required to be installed within one year from the expiration of this agreement, unless by mutual consent. Upon such additional lamp or lamps being so erected all the terms of this agreement shall apply thereto as if such additional lamp or lamps had been originally included among the number specified in Clause two hereof.

6th. If for any cause any or all of the lamps supplied hereunder fail to burn, the Borough shall deduct from the monthly bill a pro rata sum for the time that any such lamp or lamps so failed to burn.

7th. Nothing herein contained shall be intended to in any wise limit or impair any rights of the Borough reserved under an Ordinance of said Borough enacted October 5th, 1910.

granting to the Borough of West Conshohocken Electric Light Company, its successors and assigns consent to erect, maintain and operate electric light wires in the Borough of West Conshohocken.

It is hereby understood and agreed that neither the purpose nor intent, nor the obligation of this contract, if and when approved by the Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, is such as to impair or in any wise effect, the exercise by said Commission of any of the powers vested in it by the Public Service Company Law, approved July 26th, 1913.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Vice-President of said Company and Burgess of said Borough, both acting under authority invested in them, have hereunto affixed their names and the seals of their principals as of the day and year first above written.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1914.

Now that mushrooms are plentiful the question arises, how to get the beefsteak.

Out in Cleveland citizens are volunteering to "watch burglars." A lot of time would be saved if they would catch the burglar instead of just watching them.

Politics is a funny game. Two years ago thousands of Republicans left the party because they believed things were not conducted on the square and joined the Progressives, the party of the "square deal." To-day thousands of these dissenters, among whom are candidates, have returned to their old party, disgusted with the methods of the "square deal" party.

TEACH SPANISH

The great trade bodies of the country are making preparations for an American commercial invasion of South America. The American hustle will be productive of results and as the South Americans become accustomed to the use of American manufactured materials, they will find they possess many advantages over those of other countries, but to gain and hold the trade, United States manufacturers will have to do business in the manner their customers desire. The customers must be satisfied.

The language of the South American Republics is Spanish and a great corps of Spanish speaking salesmen and correspondents must be organized. To perfect such an organization will be a matter of several years and the more thorough the work is done the better the results.

The clerks, salesmen and correspondents are supplied from the public schools and it would be profitable for the schools to aid in securing trade by adding a course in Spanish to the commercial department in the High Schools.

Philadelphia has already made preparations for the teaching of Spanish and should other High Schools carry out the plan, within two years there will be thousands of young men equipped to take their places in great organizations to gain an immense trade for this country.

A great deal of time is spent in the public schools with Latin and kindred subjects, which, however, in most schools, it is optional with the pupil to take up these subjects. The same time spent in teaching Spanish, making it an optional study, would be a national benefit.

It would be well for the Conshohocken schools to be in the advance in such a movement.

THE RECORDER'S NEW "DRESS."

The Recorder comes to you this afternoon in a new style printed on a new press. The press is what is known as a perfecting press. It weighs ten tons. The machine performs the operation of printing, cutting, pasting and folding the newspaper in one continuous operation.

The paper is fed from a large roll and is passed through the press and folder at high speed. The new machine, while representing a large outlay of money, is a great time saver and a greater convenience to Recorder advertisers. The constantly increasing patronage of the Recorder by readers and advertisers demanded that the paper use the most modern machinery.

For years the Recorder has been "set" on a linotype and now is printed on a perfecting press, which gives the paper a modern, complete mechanic equipment. This means much to advertisers a better display and position can be given in the "make up" of the paper.

The mechanical equipment is of small moment to the readers and the Recorder will not only continue to give all the home news accurately and as it happens but will be able to cover the news of the surrounding townships to a better advantage.

The Recorder's endeavor is to present the home news and to editorially comment on questions and topics of vital importance to Conshohocken and vicinity. It will put forth a greater effort in the interest of the home merchants in strongly advocating home buying and home improvement.

The paper has kept pace with the town and will continue to do so and citizens desiring to know all that is worth while happening here and among our neighbors can find it only in these columns.

It is an undisputed fact that attractive stores draws patronage and an attractive town draws new residents. Attractiveness adds to the joy of living and the prosperity of the people.

Many cities and towns have entered into a movement for open, clean streets and as a measure to make the business sections attractive, the old fashioned, unsightly awning has been declared a nuisance, a disfigurement to both buildings and streets and serves no useful purpose.

Years ago the awning was deemed as necessary to a shop as the protection of food from flies and filth was unnecessary. Times have changed; buyers will not enter forbidding looking places. The merchant and his clerks must be neat and courteous, the shop and goods must be clean and orderly and the building must be attractive. When the merchant recognizes so much for his place of business, he readily sees the advantages of a finely appearing street.

At one time almost every business house on Fayette street had an unsightly awning in front of it. Dark entrances and windows were the rule. One by one the old affairs rotted away and were not replaced, nor could the merchants, having experiences with and without the awnings, be persuaded to again darken their stores with awnings.

There are but few remaining and some of these are in bad condition. It is hoped that no repairs will be made but that the awning will be permitted to become a memory of the relics of bygone days.

THE RAILROADS AND THE GOVERNMENT

Recent investigations by the government into the business methods of the railroads has brought to the surface dealings with the public's investments that makes the most daring crooks blush for shame at his own incompetency.

The investigations have shown that directors did not direct for the interest of the properties they represented but for personal gain. It has been shown that great amounts of the public's money has been spent to secure legislation which was a public menace, an injury to investors and profitable for a few individuals.

The government is now partially regulating the business of the railroads and so far the experience has been that the method is ineffective and unprofitable. For men to run a railroad it is absolutely necessary that they know the railroad business—a knowledge of the law is not sufficient to successfully carry traffic.

The best suggestion on the railroad question, to our mind, is that of resident Ripley, of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway. Being a practical man and the head of one of the country's largest roads, his statements are worthy of consideration. He says the railroads cannot continue under the present system. It is impractical for a board of lawyers at Washington to operate the railroads of the country and the owners to pay the bills.

He suggests that the railroads being grouped in a manner similar to that of the banking business under the new law, and that the government have a representative in the board of directors for each group.

The suggestion means more than at first appears. Should the government enact such a law it should be a broad one and offer every protection for the properties. A director should be made a trustee, thereby making him personally responsible for his acts. This would keep the railroads out of politics, which would of itself be a great advance for better conditions as they have been notoriously the greatest corruptors of politics known. It would prevent the wholesale buying of derelict companies at fabulous prices that a few in the inner circle may gain great profits at the expense of the investors they represent. It would compel the railroads to spend their money legitimately and give the public a better, quicker, safer and cheaper transportation service.

The railroad business today is in a peculiar state. The government has assumed the task of telling the owners how to run the roads and what charges may be made for service but the work of producing the money for operation and other expenses is left entirely to the owners.

The railroads must be operated, to be safe and successful, by railroaders and not by lawyers.

Clergymen's Editorial

By Rev. Abner J. Davies, Pastor of the First Baptist Church.

"THE THINGS OF ANOTHER."

There is an old story somewhere of a young man who paid a visit to the office of his uncle, a gentleman holding a place of honor and trust under the Government at Washington. Desiring to write a note, the youth reached and helped himself to a sheet of paper from his uncle's desk. "Put that back, young man, put that back," exclaimed his irate relative; "that belongs to the Government."

The writer was reminded of this not long since by the reception of a letter from a young man occupying a place of some confidence and importance with a business concern, from which he hoped to pass to another of higher trust. The letter, though private, was written on the firm's letter head. At the bottom, the young man had this postscript: "This sheet is used with the knowledge of and consent of the firm." He afterward explained that he could not allow the impression to go abroad that he would use even a sheet of paper without permission.

From either incident the lesson is obvious. All positions of a fiduciary character require for their proper discharge a fine sense of honor. The trustee, of any sort, or the treasurer, of any fund large or small, should have that sense of honor keenly developed, being especially faithful in the handling "of the things which are another's." With a sword whose sharpness surpasses that of the blades of Damascus, he should draw the distinction between the things which are his own, and those which, in any form, he holds in trust.

Between these two there should be an impassable gulf fixed, so that the one should never pass over to the other. To allow the two to intermingle, is ever a dangerous step. The line which the famed Pizarro drew between the men who were his, and those who were not, was drawn upon the sand, and anon, no doubt, the tide obliterated it; but the line between the things which are a man's own, and those held in trust, should be drawn deeply and permanently. It should be "graven with an iron pen and lead in the rock forever."

All this is plain; it is the very alphabet of morals and the civil law. Yet the shore-line of human experience is strewn with a thousand wrecks because of its neglect.

Handling the things of another is very much like the process of shaving. It is a perfectly safe and delightful operation so long as the blade of responsible honor has a keen edge; but without that the process is unsatisfactory and oft times dangerous in the extreme.

One way to relieve habitual constipation is to take regularly a mild laxative. Doan's Regulatee are recommended for this purpose. 25c a box at all drug stores.—Adv.

WINNING FIRM'S MERCY

Gives Orphans $1500 After They Lose Suit in Court

Eight orphans were shown mercy and justice in Court at Norristown, on Friday, when the Keasbey & Mattison Company, of Ambler, agreed to give them money as a non-suit stated them in the face. The children were of Christopher Buck, who was killed in the Ambler firm's mill last year.

The testimony during the trial of the suit before Judge Reed, of Jefferson county, specially sitting, revealed contributory negligence on the part of Buck. A non-suit was asked for and when about to be given, the company came forward and agreed to give $1500 toward the orphans, to aid them, and as a remembrance of faithful service of their father. It was a most unusual proceeding on the part of a defendant before the Court.

Bill Boyer, the toll-gate keeper, complains bitterly about the present condition of the pike. He says that his conscience is beginning to worry him. He hates to take the money. He expects to ask the company for a lot of brooms to sweep out the water of the scores of ugly holes in the lower end of town. Bill is a brave and honest man, and he does not fear the loss of his job.

DELAWARE PATRIOTS' MARKER

New Memorial Erected to Valor at Valley Forge

The State of Delaware has erected a marker on the campground of Washington's army at Valley Forge. It is located on top of the hill, near the railroad station. The site is near where the Delaware troops lay during their week's stay at Valley Forge just before the evacuation, in the early summer of 1778. The Delaware boys previous to coming to Valley Forge, were stationed in and about Philadelphia.

The shaft is of Brandywine granite seven feet high, and has a base five by three feet. It weighs seven tons. The unveiling will take place on October 30th.

ASK VOTERS TO SUPPORT HIS OPPONENT AT POLLS

Remarkable Campaign Letter Issued by Washington Nominee.

Possibly the most striking development politically of the entire week was the issuance of a signed statement by James Henderson, of Glenside, the Washington party nominee for the Legislature in the First Legislative District of Montgomery County. The nominee on the Republican ticket is Charles A. Ambler, of Abington, and on the Democratic ticket, John McEvoy, of Willow Grove. Henderson's statement, issued Friday over his own signature, has created a sensation.

He advises voters to support his Republican opponent, saying he has lost faith in the Washington party leaders since they have endorsed Vance McCormick for Governor.

PROTECTION FOR THE HOME

EVERY CONSHOHOCKEN FAMILY SHOULD TAKE IMMEDIATE PRECAUTION.

Fire originates from many different sources, no matter how careful one may be. Time may come when the home will be partially or wholly destroyed. In case of a large fire the loss would be too much for an ordinary man without undergoing great inconveniences; but no matter how small the fire may be the damage will always exceed many times the cost of a Fire Insurance Policy. Your furniture can be insured for $500 at a cost of about one cent a week. Your house may be insured for $1000 at a cost of less than two cents a week. The cost of larger or smaller amounts is in the same proportion.

The London Assurance Corporation; the Fidelity Underwriters; the Queen Insurance Company; the Fidelity-Phoenix; the Keystone Underwriters, and others are represented in Conshohocken by C. A. Desimone. These companies are the strongest in the world having combined assets of over $100,000,000. You should see Mr. Desimone immediately about your insurance. To delay until tomorrow may cause a great loss to you.

CONSHOHOCKEN'S LABOR OUTLOOK

CONDITIONS ARE VERY ENCOURAGING TO THE WORKING MAN.

Notwithstanding the somewhat depressed business conditions the labor outlook in Conshohocken is very promising; in fact, never in the history of the Borough have things looked so favorable for the working-man. The Iron Industries are anticipating booming times, as can be seen by the various improvements and additions to the mills. The Ivy Rock Plant has acquired a very large tract of land and is still buying all it can. There is no question but what we are soon to have a busy iron and steel center here, which will be the means of making Conshohocken grow like magic. Aside from numerous other small industries, we have two rubber plants, one of which is about to enlarge its buildings to such an extent that it will require the services of about 1000 additional employees. That this industry will eventually grow to such proportions as will require the services of at least 5000 employees is unquestioned. Hopes are entertained that we shall once more see activity at the old stand of the Logmead Iron Company. This property was reported sold several months ago but through the efforts of some of our supposedly "public spirited" citizens the sale was not consummated. There is hope, however, that the sale will yet take place. Conshohocken is so situated and has such excellent transportation facilities that many other industries located within a radius of ten miles are accessible to the Conshohockenite. It can readily be seen, therefore, that we need not fear the possibility of lack of employment; in fact, we will need more workers here year after year and it will mean a rapid development and growth for our Borough. By looking around us even now we find that Conshohocken can not house all the people employed here. Many are compelled to live in Norristown and elsewhere. A vacant dwelling is something practically unheard of. We have pessimists in our midst, but they do not belong here.

BARREN HILL

ITEMS OF INTEREST GATHERED BY OUR CORRESPONDENT AND CONDENSED INTO SHORT PARAGRAPHS FOR READY READING.

George Oberle has purchased a handsome Dudley Cycle Car.

Miss Bertha Staley, principal of the local school and Miss Kerper are attending the Teachers Institute at Norristown this week.

Laura J., wife of Samuel Hillman died at her home, 1858 North Twenty-seventh street, Philadelphia, Saturday. She formerly resided at Barren Hill. The funeral occurred this afternoon, services being held at 2.30 o'clock, in St. Peter's Lutheran church, Barren Hill. Interment in the adjoining cemetery.

The kiln in the westerly end of the Gilling terra cotta works, has been repaired and fired up this week. As it is, the general building stagnation has made trade dull at this Marble Hill plant, and with the large stock on hand it has been well able to supply all demands for product with only one kiln in operation. The stock carried at this plant is very large and huge quantities of pipe of all sizes are piled in the rear of the plant. Some of this pipe in stock is more than 50 years old, as is evidenced by the flange or bell on the pipe. Some of this was made when William Gilling, the father of Sylvester Gilling, operated the mill in those days there was no one machine to mould the pipe and the bell in one operation. The pipe was first made and the bell was put on a wheel and then set on by hand. The work of "spinning" a bell, although it seemed an easy operation, was most difficult until the necessary neck was attained. Many were the inexperienced persons who, after watching the operation thought they could do the work only to find to their chagrin that instead of being easy was a most dextrous thing to do.

GULF MILLS

ITEMS OF INTEREST GATHERED BY OUR LOCAL CORRESPONDENT FOR OUR READERS.

Miss Mary Davis, of Boothwyn, Pa., spent Sunday with friends at Gulf Mills.

A small son of Isaac Fields, of Port Kennedy, was badly bitten on the leg by a Jog at that place last week.

Although the dry weather has had an effect on the mushrooms this fall the fungus plants are reported as being plentiful in this locality at the present time. The rain of about two weeks ago started them to grow.

Ex-councilman John Ramsey of West Conshohocken, who has resided at Belvidere, N. J., for some time, removed to Mechanicsville last week and occupied a dwelling belonging to Thomas Daly, recently vacated by Walter Cook.

Fort Kennedy, the thriving village in the Upper District of Upper Merion is about to enter into a new era of progressiveness. The residents after having used kerosene for illuminating purposes since the place was founded by John Kennedy many years ago, will ere long discard the antiquated yet time-honored oil lamp, and have electricity introduced into their homes. Poles for the electric light wires have already been erected through the village, and the wiring to supply light to one of the most important manufacturing places in the Schuylkill Valley will soon be started.

There as a good turnout of the members of the Men's Bible Class of the Gulf Christian Church on Sunday afternoon, about seventy-five being in attendance at the meeting. The committee which had been appointed to draft resolutions of respect on the death of James Arthur McFarland, the late Vice President of the organization, presented them and they were adopted. The secretary was advised to place the resolutions on the minutes of the meeting, and to send copies to the family of Mr. McFarland and to the Conshohocken Recorder. The name of John McFarland, of Gulf Mills was presented for the office, Vice President to fill the vacancy caused by the death of his brother J. Arthur McFarland. Mr. McFarland was unanimously elected. Although he was not present at this meeting, he has taken considerable interest in the movement, and it is likely that he will accept the office of Vice President. As Mr. Parker Williams, president of the class, and Jacques Palmer, class leader, stated, that the late official was a great power in the organization and that his loss will be keenly felt, it is the duty of the members of the body to use all their influence possible in assisting to fill the gap which was made by his death.

The Rebel Hill Junior Base Ball team, which organized in the Spring of 1914, has closed its season with a splendid record. The closing game, which was to have been a "special" with the Mt. Pleasant Giants did not materialize owing to the visitors failing to put in an appearance. Notwithstanding that this game was not played the manager of the Juniors, Fred Mosman, decided to close the season. The Juniors met some strong teams within their age limit, between 14 and 16 years, including clubs from the Conshohockens, the Main Line, Plymouth, Upper Merion, Mt. Pleasant and Gulf Mills, but an evidence of the manner that they acquitted themselves on the diamond is shown by their many victories, twenty, while they met defeat but three times and had one tie score. Manager Mosman is well pleased with the good all around work of the team. A statement made by him is to the effect that it will be even stronger next season. It is expected that the members of the team will be banquetted by their admirers some time during the winter. Following is the list of games and the runs scored by each team:

Home	Visiting Teams.

The Juniors total number of runs is 247 against 219, total number of runs scored by visiting teams.

William Spragg, of Gulf Mills, has had electric lights introduced into his residence.

A marriage license was issued in Norristown last week to Charles R. Dewees and Mary E. Cohen, both of King-of-Prussia.

Mr. and Mrs. Elias Myers, of the Walnut Grove Farm, were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harry Myers, at Mont Clare on Sunday.

A. M. Kelly, who conducts the Colonial Ice Cream parlor at Gulf Mills, advertises elsewhere that she will be ready to serve oysters and light lunch on and after October 31st.

After having suspended operations for a few days in order to clean boilers and undergo some necessary repairs, the Montgomery Woolen Mill resumed work yesterday.

Mrs. Julia Ruoff, and daughter, Julia, of Philadelphia, have been passing a few days in the village with Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Mullen. The latter is a sister of Mrs. Ruoff.

Henderson Supplee, of "Kenhurst," Port Kennedy, has improved the appearance of a number of his tenant houses at Mechanicsville by having porches erected in front of them.

The schools of Upper Merion township are closed this week while the teachers are in attendance at the sixtieth annual session of the Montgomery County Teachers Institute in Norristown.

Mr. and Mrs. John Myers, of Strasburg, Lancaster county, have returned home after passing a few days with the former's brother Harry Myers, Sr., of the "Walnut Grove Farm," this place.

William Pritchard, of Gulf Mills, has secured a position in the weaving department of the Dobson mills at Falls of Schuylkill, where army blankets are now being made to be sent to different countries in Europe.

Rev. John E. Epright and wife, of Frenchtown, N. J., who have been the guests for a few days of the former's mother Mrs. Georgiana Epright, and sister Miss Annie Epright at Mechanicsville, returned home yesterday. Rev. Mr. Epright preached in the Gulf Christian Church on Sunday morning.

Mrs. Butler, wife of Rev. Murdock W. Butler, pastor of the Gulf Christian Church, and daughter, Miss Willie Adams, who have been spending a portion of the summer and early fall with the former's brother in Virginia, returned home on Saturday. Mrs. Butler is not enjoying the best of health, and is under the care of a physician.

James Wifong, of Mechanicsville, has competed making improvements about property at that place belonging to Thomas Daly. The dwelling occupied by John Black has been repaired on the exterior, concrete steps built in front of the house where he resides William Irlan, and other things have been done which add to the general appearance of the properties.

Mr. F. Woolwen, of Rosemont and Mr. Morgan, also of the Main Line, who are interested in evangelistic work, conducted prayer meeting at the residence of George Shoffner at Gulf Mills on Friday evening. These two men have wielded a powerful influence in religious affairs in the Main Line district, and within the past year they have extended their work for the good cause to the Gulf Mills locality.

Mr. and Mrs. William Swartz and sons Lewis and Carroll and grandson Leonard Swartz, of Cordova, Md., have been spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. George Shoffner at Gulf Mills. The visitors from the South were on their return trip from Allentown, where they passed a week with a sister of Mrs. Swartz. Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. McCord, formerly of this locality, are neighbors of the Swartz family in Cordova.

Many residents of this locality take great interest in hunting wild game. The season for shooting squirrels which opened on the 15th of this month has been a most successful one so far for the gunners hereabouts, in fact it is doubtful whether a greater number of these small animals were ever bagged in this locality in any one season previously. Charles Wellard, of Gulf Mills heads the list with the greatest number killed, while a member of the Gamble family of Mechanicsville, is a close second. Although the squirrel season has occupied the attention of the sportsmen, they are anxiously awaiting the opening of the rabbit season on November 1st. As this date falls on Sunday this year the cotton tail hunters will be obliged to wait until Monday. For some time past gunners have been putting their fire arms in shape, giving their dogs trouts, and everything will be in readiness for the break of dawn on Monday next, when the report of the gun echoing and re-echoing among the hills and valleys will denote that the rabbit season of 1914 is on. A number from this section will journey to different parts of the State in quest of game.

On Saturday afternoon, at Pastime Park, Reliance had as their opponent the Brookdale Club, of Philadelphia. The local team won by the decisive score of 39 to 0.

The Brookdale Club arrived in town early and got into their playing togs and at 3.15 o'clock the game was commenced.

Two minutes after the game had started Altorfer grabbed a fumble of the visitors' and made a sensational run of about thirty yards for a touchdown. This eventually started Reliance on winning their second game of the season, and a few minutes later Altorfer made another long advance, 35 yards, for the second touchdown. After that it was not a question of who would win but of what the final score would be.

Reliance's lineup presented two new faces in Young, of this borough, who made a very creditable showing at half-back and J. Hamilton, of West Conshohocken, who played guard.

The end runs of Williams and Young of the locals and the line plunging of Jones featured the game, the only one of the visitors who could be considered a foot ball player, of any ability being Smith, who played full back. The game in detail:

First Period.

Williams kicked off and Brookdale carried the ball back ten yards. On the next play Brookdale fumbled and "Bob" Altorfer picked up the ball and ran 30 yds. for a touchdown. Jones missed the goal. Williams kicked. Reliance was penalized on first down for off-side. After an unsuccessful forward pass the visitors punted, Williams carried the ball 5 yards before being brought to earth. Next play Young advanced ball 20 yards. Altorfer carried the ball for his second touchdown. Jones again missed the goal. Williams kicked and the kick was returned, "Bob" receiving it and advanced 10 yards before being downed. Successful forward passes to H. Fisher and Campbell brought the oval to within 6 yards of Brookdale's goal. Period ended with Reliance in possession of the ball. Score 12 to 0.

Second Period.

To start this period Reliance worked a fake field goal, and Young was thrown for a loss of 6 yards. The next play brought ball to one yard from goal and Campbell scored. Williams kicked the goal. Altorfer kicked off, ball rolling back of visitors' goal, being brought out 20 yards and put into play. On the first play Altorfer intercepted a forward pass and scored. Campbell kicked the goal. Smith kicked to Reliance, Altorfer receiving ball and worked a criss-cross with Jones, who made a run of over half the field, pushing man after man in the face and scored. He then missed his third trial at kicking the goal. This ended the second period. Score 32 to 0.

Third Period.

Williams kicked off. Visitors tried two forwards and punted, Reliance downed on their own forty-yard line. Reliance at this time were held for downs, the first time during the game. Visitors worked a forward and then made two unsuccessful attempts and punted, Jones receiving ball and carried it back ten yards. Young was thrown for a 5 yard loss and time was up. No scoring during this period.

Fourth Period.

Unsuccessful forward pass by Brookdale started this period. Reliance penalized for off side. Visitors worked forward for a gain of eight yards. Laranze thrown for a loss. Visitors worked another forward pass, then punted, Jones receiving ball. Young then gained first down, Altorfer gained first down. Unsuccessful forward. Reliance penalized, off-side. Held for downs, the second and last time in the game. Smith gained 6 yards. After an unsuccessful forward visitors punted. Altorfer gained 4 yards on next play. Jones gained 4 yards. At this juncture Campbell caught a forward pass from Altorfer and scored, making a run of three-quarters of the field. He also kicked the goal. Time up. Final score Reliance 39; Brookdale, 0.

The teams lined up as follows:

Reliance	Pos.	Brookdale
H. Fisher . . . . .	L. E. . . . .	Douglass (Mitchell)
W. Fisher . . . . .	L. T. . . . .	Nash

Manager Hyde has another strong attraction to introduce at Pastime Park on Saturday next when the crack Ewing, the champions of Philadelphia, will oppose Reliance. The Ewing team, while they have never appeared on the West Side, are well known to local followers of foot ball. They have been in existence for several seasons and at all times have had a team that was well able to cope with the best and strongest teams in existence. They have been opposed by such teams as Aberdeen, Vincome, Vierix and all of the other contenders for championship honors of Philadelphia and emerged from these battles as victors. Reliance realizes they they will have to extend themselves to win, but after weeks of watchful waiting the team has struck its gait and the manner in which they are tearing up the lines of the visiting teams is a surprise to not only their adherents but to the management as well. Reliance is getting in shape for the game with Union Club and from the form that is being shown by the team at the present time they bid fair to give a good account of themselves.

The Elm A. A. Juniors defeated the Plymouth A. C. Juniors, who were anxious for a game, by the score of 28 to 0.

NEXT SPECIAL.

The next Special Attraction on the Golf Grounds will be the football team from the U. S. S. Connecticut, on next Sunday. This will be a tough battle for the Saints as the Sailor Boys are in very good shape.

Preacher's Bail Forfeited

Montgomery County Court declared forfeited the bail bond of Rev. Robert McWoodson, the Willow Grove minister who was charged with carrying a concealed deadly weapon—a big revolver—and who, it was further alleged used aggressive arguments in his efforts to have his church officials coincide with him. Rev. McWoodson case had been returned by Magistrate H. C. Williams, of the Abington police station and the trial was continued from the October sessions, recently concluded, until the next criminal session, to be held in December.

ST. MATTHEW'S 26; THOMPSON F. C. 0

The Wissahickon Field Club canceled the game with St. Matthew's late Friday evening and the best Manager Kindregan could secure at that late hour was the Thompson Field Club, of Philadelphia.

They proved to be only a very easy proposition for the Saints the final score being 26 to 0.

The Saints started off by receiving the kick off and never lost the ball until they had crossed the opponent's goal line on a forward pass to Johnny Kelly, 5 minutes after the game started.

The second score was made on an excellent end run by O'Neil.

After the first two scores the Saints played open football altogether and practiced their trick plays and open formations for the Connecticut game but the Thompson Team could not even hold the Saints then and the locals had a very easy matter scoring, two more touchdowns.

The only flash of foot ball displayed by Thompson was in the third period when they carried the ball 40 yards to the Saints 20 yard line, losing it on downs. The stars for Thompson were Wallen and Jackson and for the Saints O'Neil, Dewees, J. Kelly and L. Kelly.

The line-up:

Allen . . . . .	L. E. . . . .	Brogg
Berger . . . . .	L. T. . . . .	Fisher
J. Connelly . . . . .	L. G. . . . .	Fay

Touchdowns—O'Neil, J. Kelly, Kindregan (2). Goals from touchdown—Dewees (2).

NO DECISION ON DATE.

Lower Merion and Radnor Fail to Agree on Annual Game.

Pourparlers are still going on between Lower Merion High School and Radnor High School over the proposal to change the date of the annual foot ball game. It rests with Radnor to decide on either Thanksgiving Day or the Saturday following.

Several first team men at Lower Merion are laid up for the time being with minor injuries, and Coach Weller has been shaken up the remaining material as a result. In the game with Friends' Central last Friday the Lower Merion team was outweighed ten pounds to a man, but they won. The game was hard on the team, though, and Captain Phil Derham, Bartlett, Lukens and Henry Pool cannot play for a week or two. Ryan, Spears, Alex. Pool and Hunter are being tried in their places.

Manager Bartlett, of Lower Merion is trying to get a game for November 6. The Lower Merion scrubs played Tolentine Academy second team on
