Big Bargains Are Offered By Retailers

Old-Fashioned Prices To Vie With Costumes For Attention

Local merchants and retailers were uniting to make "Ye Olde Bargain Days" a really significant part of the Bi-Centennial Celebration this Friday and Saturday.

In addition to offering old-fashioned bargains at old-fashioned prices—and some of the reductions go way back—a number of local retailers and their clerks have gone to considerable trouble to appear in the costumes of days of long ago!

Raiment being worn by the merchants tomorrow and Saturday range from plain dresses and bonnets to long swallow-tailed coats, button shoes and silk hats on the part of the men, to mutton-sleeved, bustled arrangements by the ladies.

Another old-fashioned revival will be the serving of refreshments by many of the retailers while gifts, favors and door prizes will be common during this uncommon sales event.

A hint of the hundreds and hundreds of unusual bargains being offered can be found in the advertisements listed in this issue of The Record-Express.

Harry Lowe New Legion Commander

Harry M. Lowe was elected Commander of the American Legion Post No. 56, at the meeting held last week.

Other officers elected are: First Vice Commander G. Nevin Bowman; 2nd Vice Commander Earl Walters; Finance Officer Harry F. Ruler; Historian Jonas E. Risser; Chaplain Elwood E. Erb; Sgt. at Arms Ray N. Burkholder.

New directors elected for a term of three years are Jack Pontz, John Linton and Daniel W. Miller. The following delegates to County Council were elected: Harry Ruler, Earl Walters, Jack Pontz, Harry Lowe, Albert Lutz, Elwood Erb and John Linton. Alternates, Daniel W. Miller, W. Roy Enck, G. Nevin Bowman, Paul Spickler, Wil-

DECORATES FOUNTAIN AS "TRIBUTE"

Mrs. Paul A. Doster, left, assisted by Mrs. Benjamin Forrest, are shown in the midst of their work of giving the fountain in the Square a genuine beauty treatment.

Mrs. Doster Honors Early Settlers With Novel Community Project

The fountain in the Square and the island in the stream at the Springs Park were beautified with hundreds of plants and ferns this week as a tribute to Lititz' first settler!

The tribute was planned by Mrs. Paul A. Doster, an eighth-generation descendent of Christian Bomberger, who with two brothers became the first settlers of Lititz when they constructed a dwelling near here.

Appearing at the Square early Monday morning, Mrs. Doster, assisted by Mrs. Benjamin Forrest, completely transformed the various flower beds which ring the fountain there. A patriotic theme was attained through the use of several hundred blue and white petunias and red geraniums.

After working several hours on the project, the women who were being helped by John, Mrs. Doster's son, had an unhappy few hours. After taking a bucketful of water from the fountain to pour over the plants, they were informed by Chief of Police Lloyd Hoffman that the water in the fountain contains copper sulphate to kill the plant life in the fountain.

Borough employees and police quickly hooked up a hose to the front of the fountain and helped the women to give the plants a thorough sprinkling. None of the plants died. (Continued on Page 9)

PARKING BY DONATION DURING BI-CENTENNIAL

During the Bi-Centennial, capable parkers will be on duty in the Springs Park and parking will be conducted on a donation basis, the Springs Committee announced this week. Money donated will help pay the cost of the parkers. Sunday evening and all day July 4th parking is free.

TO SELL TICKETS AT THE PAGEANT

Local bank tellers have volunteered to sell tickets at two booths to be placed at the Bi-Centennial pageant entrance, it was announced yesterday. They also will exchange advanced sale coupons sold during the Queen contest, for reserved seats for that night only. Pageant reserved seat tickets also can be purchased during the day at the Bi-Centennial headquarters on Broad Street.

Council Approves Develop'nt

Gives Go-Ahead Signal To Warwick Acres Tract Of 160 Future Homes

The go-ahead signal was given by borough officials this week for the Warwick Acres Development where a total of approximately 160 houses will be built during the next few years.

In approving plans for the development, Borough Council Monday night announced that the bridge along Rome Road northeast of the borough will be removed and that Rome Road will be dead-ended at this point. This will enable development of streets, etc., it was explained.

The development, which has been building homes for the past year is owned by Robert Balmer with Willis Bucher as developer.

Council formally created the Water Authority agreed upon at a special meeting last week and instructed Henry Huth, Lancaster, to proceed with construction plans and specifications for the reservoir to be built at Kissel Hill. Members of the authority are expected to be named at the July meeting.

Plans to join the school district in a sweeping re-assessment of all local properties was delayed when the school board reported there remains some doubt as to whether the school board can legally appropriate funds for this purpose.

First Antique Show Here July 3, 4, 5

The first antique show to be staged in Lititz will be held in conjunction with the Bi-Centennial festivities, July 3, 4, and 5, in the Recreation Center from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m., with more than 15 dealers from as far west as Pittsburgh participating. Everything on display will be for sale—and according to Robert W. Snyder, 344 North Broad St., chairman, many valuable collectors' items will be available.

Barton L. Sharp, chairman of the antique window display committee, wishes to emphasize that only the exhibits at the Recreation Center are for sale. Those donated for display by private collectors in retailers' windows, are definitely in the priceless

Hundreds Take Part In Five-Day Program; To Attract Thousands

Historical Pageant Each Evening; Mammoth Parade And Home-Coming Banquet Saturday; Community Religious Program Sunday; Ending With July Fourth Program In Park

The 200th anniversary of the founding of Lititz will be dramatically launched here this morning!

With a spectacular schedule of events listed for the coming week, morning, afternoons and evenings, the Bi-Centennial observance will be fittingly climaxed with the 115th annual Fourth of July celebration in the Springs Park next Wednesday.

That the five-day bi-centennial celebration will be by far the most spectacular celebration ever conducted in the history of the borough is assured with hundreds here participating and thousands from all parts of the country expected to attend.

Activities of the week center about the historical pageant. Our Wondrous Land, which will be presented five evenings, starting this evening, at 8:30, in an especially-constructed outdoor theatre at the Athletic Field. Huge and powerful searchlights will be used in illuminating the 250-foot stage erected on the extreme northern end of the field.

By shifting the light from one section to another, each of the 24 scenes will be presented in rapid-fire order without the customary delays for scene shifting.

Each performance will be identical and complete.

And each evening the pageant will be preceded by special ceremonies in keeping with the day's program. Prior to this evening's performance, Miss Lynn Reidenbaugh will be crowned Miss Lititz, Queen of the Bi-Centennial Celebration.

Prior to the pageant each evening, special music will be presented. Moravian chorales will be sung each evening by the massed choirs of town. The choir members are furnishing the vocal music for the pageant each evening. Prior to the pageant to-morrow and Saturday evening, the Warwick Union High School Band will play. On Friday, Monday and Tuesday evenings, the Lititz Trombone Choir will play. (Continued on Page 16)

Store Windows Here Exhibit Rare Antiques

Lititz this week was literally transformed to Colonial days as merchants throughout the borough turned over their show windows to display countless thousands of dollars' worth of antiques and mementoes of days gone by.

The stores without exception took on an entirely different atmosphere as present day merchandise was replaced with articles of yester-year; and visitors to the community are already being attracted to the shops displaying this vast assortment of rare pieces.

Displays of old firearms in several windows is the largest ever to be shown in Eastern Pennsylvania, and includes several loaned for the Bi-Centennial by the Remington Arms Co., one of which is the gun used by Gen. George A. Custer for hunting big game.

Another outstanding exhibit is a portion of Dr. C. E. Lane's Colonial furniture which includes a child's Windsor rocker and a step-down Windsor settee which were built in 1775; a 17-spindle Windsor arm chair dates back to 1789; a regulation size canopy bed 7 feet 2 inches high, with the original canopy festooned in European chintz; a double arm candle stand; a curly maple stand, and tower rack. Dr. Lane is also showing some of his William Adams china, Indian Temple design; and his Lehn's ware. A Victorian cherry wash stand with china bowl and pitcher, and matching chamber made by Enoch Wood in Burslem, England about 1783, are also being displayed.

Among the brass lamps and candle snuffers being exhibited through the courtesy of Dr. Lane, he believes the Paul Revere lantern to be the rarest of the collection, and the Swinging Betty lamp he knows to be the oldest in European chintz; a double

Predict 10,000 Will Attend 4th Of July Program In Park

By Raymond Reedy The Lititz Springs Park will attract more than 10,000 people in its presentation of the 115th annual Fourth of July celebration.

Climaxing the week-long Bi-Centennial program in the community, the Independence Day ceremony will feature the 50 piece Womens Air Force Band from Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas, in a variety of music at three concerts during the day, starting at 2:30 p.m. The Band is under the direction of Capt. Marybelle Nissly and is rated the finest all-girl musical organization in the nation.

Capt. Nissly is a graduate of Lititz High School and gained her early musical experience playing in the High School Band and was acclaimed the first girl drum major in Pennsylvania Schools. Presently the Band is on tour of eastern United States.

At 3:45 p.m. a program of historical interest is being arranged to supplement the afternoon festivities. Hon. J. Glenn Beall, United States Senator from the State of Maryland will be the featured speaker. Citations of merit will be bestowed on Lititz citizens who have contributed to the historical welfare of the community. Chief Burgess, Mr. B. G. Forrest will serve as master of ceremonies.

At 1 p.m. the annual Baby Parade will form, with many substantial prizes being awarded for individuals, baby carriages, and floats. Special prizes will be

Queen And Her Court Showered With Gifts

Miss Lynn Reidenbaugh has won the Bi-Centennial Queen Contest and will be crowned Miss Lititz at the opening performance of the pageant-spectacle at eight o'clock this evening, according to an announcement made yesterday by Mrs. William Scatchard, chairman of the committee.

The winner of the contest which attracted widespread interest and attention here during the past five weeks, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Reidenbaugh, of East Third Avenue, this borough. She is a graduate of this year's class at Lititz High School and plans to enter Penn State University in September.

Being crowned queen is not a new experience to Miss Reidenbaugh, having won a similar honor at the Hallowe'en community program held in October.

But tonight, the coronation will be something far from the ordinary inasmuch as the famous TV, radio and movie star, Edward Everett Horton, will place the crown upon Miss Reidenbaugh's head. Horton will motor here from Ephrata, where he is appearing in the Legion Theatre, in order to conduct the ceremony at 8 p.m.

Members of the Queen's Court, consisting of the four runners-up in the contest, are Miss Sylvia Wertsch, second; Miss Vivian Landis, third; Miss Jane Risser and Marian Gerhard.

All of the girls will receive an assortment of gifts as added awards. Miss Reidenbaugh will be given $100 in cash, a 3-speed (Continued on Page 16)

Former Band Members Will Play Saturday

Musicians of yesteryear again will march during the historical parade this Saturday when approximately 60 former members of the Lititz Band again will don uniforms.

The plan to have former local musicians march again was developed by John Smith, who recently mailed cards to all former band members. Approximately 30 showed up for a rehearsal in the Springs Park Monday evening, with approximately 30 more agreeing to show up in time for Saturday's march.

Local Retailers All Dolled Up In Their Gay Nineties Costumes

Local businessmen and women were giving the Ye Olde Bargain Days a realistic flavor here this week by wearing costumes which were popular many, many years ago. These costumes will be worn in the stores here Friday and Saturday. Those shown above, left to right, are: Harry Essig, of Glassmyer's, his daughter, Deborah; and Mrs. Essig; Simon Fickinger, local jeweler, and Mrs. Fickinger; Mrs. Monroe Wonder, of McElroy's; Joseph B. Hess, local haberdasher, and his brother, James Hess.

Chicken Barbecue Ready For 12,000 Patrons Saturday

Another event of the Bi-Centennial is likely to establish a new record locally this Saturday—and that is the Chicken Barbecue to be held in the Lititz Springs Park from noon until the supply is gone!

But the supply is going to really be a big one, members of the Lititz Rotary Club, sponsoring this event, announced. Arrangements have been made to have 12,000 broilers available, if the demand proves that great.

The barbecue will be put on by members of the Lancaster County Poultry Association and, for the first time, will be served cafeteria style. Persons eating in the park will be able to purchase chickens, complete meals or parts of meals, it was explained.

Bi-Centennial Plates Still Are Available

When the present supply of Bi-Centennial Commemorative plates are exhausted, there will be no more! This was the announcement made this week by members of the Lititz Lions Club, who are sponsoring the sale of the plates.

Plates can be purchased at Stroble's Barber Shop, Benner's Drug Store, General Sutter Hotel, Keller's Gift Shop, Simcock's Electrical Store, Mac's and Miller's Service Stations, C. S. Zartman's and at the Bi-Centennial Headquarters.

Bi-Centennial

Two hundred years ago
Are not so far away.
For one who measures time
It is but yesterday.

Each new day blazed a trail
That was not trod before
And night-fall found its men
En route to either peace or war.

And sometimes miracles
Crashed into life's small span
Then homage would be paid
Such spark, by lauding man.

Soon time would leave no trace
Save in its Histories
Of what each gave to us
For future planned posterities.

But every now and then
A man to life is come
To carry forth God's plan
So Progress' wheels can hum.

Look 'round you here today
As we write on life's pages
Enacted promises
To past and future ages.

—Selina Cox.

A Revival of Spirit

For many months past, a good-sized group here has been planning and preparing for the Bi-Centennial Celebration which gets underway here today. Those months have presented many problems, the usual amount of bickering and differences of opinion. Especially in the early days.

But as the work progressed, so did the spirit of co-operation develop. Our experience was probably normal for small-towns putting on such celebrations. Whether the awakening of a spirit of community effort such as we have seen here during the past six weeks is normal, we don't know. All we do know is that it has been a mighty healthy thing for Lititz.

And whether the celebration makes money, breaks even or goes into the red is not important. If we can continue that community spirit, we'll have accomplished plenty. And right here and now, we're predicting that we not only will continue the spirit shown but will continue to develop it further.

Lititz is definitely on the march!

The Water Authority

Council's action taken last week in voting to establish a water authority, as reported in the Record-Express, was a mighty important one. Frankly, we personally don't favor the indiscriminate forming of authorities. Authorities are aimed at getting around the rather antiquated laws restricting municipal debts.

Au authority can borrow any amount and can do it without first obtaining the approval of the voters. We admit that authorities are important because we never would have obtained either our borough sewerage disposal system or the Warwick Union High School Building if it had not been financed through authorities set up for this purpose.

But authorities, once formed, are almost the law unto themselves. Authority members do not have to come back to council or the people for approval for anything, but can go right ahead and float loans for whatever they feel is to the interest of the community. And that's a lot of authority, no matter what yardstick you use.

We're not saying the Water Authority should not be formed. But we do emphasize the need for a thorough study of the situation and the selection of men and women to serve on this authority who have the best interest of the community at heart.

For in that authority's actions will come a healthy future—or economic chaos.

What Poor Assessing Does

Warwick Union School Directors are learning the cost of poor and inefficient assessing. At the last meeting, directors were startled (to make the prize understatement of the week) to learn that they were expected to exonerate a total of $18,000 in assessments from Warwick Township alone!

Further discussion brought out that a former assessor, who received much publicity during his short term in office, had included several of the properties as much as three times. Others had been shoved up to twice their former valuation with the result that county officials ordered them reduced again.

But, the sorry part of this is, the tax-rate was fixed on the size of the total assessed valuations on all properties, with the result that this huge exoneration sets up a nice little deficit.

That is the way with assessments not correctly levied. And that is why all Lancaster County assessments should be equalized just as quickly as possible.

"Mid the Turmoil"

What's so rare as a nice day in June!

For weeks the ol' side porch was too chilly for comfortable outdoor eating and now the durned thing's too hot. Right now we're working on a side porch air-conditioner.

But heat or no heat, it didn't prevent us from stirring up a treat of treats Monday morning—an onion omelet. And that's really eatin' even if most of our customers did step back a foot or two every time we tried to sell an ad the rest of the day.

Next time you're in Lancaster, pick up a phone and dial "77". You'll hear how the young gal sounded the first time she was kissed. Nope, it won't work on the local dials—we know, we tried every conceivable combination!

Playboy: Heel of fortune.

Golfer at Overlook the other day: "Do you mind if I play through, I just heard that my wife has been taken seriously ill."

Yep, and we know a couple of local golfers who won't get the point of that joke, either!

The other day our old friend Walt Foust, warden out at the county jail, happened to remark to one of the prisoners that he soon would celebrate his twentieth anniversary as warden. "Why don't you have Open House?", the fellow asked.

We're old enough to finally realize that women aren't always right—but they're never wrong.

If anybody had the idea that Raleigh Tozer's job as director of the pageant is a cinch he surely changed his mind after Sunday afternoon's rehearsal was carried all over town via the amplifier.

We had planned to go to the spectacle Sat'dy night but we'll have to change our tickets to tonight. By Sat'dy we'll have heard the whole thing twice just asittin' on our side porch.

One thing the bi-cen. has done, it's developed quite a few talented radio speakers among local businessmen who've been called upon to appear daily on either radio or TV. Yep, and after Dave Arnold appeared on TV the other day, half a dozen Hollywood scouts tried to convince him he should tryout for the movies, or so one of our operatives tells us!

The other day Mac was trying to sell some hair tonic. "Last week I dropped some on my comb," he explained, "and this week it's a brush."

That Mac!

After reading over the list of old-timers coming back for the banquet Sat'dy night, we figure they're going to have a heck of a time getting the hand-shaking stopped in order to start the program.

Our Wide-Wide-World: More Warner-Lambert expansions are in the air and these definitely include Lititz in the planning... W-L stock hit 48 last week, showing what others think of this company... Donnie Reidenbaugh is getting a big kick out of London this summer... his mother, dad and sister picked up their passports last week but still caim they're not making the trip this year... could be... Mary Bechtel has quite a reputation for strawberry jam... yep and ditto for the neighbor who handed a jar over the fence Sunday morning... but frankly, we're awatin' for limars and roastin' ears... as for local business conditions, it's beginning to look as though the Bi-Cen's going to make money after all!

One thing the Bi-Cen. has done for this colyuum—it's kept politics and vacations in the background. But come next week and we get a coupla days off, and then before you can recover from the current fussin' we'll be in the midst of leather-lung blaring and countless balloting. 'Tis a great life!

Music Note: There's one advantage in buying rock 'n roll records—when they wear out you can't tell the difference.

Annie Strumbendle says: "Girls used to wear unmentionable, but these hot afternoon, any afternoon for that matter, you can find girls downtown with scarcely enough on to mention."

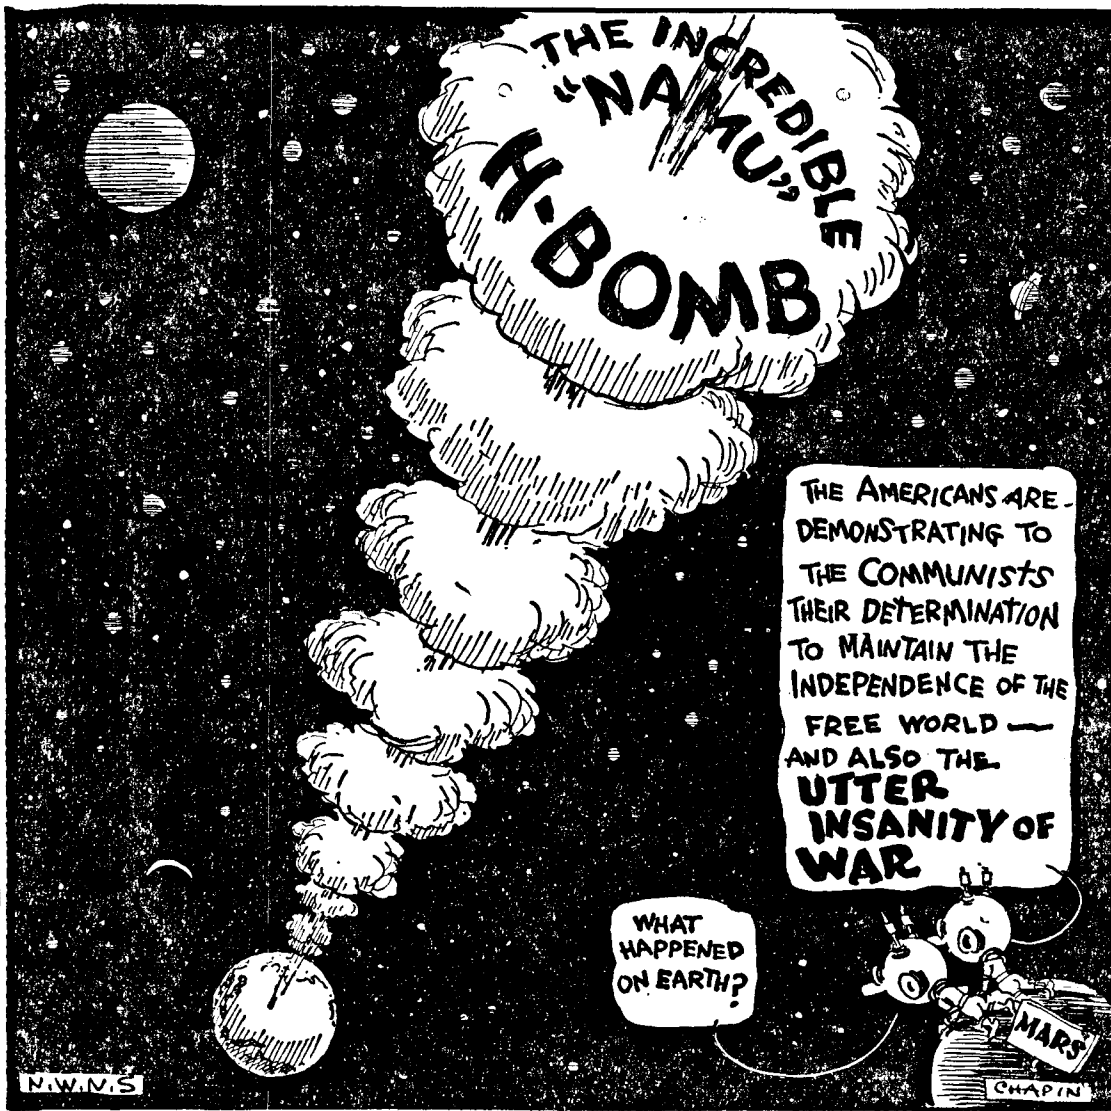

Pretzel Manufacturer: The man who makes crooked dough and still remains within the law.

The other afternoon the American Rescue Workers were going about town collecting funds. A young fellow approached Minnie and asked for a donation "for the Lord." "How old are you?" Minnie asked. "Twenty-two," the fellow replied. "Well," Minnie replied, "I'm 75 and I'll be seeing Him before you, so I'll hand it to Him myself."

Assistant Postmaster Ed Bear dug out an old but mighty fine silk bowler hat which his dad wore many, many years ago. The hat is one of the finest specimens of fine hatwear to be unearthed since the Bi-Centennial revived interest in this sort of thing.

Inside the hat band Ed found two letters addressed to his dad and postmarked 1880". The one was a letter from a Harrisburg hotel confirming the reservation for a room priced at $1.25 per day, plus 25c extra if logs were provided for the fireplace.

But, pardon us, we're in a hurry to memorize the bi-cen. schedule of events.

This sort of thing only happens once in 200 years—and we don't want to miss a thing!

Harold Zander tells us the Bi-Centennial Plates are not selling as rapidly as expected. We can't understand this as those plates are as fine commemorative plates as we have seen issued anywhere. Our prediction is that after the present supply is gone, then everyone will suddenly want them. Those plates will be valuable one of these days, or we miss our guess. Better get yours today!

Moore Training At Bryan Field

Bryan Air Force Base, Texas—Gerald Jason Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl D. Mathers, 327 East Second Ave., Lititz, Pa., and a senior Franklin and Marshall ROTC cadet, is enrolled in a four week summer training unit at this jet pilot training base.

Cadet Moore, along with 188 other future Air Force officers, will observe all major units of an Air Force base in actual operation. Too, he will make indoctrination flights in the T-33 (F-80) jet trainer.

The summer encampment is a required course for all college and university ROTC personnel prior to receiving Air Force commissions upon graduation next year.

This year's training will end July 14.

LOCAL WOMEN SERVING ON THEATER GUILD

Mrs. Paul G. Hess and Mrs. Gerard Evenwel, both of this borough, are serving on the committee of the Senior Theater Guild which is assisting in the promotion of better summer theater in Lancaster County. Mrs. Robert A. Smith, Ephrata RD2, chairman of the committee, will have a "one woman show" at Weaver's Restaurant in August.

Vaitl-Frey Wedding Saturday At Manheim

Miss Virginia Romaine Frey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Frey, Lititz RD2, became the bride of Johannes Vaitl, son of Johannes Vaitl, Lititz RD2, Saturday at 4 p.m., in Ruhl's Evangelical United Brethren in Christ Church, Manheim. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Harry Tobias.

Mrs. Alvin Mease, Lexington, presented an organ recital preceding the ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her father. Mrs. Paul Brumbaugh, Lititz RD4, was matron of honor; and Mrs. William Darlington, Lititz RD2, and Mrs. Kenneth N. Seltzer, Penryn, sister of the bride, served as bridesmaids.

Flower girl was Miss Betty Jane Frey, also a sister of the bride. Paul Brumbaugh, this borough, was best man. Ushers were Kenneth N. Seltzer, Penryn, brother-in-law of the bride, and Carl Seppi, Lititz RD2.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Bricker-ville Fire Hall, after which the couple left for Atlantic City. Upon their return they will reside at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride is a graduate of Warwick Union High School,

SCANNING THE NEWS

THE REA and the TVA both won close and unexpected victories in Congress recently, the first in several years for these two organizations which provide cheaper power to farmers and to both farmers and business in the Tennessee valley area.

Over the determined battle of private utility lobbyists, the Senate passed a bill which gives the State of New York right to harness the waterpower of Niagara Falls for electric power, and gives coops and municipally owned utilities first chance to buy this electric power.

Over in the House a conference committee voted to up-hold House action, which would give TVA authority to invest its profits in new generating capacity to meet increased demands from REA coops and other business firms in the Tennessee Valley system. The conference committee vote broke a month-long deadlock, when Senator Young, North Dakota, switched to the TVO side, off-setting a vote against TVA by Senator Ellender, of Louisiana.

For several years the fight has been going on in and out of the Congress for the right to control the tremendous power potential of the Niagara Falls. During previous Congresses, the House voted to give it away to five large electric companies. Other less direct attempts have been made to turn the project over to New York State, but under conditions favorable to monopoly control by private utilities. The "Public Preference Clause" was offered by Senator Lehman, New York, with his colleague, Senator Ives, New York, opposing the section giving first chance to coops and municipally owned electric plants.

On the key issue, Senator Lyndon Johnson, Majority leader in the Senate made the vote a party issue and he rallied 48 votes against killing the bill, with Senators Byrd and Robertson, of Virginia, and Holland, of Florida, voting on the Republican side, and Senators Aiken, Vermont; Smith, Maine; Case, New Jersey; Langer, North Dakota and Kuchel, California, crossing over to the Democratic side. Something like 175,000 farmer-members of REA Coops live within transmission distance of Niagara Falls, many beyond the borders of New York State.

The National Council of Farmer Cooperatives has urged the Department of Agriculture to increase the appropriation for the Farmer Cooperative Service to an amount sufficient "to bring the Service on a par with the increases which have been consistently made in recent years in other research agencies of the Department."

Homer L. Brinkley, executive vice-president of NCF, told Secretary Benson the present farm cost-price squeeze is the great central fact in our modern economy as it affects agriculture.

"Our need is real and growing," he said. "We can see no reason why this service should be considered in any different light than any other of the services in a similar field of work. All research and service is designed to serve the needs of farmers. Cooperatives are merely a conduit through which this particular Service can and should serve the broad needs of farmers in the marketing and purchasing fields."

Lititz. The bridegroom is employed by the State Highway Department.

MRS. IDA HOSTETTER SHIRK

Services were held on Monday afternoon at the late residence of Mrs. Ida Hostetter Shirk, Oregon, Lititz RD3, mother of Mrs. S. R. Posey, S. Broad St., who died Thursday, June 21, at 5:20 a.m., at her home after an illness of three weeks. Born in Manheim Twp., a daughter of the late John and Susan Johns Hostetter, she resided in the Oregon area her entire lifetime. Her husband died 42 years ago.

Surviving, in addition to Mrs. Posey, is a son, John H. Lititz RD3; five grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren.

Interment was made in the Shirk Family Cemetery.

LITITZ — PENNA.

CYPRUS HOT SPOT . . . British soldiers erect barbed wire barricade between Greek and Turkish sectors of Nicosia where violence threatens.

From Out Of The Past

Taken from the Files of the Lititz Record and the Lititz Express.

TEN YEARS AGO June 27, 1946

Next week will be vacation week in Lititz. With all major industries closing down their plants for at least one week, it was estimated today that approximately 85 per cent of local industrial workers will leave their jobs for their first post-war vacations.

Lititz will celebrate its first peace-time Independence Day in five years on Thursday, when the community will be host to what is expected to be the largest crowd to attend the Springs Park observance in the more than a century in which celebrations have been held. As in the past several years the crowning of the Queen of the Candles, surrounded by her court of beautiful local girls will prove one of the many colorful features of the day. This year's queen is Miss Margaret Grosh, and members of her court are: Wilma Brubaker, Dolores DeVerter, Doris Eckert, Miriam Haldeman, Floy Keller, Diane Muth, Helen Rudy, Nancy Scharfe, Betty Strauss, Barbara Wissler and Nadine Yerger.

Henry T. Muth was installed as President of the Lititz Rotary Club and briefly outlined plans for the coming year. A review of the past year's activities, which included the establishment of a student loan fund by the club, was presented by the retiring president, Glenn McElroy. Mr. McElroy was given a past-president's pin, the presentation being made by John Hershey.

TWENTY YEARS AGO July 2, 1936

Rev. Byron K. Horne was installed as president of the Lititz Rotary Club for the coming year at the weekly meeting Tuesday evening at the Sutter Hotel. He succeeds Prof. M. C. Demmy who turned the gavel over to him following the dinner. As his last official act, Mr. Demmy received Henry Sturgis, pretzel baker, as a new member of the club.

Band concerts, the unique candle display and some of the finest fireworks ever touched off here will feature the annual celebration of the Fourth of July in the Springs Park. The Keystone Band of Rohrerstown—an outfit of musicians and soloists, will be the feature attraction of the day and will play from morning until night. In the evening, the park will be lighted by the glow of thousands of candles, a sight that is to be found nowhere else, and to cap the day, fireworks supplied by Rebman of Lancaster, will be discharged.

Damage of about $100 was caused to a small room on the second floor of the Hershey & Gibbel building on the Square. The flames were confined to the room by the Lititz Fire Company and none of the offices of the company suffered damage. Owen Hershey got a free singe during the fire when he opened a door and the flames seared his hair and eyebrows. He went to G. H. Pennypacker, the barber, and asked what could be done about it. George replied that it was as good as he could do it. Domer Brenner, F. H. Longenecker, R. L. Templeton and W. E. Ringer report a large catch of bluefish on a trip to Ocean City, Md.

THIRTY YEARS AGO July 1, 1926

Hon. G. G. Diehm, among other representatives at Harrisburg, received an invitation from the Mayor of Philadelphia to attend the official opening of the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition in Philadelphia on Monday, July 5. President Coolidge will speak at the Stadium. The guests will be taken on a trip around the grounds and over the Delaware River bridge, which will also be officially opened that day. Mr. Diehm intends going to Philadelphia as a guest of the mayor. Their headquarters will be at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

The Moravian Ushers picnic was held at Penryn Park last Thursday. Features were a chicken and waffle supper, a ball game and other contests.

Owen Hershey accompanied a number of Lancaster men to Atlantic City last week, traveling in a Pierce-Arrow parlor car bus. They looked over a tract of land 5 miles from Atlantic City with the idea of forming a syndicate to purchase it. The majority of the men were of the opinion that the land was too dear, considering the distance from the resort.

Shooting of fire-crackers and other noise producing effects, small fireworks, etc., will be allowed in this borough Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Monday. Naturally caution and common sense should be used to avert accidents and fires. Policeman Kreider has issued a warning that imitation pistols shooting blank cartridges, are prohibited and store keepers are not allowed to sell these pistols under penalty of $300. These pistols will be taken from all persons seen with them.

FORTY YEARS AGO June 29, 1916

The members of the Moravian Church choir had a pleasant evening to themselves last Thursday, when they assembled in the Linden Hall gym, where they tried their skill in bowling, which was followed by a delicious luncheon, which was enjoyed by all.

With the robins carrying the cherries off, the many rains spoiling the strawberries and the snails, bugs and worms eating up the garden vegetation, the good housewife looks at her empty fruit jars and sees a rainbow because it is all occurring when the price of sugar is almost out of sight.

Mrs. Caroline Becker, residing at Pine Hill, has the oldest horse in this vicinity as far as known. The animal is thirty-five years of age and is able to make short trips, frequently appearing on the streets of town, appearing almost white. On Wednesday, Harry Becker, a grandson of the owner, drove to town with the equine for the purpose of having him clipped, which was done by Jacob Erb at Frank Badorf's livery stable. Automobiles may be replacing the horses, but it's a safe wager that none of them will be in running order at the end of the thirty-five years of service.

Dr. J. E. Charles, of Philadelphia, took possession of the Fry drug store and dwelling last Friday and moved into the residence part this week, coming from Philadelphia by auto-truck with his furniture.

On Saturday the court granted a charter to the Young Men's Business League of this place. Following are the officers: President, G. G. Diehm; Treasurer, J. H. Breitigan; secretary, Elam E. Habecker; directors, H. E. Eby, M. H. Yoder, H. J. Pierson, S. C. Hassler, C. E. Lane and W. H. Muth.

FIFTY YEARS AGO June 29, 1906

The obituary of the strawberry can now be written and the birth notice of the mulberry and gooseberry is being inserted in the papers. Serious disturbances will be brewing soon in the neighborhood of the small boy. The green apple will maintain its reputation of turning things inside out and upside down.

Reports reach us that this borough has the proud (?) distinction of owning half a dozen or so boys nearing the twenties who utterly refuse to work. They rely upon their hard-working parents for their meals and idle away their time by playing cards under shade trees or stealing rides on freight trains. Their parents are unable to exert any influence over them and are at the point of taking legal steps for the betterment of affairs. Unless these young men men their ways very soon the Record will be called upon to chronicle the future proceedings as they appear on the dockets of the proper authorities.

The hand-organ man was around on Tuesday and tarried long and often. So much so that people tired of the music, which was mostly old.

Hereafter the "opened by mistake" will be a mistake that will cost $200. The post office department has ruled that mail must be looked over before leaving the office, and that any letter put in your box by mistake must be returned before leaving the post office under a penalty of $200 for failure to do so.

SIXTY YEARS AGO June 25, 1896

So long as the bicycle craze lasts there will be no return of the bustle. Bustles and bicycles don't go well together.

Bear & Long have erected a large new shed for the storage of lumber in the dry.

During a high wind at Columbia on Sunday fifty men and boys who were bathing in the Susquehanna River narrowly escaped drowning and their clothing was carried away. At Kissel Hill three wheelmen were blown off their bicycles, Gilbert Wiley being injured.

Last Sunday afternoon a heavy wind storm arose, which tore branches of trees and caused some alarm among people who were out of doors at the time. In front of the residence of James Sturgis was tied Wesley Bruckhart's horse. Overhead a large limb broke off a linden tree and fell down right on the horse, almost covering him with its size. The horse was somewhat frightened, but soon seemed to realize the situation and quieted down. The heavy part of the branch landed between the horse and the buggy, but had it hit the top it would certainly have been broken.

On Saturday there were about 700 people present to witness the races on the Warwick track. The track was in splendid condition and the racing came up to the expectations of the many spectators. Peanut vendors, puppet shows and ring-the-cane were some of the side attractions, but none of these seemed to do much of a business.

The stores of Lititz will close at noon on July 4th. Patrons will please bear this in mind.

OVER SIXTY CLUB ATTENDS GRETNA PLAY

The "Over Sixty" Club met at the Recreation Center on Monday evening and after dessert went to Mt. Gretna to see the play, "The Remarkable Mr. Pennypacker." This was the last meeting of the season, the next meeting will be in September and all fall and winter meetings are scheduled for the second Monday in the month. Fifteen members attended, and they were accompanied by Mrs. William Walker.

Mrs. Howard Redcay and Mr. and Mrs. William Biugeman, who were observing their sixth wedding anniversary.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER FOR LOIS REEDY

A miscellaneous shower was held on Friday evening in honor of Miss Lois Reedy at the home of Mrs. Frank Peters, Laurel Ave., with Mrs. Amos Kreider, of Lancaster, as co-hostess. Miss Reedy will become the bride of Rev. C. Gerald Blake, of Scranton, later in the season.

Give Visitors A Warm Welcome Burgess Advises

To the residents of Lititz:
After over a year of hard work and many committee meetings, we are now ready for our Bi-Centennial Celebration. Everyone has been, and still is working hard to make this celebration a history-making success.

During this celebration we expect many thousands of out-of-town visitors who in many instances will be seeing Lititz for the first time. The courtesy which we show to these visitors will make a lasting impression upon them.
Therefore, I would like to suggest to everyone that they give our visitors a real welcome to our community, pointing out the places of interest to them and showing them every courtesy. This will be especially important relative to the parking of cars.

I hope that everyone will permit parking in front of their homes, particularly where you have a driveway or a garage in the back of your home where you can park your car. This will be very important on Saturday, June 30th, when we expect our biggest crowd to see the parade.
All parking lots in Lititz are being made available free of charge and they will be properly marked. In addition, you can help a great deal by permitting people to park in front of your home. I suggest, if possible, you leave your car at home at least until after the parade is over and all streets are again open for traffic.

We are noted for our strong religious background and during the Bi-Centennial Celebration we all will have an opportunity to practice the "Golden Rule." Let us all remember to treat those who visit our community the same way that we would like to be treated if we were visiting theirs.
Ben. Forrest Burgess

JAMESON'S RETURN AFTER HONEYMOON

Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Jameson have returned to their home in Auburndale, Florida, after coming north on their wedding trip. They visited Mr. Jameson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Jameson, 438 South Shippen St., Lancaster, who were formerly of this borough. The younger Mrs. Jameson is the former Joann Goss, of Florida.

Lutherans Plan Special Service For This Sunday

St. Paul's Lutheran Church will hold special services on Sunday in recognition of the 200th Anniversary of Lititz. At both the 8:15 and 10:45 services, the pastor, Rev. Francis R. Bell, will preach a sermon dealing with the historical and religious background of Lititz and the challenge of the future, its opportunities and the responsibilities of Christian citizens in the community. Mrs. William Stauffer will be the soloist at the 10:45 service.

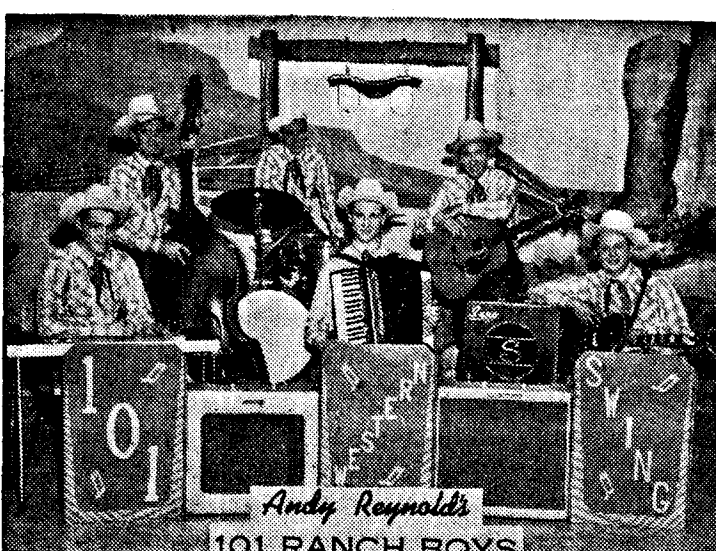

As a feature of the Anniversary Service the Lutheran award in Scouting, the Pro Deo et Patria award, will be presented to Ronald Good. Ronald has been working to achieve this award for the past two years as an Explorer Scout. The requirements for the award specify that the scout render one hundred and fifty hours of service to his church, practice his religious duties, learn facts about his own church and complete a special project. As his project he constructed a map of Lititz with varied colored pins marking the residence of members of the church and church school. Ronald will read the scripture lessons at the services on Sunday.

The two Scout units of the congregation, Boy Scout Troop 44 and Cub Pack 144, will attend the 10:45 Service as groups, sitting in a reserved section in the front of the church.

At a special service for the Baptism of Infants held last Sunday afternoon, the following children were received in Church membership:

- Michael Bruce Gerfen, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gerfen.
- Jeffrey Lynn Groff, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Groff.
- Julie Lynn Keath, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Keath.
- John Richard Kreider, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Kreider.
- Cynthia Anne McGarvey, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. McGarvey.
- Scott Allan Shaub, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Shaub.
- Jody Kay Simmons, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Simmons.
- John Henry Steffy, III, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Steffy, Jr.
- Dennis Lee Usner, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Usner.
- Debra Ann Wolfe, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney L. Wolfe.

TO BROADCAST FROM PARK SATURDAY

Andy Russell and his 101 Ranch Boys will originate a nationwide radio broadcast from the bandshell in the Springs Park this Saturday morning from 9:30 to 11 a.m. The program of western songs and instrumental music will be broadcast over the A.B.C. network. The group is one of the most famous of western singers and records regularly on Columbia records. Their personal appearance here came as a surprise on the bi-centennial program.

MRS. GEORGE CLELAND
Mrs. Jeannie Duff Cleland, eighty, widow of George Cleland, died at the home of her son, James Cleland, 6:30 S. Broad St., at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday of coronary occlusion.
She was born in Dufftown, Scotland, a daughter of the late George and Margaret Stables Duff and was a resident of this borough for the past eight years. She was formerly of Westbury, Long Island, N. Y., and was a member of the Lewis Avenue Congregational Church, Brooklyn, N. Y.
Surviving are two sons: George Cleland, Larchmont, N.Y., and James Cleland, with whom she resided. Also surviving are five grandsons. She was the last of her immediate family.
Friends may call at the Beck Funeral Home this evening from 7 to 8:30 o'clock. Services with Rev. Carl J. Helmich officiating will be held following the viewing. Interment will be in Evergreens Cemetery, Brooklyn, N.Y. tomorrow, June 29.

FROM OUT OF THE PAST INTO THE PRESENT

In addition to handling jewelry—watches—clocks—diamonds—and such-like, Harry Wertch always had a secondary interest in things photographic. He liked to take pictures and to sell cameras. And he was one of the first to do photo-finishing work for amateur photographers, having installed a complete commercial dark-room in the store basement. And in the summer months he also did considerable advertising on cameras. Here's an advertisement that he ran in The Record of July 2, 1936—just twenty years ago:

"Your Vacation is incomplete without a camera. It need not be an expensive camera at that. Cameras—$1.00 - $1.50 - $2.00 and up. Wertch, Jeweler."
When I took over the Wertsch business a few years ago, I quickly discovered that the camera business was an entirely different thing than it had been in earlier years. The tremendous increase in the number of styles in cameras—the adding of all kinds of technical features and gadgets—the tremendous enlarging of the price range—all these things convinced me that selling cameras was a business that required a lot more specific knowledge and experience than I or the good wife could bring to bear on it. We do sell a camera now and then—and we guarantee it to be a good value for the money—but we do not go after this business in a big way. Neither do we finish pictures in the basement. But we do take your films and have them finished at one of the best shops in Lancaster—Coe's to be explicit. And we do give fast service. Our charges are no more than you would pay at Lancaster. Some day we will be out of the camera selling business entirely—except for the photo-finishing—simply because we feel that we cannot give our customers the kind of selling help that they are entitled to when they invest considerable money in a modern camera. In short, we aim to stick to our jewelry business, in which we know we can be of real service to the people of Lititz and vicinity. But don't forget, we will always be glad to take care of your photo-finishing work—and there's a door slot through which you can drop your rolls of film any time you are downtown.
SIMON T. PICKINGER, Jeweler.

URGES MERCHANTS TO KEEP WINDOWS LIGHTED

Barton L. Sharp, chairman of the committee on antique window displays, has urged all merchants showing these collectors' items, keep their window lights burning each night while the antiques are on display.

PLAN PENRYN SUPPER

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Penryn Fire Company will hold a chicken corn soup supper Saturday, July 14. Sandwiches, pie, coffee, soft drinks and ice cream will be sold.

13 Will Be Honored At Banq'et

Thirteen residents and former residents of Lititz who have gone forth and gained renown and acclaim in their various pursuits, will be honored during the Home-Coming banquet being held this Saturday evening at the Warner-Lambert Company building here under auspices of the Bi-Centennial Committee.

Certificates pointing out their achievements will be presented to each of the honored thirteen by Dr. Byron K. Horne, who will serve as master of ceremonies at the banquet. The thirteen to be honored represent fields of Law, Government, Ornithology, Orthodontics, Medicine, Veterinary Medicine, Education, Television, Science, Religion, Military, Business and Service.

Many notables also will be present, it was indicated this week. Former Governor Albert Driscoll, president of Warner-Lambert, Tuesday cabled Elmer Bobst from India. In the cable, Driscoll declared he was flying home immediately in order to be able to attend the banquet along with Bobst.

Another guest of Elmer Bobst's significantly will be General Leonard Sheele, Surgeon General of the United States Public Health Service.

Folks attending the banquet are urged to come as early as 5 p.m., in order to view the plant and renew acquaintances with several hundred former residents who will make up the 700 to 800 to attend. By increasing the number of dinners ordered from the caterer, the committee is able to offer a few more tickets for sale, it was announced yesterday. No tickets will be sold at the banquet.

The banquet program includes singing of the National Anthem by Mildred Young; invocation by Rev. Carl Frederick; greetings by Judge Joseph B. Wissler; introduction of Lynn Reidenbaugh, Bi-Centennial Queen. Albert Ebbert will lead the singing. The program will be featured by a closing address by Mr. Bobst.

The family of Mr. and Mrs. John Steffy tendered their mother a surprise birthday supper in the yard of the Steffy home on Sunday evening.

Leave For Michigan

Three local Girl Scouts who will attend the National Senior Girl Scout Roundup at Highland, Michigan, are, left to right: Loraine Miller, Nina Strobic and Brooke Minnich.

3 Local Girls Will Attend Scout Round-up

Three Senior Girl Scouts will leave this afternoon for the National Senior Roundup to be held in Highland, Michigan June 29 to July 11th. These girls along with thirty eight other girls will represent Lancaster County Council. The girls were selected last fall and since then have been trained by the Roundup training committee.

This will be the largest outdoor gathering of girls in history. Five thousand girls and one thousand adults are expected. The girls will be between the ages of 14 and 18 and will come from every state, as well as from Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the Panama Canal Zone.

There will be girls from Canada, Denmark, Norway, Great Britain, the British West Indies, and one patrol of Girl Scouts from Mexico City.

The encampment will last for 12 days and it will practically turn the 5,200 acres of Michigan State Park, which once was the estate of Edsel Ford into a city of 2,980 tents. The purpose of the roundup is to give teen-age girls, through travel, new friends. The theme is based on a greater appreciation of American tradition and heritage.

LOCAL LAMBERT EMPLOYEES IN NEW YORK FOR TRAINING

Miss Gladys Beamesderfer and Mrs. Ruth Johnson of this borough, are spending some time at the New York office of Warner-Lambert receiving training on a new type of comptometer which will be used at the local office of the company as soon as deliveries can be made by the manufacturer.

Boro Drops Change On New Street

A petition signed by all of the property owners on New Street, requesting Borough Council not to dead-end the street at the Locust Street bridge, was presented at a special meeting of Council on Monday evening.

Council had previously contacted residents of the street asking whether they would object to closing the street in order to avoid an expenditure of approximately $25,000 to replace the bridge which is inadequate.

Of the twenty-seven families concerned, about 20 had representatives appear before council to explain the various reasons for opposing the proposed dead-end. All were of the opinion that such a move would lower property values; would tend to create a fire hazard in that a much-needed fire hydrant at the end of the street could not be used; would not correct the flood problem, and would definitely present a traffic hazard to the children of the area.

Eugene Dechert stated emphatically that the bridge in question would not be adequate if the borough would properly deepen the bed of the stream. In this regard Levi Yeager said that some years back he had offered to dredge the stream at a very reasonable rate if he could have the dirt, but that council at that time turned down the offer.

After considerable discussion as to ways and means of correcting the condition, council decided to abandon the closing of New Street, and will further study the suggestions of the residents of the street.

HARRY LOWE

The following were elected delegates to the State Convention to be held July 18, 19, 20 and 21 at Philadelphia: Alternates, Daniel W. Miller, Ray Burkholder, Paul Spickler, W. Roy Enck, Norman Habecker, John Linton and Elwood Erb. Wm. Henry Rose, 216 E. Second Ave., was selected to be sent by the Post to Keystone Boys Camp, to be held at Lock Haven Teachers College on June 21 to 30 inclusive.

Three hundred and sixty-three American flags were placed on graves of veterans in 21 cemeteries prior to Memorial Day.

The Post is sponsoring the American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps, York Post 127, in the Bi-Centennial Parade to be held Saturday. Commander Pontz urged all veterans to participate in the parade, regardless of whether or not they are members of the two local veterans organizations. He also urged that veterans attend the performance of "Our Wondrous Land" to be held on the Athletic Field on July 2, at 8:30 p.m. Prior to the presentation of the pageant, the program will feature an address by John Stay, State Commander of the American Legion, and Marlon Walters, State Commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Service Clubs To Hold Joint Meeting Tuesday

Members of Lititz' three service clubs and a long list of dignitaries will attend a smorgasbord to be held in the Springs Park Tuesday evening at 6 p.m., as a part of the Good Neighbors Day program.

The meeting is being sponsored by the Rotarians, who have invited members to the Lititz Lions Club and the Lititz Chapter of the American Business Club as their guests. Former Rotarians will include Claude E. Marble, first president of the club now living at Little Britain, Conn.

Dr. T. M. Thompson, of Elizabethtown, district governor of Rotary International; Arthur Greiner, district governor of Lions International; F. F. Bailey, former district governor of Lions; Wayne Strasburg, past national president of A.B.C., and Frank Badorf, district ABC governor, also have been invited to attend.

MRS. DOSTER

(Continued from Page 1) On Tuesday, Mrs. Doster, accompanied by Mrs. Willis Bucher, Mrs. Lloyd Miller, Mrs. Bertram Musser and Bobby Doster, went to work on the island in the Lititz Springs stream and within a few hours, this too, had been transformed into a spot of beauty with the same red, white and blue theme.

"This really is a tribute to my grandfather, Henry Bomberger, who was a seventh generation descendent of Christian Bomberger," Mrs. Doster explained later. "He was a historian, and a former member of borough council."

Beautification of the fountain plot attracted much favorable attention here during the past few days with the result that the suggestion already has been made that the fountain be decorated in this manner every Spring.

Taking special pride in the improvement, borough police indicated that if this is not done by some organization or group—that they will see that it is done!

Mrs. Marie Walter To Fly To California Sat.

Mrs. Marie H. Walter, of 10 South Spruce Street, will leave this Saturday for a two months' trip to California. Boarding a plane at the Philadelphia Municipal Airport, she will fly to Los Angeles where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. Charles M. Musser.

She also plans to visit her brother, Ray Hoover, of Arcata, California, whom she has not seen for the past 30 years; and her sister-in-law, Mrs. John E. Walter, of Manhattan, Nevada, whom she has not seen for 26 years. Mrs. Walter will return after Labor Day.

Playgr'nd Will Start Next Week

Robert E. Sutherland, the new Recreation Center director, is getting off to a flying start. Arriving here ten days ago he is already in the process of formulating a long-range program of activities in addition to the playground program which starts next week.

He intends to contact members of the various church and civic groups in the area as well as officers of the industries in an effort to better determine the needs of the community. He will also ask that these people assist him in the establishment of at least two more playground in different sections of town, similar to the one operated by the Lions Club at Second Ave. and Spruce Street.

Mr. Sutherland said that from observations he has made thus far he has concluded a five-year plan, taken step by step, will be the most feasible at this point.

To-date he has been unsuccessful in locating a suitable home for his wife and two sons who still are living at Pen Yan, N.Y., where he is commuting each week-end.

200th Service At Moravian Church Sun.

In recognition of the Bi-Centennial of the community, the morning service in the Moravian Church at 10:30 this Sunday, will be in charge of a native son of Lititz, Rev. Charles B. Adams, pastor of the First Moravian Church of York, Pa., whose sermon subject will be "Fulfilling Our Heritage."

Assisting in the service will be Chaplain Capt. John F. Hagen, U.S.N., retired, Presbyterian clergyman, now serving as chaplain of the New York Military Academy, Cornwall-on-Hudson, N. Y., and Rev. Kenneth W. Robinson, assistant pastor of the Home Moravian Church, Winston-Salem, N. C.

Mrs. Hagen is the former Miriam Hepp and Mrs. Robinson is the former Grace Snavely, both natives of Lititz.

Miss Rochelle Erb, student in the Westminster Choir College, Princeton, N.J., and a member of the congregation, will sing a solo, entitled, "The Ninety-First Psalm". Mrs. Gordon O. Trump will be at the organ.

Rev. Helmich will be in charge of the service in the First Church of York.

FIRST AID STATION WILL BE SET UP

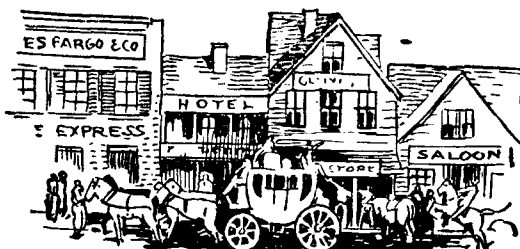

A first aid station will be set up in the parking lot at the rear of the Lititz Mutual Insurance Building during the parade Saturday. Attendants will be prepared to handle any cases of exhaustion or first aid needed.

Look In A Mirror Lately?

Ever stop to think about it? - - - A "looking-glass" can only reflect what it sees; never makes its own pictures. CAN'T BLAME THE MIRROR FOR THE SHAPE WE'RE IN!

YOUR TV SET is a mirror that reproduces only what it sees on the antenna terminals - - - can't blame the set if we give it a lousy picture to start with, - - - it's just as faithful as our mirror.

A good picture begins with a good antenna, and now is the time to have a complete overhaul if your antenna is more than two years old.

Even the best materials become worn and corroded, lead-in cables become loose and broken, guy-wire and other supports should especially be checked to avoid trouble during the coming fall and winter seasons.

Call our antenna experts now to avoid costlier winter repairs. Free estimates cheerfully given.

The Philosophers
(As overheard by John Boyd)

Well, Mrs. Veiss, tonight's the big night.
Yes, tonight we will see the big hysterical patchent at last. I am all excited like about it like a child going to the circus. I chust hope that we have good seats and it don't rain. I and Chake will stop over for you and Chorch about seven-thirty and we can walk over to the Athletic Field.
Yes, it will be better for us to walk and not have no car to bother with. Then, after it's over we will stop at our house and have some sandwiches and coffee. I have put one of my emerchency cans of imported ham from Holland in the refrigerator so it's good and cold.
Good. And after the Fourth celebration I am having a cold turkey for our sandwiches because Chake's cousin Chon Horlack and his wife Sallie are staying with us that night. They live in Philadelphia and have never seen the candle celebration.
That will be nice because if there's anything I and Chorch enchoy it's a turkey sandwich and something good and cold to drink with it.
Well, that's what we will have — as a main dish I mean. And I will guarantee that we won't go to bed hungry.
Are we having a picnic supper at the park on the Fourth like always?
Sure. We must pack a basket in the morning with all the usual things. I have such a list here and we can divide it between us.
Good. What's on the list?
Oh, the usual thing. I got — sliced cold ham and —
That's for me — and there goes another emerchency can!
Then there's rolls for sandwiches and some Leppnon boleny and a dozen hard boiled ecks and butter and I am baking a cherry pie that we can put ice cream on. Then I got Swiss cheese and celery and olives and —
Now wait — I'll tell you what we will do. Let's buy all the things on the list and divide it into half. And I will donate the ham anyway.
No — it must be divided into six parts and I and Chake must pay for four parts on account of Chake's cousins and you and Chorch will pay for chust two parts.
Well, any way you want it, and my ham donation will chust about balance your cherry pie.
What does such a can of ham cost?
I forget, but I would trade it even on one of your cherry pies.
Hmm. Well, that's up to you. So — it's all settled. It seems like when a body gets the food problem settled everything else is easy.
Yes, the food is always the hard part — and the expensive part too for that matter. But a person has got to eat three times a day irregardless of what's going on or what it costs. Are you and Chorch going on a wacation this summer?

Not together, we ain't. Chorch is going up to Canada for two weeks to go fishing and I am going to Atlantic City and take it easy in a good hotel on the Boardwalk. Why don't you go along?
What would I do with Chake? He don't want to go away to fish. That I know.
Well then, chust leave him at home. He could get his own breakfasts and get his lunch and supper at the hotel.
Well, the cheneral idear of Atlantic City would suit me fine. But not Chake. He don't like all this dressing and undressing all the time. I will talk it over with him and see what he says. How much would such a two weeks trip cost?
I don't know exactly, but not any more than a trip to Canada — and what's sauce for a duck is sauce for the gander too.
What gander?
Oh, it's chust such an expression. It means that a man should not complain about his wife spending as much on her wacation at Atlantic City as he throws away on himself to go fishing in Canada.
Oh, Chake would not begrutch

Trinity Church Lists Activities

The following activities are listed for Trinity Evangelical Congregational Church, Rev. R. C. Steinhart, pastor, Sunday, 9:30 a.m., Church School; 10:30 a.m., Morning Worship, during which time, Holy Communion will be administered. The sermon subject will be, "A Communion Meditation."

There will be no evening services during July and August, due to the Park Services.

It was announced that this Sunday will also be Missionary Sunday, and the offerings will go to the support of Trinity's special missionaries, Rev. and Mrs. Duane Ray, of Kentucky.

Rev. Steinhart stated that there will be thirteen Juniors going to the Junior Camp of the School of Methods at Waldheim Park, Allentown, July 2 to 6. Fourteen Intermediates will attend the Western District Camp, July 16 to 20, and three will attend the Senior Camp, July 23 to 27.

The Official Board meeting will be conducted on July 10.

Floyd Kauffman Injured In Accident

Floyd Kauffman, Lititz RD4, suffered a nose injury when his car ran into a ditch, struck a pole and careened into two parked cars along Route 222, one mile north of Ephrata, at 6:45 a.m. last Friday. He was treated at the Ephrata Community Hospital.

State Trooper Robert Plummer said Kauffman was driving north and about to pass a tractor-trailer when he saw a southbound auto approaching. He pulled back into line, ran into the ditch and lost control. The two parked cars, belonging to James Fryberger, Reamstown, and Clarence Spatz, Ephrata, were on the Armour egg plant premises. Kauffman's convertible was demolished and total damage was estimated by police at $3,725.

ANNOUNCE BIRTH

Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Weidler, 18 East Orange St., a son, Monday, at Lancaster General Hospital.

Take your problems to Church this week — millions leave them there!

This Oldster knows the true Value of Precision and care in filing a saw

By long experience he has learned that the craftsman who uses the saw cannot do good work unless his saw is properly set and carefully filed—that he cannot saw true to the line.

Likewise, if you would not get too far off the chalk-line of propriety—would not deviate from the path of rectitude and right living, you would do well to turn to the Church of your faith for the tried and sure truths by which you may govern your daily life.

Here, with time for contemplation and realignment of your thoughts, you may sharpen your perception and attain a course of action that leads to lasting happiness and peace.

COME TO CHURCH THIS SUNDAY AND BRING YOUR FAMILY ALONG WITH YOU. MODERN SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASSES ARE IN SESSION FOR YOUR CHILDREN. BRING THEM TO SUNDAY SCHOOL REGULARLY.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

Background Scriptures: Luke 9:28-36; Hebrews 13:9, 18-25; 1 Peter 1:1-2; 2:18-25; 2 Peter 1:1-2, 15-18; Jude, verses 3, 17, 25
Devotional Reading: Psalm 20.

Nine Letters

Lesson for July 1, 1956

THOUSANDS of Sunday schools for the next three months are going to be studying nine short but immortal letters. These letters are the forgotten parts of the New Testament, for many people. Out of the 27 "books" of the New Testament, all but five are letters. These nine—from Hebrews to Revelation inclusive—make up about 50 pages or one-sixth of the whole Testament. It would be worth the reader's while to make a special study of these letters this summer.

Perhaps all the teachers in a Sunday school could chip in and buy a commentary or two.

Letters from... No two people write quite alike. All letters bear the mark of their writers even when they are unsigned. So it is with these nine. Some of them are signed, some are not. But the writers can be told apart without any trouble. If Hebrews and James were printed together without a break, a high school student should be able to notice the difference between them. The writer of the first letter is plainly a highly educated man, a man who is keenly interested in ritual and in the history of the Hebrew people. The writer of the second is less highly educated, but a more practical man all around. Not that his advice is any better, but he loses no time getting down to particular problems. The first man is greatly interested in theology, the second is so little interested in it that his letter has worried some people like Luther, for example, who wondered whether it really belonged in the New Testament. Or again, comparing Hebrews with the letters of Paul, the reader can see why scholars are for the most part quite certain that Paul never wrote this one. It is obviously written by a different kind of man—one who used a different vocabulary, went at problems differently, constructed a letter differently, quoted the Old Testament in a different way; indeed while all of Paul's letters are carefully signed, Hebrews is not signed at all. So one may go through the rest of these letters seeing the writers through what they wrote.

Letters vary according to the persons to whom they are written. A woman writing to her mother, her husband, the tax collector and her boy at school will write four different kinds of letters. So these nine letters were written to different kinds of people. To be sure, some of them were sent to a pretty wide circle of readers (Peter for instance), but even so, that wide circle had something in common: in this case, suffering and persecution. Is it too much to suggest that the Christians John has in his mind's eye as he writes his letters are much more mature than the Christians to whom James writes his plain advice? Now the interesting thing is that the various kinds of Christians to whom these letters were addressed are matched by Christian types today. That is why one Christian will sometimes get more out of one part of the New Testament, while another Christian finds more meat in another part. And yet for all the differences there are some important likenesses, and the noticing reader will find them.

Letters about... Few if any of these letters, or any others in the New Testament, are about "things in general." They usually speak to some particular problem, situation or trouble. The New Testament does not consist of a series of theological essays neatly arranged by topics. Rather, it consists of fairly short letters speaking to certain specific problems that had been distressing the readers. Some of these problems emerged in more places than one at the same time, just as happens today. In the short passages selected for special study in most quarterlies, two problems are highlighted, as the reader will find: false teachings, and persecution. In these times in which we live, with half the world in a ferment against Christianity, and even in the "Christian" part of the world a bewildering jangle and wrangle of sects and "isms" soap-boxing all over the place—the Christian church threatened by enemies without and "crackpots" oftentimes within, who can call the New Testament's themes out of date?

Of Plug and Shell

BY John Helter

As they came to the top of the rise, the driver called a halt to the pair of oxen straining their yokes.

There before them lay a beautiful green valley. To the west, the floor of the valley widened to three and maybe four miles. Directly north of where they stood, bubbled a huge spring, guarded by majestic oak trees. The stream, bordered by sagging willows, flowed toward the east, where it tapered almost to a gutter between the rolling hills.

This is what he had been seeking. The thickets and wood patches showed signs of much game. The thick carpet of grass gave promise of food for the hungry oxen. The spring invited the weary traveler to drink, and the mighty oaks provided shade for a much needed rest.

A few hours later, with the animals out to graze, a fire laid and his wife busy preparing for the night, he decided to find meat for the meal.

A short length of cord, a willow branch and a fish hook, brought from the mighty port of Philadelphia, were in his hands as he wandered a short distance down stream.

His bait was a small worm, dug from the bank of the stream. Upon tossing the baited hook into the water, the willow branch bent almost double from the fury of the fish.

In a few minutes, he had all of the fish needed for the meal and smilingly he carried his trout, on a forked twig, back to his family.

Yes, this was the spot! Home at last!

That is the way it may have been some two hundred years ago, as Christian Bomberger settled just north of what is now the Lititz Springs.

Today, stone, brick, steel and wood in all shapes can be viewed from the same spot where my mythical settler stood.

The stream (today more properly called the ditch) of spring water, now yields only trash and muck with no signs of aquatic life.

It is almost impossible for us to realize that there was a time that one could "dip a drink" out of the Lititz Springs Creek anywhere from the head end to Millport, without fear of sickness.

I have heard Warren Stark tell of his childhood days, when he would dip a pitcher of clear, cold water from the stream near Water Street. Today (Today I would hate to drink what flows under Broad Street.)

The past decade has been the installation of a sewage treatment plant in our community. The year 1956 brought a disposal unit installed by the Morgan Paper Company. Surely both of these moves have been in the right direction.

At present, the Borough Council is in the act of forming a Planning Commission. The function of the group will be the overall planning for the betterment of our community.

What's that, you asked what this has to do with the Lititz Springs Creek?

I was just thinking, what a wonderful place for a newly formed planning commission to start!!!

Town Team Clings To Slim Lead In League

The Lititz Ball Club retained a half game lead over E-town and Mountville by splitting two games with Strasburg on Saturday and Sunday.

Strasburg is now only one game off the pace in the City-County League.

After winning Saturday's game 7 to 5 the locals couldn't get started on Sunday at Strasburg and they were clobbered 11 to 0.

Dietzel and Garman shared the pitching chores for Melly with Freddie being charged with the loss.

Strasburg gave their mound ace Bob Montgomery errorless support while rapping Lititz pitching for 17 hits.

Saturday's Game

A scrappy, determined Strasburg extended to the limit an equally scrappy and determined Lititz team in a sweltering two-and-a-half hours on Saturday afternoon on the Athletic Field before Melly's Men subdued them 7 to 5.

It looked like a local breeze after Lititz batted around in the bottom of the third and scored six big runs.

The breeze died down when Strasburg came right back in their half of the fourth with five tallies putting them within one run of a tie.

That big third frame opened with Jake Shirk's single to left. Curt Aspril laid down a neat third base-line bunt which allowed both runners to be safe.

Two outs followed and Lou Landis walked filling the bases.

This was Ellie Kreider's spot and he cleared the bags with a booming triple to right.

Bob Herr, Strasburg's big righthander put Freddie Dietzel on with a pitch that grazed his shoulder. Freddie promptly took off with a steal of second but Chuck Borgestock took the catchers throw in front of the bag to pick off Ellie trying to score. The attempt failed when Ellie slid safely under Bob Rhineer at the plate.

Dietzel scored on Toot Landis triple and Toot came in when Borgestock bobbled Harnish's dribbler to second.

Jake Shirk came up for the second time in this frame and got his second hit — a single to short left. Aspril ended the hostilities by fanning.

An insurance run was added in the sixth on Freddie Dietzel's hit to right that went thru the fielder's legs enabling Freddie to circle the bases.

Strasburg kept plugging away and collected five runs putting the score at one time at 6 to 5.

Manager Mellinger switched his line-up in the fifth putting Ron Zangari in left and brought Ray Kreider in to play first.

Hem Sipe went to the mound and prevented further scoring.

Notes of Saturdays Game

Lem did a beautiful job of relief work. He allowed only 2 hits, gave-up 1 walk and struck out five.

Red Weidman came up with a good suggestion. The new back stop should be padded to protect the boards and the baseballs.

zStrasburg's eighth put a scare into Lititz. Joe Rhineer started with a single, followed by Lem's only walk. This to Chuck Borgestock. Three fast outs followed ending the threat.

Bill Hershey made his debut with the town team in the fifth. He was in the left field spot for a while. He deserves another chance.

Kissel Hillers Top Softballers

By Barry Kauffman

Two Warwick House home runs in the fifth inning failed to be enough as they lost to Brunnerville, and dropped from a first-place tie, on Monday in the softball league.

A five-run rally in the fifth completely sewed up the upset for the Bruins. Warwick House rallied for their four runs in the fifth on Ray Kreider's and Howard Frederick's home runs. Stauter's double and Earl Frederick's single.

Brunnerville got their runs on wildness on the part of Firestone, who gave up seven walks and hit a batter. The Bruins' only long hit was a triple by Rice which batted in their first run. They batted around twice, once in the third inning and once in the fifth.

Brunnerville outhit Warwick House, 10 to 7, although Warwick House had four extra base blows. Ray Keith was the Bruins' big hitter, going three for four.

Balmer (3-1) was the winning pitcher although he was relieved by Robert Keith. Firestone (4-2) as given the loss.

Strobes 4, Kissel Hill 6

Two long drives over the right field fence by pitcher Don Kreider enabled him and his teammates to win their fifth game in six starts last Thursday in the softball league. In the previous meeting of these teams, the Hillians won 15-4, also led by Kreider's first home run of the year.

The Strobes "nine" got their four runs on five hits, which included Homer Adams' two-run homer which cleared the left field fence. This was the second time the Kreider brothers, Ellie and Don, faced each other on the mound, this time both pitchers turning in excellent jobs.

Kissel Hill scored in each inning except the fifth, while Strobes scored twice in the third and the sixth.

Don Kreider (5-1) was given the win, while Ellie Kreider (2-3) was given the loss.

Jr. Legion Team Loses Tough One

By Barry Kauffman

The Lititz Junior Legion baseball team thus far this season has won one and tied a game in the five games in which they have participated, under the capable leadership of Russ Templeton.

In their first game, they battled Columbia to a seven-inning 0-0 tie on the home Athletic Field. The locals collected five hits before the game was halted on account of darkness.

On June 12, six errors helped Millersville to romp over the locals 12-4, again at home.

On June 14, Lititz got into the win column, as they traveled to Mt. Joy. The pounded out 12 hits to score 15 runs. Jack Zink, the starting pitcher, allowed four runs before he was relieved by Nevin Weit, who has always been effective against Mt. Joy.

Their next game was dropped at E-town, 8-3, at home. Nine errors threw away the hopes of another win for Lititz.

Last Thursday they traveled to Paradise where they lost a heart-breaker, 9-2. In the sixth, sparked by Barry Erb's home run, they rallied for six runs. However, this work was all in vain, as the game was stopped before the inning was completed, making void all their efforts.

No Game Saturday

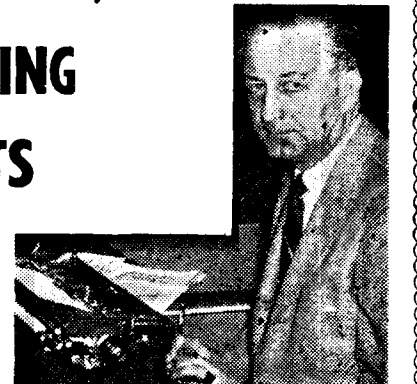

The regularly scheduled ball game between Lititz and Mountville here on Saturday has been postponed.

The outfield of the Athletic Field will be used for parking during the parade.

Four states each produced more than 10 per cent of the bituminous coal mined in the United States in 1954, namely Illinois, Kentucky, Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

REVIEWING SPORTS

BY Tom Dussinger
Record-Express Sports Editor

The guy was saying that come Fourth of July it always makes him think of the ball games out at the old ball park. There were it with a large smattering of morning and afternoon games and the old grandstand was filled.

He said he remembers how the overflow would line up along the third base line all the way out to the fence and then pour over along first base.

The rivalry in those days was keen and bitter.

Mountville, Ephrata, Manheim, and New Holland. One of them would be here on the Fourth and whichever one it was, there was always a large contingent of supporters with them.

A couple other old-timers sitting around started to call off some of the names of the players who wore a Lititz suit in those days . . .

Hal Rudy, Mont Miley, Ralph Diehm, Logan Carpenter, Chet Spickler, Murphy Spickler, Mac McCloud, Simmy Shenk and a fellow by the name of Groninger were among the many mentioned.

The tennis courts out in deep right field and the short right field fence were discussed.

A walk out there now reveals a weed patch where the "skinned" diamond used to be. The softball league has built a nice field for their games away out there where the tennis courts used to be.

The grandstand is gone these many years. So are the fences. You stand at the spot—or near it—where home plate was, and gaze around, and your thoughts go back forty years to those July 4th games.

Nowadays you can pick up any newspaper, periodical or pamphlet and you'll find an article on whether or not Mickey Mantle will or can beat Babe

Ruth's record of 60 home runs in one season.

Everybody's taking a crack at it with a large smattering of if's, and's or perhaps.

The Mick certainly has a good start towards breaking the magical 60 which the Babe has held to these 29 years. But so did Greenberg, Foxx, Hack Wilson and several others.

Red Smith summed it up some time ago when he stated that, should Mantle or anyone else later on hit more homers than the Babe did, there will still always be only one Babe Ruth.

The lustre of his brilliant career could never be dimmed.

PAINTINGS OF HISTORIC SPOTS

Three of the Bi-Centennial display of oil paintings unveiled yesterday by members of the Village Art Association are shown above. The top photo is that of an oil done by Floyd Hackman and depicts the Warwick House Public Sales which proved so popular in the nineties and shortly after the turn of the century. The center is a reproduction of an oil painting by John Wenger and shows the Square as it was decorated for the July 4th parade in 1905. The lower photo is of a painting just completed by Florence Himmelberger and shows the old Grosh Carriage Shop which stood at the present site of St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

NEED EDUCATION IN HOME, CHURCH AND SCHOOL, SAYS CIVIC LEAGUE
Washington, D.C.—The National Civic League, with headquarters at 304 F Street, N.W., held its annual meeting here on Tuesday evening (January 17) and went on record as endorsing the campaign to prohibit the serving of alcoholic beverages on passenger planes as proposed in House bills introduced by Representative Thomas J. Lane and John Bell Williams and the Senate bill (S. 2845), introduced by Senator Strom Thurmond, which also deals with liquor consumption on planes and with military aircraft.
A vote of thanks was tendered Senator Warren C. Magnuson, Chairman of the Senate Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, for hearings to be held February 15 and 16 on the Langer bill (S.923) which would prohibit advertisements of alcoholic beverages in interstate commerce and over radio and television.
Recognizing the value of the investigation into the relationship of narcotic drugs to juvenile delinquency as carried on by the subcommittee headed by Senator Price Daniel, it was contended that alcoholic beverages comprise an even greater enemy of our youth. Extensive education in the Home, Church, and School against the evils of alcoholic beverages, narcotic drugs, vice, gambling, and indecent amusements was advocated as the most effective way to combat juvenile delinquency.
Rev. E. N. Bergerstock, Th.D., of York, Pa., prominent minister and leader in the temperance movement, was re-elected President for the ensuing year.

All other officers were re-elected as follows: Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, Pastor of Marble Collegiate Church, New York, N.Y., Vice President; Dr. J. Raymond Schmidt, Washington, D.C., General Superintendent and Secretary; Miss Nellie L. Bristol, Washington, D.C., Treasurer, and Rev. Thomas E. Boorde, Washington, D.C., Member of the Board. —Reprinted from

Village Art Group Unveils Special Bi-Centennial Display
A colorful display of oil paintings of historical scenes which took place here, which has just been completed by members of the Village Art Association, was unveiled yesterday in Weaver's Restaurant.
All of the paintings are reproductions from old photographs and prints of various buildings, personalities and points of interest locally, and already has attracted much attention.
The group includes the following:

Magic Crystals Foil Perils Of Travel

Summer time means that family living—especially at mealtime—moves out-of-doors. Whether you make a long trek to a camp site, or just a Sunday jaunt into the country, you have to limit menus to foods that require little or no refrigeration and are easy to carry. This can pose a real problem in serving your family balanced meals. Because of the danger of spillage and spoilage, you'll find that fresh milk, always so necessary to family health, is one of the food essentials most frequently left behind. For example, you can't use all of your precious refrigeration space for bulky milk containers. But you can have all the proteins, calcium phosphorus, B vitamins and flavor of fresh whole milk—and without depriving other essential foods of proper refrigeration. The answer is to carry your milk not as a liquid, but in a light weight, concentrated crystal-like form, like Instant Carnation non-fat dry milk. At meal time, just mix the "magic crystals" with cold water and you have real milk nourishment to round out any out-door meal. And if you're camping, it means you can mix your morning flapjacks with milk instead of water! For short jaunts, take along the three-quart size... if you're planning a long family camping trip, carry the eight-quart family size.

PAGEANT

(Continued from Page 1) Saturday will be the big day of the celebration with spectacular events crowding one another in the busy schedule of events. At 1:30 p.m., the historical parade, consisting of 11 divisions and with 30 elaborate floats making this one of the finest parades of its kind ever presented in the state.

The parade will form on Marion Street and all streets south and east, and will move west on Second Avenue to Spruce Street, north to West Main, to the Square, north on Broad to Lincoln Avenue and then east to New, to Cedar, south on Cedar to Front, east to Locust, south Chesapeake, Chester County Y. M. C. A. Camp located on the Chesapeake Bay. He has enrolled for two weeks.

Divisions include Civic, Industrial, Commercial, Mummies, Horse and Buggy, Antique Cars, Patriotic, Official, Fire, Farm Machinery, etc. Parking will be prohibited along the route of the parade but all available parking spaces about town will be open to the public and will be plainly marked.

With thousands expected here to witness the parade, the Rotary Club is sponsoring a chicken barbecue in the park, where chicken, or entire meals, will be available to the public.

At 6 p.m., the home-coming banquet and reunion will be held in the Lambert-Hudnut Company's building on West Lincoln Avenue with approximately a thousand visitors and local residents scheduled to hear an interesting series of reminiscences and to witness the awarding of certificates recognizing residents and former residents who have been outstandingly successful in their various lines of pursuits and endeavors.

Religious Commemoration Day on Sunday will be featured with a community-wide service on the pageant stage at the Athletic Field, to be addressed by Dr. O. Walter Wagner, one of the world's outstanding theologians. The Massed Choirs of town, including a total of approximately 200 voices and led by Albert Ebbert, will present an interesting musical program along with the Lititz Trombone Choir.

With the program as arranged by the Bi-Centennial Committee, which has been functioning here for the past year and a half, ending with the pageant on Tuesday evening, the Park Committee will take over with the presentation of the 115th Independence Day celebration on July 4, with Senator J. Glenn Beall as principal speaker, the W.A.F. Band providing several musical concerts, the Pageant of Candles and a fireworks display concluding the week-long festivities.

STORE WINDOWS

(Continued from Page 1) in the display. None of the pieces were made later than 1867 and date back to the Colonial period.

Mrs. Owen Hershey has part of her collection of early Adams rose design china on display; and Mr. Hershey is exhibiting Gaudy Dutch china. R. D. Buckwalter has a display of mechanical banks; Amos Becker loaned what is believed to be the first meat grinder and was made at New Haven (Kissel Hill), Lancaster County. Mr. Becker's display also includes an assortment of primitive tools, a whiskey pump, and a cast iron wood stove.

The history of the telephone is interestingly depicted in the window of Henry Neff, the earliest of which is dated 1880. The display includes one used in Earl Twp., in 1890 between the farms of John Martin and his brother-in-law, Jacob A. Flory, a distance of 3,000 feet!

Dr. Yoder has loaned his collection of Civil War surgical instruments and early "blood-letting" pieces; Clyde Benner is showing antique pharmaceutical paraphernalia. At least two collections of Stiegel glass owned by Barton L. Sharp and Miles H. Kieffer, Manheim, are on display during the festivities and are attracting wide-spread interest in the craftsmanship of the former Manheim manufacturer.

The now-famous chair in which General Sutter posed for the oft-reproduced photograph, and currently used in the home of Richard Dull, Lancaster, has been loaned by him for display here.

Mrs. Eric Buckley, Sr., has been collection antique dolls for many years and has an interesting assortment exhibited, one of which is a very rare and very old "Rip Van Winkle" doll. There is also a window of antique toys which is bringing back memories of childhood on the part of many oldsters who see them.

Charles Krick has filled a window of his store with furniture and a clock, all made by hand right here in Lititz by Rudolph Carpenter, who lived from 1863 to 1929. The pieces are elaborately inlaid with wood shipped here from Germany. Mr. Krick is also showing some of the crude pieces of equipment used by Mr. Carpenter.

Spinning wheels, looms, flax breaker, and other wooden devices used in the "home-spun" era, together with samples of the materials made on them can be seen. Three old high-wheel bicycles are in the window of the Western Auto Store, one of which has wooden spokes. There are also several displays of gold, silver and platinum lustre ware.

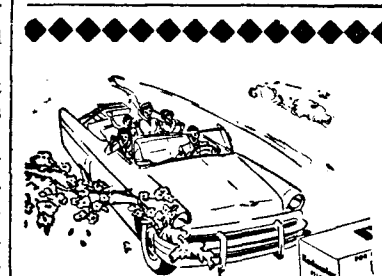

Several grandfathers clocks are being exhibited; Indian Art-craft; rare coins, some struck from California gold; antique pocket watches, at least one of which was made entirely by hand; glycerin glass ware, a flat iron dated 1771, and countless other items can be seen throughout the business section of town.

A copper tea kettle which was brought here from Germany in 1722 by Christian Bomberger, together with his Passport, are among the items being shown in Doster's window. The kettle is now owned by Lloyd Bomberger, Blossom Hill, a descendant of the early settler; and the Passport is owned by his brother, P. H. Bomberger, local banker.

ST. LUKE'S TO HOLD BI-CENTENNIAL PROGRAM

St. Luke's Evangelical and Reformed Church, Rev. Alton P. Albright, pastor, will observe Bi-Centennial Sunday at 10:45 a.m. this coming Sunday.

There will be a display of old books, Bibles, and other historical mementos which are significant of St. Luke's place in the growth of the community thru the years.
