I shall leave Jack and Viva fifteen hundred dollars just because that pretty little brown-eyed girl has displayed such good sense. "I really quite envy Jack his good luck; especially on little Miss Viva's account," Mr. Mivart drew languidly.

Mr. Arthur E. Miller, the well-known theatrical agent, was in the city last night, and as he was in the ill-fated Newhall House, and intimately acquainted with Gilbert, the actor, a reporter had a talk with him about the tragedy. The story of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert's married life is so marvellous, so touching, one, made more so from the remarkable devotion they displayed for each other.

Some time since, a beautiful young girl made her first appearance on the stage in one of the minor theaters of Paris. Her grace and loveliness attracted admiration, which her rising talent promised to secure. She concluded a long engagement with the manager, giving her services for a moderate remuneration, but which suited her wants and those of an invalid mother, who was totally dependent upon her exertions.

Frontiers and others will please take notice that we go to press regularly every Thursday afternoon, and cannot insure the insertion of much matter after Wednesday afternoon.

In this and next week's issue a citizen of this place gives a brief description of his visit to Canada.

Hunt up the good men for our local offices, and then aid in their election. Let us have our usual good school directors, and also let us have better roads. Party spirit is not good anywhere, and least of all in our home elections.

There are some people in our town who do not remove the snow from their pavements, and the result is that walking over such pavements is miserable.

The storm of snow and rain that set in on Saturday has proved destructive. The Alleghany, Susquehanna, and Monongahela Rivers, which had just before been partly relieved, again became more swollen, while the rise in the Ohio is enormous.

The Bird Food Company's book of cage birds is a most interesting compendium, in which numberless cage-birds are illustrated and described, and rules for their treatment in health and in disease given.

There has been a great deal of discussion and speculation upon the recent troubles in France, but it is nowhere apparent now that she will not be able to ride over them safely.

There is some likelihood that, unless the present Congress passes the revenue and tariff bill, an extra session will be called by the President to more strongly urge its passage.

Now that we are in the season of Lent, it will appear incumbent upon humanity, taking into consideration the meaning and purpose of the institution of this penitential season, to abstain from certain things which in themselves or their use is nothing to derogate from the reality of a good character and conscience.

And from a religious view there is much good to be made of the season. The clergy in their rightful zeal may with strict judgment make stronger the burden of their sermons with teachings of love to man and the inclination of that spirit of brotherhood which makes life what it is intended to be.

A TRIP TO CANADA.

A GLIMPSE OF NIAGARA FALLS—THE LAND OF FREE WHISKEY AND BEER—FORMS OF GOVERNMENT AND QUEER POLITICAL PARTIES.

Leaving Buffalo, N. Y., on board a Grand Trunk railway car, the road runs northward through a level stretch of country, and approaches Niagara River at Tonawanda, which is a second edition of Williamsport as a lumbering city.

From Tonawanda the railroad keeps in sight of the river, which here seems to be "bank full," to within a short distance of the Falls, when it turns eastward and only approaches again at the Suspension Bridge, about two miles below.

Being now across the bridge, the train stopped, and while my attention was attracted to the depot and the people around it, a tall individual having a lemon-colored moustache and goatee, wearing a fur suit-cap, but otherwise having the bearing and appearance of a French gentleman, came through the car and asked to see our baggage.

He lifted it to feel its weight, then pressed its sides, and asked me whether I had any goods. I answered in the negative, and no doubt the plethoric appearance of my cabba convinced him that I told the truth; at any rate he passed on to the next passenger; then I only realized that I was on British soil—that I was in the land of free beer and whiskey—I mean where beer and whiskey are free from a revenue tax.

Yet with this cheap whiskey and beer, Canada does not contain one-half the number of hotels and drinking places that are found in the U. S., nor did I see more than one drunken man, a veritable specimen of Danny Beck.

They have stringent license laws and have hotel inspectors, who call sometimes unexpectedly, and if any crookedness is found, away goes the license. A license costs from $100 to $150 a year. Every judicial circuit has three license commissioners appointed by the judge, who consider all applications and grant to towns of 500 voters only one hotel; to 700 voters two hotels; to 1000 voters three hotels, and one hotel to every 500 additional voters.

The constables are also appointed by the judge, who receives his own appointment from the Dominion government, as does the district attorney, who is termed "Queen's Counsel." He has Q. C. affixed to his name.

Their higher government consists of the Dominion Parliament, corresponding to our Congress. The members thereof consist of 66 members from Quebec and 88 from Ontario. They are elected by the people; every voter must possess $200 worth of real estate before he acquires the right to vote.

This is the law-making power of the Dominion, but the vetoing power is vested in the Governor General—the Marquis of Lorne—who has the right to veto any act passed by this body. Then they have the Provincial Legislature—our State Legislature—consisting of one for each county, and one for the province of Ontario.

ment upon this issue, however, is dying out. The matter is becoming stale and new issues must soon arise if the next general election is to be an exciting one.

OUR LEGISLATORS.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 14, 1883. No sooner had the Senate refused to confirm David S. Pugas as controller of Philadelphia than did the governor again send in his nomination.

The Stalwart forces, under the leadership of Chairman Cooper, again made a vigorous fight against the nomination. Some of the Senators, having voted in the negative the first time, had formed a different opinion and he was confirmed with only four dissenting votes.

In the interval they had no doubt read over the constitution which plainly says that the controller's office is a county office, and therefore the appointing power is vested in the Governor.

Speaker Faunce had a busy time of it recognizing members who desired to be excused from attendance at the session. Republicans and Democrats were alike clamorous for recognition by the speaker, as if wishing to save his political friends from the blunder of demanding leave for absence, kept his eyes firmly fixed on the minority side.

The Democrats could not stand this shabby treatment from the man whom they had chosen speaker and impatiently sought recognition. At last Faunce remarked that he would lend his ears when all the republicans had been excused, which seemed probable. The Democrats were too stupid to make capital out of the Republican position and were as largely represented in the leaves of absence as their political opponents.

To the Senate the same feeling pervaded that chamber and the leaves of absence were alike numerous proportionally. The gentleman Senator from Philadelphia who always wears a light green coat, George Handy Smith, however stood manfully at his post, and said that the great interests of the glorious old commonwealth were too dear to him to justify a demand for his absence from the Senate chamber.

Mr. Smith can easily reach his home by leaving Harrisburg at 3.45 P. M., hence his apparent willingness to remain at his post. The experiment of a Saturday session of the legislature will lead to an early change in the busy programme which has been mapped out.

An idea can be formed of the workings of a committee from what has recently been made known. Several weeks ago the committee on vice and immorality decided by a large majority to report with a negative recommendation a bill to repeal a prohibitory liquor law.

The Governor is strongly suspected of having had a part in drafting the anti-discrimination bill introduced in the Senate by Senator Gordon. This belief with the indorsement given by Franklin B. Gowen to the Huling anti-discrimination bill, has somewhat alarmed the friends of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company which corporation is opposed to all such measures.

THE LITZ BREZEL.—For many years the peaceful and contented town of Litzitz, through the heart of which flows a beautifully sparkling stream of water, known as the Litzitz Springs, a charming resort for Summer travelers, has become more particularly noted for the excellent quality of brezels manufactured at this place.

PLOW COMPANY.—A meeting of the stockholders of the Litz Plow Company was held at the factory on Tuesday evening for the election of directors, &c.

ST. VALENTINE.—St. Valentine's day was not forgotten among the Litz folks. Postmaster Christ, tells us that probably more mail of this kind has passed through his hands than ever before.

LYCEUM.—Wednesday evening's meeting was fairly attended, notwithstanding the bad weather.

DAMP WEATHER NOTES.

BIG FEET SOMETIMES USEFUL.—OYSTERS ON THE PAVEMENT.—PRINTERS' ODDITIES.—OIL PIPES ARRIVING.—A LONG TRAMP.—THE TOWN INCREASING IN POPULATION.

An observing exchange says: "It is queer how inclined some people are to take hints never intended for them."

Say what you will, big feet are sometimes a convenience, as was illustrated at Ell Barr's house last Saturday.

Mary Tehudy and the kettle of oysters found their level on the bank pavement last week; but it was easier to pick herself up than the oysters.

Engagement rings are generally worn on the third finger on the left hand. But in Brewer's Dictionary of Phrase and Fable we find that if one is willing to marry, but not engaged, a ring should be worn on the index finger of the left hand; if engaged on the second finger; if married, on the third finger; but if there is no desire to marry, on the little finger.

A German passed through here on Monday on a tramp to New York City. He had only fifty cents in his name.

Printers sometimes get odd articles to mention in ads bills, but by far the strangest to us was on a bill this week, in which a man inserted 35 bushels of dry hickory ash.

Nine carloads of pipes for the pipe line arrived at this station on Monday and will be conveyed along the route where they will be laid.

James Brown, of Chester county, is stopping at the Warwick House and buying up cows.

Ten men employed on the Litz and Lexington pipes were paid off and discharged on Monday, owing to the bad state of the weather, which prevents them from proceeding.

The young lady of Linden Hill, whose watch was believed last week to have been stolen, has recovered it. It was found in a piano at the school.

The Reading Eagle last week, after clipping an article from the Record, gives it another heading and passes it off as a special dispatch from Litz three days after it appeared in this paper.

Messrs. Stauffer & Reist have five cigar makers and two strippers at work in their factory started last week.

The Buchanan-McEvoy-Reynolds Relief Committee distributed 570 half tons of coal to the poor of Lancaster city.

FIRST ANNUAL CONCERT.—ON Thursday evening, Feb. 22d, the citizens of Litz and vicinity will have the opportunity of listening to the first annual concert to be given in Broad Street Hall, by the Concordia Mannerchor, assisted by a number of ladies and gentlemen.

The Mannerchor is now an established organization, and is composed of gentlemen who know no such word as fall.

As this is the first concert of the Mannerchor, we shall be disappointed if they do not have a full house. Tickets of admission can be had at the Post Office and at the stores.

PERSONAL.—Miss Eveline Kreiter, of Lancaster, was the guest of John Breunauer on Sunday.

Miss Annie Youm, of Reading, was the guest of J. A. Buch on Sunday.

Mr. Henry Miller, of Warwick, recently went about Harrisburg to visit relatives. Since there he took sick, and his brother-in-law, H. W. Stark, on Wednesday went to see him.

Mr. J. P. Sturgis, who celebrated his 48th year yesterday, returned the event by going to Philadelphia.

Master Freddy Roland, a pupil of A. K. Beck's school, is suffering with inflammatory rheumatism.

Two weeks ago a man stopped at the Springs Hotel and registered himself "A. Lord." Along comes another "A. Lord" and registers "A. Diamond."

CLAY JOTTINGS.—Elias R. Weaver, who occupied the basement of the United Brethren Church, moved to Juniata county last week.

Gen. W. Gross moved from Unionville to Clay on Tuesday.

Gen. Bar, agent for the Express, was through here on Saturday. By the way, the Express has adopted a new idea to procure subscribers, viz: by running a lottery on a small scale, giving an organ to the one who happens to draw it in regular lottery fashion.

The gold pin which was lost in the Paradise U. B. Church has been found. The owner can obtain it by calling on the pastor at Clay, who holds it until the owner calls for it.

The oil pipe line here has considerable difficulty to get our farmers to sign a right of way. Nine of them absolutely refuse to sign it, and if report is correct, rightly so, as their charter is of a doubtful character.

WHAT WE WANT.—We want a little more sleighing to fulfill all our promises. Snow disappeared too soon, and all contracts could not be fulfilled.

TOBACCO MARKET.

The Lancaster Examiner contained the following concerning the local market: The buyers have been out in full force during the week all over the county, examining crops in all directions, and if a lot suited them offering their price for it, but not in all cases making a purchase, for very often their ideas as to the value of a crop and the idea of the farmer do not agree.

John and Wallace Souders sold their 32 crop to Wm. Smith at 17, 5 and 3 cents and 16, 5 and 3 to Wm. Smith, this place.

Mr. Fry & Co. bought one lot from Henry Leed at 12, 5 and 2 cents, and from Jacob Butcher at 15, 5 and 2 cents.

FIRE.—Loud cries of fire by three or four children from the residence of E. J. Barr, this place, last Saturday evening about 8 o'clock, hurried to the scene those who heard the shrill cries, and found that such was really the fact.

Mr. Editor: I would call the attention of your readers to the fact that Mr. I. F. Bomberger's term as school director of Litz district expires in June next.

Ed. Record: The Lyceum is now a success, but the work is left too much to a few. The attendance is large every meeting night, but is composed largely of young people, many of whom are timid about taking part in the literary exercises.
