Seek Volunteer Nurses For Ambulance Service

A Profit Is Assured By Bi-Cen Prelim. Funds Advanced By '56' Club Will Be Refunded

The Lititz Bi-Centennial Celebration definitely was a financial success — but complete figures will not be available for another week, members of the committee announced following a busy meeting Tuesday evening.

With the financial success of the celebration assured, members voted to return $100 to each of the 56 local residents and concerns who advanced $5,600 six months ago to finance the affair. Checks to each member of the "Fifty-Six Club" will be mailed this week.

After final reports are compiled, members of the Bi-Centennial executive committee will study several plans for the final disposition of the celebration profits. Projects suggested include making this the start of a fund to finance a public comfort station for Lititz, purchase of a new car for the visiting nurse, or the erection of some form of memorial.

Reports of the various committee chairmen submitted at this week's meeting were very encouraging, John Steffy, committee chairman, declared. The reports could not be completed, however, inasmuch as all bills have not yet been submitted.

Barton L. Sharp, chairman of the antique show and displays committee, turned over a check for $235 to the Bi-Centennial Committee, constituting one-half the profit earned from the antique show. A check for an equal amount has been turned over to the Lititz Recreation Center, Mr. Sharp announced.

100 Kiddies Guests Here This Summer

Approximately 100 youngsters from metropolitan New York will have been guests in homes of the Lititz area when the season ends next month, it was announced this week by Mrs. Walter Miller, Fresh Air Children's Committee chairman.

There were 43 in the first group which arrived July 6; 20 others are here now; and an estimated 30 are scheduled to arrive August 3, when the present group returns to New York.

By the end of the summer approximately 1500 Fresh Air Kiddies will have been received in Lancaster County homes, each for a two week period.

The committee wishes to express appreciation to the many people in the Lititz area who have been host to these kiddies; and emphasize that any additional invitations for a youngster will be most welcome.

Following is a list of people to contact with reference to inviting a Fresh Air child into your home: Mrs. Walter Miller, Mannheim RD3, 5-7873; Mrs. John Heltzer, 6-7977; Mrs. Earnest Miller, 6-7188; Mrs. Daniel Brubaker, 3-7425; Mrs. Clarence Brubaker, 6-0166; and Mrs. Amos Cassel, 6-2558.

To Speak In Park

Rev. Floyd McDowell, pastor of the Church of the Brethren, will address the evening service to be held in the Springs Park this Sunday. The choir, directed by Fred Buch, will sing: "Immortal Love Forever Full," and "Oh, Ye That Loveth the Lord."

In case of rain the service will be held in Fellowship Hall.

Air Raid Not Too Impressive

Some changes are going to have to be made before air-raid tests in Lititz are anywhere near 100 per cent perfect.

This was the report submitted by Burgess Ben Forrest, local Civilian Defense director, following last Friday afternoon's statewide drill.

"Locally, the whistle could not be heard in all parts of the borough," Mr. Forrest explained. "It all depends upon which way the wind is blowing as to what sections hear the alarm."

"It is my opinion that in the future, other means must be used in addition to the whistle to warn residents of drills—or actual air-raids."

And while some parts of the state reported successful reception in the conelrad or radio phase of the test, this too failed to prove effective throughout the Warwick Union District.

Burgess Forrest remained on duty in the C-D office from 4 to 4:30 p.m., but was unable to get any clear radio reception of conelrad messages being broadcast from Lancaster. Deputy Director Charles Kling motored about the district during this phase of the test and he also received only a very poor reception for the radio messages.

One bright spot in the local test was that more than 20 Civilian Defense officials sprang into action as soon as the alarm was sounded. Traffic was quickly, although not uneventfully halted for the duration of the test.

Several wardens reported some persons here were reluctant to stop work and go indoors during the test but that most persons accepted the spirit of the test and obeyed instructions.

Local firemen also were in touch with other companies of the county via their own radio hook-up at the firehouse here.

HIRNEISEN REUNION

The annual Hirneisen-Herneisen reunion will be held this Sunday in the Reinholds Community Park, Reinholds, starting at 1:30 p.m.

To Remodel Station For Ambulance

Bucher Donates Overhead Door; Answer 44 Calls Since May 15

The former Reading station will be remodeled to house the community ambulance, according to an announcement made this week by the ambulance committee.

Work of remodeling the station will get under way this week, with plans and specifications being completed by Wayne Schreiber.

With the community ambulance being called upon at the rate of several times a week and demand for its services showing a steady increase, the station affords a more centrally accessible place, it was explained.

At present the ambulance is being housed in a garage donated for this purpose by Roy Long, local cleaner.

The ambulance committee this week also issued a call for more volunteer nurses. At present the service is being conducted by a group of 30 drivers and while a few nurses now are available to accompany the drivers, 12 more volunteers are desired in order that on all calls, the ambulance will be manned by both a trained driver and a competent nurse. Womans Club Will Attend Ephrata Play

Thursday evening, August 9, will be Lititz Woman's Club Night at the Legion Star Playhouse in Ephrata.

The main attraction of the evening will be the appearance of Sloan Simpson, former wife of the famous, self-exiled former mayor of New York, O'Dwyer, who will star in the comedy "Tea and Sympathy."

Members of the Woman's Club are selling reserved seat tickets for the play on that evening. With proceeds from the sale to be applied to community activities of the club, the public is urged to purchase tickets by calling Mrs. William Scatchard, Jr., dial 6-5971.

Tickets sell for $1.50, $2.00 and $2.50. Curtain time is 8:45 p.m.

IOOF Grand Masters To Be Installed Here

A special meeting of Lititz Lodge 1050, I.O.O.F., will be held in the Lodge Hall Monday, July 30, at 7:30 p.m., for the purpose of installing the District Grand Masters of Lancaster, Berks and Lebanon Counties.

W. Martin Hess, Lititz RD4, Deputy Grand Master, together with the other Grand Lodge Officers, will be in charge of the installation ceremonies. The Grand Masters will also receive their commissions at this meeting.

The membership is urged to their support to this important meeting, which marks the first time such a ceremony has been conducted locally, and is definitely a tribute to Mr. Hess and his home Lodge.

Mrs. Haggerty Leading Golfer At Overlook

Mrs. Fred T. Haggerty, 313 E. Main street, is the leading woman's qualifier for the club championships at Overlook Golf Club.

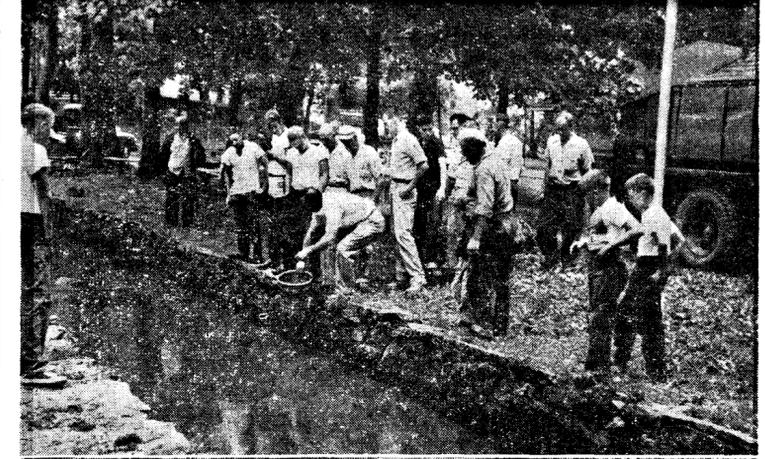

She posted an 88 during the recent qualifying rounds. The club championship matches have been postponed until Aug. 15.

Mrs. Haggerty, who is in her fifth year of golf, plays an average of four times a week. She often plays with her husband, who is also a member at Overlook.

Muddy Creek Picnic This Saturday

The 96th annual Muddy Creek Sunday School picnic will be held this Saturday with the famous Pottstown Band and Glee Club providing the entertainment. The picnic is held in Hartin's Grove, Swartzville, Pa.

STATE PLACES THOUSANDS OF FINGERLING TROUT IN PARK

A large crowd gathered, as shown in the above photograph, last Friday when Pennsylvania State Fish Commission employees arrived at the Springs Park with another shipment of thousands of small, fingerling trout.

Measuring only one and one-half to two inches in length each, the trout didn't disappoint the sportsmen present whose imaginations already provided them with an imaginary picture of just what these thousands, if they survive, will look like when large enough to turn loose in local trout streams.

The nets placed in the stream at the park by local sportsmen will protect them during the preliminary stages and prevent them from being lost downstream.

For full particulars regarding the trout project of local sportsmen, turn to the Record Sports Page and read John Heiter's Plug & Shell column.

Describes Pleasant Living In Far - Off Nicaragua

Editor's Note: Rev. and Mrs. David Jones are spending a five-year term as Moravian missionaries in Nicaragua, having left here last September. They recently were joined by their two daughters, Barbara, who spent the past school year with her grandmother, Mrs. P. F. Snyder, and Gwen, who spent the year with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Snyder, Lancaster.

By Peggy Snyder Jones

Since my last letter to the Record we are settled in our station in Bluefields, an isolated town on the east coast of Nicaragua. It is a pleasant peaceful town, about the size of Lititz, and except for a lagoon and bluff, looks out on the Caribbean Sea, an arm of the Atlantic Ocean.

An incident happened yesterday which I thought might be of interest to Lititz folks and especially to their Mannheim friends. We had gone to the airport to welcome Mrs. Shimer, wife of one of our pastors who was returning from a visit to the states. It always takes about forty-five minutes for the planes to unload baggage and fill up with the local baggage to go on. During that time folks often visit with friends who stop enroute to another of our stations.

There were two young men who got off the plane yesterday, and it was obvious they were new and trying to see as much of the countryside as they could in the short stopover. My husband thought they might be interested in learning something about the area and introduced himself, and from then on we had a very enjoyable visit.

The one young man was from Sweden, and the other from Mannheim, Germany. They were traveling together in the interests of their lumber business and had allowed themselves two days on our coast to be spent in the only other sizeable town, Puerto Cabezas. When the German chap said where he was from, I told him I was from near Mannheim, Pennsylvania. He brightened up and said that he had been invited to attend the Bi-Centennial of Mannheim, Pa. It seems the Rotary Clubs had been corresponding for some time and when they learned he was to travel in these countries, they had invited him. But since he was due in Germany in September, he didn't think he could make it. But I think we convinced him that he couldn't return without a visit to Lancaster County first.

Delay Action On New Plan For Streets

Unable to obtain a quorum inasmuch as three members are vacationing, council Friday night delayed definite action on adopting a proposed new, radical plan for street improvements here.

But—Borough Manager David Bauer explained—quotations submitted for laying bituminous concrete surfaces here, a bit higher than expected, will enable the borough to have better streets at a lower maintenance cost.

"Taken over a ten-year period, we will save considerably on this type of street, as compared with the present oil penetration system, and at the same time have a much better street," Mr. Bauer explained. "The original cost is higher, however."

D. R. Kreider & Son, of Mannheim RI, submitted the lowest of three bids for the work. His bid varied from 79 cents for 3,000 square yards of 76 cents for 9,000; $2 for curb footage; 89 cents for grade preparation; and 65 cents a square yard and $6.50 for rock removal. The bids will be acted upon at a meeting of council Tuesday.

Despite All Rumors New High School Will Be Ready By Sept. 17

ROTARY PICNIC TODAY

Local Rotarians and their wives will attend the annual Rotary picnic being held this afternoon and evening at the cottage near Brickerville owned by Dr. and Mrs. M. H. Yoder. An interesting program of games and cards has been arranged. Dinner will be served at 6 p.m.

State Starts Widening Of W. Orange St.

No Hope That Work Will Be Completed Before School Starts

With Orange Street to the new school construction now torn up, engineers admitted this week that the widening and repaving project will not be completed until some weeks after the opening of the fall school term.

The State Highway Department is doing the work of rebuilding the street from Walnut Street to the borough line and then for an additional distance of approximately 500 feet. The new street will have a 50-foot width as compared with the former 35-foot width.

Work of grading was launched late last week when huge shovels removed the embankment on the south side of the street. Workmen predicted that at least a month will be required to finish the rough grade and in completing curbs on both sides of Orange Street.

Another month will be required in completing the work, providing weather conditions are favorable.

With the road torn up, buses carrying students likely will have to halt at Walnut Street and students will have to walk the remainder of the distance for the first few weeks of the new term, it was expected.

Highway Department officials asserted this week that work could not be started sooner inasmuch as Lincoln Avenue was torn up and it would have created too much of an inconvenience to traffic to have both streets torn up at the same time.

Plan Formal Opening For Pool Aug. 4

Formal opening ceremonies of the Woodridge swimming pool will be held for members and their guests Saturday, August 4, starting at 2 p.m. and lasting until midnight.

Dr. Charles W. Eshelman, program chairman, announced the tentative plans scheduling swimming, picnicing, entertainment, music, pool-side dancing, and a complete tour of all the facilities of the club.

The day's activities will include a humorous skit, entitled, "At the Beach 1890," directed by Mrs. Winnie Walls, in which old-fashioned bathing suits will be the vogue. There will also be a clown show for the children.

Formal dedication ceremonies with Dr. Edward Kowalewski officiating, will begin about 8:30 p.m., after which the group will be conducted over the entire area having explained to them the function of the pumps, filtering process, sanitary facilities, etc.

An orchestra has been engaged to furnish music from 9 to 12 for pool-side dancing, and for the Aquatic Show which will be concluded about 10:30. This show will be presented by the Maple Grove Aquatic Club of Lancaster, and will include exhibitions of diving and swimming, and a water ballet.

Woodridge Swim Club now boasts a membership of 350 families, but will accept a few additional applications for membership, Dr. Eshelman stated.

Only 1 Connection To-date On Mile-Long Interceptor

Lititz' mile-long, much-discussed and much-needed interceptor sewer has been completed at a cost of approximately $40,000—and today is serving a total of one family!

Despite that the sewer, which is intended to open up an entire residential section for development, has been completed for several weeks, only one household has connected to-date, it was disclosed this week.

Borough officials expressed confidence, however, that despite the lagging on the part of nine or ten other nearby property owners to hook-up, that the interceptor sewer soon would prove one of the most important links in the local system.

The sewer is just short of a mile in length, actually measuring somewhat over 4,000 feet. It was built under supervision

Misfortune Again Hits Local Man

Misfortune again struck at Earl E. Chips, of Lititz RD1, Saturday when he sustained a possible fracture of the ankle in a fall at the Morgan Paper Mill.

The possible fracture involves the same limb Chips fractured in a tragic automobile accident the day before Christmas in which his four-months-old daughter, Robin, was fatally injured.

At the time of the accident in which the small child died, Mr. and Mrs. Chips and their family were on the way to spend the holidays with Mrs. Chips' parents at Uniontown.

At that time the tragic plight of the local couple aroused so much concern among local residents that several hundred dollars in cash poured in for their benefit from various anonymous sources.

Spaid Succeeds In Speeding Up Work On All School Buildings

Despite prevalent rumors to the contrary, the new Warwick Union Junior-Senior High School Building and all other school buildings of the district will be ready for the opening of the fall term on September 17. Supervising Principal Marlin Spaid announced this week.

The huge, sprawling high school building will be finished to the extent that classes will be able to be held without any interference from workmen who still will be on the job, Mr. Spaid explained.

The auditorium wing of the new school will not be completed but work on all other sections is expected to be in the final stage of construction.

Renovations and improvements at the three elementary buildings also were being rushed to completion with only the Brunerville School being reported behind schedule.

Objections voiced at a recent work conference by Mr. Spaid also was seen getting results with more workmen on the job at this school this week and with progress speeding up perceptibly.

The school office will be moved to the new high school on Tuesday, August 6, Mr. Spaid announced. And with the driveways expected to be laid within the week following, the school office and office personnel will be ready to handle all pre-school work from that time on.

All tile has been laid and doors put in place on the second floor of the new high school. All cabinets and shelving for the library and home economics departments also have been completed although not shipped to the site as yet.

"At the present time we can see no serious obstacle to the completion of the work in time for the fall session to start September 17," Mr. Spaid said. "From now on, progress on the building as well as work in the other schools is expected to be very rapid."

Reading Picnic Here Saturday

The sight of a long picnic train stopping at the Reading Station and emptying its hundreds of occupants into the park, is one familiar to many old-timers here!

This scene will be re-enacted in all its former glory Saturday morning when from 500 to 700 members and friends of St. Luke's Lutheran Sunday School of Reading, will arrive by special train at 10 a.m.

The special will be re-loaded and leave for Reading at 8 p.m.

Undergoes Surgery In San Francisco

William Templeton, this borough, recently retired corporal of the Pennsylvania State Police, was stricken ill while visiting on the West Coast, it was learned here yesterday.

He was conveyed to a San Francisco Hospital where an emergency appendectomy was performed.

Accompanying Templeton on the western trip, are his mother, Mrs. Sally Templeton, and Miss Sarah Weidman, also of this borough.

QUARTET FESTIVAL, HYMN SING SAT. AT LANDISVILLE

A Quartet Festival and Old-Fashioned Hymn Sing will be presented this coming Saturday evening at 7:30 in Landisville Camp Meeting Grove.

Selections by 11 different quartets will intersperse the singing of hymns by the entire congregation. Mrs. H. Martin Kradky, Lancaster RD3, is in charge of arrangements.

CHILDREN'S MEETING AT CARPENTER'S MENNONITE

A Children's Meeting will be held at 10 o'clock Sunday morning at Carpenter's Mennonite Church, two miles south of Talmage. Sunday School convenes at 9:00 a.m.

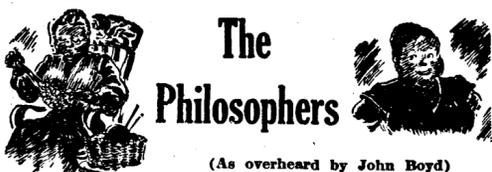

MRS. CARPENTER KOFROTH

Services were held Sunday afternoon from the Rothsville Evangelical Congregational Church for Mrs. Ella Frey Kofroth, 86, widow of Carpenter Kofroth, who died Friday, July 20, at 7:15 a.m., at the United Zion Home, Lexington, where she had been a guest two years.

Born in Rapho Twp., a daughter of the late Daniel and Sara Michael Frey, she resided in Rothsville for 70 years. She was a charter member of the Evangelical Congregational Church, Rothsville. Her husband died 11 years ago.

Surviving are one daughter, Mabel, wife of Harry Bomberger, Ashville, N. C.; one grandson, two great grandchildren, and one brother, Daniel Frey, Manheim.

Take your problems to Church this week — millions leave them there!

The Philosophers

(As overheard by John Boyd)

Well, Mrs. Veiss, here we are safe and sound in our ten dollar a day ocean view hotel room and if a body twists her head around you can see the Atlantic Ocean out of this window—a piece of it, anyway.

Well, we can hear it good and that's enough for me. Just so I know it's there. Now what will we do 'til supper? We ain't going to set here and enchoy the hotel room all afternoon, are we?

No, we will go out someplace. But I am going to take me a good hot bath in salt water first. I always like to take a bath after a train ride. Don't you want to take one too when I get done?

No, I am clean enough so as it is. I will take one before I go to bed. I always like to take a bath when I have clean sheets and pillow cases to my bed. These here beds feel nice and soft like.

Yes, they are good beds, but by rights they should be, when you figure how much our room costs per day. Well—here I go for the bath tub. You can set and read this list of things in the paper that is going on on the Boardwalk and pick out something we can take in this afternoon and evening.

All right—go ahead and soak yourself full of salt.

Well, how was the bath? Chust wonderful. Salt water is quite refreshing.

Did you wrench yourself off with fresh?

No, I chust dried myself off so. Well, mark my words, you will feel hot and sticky like all day.

Maybe it will keep the mosquitoes off.

That I wouldn't know. I don't believe though that there is any in the room now.

Well, where are we going this after?

It seems like there ain't much going on except on the Steel Pier, so I guess that's where we will go. You pay so much to get on to it and then you can see everything that's going on. Water sports and movies and such like. So we will go to the Steel Pier and see if it's any different from what it was the last time we was here.

How far is it to the pier from here?

About a mile I should chust. Then we will have to take one of these here rolling chairs because I couldn't walk that far in my new shoes. They pinch me a little. No doubt I should of bought them a half size or so larger than what I did.

You remind me of a cousin of mine, Mrs. Herbit Veiss, who is married to Chake's cousin Herbit and lives in Detroit, Michigan. I asked her once what size shoes she took and she says she really took a size four but five felt so good she chenerally bought sixes. I had to laugh!

*That's about what I do most of the time, but yesterday when I got these new ones at Abe Hershey's, I got them a little too small.

Ain't you got any others with you?

Yes, but I ain't going to wear big old shoes here at Atlantic City.

Yes well, As Chake says, prite must suffer. Walk around the room in them a little before we go. We don't have to hurry. Maybe they will stretch out a little like.

No, they are still too tight. Well, swallow your prite for once and put on your old ones and leave us go.

That's chust what I will do. I didn't come down here to suffer with my feet, that's for sure. I tell you what we will do. We will first go up to Atlantic Avenue where the stores are at and I will get another pair with flatter heels and maybe rubber soles for walking on the Boardwalk.

All right, but let's get going. Let's see once. Are there any shoe store bargains in that news-paper?

Hm! Here's one that looks good.

Yes, that it does. Well, here we go - - -

Will we walk or take a - - - We will take a taxi because Heaven knows where the store is at.

Yes, and it looks like it might pour down rain at any minute. Have you got your handbag and your money?

Yes, I have everything. Come on, get your things on. We will never get to the Steel Pier at this rate.

I know. But the pier will still be there when we get there. I can't find my umbrella. I am sure I put it into my suitcase. I betcha I left it in the taxicab.

Well, we can both get under mine if it rains and you can get yourself another while I am getting my shoes.

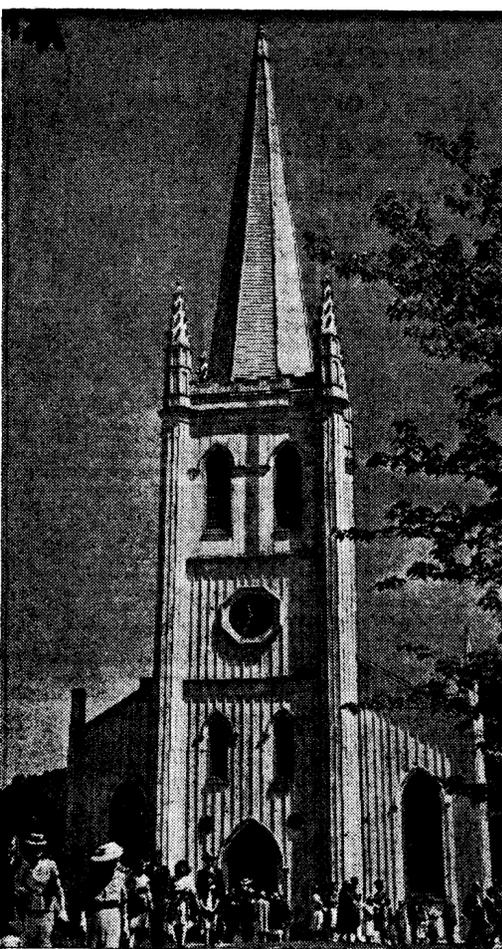

I know, but it spites me that I have to spend my good money on another umbrella right away.

Why, here is your old umbrella hanging in the closet with your raincoat. I guess that bell-boy hung it up before he left. He had to do something to earn his ten cents tip besides opening the windows for us and turning on all the electric lights and asking us did we want any ice water.

No doubt. Well, here we go at last. There no place like Atlantic City to keep a body on the go, I always say!

For the preservation of this

WE MUST HAVE FAITH

Hundreds of little Churches, such as this, are to be found dotted 'most anyplace through-out this broad nation.

Hundreds of little Churches, of all denominations and creeds, are living evidence that in the little Churches the "little people" pray for the freedom and salvation of the whole world.

Many of our fore-bearers fled their native shores that they might live and worship freely. To preserve this scene as a symbol of liberty we must uphold the tradition of religion as our country shall ever hope to enjoy its observance.

Attend the Church of your faith regularly; for in so doing you are enriching yourself, while you prove the glory of "the democratic way" and help make possible the same quality of religious freedom for all the people.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Background Scripture: Acts 12:1-5; I Peter: 4:12-13; 5:14; Revisational Reading: 2 Timothy 2:1-13.

Of Suffering

Lesson for July 29, 1956

WHAT they did in ancient times without the mimeo-graph machine it is hard to imagine. If a modern church executive said to his secretary, "Miss Jones, take a letter; get it out to all the Christians in Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia and Bithynia," Miss Jones would hardly know what to do without a typewriter and carbon paper at the least. She might wonder, too, what Christians in places as out-of-the-way as Bithynia might have in common with Christians in Asia. However, when Simon Peter wrote his letter, he knew what all those Christians had in common. "Now for a little while (he meant, to the end of their lives) you may have to suffer various trials. . . . Trouble, trials, affliction, suffering—how many words there are for it, how many different kinds of it! St. Peter's letter, written so long ago in Greek, now in English has a fresh contemporary look about it. For trials and troubles are very ancient, but they are as new as the morning paper, they are as universal as the human race.

Suffering and Prayer

Christians in particular are bothered, when they think about suffering—especially their own or that of other Christians—in two ways. What is the use of suffering? and, Why should Christians suffer? These are the problems which Peter rolls into one problem: What use is it to Christians, to suffer? He brushes off one kind of suffering—when one gets into trouble on account of one's own wrongdoing. That is no puzzle. The puzzle comes when the good man, the Christian suffers perhaps because he is a Christian and for no other reason. One use of suffering Peter remembered from his own experience. When he was in jail in Jerusalem, the church held a prayer-meeting for him. Something to their astonishment, their prayer was answered. Can we suppose that Peter himself had not been praying? His trouble, in short, had brought both himself and his friends to their knees; it had made them acutely aware of their need of God, and God in turn had made them know his power. Some people make fun of "fox-hole religion"; but isn't it better than none?

Genuine Faith

Faith that has never been tested can be real; but only God knows it. Faith tested by suffering, when it endures, demonstrates how real it is. A missionary in India was trying to talk to an Indian about Christ. The Indian, who had just lost a wife he deeply loved, cried, "You lead a happy life, everything comes your way. If you had to go through what I go through, you'd not talk about faith!" Within a few months the missionary too lost his wife by death. At the funeral he stood by the casket and said: "If the man is here who told me I had never been through what he went through, I want to talk with him after this. Now maybe he will believe me." To make the story short, the Indian did come to believe as a Christian.

Everybody Has a Heartache

Another use for suffering is that it can open the heart wide. It does not always do this. Suffering by itself has no magic. It is only when the sufferer reaches up in trust to God that anything like "magic" comes to pass. But when one who is afflicted trusts in God even then, he may not have his pain—physical, mental or spiritual, whatever it be—removed; but he will find that he has joined the great fraternity of pain. His heart, hitherto in-turned, now turns outward. He knows the password to every human heart. For every one has his own heartache, and those unacquainted with grief find no entrance. Your own heartache is the key to the hearts of all men everywhere. Suffering "as a Christian"; this above all, as Peter says, is a mark of brotherhood throughout the world. The minister in Mississippi who loses his pastorate because he says a word of sympathy for wronged Negroes; the Indian who is stoned from the village well because he has turned from Mohammed to Christ; the Spanish Christian who is not allowed to worship except in forms approved by the government; the Chinese Christian who is forced to march in a parade at the hour of church worship; do we not suffer with them? For they are our own. (Based on outlines copyrighted by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A., Released by Community Press Service.)

Eighth Annual Dutch Fete At Hershey Park Aug. 23-26

Hershey, Pa.—Pretty soon already it will make big doings at Hershey Park.

The eighth annual Pennsylvania Dutch Days, Pennsylvania's original celebration, is coming up Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, August 23, 24, 25 and 26.

It will be a festival of old-time merry-making, mit (excuse) square dancing, working craft exhibits, livestock shows, Dutch entertainment, and traditional Dutch foods, including the famed seven sweets and souers.

Two state queens will be crowned during the four-day celebration. The State Lotwaerick (Apple Butter) Queen will be selected on Thursday evening, and the Pennsylvania Poultry Queen will be crowned as a highlight of Saturday's program.

The popular craft exhibits, featuring glass-blowing, ceramics, basket weaving, iron craft, quilting, and many other old time crafts, will occupy the huge Sports Arena.

Free square dancing will be held in the spacious park ballroom on Friday evening, and dialect entertainment and an old-fashioned Dutch auction are carded for the park bandshell.

Hershey Stadium will again be the scene of a dairy cattle show and a farm implement exhibit. A market hog show, a feature for a number of years, will be held in the field adjacent to the stadium, and a new feature, a goat show, sponsored by the Pennsylvania Goat Association, has been added.

And, as has been the custom since the celebration was originated, no admission is charged to any of the events, except for Dutch food.

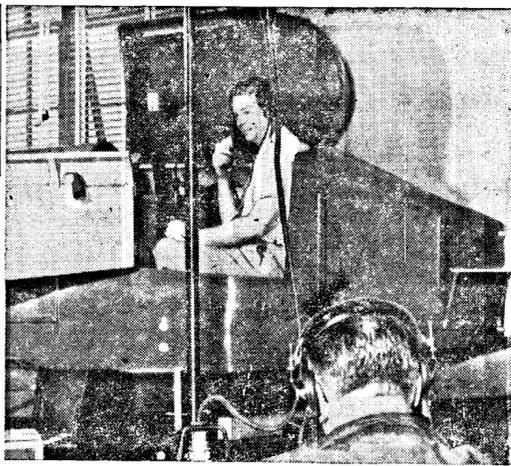

GROFF REUNION HELD AT MILLWAY RESIDENCE

Eighty-five people attended the Groff reunion held recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Gerhart at Millway.

John Henry Groff, Lancaster was elected president of the clan; Benjamin Groff, vice-president; and Miss Lucille Groff, secretary. Mrs. Fannie Noll and Mrs. Paul Stokes will serve as the program committee.

ENTERTAIN GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Lister, of Yardley, entertained Mrs. Lyman Lister, of Trenton; Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Knutzen, of Newtown Square; and Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Pfautz, of this borough, over the week-end.

H. Luke Grosh Dies Suddenly At Easton Home

H. Luke Grosh, seventy-eight, a native of this borough, died unexpectedly last Thursday at Moravian Manor, Easton, where he had been a guest for the past two years.

He was a son of the late Henry H. and Caroline Oehme Grosh, and a brother of the late Steven Grosh, and spent most of his lifetime in Philadelphia, where he was affiliated with a manufacturer of paint.

On his retirement from active service with the paint company, he resided with his sister, the late Mrs. Estelle Jones, in Atlantic City. After her death he returned to Lititz, living for some time at the General Sutter Hotel and later in the Doster Apartments.

Grosh was a member of the Masonic fraternity for many years, and an active member of the Young Men's Business League, and was the last of his immediate family.

In compliance with his request, very brief services were held at Moravian Manor on Monday morning, and at the graveside here in the Moravian Cemetery at 2 o'clock with Rt. Rev. Carl J. Helmich officiating.

About 25 of his local friends witnessed the interment.

THIS WEEK'S RECIPE

Bacon-Bean Slaw
(Serves 8)

1 cup canned kidney beans, drained
1 1/2 cups shredded cabbage
1/2 cup diced celery
1/2 cup minced onion
2 tablespoons pickle relish
6 strips cooked bacon, crumbled
3/4 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons vinegar
1/2 cup mayonnaise

Combine beans with cabbage, celery, relish, onion and bacon. Add salt. Blend vinegar and mayonnaise and toss lightly with salad mixture. Chill thoroughly, then serve over lettuce.

Editorially

Thank You, Binkley Bros.

A weekly editor gets his share of complaints, but this week we received a complaint which justly bothered us, on the one hand, and gave us a heck of a lot of satisfaction, on the other.

Dan Miller, of Binkley Bros. Division of Bradford Hills Quarry, Inc., called us on the phone and handed us a real verbal going-over for having omitted the Binkley Bros. advertisement from our recent Historical Edition. How that ad got missed, we'll never know, but just the same, it did! "We feel pretty bad about it," Dan complained. "Why the public is going to think that Binkley Bros. doesn't support its hometown weekly, especially on a good, special edition. And," Dan added, "I think we deserve a notice so that this false impression, if it does exist, will be corrected."

Well, in a way we're glad that Binkley Bros.' ad was left out—if for no other reason than to find out that the efforts we put into getting out a good paper (or as good a paper as we are able to get out) are appreciated.

If we had a few more fellows who appreciate their home-town, home-owned weekly like Binkley Bros. do . . . well, life would be just too easy . . . we'd probably grow soft!

The Air Raid Test

One local Civilian Defense Warden protests that many here did not take last week's air raid test very seriously. "Where I was stationed there were several women washing their porches," he explained. "When I told them they were supposed to go indoors, one replied she had too much work to get done to stop in the midst of it." But a group of small boys and girls nearby, quickly asked what they were to do, after the alarm sounded, and then obediently ducked indoors until the test was completed.

'Twas ever thus. Folks just aren't going to take playing at war too seriously, in this work-a-day world of hard facts. Sure, it may mean that if war did come thousands would die because we failed to prepare now—but, be that as it may and human nature what it is, there's just nothing anyone can do about it!

Thirteen new public buildings to cost 386 millions will rid Washington of wartime eyesores known as "temporary buildings." But then, so would the housecleaning every new administration promises.

Improving Fishing

We got a big kick out of watching the sportsmen place thousands of small fish in the stream running through the park. Through this work, local sportsmen are striving to improve fishing throughout this entire area.

That is a worthwhile project. It also is the sort of thing we like to see going on in the Springs Park. For placing those fish there has attracted the interest and attention of every boy or girl in the borough, it makes the park a more interesting and instructive place for those youngsters.

Yep, we have a fine park and we like to see just as much of this sort of thing going on there as reasonably possible.

The July Slump

The Anglo-Saxon looked on his meadows in bloom and mumbled "heg-monath." The dark-eyed Roman administrator nodded at the yellow-haired stalwart and assented, "Quintilis." But when Julius Caesar had passed from the scene, Britons, Romans, and many other people of the then civilized world began to call it July.

Originally it was the fifth month of the year, hence "Quintilis." Our modern calendar makes it the seventh. One reads between such facts volumes of glorious and tragic history. One sees the comings and going of legions. One hears learned debates about the proper method of recording time.

July was made for history, it seems. The United States' Independence Day on "the Fourth," France's Bastille Day on the 14th, Canada's Dominion Day, and the independence days of Venezuela, Belgium, Peru, charge the month with significance. But not only statesmen have found July a busy period. The alert gardener knows that what the garden manuals call the "July slump" can be dangerously deceptive. It's the diplomatic "new look" transferred to back-yard affairs. It has to be tested right and left, by pruning, by spraying and other defense methods.

For all the great demands for effort that July has made from time to time upon mankind, it still brings unearned bounties—Queen Anne's lace, lilac milkweed, wild sunflowers, berries for the picking in pasturelands, gold-and-silken couches on searolled sands. And, with it all, not only the urge to battle for the rights of man but to savor in easy agreement the delights of man.

Believe it or not but in a couple more days it will be August—the month when all the local preachers hie it down to the shore and let all of us home-folks on our own for the next thirty days.

"Mid the Turmoil"

Talk about your monsoons—we've had 'em!

Lititz has had some rain twenty out of the first 24 days of the month, believe it or not, which is durned hard on outdoor cook-outs, keeping the lawn trimmed, the shrubbery cut and that early coat of suntan from disappearing entirely.

One thing f'r sure, though, it's pretty nice sitting on the side porch with a book and a blaring radio listening to the rain pattering, than it is to spend the time down in some Jersey seashore resort. Yep, it's been a great month for us stay-at-homes!

Famous Last Words: "Oh, I do want to pet that cute little kittie with the lovely white stripe right down the middle of its back."

It's mighty nice welcoming these New Yorkers moving in to Lititz with Lambert-Hudnut. And when some of these New York youngsters are here long enough to pick up a few choice Dutch expressions, the lingo is going to be something well worth listening to!

Frinstance, the other day we heard one newcomer remark as she waited to get across Main Street in front of the Farmers Bank: "Really this is wise than trying to cross thoity-thoid street."

One thing last week's open house at the Farmers Bank taught us, is that the Federal Reserve men who brought the display of currency, place more value on the counterfeit bills than the real stuff!

Placing the huge displays of real money in the back of the bank (right inside the back door, for that matter) the F.R. representative declared he thought they'd be safe enough there. "This case you better place in the vault," he advised. You guessed it, that case contained the display of counterfeit bills!

Our Backyard Sparrows:

They sing in face of thunder,
they chirp despite the rain,
And if they must duck under,
they soon duck out again!

Annie Strumbendle says: "I never regret the hundreds of hours I've spent knitting. It gives a woman something to think about while she's talking."

Our Wide-Wide-World: A few more showers and the local tomato crop won't be worth picking . . . Tom Dussinger would give up eating before he'd miss his annual trip to the Baseball Hall of Fame . . . camera fans made a killing out of the sale of parade photos . . . a lot more new homes are going up outside the borough than within . . . especially around Brickerville, Lexington and Brunnerville . . . wonder how come? . . . the Vogelers are summering at Kennebunkport, Maine . . . Prof Spaid's new office is located among dozens of desks, packing boxes, etc. in the high school gym . . . Hen Gibbel made a flying trip to Chicago Tuesday . . . locally, the mid-summer lull has set in . . . and for good!

One thing we've learned from hard experience—it's impossible get out a letter-perfect paper. Last week's prime error was omitting to mention Jim Mummert's name among the Farmers Bank employees—and Jim's been there for the past 28 years. Thank goodness Jim doesn't let things like that bother him!

These fellows who brag that they see eye to eye with their wives usually mean simply that their vision has been corrected.

Another thing we learned from editing last week's paper—and that is that the local kids are right on their toes. We mentioned that there were only 45 days more of vacation. Three bright students proceeded to call us up and remind us that school this year doesn't start until September 17th and that as a result they still have 65 days of glorious freedom!

That was last week, chilluns, and the number now is only 58 days!

Overheard on Main Street: "Her mother came to stay with us over the holidays, which so far include Christmas, New Year's, Lincoln's Birthday, the Fourth of July and Bastille Day."

A fellow just dropped into our Brain Emporium and told us about the guy some years back who used to call the local telephone operator every day regularly shortly before 11:30 and ask the operator for the exact time. After he had done this for several months, the operator got up enough nerve to ask him why. "Oh," he replied, "I have to blow the factory whistle at exactly 11:30 and so I call you to get the correct time." "That's funny," the operator replied with a giggle, "because every day I set my watch by your whistle."

You hear everything in this business!

Whatever happened to all of last year's Davy Crockett hats? Yep, and wonder what the next kiddom fad will be?

Ad in a nearby weekly: "Wanted: Cleaning woman, steady work, work work."

Signs of the times: On the back of a car going through town, "Dimit, Darnit." On a nearby gas station: "Buzz twice for night service. Then keep your shirt on while I get my pants on."

LAST LAP

We get a kick out of watching these young newly-weds rush into the photographer's out front . . . or into the hotel for receipts, these week-ends. Little do those happy youngsters realize that the outcome of marriage depends a lot on the income.

Another thing about this modern age—life's necessities have increased to four—food, clothing, shelter and endurance.

Another Famous Last Words: "Did I ever show you how to open a beer bottle with your teeth?"

It's a great world! The only rest we get these days is waiting for the traffic lights to change.

Why advertise your troubles? There's no market for them.

Thought-of-the-week: You can't make dollars with your quarters on an easy chair.

Some folks' idea of humor, phew! Frinstance, Frank Wolf hands in a joke about the New Yorker questioning the small-town weekly editor on how he manages to make a living. "Do you make out on your subscriptions?" the editor was asked, and quickly replied, "Nope." "Job printing?" "Nope, lose money on that." "Well, how about advertising?" At this question the weekly editor's eyes brightened up. "Oh, I just about break even on that," he replied. "Then how in the world do you show any profit at all?" "Well," the editor replied, "we couldn't do it at all if it weren't for the humor departments of the big city dailies—they buy all of our typographical errors."

Oh yeah?

Can you give me brief details of the New Highway Bill as finally passed?

The bill calls for construction of 41,000 miles of interstate highways, over a period of 13 years at a total cost of $32.9 billion, $27.7 to be paid by the Federal government and $5.2 billion by the states. Federal funds for the first three years are to be allocated—two-thirds on a population basis of the states; one-sixth on urban road mileage, and one-sixth on rural road mileage. After that time allocation will be redetermined on a basis of needs. The tax portion calls for an additional $14.8 billion on highway users between July 1, 1956, and July 1, 1972 to include: one-cent hike in federal gas tax, diesel fuel and other special motor fuels; a boost of 3 cents a pound on tires, and a new tax of 3 cents a pound on retread rubber; a two per cent raise in the 8% manufacturers tax on trucks, buses, truck trailers, etc.; a new annual tax of $1.50 per 1,000 pounds on the entire weight of trucks and buses weighing over 26,000 pounds, and a floor stock tax on gasoline, tires, retread rubber, trucks, buses and truck trailers in the hands of dealers on July 1, 1956.

Which nations are Uncle Sam's best customers on farm products?

Japan, Great Britain, Canada, The Netherlands and West Germany in that order. These five nations take almost half total exports of farm products.

Can you tell me where headquarters of International Labor Organization is?

At Geneva, Switzerland. There is a branch office in Washington at 917 Fifteenth Street, Washington 5, D. C.

Who is Secretary of the United States Senate?

Felton McLellan Johnston, of Clarksdale, Miss.

Local Group At Waldheim Park

GOVERNOR
GEORGE M.

LEADER'S LETTER

DEAR BILL AND HANNAH:

It's vacation time again—and our highways are attracting motorists from the entire Nation. I want to bring you up to date on the results of the first four months of our Highway Safety Program.

Pennsylvania has had the best highway safety record of any of the major states for the past six years, but we discovered early this year that we could not rest on our laurels.

At the end of February, Pennsylvania's highway death toll showed an alarming 33 per cent increase over the same period for 1955. The national average was also mounting at this rate.

It was time to stop talking about highway safety and start doing something about it. We instituted our new system of penalties, the toughest and fairest in the Nation. As a result, at the end of June—after four months under the new system—the State's highway death toll rate had dropped well below the national average and Pennsylvania's average for 1955!

Under the old method, everyone was suspended for ninety days. Often the suspensions didn't hold up in court, and restricted licenses were issued.

The new suspension system now in effect brought about the results of the past four months. Restricted licenses have been eliminated; more arrests were made and the courts are now backing up local police agencies who needed a law with teeth in it. Recently, the Supreme Court sustained three suspensions issued by the Department of Revenue against violators.

Because of the arrests, the work load at our Bureau of Highway Safety has gone up 40 per cent, but we know that we are saving lives and keeping motor maniacs out of their vehicles until they have learned proper driving habits.

Another solution is the personal solution. The man who tips his hat while walking is the same man who forgets courtesy of the road! The lady who spends three hours at the beauty parlor, speeds home to prepare dinner! This thoughtlessness is common in the best of citizens. We blame "the other guy," forgetting that to the approaching car, we are "the other guy!"

Courtesy is contagious, and the practice of it by careful drivers soon spreads to others. Courtesy of the road, coupled with a Highway Safety Program that keeps thoughtless and discourteous drivers off the road, will bring about results that will keep Pennsylvania in the lead among the Nation's major states in its fine record of low fatalities.

Sincerely yours,

George M. Leader

Governor of Pennsylvania

From Out Of The Past
 Taken from the Files of the Lititz Record and the Lititz Express.

TEN YEARS AGO
 July 25, 1946

A rumor this week that an automobile service station was to be erected on Broad Street, just north of the Lititz Springs Bank building, brought forth quick action on the part of residents of the district. One group headed by Eli Garber, expressed its intentions of attending the meeting of borough council Tuesday evening to express opposition should an application be presented for a building permit. And thus the borough fathers have one more problem facing them.

Lititz firemen were highly lauded Friday when they succeeded in saving a large tobacco shed and a house located within a few feet of a large barn completely destroyed by fire on the farm of Clayton Diffenderfer, located near Longenecker's Church two miles west of this borough. When the firemen arrived on the scene they realized that they could not save the barn and Fire Chief Raymond Runk concentrated the efforts of the local firemen on saving the tobacco shed and the dwelling a few feet away.

Larry Stauffer gets this week's orchid as the most enthusiastic member of the Lititz Fire Company. Monday afternoon Larry was inside the Weldwood restaurant when the fire siren went off. Jumping up from his chair Larry ran to the fire house, climbed aboard the truck and rode back to the Weldwood. The fire was in the apartment above the restaurant.

Pets ranging from turtles and chickens to a three-gaited bay horse provided an exciting afternoon at the annual pet show held in the playground Friday and attended by approximately 200 parents and children. The show was judged by Miss Helen Tshudy and Mrs. Clara Hall and was supervised by E. S. Dechert, Dianne Muth and Virginia Schleith.

FIFTY YEARS AGO
 July 27, 1906

Thinking a corn field was sufficient screen to prevent them from being discovered, some Lititz and Warwick men engaged in a quiet little game of cards in the shade west of Warwick last Sunday. While they were playing, confident of being unmolested, the wife of one of the gang was hot on the trail. She was apprehended in time and before she could get near enough to say "23 for you" her husband and the rest of them were retreating in great disorder and confusion. To avoid being known as members of the card party, they reached the streets of Warwick in twos and threes. And now when these men pass each other they give a knowing little laugh.

On Wednesday next our own Moravians will have their day's outing at the old reliable Springs resort, because there is no better place. If the day is favorable they will turn out largely as usual.

Our market was laden with choice fresh vegetables last Saturday morning with plenty of patrons, but enough for all. The early-comers shortly after five o'clock in the morning gobbled up the green corn eagerly at 12 and 14 cents a dozen ears. It is small in the ear, but it sold all the same. Mrs. Sammet had new celery at 5 cents a bunch. A few raspberries were still to be had at 10 cents a box and blackberries are coming in plentifully and also command 10 cents. Butter and eggs remained firm at the old prices for some time; vis. 22 cents for the former and 18 cents for the latter.

H. A. Weidman, concrete contractor, has erected a concrete bridge across the Springs creek near the entrance of the park. It replaces a wooden bridge which had started to decay. The new bridge is the first of its kind in the Park and adds considerably to the appearance.

The stone quarry at Lime Rock two miles west of Lititz, is the scene of much activity these days. About a dozen men are at work daily and will be for some time to come, preparing for a monster blast in a month or more. Just how much dynamite will be exploded at one time is not known as yet, but reports state that it will be the greatest blast ever made in this vicinity.

About twenty persons from this place accompanied the excursion up the Hudson to West Point via the Philadelphia & Reading railway on Saturday. The round trip fare from Lititz was $3.50.

A German carp was caught in the Conestoga Creek near Oregon on Wednesday which weighed 14 1/2 pounds and was 31 inches long. H. H. Snaveley, the auctioneer, brought it to his home here and many people called to see this fresh water monster of the finny tribe.

Miss Elizabeth Grosh, who spent ten days hereabouts, left on Wednesday to assume her duties as saleswoman for the Ideal Chocolate Company in Western Pennsylvania and Ohio.

Longer hours for the Post Office and the elimination of speeding on Broad Street and of the dust nuisance at the entrance of the Springs Park are being sought by the Lititz Chamber of Commerce following the July meeting of the newly-reorganized body on Tuesday night. Those items and appeals to the board of health of town to have garbage collection trucks covered and to the chain grocery stores here to cooperate in the Thursday afternoon closing schedule were decided upon at a short but interesting meeting.

At noon yesterday the "President Harding" sailed out of New York carrying the Rev. and Mrs. G. Gordon Parker, Jr., on the first stage of their trip to Liberia, West Africa, where they will be missionaries of the Lutheran Church. Mrs. Parker is the former Evelyn Zimmerman, of town. Although relatives and friends bid them goodbye at the pier, the official farewell of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, which will support the Parkers, was tendered on Thursday evening when more than 100 gathered in the social rooms of the church for a dinner. The menu was made up of Jungle Cook—"Trails", roast African Parakeet, butterfly salad and Niger River dessert.

T. T. (Tom) Dussinger, Ford Gocheaur and Howard Redcay paid a visit to Shibe Park over the week-end and besides seeing Jimmy Dykes and his White Sox finish their eastern invasion with their seventh and eighth straight wins, were favorably impressed with the dash and finesse that accompanies the Pale Hose' playing.

The Ringold Band of York attracted another big crowd in town, autos being parked on the main streets for several squares. The audience seemed to be delighted with the fine concert. These out-door concerts seem to be growing in popularity. The Lititz Band will play here on Saturday.

Edward Ranck and Paul Matthews built a croquet court on Cedar Street alongside the Lititz Creek. Electric lights have been installed and there are always plenty of experts on hand for games. Harry Wertsch is staging a comeback at the game.

Post 56, American Legion, elected the following delegates to attend the state convention to be held at Delaware Water Gap in September: Chester Leicey and Howard Hollinger, the alternates being Norman Habecker and Alfred Double.

Thirty-five persons bought tickets here Sunday for the excursion over the Reading, thirty-two going to Atlantic City and three to Willow Grove. The fare from Lititz to Atlantic City was $3.75 and to Willow Grove, $3.00. The train left at 5:12 a.m.

IN MEMORIAM

In tribute of love to the memory of our beloved son, Clarence Frederick, who passed away five years ago on the 30th of July.

Before our eyes you faded
Growing weaker day by day
Patiently bearing your suffering
Until God took you away.
To see you slowly leave us
Hopeless, we sat by and drained
The cup of bitter grief the day
we saw you die.
You fought the pain so bravely,
Your head you did not bend,
We kept the watch with you
dear son
Yes, even to the end we watched and waited long in vain
God grant some day we'll meet again.
His beloved Mother, dad and and sister.

Soft-Ball Results

By Ronnie Kline
The Warwick House nine defeated the Lutherans 8-3, at softball Tuesday night. Firestone's pitching was backed up by three homers and a triple. Frederick made the round trip twice and Kreider once, with Stauffer hitting a three-sacker. Executing a double play in the first didn't do Warwick a bit of harm either. Lausch and Graybill each scored two-baggers for the Lutherans, but the additional singles were not sufficient to give Herr the win.

Ludwig and Sipe doubled in the second to score the four runs which gave Strobble's a no-run bargain over Brunnerville. Joe Grube scored two runners on his triple for Brunnerville, and then scored himself on an overthrow at third, accounting for the only Brunnerville runs. Kreider was credited with the win and Balmer was the losing pitcher.

A four-run rally in the fifth inning clinched the win for Kissel Hill over the Orioles, 7-5. Weit, Kreider, Gehman, and Ditzler all hit triples, and Eitner went the whole way. Weit also tagged a two-bagger. Becker, Boose, and Zeigler each had a two-base hit for the Orioles. Winning pitcher was Kreider, and Bomberger the loser.

ent nurse, it was explained.

Any person willing to volunteer for the nursing instruction and service is asked to contact John Beck at Neff's Clothing Store.

Use of the station was donated recently by the board of trustees of the Moravian Church in a letter to the ambulance committee. The board reserved the right to withdraw this offer in case plans for landscaping the park, proposed by Elmer Bobst when he announced his offer of $100,000, include the tearing down of the station.

The remodeling will consist primarily of constructing a wide door and ramp in the northeastern corner of the building, facing east. Omar Bucher, manager of the Calder Door Sales Company, announced this week that he will donate an automatic overhead door.

A contract has been awarded Henry Tyson to do the work for his bid of $105, lowest of five submitted. Work of remodeling the station is expected to be completed within the next few weeks.

In service since early May, the ambulance has made a total of 44 calls. Local physicians, through whom the ambulance is called, are loud in their praise of the service being offered.

Some form of record was established recently when the ambulance answered an emergency call to Lexington within a five-minute period.

FARM REVIEW AND FORECAST

Win Gift Certificates By Guessing The

County Milk Income Tops $23 Million

Harrisburg—Lancaster's cow population stepped forward again during 1955 as a major wage-earner. Lancaster County's income from milk was $23,069,347 during the year according to figures released by the Pennsylvania June Dairy Month Committee and the Pennsylvania Bureau of Crop Reporting & Research.

N. E. Sampson, chairman for the Penna. JDM Committee, in releasing the figures said, "Because our state is so industrialized, with steel and other industries gaining much more public recognition, few Pennsylvanians realize the Commonwealth ranks in the top three as a milk consuming state and among the top five as a milk producing state in the nation."

Sampson pointed out that in Lancaster County alone over 61,000 cows were milked daily during 1955, producing a record 405,040,000 pounds of quality milk. Another estimated $4,923,547 was paid to dairy plant employees. The milk production provided Lancaster dairy farmers with a $18,145,800 farm cash income, more than any other single farm crop.

During 1955 over 45,000 dairy farmers in Pennsylvania milked an average 940,000 cows for a total milk production in excess of 6,364,000,000 pounds, and valued at $287,000,000.

Milk production annually reaches its peak late in May and early in June. For this reason 13 national organizations, with the American Dairy Association in Chicago acting as national headquarters, band together to promote June Dairy Month, as a sales stimulus designed to increase consumption of dairy products during peak production.

CABBAGE HELPS HARRIED WIVES

Happy the homemaker with dinner to prepare "in a hurry" who has some cabbage in the refrigerator.

Quartered wedges cook in 15 minutes or less and shredded cabbage takes only 3 to 10 minutes, Elsie Bamesberger, extension consumer information specialist of the Pennsylvania State University, says.

Raw cabbage adds interest to salads. Try it in combination with apples and celery, with dates and peanuts, or with pineapple and raisins.

Canned Food Fades—Food canned at home may fade if it's overcooked or stored in a place that's too warm or gets too much light. Faded food is all right to eat if there is no other indication of spoilage, Helen L. Denning, Penn State extension nutritionist, states.

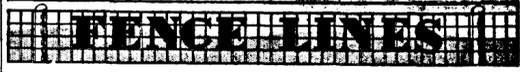

Ivy Aid—Best aid for contact with poison ivy or sumac is washing the area immediately with soap and hot water, Marguerite L. Duvall, Penn State extension family life specialist, reports.

Beets Turn—Beets canned at home may turn white or lose color if they were too old or gathered too long before being processed. So says Louise W. Hamilton, Penn State extension nutritionist.

Guard Hair—Loose, fluffy hair is dangerous around a campfire. If your hair is long tie it snugly at the back of the neck or braid it, suggests Marguerite L. Duvall, Penn State extension family life specialist.

Use Clothesbrush—Let a firm clothesbrush help keep clothes in good condition. Before pressing a garment, brush dust and lint from pockets and cuffs, Bernice J. Sharp, Penn State extension clothing specialist, advises.

SURE FLOW . . . Here's a simple tip that will make molasses in January flow like it's July. Just thread the valve stem from an old truck tire into the bung and hook on a tire pump.

Poultry Course At Penn State

Penn State University will offer a five day short course of interest to the poultry industry August 20 to 24.

The course is designed to provide interested persons and established flock owners with information of importance in the operation of commercial enterprises. Requirements for success, basic principles of major importance, and the best current practices will be emphasized. Instruction will consist of lectures, demonstrations and laboratory practice.

For more information or to enroll, write to the Director of Short Courses at Penn State University.

Farm Calendar

Practice First Aid—You may save a life or prevent serious infection by promptly and correctly treating injuries that may occur on your farm or in your home, reminds Joseph McCurdy, Penn State extension agricultural engineer. He suggests first aid kits in the home, in farm buildings, and on equipment.

Manage the Milking—Quicker and better milking of dairy cows can be done with the routine called managed milking, says Horace Mann, Penn State extension dairy specialist. Treat the cows with kindness, milk at regular times, prepare the cows properly for milking, and milk them quickly.

Protect Forest Trees—Keep newly planted forest trees growing by protecting them from their enemies, urges Edward Farland, Penn State extension forester. Remove competing plants, control insects and rodents, take precautions against fire, and keep livestock out of the new plantation.

Support Tall Flowers—Bamboo stakes or metal reinforcing rods will keep your tall flowers, such as delphinium, hollyhock, and roses, standing erect. Tie cords tightly to support, but loosely around plants, recommends A. O. Rasmussen, Penn State extension ornamental horticulturist.

House the Layers—If your laying hens have comfortable quarters, they generally will give more profit if kept confined than when they are allowed to run on range, according to Carl Dossin, Penn State extension poultry specialist.

REVIEWING SPORTS

BY Tom Dussinger
Record-Express Sports Editor

Another pilgrimage to the brick building on Main Street in Cooperstown, N. Y., where Baseball's immortals are perpetually enshrined, row on row. Joe Cronin and Hank Greenberg this year became the 80th and 81st members to join the galaxy of diamond royalty to be so honored.

This pretty little village on the shores of Lake Otsego probably draws more of baseball's famous, past and present, on this annual celebration than any other place in the country. Where else could you sit on the front veranda and see Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mack walk by. Or Tris Speaker and his wife drive past in their cream and green Cadillac, Home Run Baker strolling by with his son-in-law, Joe McCarthy and the missus. And when an amphibious plane roars overhead you walk two blocks down to the lake to see it land, unloading the new owners of the Detroit Tigers along with former owner Spike Briggs and Muddy Ruel of the Tigers family.

Many others—all on a Sunday afternoon. The evening again finds you in the lobby of the Otsego Hotel where the whole baseball world meets and is met.

You are introduced to Mrs. Roger Bresnahan, widow of the former battery mate of Christy Mathewson of John McGraw's Giants.

Bresnahan invented, and was the first catcher to wear, shin guards. He died twelve years before he was elected to the Shrine.

Mrs. Bresnahan tells you, "How I wish he could be here for all this."

Roger was known as "The Duke of Tralee" for his Irish ancestry. When Mrs. Bresnahan autographs your book, she writes her name, "The Duchess of Tralee".

Tom Yawky, multi-millionaire owner of the Boston Red Sox, brings an entourage of 35 from Boston, honoring Joe Cronin, his general manager and Hall of Fame entrant.

At dusk a heavy thunderstorm pounds Lake Otsego and almost everybody goes out on the huge north portico overlooking the lake, to watch the lightning stab the surrounding hills.

Red Murray, another old Giant of the McGraw era and his wife chatting with Home Run Baker. Baker told us later, "I haven't seen Red since the World's Series of 1913."

The induction ceremonies are held at 10:30 a.m. on Monday, under threatening skies. As Baseball's Commissioner Ford Frick presents Joe Cronin and Hank Greenberg the sun breaks through as though throwing a huge spotlight on the stage. Frick has the crowd stand in a moment of silence honoring

Pitching By Wissler Wins For Columbia

Lititz' sixth inning threat after trailing Columbia 4-2, was capably squelched when Steve Wissler was called into the game with one Lititz run across and the bases loaded with no one out, and the lanky righthander proceeded to retire the side on strikes.

Columbia now leads the County Legion League by 1 1/2 games over Manheim in Section 2, as result of the 4-3 victory over Lititz on Sunday.

Ernie Gerfin was credited with the win, having held the Lititz boys to a 4-3 score until the sixth inning rally, when Wissler came in to protect Gerfin's lead.

Partridge, hurling for the locals, allowed 7 hits as compared to the 5 allowed by Gerfin. Rider and Dennenberg were the umpires.

313 Dartmouth Ave. Swarthmore, Pa. July 10, 1956.

Mr. Benjamin G. Forrest Lititz, Pa.

Dear Sir: May I, through you, express a most sincere "thank-you" to the entire Bi-Centennial Committee for a big job tremendously well done during the entire week of the celebration. No town of comparable size or even larger could surpass the program presentations. The pageant, the parade, the home coming banquet, the window displays, were masterpieces of civic pride.

I love the old town and cherish every tradition that has come out of her past. Long may she flourish and more power and patience to the borough fathers and all committees in their tender care of her.

Sincerely yours, Ethel Houtzhouse Kauffman (Mrs. Lloyd E.)

Churches Sponsor Barbecue At Ephrata Sat.

Plans are all but completed for the Second Annual Chicken Barbecue and Bazaar, this Saturday, on the grounds of Our Mother of Perpetual Help Church, Ephrata. This event, which is sponsored by the parishioners of St. James Church, Lititz; Our Lady of Lourdes Church, New Holland, and the Ephrata church, promises to be the largest event to date in the efforts to raise funds to build the parochial school which will adjoin the church property. Barbecued chicken will be served from 4:00 to 8:00 p.m., or until all who attend are served.

Games and rides for children will be featured. Various booths will be operated by mens and womens groups from the three churches, among them will be: White elephant, gold fish stand, baked goods, country store, cake stand, grocery, food stand, sewing stand, color game, novelties, surprise package booth, and a hosiery, soap and cutlery booth. The Ephrata Accordion Band, under the direction of Frank Widder, will entertain in the afternoon. In the event of rain the affair will be held in the social rooms of the church.

WIDE, WONDERFUL WORLD

SMALL children probably are not much interested in hearing THIS wide wonderful world about orange juice as a rich source of Vitamin C. They might be more interested if you tell them that oranges, like themselves, are highly susceptible to cold, being unable to withstand any but the lightest frosts. Orange trees are very prolific—or fruitful. A yield of from 3,000 to 4,000 oranges per tree each year is not unusual. Individual trees have been known to bear 10,000 oranges in a single season. The trees begin to bear fruit three years after planting, and may live 100 to 150 years.

The women who wear a Persian lamb coat, made from the fur of the karakul or Arabi sheep of Bokhara, may be somewhat unhappy to know, that for the furriers' purposes, the lambs must be killed when not older than 10 days. After that, the lustrous wool closely curled, opens up. The practice of using the skin of the unborn lamb, which necessitated killing both lamb and mother, no longer prevails.

Even the inveterate gambler doesn't know when the first deck of playing cards was manufactured. The origin of playing cards is cloaked in uncertainty, but some contend with the Chinese in the 12th Century. Odd facts: There are 52 weeks in the year as there are 52 cards in the deck. There are 13 cards in a suit as there are 13 lunar months in the year.

SPORTS CORNER

TRIPLE WINNER... Australia's Peter Thomson, 26, won British Open Golf championship at Hoylake, England, for third consecutive year. His 286 score topped 330 entrants from 29 nations, and earned him $2,800.

This an' That

Outfielder Bill Tuttle of the Detroit Tigers is superstitious—but not like some folks. Bill likes the usually distasteful number "13". Tuttle recently asked the Tiger management to let him wear uniform No. 13 in the hopes it might snap him out of a batting slump. Seems he wore No. 13 while playing semi-pro ball in Illinois and had good luck... Bill Lillard of Chicago set a new money earning mark in the 1956 ABC bowling tournament when he earned $2,180.75. In 1955, Fred Bujack of Detroit won $2,068.33... Ron Church, 21, recently speared a 46 1/4 pound black sea bass near San Diego, Cal., thought to be a record of the species for a skin diver... The New York Giants and the Baltimore Colts, who do not meet in regular National Football League season play, have agreed to a pre-season exhibition football game at Boston University field August 20 for the benefit of the Harry Agganis Foundation... John F. Warner, assistant track coach at the University of Kansas, has been appointed head track coach at Colgate.

Midget Football Candidates To Organize Aug. 2

Candidates for the Lititz team of the Lanco Midget Football League are requested to meet at the Recreation Center next Thursday, August 2 at 7 p.m.

The team, sponsored by the Center, will again be coached by Don Sheffy and Neil Shelly. New uniforms have been purchased for the season which opens the first week in September.

Maybe you noticed the "oversized" bait box in the Lititz Springs Creek, just inside the entrance to the park.

If, upon seeing this monstrosity, you came to the conclusion "fishermen are certainly using large bait these days" or "some greedy sportsman is hogging more than his share of bait" you were wrong on both counts.

Inside that cage were over 2,000 fingerling brook trout. These fish, consigned to the Lititz Sportsman's Association by the Pennsylvania Fish Commission, arrived over a month ago. Five thousands of these little fellows (1 1/2 to 2 inches long) were placed in a pond, in W. Z. Bradley's woods, just north of Elm.

Within a few days the officers of the club noticed that they were dying at a rate of several hundred per day, with the largest day finding more than 600 dead.

A telephone call to a fish commission representative shed light on the subject.

An acid content in the water was causing the trouble. The representative stated, "I'm surprised you even received the fish." He ended by saying, "There's not much you can do, all of them probably will die."

Wallace Lausch, chairman of the project for the sportsmen, decided the last comment was wrong and he set out to prove it. First the park committee was contacted and permission was obtained to install a "box" of some sort.

A local lumber dealer constructed the cage and almost before the Fish Commission had a chance to hang up the phone, sportsmen were netting the trout out of Bradley's pond.

Milk cans, buckets, tubs and cooking kettles were commandeered, and the trout received a hurry-up ride to the Lititz Springs Park.

More than 30 club members volunteered to help with the feeding. A captain was appointed for each week and it was his responsibility to see that the six men under him each accepted the job for one day.

Ground liver, spleen and lung was the bill of fare, although oatmeal, dry and canned dog food and finely ground peanuts were also acceptable to these fast-growing brookies.

Now came the problem of what to do with them as they out-grew the "box".

Mr. Lausch and president of the club, Fred Royer, attended a park committee meeting with detailed plans for screening the area between the arch bridge and the bridge below. Their plans called for small falls and diverseters being built in the area. A screened area was necessary. It was explained because the large trout, already in the stream, would feed on their much smaller cousins. The work and burden of expense would be handled by the Lititz Sportsman's Association.

Permission was granted and last week work was started. The stream was cleaned, the large trout removed from the area and the screens were placed.

In the meantime, Chairman Lausch felt, if the club was going to all this trouble, the state should furnish more trout to replace their loss. Negotiations were started and last Friday 5,000 more fingerlings arrived.

Officers of the club urge everyone to visit the nursery waters and request that you abide by the signs posted in the area.

With the enthusiasm, effort and cooperation that Mr. Lausch has shown and received, the success of this project is assured. My Congratulations!!

COTTON KNITTED DOILY—

Knitters turn to cotton during the warm weather and take delight in the new and different effects that can be achieved. Knitted lace made on double-pointed needles is a vision of gossamer loveliness. With its graceful swirls and filigree design, this knitted lace doily captures the flavor of the enchanting Eastern world. A full 21 inches in diameter, it is an important-looking piece for your table tops. If you would like the directions for knitting this MINARET DOILY, simply send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper and ask for Leaflet No. S-392.

MODERN TABLE TREATMENT

For informal entertaining, today's hostess favors place mats that perk up her dining table. Place mats like these set the mood for a refreshing repast. They are crocheted of heavy-textured white cotton and bordered with chocolate brown. The brown is also used for fashioning the neat, brick-like design at either end of each mat. You may obtain the directions for making these BORDER PLACE MATS by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper with your request for Leaflet No. 116.7.

FROM OUT OF THE PAST — INTO THE PRESENT

In this electronic age, with a watch on practically every wrist, and a clock in every room of a house, it is difficult to realize that in the good old days, most people didn't have many clocks or watches. They got up when the factory whistle blew or the chickens started cackling or when the six o'clock freight went through. They quit for "dinner" at the sound of another whistle, went to church when the bell rang and went to bed when it got dark. In between those important markers of time, nothing much mattered. Today, it's a poor home indeed which does not have clocks all over the house—most of them electric—and it's really a poor man, woman or child, who doesn't have a watch strapped around his or her wrist. Only 30 years ago Harry Wertsch ran this ad in the Lititz Record—October 22, 1926:

"Are You In Need of a Clock In Your Home? It is remarkable how many people are shifting with one clock in their home, when, for a small investment they can add convenience and comfort. It need not be an expensive clock to fill up the gap. We have just the clock you need. Small one-day clocks, alarm clocks, kitchen clocks, mantel clocks, regulator clocks and chime clocks from $1.75 to $57.50. Wertsch."

The clock-selling business has more or less ceased to be confined to jewelry stores as it was in the old days. But the jeweler is still the man people run to when their clocks get out of order. Few jewelers are clock-makers today but they are still clock repairmen. We repair clocks—as well as watches—and at such reasonable charges that it just doesn't pay to harbor a clock around the house that has quit running or which refuses to strike. Bring it in, if it is a small clock—or call us if it's a big one. We'll soon have it ticking away like it did when new. We may be peculiar, or just old-fashioned, but personally we still like to hear at least one clock ticking somewhere around the house. A home with nothing but silent electric clocks somehow seems to us un-lived-in. If you feel that way and have a clock that has gone on a run-down strike—or something—bring it in and we'll put the tick back in.

SIMON T. FICKINGER, Jeweler.

Frozen Foods Play Big Part In Most Home Menus

Frozen foods now have a place in most home menus, either the regular item, an occasional emergency dish or an out-of-season treat. And in more homes it is not just frozen foods that are becoming commonplace but it is the electric freezer itself that is now becoming standard equipment. One of the big reasons is that, with a food freezer, America's homemakers are no longer limited to serving seasonal foods. In fact, this summer's strawberries may well appear in December shortcake, as an example of the variety that the home freezer makes possible.

The preservation of foods by freezing is not new. It has been done commercially for some time. But only in recent years has the value of the home freezer been fully recognized. This has come about largely through the improvement in freezing methods with the help of innumerable research teams. Today, it is known that freezing is a safe, easy way to preserve fruits and vegetables, meat, fish, poultry, game and baked or other pre-cooked foods. Freezing does not improve foods, of course, but it will retain the original flavor, color and nutritive value if the food is properly wrapped in moisture-vapor-proof material. It is important to select food of good quality and to pay close attention to packaging procedures. It is economical to buy packaging materials that can be re-used. Polyethylene bags, aluminum foil, freezer jars and aluminum and plastic freezer containers of reusable materials. Stock-pette is not moisture-vapor-proof and should be used only to protect the packaging material. Waxpaper, bread paper, paper bags, and regular cellophane should not be used because they are not moisture-vapor-proof. HAVE A FREEZER PLAN

Making the best of a freezer does not mean crowding with whatever is at hand without regard for favorite and practical foods. Make a list of the different foods desired during the year, and plan the use of your freezer space. Commercially frozen foods which can be obtained at any time should not be overstocked. Prices should be compared and products sampled before buying and standard items should only be re-ordered in small amounts as needed.

For most economical and practical use, space should always be left in the freezer for short-time storage of baked goods, leftovers, "made" dishes, lunch-box sandwiches and special foods for parties. And it is always wise to see that the electric freezer contains the making of at least one or two complete meals that can be hastily made up should unexpected guests arrive.

peek at THE STARS

By LYN CONNELLY

SINCE the death of Fred Allen, "What's My Line?" has been without a second regular male panelist . . . They have had guests each week, the best of which was Victor Borge, the mad Dane . . . Hope producers of the show decide to sign Victor permanently . . . The panel with the very intellectual and staid Bennett Cerf, Dorothy Kilgallen and Arlene Francis could definitely use a little madcap humor to pep it up . . . Another good possibility would be Jimmy Edmondson who does not limit his talents to spelling backwards in his "Professor Backwards" routine. Jimmy is a humorist in his own right and would go well with the others.

"The Swan" is of Grace Kelly's best pictures and gives a vivid idea of how regal a princess the lovely star makes . . . Arthur Godfrey's Wednesday night show . . . has been cancelled. Just a few months ago Arthur insisted "Disneyland" was not cutting into his ratings—that he had the highest imaginable ratings . . . Apparently CBS follows the Trendex results more closely than its star.

In his own inimitable style, Frankie does "It Happened in Monte-Carlo," "Old Devil Moon," "You're Getting to Be a Habit With Me," "Pennies From Heaven," "Makin' Whoopee," "Swingin' Down the Lane" and other old favorites.

Then there is Shirley Jones and Gordon MacRae with the music from "Carousel" as taken from the sound track of the movie . . . Songs include "If I Loved You," "You'll Never Walk Alone," "June Is Bustin' Out All Over" and "Soliloquy."

NICARAGUA

(Continued from Page 1) Another item which interested us, in a different vein, however, was the difference in the length of days. Our girls coming from the states were accustomed to the late nightfall, but here on the longest day it is dark at 6:30 p.m. The nearer the equator the more even the days and nights.

This is our rainy season but so far it hasn't been too bad. The weather has been nice and breezy and from all reports, you have had some hotter weather than we are having now. Our hottest months are when there is no rain, such as April, May and September.

Right now pineapples are in season and I'm told that many folks sit down and eat a whole pineapple. Cocoanuts seem plentiful too. We have been given a chicken who will not eat corn but likes dried cocoanut. Our eight year old daughter is fascinated by the livestock and has most of our five chickens eating out of her hand.

Our chickens are a little like a friendship garden in which each plant was given by a friend. One was given especially for a Sunday dinner so the girls named him "Sunday Dinner" and are now so attached to him we will have to kill him at night if we have the courage to eat him.

By now you are all forgetting the Bi-Centennial but we are waiting eagerly for the Record accounts of it. We understand Editor Young wears a mustache season and I'm told that many never shave it off.

MRS. HARRY D. HACKER

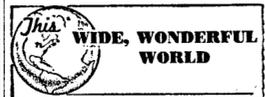

Mrs. Margaret H. Hacker, 79, died at her home, 300 S. Cedar St., Wednesday at 6:20 a.m., after a short illness.

The wife of Harry D. Hacker, she was born in Penryn, but resided in this borough for the past 60 years. She was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, and a member of the Home Department of the Sunday School. She was also a member of the Fire Company Auxiliary.

Mrs. Hacker was the daughter of the late Frank and Elizabeth Hammer Heagy. Besides her husband, she is survived by her daughter, Beatrice, wife of Edward Grosh, North Locust St.; three grandchildren, five great grandchildren; and a brother, Harry Heagy, Allentown.

Friends may call at the Beck Funeral Home, South Broad St., on Friday evening from 7:30 to 8:30.

Services will be held from the Funeral Home on Saturday at 1 o'clock with Rev. Francis R. Bell officiating. Interment will be in the Moravian Cemetery.

By FRANKLIN J. MEINE Editor, The American Peoples Encyclopedia

HERE'S a bit of fuel to add to the fire in the hot stove league. In the National league, Brooklyn left the other seven teams at the starting post by grabbing a record 10 straight games to open the 1955 season, ultimately winning 21 of its first 23. The Dodgers clinched the league title on September 8, the earliest in the recent history of the major leagues. Milwaukee finished second, 13 1/2 games out. The Yankees were forced to wait for their American league pennant until two days before the season ended. The American League's exhausting fight lured almost nine million customers, an increase of more than a million over the previous year. The National League's attendance record was 7,672,795, a decrease of 340,724, despite Milwaukee's hurdling over the 2-million barrier for the second successful year. The aggregate of 16,616,310 for the two leagues reflected an overall boost of 680,427.

Another cup-of-coffee wager: How many of your friends can tell you the official name of the "Panhandle State"? No, it's not Texas. It's West Virginia. The nickname stems from the fact that West Virginia is geographically "long handed."

HOMER H. HINKLE

Homer H. Hinkle, forty-eight, Lititz RD2, died Tuesday at 3:10 a.m., in the Good Samaritan Hospital, Lebanon, after a brief illness.

He was employed by the Cornwall Ore Mines and was a member of the Methodist Church.

In addition to his wife, the former Helen Klaver, he is survived by his mother, Mrs. Mary H. Hinkle, Saxton, Pa.; and these sons and daughters: June, wife of Claire Sweigart, Cornwall; Mrs. Aileen Light, Lititz RD2; Specialist 3rd Class Donald A. Hinkle, U.S. Army, Germany; Clair R. and Dennis L. Hinkle, both at home.

Also surviving are three grandchildren and these brothers and sisters: Mrs. Jennie Mellott, Hopewell; Mrs. Stella Whitten, Belleville, Mich.; John O. Hinkle, Saxton; and Orville Hinkle, Milroy, Pa.

Among The Sick

Eugene Garner, West Main St., is a surgical patient at the Osteopathic Hospital, and is reported improving following an appendectomy last week.

Mrs. Elmer Adams, North Broad Street, was admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital on Sunday.

Mrs. Katie Eberly, Brunner-ville, was admitted to Lancaster General Hospital this week for observation.

Otto Pfautz, East Main Street, is a patient at Lancaster General Hospital.

Mrs. Clara Miley, Second Ave., collapsed in the office of Dr. Paul Hess on Tuesday, and was conveyed in the Community Ambulance to Lancaster General Hospital for treatment.

H. Lloyd Hess is recuperating at his cottage at Mt. Gretna following surgery at Lancaster General Hospital.

Levi Mellinger, Front Street, is observing his 69th birthday today while a patient at St. Joseph's Hospital. He is expected to be discharged in the near future.

Oren Spangenberg, S. Broad Street, was admitted as a surgical patient at the Osteopathic Hospital yesterday.

Auction Sale Plans Are Announced

John Heltzer and Robert Weaver, co-chairmen of the Lions Club activities committee, announced plans for the annual auction sale to be held on the South Spruce Street Playground on August 17.

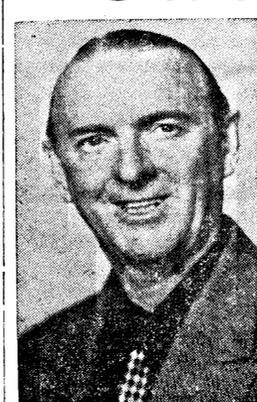

This is the occasion for which the Lions ask contributions of clothing, furniture, housewares, in fact anything you care to donate for the auction. Proceeds from the sale are used by the club for civic improvement.

A telephone call to either Heltzer (6-7977) or Weaver (6-9662 after 5 p.m.) will assure pick up of the items to be donated starting this coming Monday evening. These collections will be made each succeeding Monday and Wednesday until the date of the auction.

The Boy Scouts of Lititz will distribute circulars on Monday which will explain in detail all about this annual affair which has always been successful. Money realized through these sales has played a major part in the maintenance and improvement to the Playground.

The next meeting of the Lions Club Board of Directors will be

At Gretna

Ben Laughlin returns to Gretna Playhouse to play an important role in "The First Year," successful Broadway comedy by stage and screen actor Frank Craven. Produced by Charles F. Coghlan and Gene P. Otto, the show opens Thursday for a week's run.

Laughlin first appeared at Mt. Gretna in 1948 and played in a series of shows with Charlton Heston who was leading man of the company that year. Subsequent appearances were in 1950, 1951 and 1955. Laughlin was last seen in "Mary's Other Husband" last season. He has acted in many Broadway plays, notably "Three Men on a Horse," "Once in a Lifetime" and "Counselor-at-Law." During World War II he entertained the troops in Europe with the famous comedy, "Arsenic and Old Lace."

In "The First Year," a comedy about the trials and tribulations of the first year of marriage, Laughlin portrays the father of the bride. Charles S. Pursell and Margorie Millard will play the young married couple. The bride's mother will be Ann Sullivan. Jackson Young will take part of a rival for Miss Millard's affections. Others in the cast will be Gene Galvin, the bride's bachelor uncle; Jim Bernard, a successful business man; Anne Herr, his ex-show girl wife, and Barbara Angle, a comic maid.

held Monday evening, July 30, at the American Legion Home on North Broad Street.

The last meeting of the club was in the form of a picnic held at Charles Wagaman's cottage, with "Dubbs" Haldeman doing the catering for the 44 in attendance.

Buckwalter-Gerhart Wedding At Neffsville

Miss Patricia M. Gerhart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bervin L. Gerhart, Lancaster, was wed on Saturday evening in Long Memorial Evangelical United Brethren Church, Neffsville, to Robert S. Buckwalter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elam S. Buckwalter, Lititz RD3. Rev. Harry C. Mark officiated at the candle-light ceremony.

Harold M. Hollinger, Lititz RD3, was the soloist accompanied by Ethel Reidenbaugh. Mrs. Emma K. Gerhart, Leacock, served as matron of honor; and Lt. Col. John S. Buckwalter, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ivan J. Gerhart and John M. Markley, of Wyomissing, were the ushers.

Following a reception in the General Sutter Hotel, the couple left for a trip to the Poconos. They will reside on Forney Drive.

Both are graduates of Manheim Township High School. The bride is employed in the office of Penn Dairies, Inc., and the bridegroom, a veteran of World War II, is the owner and operator of the Central Milling Co., Lititz RD3.

SHREINER-PHEASANT

The marriage to Miss Jane Pheasant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Pheasant, Martinsburg RD2, and Ronald Shreiner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Shreiner, Lititz RD1, took place Sunday, July 15, at 3 p.m., in the Fairview Church of the Brethren, near Williamsburg. Rev. Ivan Frey, of New Windsor, officiated.

The bride's gown was chantilly lace and net with a jacket. As maid of honor, Miss Joan Newkirk, of Hagerstown, Md., wore a gown of blue taffeta with two

From Paul Morgan, Los Angeles, Calif.: Almost fifty years ago I was a young boy down on the farm. Part of my daily chores was to chop and saw wood each day (enough for the following day). I had my choice, could do it before or after school - most always did it after school. A kid with a sharp ax could chop a lot of wood.

During a snow I had to shovel a path to the chicken house, pig pen, corn crib and the little lonely vine covered house.

I would get all slicked up for school, with a school bag over my shoulder and shoe box filled with real good food and an apple or pear. Only rich kids ate oranges (now, here in California, with oranges plentiful, I never see kids eating one) . . . there were other chores, like gathering and cleaning eggs and taking them to the country store to exchange for groceries from a list that Mom had made. Every few weeks the chicken house had to be cleaned and white-washed . . . Saturdays you were handed a black stick of stove polish and rags to polish and clean the kitchen stove . . . when finished you were as black as the Gold Dust Twins.

Kids did not have much time to play but did enjoy going fishing or hunting every time they were free from the many, many chores around a farm - but in the evening by the fireplace there was plenty of fun playing checkers, dominoes, Old Maids, etc.

Then with a candle in a holder in one hand and a hot brick wrapped in a newspaper off you went to bed to dream of tomorrow. (Send contributions to this column to The Old Timer, Community Press Service, Box 39, Frankfort, Ky.)

Look In A Mirror Lately?

Ever stop to think about it? - - - A "looking-glass" can only reflect what it sees; never makes its own pictures. CAN'T BLAME THE MIRROR FOR THE SHAPE WE'RE IN!

YOUR TV SET is a mirror that reproduces only what it sees on the antenna terminals - - - can't blame the set if we give it a lousy picture to start with, - - - it's just as faithful as our mirror.

A good picture begins with a good antenna, and now is the time to have a complete overhaul if your antenna is more than two years old.

Even the best materials become worn and corroded, lead-in cables become loose and broken, guy-wire and other supports should especially be checked to avoid trouble during the coming fall and winter seasons.

Call our antenna experts now to avoid costlier winter repairs. Free estimates cheerfully given.

layers of net. Shirley Pheasant, of Eden, N. Y., niece of the bride, was flower girl. Donald McCall, of Hamburg, N. Y., nephew of the bride, was ring bearer. Jean dePerrot, of Lancaster, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Eugene Garner, Lititz, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and Phil Pheasant, Martinsburg, brother of the bride. Mrs. Ralph Over was organist, and Miss Hazel Greiner, Philadelphia, sister of the bridegroom, was soloist. After a reception in the church social room, the bridal pair left for a trip to Niagara Falls and Canada. They now reside at 358 E. Main St. Both the bride and bridegroom did Brethren Volunteer Service work. The bride was employed at the J. C. Blair Hospital, Huntingdon. The bridegroom is employed by J. Rollman & Son.
