TO THE SENIORS

"Carry On." This is an expression made famous by the war. It is no more applicable in war times than in peace. At the time of graduation it is full of significance. There are many things that should be carried on from high school into one's future work.

The first—education. The high school should be only a beginning. There is no excuse now-a-days for a boy or girl not receiving a college education, if he or she has the determination. Lack of funds is no excuse. Provision is made in nearly all colleges to meet this condition. There is a temptation everywhere among high school graduates to be satisfied with present conditions; to be contented with their present educational attainments, when often they ought not to be satisfied. A liberal education is a good investment for any young person who desires it, if he or she has the health and ability to obtain it, no matter what occupation may afterwards be followed. However, it is not necessary for one to go to college in order to continue one's education. Education should be made a life long process regardless of one's calling in life. At this stage of your progress you should realize how little you really know and how much you yet have to learn, and thereby see the great importance of continuing your education.

In the high school one learns to appreciate the study of good literature, of history, science, and kindred subjects. There is no excuse for not continuing the study of these subjects after leaving high school although one does not go to college. Much pleasure and benefit may be derived from a continuation of the study of one or more of these subjects throughout life. So I would say, "carry on." Do not permit your education to stop after graduation, but "carry on."

High School life is full of enthusiasms. Enthusiasm is a good asset to carry on with you. Nothing great was ever achieved without enthusiasm. We should lay up a stock of enthusiasms in youth or else we shall reach the end of our journey with an empty heart, for we are sure to lose a great many of them by the way. Enthusiasm makes work easy. Enthusiasm helps one to enjoy life. One can not attain the greatest success in any line of work unless one has enthusiasm. Enthusiasm enables one to overcome obstacles. Then carry on your enthusiasms of youth into your after life.

Many habits have been formed in high school that will be beneficial throughout life. Regularity and punctuality are two. In the business world these are indispensable assets. Your success will be in proportion to your strict observance of these two habits. Carry them on.

The high school should have taught you the meaning and necessity of hard work. In this day of keen competition and intense struggle for existence, hard work is a prime requisite. If you are afraid of hard work and diligent application then your prospects for success are indeed limited. Through hard work a person with only mediocre ability will succeed, while one with brilliant attainments without it will fail. Do not be afraid of hard work. If you do not have this habit, attain it. "Carry on."

Another thing you should have developed in high school is the power of concentration. How important is this factor in the preparation of lessons. It enables you to do in a short time what otherwise would require a long period of time to accomplish, or what would not be accomplished at all. Concentration enables one to save time. The most successful men in every calling of life have the habit of concentration. Thomas A. Edison is an example of what concentration means and will do. He has the ability to concentrate his mind and energy for days at a time on a single problem. This trait has made him the most successful inventor of all times. Whatever measure of this accomplishment you have, carry it on with you as you leave school.

You are to be congratulated on the success you have attained in school work. It means much to be graduated from high school. You are being graduated at an opportune time. It is a great privilege to be entering on one's life work in an age such as this. You are to be envied for the possibilities that are before you. There are many opportunities for young men and women of education who have the habits of hard work, of regularity and punctuality, who have enthusiasm for the work in which they are engaged and who have the power of concentration. It is to be hoped that the high school has given you these qualities.

It is a hard world into which you are going. It knows no favorites. What you make of life will depend on your own individual efforts. The world will soon learn to know you even better than you know yourself. Play the game fair and square.

We all say God-speed and may the greatest success be yours. "Carry on."

Chorus (2); Senior Play (4)
Latin Club (3-4); French Club (4)
Girls' Club (4); Ne-Ca-Hi Staff
History Editor Monitor (4)

Hannah is a dainty girl
With twinkling eyes so blue,
She always does as she is told,
To her friends she's always true.

Sidney Altschuler

Track (1-2-3-4); Class Basketball (2-3)
Hi-Y (3-4); Adelphic (3-4)
Science Club (4)

I'll venture that our Sidney
Late hours doth constantly keep,
For whenever we gaze upon him
In class, he's always asleep.

Nell E. Armstrong

Pinafore (1); Carnegie H. S. (3)
Commercial Club (4)

Nell is an interesting one,
We can't say she's a bore;
But when it comes to sentiments,
She loves the Soph'mores more.

Ruth Margaret Bigham

New Wilmington H. S. (1-2-3)
Science Club (4)

Little Ruth is a winsome lass
With lessons prepared for every class.

1919

Jesse Melvin Black

Commercial Club (4); Spanish Club (4)
Adelphic (4); Baseball (4)
Class Play (4)

Says Jesse Black to all the girls,
"Oh don't you wish you had my curls?"
Say all the girls—"I'd be in style,
If only I could have your smile."

Raymond Harold Boak

Science (4); Adelphic (4); Hi-Y (4)
"Midsummer Night's Dream" (4)

A future doctor, so they say,
We wish good luck along your way.

Earl Eugene Book

Hi-Y (3-4); Adelphic (3-4)
"Midsummer Night's Dream" (4)
Commercial Club (3); Class Prophet (4)

Stop! Listen! Look!
There's an argument arousing
From talkative Earl Book!

Helen Elizabeth Book

Girls' Club (4)
Science Club (4)

Snapping black eyes, oh Helen, have you,
And to the class you always were true.

NE-CA-HI

Rachael Evelyn Braunstein

Latin Club (1-2)
Commercial Club (1-2)
Science Club (1)

"Smile awhile," says Rachael;
"Smile awhile, til noon.
I haven't any lessons yet
But I will have them soon."

Elizabeth Piper Byers

Tennis Club (2-3-4); French Club (4)
Spanish Club (3-4); Girls' Club (2-3)
French Play (4); Vaudeville (3)
Librarian (4)

Faithful to our class
Is this president's queen,
But more faithful than ever
To memories of '18.

Science Club (3-4); Tennis Club (3-4)
Class Track (3); Rep. in A. S. A. (4)

"Now we have him, now we don't!"
Is all we have to say;
For little "Shrimp" is on the go,
Morning, night, and day.

Joseph Edward Canby

Hi-Y (1-2-3-4); Adelphic (2-3-4)
Science Club (3-4); Math. Club (3)
"Mice and Men" (3)
Track (3); Baseball (4)
Monitor Business Staff (4)

When there's a good time coming,
You can always count on "Ted."
The girls all wish to know just how,
He keeps his cheeks so red.

NE-CA-HI

Pearl Elizabeth Choens

Commercial Club (2); Latin Club (2)
Spanish Club (3), President (4)
Girls' Club (4); Science Club (4)
Representative of A. S. A. (4)

Be you ever so charming,
You can't charm like Pearl,
If you doubt my statement,
Just go and ask Earl.

Elsie Clark

Commercial Club (2-3-4)

Elsie is a quiet lass
But a true supporter of her class;
We wish her luck, when she graduates
And hope life gives her the best of fates.

Ralph Allen Cooper

Class President (4); Adelpheic (3-4)

"Midsummer Night's Dream" (4)
Business Staff Monitor and Ne-Ca-Hi (4)
Representative in A. S. A. (4)
Commercial Club (4)
Commencement Speaker

"Coop" has had an awful time,
To find the girl that he desires;
He's tried them all, but now we guess
He's found the one, her name is _____

Frances F. Cox

Commercial Club (4)

Frances has been our comrade,
Through four years of High School Life,
She's always bright and sunny,
And never seen in strife.

NE-CA-HI

1919

Mildred Imogene Davenport

Pinafore (1); Mikado (2)
Class Play (4); Girls' Club (3-4)
Commercial Club (4)
Class Basketball (4)

Who is that giggling
Back in study hall?
Well, we wouldn't say for sure,
But we'd guess Mildred, first of all.

Alice Margaret Dean

English Editor Monitor (4);
Ne-Ca-Hi Staff (4)
Class Basketball (1-2)

Through four years of High School life,
No one has ever seen
A frown upon your happy face
With its pleasant smile serene.

Joseph James Dockman

Hi-Y (3) Adelphic (2-3-4)
Commercial Club (2-3-4)

He'll climb the ladder to "Success,"
And future fame he'll gain, I guess,
Because he started right in school,
By studying his books and rule.

Earl William Dufford

Business Staff Monitor and Ne-Ca-Hi (4)
Hi-Y (3-4); Adelphic (4)
Class Basketball (4); Track (3)
Class Football (2-3)
Commercial Club Treas. (4)

Earl Dufford likes the Junior class,
He likes especially one lass
And even after trying others
He always goes again with "Brothers."

NE-CA-HI

1919

Adelaide Luella Earley

Art Editor Monitor and Ne-Ca-Hi (4)
Choir (2); Commercial Club (3)

"Ad" is quite an artist,
Just look around and see;
She has made the "Ne-Ca-Hi"
As pretty as could be.

Mary Lou Eckles

Class Basketball (1-2-3)
Varsity Basketball Manager (4)
Latin Club (3-4); Science Club (3)

Monitor Staff, Exchange Editor (4)
Representative A. S. A. (4)
French Play (4); Tennis Club (3-4)
Librarian (4)

Mary, Mary, you're not contrary,
Except when guarding in basketball;
And then your opponent, fight as she might.
She can't get around you at all.

Pearl James Ewens

"Pinafore" (1); Glee Club (2)
Monitor Staff (1-2-3); Class Play (3)
French Club (4); Class Poet
Winner D. A. R. Prize Essay (4)

A "Pearl without a price,"
Surely it is true,
When the literary genius
Burns so brightly in you.

Minnie Irene Federman

Latin Club (2); Commercial Club (3 4)
French Club (4); County Fair (3)

Always laughing, always gay,
Minnie goes upon her way;
Whether life be dark or light
Minnie's smile is always bright.

1919

Frances Nesbitt Fullerton

Mt. Jackson H. S. (1-2-3)
Science Club (4)

Big brown eyes and dark brown hair,
Truely 'tis a lass most fair;
She's been with us one year, no more,
We wish it might have been all four.

Florence Esther Geiger

Class Play (4)
French Club (4)

Florence Esther Geiger is her name,
And her sweetest smile has won her fame;
She showed that hard work surely does pay,
For she appeared in the Senior class play.

Mildred Katherine Gilliland

Spanish Club (3-4)
Commercial Club (3)

Mildred, with those eyes so blue,
To our class was always true:
And you sure know how to smile—
That's the thing worth your while.

Earl D. Graham

Hi-Y (2-3-4); Adelphic (3-4)
Commercial Club (2-3-4)
Class Play (4); Class Basketball (3)

"Variety is the spice of life,"
Is the motto by which Earl lives;
For a different girl to every dance—
But of course that's not my "biz."

NE-CA-HI

1919

Lena Green

Girls' Club (1-2-3), Secy. (4)
Class Basketball (2-3-4); Class Play (3)
Latin Club (2-4); French Club (4)
Class Note Editor Monitor-Ne-Ca-Hi (4)

Lena Green is never seen
Doing anything that's mean;
She is quite a helpful maid.
And we hope her joys ne'er fade.

Anabel Hall

Latin Club (2-3-4); French Club (4)
Science Club (4)

Rosy checked, plump, and jolly,
Smiling, friendly, and neat;
With ideals beyond comparison,
To know her sure is a treat.

Edmund Moore Hamilton

Spanish Club (4)

Edmund—the smallest of the boys,
Is very, very smart and never makes a noise.

Harriet Odetta Hodgkinson

Class Basketball (3), Varsity (4)
Girls' Club (3-4); "Mice and Men" (3)
Spanish Club (3), Treas. (4)
Monitor Staff (4) (Asst. Alumni Editor)

Odetta starred in basketball,
Because she was so quick and tall,
To all she was a friend so dear,
The school'll miss her much next year.

1919

Catherine Bailey Hodkinson

Peabody High School (1)
Class Basketball (3-4); Science Club (3)

Commencement Speaker

A student, conscientious and content,
Her time is never idly spent.

Dorothy Elizabeth Houk

Commercial Club (4)
Science Club (4)
Assistant Donor

Never was a maid so fair,
With such pretty eyes and hair;
Dorothy surely makes a hit
With the boys who have some grit.

Agnes Cordelia Howell

Science Club (1-3); Latin Club (2)
Commercial Club (3-4)
Monitor Staff, Commercial Editor (4)

A lively lass, with golden curls;
A favorite one, of all the girls.

Gertrude, may you ever be
 All along life's rugged ways,
 Just as happy and as free
 As you were in high school days.

Doris E. McBride

"Mikado" (2); French Club (4)
 School Chorus (2)

Here's to dear old Doris,
 She has friends in a bevy;
 The best of all, is fat and tall,
 To us he's known as "Heavy."

Mary Ann McCaskey

Science Club (4)

"Thou canst so well
 The virtues of our maidens tell;
 Half could I wish my choice had been
 Blue eyes, and hair of golden sheen."
 —Scott.

1919

Anna Florence McCormick

"Twig of Thorn" (3)
Commercial Club (2-3-4)

CLASS ORATION

BOLSHEVISM

By MARTIN S. WILKINSON

The thinking people of this country are becoming more alive every day to the spreading of Bolshevism. This is evidenced by the great number of both business and professional men who are making a special study of it. Not only this, but they are writing about it to enable the people to understand how widespread is this menace that is threatening the peace of the world. Virulent radicalism is sweeping all nations. It is a contagious and fatal disease growing from the unhealthy economic conditions left by the war.

It is time that all people should inoculate themselves against this deadly contagion. Without doubt, the most efficient way to do this is in the education of the masses.

The great mass of the people are not original. They simply echo the thoughts of the more educated people, and it is the duty of responsible people of this country to make clear to the masses the real conditions. This is probably the only qualified way of combating this menace.

That there is a great wave of dissatisfaction throughout the country is generally recognized. But let us look at the people who originated Bolshevism. As is quite well known, it was first started in Russia by the Germans. That alone should be sufficient to cause the people to recognize or at least look for falacies. Originally Germany's idea was to poison the mind of the Russian people against the allies. If they could do this it would be a very valuable asset to them. In their Russian propaganda they stated that the United States, France, and England were plotting together to get control of Russia and to divide it among themselves. To have a better line on this, Lenine and Trotsky were simply bought, although these are the recognized leaders, they are under the supervision of the German general staff, which was placed in Petrograd by the Imperial German government. What was done and is being done by these and their associates needs no telling except that today Russia is a ruined nation; and is in such a state of turmoil that, as a former member of the British Parliament says, "One shoots another thinking he may be his enemy and finds the dead man to be his brother. Princes, peasants, autocrats, rich, and poor all go down in the same mass of dirt and blood." Everything is ruined and destroyed even the churches, in which some very old and sacred antiquities were kept. As a Chinaman puts it who saw the churches being blown to pieces by Russian shells, "Russian, him very bad man, he fights against his own God." But all this is characteristic of imposed governments such as the Bolsheviks. The Bolshevik is a super-Hun. It is claimed that the crimes perpetrated on the Belgians and French are mild compared with those practiced by the Bolsheviks. There is nothing in the category of frightfulness unknown to them. One would like to believe that if these men were once Russians all consciousness of love of their country had been drained from their hearts before their subservience to those who are enemies of all things that are dear and sacred to Russia. Russia is a great field of magnetic Bolshevism whose lines of force extend to all parts of the world.

In Argentina for instance, great strikes there for some time paralyzed industry, until soldiers were able to arrest two thousand strikers of whom eighty percent were Bolshevik agitators. United States Secretary of Labor Wilson, declares that the chief object of the strikes that occurred in Seattle, Butte, Patterson, and Lawrence was to cause a general revolution in order to establish a soviet form of government in this country. Unheard of as this may seem, nevertheless it is a fact and must be considered. Government officials and labor bosses agree that all the radical movements in the country have found a common cause in Bolshevism, and that the I. W. W., anarchists, and Socialists, in fact, all the dissatisfied elements, particularly the foreign elements, are perfecting an amalgamation with one object and one only, and that the complete overthrow of the United States government and the establishment of a Bolshevik republic, if such a one could exist. Unbelievable as this may seem, the United States has a host of Bolshevik and Socialist agitators who are exerting all their powers to perfect their scheme.

Such slogans as these have been found in the United States mail: "The war is over, now for the revolution." "Every strike is a small revolution, and a dress rehearsal for the big one." These came from alleged revolutionary sources. Few people would believe that a large percent of the strikes in this country were the direct results of some branch of Bolshevism. Yet despite these repeated warnings the people do not realize the danger to which they are subjected. But being unprepared is no excuse. These people are being used as tools of a gang of blusterers. The men in their ranks have never held anything without wrecking it. They are purely destructionists. They are men who have never made a success of anything, who have failed utterly at everything, and who are the rankest kind of incompetents.

The Russian exponents of this plan think nothing of standing five hundred social democrats against the wall and shooting them before breakfast. Such things as these could not be countenanced by decent people. These people are extremists of the worst kind, and must be dealt with accordingly. Their work may be seen in all parts of the world. Even in this town they are working but they are under the surveillance of government men. The example that the Bolsheviki have set in Russia is enough to show its methods. There is no form of government on the face of the earth that can successfully operate under the direction of a gang of irresponsible, inhuman degenerates such as the Bolsheviki. From men who have made a thorough study of it, Bolshevism is found to be economically unsound, socially wrong and industrially it is an impossibility.

NE-CA-HI

By PAUL D. SHAFER

During the last decade many great and marvelous histories have been written concerning the wars and other events of the present day. The conclusion of the World War attracted much attention but of even more vital interest to us is the history of the eminent class of nineteen hundred and nineteen.

Early in September of the year Nineteen Hundred and Fifteen, the side walks fronting Reis Street and Lincoln Avenue were crowded with laughing children, although many knees were shaking because of thoughts of a new school, new teachers, new acquaintances and world-wise Sophomores. Many were the threats heard in the crowds of upper-classmen against "those green Freshies;" but we pressed forward, undaunted, upon the opening of the school doors. Once inside we were separated from friends, thrust into class-rooms containing strangers and severe looking teachers, and were given cards which meant nothing to us.

However, after a few weeks of rigorous discipline, we became accustomed to the ways of a student and forgetting former fears, we entered enthusiastically into all athletics and social doings. One of the most memorable events of our first year was the Senior-Freshman reception on October the eighth. This reception accomplished its purpose in getting the Freshmen better acquainted with the upper-classmen.

At the beginning of the second semester Mr. Thalman having noticed how sedate and serious we looked and recognizing our wonderful ability, permitted us to organize making our class the first Freshmen class to organize in four years. Those of us who had not succumbed to the flood of examinations, chose as our first president, Marvin Richael, under whose guidance we soon made a name for ourselves.

That year, the honor of the class of nineteen was upheld in basketball by both a boys' and a girls' team. The members of these, being quite inexperienced, improved this opportunity to gain all knowledge of the game possible.

In the fall of nineteen hundred and sixteen we re-entered school thoroughly aware of the fact that we were Sophomores. That year we selected William Lysle Newbury as our president and chose as our permanent colors, purple and white. We proved our ability in dramatics in the "Mikado;" we manifested our worth in literary standards by the names from our ranks that adorned the honor roll and we were well represented in all athletics.

NE-CA-HI

On the twenty-fourth of September, nineteen hundred and seventeen, we again took up our studies as wise Juniors with Don Eckles as our president. On December the fourteenth we successfully staged the play "Mice and Men", which was credited as one of the best amateur plays ever produced in the high school auditorium. It was this year that we, unblushingly took the pep out of Eighteen by defeating her football team against great odds, especially in weight.

This being our Junior year, all of our efforts were centered on the annual Junior-Senior banquet. In fact, we became so engrossed in our preparations that, on the day of this event we forgot to come to school and as a result we missed the next circus that came to town. This banquet was held at the Elk's Club and, as the usual banquet was not given on account of the war, a light luncheon was served. The chief amusement of the evening was dancing. At this party we did our best to give Eighteen the greatest social event of their school career.

On September the ninth, of the year nineteen hundred and eighteen, we returned to school, most of us for the last time and began our school work as earnest Seniors. As such, it was necessary for us to conduct ourselves in a manner that would make us worthy examples to the underclassmen. We chose as our president, Ralph "Agnes" Cooper to whose wise leadership we attribute much of the success of our final year. Owing to the epidemic of Spanish Influenza our last year in high school was badly broken. This, however, did not prevent us from striving to make this year the best of our high school course.

On November the twenty-second we gave a reception to the hundreds of "comrades in knowledge" who had joined our ranks in September. A short play entitled "The Coon Rehearsal" was given for their benefit and the remainder of the evening was devoted to getting acquainted.

On April the eleventh, the class of nineteen held its first real party at the Odd Fellows' Hall. The usual diversions were engaged in and light refreshments were served by the young ladies of the class.

The Senior play, "A Midsummer Night's Dream," was staged May the first and second with great success. With such players as Madeleine Nail, Helen Leslie, John McCormick and Floyd Yeager our class is well represented from a dramatic standpoint.

On "Senior Day" advice was given to the three lower classes which was of a most mature nature and which was greatly appreciated. Instead of the usual dinner for the faculty at noon, a picnic was held after which a dance was enjoyed.

From our ranks were drawn athletes for football, basketball, baseball, and track and next year the school will miss the services of Orr, Yeager, and Daniels not a little and it will be nearly impossible to fill the places of "Lib" Kirk and Mary Lou Eckles on the girls' basketball team. This year, in spite of Junior prophecies, our class basketball team won the class championship.

This year, "The Monitor", our school paper, under the editorship of "Lib" Kirk reached a height of perfection hitherto unattained.

NE-CA-HI

As a last great social event, a banquet was given the Class of Nineteen by the Class of Twenty. This was held at the Elk's Club and was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

This is the history of the class that is seated before you, the renowned class of Nineteen Hundred and Nineteen. This class has made a name for itself in the classroom, on the athletic field, on the gymnasium floor and on the stage.

We have done our best to live up to the ideals set forth to us as the real ideals and in our short term of four years in High School have tried to leave behind us a record which lives up to the school motto of "Nothing but the Best" and we hope to take this same motto out into the world or into college and by so doing leave there a record as fine as that of our high school years.

THE NEW STAR

By PEARL EWENS

As the purple twilight dims our brightest day,
 And the flowery world is enfold'd in dewy sleep,
 Sending to earth its silv'ry ray,
 A new star appears in that midnight deep—
 A tiny light 'neath the soft moon's sheen,
 A symbol of our class—'Nineteen!

Four years have quickly come and flown,
 Like winged birds—we know not where.
 We can proudly say no task's undone,
 Each and all of us have had our share.
 The hopes, happiness and honors we gain,
 For you, dear High School, will be proclaimed.

So now let us look at the vision
 As it stands confronting us all.
 Oh, Star, aid our decision
 To overcome what ill may befall,
 And to choose the road that will lead us
 From this path to the sign post—Success.

NE-CA-HI

We are not leaving our future life to fate,
But with our guiding star above
We are saying farewell to our classmates
And the dear old school that we love.
And though new faces in these halls are seen,
They'll ne'er forget us—the Class of 'Nineteen.

Oh Constellation, so clear and bright,
As you beam down upon the world,
Prudently guide our embryo light,
Let thy wisdom to it be unfurled.
Through the years that may come and more swiftly pass;
Intrusted to you are the hopes of our class.

By ROBERT M. TOLER

Be it hereby remembered that we, the Senior Class of 1919, of New Castle High School, in the County of Lawrence, and State of Pennsylvania, being of sound mind and judgment, do establish this to be our last Will and Testament, making null and void, all former Wills by us, at any time heretofore made.

FIRST: We do bequeath to the three under classes, and all who come after us, the building, grounds, and all the noble examples we have set forth. To the Faculty, we leave our heart-felt sympathy in their grief over the irreparable loss they will suffer by our departure.

SECOND: It is our desire that the following personal effects be disposed of in the stock market, the proceeds to be established as a fund to build a Junior High School:

From the estates of Ethel Ward, Harry Orr, and Norman Hunter, come several loaves of bread.

Harold Boak leaves a package of cigarettes.

Earl Book and Helen Book, leave a book entitled, "Books of Booker T. Washington."

Adelaide Earley offers a pamphlet on "Hairdressing."

Paul McGaffie bestows his soldier-suit.

Aubrey Morrison leaves several H. A. M.'(s) about the building.

Elizabeth Newell offers a book of excuses for those who come late.

From Lauren Thayer comes an antique violin.

Mary McCaskey leaves a gallon of molasses.

Elizabeth Kirk bequeaths her sunny disposition.

Marvin Limert Richael offers one pound of cheese.

From the estate of Ralph Byers comes a huge rat trap.

Madeline Nail offers a treatise on "The One Step."

THIRD: In loving memory the following are bestowed upon the persons herein named:

Hanna Agan leaves the part of the "old lady," in all plays to Gussie Owens.

NE-CA-HI

Susanna Wendt presents a pair of hair curlers to Camille Patterson.

Harold Lorraine Kildoo bestows some territory to Sophia Dobileck, Geneva Fleming, and Helena Burckhart.

Edmond Hamilton confers a pair of long trousers to James McCleary.

Merritt Mitchell leaves Herbert Lennox a bar of soap.

Earl Dufford, Paul Shafer, Edward Canby, and Ralph Cooper, leave Catherine Brothers, Imogene Gillespie, Opal Clark, and Edith Lockhart, respectively, in school—(at least we hope so.)

Leonard Stutz leaves a bottle of liniment to Dallas Sloan.

Donald Rigby gives the privilege of getting Monitor "Ads" to John Barnes.

Floyd Yeager leaves his new derby to Ralph Gardner.

Homer Weitz leaves some chops to Frazier Lamb.

John Wilson bestows his winning ways to Frederick Moser.

Jesse Black allots his store of fancy collars and ties to Keith Wilson.

Sidney Altschuler proffers a course in Basketball to James Barrett.

Lysle Newbury bestows a supply of sweet simplicity to Paul Wilson.

Alice Dean leaves several works of art to the school.

Joseph Dockman gives his place on the honor roll to William Newell.

Martin Wilkison's laugh is bestowed upon Lee Smith.

Earl Rigby falls heir to George Sand's skill in playing billiards.

John McCormick gives his melodious voice to Keith Van Fossen.

Annabel Hall wills her smile to Marion Hayden.

Helen Leslie leaves her heart in the Sophomore class.

Frances Fullerton bequeaths a couple of tons to Charles Nesbitt.

Marion Marchand leaves his reservedness to William Eckles.

Gurth Rapson wills some pep to Arthur Reese.

Francis Kissinger bestows the position as pianist to Joseph Moore.

Ruth Bigham leaves her dimples to Jane Smith.

Elizabeth Byers bestows her gracefulness on Leila Wilson.

Elsie Clark bequeaths her dark eyes to Kathryn Matheny.

Jane Agnes Phillips' frivolity reverts to Margaret Hice.

Dorothy Houk proffers Cathrine Hite some vitalizer.

Elva Sowash bestows Joseph Stritmater some good advise concerning the "wild, wild wimmen."

Clifford, Lewis, and Kenneth Williams bestow some of their experience upon George, John, and Stanley Davis.

Mae Wendt gives her innocent expression to Agnes Toler.

Esther McKibben becomes heir to Gladys Snyder's weariness.

Fannie Moresky bequeaths some restraint to Sara Weinschenk.

Earl Graham leaves his beaming countenance to Charlotte Webb.

Lucile Nesbitt allots her place on the honor roll to Sara Falls.

Mary Lou Eckles leaves part of the basketball floor to Katherine Wilkinson while playing.

Nell Armstrong delivers a fine assortment of face powders to Betty Courtney.

Francès Cox wishes the song "Smiles" bestowed upon Adelaide Rigby.

Glenn Throop wishes Mary Blackford to land a man.

Florence Zehner leaves some good advice to Edna Bauman and Martha Lavarack.

Adelaide Wellendorf bequeaths her hilarity to Elizabeth Zahnizer.

Martha Triplett wills her hair for use in physics experiments.

Marion Thompson's smile reverts to May Powell.

From Rachael Braunstein comes clean shelves in the science lecture room.

Catherine Hodkinson leaves a copy of "Meow" to Cathrine Hunter.

Pearl Choens wishes her best regards to be taken care of by Margaret Leslie.

Earl Ruby bequeaths his good looks to Charles Sankey.

John Skuba leaves some excellent recitations in English to the most aspiring Junior.

Mildred Gilliland bequeaths some smiles to Wilhelmina Nothdurft.

John Morris bequeaths his ability to sleep in class to Carl Bradley.

Eleanor Moore leaves some of her energy for preparing lessons to all erring Juniors.

Mildred Davenport confers her speed at 8:40 A. M. to those in dire circumstances.

Lena Green grants her smiles to the highest bidding Junior.

Pearl Ewens transmits her position as story writer to Elizabeth Parker.

From Doris McBride's estate comes the ability to restrain oneself—to be used by all Juniors.

Percy Dale Mitchell bequests his numerous friends to Harlow Clarke.

Gertrude Levine leaves Cornela Gilkey a book entitled "How to Be Happy, Though Fat."

Florence McCormick gives her determination to Ida Plant.

Charlotte Sadler confers many odes on coquetry to Madolin Craig.

Minnie Federman bequeaths her brilliancy to Elsie Mirick.

Florence Geiger leaves some notes on Public Speaking to the wayward Juniors.

Odetta Hodgkinson gives her basketball suit to Molly Barber for use when overexerting herself.

Agnes Howell bequeaths a gentle smile on Mildred Lundy.

Lula Kivine leaves some hair dye to Ruth McCaskey.

By EARL BOOK

During the war poisonous gases were used to a great advantage on both sides and now as the war is over you may wonder to what uses these gases may be put. For they are still manufactured to a lesser extent in remote places of which you know nothing. Very few people know of the location of these factories but I happen to be a very close friend of the owner of one of these plants, interested in the manufacture of these gases. Being very much in his confidence I learned by chance from him one day that these gases have led to the discovery of other gases possessed of remarkable influence on the mind. At the time he dropped this hint I instantly thought of my task as prophet for the Class of 1919. I explained my need for a glimpse into the future to this gas expert. He at once swore me to absolute secrecy and proceeded to explain the properties of a newly discovered gas, promising that if I should submit to the administration of a dose of it, the future would at once become an open book wherein might be read the future of my classmates.

We all know that science has performed feats in the last war that seem almost impossibilities. I do not know whether this gas really had the power to reveal the future as it shall be or whether the experience upon which I entered was a dream or a veritable revelation. But greater improbabilities have come to pass and all we can do is to wait and see—time will tell.

At any rate the gas was administered and what followed becomes the subject of my narrative. After undergoing the terrible sensation of falling into a bottomless pit I seemed to regain consciousness. We seemed to be living in an age of electricity and science. The common means of transportation were airships. I was aboard a large ship of the dirigible type preparing for a transcontinental trip.

I discovered the pilot in charge of the ship to be a former member of the illustrious class of '19, George Sands. He informed me that several of our former class mates were on board, for this trip. He took me around with him on his daily inspection trip, and the first persons whom I saw were John Wilson and Glenn Throop busily engaged in swabbing up deck.

We passed through the state room halls where I saw a porter whom I recognized as Lewis Williams. Under his arm was a bundle of candy boxes which he told me were addressed to Jane Agnes Phillips. A chamber maid was following him, Mary McCaskey, who took care of the dresses of the chorus girls of the ship vaudeville troupe. He next took me to the kitchen where I met the chef, Harry Orr and his two assistants,

Doris McBride and Odetta Hodgkinson. Among the waitresses gossiping in the kitchen were Elsie Clarke, Jennette Snyder, and Fanny Moresky.

We next went to the upper deck to the billiard rooms where I saw Earl Ruby and Arthur Rigby playing pea-pool and smoking cigarettes. Helen Book was in charge of the room racking up the balls. Pilot Sands took me to his cabin where he told me that this was the first trip for this airship and that it had many new devices which he believed would prove quite successful. He also told me that Syd. Altshuler was the inventor of these new devices. Syd got his first fame in the airship business during the Liberty Loan Parades in New Castle.

That evening a ball was given, the proceeds to go to the aid of an Old Maid's Home where some of our former class mates resided, Adelaide Wellendorf, Mae Wendt, Mildred Davenport, Marian Thompson and Elva Sowash. The music was furnished by a jazz orchestra, the leader being Professor Lauren Thayer with his famous violin. Two of the most noticeable dancers on the floor were Earl Graham and Adelaide Early.

Tiring of watching the ball I wandered to another part of the ship to where a show was in progress. The first act was composed of "movies," the main feature of it being a vampire reel featuring "Theda Bara of the Age," Gladys Snyder. The next act was composed of Aubrey Morrison's Dazzling Beauties. The chorus girls were Hannah Agan, Francis Cox, Alice Dean, Florence Zehner, Anabel Hall and Lucile Nesbitt. The comedians in the show were John McCormick as the Irishman, Aubrey Morrison as the "Jew," and Bob Toler as the "Negro."

On the way back to my stateroom I saw in the moonlight, Lysle Newbury and Elizabeth Kirk sitting in one chair, deeply engrossed in a conversation from which interesting results seemed likely to come.

The next day we heard a crowd cheering in one of the salons, then we heard the sarcastic tone of the famous orator, M. S. Wilkinson, raised against the evils of poolrooms. Among some of the most interested listeners were Marvin Richael and Kenneth Williams, who, Pilot Sands told me, were devoted to various lines of social betterment. By this time we were nearing Chicago and learned that we were to remain there several hours. I decided to visit Joe Dockman, one of the most prominent lawyers of the day and a resident of that city. I went to his office and he was cordial in his greetings. I needed no introduction to a client of his who happened to be in the office at the time, Ralph Cooper. He had just purchased a farm on the outskirts of Chicago where he and Elizabeth (Byers) were going to settle down to hard, manual labor and lead a simple life.

After I left his office I was almost knocked down by a big National car of the latest model being driven recklessly down the street by a young lady whom I recognized as a classmate, her maiden name having been Nell Armstrong. As we were about to leave Chicago my attention was called to a crowd listening to a candidate for President of the United States on the wet ticket, Jesse Black. Ruth Bigham, I was told, was running against him. Mildred Gilliland and Pearl Ewens had promised Jesse their united support.

That night aboard our airship we were entertained by a boxing match staged by two heavyweight champions of the world, Edmond Hamilton and Harvey Suosio. The next day, we stopped at Salt Lake City where we heard the greatest evangelist in the country, Rev. Gurth W. Rapson. He had with him some of the most noted musicians in the world. A quartet composed of Ed. Canby, Earl Dufford, Harold Boak and Leonard Stutz, accompanied on the piano by Francis Kissinger, who made even more motions with his head and hands than he did in the days when he figured in H. S. orchestra. Later that night I met Ralph Byers, who I learned had become a Mormon in order to make up for time lost in his high school days. He told me the first two wives had been Madeleine Nail and Jane Agnes Phillips who had made it so interesting for him that he had decided that the more the merrier. He said that his wives helped keep him, Madeleine by teaching vocal lessons to a group that just arrived from South Africa and Jane by the sale of her old candy boxes.

The next day as we were sailing very fast we had motor trouble and had to light quickly. Some were a little shaken up, so we called a doctor. He arrived bringing a Red Cross ambulance and nurse. The driver of the Ford ambulance was Lena Green so none thought ourselves hurt enough to ride back in her jolting car. When P. Dale Mitchell saw the beautiful Red Cross nurse who accompanied the ambulance, he developed a sudden illness. As the nurse, Mary Lou Eckles, bent over him to administer restoratives, he looked up smilingly and wonderingly into her beautiful eyes and seemed so contented that someone in the crowd said "P. D. M."

On the arrival of a big, rough, western surgeon, Dr. Yeager, Dale soon got better. But one of the beautiful young ladies, Mrs. Helen Leslie Shaffer who was on her way to Arizona, to join her husband, Paul Shaffer, had her ankle bruised, but Dr. Yeager assured her that he would care for it tenderly and that it would be allright soon. This was the extent of our injuries and our mechanics, John Morris and Clifford Williams told us that the motor would soon be repaired, so we took a little trip to a nearby ranch. When we asked who the owner was we were told that it was Harold Kildoo who had become a rough, burly westerner, and had married Dorothy Houk. They told us that Norman Hunter was living with them but he had become demented over an affair of the heart. We were very much interested in the sights about the ranch, but our machine was ready and we must hurry on to Arizona—Helen was anxious about Paul.

We stopped in Arizona to let Helen off. Paul Shaffer and Homer Weitz were mining engineers hard at work trying to mine silver in the cactus deserts of Arizona. We met Zek McGaffie touring the country with his wife Eleanor Moore, in the interest of Woman Suffrage.

Our journey ended next day at San Francisco where Aubrey Morrison lost another of his dancing girls, as Merrit Mitchell, a scientist starving in his vain efforts to invent a gas to control women's tongues, came along and took his Anabell (Hall).

I met an old friend, Don Rigby, who had become a noted philosopher. This was not strange because Don was a deep thinker and a student of books in his school days. I asked him about some of our other class mates. He told me that Ethel Ward was the wife of a sailor and was traveling in the Arctic Ocean. He also told me that Florence Geiger was a noted toe-dancer of the Hawaiian style, even surpassing the Hawaiians themselves. He said that Elizabeth Newell had followed her father's footsteps and became mayoress of a city in Panama and was putting a heavy fine on people caught snowballing. I next asked him if he had heard anything about Martha Triplett lately and he told me that she had been happily married to Marion Marchand and that he was the proud father of "triplets." He said that some of the girls who had liked school so well hated to leave it, so had become teachers. Among these were Francis Fullerton, Minnie Federman and Agnes Howell. Lula Kevine and Gertrude Levine, whom we thought were bashful girls, were traveling with a circus.

He further called my attention to a society column in the leading 'Frisco daily where there appeared the name of Vincenzo Prioletti, who had figured prominently in a fashionable ball given the night before. I wondered whether his apparent popularity with the ladies might be explained by his year's training as the one boy in the Vergil class of N. C. H. S.

Late that afternoon Don led me to a beautiful building. I found myself in a handsomely appointed room. Beautiful, stylishly gowned ladies sat waiting their turns for the attention of one whom I recognized as Rachel Braunstein. She was giving those ladies the benefit of a talent she had developed during her school days, the art of hair-dressing.

Towards evening we went to a large academy of music. Several musicians played and were moderately applauded. Then a girl whom I immediately recognized as Susanna Wendt came out. Her appearance was the signal for a wild outburst of applause. When the audience had quieted down, she played with an exquisite interpretation and expression that balks description. A shower of bouquets covered the stage when she had finished. On the program she was described as "the world's greatest musician."

John Skuba who was famous in Science in his high school days, was seen at work trying to discover still more wonderful results from gases than had ever before been heard of.

My guide told me of noticing in the morning paper the arrest of a former member of our class, Catherine Hodkinson, for being a leader in I. W. W. movements. She had made a speech in favor of the Bolsheviks, who were getting a strong foothold in the country.

I suddenly came out of my sleep and found myself lying on a couch in a laboratory. My friend was bending over me, telling me that we must hurry in order to catch the train to be back in New Castle for class night. So we hurriedly left the building, caught the train and I am here as you see, and have foretold to you the future of this wonderful class, as it was revealed to me.

THE SENIORS' FAREWELL

Now is the time for us to bid fond farewell to those whom we leave behind to pursue knowledge. In one sense, these adieux arouse regret and sorrow in our hearts for we will mourn over our absence from the Alma Mater. The good times, the pleasant memories, and the rich friendships that we have had in dear old Ne-Ca-Hi will always remain with us wherever we may wander over this earth's vast expanse. It is sad because it is over.

But in another sense, it is just beginning! The word "commencement" signifies it; "graduation" literally means progress. We have completed one cycle of our little lives, and now stand ready to enter upon a larger and better one. Our four years of preparation in high school have merely fashioned and trained us more fully so that we might be able to enter this larger phase of life with broader and more developed minds, with characters more sensitive to the wants of humanity, and with the willing desire to fit ourselves to fill those wants.

To you who remain we say goodbye. In you we place all our hopes of making our school bigger and better. In you we place our confidence. We know that you can fill our places perhaps better than we did, and we earnestly plead with you to make your school mean something to you. It gives you its best, you must give it your best.

ARE THERE TOO MANY ACTIVITIES IN OUR HIGH SCHOOL

The criticism has been made, and we have all heard it, that "there's too much doing at high school. My John goes to all the clubs, practices with all the athletic teams, gets home just in time for supper and then if there isn't any play practice or committee meeting or club party, he spends his time on his books. It isn't that he loafs all the time, but somehow his monthly grades are appallingly low."

Are there too many activities in our high school? There are the departmental clubs, such as French club, Latin club, Commercial club, there are the athletic teams, there are the Y. M. and the Y. W. clubs, and various other organizations, to say nothing of the "extras," such as class plays and special committees. A student may participate in as many of these as he wishes however, the new student government regulations, which will probably become effective next year, will restrict the number somewhat. But the school could not exist without them. They relieve the monotony of the otherwise lifeless grind. They excite school loyalty and class spirit. They constitute the play and enjoyment of school life. They strive to balance studious labor. But there can be such a state in which they outweigh the books, just as the inferior is sometimes valued more than the superior. After all we must consider for what purpose our high school was built, why the citizens of New Castle were taxed in order that a splendid and adequate institution of learning might be constructed. Are we losing sight of this high and ideal purpose in our excitement to busy ourselves to too great an extent in the essential but not fundamental phases of our school life?

To you who remain, we Seniors, take this opportunity to gently advise you that not too much of one, nor too much of the other will bring the best results, but we leave it to your able judgment and put our trust in you that you do not become so excessively engrossed in the activities of the school that you live solely for them and lose sight of the real goal of a high school education.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

This year our principal, Mr. Orth, laid out plans for an organization through which the student body could govern itself. It is made up of three branches: a House of Representatives, composed of the chief executive officer or officers of each activity; a Senate, composed of two student members elected by the House, and two faculty members appointed by the principal, who himself constitutes the fifth member; and a council of Faculty Advisors elected by the faculty themselves.

The first two organized and elected officers about the middle of the year and then because of lack of something definite to do interest lagged and not much action was taken.

Why did interest lag? Why did this organization fail to accomplish anything? Surely not because there was no need of its services. If properly managed and directed an organization of this kind could work wonders in any school. By letting students shoulder some of the responsibility which they usually force others to bear for them, and to make them look out for themselves teaches independence and reliability. Would not the student body be more likely to have greater interest in reforms and regulations which it makes itself through its representatives? Would not the too numerous cases of tardiness decline if the student body inflicted its own punishment? Would not the habit of defacing school property fall into decay if the student felt that he was a part of the whole system and could indirectly have control over himself for the betterment of the school?

All these questions remain yet to be solved. The results of student government have yet to be seen after that plan has been given a fair chance. But we, the Senior class, desire nothing better than to see in the future, when we revisit our Alma Mater, a definite, active and well-organized system of student government in practice.

THE JUNIOR CLASS

CLASS OF NINETEEN HUNDRED TWENTY

Our Junior year, so filled with the thrills and pleasures of an upper classman, draws near its close. So pleasant are the memories of the good times we have had this term that we are indeed glad it is not our last year in beloved Ne-Ca-Hi.

We are a lively set; may I say, this is noticeable of the girls especially. Our girls' basketball team won the championship last year and again this year although we had given a number of our best players to the varsity. Although the boys failed to win the cup they played well and lost gamely.

Surely a Junior class never set a better example for lower classmen than the Class of 1920 in sports, in studies, and in society.

April 16, a dance was held at the I. O. O. F. hall and every one had one jolly good time.

The crowning events of the year were the Junior-Senior banquet and the Junior play, entitled "A Chinese Honeymoon."

The officers of the class have been:

Treasurer .....	Earl Rigby

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS

CLASS OF NINETEEN HUNDRED TWENTY-ONE

As the sun rose majestically over the hilltops, on one bright morning in the autumn of '17, it heralded the coming of the Class of '21, and on that same morning Mr. Orth seated himself at the office desk to assume for the first time, the duties of the principalship.

Despite some few petty trials and tribulations, our Freshman year was a success. All school activities and especially athletics were faithfully supported by the class. We made our debut in society at a dance given at Cascade Park.

Our Sophomore year has been an undoubted success. Many brilliant stars have been added to the roster of our high school athletes and others glimmering faintly on the horizon will very likely be seen more clearly next year. If there is doubt in anyone's mind as to the learning and wisdom which we have absorbed during our sojourn in Ne-Ca-Hi, let him consult the oracle called the "Honor Roll."

In memory of those from the high school who fought and died in France to save Democracy, each class has planted two trees.

If the trees planted by the Class of '21 flourish as well as the class for which they stand, then indeed they will hold their heads proudly in the air, undaunted by the storms which will blow through their branches, in the years to come.

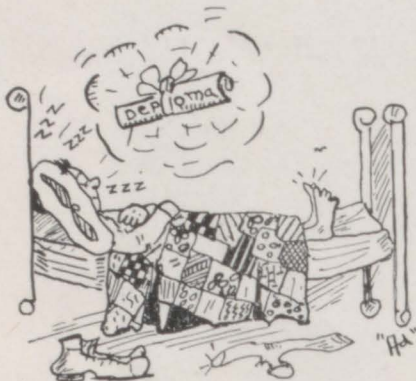

The last important event of the year will be a party, with which we shall celebrate the close of this, our second successful year in these fair halls of renown.

And now with the sun dial pointing past the noon of our high school career, we hope that Dame Fortune will smile even more favorably on us next year.

The class officers for this year are:

President .....	Tom Lamoree
Vice-President .....	Dorothae Fleming
Secretary .....	Margaret Byers
Cheer Leader .....	Thornton Allen

THE FRESHMAN CLASS

CLASS OF NINETEEN HUNDRED TWENTY-TWO

We, the very verdant class of 1922, entered this grand institution last September, four hundred and forty strong. For various reasons our numbers have slightly decreased, but we have been an important factor in high school life.

Socially, we did not do much this year. We appreciated decidedly however, the enthusiastic reception given in our honor by our upper classmates, the Seniors, in the early part of the term.

Athletically, we have supported our dear school loyally. We attended the games and furnished material for the teams. One of our number, Toley Bevan, received a varsity letter for football, while still others received reserve letters.

As a whole we feel that we have been successful this year and we eagerly await our future in which we will strive along with the other classes to better our school and to live up to its motto, "Nothing But The Best."

Those whom we elected to guide us through our first year in these fair halls are:

President .....	Charles Dart
Vice-President .....	Harry McClintock
Treasurer .....	John Ray
Secretary .....	John Sweeney
Cheer Leader .....	Dossie King

CAST OF "MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM"

THE SENIOR CLASS PLAY

"A Midsummer Night's Dream," the fourth Shakespearian play to be given in New Castle High School, was presented by the Class of 1919 on April 30 and May 2, under the able direction of Miss Clara Hartsuff, Miss Bernice Frey, and Miss Mary VanDivort. The scenery was in charge of Miss Margaret Thompson, head of the Art Department.

The misunderstandings of the lovers were cleverly brought about by Oberon and his mischievous messenger, Puck, who, finally seeing what harm was being done, righted the mistakes and brought them together to live happily ever after. The mechanicals enlivened the scenes, making a comedy of what might have been otherwise a tragedy.

CAST OF "A CHINESE HONEYMOON"

"A CHINESE HONEYMOON"

As is the custom, the Junior class put on a class play. The one selected was "A Chinese Honeymoon," a modern musical comedy.

The plot was good and the music catchy and although late in starting, the work was taken up in earnest and the play progressed rapidly. Under the direction of Miss Hazel Williams, dramatic coach, and Carroll P. Kearns, musical director, the production was a tremendous success.

The plot was laid in China where Mr. and Mrs. Pineapple, from England, were sojourning on their honeymoon. Tom Heatherton, nephew of Mr. Pineapple was also in China and had fallen deeply in love with Soo Soo, niece of the Emperor. After many misunderstandings and complications the play ended happily for all.

THE ORCHESTRA

THE ORCHESTRA

The High School Orchestra in this, its fifth year of existence has been larger than ever before. Under the able management of Mr. E. F. Kurtz, a violinist of prominence, the orchestra has been one of the successful features of the school for several years. It would have been an even more prominent organization this year if the "flu" ban had not interfered with its work. It was because of this that the orchestra did not give a concert as has been their custom in past years. The orchestra meets for practice every Monday afternoon.

THE HI-Y CLUB

HI-Y CLUB

The Hi-Y Club like all other school activities, has been greatly handicapped this year. The first "flu ban" went into effect just as plans were being made to start the club for the year and no definite organization was made until after the Christmas vacation. Meetings were held regularly, once a week, from that time to the last of March, in the Y. M. C. A. banquet room or the high school cafeteria.

The club has been fortunate in hearing many good speakers from whose interesting and enlightening talks much benefit has been derived. The organization owes the securing of these speakers and the great success of the Hi-Y as a whole, to Mr. Patterson, secretary of the Boys' Department of the Y. M. C. A.

The following officers, under whose guidance the club was managed this year are:

President .....	Paul Shafer
Vice-President .....	Joseph Stritmater
Secretary .....	Lysle Newbury
Treasurer .....	Robert Whaley
Cheer Leader .....	Don Rigby

THE GIRLS' CLUB

GIRLS' CLUB

The High School Girls' Club has had a very profitable and enjoyable year. We have tried to make everyone at some time bear some responsibility and in this way have aroused more interest in the work. We have endeavored to make our programs not only interesting but also practical, for instance, we have had an address on "Books," and another on "Clothes." Not the least of our activities has been the raising of money with which we will send delegates to the High School Girls' Conference where new ideas will be gotten for the great benefit of next year's club. We have not had an altogether smooth and easy time throughout the year for the "flu" epidemic has hindered our club just as it has all other activities. Notwithstanding this, the year has been quite a success, and we are sure every member has obtained some good from our work.

The officers for this year are:

President .....	Elizabeth Kirk
Vice-President .....	Catherine Hodkinson
Secretary .....	Lena Green
Treasurer .....	Wilhelmina Nothdurft

THE ADELPHIC LITERARY SOCIETY

ADELPHIC LITERARY SOCIETY

Another year has been added to the history of the Adelphic Literary Society, one of the oldest organizations in the school. The Society has endeavored to live up to the high standard set in other years.

The membership of the club this year reached a height never attained in past years. It was made up chiefly of Juniors and Seniors, with a few Sophomores the last semester.

The purpose of the organization has been to teach and practice parliamentary law and to forward and develop the art of public speaking. The club owes much of its success of the past year to Miss Hazel Williams who acted as faculty advisor.

THE SPANISH CLUB

SPANISH CLUB

One of the newest and most interesting organizations in our High School is the Spanish Club. The club has just completed its second year under the able supervision of Miss Bedford. Its weekly meetings have included short business sessions followed by special programs. These programs have been of great benefit to the Spanish students, enabling them to express their thoughts in Spanish.

The Club has been carried on this year by the second year class composed mostly of Seniors, who feel very proud that they have had a part in the successful year of this club. Their sincere wish is that next year the remaining students may achieve greater things, and have a larger and better organization. Officers:

President .....	Pearl Choens
Vice-President .....	Harvey Suosio
Secretary .....	Elva Sowash
Treasurer .....	Odetta Hodgkinson

THE LATIN CLUB

THE LATIN CLUB

The "Old Romans" of Ne-Ca-Hi have completed an unusually successful term in their organization, the Latin Club. The purpose of this club is to increase interest in the study of Latin in the lower classes although much benefit is received by the upper classmen.

Two interesting features of the programs carried out by the Latin Club members were the serial presentation and explanation of Roman names, and the learning of famous Latin songs.

The enrollment this year shows ninety-three members whose hearty response and regular attendance at all meetings justifies the Latin Club in regarding itself as the most successful department organization in the school.

SCIENCE CLUB

This year the Science Club was reorganized under the able supervision of Mr. C. E. Baer. All High School students who have studied any scientific subjects are eligible, and there are now listed among our ranks ninety members. The meetings are held the second Friday of every month, the third period, in the auditorium. On account of the several enforced vacations it has been impossible to take the usual trips to places of interest this year.

At the first meeting of the club the general plans for the year were discussed and the following officers were elected:

President ..... Lysle Newbury
 Vice-President ..... Howard Richards
 Secretary ..... Elizabeth Newell
 Treasurer ..... Esther McClintock
 Committee on Arrangements—Arthur Reese, Merritt Mitchell, Mary Blackford, Mary McCaskey, William Newell.

The second meeting of the club was held February 14, at which time the following sciences were explained:

Household Chemistry, Genevieve Fleming.
 Zoology, Ellis Diefendorfer.
 Physics, Robert Toler

THE SCIENCE CLUB

THE FRENCH CLUB

THE FRENCH CLUB

During the school term of last year it was decided to organize a French Club. The first members were those of the second year French class. Near the close of the year five French I members were taken in, so that they would be able to start the club the coming year.

The French Club has been greatly hindered this year on account of the "flu" epidemic. At the second meeting it was decided to enlarge the Club, adding to it those of the French I and French II classes holding a certain average.

The Club has endeavored to have an interesting as well as an instructive program at each meeting. We feel that the French Society is doing a good work and hope it may be continued during the coming years.

The officers for this year have been:

Catherine Hodkinson .....	President
Mary Lou Eckles .....	Secretary

THE COMMERCIAL CLUB

COMMERCIAL ACTIVITIES

With Mr. Clark as director and faculty supervisor, the Commercial Club has just completed an interesting and active year.

The first meeting was held on Jan. 3, 1919 in the auditorium. It was composed almost entirely of old members, who discussed plans for the year and elected the following officers:

President .....	Madeline Nail
Vice-President .....	Lottie Sadler
Secretary .....	Beatrice Gaston
Treasurer .....	Earl Dufford
Sergeant-at-Arms .....	Jean Yingling

President ..... Madeleine Nail
 arranged by the entertainment committee with Thorton Allen as chairman.

We feel that the Commercial Club has been a decided success this year, all owing to the hearty co-operation it has received from the members of the Commercial Department, and we hope that the remaining members will be so well pleased with the products of this year's work, that they will carry on their interest and enthusiasm, and make next year's club finer and even better than this.

THE REPRESENTATIVES OF THE A. S. A.

THE REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STUDENT ACTIVITIES

With every student a member of the Associated Student Activities Association and the students electing their own officers in the various organizations, this group composed of the chief officer or officers of each activity is logically named the House of Representatives of the A. S. A. It represents the student body, and also the faculty through two of its members elected by the group, and forms a medium between both for the betterment of the school.

The officers for the past year are:

President .....	Floyd Yeager
Vice-President .....	Tom Lamoree
Secretary .....	Charles Dart
Ass't Secretary .....	Robert Whaley

THE STUDENT SENATE

Standing—MR. LEMMON, MR. ORTH, MISS VANDIVORT
Sitting—E. KIRK, P. WILSON.

THE STUDENT SENATE

This branch of the Student Associated Activities was organized in the latter part of the year but saw no really active service. However, under the constitution of the Association it has an extensive field in which to work and through which it can accomplish much to better the school. It is hoped that the school will find more use for this group next year in carrying out the plan of self-government.

The officers this year were:

President .....	Paul Wilson
Vice-President .....	Elizabeth Kirk
Secretary .....	Mr. Lemmon

SUMMARY OF ATHLETICS FOR '18-'19

Athletics at Ne-Ca-Hi have enjoyed a very successful year, both from a playing and a financial standpoint.

Although the football season was badly broken up by the influenza epidemic, we were able to play six games, only one of which was lost. The boys at all times showed the proper fighting spirit and "pep", never at any time letting up until the final whistle. They played their best game against Salem, Ohio, running over them twenty-two to nothing.

In basketball we had one of the best teams in the history of the school. Starting with practically a green team we kept advancing until in the final game of the season against New Brighton we showed class equal to that of any team in the league. The bright spots in the season's play were the victories over Butler (the first in the school's history), Beaver Falls, and New Brighton.

The final standing showed us in third place which we succeeded in taking by winning four of the last five games played.

We also landed second place in the Industrial league, winning twelve out of fourteen games.

This spring baseball and track are being put on a "varsity" basis again and we hope to lay a foundation for teams which another year should take an equal rank with those produced in football and basketball.

Interclass athletics also play an important part in the school's activities many of the "varsity" men getting their first training here.

The basketball league this year enjoyed one of the most exciting races yet held and it was only after a great struggle that the Freshmen and Sophomore teams were eliminated and that the Seniors conquered the Juniors in the final series.

A class baseball schedule is being played and thus far the teams seem very evenly matched. The interclass track meet is to be held during the middle of May and a great deal of promising material has shown up for practice.

The teams this year have worked under one handicap however; and that has been lack of sufficient "scrub" material. There are many fine athletes in school that never go near the football field or the basketball floor and you are the ones we need next year. If you have the time and the ability it is a part of your school duty to come out and help keep New Castle High School in the front rank.

FOOTBALL SEASON 1918

Our football season this year was badly broken up by the various influenza bans which were put on about every other week. Yeager, who played right end, was a shining light all season, and made many of our points. "Heavy" Orr the captain, played a good game in the line, while the whole team played well most of the time. The games and scores were as follows:

BASKETBALL SCORES AND STATISTICS

Our basketball season this year has been more successful than last year's season. We were defeated only once on our own floor, and but twice in the Industrial League, in which our team was a member. In the W. P. I. A. League we came out about third place, which is doing good when we consider the teams representing Bellevue, Butler, and Beaver Falls in the league this year. The League games and the scores were as follows:

	N. C. H. S.	Opponents
Butler (at Butler) .....	16	46
Beaver Falls (at Beaver Falls) .....	22	40
Butler (here) .....	40	38
Bellevue (here) .....	23	37
Bellevue (at Bellevue) .....	27	28
Beaver Falls (here) .....	27	16
Avalon (here) .....	42	20
New Brighton (at New Brighton)...	26	34
Avalon (at Avalon) .....	39	30
New Brighton (here) .....	44	20
Totals .....	306	300

The other games we played outside the League, and not in the Industrial League were as follows:

Farrell (at Farrell) .....	32	28
Alumni .....	31	27
Elyria (here) .....	46	15
Ellwood City (here) .....	42	9
Mercer (here) .....	28	16
Niles (at Niles) .....	36	43
Totals .....	215	138

The last game on the list with Niles, O., the champion of the state of Ohio, was scheduled to test our skill against the best in other leagues, and we showed up pretty well, considering that we were playing on a strange floor and not an extra good one at that, and against the best team of Ohio in the high school class.

In the Industrial League, we were the second of the three real contenders for the cup, and were second only to the best team in New Castle, the Carnegie Steel Mill Team. Shenango Tin Mill was the third contender for the cup, but they never succeeded in beating us, even though they came near it one game when we won 22 to 21. The total scores for the League were as follows:

Total for N. C. H. S. 587—Opponents 292.

The only defeats we suffered were two by Carnegie, one by the score of 36 to 20, and the second 53 to 23, the last game in the league.

The total number of points made by N. C. H. S. and by her opponents during the season was as follows: N. C. H. S. 1108—Opponents 730.

THE GIRLS' VARSITY BASKETBALL TEAM

E. KIRK, Capt., M. L. ECKLES, O. HODGKINSON, M. NAIL, I. GILLESPIE, J. SMITH, K. MATHENY, E. LOCKHART.

GIRLS' VARSITY BASKETBALL

The girls' varsity has been very successful this year in spite of two rather serious obstacles in their way at the beginning of the season. In the first place they had but one player of last year's team return, and in the second place they had no coach. Yet not daunted by lack of these essentials, they organized a team, arranged a schedule and played one game at Sharon, which game they lost by a very small margin. Then fortune favored them and their efforts were rewarded, for the school board appointed a coach.

By this time however, they had shown of what kind of stuff they were made and their following successes were no more than was to have been expected of them. Of the remaining seven games, they won five.

Taking everything into consideration, the record they made this year is much more than good and what they have accomplished this season will give the team a good start for next year. The four Juniors who receive letters will probably return and New Castle High School is assured of a championship girls' team for nineteen twenty.

The girls who received letters are: Elizabeth Kirk '19, Mary Lou Eckles '19, Madeleine Nail '19, Odetta Hodgkinson '19, Imogene Gillespie '20, Kathryn Matheny '20, Jane Smith '20, Edith Lockhart '20.

GIRLS' CLASS BASKETBALL

N. C. H. S. is a school of athletes, and not only the boys but the girls are interested in athletics. The girls have a Varsity basketball team which usually makes as good if not better record than the Boys' Varsity does. Not only this but there is a girls' class league in which some exciting games are played each year. The scores for this year are as follows:

Sophs 7 .....	Freshies 0	Seniors 10 .....	Freshies 3
Juniors 12 .....	Seniors 0	Juniors 12 .....	Freshies 6
Juniors 42 .....	Freshies 2	Seniors 9 .....	Sophs 8

Seniors .....	107	Freshmen .....	24

BOYS' CLASS BASKETBALL

The class basketball race this year has been quite spirited and near the end became a four-cornered race for the second half championship and the right to play the Juniors for the cup and the school championship. The Seniors finally by defeating first the Juniors, and then the Freshmen in the tie-up elimination series, won the right to play for the cup. Then in a glorious and bloody series of three games, the most exciting ones of the season in the Class league, they won two out of three and thus won the cup, proving they were the champions and best team of the school. The scores of the tie-up games were as follows:

Juniors 19 .....	Seniors 25
Sophs 13 .....	Freshies 16
Seniors 25 .....	Freshies 5

Results of championship games:

BASEBALL, TRACK, AND TENNIS

BASEBALL

Baseball was entered on our athletic program this year for the first time since the spring of 1917. It was in the nature of an experiment as much depended upon the support it received whether it would be carried on next spring or not.

The baseball team made a fine showing considering that the fellows were new at the game and had very little chance for practice. The short term necessitated a similar schedule. The following games were played and in each one the team showed itself worthy of support.

- May 3—Butler at New Castle.
- May 10—Slippery Rock at Slippery Rock.
- May 17—Westminster at Westminster.
- May 24—Butler at Butler.

TRACK

There were very few out for track and a few of the fellows were taken to Wilkinsburg to participate in the interscholastic meet held at that place.

TENNIS

Tennis this year is coming into its own as a sport of the school. Under the supervision of Ralph Gardner and Tom Lamoree several matches with other high schools were scheduled. In order to determine the team, tournaments were arranged in which everyone could participate, the winners making up the varsity team.

A Tennis Club was formed and its officers are as follows:

President .....	Elizabeth Kirk
Vice-President .....	William Cobau
Treasurer .....	Leo Malloy
Manager .....	Tom Lamoree

When a girl makes a fool of a man, she also makes him like it.

---

Miss Kepner (in Type II): "Which way are the books lying?"

Don Russell: "To the west."

Teacher: "Johnny, define Algebra."

Johnny: "Algebra is something with x's and z's in it."

---

Jennie Conti (in Eng.) "It was a beautiful golden oak table, with beautiful feet."

---

Mrs. Davis (in Eng.) "Robert, who was Hippolyta?"

Osborne: "Oh, she was a girl."

SOUNDS WORSE THAN IT IS

Bertha K.: "Give me that flower."

Anson R.: "I don't have it."

Bertha (whose pockets are filled with candy): "I won't give you any more kisses."

DEFINITION OF A FRESHIE

A little bit of nothing, with a whistle on the end.

Hugh Rocks: "I put my left hand shoe on my right hand foot."

---

She slapped him on the back porch.

---

Mr. Clark (returning to study hall): "I always like to go out of this room, because I know you don't whisper. Everyone talks out loud."

---

Miss English (in Eng. I.) "Now when a woman signs her name Mrs. John S. Smith, why does she also have to put (Mrs.) Mary E. Smith?"

F. Haltnorth: "Why maybe her husband had two wives."

---

M. Craig: "If my name were Heck, I'd change it."

Virginia M: "You wouldn't until someone asked you to."

Herbert: "Ireland grows the most flax and makes the finest linen."

Miss Sloane: "What are you laughing at, Herbert?"

Herbert: "Bill Sands is Irish."

THE KNITTING HYMN OF THE REPUBLIC

"Mary had a little lamb,
The dumbest of the flock,
He followed her to school one day,
And now he's a soldier's sock."

—Pgh. Post.

Mr. Clark: "Thornton, go up to Study III and get my stamp."

Allen: "I couldn't find it any place."

Mr. Clark: "I'll go up myself."

Allen (on his return): "Did you find it?"

Mr. Clark: "Yes, it was in my pocket."

Allen Cartright was making an outline on the board, in Science. He hadn't much space left, when Miss Sloane said, "Allen, put your stomach on the other board." (Meaning the word, of course).

Mr. Shaeffer (in Ancient History): "Kenneth, what was the sign when the "Sacred Chickens," refused to eat? (He was referring to a Roman story)

K. Beer: "Because they had enough, I suppose."

Miss Williams: "That is "pedes," not "pes," Jerome. Now what would it be?"

Jerome: "The feet soldiers."

G. Grant (in Eng.): "Now, everyone has an equal amount of footing in the world—

F. Haltnorth (looking at the feet of the boy across the aisle): "I don't agree."

Mrs. Roberts (in Economics): "What kind of animals were first domesticated by man?"

John Bell: "Chickens."

Mrs. Roberts: "What kind, John?"

Mrs. Ailey (in Eng.) "Now, that wasn't funny."

B. White: "You didn't see it."

NE-CA-HI

Mr. Clark (in Com. Law): "I heard the mayor stopped the running of the little car on Highland avenue."

Paul McGaffic: "Why?"

Mr. Clark: "To get on."

D. Beal (in Ancient History): "Claudius hid behind a curtain for four years, because he thought they would make him king." (Didn't he get tired?)

B. Myers (translating Latin): "Those who live in the greater part of the Rhine." Do you mean deeper?"

Petty Popp: "Mary is here, but she has gone out." Some people are able to do the impossible?

C. Sankey: "There isn't one street car alike in New Castle."

Miss Sankey: "I always hate it when everybody refuses, for all the rest will too." (Who are the rest?)

B. Moresky (trans. Spanish): "In front of me is sitting a street." (Wonders never cease.)

Definition of a Freshman: "One who knoweth not and knoweth not that he knoweth not."

Billy: "Why are New Castle policemen like a rainbow?"

Jim S.: "Because they always show up after the storm."

Freshie: "Why is 'Lib' Kirk's hair so red?"

Soph: "She got caught in the rain and it rusted?"

Verna (to little sister): "Betty, get off Norman's knees at once."

Betty: "Shan't, I got here first."

Miss Williams (in Latin I): "Jane the accent is still on your eye (i)."

Student: "Well, just so it isn't on your upper lip."

The great shortage of matches reminds us of this story. A widower had engraved on his first wife's tombstone the words, "The light of my life has gone out."

A little later he married again, and one Sunday was standing with No. 2 before his first wife's grave.

Reading the above sentiment, the lady inquired in a rather huffed tone, "Is that so?"

"Yes," replied he, "but I've struck another match."

A MID-SUMMER NIGHT'S INCIDENT

Reginald Regibus Raymond, with a parting word at his room-mate, stepped jauntily from the door of his boarding house and came around the corner just in time to collide with a swarthy, villainous-faced man, who happened to be coming the opposite way. A flash of recognition entered Reginald's head and as he glanced into the stranger's eyes, there came to him a memory of a warm moonlight night, under the shade of palm trees, at a place far away; clearer still, came the mem'ry of an upraised flashing knife. Our young hero's face took on a look of benign violence, and grasping the man by the shoulder, he whispered in his ear, "I got a mind to whale er one acrost the mug. Gimme that nickle, or I'll smash yer flatter'n a door nail!" For verily, he was the Greek waiter who had short-changed him at Callahan's restaurant."

THE NEW CAR AND THE WRENCH

Percy was out riding in his new car, and after having gone thirty miles, the machine stalled. A few minutes examination soon revealed the trouble, but when he went to get the monkey wrench to fix it, he found that he had left it at home. Seeing a farmer, he asked him whether he had a monkey wrench. The farmer replied: "Landsakes, man, it takes all I can do to keep a sheep ranch, let alone a monkey ranch."

DOME THEATRE

THE HOME OF CLEAN PHOTOPLAYS

NEW CASTLE, PA.

Picture goers should derive enjoyment out of our clean dramatic offerings, and the greatest comedies that we have as an added attraction. There are lots of things you can always be sure of at our theatre, such as, the greatest ventilation in the city which gives our theatre 10,000 of cubic feet of fresh air in a minute; appropriate music on our harmonious pipe organ, by one of our city's best musicians E. O. Carbaugh. When you visit our theatre come to the matinees or early in the evenings for good seats.

Yours truly,

NO OCCUPATION

She rises (up) at break of day,
And thru her tasks she races;
She cooks the meal as best she may,
And scrubs the children's faces.
While school books, lunches, ribbons, too,
All need consideration,
And yet the census man insists
She has "No occupation."

When breakfast dishes all are done,
She bakes a pudding, maybe;
She cleans the rooms up one by one,
With one eye watching baby.
The mending pile she then attacks,
By way of variation.
And yet the census man insists
She has "No occupation."

She irons for a little while,
Then presses pants for daddy;
She welcomes with a cheery smile,
Returning lass and laddie.
A hearty dinner next she cooks,
(No time for relaxation),
And yet the census man insists
She has "No occupation."

For lessons that the children learn
The evening scarce is ample.
To "mother dear" they always turn
For help with each example.
In grammar and geography
She finds her relaxation.
And yet the census man insists
She has "No occupation."

An Irishman, an Englishman and an American were riding in a first class coach in England. The Irishman was smoking his pipe, and after having asked him several times to put it out, the Englishman called a guard and explained the case. The Irishman took out his pipe long enough to say that the Englishman had a third class ticket and was riding in a first class coach. This being so, the Englishman was removed and the American turned to the Irishman and asked him how he knew this. "Oh," replied the Irishman, "I saw his ticket sticking out of his pocket and it was the same color as mine."

TEN BAR ROOMS IN A NIGHT

(Sequel to Ten Nights in a Bar Room.)

(Introduction)

The author's purpose in writing this book is for the mental and physical uplift of the public in general.

Chapter I.

The old man left home half drunk, on a windy July morning in May. It was a beautiful evening and the birds were twittering in the trees among the worms. The old man was going to see "The Broadway Belles." As he went into the bar room, he was met by the bar tender who had a very individual air of informality.

Chapter II.

As he was beginning to swoggle down the living fire, his small daughter, who was a beautiful child, whom he had known for the last fortyfive years, came in. She wound her slim, beautiful, undaunted arms about his neck, which was size 16. She pleaded with him, but in vain. He was hard-hearted and would not yield to her wild demands of patriotism.

Chapter III.

The dawn was breaking and the sun was just setting in the east. Finally, as he grew heavier by intake, he listened to her pleadings and finally consented to go home with his darling "dater."

Chapter IV.

When the old man entered the house, the wife danced with glee and was very joyful.

Chapter V.

The old man promised to stop drinking. This news made the family very happy.

Chapter VI.

Ten years later the drunkard father died. He left money in the bank. But it wasn't his fault that he left it there, because he was shot while trying to get it out. Thus does the life of a poor drunkard ciose and the poor daughter suffers for his fault.

—P. J. '20

IS IT ANYBODY'S BUSINESS?

Is it anybody's business,
 If a gentleman should choose
 To wait upon a lady,
 If the lady don't refuse?
 Or, to speak a little plainer
 That the meaning you may know,
 Is it anybody's business
 If a lady has a beau.

The substance of our query
 Simply stated would be this:
 Is it anybody's business
 What another's business is?
 Whether 't is or whether 't isn't,
 We should really like to know,
 For we are certain, if it isn't,
 There are some who make it so.

—W. K. M. '21

A RECEIPT FOR COURTSHIP

Two or three dears and two or three sweets;
 Two or three balls, and two or three treats;
 Two or three serenades, given as a line;
 Two or three oaths how much they endure;
 Two or three messages sent in one day;
 Two or three times led out from the play;
 Two or three soft speeches made by the way;
 Two or three tickets for two or three times;
 Two or three love letters writ all in rhymes;
 Two or three months keeping strict to these rules,
 Can never fail making a couple of fools.

—W. K. M. '21

A man drove up to a corner drug store in his new Ford a cold day in January. He threw a blanket over the hood to keep it from freezing. A small boy standing on the corner yelled: "Too late to cover it up, I saw what it was."

Some fellows are born with genius,
 God must have forgotten me!
 For I'm just about as fluent,
 As our garbage man would be!
 When it comes to writing poetry
 I'd better let others try,
 For you'll surely acknowledge that my attempts
 Are the kind that make others die.

Out of a house a burglar stole,
 And a bag of chink he chunk,
 And many a wicked smile he smole,
 And many a wink he wunk,
 And many a hideous grin he grun,
 And many a thought he thunk.

—Unknown.

Where can a man find a cap for his knee?
 Or a key for a lock of his hair?
 Would you call his eyes an academy
 Because there are pupils there?
 What jewel adorns the crown of his head,
 What crosses the bridge of his nose?
 Would he use when shingling the roof of his mouth
 The nails from his fingers and toes?
 Could the crook of his elbow be sent to jail?
 If so, what would it do?
 I wonder who sharpens his shoulder blades?
 I'll be darned if I know, do you?

Billy N.: "How can you make a tall man short?"
 Jim S.: "By borrowing five dollars of him."

Charles Dart: "What is the largest word?"
 Tom Lamoree: "Smiles—a mile is between first and last letters."

Tom Lamoree (in Soph meeting): "I guess we will have to stand on the motion."

"IF"

If you can hold your head up, while others
Are drooping theirs from marches and fatigue;
If you can drill in dust that clouds and smothers
And still be fit to hike another league;
If you can stand the greasy food and dishes,
The long black nights, the lonesome road, the blues;
If you can choke back the gloomy wishes
For home that seems to spring right from your shoes;
If you can laugh at sick call and the pill boys,
When all the other lads are checking in;
If you can kid and jolly all the kill joys,
Whose faces long ago forgot to grin;
If at parade you stand fast at attention
When every muscle shrieks aloud with pain;
If you can grin and snicker at the mention
Of some bone play connected with your name;
If you succeed to keep your knees from knocking,
At the thought of all the bullets you may stop;
If you can do these things and really like 'em,
You'll be a reg'lar soldier yet, old top.
—By D. H. W. in "The Trouble Buster" Hospital No. 4, Fort McHenry.

A girl's sweetheart had died and she called the florist and told him to send a wreath of flowers and put on the ribbon, "At Rest." She also added that if there was room to put on, "I'll meet you in heaven."

When the wreath was delivered the following was on the ribbon: "At Rest, and If There's Room, I'll Meet You in Heaven."

COULDN'T MAKE HIM FIGHT

Two dusky sons of Alabama were standing outside the village store discussing the war. Rastus had received his call and Sambo had not.

"Well, I tell you, bragged Sambo, the U. S. gov't can't make this nigger fight."

Rastus was thoughtful. "Maybe not, Sambo, maybe not. But they can take you where the fighting is going on, and then you can use your own judgment."

"O! those wild Junior girls!"
That is what the Seniors say,
But those same Senior boys
Go with Junior girls today.

There's Ralph and a Junior—
Of course she's a dandy—
Then there's Duff with another,
And finally we have Canby.

The Seniors even like Sophomores,
There's Aubrey and Irene,
He's a star in basketball,
As you've already seen.

O! those awful cases
I would like to know,
What will be their fates
After the Seniors go.

A BILLET-DOUX

She was a winsome country lass;
 So William, on a brief vacation,
 More pleasantly the time to pass
 Essayed a flirtation;
 And as they strolled in twilight dim
 While near the time for parting drew,
 Asked if she'd like to have from him
 A billet-doux.

Of French this simple maid knew naught,
 But doubting not 'twas something nice,
 Upon its meaning quickly thought
 Then in a trice,
 Upward she turned her pretty head;
 Her rosy lips to-gether drew
 For purpose plain, and coyly said:
 "Yes, Billy do!"

Sequel—And William did.

Your Future Patronage

is our viewpoint in selling

The customer must be satisfied and to this end we plan.

Our stock is a varied one and at times you may be served by a salesperson who is unfamiliar with the merchandise offered. If so the management wishes you to return unsatisfactory purchases and your desires will be gratified if at all possible. With your help and cooperation you will enable us to be of more service to the community.

We do appreciate criticism.
