Await Pole For Repaired Siren

The repaired Lititz Fire Company siren will be erected at the rear of the borough building and fire house as soon as a pole arrives. The fire company paid to have the siren motor repaired and the borough will pay for installing a 45-foot pole behind the fire house, to which to mount the siren. Council said the pole will put the siren at about the same height as it was when mounted in the tower of the fire house. The borough had put a siren on the school property at the Athletic Field but firemen said they are unable to hear it under certain weather conditions.

3 Board Seats Won By GOP

Graybill, Groff and Dr. Minnich Retain Seats

Three incumbent school directors were reelected to the Warwick School Board for new terms Tuesday. The three are: Wilbur H. Graybill, Elizabeth Twp., Raymond C. Groff, Warwick Twp., and Dr. Howard B. Minnich, Lititz, all Republican candidates. They defeated R. Glenn Hershey, W. Scott Cummings and Homer E. Martin Jr., Democrats, in the respective districts. Graybill, president of the Warwick School Board, had the narrowest squeak in the balloting. He polled 137 votes to Hershey's 108 in a district where 255 Republicans and 155 Democrats were eligible to vote. Groff and Minnich won handsily. Groff polled 254 votes in the Warwick East District to Cumming's 128 and 180 votes in the Warwick District to his opponent's 92 to win by a 382 to 172 margin. In the two districts of Warwick Township, Republicans outnumber eligible Democratic voters by 1,011 to 212. Dr. Minnich received a total of 900 votes, 591 in the First Ward of Lititz and 309 in the Second Ward to defeat Martin who polled 529, getting 347 in the First Ward and 182 in the second. Republicans in the borough outnumber the Democrats, 1,940 to 550. In balloting for school auditor, Russell E. Murr, Republican, defeated Darthula Hill, Democrat, 1,596, to 695.

Warwick Voters 'Write In' For Twp. Justices

One write-in vote for the position was given to Harold Babch. Morris Eckert, Republican, uncontested for township auditor, received 516 votes while a write-in vote was given Arthur Kissinger. Warwick Township voters, with no justices of the Peace listed for voting on the ballot, had a field day with write-ins. In the Warwick East District the township Ruth Weitzel received six votes, Helen Firestone five, and Jacob Messner, Frank Bucher, Claude Young and Joseph Cozzone, one each. In the Warwick District Richard Hoffer received six write-in votes and J. B. Herr, one. Herr doesn't even reside in the township. In other balloting Russell Erb received a write-in vote for the Warwick School Board, a post which went to Republican Raymond Groff with 382 votes to Democrat W. Scott Cummings' 172. DR. ### Republicans Sweep Borough Posts, Pool Stand Seen Factor

Nearly 1,000 Eligible Voters Stay Away From Polls

Three Republicans were elected to seats on Lititz Borough Council Tuesday in balloting which attracted 1,455 of the borough's eligible, 2,493 voters. Elected were Robert E. Aument from the First Ward and D. Curtis Amidon and C. Wendell Hower from the Second Ward. Aument defeated Democrat Stephen J. Palkovic 576 votes to 354 while Amidon polled 312 votes and Hower 297 to defeat Democrat Robert R. Weaver with 190 and Homer C. Zong with 183 in the Second Ward. Returns indicated there was some ballot-splitting over the swimming pool issue. Lititz has but 550 registered Democrats and returns indicate 505 persons voted for Democratic candidates. On the other hand there are 1,940 registered Republicans in the borough and 950 Republican ballots were cast. The three new councilmen will replace Russell L. Tom, platoon, Harry P. Rulley and Wallace E. Lausch, all of whom declined to seek office. Lausch is filling out the unexpired term of John R. Heller. In the only other borough contest, veteran Justice of the Peace, Joseph B. Herr, was reelected by a margin of 914 to 478 over Democrat Thomas P. Rearch. Uncontested were E. Guy Brubaker, assessor, who polled 638 votes in the First Ward and the veteran Andrew M. Shisler, 340 votes in the second. William E. Ringer, uncontested for borough auditor, totaled 906 votes. Election observers here said they believed the action of the three Republican council candidates in endorsing a swimming pool, contributed to their victory. Democrats had also pledged to build a pool. Following the election, one candidate, council hopeful Palkovic, issued this statement: "I would like to thank those good thinking people of Lititz who voted for me." Palkovic, who got 354 votes in a district where there are only 329 registered Democrats, had put some last minute zing into his campaign by touring Lititz with a public address system Monday night. On the county and state scene this traditionally Republican community returned big majorities for its party slate. Only in the contest for county commissioner did an exception occur. This was when Republicans C. Abram Snyder and Richard H. Witmer polled 803 and 846 votes respectively while home town candidate, Herbert J. Wagaman, Democrat, nabbed 710 votes. An indication of the ballot-splitting and preference was that Wagaman's Democratic running mate, C. Stanley Albright, got only 444 votes. New councilmen take office in January and will also sit in on the budgetary sessions with the present council. When January rolls around it will give Lititz this membership on council. Amidon, Aument, Hower and Roy S. Reidenbaugh and W. Roy Enck, both Republican holdovers.

Council Studies Park Request For More Money

A request for an appropriation of $3,000 by Lititz Springs Park is being studied by borough council. The park trustees made the request at last month's council meeting, citing an operating deficit of $2,468. Trustees asked the borough to provide $3,000 in the 1960 budget for the park. Council, noting its contribution of $900 in the 1959 budget, said it would inform the park committee it would provide that amount "and see how the budget shapes up." Park trustees said income for the year was $4,662 and expenses were $7,136. Councilman Harry F. Rulley said that in addition to the $900 grant the borough contributes electricity and repairs the road running through the park. He said he "didn't see why we should take their hot coals out of the fire for them. They should have the foresight to save a few bucks."

Vandals Damage Shenk Residence

Hallowe'en vandals caused some damage on Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shenk, Brunnerville. They were away that evening and when they returned home they found that pranksters had thrown a fairly large stone through their window. They also broke into the small room off from the rest of the house where Mrs. Shenk keeps her washing machine. Mr. Shenk then continued to look for more damage, on going around the house he discovered that they had torn the lead in wire of their television set, and wrapped it around a nearby telephone pole. Mrs. Shenk reported that nothing had been taken from the room and nothing was damaged except for a large jack-o-lantern.

The parade committee included Donald Steffy and Jack Marks. Several hundred turned out in costume and vied for the $149 in prize money offered by the Lions Club. The judges stand was at Second Avenue and Spruce Streets. In spite of the cold weather the young folks remained to hear Johnny Johns, the famous local rock 'n' roll singer. ## Zoning Code Decisions Due Monday

Decisions on two appeals to the Zoning Board of Adjustment will be given next Monday at 8 p.m.

The appeal was presented by William A. Miller, who wishes to enlarge an aluminum foundry at 143 N. Locust St. His building permit was denied earlier because it was a non-conforming request in a low density residential area.

Miller said that on August 21 he had obtained a permit to enlarge his factory. The present zoning ordinance went into effect on August 25. However, the permit ran out before his contractor appeared. Miller also revealed that the surveyor who had been hired didn't show up before the deadline.

Miller stated he felt the expansion wouldn't be detrimental to the area and his property is all on one lot. He proposed to construct a building 65x80 feet and transfer operation to that site. His present building will be used for storage.

Miller planned to landscape his foundry area with grass and shrubs. If he cannot construct the new building, the present area would be "piled with junk" Miller stated.

Ten citizens from Miller's area presented a petition with names of people opposed to industrial expansion in the area, known as "Warwick Acres."

Charles Carrier and Clarence Maharg were spokesmen for petitioning group. The spokesmen felt expansion would decrease the value of properties.

The second case involved Henry Tyson, who had requested permission to build a house for James Mummert on a lot at 432 S. Cedar St. The property is owned by John Newcomer.

The permit was denied earlier for two reasons. One reason was that the lot is only 60 feet wide, 10 feet below the minimum dictated by the ordinance.

It was also stated that the side yards would be shorter by two and one-half feet than ordinance requirements.

Of Plug and Shell

BY John Helter

Member of Penna. Outdoor Writers Assoc.

I'm still trying to figure it out! Any other time I went hunting in the rain my wife said I was crazy, this year not a word was said.

Of course that was in line with the rest of the day, for me. There wasn't anything normal, from the word go. First, my usual enthusiasm was lacking. Then too, the rain didn't do anything to lift my spirits.

I had finished reading the paper and glanced out the front window to see if any of my neighbors were getting ready to leave. It was only quarter to eight and all of them were already gone.

"Man," I thought, "what a bunch of eager beavers." About half-past eight I carried my gun and raincoat to the car. Gun shots could be heard from every direction. I smiled to myself and thought, "I'll bet Woody (the Game Protector) was having a field-day."

Gretch, my german Shorthair, was all pepped-up when she saw me in a hunting outfit. We talked it over, me orally and she with her short stub of a tail, the rain didn't bother her, she was ready to go.

We drove west of town and saw hunters in every field. We pulled into the Stoners farm and I talked to Mrs. Stoner. "I thought the season only opened at nine o'clock." The statement was more of a question.

"I don't know," she said, but they have been shooting ever since eight."

I asked the first hunter I met. He said it opened at eight and brother that fellow had better know what he was talking about because it was a quarter to nine and he had just shot a rabbit.

The dog went on point and a cocky flushed. My gun came up, swung on the bird, and there was Ike's red barn dead in my sights.

That bird was lucky. I told Gretch my problem and she turned, ran fifty feet or so and pointed again. I swear this one saw the route the other one took and got in his same path.

I'm glad dogs can't talk. The look she gave me was enough. Before the day was over I was pretty disgusted with her too.

I met one of the Röhler brothers who own and farm the two farms near Erb's Church. He and a buddy said there were a couple of winged ring-necks in the grass of the field north of the farm and they asked if my dog was any good.

Honestly, I know better, but the dog had been doing good and who doesn't think his dog is a good one.

We had hunted the length of the field. Both of my new found friends were anxious to see my dog point, and I was just as anxious to show her abilities to them.

Röhler stopped and said "there sits a cock bird." "Step back and I'll call the dog and you can see her point," I told them.

As my call Gretch came to me, passing with-in a few feet of the bird. She turned and ran past it again, then came back and stopped within two feet of the intended prey. Oh know, not on point, she just stopped and looked at us and wagged her back end.

"That bird must be dead," I said. I had previously seen her pass up a bird that had been shot and was cold.

"One of the fellows saw the bird blink it's eye, this is not common among dead pheasants." "You get ready and I'll pick it up," I said.

When I reached for the cocky it tried to take wing. Gretch saw it and gave chase. She caught the crippled bird and retrieved it.

Other dog owners had told me of cases where they shot a rabbit from in front of a beagle. The rabbit had dragged itself into a brush pile and the dog had trailed to the spot where the hunter hit it but lost the trail at this point.

Last year Fred Royer had knocked a bird down. It landed on the other side of a fence and ran. We took the dog over and she couldn't find the trail.

Now I'm not sure if it is the dog or if nature has a way of helping crippled game by taking away it's scent.

It's an interesting subject, to me, and I certainly would appreciate any information or experiences that any of you dog owners have had that would substantiate or discredit what happened to me.

Drop me a line, in care of the Record. If you can prove it's just my dog you may enclose a bid of fifty cents or over and you get the dog, her box and feed dish.

And maybe, just maybe, I'll toss in my gun!

Hard-Running Backs Combine With Good Defensive Playing

The Warriors of Warwick combined a sparkling offense and a hard, stubborn defense to beat Manheim Twp., 20-7. The Warwick offense controlled the ball through a large part of the game. The Warriors punted 3 times in the game and all of these punts came in the third quarter after the Warriors had built a comfortable 20-0 lead.

Township took the opening kickoff and returned it to their forty-one yard line. Quarterback Beasley carried the ball for a one yard gain. Then fullback Reynolds carried the ball over his right tackle all the way to the Warrior's 48 yard line. Again Reynolds carried, this time around the left end for a 4 yard gain. Beasley carried the ball on the keeper play around his right end all the way to Warwick's 22 yard line. There the Township backs tried to crack the Warwick line without success and the Warriors wasted no time in driving for the first score of the game.

Kopp carried the ball from the 16 yard line for a 5 yard gain. Then Lee Klopp, Warwick's powerful fullback, smashed into the Streaks' line 3 straight times to put the ball on Warwick's 29 yard line and set a first down for the Warriors. Then Roy Clair skirted the right end for a 12 yard gain. Clair also carried the ball on the next play, smashing over his right tackle to the 44 yard line of Warwick. After an incomplete pass Clair raced around the left end all the way to the 41 yard line of Twp. Klopp smashed through the middle of the Township line to the 33 yard line. Jeff Hoaster, the right halfback, carried the ball through the line for a seven yard gain. On the next two plays the Warriors lost yardage and on the third a pass was incomplete. From the spread formation Skip Kopp threw a screen pass to Klopp and he carried to approximately the 18 yard line. Then Kopp carried once and Klopp four times to put the ball on the 1 yard line. Skip Kopp carried the ball into the end zone on a quarterback sneak for the first score of the game. Mel Jones kicked the extra point and the score was 7-0 favor the Warriors.

After Township returned the kickoff the first quarter ended. At the beginning of the second quarter Twp. started to drive. Rowe carried the ball from the 18 yard line to his own 34. Rowe hit the line for a 1 yard gain on the following play. Then Morrison carried around Township's left end to place the ball on the 49 yard line. Jody Glass carried around his right end down to Warwick's 42 yard line. On the next play Jeff Hoaster broke through to yard loss. Rowe carried for a 1 yard gain and the Streaks spill Morrison for a three yards forced to punt.

After the punt Warwick stated the second drive that proved successful for the Warriors. Roy Clair took a hand-off from Kopp and carried around his right end for a thirteen yard gain to Warwick's 42 yard line. Clair slashed through the line for a 4 yard gain. Then Hoaster gained 3 yards to place the ball on the 49 yard line. Kopp, Klopp, and Clair plunged into the line moving the ball to the 38 yard line of the Streaks. Skip Kopp threw a pass to Hoaster who gathered it in and carried the ball to the 27 yard line. Klopp smashed into the line placing the ball on the 25 yard line. An offside penalty moved the Warriors to the 20 yard line. Then Clair slashed into the line for a gain of 1 yard. There Kopp threw a pass to George Male who caught the ball in the end zone for the touchdown. The attempted kick for the extra point was wide and the Warriors led 13-0.

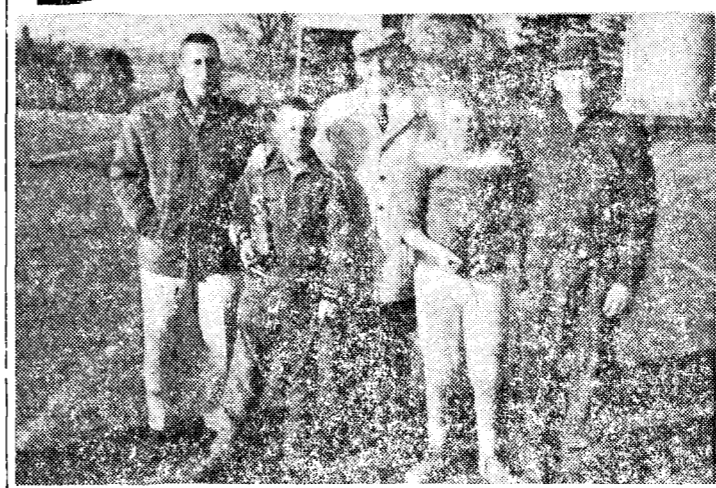

For the remainder of the first half Township moved steadily down the field only to have Skip Kopp intercept a pass on the 4 yard line on the last play of the half. The score at halftime had Warwick leading by the score of 13 to 0.

The Warriors got their hands on the football for the third time at the beginning of the third quarter and started a drive that ended in the third touchdown. Jeff Hoaster gathered the kickoff and made a runback that brought an estimated 3,000 spectators to their feet. He gathered in the ball at about the fifteen yard line and cutting up the middle broke through the greater part of the Township team. At about the Streaks' 35 yard line George Male executed a perfect block. Hoaster scooted to the 6 yard line before he was brought down from behind. Skip Kopp carried the ball to the 4 yard line. Lee Klopp plunged to the 1 yard line. Then Kopp carried the ball over the goal line for his second touchdown of the game. The kick for the extra point by Mel Jones split the uprights and the Warriors held a commanding 20 to 0 lead.

After an exchange of the ball the Streaks scored their only touchdown of the game. This week the Warriors travel to Donegal for their ninth game of the campaign. The game will start at 2:00 P.M. For a game sure to be full of excitement, come out and support the Warriors.

Jr. Giants Midget Loop Champs On 6-0 Victory

MOST VALUABLE MIDGETS

Upend Rothsville In Playoff Battle

The Lititz Jr. Giants won the championship of the Warwick Midget Football League when they beat the defending champion Rothsville Lions 6 to 0. Both teams had completed the regular season in a tie with 5 wins and 1 loss, so a playoff was held to determine the League Title. In the three years that the league has been established the following three teams have won title's, first year Lititz Red Raiders, 2nd year Rothsville, and 3rd year Lititz Junior Giants.

The Jr. Giants stopped an early scoring drive by the Lions on the 11 yard line, pass plays from quarterback Dennis Green to Raymond Henley and Fred Sample, gave them a scoring chance but the Jr. Giants held. The Jr. Giants were forced to kick and Q. Glenn Myers booted the ball for 45 yards, the Lions moved with Greer, Beittenmiller and Kissinger carrying to the 40 yard line, then Sheldon Murr intercepted a pass and ran it 65 yards for the only touchdown of the day.

The rest of the game was more of a defensive battle than offensive, with both team threatening in the last quarter but the defenses of both teams holding.

It must give you great satisfaction to know that your judgment in choosing Chevrolet has been confirmed by so many other people. We know that we can hold your preference and your loyalty only by meeting our responsibilities to you fully and completely from the day you buy your Chevrolet to the day you trade it in. And so we'd like to talk with you about our responsibilities as we see them, and what we are doing to meet them. Our first responsibility, we think, is clear: To design and build products that satisfy your needs and your wants to the highest possible degree. To that end, we have done these things for 1960: Made the 1960 Chevrolet more economical, roomier, more quiet and comfortable, easier to handle and maneuver. Introduced the compact and revolutionary Corvair. Produced a new line of Chevrolet trucks with unprecedented advances in efficiency, cargo handling, driver comfort and ability to get a job done. But it isn't enough to design and build the kinds of products you want. They must be built right. Solidly. Carefully. Let us assure you of this: Chevrolet's fine reputation as a solid, well-built, dependable product is being safeguarded by more checks and inspections and tests, than ever before. Along with your Chevrolet dealer, we want you to have available the finest and most complete service facilities that is why we: Conduct training schools for Chevrolet dealer mechanics. Study and recommend improved service equipment and techniques. Maintain the industry's most complete parts warehouse system. Finally, neither Chevrolet nor your Chevrolet dealer has any intention of forgetting you after you buy. To help keep you happy with your Chevrolet, we have established a department new to us, and so far as we know, new to the automobile industry. This is the Chevrolet Department of Owner Relations, whose only job is the coordination of Chevrolet and Chevrolet dealer activities so that you enjoy utmost satisfaction during your entire period of ownership. Through this department, and through all the other extraordinary steps we are taking, Chevrolet and your Chevrolet dealer hope to keep you a happy member of the Chevrolet owner family.

Illness Delays World Tour By Hess And Wife

A round-the-world trip by a county couple well known here was abruptly halted last week when Edwin A. Hess, of Akron, was stricken ill and confined to a West Berlin, Germany, hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Hess had left New York City approximately two weeks ago aboard a jet plane bound for London. Last week they were touring Germany when Mr. Hess contracted a virus, according to word received here this week by Norman Habecker, of East Main Street, a brother of Mrs. Hess.

While Mr. Hess' condition was reported as serious shortly after he was admitted to the hospital, he was reported to have shown an improvement Monday. Mrs. Hess also advised relatives that they have definitely abandoned their plans for the remainder of their world tour and will return home as soon as Mr. Hess is recovered sufficiently to leave the hospital.

Mr. Hess is owner of the Diamond Spring Water Company.

Read II Corinthians 8: 7-12

Assuming that earnest willingness, the gift is acceptable according to whatever a man has, and not according to what he has not. (II Corinthians 8:12, Weymouth)

The Corinthian Church had voluntarily undertaken a collection for the relief of Christians in Jerusalem. Paul planned to visit Corinth and asked that the offering be ready when he arrived.

The Corinthians, however, put off giving until they had more means from which to make their offering. But Paul assured them that if they gave according to that which they had, the gift would be acceptable to God.

That which we have can be of more use to Christ than we imagine. Our willingness to do for Christ as much as our means allow is what God needs in order to advance His kingdom.

A lad in ancient Rome said, "Father, my sword is too short." "Well, said his father, "add a step to it." By doing for Christ as much as our means allow, we not only add to what we have, but also help God give blessings to others.

PRAYER: Eternal Father, forgive us for our failure to appreciate the worth to Thee of that which we have. Help us this day to do for Christ as much as our means allow. In the name of Him who became poor that we might be rich. Amen.

A Breath of Life

By Rev. Joel A. Hartman
Pastor, St. Luke's United Church of Christ

On Tuesday as I was walking to the polls to vote, I recalled an incident which supposedly took place many years ago in one of the towns in my first parish. In that particular year the local issues to be settled at the polls were very controversial, and the "fever of life" in the community was running at a high pitch during the weeks immediately preceding the election.

Both political parties had courted the support of the local clergyman, who was always rather vocable on public issues, and whose opinions were usually accorded a good following by a substantial majority of the community's citizens.

On this occasion, however, the good pastor had not yet committed himself. With the election only a week away, the town party leaders were beside themselves, and those of the voters who usually depended on the "Reverend" to do their thinking for them were in the dark, to say the least.

On the Thursday before Election Day, the parson indicated his silence was soon to be broken. Through the columns of the town's weekly Herald he announced the title of that Sunday's sermon: "The Great Election." This was more than the local politicians had anticipated. The man was going to commit the unpardonable sin of carrying politics into the pulpit.

After vainly trying to trick the parson into divulging the drift of his sermon before Sunday, both parties held secret meetings late Saturday night to devise a course of action to follow, should the sermon the next day be to their disadvantage. These meetings were doubly significant since earlier that evening the parson's Board of Elders held a heated meeting which achieved nothing constructive, inasmuch as both sides were represented. While allowing that the minister's action was inappropriate, neither side was willing to advocate action by the Board at that time. Neither side wanted to forfeit the decided advantage which could possibly result. The Elders finally agreed to wait until the damage had been done; appropriate action could be taken after the election.

No one was in bed Sunday morning to hear the roosters crow. Hours before the church bell had pealed its invitation, most of the town's citizenry had gathered on the church yard. Every hitching post and available tree was in service, and late comers had to tie their horses in the funeral director's lot down the street. Thoughtfully, the funeral director and his assistant carried benches from his parlor up to the church and lined the walls with them to accommodate the overflow crowd.

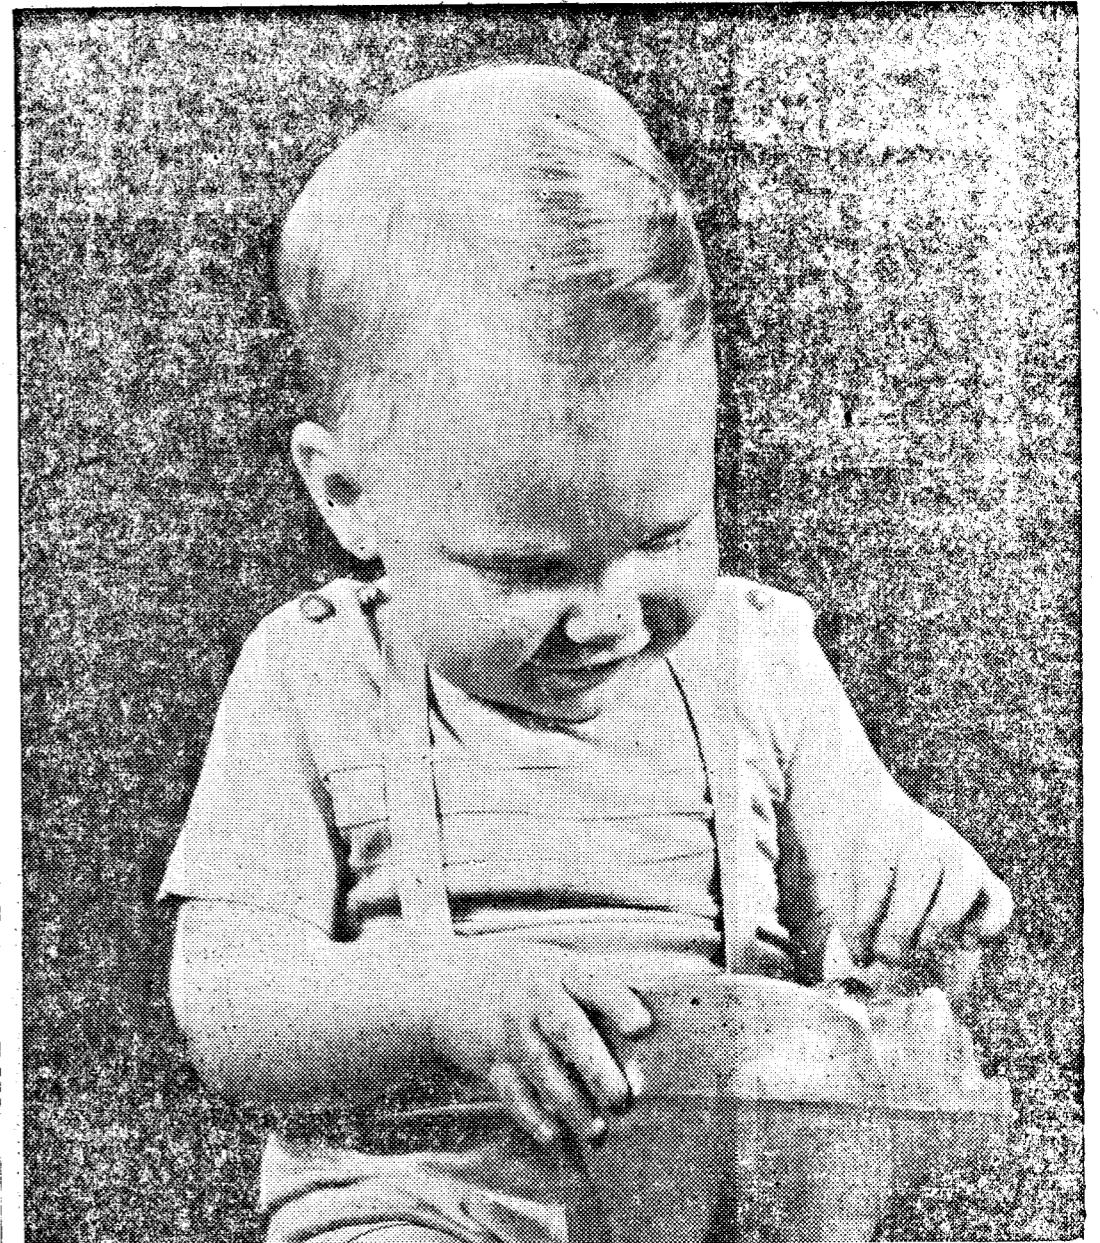

The Sunday School lesson had never been so boring, nor could anyone recall that the organist had ever dragged the hymns as she did that morning, or that the minister ever read such long passages from the Good Book as he did that day. At last came the moment for the sermon to begin. All the coughing and "rutching" that characterized the early part of the service ceased, and everyone leaned forward to catch the text.

Pausing dramatically, the good parson began: "But ye are chosen generation, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should show forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvelous light." He then went on to say nothing about the forthcoming election, but rather that each of those present that morning had been elected by God to be one of his chosen people. Would they accept the challenge of this great election?

A great sense of relief swept across the congregation. In fact, many felt let down. All the politicians left church that morning sure that the parson had decently left politics out of the pulpit.

How they had missed his whole point! For he had spoken to each one of them and most particularly to the victors in the forthcoming election. But they were too deaf to hear, too blind to see.

I would speak that same message to the candidates who carried the vote in Tuesday's election here in Lititz. It is a great honor to bear public office. It is also a solemn trust which no one should take upon himself rashly or lightly. For although your election has been by the free choice of your fellow citizens, you are not only their servants, but also his who created us all. Therefore magnify your office, and make high account of its duties, for in a real sense your election has been by one far greater than the populace you directly serve.

Start Two Kinds Of Banks

This youngster may be learning a lesson in thrift or maybe it's just the fun of hearing the penny rattle down into the piggy bank. Regardless of his reasons he is getting started in the right direction. If there is a little fun along the way that much better the chances of his continuing on the proper road until he is old enough to realize and appreciate the value and downright necessity of thrift. It may not be quite as easy to acquire good habits as it is to pick up the bad but certainly by correct planning and a little ingenuity on the part of the parents it should not be too difficult to implant good habits.

Most youngsters delight in going to church and Sunday School and all can soon be taught to enjoy it. After church goes becomes a part of their regular activities many will continue on until they acquire a sound concept of religion and full appreciation of what regular church attendance has to offer. Start a piggy bank of spiritual wealth for your children early in life.

DO YOU HAVE ARTHRITIS?

Here is a message you will want to read. Your doctor can tell you there is absolutely no known cure for arthritis. Medical research specialists are now engaged in several projects which, it is felt, will ultimately help in finding a cure, but as yet none has been found. Naturally, we all live in hope they will be successful, but until that time we must be content to get the best relief possible.

Right now there is a fast, safe and effective relieving agent available called Pruvo. Pruvo's ingredients have been used in hospitals and clinics, prescribed by doctors, and have helped scores of men and women to lead happy and full lives. HEADS UP POWER LINES CAN'T DUCK

Electricity, properly controlled is the world's best and cheapest servant . . . and is completely safe!

But, when people get careless, accidents can happen. Improper handling of pipes, steel rods and the like can result in a contact with power lines. When that happens, you've got trouble, real trouble!

Service can be interrupted to hundreds of electric users. Even worse, your life may be endangered.

Play it safe, don't stack pipe under power lines. And before you lift a section of pipe, look up—make sure it will clear overhead power lines by at least six feet. Treat all wires as "hot" — remember, you can't tell by looking.

"Mid the Turmoil"

Neither rain nor posted land stayed the hunters from their rounds Saturday, the first day of the small game hunting season.

One local hunter, Ira Yeagley, reports he got his limit Saturday and then Sunday he brewed up a batch of rabbit. Claims he likes to keep his hand in the game cookery.

More'n likely what happened was his good wife told him she didn't mind if he went hunting, but she'd be durned if she was going to cook the stuff.

That's an admirable trait though. We always said if your wife washes the dishes, wash the dishes with her. When she mops the floor, mop up the floor with her.

Add A. E. Rinquist to the appropriate name department. A used car dealer, his first name is Axel. Kinda brakes you up.

Then there's the sign down in Kreider Bros. TV place reading "For our Matchless Friends." You guessed it, it's affixed to a small box containing match books.

Just goes to show if you scratch around enough, something'll strike you funny.

Paul F. Diehm, Lititz' Mr. Republican, did a little touring recently and saw the shrines of Lincoln in Illinois and President Eisenhower in Kansas. Also wanted to take in the Truman shrine in Independence, Mo., but sez he got there five minutes after it closed, adding with a chuckle, "so we came back uncontaminated."

After hearing a list of recommendations the State says must be met for Lititz to relocate its borough lockup, which included ceramic tile walls, new toilet facilities, a new cot and other items, Borough Council President Russ Templeton ventured "maybe we could rent it out."

And then there's the school of thought which says the school board's recent ruling in banning married students from extra-curricular activities falls into the category of locking the stable door after the horse is stolen.

Wanta publicly thank John Keehn for coming to our aid during some extreme labor pains last week. Seems Maggie the linotype got cantankerous about the same time her sister Mergratoid developed a phenollyhop in the lower gezachstehagen, and all on a Wednesday afternoon, yet.

John pitched in and set some type for us which pulled us over the hump.

Saw our old friend Becky Wonder last week and she was hoofing it from out on Broad Street over to her Second Ward home. Seems she missed bus connections, and walked all the way. Which is quite a feat for a youngster of 83.

Sign of the times: Menno Eberly washing the soap left by Hallowe'eners off of his Liberty Street side windows.

Wilson "Nick" Steely, over on Front Street, wants us to ask fellow Republican Les Bingeman about the friendly argument he got involved in following the Columbia-Warwick football game.

So friendly, they tell us, that dad Bill Bingeman got down on the floor of the car so nobody would know he was associated with Les. Seems dad has a delivery route through Columbia and is an intense believer in good customer relations.

Not till she's typed the entire sheet Does she discover, to her chagrin, The only error that she made Was the way she put the carbon in.

Annie Strumbendle says when holding a conversation be sure to let go of it once in a while.

Leave it up to a minister to find the good in an unfortunate happening. Last Saturday morning someone hurled an 11-pound pumpkin through a window of the home of the Rev. Monroe Carvell, Rothsville.

The window broke but the pumpkin didn't, causing Rev. Carvell to comment "so now we'll have enough to make pumpkin pies for two weeks."

And imagine Don Kepner's surprise when someone called him up and wondered how much they wanted for the Lambert-Hudnut plant. Seems a prankster had put one of the real estate firm's "for sale" signs on the lawn of the Hudnut place.

School director Hob Minnich couldn't contain his wit the other night when the school board was discussing a request that it give teachers a day off with pay for a birth in the family.

After the proposal was presented to the board, Dr. Minnich inquired of who was to qualify, "the one that's having it or the father."

Sigh outside a church: CH CH What's Missing?

Annie Strumbendle says women will be the last thing civilized by men.

The State Speaks Again

For the second time within as many weeks a ruling by a department of the State government in Harrisburg will cost local taxpayers more money.

Two weeks ago the State ordered the school district to go into the sewage disposal business when it builds an addition to John Beck School, Brunnerville. This will cost you between $20,000 and $25,000.

Last week Lititz Borough Council got the news that its lockup facilities will have to be spruced up with ceramic tile and other home comforts, coming to an estimated $3,500.

Council has two choices. Either it complies with the order or it doesn't have a lockup. The reason the State can make such arbitrary rules is quite simple.

Local government accepts financial aid from the State in return for permitting to abide by certain rules. If local government doesn't follow the rules then it loses the money.

What doesn't seem right in the lock-up case is that for many years the State approved the facility, somewhat grudgingly, we admit; but when it was moved for fire house renovations that approval was terminated. Now, because council wants to put it back, the State claims, it comes into the category of a new installation and must meet new requirements.

Another example of how economical government by well-meaning men can be handcuffed by the bureaus in Harrisburg.

A Nice Hallowe'en

Hallowe'en vandalism was kept to a minimum here this year and certainly much of the credit must go to the various groups who sponsored organized activities for the young people.

Civic groups in both Lititz and Rothsville sponsored parades, giving generously of prize money, which channeled a lot of youthful enthusiasm into holiday activities which were enjoyed and constructive.

The youth, too, deserves credit for plunging into the organized activities rather than seek the holiday spirit at the expense of others.

Hush Hush Job

The action of the local fish warden in failing to inform the public of a recent fish kill in the Hammer Creek is hardly commendable.

Fish are stocked in the Hammer Creek which are raised and propagated at the expense of the fisherman. When these same fish are killed by pollution of a stream, it would seem the fisherman would also be entitled to know some of their money went down the drain.

In view of the State anticipating building a fishing lake which will be fed by the waters of Hammer Creek, you'd think it would be vitally interested in anything which might aid putting an end to the pollution.

Instead it got the hush hush treatment.

Landmark Restored

An historic landmark in Lititz, the Moravian Church, will reopen its doors this Sunday for services. The church has been closed since fire gutted the interior and burned off the roof in July, 1957.

Restoration has been made along the original lines of the church, therefore preserving the flavor and charm of a truly historical setting.

Over The Top

Lititz, which has had a reputation for meeting challenges in its Community Chest Drive for many years, has done it once again, according to final tabulations of the drive here.

The goal here this year was $15,816. Lititz people contributed $16,556.76 with still a few scattered reports to be made. It represents an oversubscription of five percent and is in sharp contrast to the countywide picture of the United Campaign which at last report was nearly 20 per cent below its goal.

Lititz' response is a tribute to its citizens, both those who went out and solicited for the campaign and those who dug down in their pockets so that worthwhile services might be offered to those who cannot pay for them.

Specialists Let Nature Remove Steel Sliver

Specialists at the famed Jackson Clinic at Temple University Hospital decided to send a five-year-old Lititz R1 boy, who had swallowed a piece of a razor blade, to his home to "let nature take its course."

The boy, Ricky Eshleman, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Eshleman, was rushed to the Philadelphia hospital, with its famed Bronchoscopic Clinic, Oct. 28 for special treatment.

The child swallowed a silver of the blade, a chunk of sharp metal about a half-inch long, while playing at his home. His parents took him to Lancaster General Hospital for treatment. Later he was taken to Temple Hospital.

His father said his son was X-rayed all day last Thursday. When the silver dislodged itself from the boy's throat and passed into his stomach, the throat specialists decided not to attempt to remove the piece of metal, Eshleman said.

Instead, he said, "they decided to let nature take its course."

The lad was taken to his Lititz home by his father and mother, both of whom said they were exhausted after going for 24 hours without sleep.

FARM REVIEW AND FORECAST

Farm Real Estate Tax Hits Record In Penna.

Harrisburg — Farm real estate taxes in Pennsylvania reached a record high in 1958—and average of $2.01 an acre, according to a recent report received by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture.

The report, compiled by the United States Department of Agriculture, shows that the Pennsylvania farm real estate tax per acre is almost double the national average of $1.03 an acre.

Farmers in 10 other states pay higher real estate taxes than do farmers in the Keystone State. Highest rate is in New Jersey with an average of $8.31 an acre. Connecticut is second with $5.87. The lowest average rate, 10 cents an acre, was found in New Mexico.

Pennsylvania farm real estate taxes have risen steadily in recent years. In 1950, the average was $1.38 an acre; in 1956, $1.76, and in 1957, $1.87.

Last year Pennsylvania farmers paid a total of $26,-

300,000 in real estate taxes, compared with $24,400,000 in 1957 and $19,300,000 in 1956. The State Department of Agriculture attributes the continuing increases in farm tax rates in Pennsylvania to the pressure of urban and suburban expansion, which increases land values and results in demands for more local governmental services which push tax rates up. The high Pennsylvania tax rate also reflects the predominance of relatively small intensively operated farms having a high per acre value.

Livestock HEALTH HINTS

Prepared by American Foundation for Animal Health

It seems a strange thing, but in lamb feeding operations, it is often the largest and thriest lambs which fall victim to a fast-killing disease known as "enterotoxemia."

This problem is causing huge losses to America's sheep producers, yet these losses could be largely prevented.

There are two factors involved in causing the disease. First of these is over-eating. Enterotoxemia usually attacks the largest and best-looking lambs in the flock. The very fact that they over-eat sets the stage for a digestive upset, and this upset causes harmful organisms to multiply in the digestive tract.

These organisms release dangerous toxins into the blood stream, and these toxins are what actually kill the lambs.

Enterotoxemia sometimes can kill quickly, often without warning. Symptoms include excitement, aimless running, staggering, holding the head to one side or thrown back, circling, and pushing against objects. Later, there may be convulsions.

As part of the effort to curb lamb losses during National Livestock Loss Prevention Year, authorities have issued the following practical steps which producers can follow to guard against enterotoxemia: Ten days before putting lambs on full feed, the owner should have a veterinarian vaccinate them against this disease. Vaccination is quite dependable, and affords good protection. Nursing lambs can be protected by having ewes vaccinated about a month before lambing. When first placed in the feed lot, feeder lambs should at first receive a ration consisting chiefly of good hay or other roughage and very little grain.

If lambs have not been vaccinated and enterotoxemia should appear, the ration should be reduced sharply, and lambs placed on sparse grazing. Veterinarians can give temporary emergency protection by using a special anti-toxin if a sudden outbreak occurs.

The fattest, thriest lambs are most likely targets for enterotoxemia.

33,840 Claim Farm Refunds On Fuels Tax

Harrisburg—State Treasurer Robert F. Kent reported that 33,840 claims were submitted by farmers requesting refund of the Pennsylvania Liquid Fuels Taxes paid by them on fuel to operate their machinery for agricultural purposes.

Kent, who is also Chairman of the Board of Finance and Revenue, said that $1,895,500 has been paid to the farmers since July 1, 1959, the first legal day to apply for a refund of the five-cents per gallon-centsper gallon tax on last year's consumption of gasoline.

He added that 22,573 checks have been mailed out to date, leaving approximately 11,267 claims to be processed and checks prepared for mailing.

"Barring maximum difficulties," Kent said, "all claims for refunds of taxes paid on gasoline used in agricultural machinery should be processed and paid by the end of November of this year."

Courtesy Counts

Hunting is a rugged sport but good manners have a place in the activities, reminds Robert Wingard, Penn State extension wildlife management specialist. If you plan to hunt on farms or other private land, be sure to get permission ahead of time. Then remember you are a guest and behave like one.

YOU'LL SAVE TIME AND MONEY ON A TRACTOR CHECKUP... NOW

Now, before equipment is stored for the winter, have it tuned up and painted so it will be ready to roll next spring. You will receive these advantages:

1. Now you remember what needs to be done.
  2. If special parts are needed they can be ordered in plenty of time.
  3. We can give you better service than when we are interrupted by emergency field service calls.
  4. You will appreciate better starting and operating efficiency of tractors during winter use.
  5. Special prices may be available on paint and overhaul jobs.
- If you are planning a sale, why not have your equipment checked over, steamed and painted.
- Don't forget to drain all Allis-Chalmers motors at the radiator and at the motor block. Better yet, stop in for anti-freeze to protect your cooling system against damage by ice and rust.

Out Of The Past

BY JOHN L. BOYD

All previous voting records were broken Tuesday when a total of 1959 electors turned out to fill local ballot boxes with their selections in three interest-rousing controversies on the proposed state budget for war veterans was credited with having brought out a good percentage of the outpouring in Lititz and the surrounding townships. Voters here accorded the bonus a plurality of less than two to one as compared with an average of more than three-to-one in various parts of the state. The proposed school merger also maintained a high point of interest with voters in the borough and Elizabeth Township approving the proposal, but with voters in the Rothville district of Warwick Township succeeding in overcoming a favorable vote in Brunnerville. With Warwick Township showing a majority against the proposed merger, the matter will be tabled for some time to come.

All was in readiness this week for the transfer from the manual telephone to the dial system, officials of the Denver & Ephrata Telephone Company announced today and urged local subscribers to study the new supplementary directory which will be sent out next week.

The three drum majors who have been participating diligently for their public appearances are: Betty Herr, Pauline Moyer and Marguerite Shaub.

Weekly Stock Market Round-Up

Prepared by The Investment Research Department of Humphill, Noyes & Co., 15 Broad Street, New York 5, N. Y. Members of the New York Stock Exchange

November 4, 1959

COMMON STOCKS FOR VARIOUS INVESTMENT OBJECTIVES

Periodically a list of common stocks is prepared recommending issues for various investment objectives including: Good Grade; Growth Stocks; Stable Income; High Yield; and Greater Risk. This list of recommendations is reviewed periodically and new stocks are added while others are removed. Since our last list was prepared early in June the market averages have been virtually unchanged and therefore it is interesting to note the performance of different stocks on the list indicating the importance of selectivity of issues. In this relatively unchanged market out of a total recommended list of 64 issues, there were five outstanding performers: Parker Rust Proof, Gillette, International Harvester, Firstamerica, and ALCOA and seven relatively poor performers: Combustion Engineering, Minerals & Chemicals, Boeing, Carrier, Pure Oil, White Sewing and National Gypsum.

As these stocks are basically for the long term, the relatively short-term performance is not so vital but it serves as a key as to which stocks are better market performers at the present time and therefore may continue to be so in the intermediate future. The poor performers were affected by such unforeseen events as the steel strike, an over-supply of oil and a reduction in housing starts due to tight money, to state a few examples.

On a long-term basis we feel that this group of poor performers is likely to do better with the exception of Pure Oil which we have removed from our recommended list. Other stocks removed from the recommended list were: Foremost Dairies; Bath Iron Works. At the same time, we added four stocks: Amper; Litton Industries and Polaroid as issues which we believe have outstanding growth possibilities and are moving in the right direction.

In view of the wide fluctuations the stock market has experienced recently for a few months some comments might be in order. Obviously developments in the steel strike have been the principal controlling factor as witnessed by the sharp upturn and downturn swings experienced as the news of the possible settlement changes from favorable to unfavorable. If the strike is settled satisfactorily, it should spark a rather sustained period of good business activity providing it has lasted long enough not to have any damaging effects on the economy that might not be easily recoverable. As far as the stock market is concerned there does not appear to be a likelihood of any substantial movement in either direction unless the strike were to drag on for several more weeks and the economy were to be seriously affected.

Stock markets such as these serve to illustrate vividly the importance of selecting good stocks for investment portfolios so that one may not be unduly disturbed by any sharp swings in the general market.

Be Careful--Your Heart Is Showing

The eye is in the heart and he. Who looks for lust is bound to see it smeared upon life everywhere He cannot free it from his stare.

It's in the streets where fresh young girls Flit by big-eyed with frizzy curls It's at the shop and known to lurk Hidden in Jeans on those at work.

It's at the beach or swimming pool In clothing made to keep us cool It's in the home where gals in shorts Do twice the work, it's seen at sports

Where players romp around at ease In clothes resembling B.V.D's. And even sometimes Sunday-clad The ladies don the latest fad (Can this be bad?)

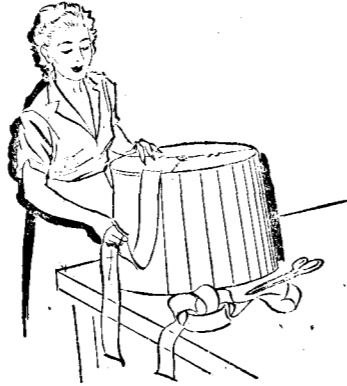

At home, at school, at church, at play He looks and finds it everyday. The beauty or the evil's brewing In everything that one is doing.

I think a heart whose eyes are skeptic Should have them washed in antiseptic Known as clean & honest thinking And try a little "Ego" shrinking.

The Heart has just one pair of eyes But you can tell about its size By what it claims to see on earth The great heart seeks and finds true worth.

HOME Pointers

Leaving the cellophane covering on lamp shades may keep the shades free from dust but it is not recommended by home fashion experts. The cellophane should be removed, they say, so that the shade can add its beauty to the room. Also, if left on very long, the cellophane may cause the shade to warp.

Letter Box 'See No Evil' Voter Writes

Dear Sir: I thought this was a Democratic World! When people vote for a pool, it's what the people want. This isn't Russia! Because of a few people with different ideas, or who invent ideas.

Why must the majority have to suffer on hot days? Since when is it a sin to wear a bathing suit when all summer the mothers and daughters wear such tight and short shorts. Nothing is even said about this. Does anything ever happen? NO! Because people are used to it and do not see evil.

Is a bathing suit something new to Lititz? Or was your life so full of evil. They say blood is thicker than water. I am not afraid of my children wearing bathing suits. Besides I'll know where my children will be. Enjoying a clean and healthy activity.

I never knew it was a sin for a mother and father to take their children swimming in a public pool. The only thing I can see is these people who think it's evil, better stay home. I guess they must have been the ones who voted NO!

A "See No Evil" Voter

Non-Swimmer Is For Pool Here, Sees No Harm

Dear Editor:

In reference to the articles in this paper the past few weeks in regards to a swimming pool, I wish to say that in my mind these people opposed to it and see so much evil in a public pool are really the ones who are evil minded.

I don't swim myself, but certainly don't see any harm in having a public pool. As to the scant attire and all that, it never entered my mind and it appears to me the ones so against it have thought nothing but evil.

It's good clean entertainment for those who like to swim and keeps many young folks from other things far more evil. If we want to get so narrow-minded, if we are not to have tricks or treats or believe in Santa Claus, then I say stop all sports on Sunday. No touring in cars for pleasure, no movies open on Sunday and most of all, close the clubs on Sunday. That I think should have been prohibited a long time ago, closing clubs on Sunday.

Santa Claus has been a legend since the beginning of time and I certainly see no harm to any child in having them believe in Santa. Once they don't believe all the fun has gone out of Christmas. We can still be Christians and let our children believe in Santa.

The shopping centers open on Sunday. I see no harm either, although I don't shop on Sunday but they are convenient for many people working shifts. Let us be broadminded and see some good in the things considered so evil by a few. When doing those things they are keeping occupied and away from other evils.

Let us have a swimming pool. We can't sit with our hands folded on Sunday. We can go to church and still have pleasure without any harm being done.

"Disgusted"

Reader Replies To Advocate Of Missionaries

Dear Missionary Advocate:

I was so thrilled to read your letter in the Lititz Record-Express. At last I found someone who shares my opinions on this sinful lust-ridden world. I wholeheartedly agree that the citizens should be denied a swimming pool. They wouldn't get anything from it but enjoyment, health, and satisfaction from participating in a wholesome worthwhile and socially acceptable (by the down-fallen among us) activity. Regardless of what the experts say about swimming being not one of the best, but "the best" type of recreation for physical development, I still agree with you that it isn't constructive for the soul. Hot (and I use the word in its purest sense) summer afternoons should be spent in Tabernacles of worship. God would want it that way.

You are absolutely right that

"The woman's short dress seduces lust which makes it harmful." The only thing I would question is the fact that women don't wear short dresses in swimming pools. They wear something called a bathing suit that does expose the limbs I'm afraid. Now this reminds me of something I've often wondered about. Since we seem to see things the same way maybe you can help me. I'm not so sure that beauty is necessarily conducive to lust. It probably is, but I wonder why God bothered to create so much beauty. To tempt us to the pathways to hell, no doubt.

The gentlemen you mentioned in your letter—Mr. Luther and Mrs. Wesley—join with the Bible in condemning the immodest. This is perfectly right. Women should not cut their hair, nor wear make-up. Let us join in a crusade against modern medicine. This too calls for indecent exposure.

I think definitely that Lititz should forsake this sinful swimming pool idea and build a meat processing plant. An even better one than Akron. The better the meat plant, the happier the citizens and the stricter the Christians.

Your last paragraph, my missionary advocate friend, was music to my ears. "No public swimming pool, no Santa Claus, no Trick or Treat or many other useless things so God can bless us." First of all let us strive to do away with Santa Claus. Trick or Treat can wait till next year. It might hurt just a little bit to tell children there is no Santa Claus, but disappointment builds strength of character. Let us think of nothing at Christmas time except that God gave us his Son to show us the way to the sombre, joyless train to Heaven.

Sincerely, Sheila M. Fox University Park, Penna.

Babies Change Wills

Unless you revise your will after your child's birth, he may be entitled to a share of your estate—no matter what the will says. Under some circumstances, your children's share may be larger than your wife's.

Whenever a birth, or any other family change, occurs in your family, check with your lawyer to see what effect it has on your will. This is the only way you can be sure that your property will go to those you want to get it.

The above message is offered as a service to the community in the interests of up-to-date wills and sound family planning. We are authorized to act as your executor and trustee. For information about this service, see an officer of our Trust Department.
