State Highway Dept. Gives Boro 'Run-Around' Will Not Re-build East Main Street This Year

Some Sign Of Spurt In Building

15 New Homes Being Constructed At Kissel
Hill; Five Here

With credit and interest rates being eased nationally, building of new homes in this area is expected to show a spurt this Spring with some indications already evident.

The most pronounced activity to-date exists in the Kissel Hill area where Lloyd May, of Brickerville, has started the construction of approximately 15 new homes this year. The development is located on the Joseph Brubaker farm.

Brubaker several years ago presented an annexation petition to the Lititz borough council. So many problems developed at several subsequent meetings, however, that the annexation effort was dropped. Within the borough limits, the most activity seems centered about the Balmer Development in the northeastern end of town. Here Michael Gress plans to finish five new homes by June 1. Progress made on these homes will determine how many more will be started this year, it was indicated.

Plans for building several more homes on the Howard Erb farm, by Mervin Balmer, also are pending.

Fire Co. Ladies Elect Mrs. Reed As President

Mrs. Arlene Reed was elected president of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Fire Company at the meeting held on Thursday evening at the Fire House. Other officers elected were: Mrs. Sue Garner, 1st vice-president; Mrs. Pauline Yergler, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. Geraldine Rineer, financial secretary; Mrs. Helen Shank, secretary; and Mrs. Viola Meiskey, treasurer.

The ladies planned to hold a rummage sale on April 17 and 18. They will collect on Thursday afternoon and hold the sale Thursday evening and Friday all day. Mrs. Esther Shenberger will be in charge.

Mrs. Reed appointed Mrs. Yergler and Miss June Hauck as the game committee. The ladies had a covered dish supper preceding the business meeting. Mrs. Richard Arnold won the door prize. The firemen will entertain the ladies at their next meeting on Thursday, April 10th.

Sportsmen's Meeting On Monday Night

Members of the Lititz Sportsmen Assn. will meet at 8 p.m. Monday, March 17, at the Lititz Legion.

The sportsmen Sunday concluded stocking 89 pheasants in the Warwick Union area. It was also reported the three local creeks, Seglock, Middle and Hammer Creek have received their quota of trout for stocking from the State Fish Commission.

Although no stocking figures are released, the Seglock normally gets 500 trout, Middle Creek 1,000 and Hammer Creek about 800. In addition to business the sportsmen will see a fishing film furnished courtesy of Allegheny Airlines.

THREE-MONTH-OLD CHILD RUSHED TO HOSPITAL

The three-month-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Foreman, 237 E. Lincoln avenue, was rushed to the Lancaster General Hospital early last evening after being suddenly seized with convulsions. The child's condition was reported satisfactory following its arrival at the hospital.

In Thee, O Lord, do I put my trust: let me never be put to confusion.—(Psalm 71, 1.)
Those who put their trust in God, completely and without reservation—who say, "Thy will, not mine, be done"—no wondrous faith, shall evermore be calm and strong, free from doubt and confusion.

FOUR WARWICK UNION "DEVILDOGS"

The "Devildogs," that's the name given to the Lancaster County High School Seniors and recent graduates who are enlisting in the Marines "Conestoga Company" which is being recruited from the South Central section of Pennsylvania to leave on June 20th.

Shown here are four "Devildogs" from Warwick Union who were sworn into the Marines recently in Lancaster. (L. to R.), Melvin Stoltzfus, RD#4, Lititz; Arthur Myers, 533 N. Water St., Ronald Janick, 334

E. Second Ave., Donald Wagaman, RD #2, Lititz, with MSgt. J. S. Holt, Marine Recruiter.

Although the men have enlisted they will remain in school until they graduate in June.

The time between their enlistment and June 20th will count for pay purposes and as part of their reserve obligation.

The Marine Recruiting Office is located in Room 224, Post Office Building, Lancaster.

Warwick Going One Better On Gov's Ed Council Proposals

Warwick High School is meeting the proposed stepup in education recommended by the recent Governor's Council on Education—and then some.

The council, widely publicized several weeks ago, recommended that minimum high school graduation requirements include three years of English and social studies each, a year of math and a year of science.

A check with Supervising Principal G. Marlin Spald revealed that Warwick has been doing more than the proposals advocated.

At present students are required to take four years of English and History, two science and one math. This is considerably more than the present State Department of Public Instruction requirements.

No Snap Course
In a review of the present school curriculum Spald said this week he felt Warwick has "no such thing as a snap course."

Of a total of 30 possible hours of classroom work, pupils are required to schedule a minimum of 24 hours. Maximum is 28 hours. The minimum requirement prevents students from just queezing through and loading a schedule with free or "study" periods.

Science, a bone of contention with the Governor's Council, is taught in one form or another in every grade except ninth. But there general science or biology is a must. It is done in the form of supplemental reading from first through fourth grade. From sixth through eighth a science course is taught in the grades and junior high.

When a student becomes a freshman he is allowed to select a course to follow during high school.

Available are the academic, general, business, vocational, homemaking, industrial arts, and vocational agriculture courses.

RE-HASHING OLD TIMES

13 Past Presidents Honored By Brotherhood

Thirteen men were honored as past presidents of the Ushers Association, now named The Brotherhood, of the St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church at a meeting of the Brotherhood Tuesday evening.

The organization was founded in 1915 with its first president being M. E. Rudy. Mr. Rudy, now a resident of Landisville, attended the program. He related to those attending, how the organization was founded and remembered the fine softball team the Ushers had in the town church league.

Other past presidents were J. B. Herr 1916-17 and 22; Clarence Ernst, Lancaster, 1920; E. B. Weber, New Holland, 1925; Leroy Pfautz, 1926; Charles Kopp, 421 Cedar St., 1943-54; Robert J. Hanna, 38 E. 2nd Ave., 1946-49-51; George Birchfield, Nettsville, 1947; Marlin Allen, Brownstown, 1948-50; Omar Bucher, 114 E. 2nd Ave., 1952; James Rathkey, 208 E. 3rd Ave., 1953; Fred Schreiber, 208 E. 2nd Ave., 1955; Garth Hacker, R.D. 1, 1956 and the present president, Gary Hanna.

The speaker of the evening was Dr. Bellhauser, retired pastor of Lebanon, who substituted for Harold Landis of Lebanon and talked on the subject of "Getting Men Into The Church."

More than 40 members of the Brotherhood attended. Refreshments were served following the meeting.

Quarantine Risser Farm For Rabies

A 100-day quarantine was placed on the farm near Clay owned by Leon Risser, of this borough, yesterday when it was determined that a cow which died Saturday had been infected with rabies.

According to Risser, the cow had all of the symptoms of being rabid and the head immediately was shipped to the State Veterinary laboratory at Harrisburg. When tests proved that it definitely was rabid, officials ordered that all cattle now on the farm must not be moved until after the 100-day period has lapsed.

The farm is socked with a large number of pure-bred short-horned breeding cattle. To-date none of the other animals have shown any signs of ill-health.

Both Risser and his employee, Clyde Brubaker, must now receive a series of 12 inoculations during the next two weeks inasmuch as the hydrophobia is readily transmissible to man and can be fatal if not treated immediately.

Risser also revealed that a rabid fox has been shot on the adjoining farm owned by Carl Frederick, approximately a month ago. Frederick also had to kill two dogs bitten by the fox. It is thought the fox may also have bitten the Risser cow.

"I think you ought to suggest that anyone with stray dogs should keep them tied at this time as this is far more serious than many realize," Risser emphasized.

Library Week Observance On March 16 To 22

National Library Week focuses attention on reading and on the importance of libraries of all kinds, from the bookshelves in your home to the vast collections in public and university libraries.

Reading is not only essential to a free society but it enriches the individual. It is the reader who has the successful career.

Everybody can take time out for reading — and rediscover the delight and challenge of the written word.

The Lancaster Free Public Library, 125 N. Duke St., is observing National Library Week with an open house for all citizens of Lancaster County the entire week of March 16-22. There will be programs about books and reading, a musical program, puppet show, youth program and Art Show.

Mr. Yergler will succeed Jonathan Forry and will take office on July 1. Other officers elected are: Victor Kingswell, first vice president; Richard Heistand, second vice president; Charles Gardner, secretary; and John Garber, Jr., treasurer.

Triplets Meeting
Local Rotarians will entertain approximately 100 visiting Rotarians at the General Sutter Hotel this Tuesday evening when the local club will be host to members from Mount Joy and Elizabethtown to mark the 32nd anniversary of the joint-founding of all three clubs.

General Daniel B. Strickler will be the speaker of the evening. Special music will be presented by the Acappella Male Chorus of East Petersburg.

Neighbor'd Group Fixes Girl Scout Day Camp Dates

A change in the date of the Girl Scout Day Camp was announced by Mrs. Howard B. Minnich, chairman, at the meeting of the Neighborhood group on Friday evening in the Recreation Center. The Camp will be held August 18th to 22nd. This change was due to the extended school term.

Mrs. Robert Thompson was elected secretary of the group and Mrs. Edwin Stroble, treasurer, each for a term of two years. Mrs. Howard Redway and Mrs. Vincent Dagen were elected delegates to the Lancaster County Girl Scout Council with Mrs. Minnich and Mrs. John Witmyer as alternates.

The committee proposed Miss Kathryn Adams as a candidate for the Neighborhood Chairman, the name will be forwarded to the council board for appointment in April. Miss Joanne Snively was chairman of the nominating committee.

Mrs. John Badorf, chairman of the international program, announced all troops will meet on March 10th in the Elementary school building when Miss Rachael Laird, teacher of Spanish and French at Linden Hall, will present an illustrated talk on Mexico. Mexico is the theme of the International Festival to be held April 25 and 26 in Lancaster. A display of troop projects will also be shown.

Mrs. G. Marlin Spald, cookie chairman, reported two troops have met their quota in selling cookies. The Neighborhood group reached 70 per cent of the

Local Scenes Feature Art Display By Dick Hess

Numerous local scenes are included in an interesting one-man showing of paintings by Dick Hess, former president of the Hillside Art Association, now on display at Weaver's Restaurant.

Hess' versatility is emphasized in the showing by the fact that his works include those in three different mediums, oil, water color and pastels.

A water color attracting much attention is a scene just beyond the Bomberger Memorial on the road to Halfville. Other water colors include the

'No Funds' Klucker Anno'ces

Local Project Never Was On The Schedule,
Engineer Indicates

The State Highway Department will not re-build East Main Street this year! This blunt announcement was made in Harrisburg Tuesday by Robert Klucker, district highway engineer for this area—abruptly ending a three-month period of doubt in which borough officials sought definite word on the needed improvement.

And thus, the high crown on the first few blocks of Main Street east of the Square, which has harassed parking motorists for several years, must be tolerated another year or so at least. And Lititz will continue with what are generally regarded as the two most dangerous highway entrances in the county, North Broad and East Main Streets.

The borough received plans and specifications last December for re-building East Main Street and borough council immediately indicated its intention of complying with all preliminary requirements. These included council's pledge to lower utility mains, obtain releases where the street is

From Out Of The Past

Taken from the Files of the Lititz Record and the Lititz Express.

10 YEARS AGO March 11, 1948

Just the first page headlines this time. May vote on school merger in November. Lions Club considers purchase of ambulance for service here. Lititz Girl Scouts celebrating anniversary. Fall to find site for playground. Mrs. Demmy heads Auxiliary for 21st term. Firemen plan reservoirs for nearby districts. Ruth Diehm wins honors at Temple University. Photo salon will be held July 4 to 11. To dedicate electric organ at St. Paul's. X-rays will be taken by T. B. Society here. R. A. Snyder to address Woman's Club. Scouts to collect paper and iron on Saturday. Neighbors clean up fire ruins. Communism blasted at annual banquet of Chamber of Commerce. Donald Fisher to star in Rothsville. Rebels to pick "Queen for a Night". Kendig Bare to speak to Junior Chamber of Commerce. Girl Scouts to collect fats. In short, never a dull moment!

20 YEARS AGO March 10, 1928

A resolution honoring the late Paul E. Beck was adopted at a meeting of the Lititz Springs Committee held in the Parish House on Thursday evening, at which time it was decided to open the musical program in the park on the anniversary of his birth. June 23rd.

Well over a thousand Lititz people accompanied the Lititz High School basketball team to Lancaster last night and saw the proteges of Coach David Foster bow to a far superior Steelton five, 48-35. Warning to boys and young men to stop the shooting of air rifles and other guns in Lititz has been issued by Borough council following the receipt of many complaints by Burgess Victor Wagner and the councilmen. Parents too are warned to take account of this matter and watch their children as they will be held responsible.

30 YEARS AGO March 15, 1928

Introducing a bit of humor in his talk at the organization meeting of the Chamber of Commerce here on Tuesday, Hon. Atlee related that the Pennsylvania Railroad was very considerate to Lititz in the location of the new depot at Lancaster. He overheard a conversation in which a man said that the depot was being built in the north end of Lancaster. "Heck no," said the second man. "It's the southern end of Lititz!" There is a prejudice in this part of the county against machine-made cigars. It is only natural since the change from the hand-made cigar to the machine-made cigar has thrown hundreds of workers out of a livelihood. Many local cigar makers and others predict that the hand-made cigar will come back. Time will tell. The local postoffice resembles a chick hatchery. Day-old chicks are received by the hundreds daily, coming from such far off states as Missouri and Minnesota. There is a steady chirping of the chicks heard at the postoffice and if your mail becomes mixed don't complain. Onion sets are now on display in the stores intown at 12 and 15 cents a quart. They are a harbinger of Spring that never fails—so that fair days must be on the way.

10 YEARS AGO March 11, 1948

40 YEARS AGO March 15, 1918

After March 16 the prices for hair-cutting by town barbers will be 25 cents and shaving 15 cents. Cards to this effect were placed in their shops about two weeks ago and have silently been impressing customers that our tonsorial artists could no longer stand the strain of the old prices for their service when everything else had soared skyward. As the barbers have been sacrificing for their customers for quite a while they deserve loyal support in their new and necessary move. Persons who have been attending the movies during the week at the Dreamland theater said there were some good films among those exhibited.

The Lititz Fire Company organized a rifle and bugle corps at the home of Wilson Gibel. It consists of thirteen members to begin with. The corps will meet every Friday night in Kofroth's garage until the fire house is finished. Valentine Brobst, Ambulance Co., No. 3, 28th Division, Camp Hancock, is spending ten days at home.

50 YEARS AGO March 13, 1908

Last week we noted that a No. 7 moleskin glove was lonesome at the office without its mate. On Tuesday we received a letter from Mr. H. C. Bucher, editor Honey Brook Graphic, with this note: "The No. 7 moleskin glove left at your office on Monday, now seeking its mate, is no doubt brother of my right hand glove of the same description. The glove was left at your office when I called shortly before leaving town. Please mail same to me with bill for advertising, etc."

Mention has been made that S. G. Graybill of Rheems, has moved his quarrying outfit to Lime Rock near Lititz. Mr. Graybill is rapidly getting the quarry into running order and a siding 730 feet long is now being built. The stone will be quarried by the latest devices and among the machinery is a steam shovel and a steam drill. Twenty-five men will be required to operate the place. The stone is of superior quality and it is calculated that there is enough there and the deposit rich enough to keep them busy for fifty years.

60 YEARS AGO March 11, 1898

Members of Garfield Castle 76 K. G. E. are requested to present at next week's meeting when there will be an entertainment given with graphophone. The well-advertised public sale of live stock, conveyances, household goods, etc., to be followed by a steer chase, to be held at the Warwick House last Saturday, brought an immense crowd to town, estimated at several thousand and said to have been the largest gathering of the kind ever held here. The wild Cherokee steer chase was started between five and six o'clock. The animal ran out the Mannheim road and was followed by men on foot and horseback. After proceeding about half a mile, he stopped, when he was approached by Martin Doster of Clay Township who easily captured him by throwing a rope over his head and brought the prize back, which he was permitted to retain.

Some of the fellows who are volunteering to carry on a war with Spain to the country's honor, couldn't be induced to volunteer to carry a bucket of coal to save their wives' backs.

70 YEARS AGO March 16, 1888

The heavy snowstorm which turned up last Sunday evening followed by terrific winds traveling at a speed of up to 60 miles an hour, which kept up until Wednesday, was the worst of the season, if not for years. Snow was banked up many feet high along the public highways and railway travel was entirely stopped for two days in nearly all parts of this and adjoining states. In many of the cars on the Pennsylvania railroad nearly all the windows had been broken by striking against the huge piles of frozen snow. The fine large windows in the Pullman cars looked as though a man had gone along and struck them with an axe. Never in the history of the Reading railroad has the entire system been so completely blocked. All telegraph wires were down and communication was impossible. No trains arrived from any point on the main line. The only train arriving at Ninth and Green Streets in Philadelphia from the Bound Brook division was "The Owl" which left New York at midnight on Sunday and arrived at Philadelphia on Tuesday morning. A famine is threatened in New York City. Supplies of food are running low. There is little coal on hand and the prices asked are enormous. The situation is worse than ever as the storm is still raging furiously. In New York public squares trees have been blown down and the squares are filled with drifts of snow in many places 12 to 15 feet deep. Nine vessels were wrecked off Sandy Hook but the crews were all saved. (That was the famous "Blizzard of 1888!")

Pays — To Shop In Lititz

Last week, local grocers who advertise regularly in the Record-Express were ble to—and actually were—selling umbo-size eggs for 56 cents a dozen and rankfurters for 57 cents a pound, just a mention two prices carefully noted by a Record-Express reader. Yet one of these big chain supers in a nearby hopping center was charging 69 cents or eggs and 66 cents a pound for frankfurters. Actual proof, as furnished by one of our readers and subsequently checked by us, that it pays to patronize the advertisers in your home-town paper.

All recessions are not unpopular. The most popular recession ever to hit these parts was the recent melting of the snow drifts.

News trickling back from the palm tree areas indicates that before long we're going to have another season of baseball. Just as soon as we get the windows up so that the neighbor's Sunday afternoon radio can pierce your sleeping eardrums.

The biggest boom to keeping fenders from getting bumped up, was Menno Rohrer's decision to have the tree in front of his Broad Street office cut down. While all of us hate to see old trees disappear, this particular one leaned far out over the curb, right where you had to park. There are several more which should suffer the same fate, too!

Adding three new parking spaces in front of the park gives a bit of relief for business of this section. Off-the-street parking down there is a bit scarce since the old station lot was eliminated. And in this day and age we have to make it easy for the shopper to park, if we are to prosper.

Fear And Assessors

We were quite right when we said in one of last week's editorials, that these new specially-trained assessors are going to knock on your front door and want to go all over your house. But, a county official warns, realizing that the fellows sent out here are going to put a value on your home, nobody is going to make him sore by refusing him permission to do whatever he wants to do.

Too often in this day and age, Mr. John Q. Public is coerced by his own government. We're afraid to argue with Internal Revenue employees for fear we will get a stiff fine hung onto us, for no reason of our own. And now, we're supposedly afraid to stand up for our constitutional rights of not permitting every Tom, Dick and Harry to enter our homes—for fear our assessment will be jacked up on us.

It's a sad commentary of modern-day democracy!

Have you renewed your membership to the Warwick Ambulance service? If not, get it in pronto—it's the biggest bargain in sight. And even if you never use it, you won't be unhappy!

It's Just A Brief Pause, Folks!

After a day's work, we rest before thinking of heading into another period of labor. In the Spring the good earth is plowed, seeded and fertilized. Then comes the fall harvest followed by winter when the earth lies dormant and rests, gathering its strength for the next fruitful season.

Our economy, business in general, has made tremendous strides in the last ten years. Now it pauses to consolidate its position, and will, without a doubt in due time, continue its broad advance.

The Farm Revolution

The President of the Farm Equipment Institute recently said that, on the basis of available figures, sales of tractors and other farm machinery will be better this year than last. He mentioned two factors concerned. For one thing, farm income generally has run at higher levels than in 1956. For another, to quote him directly, farmers want to obtain "more modern farm equipment to help offset rising costs of farm labor, and to improve their income."

He added: "The trend towards larger acreage on family-type farms and the use of modern farm equipment adapted to that of an operation, which make for increased savings and timeliness in performing farm work, will continue in the immediate years ahead."

This is of special interest when read in conjunction with a Farm Journal editorial. That magazine says: "The rural scene in America is undergoing phenomenal changes these days." For instance, our farmers are producing food and fiber for a soaring population—yet the farm population steadily declines. Last April, for instance, there were 4,700,000 fewer farmers than in 1950. And more than 2 million farm people work regularly at other jobs.

Farm equipment is largely responsible for this phenomena. It has given every farm worker a productive power that would seem unbelievable to the farmers of other generations. It has reduced costs, increased efficiency, and taken much of the drudgery out of farm tasks. The machine powered, and continues to power the agricultural revolution.

Well, here we are!
 Yep, here we are in the dead of winter. Now if we can just bury it, things will soon get interesting, in all departments! The high school kids already are holding hands as they walk up and down Main Street after school.

Suggested sign-board for the end of town: "Shop in Lititz the Friendly Town. Lititz Has No Strangers—Only Friends Who Haven't Met!"

Swivel-Chair-Thoughts: Why don't present-day kids play marbles anymore? . . . in our day the ol' bag of marbles would come out as soon as the snows melted . . . but it's been many a day since we've seen a good game of marbles in progress . . . The Spring public sales are with us once again . . . several nice batches of antiques will go on the block soon, too . . . we're still on the prowl for an antique whalebone cribbage board, just in case anybody has any for sale . . . catering to antique collectors is one business which would drive you nuts . . . the anti-climax to all antique shows is where to put the stuff once you get it home . . . lot of folks hereabouts didn't know that Wilbur Suchard makes a huge five-pound almond bar until Harry Essig started handing them out each week down at Glassmyer's . . . wonder how many calories in a thing like that?

The new sack dress has been conspicuously missing from the local scene, excepting for a few of the younger set. And, we've noticed, every time two or more local women get together, one or both claim vigorously they just "won't wear the things."

They do look ridiculous, but we've gone through this sort of thing before (how many times!) and we're betting that in another couple of weeks, you'll find all the gals looking like so many sacks of potatoes.

And by that time, a lot of the men will be heard admitting that "they don't look so bad, after all" even though they will!

Remember the days when the gang now returning from Florida would take up your time telling you how warm it was down south?

It's long been illegal to photograph money, but after reading over our income tax forms it seems that according to the Internal Revenue Department, it is almost against the law to have any on hand.

One reason we think there are so many drives for funds is that the years are getting shorter and shorter.

Thought-of-the-week: The turnover is highly important, whether it's in business or when the alarm clock goes off in the morning.

Annie Strumbendle says: "A lot of marriages would work out better if the head of the house would remember to bring home some applesauce along with the bacon."

These afternoon bridge parties must be highly educational. The conversation became so engrossing at one last week, we're told, that after the prizes were handed out, someone remembered they hadn't turned their score in. And so all the prizes went back as the scores were re-figured. This sort of thing kept up for at least three times before the prizes finally were handed out fergoot!

And boy, what a colyum we could write if we could only overhear some of that highly educational stuff, too!

There are times when a clear conscience is nothing more nor less than a poor memory.

Tuesday was the seventieth anniversary of the blizzard of '88. Wayne Fahnestock clearly recalls the high drifts between Lixington and Brunnerville. A small boy then, Wayne accompanied a group of men who dug out a long stretch of the Brunnerville road. The men shoveled from the ground while the young boys would stand on top of the high drifts and shovel the snow further back.

According to Wayne, there never was another storm like the blizzard of '88 until several weeks ago—and that, he says, was almost as bad!

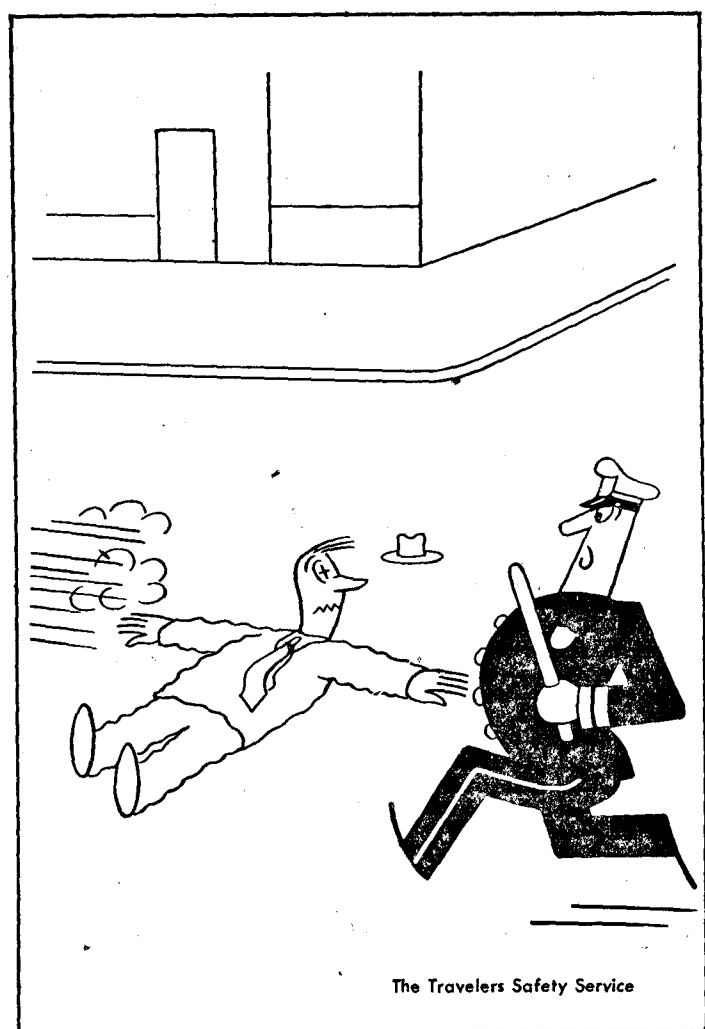

We've always gotten a kick out of a good snow storm. But right now the sight of those pretty little snow-drops which spring up around the side of the house when you least suspect, will be a welcome one, indeed!

Lately we've read so much about the harmful effects of smoking cigars that we're getting filled up—almost to the point of giving up reading!

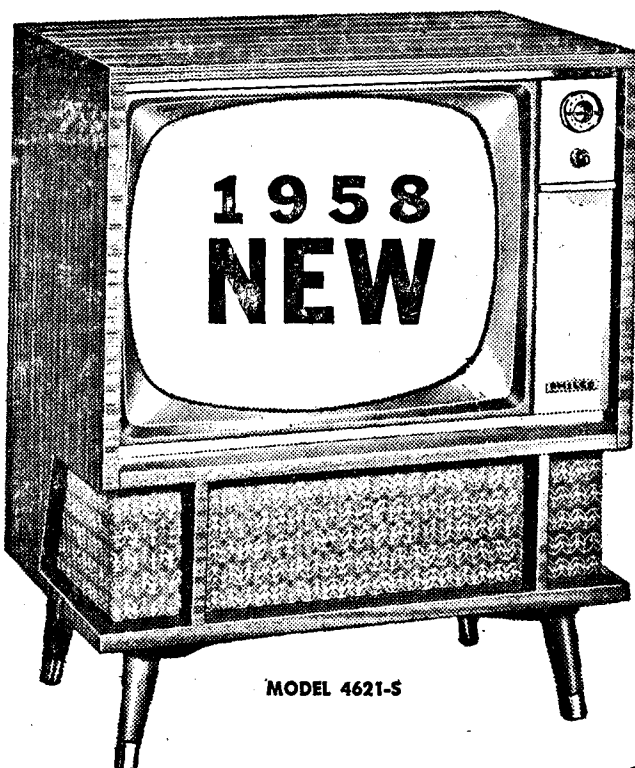

The more we think of it the more we believe that the reason the occupants of one of those space-ships from the moon never landed on this continent, is that they can't find any place to park the thing!

Children Need Good Examples

"Let's play like we are a bride and bridegroom."
 Children love to "play like." And they are good actors. They not only "dress-up" in the clothing of adults, they take on many of the mannerisms and ways of the grown-ups. Parents, and others who are in daily or frequent contact with children need to guard their speech and their actions to the end that these are worthy of imitation.
 There is one activity that parents can make no mistake in following—regular attendance at the church of their religion—for if the children follow their parent's example in church attendance and fellowship they can and will, more often than not, be led into richer, fuller lives.

Local Group Says Many Deer Dying

Reports of large numbers of deer dying in the mountainous districts of the state were brought back by a group of local hunters this week.

Loading a truck with corn, the group of local hunters headed by Ira Yeagley, of Market Street, went to their camp near World's End Park in Sullivan County, for the purpose of scattering food about for the starving animals.

According to Yeagley, approximately two of every 15 deer sighted were dead. "The other animals are so thin and weak that we could almost capture them by hand," Yeagley explained. "The snow was so deep that they just could not find food to remain alive."

Others in the group were Floyd Habecker, Alfred Wolf, both of his borough; Robert Weascher, of Rothsville, and Elmer Shreiner, of Millway.

Several weeks ago other local groups took corn to Tioga and Potter counties. Due to last year's drought, few farmers in these sections have any corn to spare, they explained.

Boro Hunter To Pay $450 For Shooting

Donald L. Good, twenty, 30 E. Main St., was sentenced to pay agreed restitution of $450, plus costs of prosecution, when he pleaded guilty to a violation of the State game laws in quarter sessions court Monday.

He also was placed on probation for one year, by Judge William G. Johnstone, Jr., and had his hunting privileges suspended for the duration of the probation on a charge of shooting a human in mistake of game.

Donald Feltenberger, thirty-seven, 33 N. Third St., Denver, was the victim in the case, and sustained amputated left hand, for which the amount of $450 was asked through his attorney, David R. Eaby. The mishap occurred last Dec. 10, when both men were hunting in the vicinity of the Lebanon pumping station.

According to District Game Protector Wallace Woodring, Good was hunting with his father when he fired three shots at a "movement" in the brush, at a range of between 75 to 100 yards. The third shot, according to the testimony, struck Feltenberger in the left hand.

FARM REVIEW AND FORECAST

EFFICIENT FEEDING AND LIVESTOCK MANAGEMENT

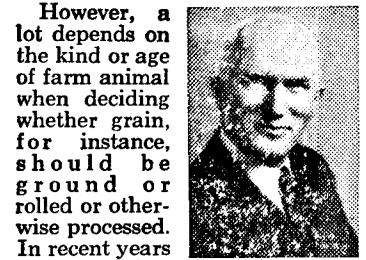

By Dr. Gustav Bohstedt
Emeritus Professor of Animal Husbandry
University of Wisconsin

Proper Feed Preparation Is Important

Feed economy and feed efficiency can be greatly increased when the farmer is careful to prepare the rations in the form best fitted for each age and class of livestock. Proper preparation means added profits for the producer.

Most farm grains and hays can be eaten just as they are. Surely they have been so eaten since the earliest times.

Dr. Bohstedt

However, a lot depends on the kind or age of farm animal when deciding whether grain, for instance, should be ground or rolled or otherwise processed.

In recent years even hay has shown certain advantages when chopped or ground or pelleted, depending on circumstances and especially on the kind of animal fed.

Lambs in a feed lot hardly ever need any grain ground for them, whether corn or small grain. They have excellent grinders by way of their own molars.

Though horses with sound teeth do a good job of masticating grain, experience indicates rolling or crimping the grain is usually preferable.

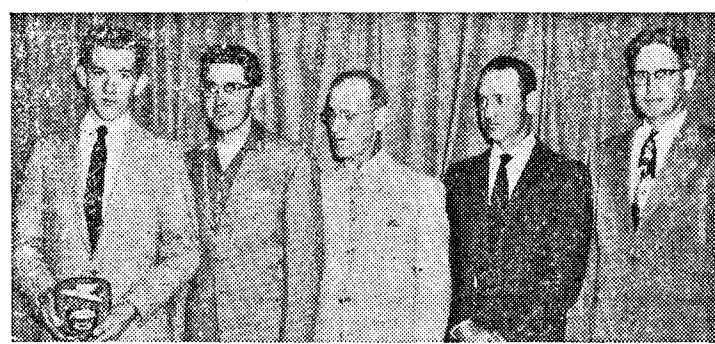

Very young animals, even sucking animals, whether pigs, lambs or calves, like to eat grain whole, rather than ground. They eat such grain leisurely, thoroughly ensalivating and softening it. They do an excellent job of chewing and very little grain ever passes through them whole.

shelled corn. When such steers are full fed on whole corn, as much as 20 per cent may pass through them unmasticated and therefore undigested. This way 20 per cent shows up undigested in the manure. When sufficient pigs are following such steers in the feed lot, these whole kernels are salvaged efficiently, making the feeding of whole corn to these steers entirely practical. However, with no pigs to save the corn, it should always be ground, or at least cracked, to avoid the 20 per cent waste which would otherwise result.

For dairy cows that are nearly always fed a mixture of grains and concentrates, it is always advisable to grind the feeds. Medium-fine grinding, resulting in a product that feels gritty as tested between the thumb and forefinger, is better than either very fine or very coarse grinding.

Grinding hay into a meal is recommended when it is to be used in calf meals or poultry mash, or in winter or dry-lot rations for pigs. Frequently alfalfa meal and concentrates are pelleted to good effect, especially for very young pigs and chickens. Alfalfa meal and concentrates in larger pellets have proved efficient for beef cattle too, in fact these larger pellets are suitable for almost any mature farm animal.

LOCAL CORN CHAMPIONS

Arthur D. Breneman (L. to R.) of Willow Street was recently proclaimed county corn growing champion at a banquet held at Lancaster in honor of Pennsylvania corn growing champions. His yield of 121.14 bushels per acre was the top yield in Lancaster county in the 1957 National Selected Five Acre DeKalb Corn Growing Contest. Runner-up winner was John S. Brenneman of Lancaster who produced a yield of 98.36 bushels per acre. George W. Jackson & son James of Christiana were third place winners with a yield of 92.90 bushels per acre. Fourth place was won by Russell Mendenhall also of Christiana with a yield of 89.23 bushels per acre.

Spring Barnyard Cleanup Halts Hardware Disease

A spring cleanup around the barnyard on most farms can help eliminate one of the chief causes of "hardware disease" in cattle, according to a suggestion offered today by the American Foundation for Animal Health.

Cows have a peculiar trait which sometimes cause them to develop "hardware" trouble, Foundation authorities say. It seems that cattle cannot separate from their feed the bits of metal, nails, wire, fence staples, and such items which may have been left in barnyards or pastures.

These pieces of metal collect in the fore stomach, and may then work their way through the wall, piercing vital organs as the heart or liver, and causing death. The best way to prevent this problem is to make a systematic cleanup of lots and pastures, collecting all such items. The Foundation suggests that now, before the heavy work season, is the time to do it.

sometimes remove the harmful metal surgically. Symptoms of the onset of the disease include loss of appetite, a sharp drop in milk production, a variable fever, and the animal may make grunting noises, and walk with an arched back.

Where owners wish to guard valuable animals against this condition, veterinarians generally insert a special magnet in the fore stomach. This magnet collects the metal particles and holds them in a position where they cannot do harm.

TOP-DRESS FORAGE CROPS

Legumes are heavy feeders of both phosphorus and potash. Unless these elements are returned to the soil each year the fertility level of the soil will be reduced as well as the yield. In the case of alfalfa it is best to apply the fertilizer after the last cutting in the fall; however, fields that are not treated last fall should be top-dressed during early March. The recommendation is 400 pounds per acre of 0-20-20 or 0-15-30.

Farm Calendar

By Max Smith
County Agricultural Agent

CONTROL WILD GARLIC

Early to mid-March, depending upon weather conditions, is the time to spray wild garlic for best results. This perennial weed is usually one of the first to start growing in the spring and should be sprayed when four to six inches tall. The chemical to use is the ester form of 2, 4-D at the rate of three pints per acre. When sprayed early in the spring very little damage is done to legumes in the pasture mixture.

KEEP CATTLE OFF PASTURE LAND

The practice of allowing cattle to run over the main pasture area this early in the spring may do far more harm than good; the ground is so soft they will destroy many places and make the pasture rough. A small lot should be constructed to confine them until the grass gets some growth and the ground becomes more firm. Even with winter rains it is best not to graze the cattle immediately after heavy rains.

PLAN FOR LARGER CORN YIELDS

With normal rainfall no doubt many corn yields will be broken in the next decade. The trend is toward thicker stands and heavier fertilizer applications; a plant population of 16 to 13 thousand stalks per acre should give good yields on heavy, fertile soil. The use of extra nitrogen, especially where a grass-legume sod is not plowed down, either plowed down or side-dressed at the first cultivation should give results.

Member of Penna. Outdoor Writers Assoc.

Many of us consider our selves sportsmen, and maybe rightly so.

I'm here neither to concur nor condemn your opinion of yourself as a sportsman, but I do contend that most of us could take a lesson in sportsmanship from some of the old-timers in the area.

For instance I've been asked, "How much of your money do you spend for feed for wild life?" "Did you ever buy a bush or plant to set out for a food and cover program?"

Maybe you would answer these questions by saying "pay for my license every year." And friend you're right! Maybe you even spend a number of your hours working for a sportsmen's organization and again you're right.

This week I received a letter from an Old-timer. A gent for whom I have the deepest respect when it comes to sportsmanship and good conservation practices. From his experience he writes:

"I'm afraid small game hunting, in Lancaster County, can never be as good as it was say between 1920 to 1940. From this date on rabbit hunting has gone backwards, although ringneck hunting has held up better than bunny, due mostly to the hardness of the ringneck, and the restocking by clubs and state commission.

My gripe about ringneck hunting is that it is a one day affair and that's it. I think you know they are mighty hard to find after the first day.

One of the greatest causes is the terrific hunting pressure game must endure.

Since the advent of good roads and the auto, every field and small woodlot has been gone over to find game. On the first day (1957) I've seen fields and areas gone over four and five times. What could you expect to find there the 2nd day.

The few ringnecks left after the first day scattered to the four winds and the bunnies that were left, crippled and otherwise, under ground. Where else but in ground holes, the only haven today for a bunny.

No cornshocks, no fence rows to adge behind, few stone piles, no rail piles (at least very rare), a ground hog hole is rabbit heaven to a fleeing bunny.

One man's opinion — A ground hog hole is a game trap, I violently disagree with that statement. I believe if, in a certain area there are one hundred rabbits left after the close of the season, living in daytime in ground hog holes, 95 will be here in springtime to replenish the bunny crop. That's number 1 statement. Number 2—I have fed game for forty years, when there was snow on the ground and open winters, I have yet to see one fox track leading into a ground hog hole to get a rabbit.

In many places it was the only exclusive, final harbor for the rabbit population to hole up and survive over the winter.

Number 3 and this is what I would call final proof on the ground hog hole question. Just a few hours ago—well there are two areas each about 1/2 mile square, adjoining each other. I had to pass over the one to get to the other.

Area # 1—no ground hog holes, no cover possible for a rabbit to hide. I had two dogs along, my own, (6 years old) who will find bunnies if they are above ground.

Area # 2 was so different from the first. Full of holes, a large honeysuckle patch, thick grass along the railroad a small stream with lots of ground hog holes near its banks. In one hour where it was lousy with ground hog holes, my dog ran out 2 bunnies in some honeysuckle, 3 other ones out of nests which I took pains to see, so there was no duplication. That's 5 bunnies in a 1/4 mile stretch, more than I saw there the first day of hunting season.

A ground hog hole is a rabbit trap?? I'll only say the gentleman or farmer is blind on that subject.

"Maybe us older hunters, when we reach sixty should quit and give the younger ones their chance. How about those over sixty using slingshots, maybe not much game but lots of fun."

Warriors Finish '57-'58 Season On Loss To Powerful York Squad

Locals Stopped By Possible State Champs

The Warriors of Warwick High School finished their season by being victim to a 105-45 trouncing at the hands of York High School at the Hershey Arena on Monday.

Definitely an underdog, the Warriors entered the District Class A Finals facing a school that had about 1600 more student than they did.

During the first two minutes the Warriors matched the York squad, but after that it was an easy road for the undefeated Central Penn Champs. At halftime the score was 54-23.

The Junior Varsity played most of the final half, with the exception of the first few minutes of the third period. During the first few minutes, York hit for 18 before Warwick tallied once. Then came the reserves.

Leading the local efforts was Barry Rhoad's 14. Doing a fine job on the boards, Dick Allebach finished with 8, and Nevyn Huber with 6. Paul Herr and John Landis both had 6. Skip Kopp and Ned Partridge hit for 2, while Jere Long had 1.

Those playing their last game include Dick Allebach, Nevyn Huber, Barry Rhoads, Jim Davidson and Jere Long. Next week a complete round-up of the 1957-'58 basketball season will be featured.

SIDE LIGHTS

For a change the Warwick fans were slightly out-numbered. In fact some said that there were more in the York Band than there are students enrolled in Warwick's Sr. High.

Well that was almost true. The Drill Team, Dance Band, Marching Band, Cheerleaders and majorettes numbered about 300.

When York hit the 100 mark, it sounded as though the roof would drop.

Just one complaint, and that concerns the sportsmanship York displayed while Warwick was shooting fouls. If they want to go on to the state championship, they better learn a little about proper game manners.

One thing good came out of the game. Six of the fellows that saw action in the second half will be back on the Warwick squad next season. Incidentally four of them were sophomores.

Looks as though Hershey hasn't seen the last of Warwick yet.

Big Car Racing Opens March 23

SPOTLIGHT ON SPORTS

by Barry Kauffman
Record-Express Sports Editor

Congratulations to a great team for a great season.

Three is no doubt about the fact that the Warriors, win or lose, were in there fighting, especially against some of the most lopsided odds. In the beginning of the season, who would have ever thought that Warwick High, Sr. High enrollment of 503, would have to face York High, enrollment 2150.

The team, rightly enough, is taking the game not as a trouncing, but as a special honor. It's not every team that gets a chance to play such a high class team. Maybe they'll be State Champs, could be.

Just one question, Where were the loyal fans?

Now the boys can switch their talent to baseball. Talking about talent, the High School team should be in for a good season. Experience is plentiful, the only need is a first rate battery.

If Coach Murr can solve this perplexing problem, the Warriors just might win their first baseball championship.

Switching to major league baseball, the Chicago White Sox, and Los Angeles Dodgers are the subjects this week. Let's look at the better of the two first.

The addition of Ray Moore and Early Wynn should give the White Sox a stronger pitching staff, and also improve their pennant chances. With veterans Billy Pierce (20 wins), Dick Donovan (16 wins), Jim Wilson (15 wins), Bob Keegan, Gerry Staley, and newcomers Latman and Der- rington, the pitching staff seems the least of their worries, and must compensate for the hitters.

With the loss of Minoza, the only consistent hitter is Ne son Fox (.317). Speedy Lun Aparicio and slugger Jim Rivera will have to pick up their slack. It is hoped that rookie Ron Jackson will have newly obtained Al Smith and good batting eyes.

Besides the hitting, first and third base offer the only problems. Dropp and Torgeson have passed their prime. Sherm Lollar will again be their top receiver.

They still have not reached Yankee caliber, so we pick them for second place.

A new spirit and plenty of luck will have to hold the Dodgers this season! Injuries and old age have left their marks on the former Brooklynites.

Rube Walker, a second-rate catcher, will have to replace veteran Roy Campanella. Captain Reese, Carl Furillo, Duke Snyder and Don Newcombe all had poor seasons. For example, Newcombe went from 27 victories in '56 to 11 in '57.

There are bright spots! Neal has capably taken over at short. Gino Cimoli has proved, himself in the field and at bat. Gil Hodges had his best season and is out to improve his marks.

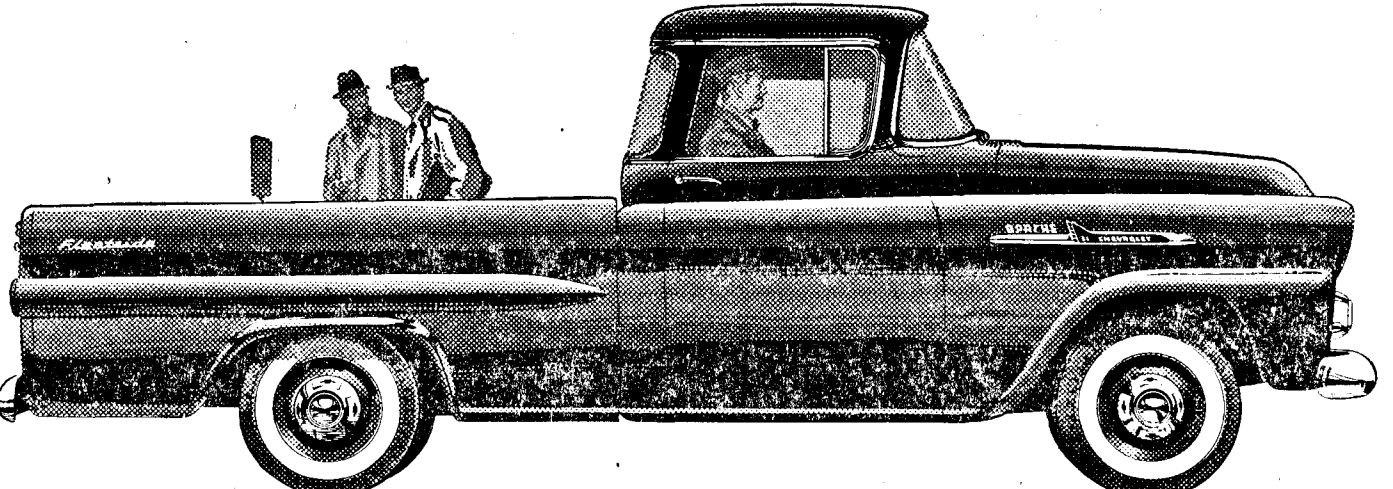

The pitching staff is sufficient with the lead to be carried by veterans Carl Erskine, Don Drysdale, John Podres, Sandy Koufax, and Danny Devitt. Another rookie, Don Demeter is expected to see plenty of service in the outfield.

There big needs include a catcher, third baseman, a d new young blood to supply the needed punch. Considering the improvement in the National League, we rate the Dodgers as a fourth place team.

The Philosophers (As overheard by John Boyd)

Well, Mrs. Espenshate, how do you feel after our trip to New York? All right I guess—except that our trip was too short. Like the girl sang in the show, I could of stayed all month. Well, I could of stayed longer too, only think of the pounds we would of put on ourselves. Yes, there's something in that. We really did put away the food. Some people say that it's better to eat more at home before a body goes to New York and then eat cheap in New York and then make it up when you get back. You save money that way, they say. Yes, that way a body could save money, but it would not appeal to me at all. Will you ever forget them inkish muton chops we had at that place I always forget the name of? Never. When the waiter put one in front of Chake I thought he was to carve it up for the four of us. It wonders me why we can't get such chops around Lititz. Don't ask me. And how about that Cherman place where we had pick's knuckles and sour kroust. And that Swedish place with the big table loaded with everything and how dumb I was when I thought that was the whole meal instead of it being chust a bite to give us an appetite. As if we needed one. And the snapper soup. And the raw oysters. Oh my! I says to Chake last evening that it wondered me still how we would ever get back to regular food again and he says nobody could keep on eating like we did in New York for any length of time. He said he could easy go back to my simple home cooking and be glad to give his stomach a good rest. Chorch said about the same thing. I guess a body could easy get too much of a good thing as the saying is. There's really only one thing that we ate that I wish we could get in Lititz. What's that? Them there salt sticks we had at the Cherman place. Them I believe I could eat every day. I believe I could too. I chust wonder if a person could find such a recipe for them. Probably it's one of them chellusly guarded culinary secrets that a body reads about where the father passes it on to his oldest son when he is about to die on his death-bed. If a person knew how to make them and rented a pretzel bakery he could make a fortune right here in Lititz. I believe they would be as popular as pretzels. Maybe somebody could make a fortune with them because people certainly get sick and tired of the same old windy bread every day. But we are too old to start such a new business ourselves. Maybe some young man could start it. Yes well. There ain't no use of us worrying ourselves about it. What's new in town? There seems to be a lot of wrangling about that one-way alley business chust north of Main Street. Yes, when there's a one-way street set up a lot of people think the one way is the wrong way. They like a one-way street if it's the one way they are used to driving. Ain't that the truth, No matter what street it is or which way it is, half the people that drive ain't going to like it. And not only that, they will crab about it louder than the ones that do like it, if you know what I mean. Then too, there's that everlasting wrangling about finishing East Main street. That is a mess now and it will be a worse mess when they get to fixing it. Yes, I understand they must dick up all the water pipes and gas pipes and put them down deeper than what they is now. It will be like when the sewers was laid, only worse. Well, that is the price a person has to pay for what is called civic progress. Of course, it's one more thing that you and me don't need to worry ourselves about. We have lived through a lot of this progress in Lititz and we will live through this one. Then when Main street is over we will no doubt have to endure some more civic progress on North Broad Street. There chust seems to be no let up on this progress business. Yes, one thing leads to another. It would be nice if we could close up our houses and rent an apartment in New York till everything here is done. That would be nice but I am afraid it would be our finish. You know the old saying—What's that? New York is a nice town to spend a vacation in, but I wouldn't like to work there.

NO FUNDS

With this phase of the project due to cost the borough around $65,000, the borough held up all plans for street improvements this Spring until definite word was received from the state as to when work on East Main Street was scheduled to be started.

Despite repeated efforts to obtain this word—nothing was forthcoming from the state, Borough Manager Dave Bauer announced, until this week's announcement. According to Kluecker, Main Street is not on the schedule for this year—and there are no available funds for placing it on the list this year.

That announcement, incidentally, is a word-for-word repetition of announcements made in Harrisburg for the past several years.

According to Bauer, borough council will take up the matter of street improvements at their meeting Tuesday evening, March 25. Funds will now be available for building approximately as many streets here this summer as were built here last summer.

WARWICK

Pupils are discouraged from starting one course and then switching to another by the follow through manner in which courses are designed.

Elective Courses
In courses where fewer than 24 periods weekly are required students have a choice of elective courses to bring up their weekly total to 24.

Depending on the course the elective subjects may also turn out to be one of a science or math nature.

Because of the 24-period weekly rule, Spaid said, he felt even a student in the general courses, a sort of a catch-all; has the opportunity to become well-rounded.

Since moving into the new building the requirements at the school have been tightened, primarily because of more classroom space and more facilities to teach a variety of subjects.

For example, a freshman taking the general course finds his schedule calls for 20 "must" periods a week. Listed under elective subjects are Algebra I or general math. Each is a four-period weekly class which means that in order to meet the minimum 24 class periods weekly the pupil must take either a science or math course.

Spaid said he felt the present scheduling encourages the exceptional student to carry as much work as possible but yet makes the minimum requirements enough that those so gifted still are exposed to a generous amount of education.
